Said additional deputies and clerks to be paid by the county on the presentation and filing with the board of supervisors of duly verified claims, showing the services rendered, approved by the assessor. The salaries of all deputies, clerks and employees shall be paid by the county, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid. The assessor shall receive no compensation or commissions for the collection of personal property taxes, or compiling the military roll, and all commissions, perquisites and fees from whatever source received, collected by him, shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall belong to the county. The changes herein made are intended to place the office of the assessor on a fixed salary basis, in lieu of the assessor's present compensation, fees and commissions allowed him by law, and shall apply to the incumbent.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, three thousand dollars per annum; and said district attorney may appoint a stenographer, which office is hereby created, who shall receive a salary of seventy-five dollars per month; provided, however, that such stenographer shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month in case such stenographer shall perform all the services required in the county as official reporter in all preliminary hearings in felony cases. Said stenographer shall be paid by the county, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the district attorney is paid. The district attorney shall be allowed, in addition to the monthly salary herein allowed, the sum of sixty dollars per month, which shall be in full for all his traveling and other personal expenses in criminal cases and civil actions in which the county is interested, as provided for in subdivision two of section four thousand three hundred seven of the Political Code.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the superintendent of schools shall receive his actual and necessary traveling expenses for visiting and examining schools and school properties of the county and in performing such other duties as are incident to the full discharge of the requirements of the office of superintendent of schools.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor shall receive two thousand four hundred dollars per annum for all work performed for the county, and, in addition thereto, actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in connection with field work. Whenever the surveyor is directed by the board of supervisors or assessor to plat, trace or otherwise prepare maps, plats or block-books for the use of the county assessor or said board, he shall be allowed only the actual cost of preparing the same.

and of all fees. In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, one hundred dollars per month. In townships having a population of not less than one thousand five hundred nor more than three thousand five hundred, seventy-five dollars per month. In all townships having a population less than one thousand five hundred, forty dollars per month. All fees collected by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury, and shall be paid to the county. The provisions of this subdivision shall apply to incumbents.

14. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases. In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, one hundred ten dollars per month; in townships having a population of not less than one thousand five hundred nor more than three thousand five hundred, one hundred dollars per month; in all townships having a population of less than one thousand five hundred, seventy-five dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salary allowed him, each constable may collect and retain for his own use such fees as he now or may be hereafter allowed by law for all services performed by him in civil actions; and he shall also be allowed his actual and necessary expenses incurred in executing any warrant outside of his county issued by a magistrate or justice of his county. Constables shall be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to the county jail, which said expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury.

15. Board of education. Each member of the board of education shall receive five dollars per day as compensation for his services while in actual attendance upon said board, and mileage at the rate of two cents per mile one way only, from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. The secretary of said board of education shall receive five dollars per day for his services for the actual time that the board may be in session. Said compensation of the members of the board, and of said secretary, shall be paid out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid. Claims for such services and mileage shall be presented to the board of supervisors, and shall be allowed at the rate above named, in the same manner as claims against the county are allowed. The compensation of the members of the county board of education herein provided is not in addition to that provided in section one thousand seven hundred seventy of this code.

16. Supervisors. Each supervisor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and twenty cents per mile for traveling from his residence to the county seat; provided, that when a supervisor is also road commissioner he shall receive in addition to the twenty cents per mile allowed to him by law as such road commissioner his actual traveling expenses, the total mileage and expenses not in any one year to exceed the sum of three hundred dollars. The changes as to salary made in this subdivision shall not apply to incumbents.

17. Expenses of justices of peace. In townships having a population of three thousand five hundred or more, justices of the peace shall allowed for their office rent, and expenses, the sum of forty dollars each per month, in addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed. In townships having a population of less than three thousand five hundred, justices of the peace shall be allowed for their office rent, and expenses the sum of twenty-five dollars each per month in addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed. Each justice of the peace must pay into the county treasury monthly, all fees and fines collected by him; and he must keep a book open for the inspection of the public, during office hours, in which must be entered at once and in detail the amount of all fees and fines collected by him. The auditor must withhold warrants for salary and office rent until a sworn statement has been filed with him, of all cases tried, and fees and fines collected; and the same are paid into the county treasury. No justice of the peace shall draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall make and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths, that no cause in his court remains pending and undecided, that has been submitted to him for decision for a period of thirty days; said affidavit to be filed with the auditor of the county.

18. Jurors. In counties of this class, grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat, in going only, per mile, the sum of twenty cents; such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend.

19. Jail matron. In counties of this class there shall be appointed by the sheriff a suitable woman as jail matron, who shall have care of female prisoners confined in the county jail. She shall be paid a salary of fifty dollars per month, to be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund that the salary of the sheriff is paid.

20. Application. The changes made in this act shall apply to the incumbents unless otherwise herein provided. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 980.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1131.

§ 4249a. Counties of twentieth class, salaries of jurors. San Mateo. In counties of this class, grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat, in going only, per mile, the sum of twenty cents; such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. [New section added April 4, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 29.]

§ 4250. Counties of twenty-first class, salaries of officers. Santa Cruz. In counties of the twenty-first class the county and township officers shall receive, as full compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices, the following fees and salaries:

1. County clerk. County clerk, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and shall receive in addition the sum of six hundred dollars a year for every year that an election is held throughout the state of California; he also shall receive in addition the sum of ten cents name for each voter registered in the county in and for which county clerk is elected, which shall be in full for all services required in registering voters and making up the great register, and the performing of all other acts incident to or pertaining to elections; provided that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed county clerk two copyists and index clerks who shall be appointed the county clerk, one of whom shall be paid a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum and one of whom shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and whose salaries shall be paid in monthly installments in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk is paid.

It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation of the officer, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

2. Sheriff. Sheriff, three thousand dollars per annum; provided, there shall be and there is hereby allowed to said sheriff an undersheriff who shall receive a salary of one thousand seven hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy sheriff, who shall act as night jailer, salary of five hundred dollars per annum, and two deputy sheriffs shall receive salaries of one hundred eighty dollars each per annum. Said undersheriff and the said deputies to be appointed by the sheriff and the salaries of whom shall be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the sheriff is paid; and provided, further that in addition thereto, the sheriff shall receive and retain for his use and benefit all of the fees, per diem, mileage and expenses which are now or which may hereafter be allowed by law; and the fees and commissions for the service of all papers whatsoever issued by the court in the state outside of the county in and for which the sheriff is elected. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation of the officer, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, however, that in counties of this class the recorder shall be entitled to the actual cost incurred by him for the recording of all papers and documents in his office not exceeding seven cents per folio for each paper or document so recorded; provided, further, that said recorder shall file monthly, with the county auditor, a verified statement showing in detail the persons and the amounts paid to him for such recording.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand seven hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the auditor such assistants as he may require, whose compensation shall not exceed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents per day for each day actually employed, and whose total compensation shall not exceed the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per annum in the aggregate for all assistants employed; provided, further that the auditor shall file with the county clerk a verified statement showing in detail the amounts paid and the persons to whom such pensation has been paid, as aforesaid. The assistants named in this paragraph shall be appointed by the auditor and paid by the county at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the auditor is paid.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, further, that the treasurer shall receive and retain for his own use the commission on all inheritance taxes collected by him in accordance with law.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand seven hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the tax collector shall be allowed to appoint one deputy, which deputy shall be paid a salary of one thousand twenty dollars per annum, and the tax collector shall be allowed such other assistants as he may require; provided, further, that such assistants shall receive as compensation not to exceed two dollars and fifty cents per day for each day actually employed. The compensation of such assistants shall not in the aggregate exceed the sum of three hundred dollars in any one year; and provided, further, that the tax collector shall file with the county auditor a verified statement showing in detail the amounts and the persons to whom such compensation is paid. The salaries of said deputy and other assistants shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector is paid.

It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation of the officer, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

7. Assessor. The assessor, three thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the assessor shall be allowed one office deputy at a salary of one thousand twenty dollars per annum; one draftsman at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; one deputy for five months in the year at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; one copyist for five months in the year at a salary of forty dollars per month; one deputy for five months in the year at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; one deputy for three months in the year at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; and one deputy for four months in the year at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; and provided, further, that all of said deputies, copyists and draftsmen herein provided for shall be appointed by the assessor and shall be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation for the office, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and it is hereby allowed to the district attorney, one deputy, to be appointed by the district attorney and who shall be regularly admitted to practice before the courts of the state of California. Said deputy shall receive a salary of six hundred dollars per annum, which salary shall be paid by said county in equal monthly installments at the same time and the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the district attorney is paid. The district attorney shall be allowed in addition the monthly salary herein allowed the sum of eighty-five dollars per month, which shall be in full for all office stenographic services required by said district attorney in criminal actions and in civil actions and other matters in which the county is interested. It is hereby found a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation of the officer and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the superintendent of schools, a clerk which office is hereby created, at a salary of one thousand twenty dollars per annum, and who shall be appointed by the superintendent of schools. The salary of said clerk herein provided for shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid. It is hereby found a fact that the changes provided in this section do not work an increase in compensation of the officer, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

12. Surveyor. The county surveyor for all services required of him as county surveyor, and also for all services which may be required of him as a road engineer, shall receive two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and necessary cost of transportation to and from and necessary expenses in the field, while engaged on public work, and he is hereby required to devote all his time to the county work.

13. Supervisors. Board of supervisors, each member of the board of supervisors one hundred twenty-five dollars per month and no mileage which shall be in full for all services and expenses incurred with the county; provided, that whenever it shall be necessary for any member of the board of supervisors to leave the county in and for which he is elected for the purpose of performing any of his duties, that then and in that event, said supervisor shall be allowed his actual expenses.

14. Classification of townships. Population of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, judicial townships in this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population as follows: Townships containing a population of ten thousand or more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships containing a population of more than ten thousand and more than six thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships containing a population of less than six thousand and more than four thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships containing taining a population of less than four thousand and more than two thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships containing a population of less than two thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; the population of the several judicial townships shall be determined for the purpose of this and the succeeding subdivisions by multiplying by three the total number of names registered as voters in such townships as shown by the complete index to great register as compiled and certified by the county clerk of said class of counties in October, A. D. 1912.

15. Justices of peace. Constables. From and after January 4, 1915, justices of the peace of townships in said county shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly in the same manner as the salaries of the county officers are paid, out of the salary fund of the county, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal and civil cases; provided, however, that if two justices of the peace shall be elected and qualify in any one township, then the said justices shall each receive one-half of the salaries therein provided for, to wit: In townships of the first class, two hundred dollars per month; in townships of the second class, one hundred twenty-five dollars per month; in townships of the third class, fifty dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, twenty-five dollars per month. All fees fixed and provided by law and collected by any justice of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury at the end of each month. Justices of the peace in the first and second classes shall be allowed their actual office rent, not to exceed the sum of fifteen dollars each, for any one month.

Constables shall receive the following fees and salaries which shall be paid monthly and in the same manner as the salaries of the county officers are paid, out of the salary fund of the county, which shall be in full for all services of legal process by them in criminal actions, to wit: In townships of the first class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the second class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the third class, forty dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, fifteen dollars per month; provided, that in addition to the salaries herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the general fund of the county for traveling expenses incurred for the service of a warrant of arrest, or any other process, in a criminal case (where said service is in fact made), his actual expenses each way; for each mile traveled outside of his county, both going to and returning from the place of arrest or other service of process, his actual expenses each way; for transporting prisoners to the county jail, a constable shall be allowed his actual expenses each way, which said actual expenses are hereby defined to be the actual cost of transportation of said constable or his prisoner or prisoners. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed, each constable may receive and retain for his own use, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for services rendered by him in civil cases. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided in this section do not work an increase in compensation of the officer, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

16. Official reporter. The official reporter of the superior court shall receive the fees allowed by law.

17. Salaries shall be in full compensation. Exceptions. In fixing the compensation of the above-named officers in the amounts hereinabove specified, it is hereby expressly provided that the salaries and fees above provided shall be in full compensation of all services of every kind and description rendered by the officers named herein, either as officers or ex-officio officers, their deputies and assistants; and it is hereby further expressly provided, that all of the fees, commissions, per diem and expenses provided for in section four thousand two hundred ninety of the Political Code of the state of California, and all other moneys coming into the hands of the county and township officers, no matter from what source derived or received, shall belong to and be the property of the county, in counties of this class, and shall be paid into the county treasury by said officer at the same time and in the same manner that other moneys are required by law to be paid into the county treasury by him; save and except, however, that the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to the offices of sheriff, recorder, treasurer, district attorney and superintendent of schools, and they are expressly exempted from the provisions of this subdivision, and as to said offices herein last named, to wit, sheriff, recorder, treasurer, district attorney and superintendent of schools, they shall receive the salaries, fees and commissions provided for by law, and as provided for in subdivisions two, three, five, eight and eleven of this act. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1034.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 133.

14. Constables. The constables shall receive the following salaries to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases and in all other criminal matters: (1) In townships having a population of five thousand or more, seventy-five dollars per month; (2) in townships having a population of two thousand five hundred, and less than five thousand, fifty dollars per month; (3) in townships having a population of one thousand five hundred or less than two thousand five hundred, forty-five dollars per month; (4) in townships having a population of one thousand and less than one thousand five hundred, thirty-five dollars per month; (5) in townships having a population of five hundred and less than one thousand, thirty dollars per month; (6) in townships having a population of less than five hundred, twenty dollars per month; provided, that in addition to the salary herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for necessary traveling expenses in his own district, for the service of a warrant of arrest or any other process in a criminal case, or other criminal matters, when such service is in fact made, both going and returning, ten cents per mile; for each mile traveled out of his county, both going and returning from the place of arrest in the service of process, five cents per mile; and for transporting persons to the county jail, ten cents per mile each way. In addition to the monthly salary allowed him herein each constable shall receive for his own use, the fees in civil cases, which now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

15. Supervisors. The supervisors, each, the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and twenty cents per mile for all distances actually traveled, in the performance of his duty as road commissioner, not to exceed two hundred dollars per annum, together with mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile, in going only, from his place of residence to the county seat at each session of the board.

16. Phenographic reporter. In counties of this class the official phenographic reporter of the superior court shall receive as compensation for his services the fees and compensation now or hereafter provided by law, and in addition thereto shall receive five dollars per day when not actually engaged in reporting in said court, but when in attendance on court in compliance with and as provided by section two hundred seventy-one of the Code of Civil Procedure, the said per diem of five dollars to be paid in the same manner as provided in criminal cases.

17. Population of townships. For the purpose of subdivisions thirteen and fourteen of this section, the population of the several townships shall be ascertained and determined by the board of supervisors by multiplying by three and one-half, the vote cast for presidential electors in each township at the next preceding election therefor. [Amendment approved April 4, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 25.]

§ 4252a. Counties of twenty-third class, salaries of jurors. Monterey. In counties of the twenty-third class, grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall receive for each day's attendance, three dollars, and for every mile actually traveled in attending court as such juror, in going only, fifteen cents. [New section added April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 70.]

§ 4254. Counties of twenty-fifth class, salaries of officers. Stanislaus. In counties of the twenty-fifth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum, and registration fees; all other fees of the clerk's office to be paid into the county treasury; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be a chief deputy clerk who shall be paid a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum in equal monthly installments; said chief deputy, in addition to his other duties, to prepare all deeds for the county without extra cost to the county.

One deputy for each department of the superior court in this class of counties who shall receive a salary of one thousand three hundred eighty dollars each per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments; also one deputy clerk who shall be paid one thousand dollars per annum to be paid in equal monthly installments; and also a stenographer a salary of fifty dollars per month for one month preceding an election where a register of voters is required; the salaries of said deputy clerk to be paid at the same time, and in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk, the clerk also to receive ten cents a name for each person registered, which shall be allowed by the board of supervisors of the county. He shall also be allowed not to exceed ten deputies for the purpose of registering electors, and shall be paid not to exceed five cents for each elector registered; and any of such deputies as are required to work in the office shall receive not to exceed two dollars and fifty cents per day for the time so employed. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand dollars per annum and mileage for the service of papers or process coming from courts other than those of his own county; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one chief deputy sheriff at one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments; and four deputy sheriffs at one thousand three hundred eighty dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments. The sheriff may also, with the consent of the superior judge, when necessary for the care of the jury, appoint a woman as deputy sheriff who shall be paid a per diem of five dollars when actually engaged in the performance of her duties. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbent.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and said recorder shall collect and pay into the county treasury for the use and benefit of the county the fees required by law to be collected; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one chief deputy recorder who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, one indexing deputy recorder who shall receive a salary of one thousand three hundred eighty dollars per annum, three copyists who shall each receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, and such copyists, not exceeding three in number, as may be necessary to perform the duties of the office, at a compensation of five cents per folio, the salaries of said recorder, deputies and copyists shall be paid in equal monthly installments by the county. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy auditor who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy auditor who shall receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum. The auditor may also be allowed, by the board of supervisors, a sum not exceeding six hundred dollars per num for additional clerical help when, in the opinion of the board of supervisors, such assistance is necessary. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law; provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be one deputy tax collector who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments at the same time and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector; also provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy tax collector for not exceeding four months in each year at a salary of one hundred fifteen dollars per month, also one deputy tax collector for not exceeding six months in each year, at one hundred fifteen dollars per month, said salaries to be paid by the county out of the same fund as the tax collector's. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

7. Assessor. The assessor, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and the fees and commissions now or hereafter allowed by law; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be allowed two deputies who shall be appointed by the assessor, one to receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum and one to receive a salary of one thousand three hundred eighty dollars per annum in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the assessor is paid. It shall be the duty of said deputies, among other things, to make and correct all necessary plats, maps, and block-books for the assessor's office; provided, also, that for each name upon the assessment-roll, representing one or more statements in excess of four thousand five hundred, the assessor shall receive fifty cents. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy district attorney at a salary of one thousand three hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy district attorney at a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county. In addition, the district attorney shall be allowed one stenographer who shall be paid a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum, to be paid in equal monthly installments by the county. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. -The public administrator, such fees as now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand dollars per annum. He shall also be allowed his actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of the county, which expenses shall not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars in any one year. He shall receive five dollars per day for his services while serving as secretary of the board of education. The superintendent of schools shall be allowed one deputy, to be appointed by the principal, who shall receive as salary one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; also one deputy, who shall receive a salary of one thousand three hundred eighty dollars per annum; one deputy for not exceeding three months in each year, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month; said salaries of deputies to be paid in equal monthly installments, at the same time in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor shall receive three thousand dollars per annum, and in addition thereto, all actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in connection with field work. He shall have one deputy county surveyor at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and one draftsman at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, said deputy and draftsman to be appointed by the principal and paid at the same time and in the same manner as the county surveyor. It shall be the duty of the surveyor among other things, to make all necessary county and road maps, and all necessary plans and specifications for bridge work and county buildings; provided, however, that when in the judgment of the board of supervisors of the county, it is necessary to employ additional assistance for the performance of said work, other than with regard to roads, the board of supervisors may allow the necessary actual expense thereof. Also to prepare all maps or plats necessary to accompany reports made by him on road work, and prepare and keep all the necessary and proper records in his office; provided, he shall receive nothing for preparing any map or plat necessary to accompany reports made by him on road work, nor for preparing and keeping the proper records in his office. He shall at all times be subject to the orders of the board of supervisors. The office of the county surveyor shall be kept open for the accommodation of the public, with the surveyor, a deputy, or a competent clerk in charge from nine o'clock A. M. until five o'clock P. M., the same as other county offices. The county surveyor shall be allowed the services of a competent clerk, to be appointed by the principal, and receive a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, to be paid out of the same fund, at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid. Such compensation and salaries as above set forth shall be in full for all services as such county surveyor, and all fees and compensation received or collected by him for services other than for the county, shall be paid into the county treasury. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes provided for in this section do not work an increase in compensation and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

13. Classification of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the total number of registered voters, in each township, at the next preceding general election, prior to the fixing of the classification, the said population to be determined by multiplying the said total number of registered voters by three and one-half; townships having a population of fifteen thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of eight thousand and less than fifteen thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three thousand and less than eight thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; provided, that the board of supervisors of the county may, prior to any general election, consolidate two or more of such townships into one.

13a. Justices of peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred forty dollars per month; in townships of the second class, eighty dollars per month; in townships of the third class, fifty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, thirty dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, twenty dollars per month. Each justice must pay into the county treasury once a month all fees and fines collected by him. Justices of the peace of the first class are required to keep their offices open from nine o'clock A. M. until five o'clock P. M. In townships of the first, second and third classes the board of supervisors shall furnish adequate office room, in all other townships all justices shall be allowed not to exceed five dollars per month for office rent. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

14. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred twenty-five dollars; in townships of the second class, one hundred dollars; in townships of the third class, eighty dollars; in townships of the fourth class, sixty dollars; in townships of the fifth class, forty dollars. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed, each constable may receive and retain for his own use, such fees as are now allowed or may hereafter be allowed by law, for all services rendered by him in civil actions, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury; provided, further, that when a constable is required to go out of his own county to serve a warrant of arrest or any other papers in a criminal case, he shall be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited by the board of supervisors. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

15. Supervisors. Supervisors shall receive the sum of seven hundred and twenty dollars per annum, each, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in coming to and from the meetings of the board; provided, that only one mileage at any one session of the board shall be allowed. They shall act as road commissioners in their respective districts, and shall therefor receive for their services as such road commissioners the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, and mileage at the rate of fifteen cents per mile each, one way, for all distances actually traveled by them in the discharging of their duties as such road commissioners; provided, that said expense as road commissioners shall not exceed the sum of seven hundred eighty dollars per annum for any of the commissioners. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect.

15a. Librarian. There is created for counties of the twenty-fifth class a county librarian, who shall be appointed by the board of supervisors for a term of four years and shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid at the time and in the manner as other county officers.

16. Witnesses. Witnesses in criminal cases and in cases of dependent and delinquent persons shall receive two dollars per day, and ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, one way only. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The court may disallow any fee to a witness unnecessarily subpoenaed.

17. Jurors. Time in effect. Jurors in a county of this class, both grand and petty jurors in the superior court, shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat in going only, the sum of twenty cents per mile, such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same.

This act to go into effect immediately, and apply to all present incumbents, except as hereinbefore provided and excepted. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1057.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1574.

§ 4255. Counties of twenty-sixth class, salaries of officers. Napa. In counties of the twenty-sixth class, the county and township officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand dollars per annum, and five hundred dollars additional per annum for compiling the great register of the county. In counties of this class the county clerk may appoint a deputy county clerk, which office of deputy county clerk is hereby created, and said deputy county clerk shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, at the time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The county clerk may appoint such number of deputies as may be necessary for the convenient registration of electors in their respective precincts or townships, and each such registration deputy shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of ten cents per name for each elector registered by him, to be paid monthly, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that each such registration deputy, when so appointed, shall, prior to the drawing of any warrant for such compensation, first file with the auditor a statement, verified by the oath of such registration deputy, and approved in writing by the county clerk, showing the number of electors so registered by him during the period covered by such statement. The county clerk shall also receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for issuing hunting and fishing licenses, for the naturalization of persons desiring to become citizens and such other fees of similar character as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for the performance of any service rendered by the county clerk other than in his official character as county clerk. All other fees or commissions shall be collected by the county clerk and shall be paid by him into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

2. Sheriff. Expenses of sheriff. The sheriff, four thousand five hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the sheriff may appoint an under-sheriff, which office of under-sheriff is hereby created, and said under-sheriff shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the sheriff shall be allowed such sum as the board of supervisors shall fix for the board of prisoners confined in the county jail, and his actual necessary expenses for pursuing, searching for and arresting criminals and persons charged with being insane, and for conveying prisoners and persons charged with being insane to court and to prison or other place of confinement or detention and to and from state prisons, state hospitals and other institutions, and his actual necessary expenses for keeping, preserving and selling property seized, held or sold on attachment, execution or other process, and for the service and posting of all process papers and notices required by law to be served or posted by the sheriff. All such actual necessary expenses and said sum for the board of prisoners shall be a proper legal charge against the county and shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury in the same manner as other county charges are allowed, audited and paid. The sheriff shall collect from the state all per diem and expenses incurred in conveying prisoners and persons adjudged insane, to and from state prisons, state hospitals and other institutions and pay the same, when so collected, into the county treasury, and the same and all other fees, commissions and compensations other than as hereinabove provided, which, in other counties of other classes, are allowed by law to the sheriff, as a part of his compensation shall be paid into the county treasury, and no part thereof shall be retained by him as part of his compensation.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the recorder may appoint a deputy, which office is hereby created, and said deputy county recorder shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of seven hundred and twenty dollars per annum, payable out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The recorder may employ as many copyists as may be required, who shall receive as compensation, the sum of five cents per folio for recording any instrument or notice, except maps or plats, and for making copies of any records or papers, five cents per folio. The salaries of such copyists shall be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that the recorder shall file monthly with the auditor a verified statement showing in detail the persons employed as copyists and the amount due to each for such copying. All fees, commissions or other compensation allowed by law to the recorder in other counties of other classes, as a part of his compensation, shall be paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

4. Auditor. The auditor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the auditor may appoint a deputy, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created; said deputy auditor shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the auditor may appoint additional deputies, to serve during the month that installments of taxes on real property are due and payable but not delinquent, and such deputy auditors shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of three dollars per day for each day actually employed, and the total compensation, in the aggregate, shall not exceed the sum of two hundred twenty-five dollars per annum for all additional deputies employed. Such compensation shall be paid out of the county treasury, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. This subdivision of this section shall not go into effect or be in force until the expiration of the term of office of the present incumbent.

5. Treasurer. The county treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the treasurer may appoint a deputy, which office of deputy treasurer is hereby created, and the said deputy treasurer shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. All fees, commissions or other compensation allowed by law to the treasurer in other counties of other classes shall be collected by the treasurer and be by him paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the tax collector may appoint a deputy tax collector, which office of deputy tax collector is hereby created, and said deputy tax collector shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such, the sum of seven hundred fifty dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. In counties of this class the tax collector may appoint a cashier, which office of cashier to the tax collector is hereby created, and said cashier shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of four dollars per day for each day actually employed as such, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; provided, that such cashier shall be paid for not to exceed one hundred days in any one calendar year. All fees, commissions or compensation allowed by law to the tax collector in other counties of other classes shall be collected by the tax collector and be by him paid into the county treasury, and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

7. Assessor. The assessor, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum; provided, in counties of this class the assessor may appoint a chief deputy assessor, which office of chief deputy assessor is hereby created, and said chief deputy assessor shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid. The assessor may also appoint one copyist, which office of copyist is hereby created, to serve for not more than ninety days in any one year, and said copyist shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of four dollars per day for each day actually and necessarily employed as such, and also five field deputies, which office of field deputies are hereby created, to serve for not exceeding seventy-five days in any one year, and said field deputy assessors shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually and necessarily employed as such, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid; providing, that each field deputy, when so employed, shall file with the auditor a statement verified by the oath of such field deputy and approved by the assessor, showing the number of days actually and necessarily employed in the performance of the duties of such employment during the period covered by said statement before any warrant for the payment of such compensation shall be drawn by the auditor. All commissions, fees or compensation for the collection of taxes on personal property, for the collection of poll taxes and road poll taxes, and for services in making out the roll of persons subject to military duty, and all other fees or commissions shall be collected by the assessor and by him paid into the county treasury, and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the district attorney may appoint a deputy attorney, which office of deputy district attorney is hereby created, and said deputy district attorney shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund that salaries of county officers are paid. The district attorney may also appoint a stenographer for service in his office, which office of stenographer to the district attorney is hereby created, and said stenographer shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of six hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund that salaries of county officers are paid.

9. Coroner. The coroner, nine hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the coroner shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses in the performance of his official duties in the county when called away from the county seat, which are hereby declared to be a proper legal charge against the county, and shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury in the same manner as other county charges are allowed, audited and paid. All fees, commissions or other compensations allowed by law to the coroner in other counties of other classes as a part of his compensation shall be paid into the county treasury and no part thereof shall be retained by him as a part of his compensation; provided, that this subdivision of this section shall not go into effect or be in force until the expiration of the term of office of the present incumbent.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand six hundred dollars per annum and actual necessary traveling expenses when visiting schools of the county. The superintendent of schools may appoint a deputy superintendent of schools, which office of deputy superintendent of schools is hereby created and said deputy superintendent of schools shall receive as compensation for all services performed as such the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, one thousand dollars per annum, for all work performed for the county and in addition thereto his actual necessary traveling expenses incurred in connection with field work, and also actual necessary expenses incurred in such field work and actual necessary expenses and costs of supplies in preparing maps, tracings, plats, diagrams for the county assessor or other county officer, when directed by him or them to prepare the same; provided, that whenever it is necessary to furnish, or otherwise make the county assessor a new and complete set of block-books, the board of supervisors may employ a competent draftsman for the purpose of making such block-books, who shall receive a salary of eight dollars per day for each day actually and necessarily employed, or contract with some other competent person for the making thereof. All of such expenses and costs shall be proper legal charges against the county and shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner that other county charges are allowed, audited and paid. All fees, commissions or other compensation allowed to the surveyor in other counties of other classes, except fees or charges for surveys made for private persons and not directed by the board of supervisors or county officers for county uses or purposes, shall be collected by the surveyor and by him paid into the county treasury and no part thereof, except such fees or charges for such private surveys, shall be retained by him as part of his compensation.

13. Classification of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships in counties of this class are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the federal census of one thousand nine hundred ten as follows: Townships having a population of five thousand, or more, shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of three thousand, and less than five thousand, shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of one thousand, and less than three thousand, shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; and townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class.

14. Justices of peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, out of the county treasury, in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same fund as salaries of county officers are paid, to wit:

1. In townships of the first class, one hundred dollars per month.
2. In townships of the second class, seventy dollars per month.
3. In townships of the third class, forty dollars per month.
4. In townships of the fourth class, twenty-five dollars per month.

In addition to the said monthly salaries herein provided for, each justice of the peace may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions or proceedings.

Justices of the peace, in townships of the first class, shall be allowed their actual office rent and necessary incidental expenses, not to exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars for any one month.

15. Constables. Constables shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, out of the county treasury, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund that salaries of county officers are paid, and which shall be in full of all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit:

1. In townships of the first class, seventy-five dollars per month.
2. In townships of the second class, fifty-five dollars per month.
3. In townships of the third class, thirty dollars per month.
4. In townships of the fourth class, twenty dollars per month.

Fees. In addition to said monthly salaries each constable may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions or proceedings, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and pursuing criminals and in conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which said actual necessary expenses shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the county treasury, in the same manner other county charges are allowed, audited and paid.

16. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors shall receive one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable in equal monthly installments and which shall be in full for all services rendered as supervisors.

17. Jurors. In counties of this class the fees of grand jurors and trial jurors, in the superior court, in civil and criminal actions and in all special proceedings, shall be three dollars a day for each day's attendance, and mileage, to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending court, or in attending sessions of the grand jury, in going only.

In criminal actions such fees and mileage of such trial jurors shall be paid by the treasurer, out of the general funds of the county, upon warrants drawn by the auditor, who shall draw such warrants upon the written order of the judge of the superior court in which said juror was in attendance, and the treasurer shall pay all such warrants. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1112.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1119.

§ 4256. Counties of twenty-seventh class, salaries of officers. lars per annum, payable at the same time, out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, two thousand dollars per annum; and provided, that in counties of this class, there shall be, and is hereby allowed to the tax collector a deputy, who shall be appointed by said tax collector, who shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, which said salary shall be paid at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid; provided, further, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the tax collector one deputy for the period of time embraced between the first day of October and the thirty-first day of December in each fiscal year, which said deputy shall be appointed by said tax collector, and shall be paid a salary of seventy-five dollars per month during the period of time said deputy shall be employed and which salary shall be paid at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

7. Assessor. The assessor, four thousand dollars per annum, and such fees and commissions as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law; and provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the assessor, a deputy, who shall be appointed by said assessor and who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid; provided, further, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the assessor, two copyists for a period not exceeding four months in any one year, at a salary of sixty dollars each per month.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand seven hundred fifty dollars per annum; he may also appoint an assistant district attorney, which office is hereby created, whose salary shall be sixteen hundred dollars per annum; and in counties of this class he may also appoint a clerk, who shall be a stenographer, which office of clerk to the district attorney is hereby created, whose salary shall be twelve hundred dollars per annum; the salaries of said assistant district attorney and clerk shall be payable as the salaries of other county officers.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand dollars per annum; and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county, and one deputy, at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, for all work performed for the county; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and hereby is allowed to the surveyor one assistant to be appointed by the surveyor, whose salary shall be nine hundred dollars per annum, payable at the same time, out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salary of the surveyor is paid; and in addition thereto the surveyor shall be allowed actual traveling and other necessary expenses, incurred in connection with field work; provided, that whenever the surveyor is directed by the assessor to plat, trace or otherwise prepare maps, plats, or block-book for the use of the county assessor he shall be allowed only the actual cost of preparing the same.

13. Justices of peace. Justices of the peace in counties of this class shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month in the same manner, at the same time and out of the same funds as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them: In townships having a population of more than five thousand, one hundred fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than two thousand five hundred and less than five thousand, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than one thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than five hundred and less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month. The board of supervisors of such counties shall furnish and maintain for the use of justices of the peace in townships having a population of two thousand five hundred or more, an office suitable for use as a courtroom, equipped with the necessary furniture for the proper and convenient conduct of business therein. The board of supervisors of such counties shall furnish and supply to the justices of the peace of the various townships in such counties the codes of this state and amendment thereto, and all necessary stationery, legal blanks and forms for the proper and convenient conduct of business.

14. Constables. The constables shall receive the following salaries to be paid each month as salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, and in all other criminal matters: In townships having a population of more than five thousand, one hundred dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than two thousand five hundred and less than five thousand, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than one thousand and less than two thousand five hundred, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of more than five hundred and less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships having a population of less than five hundred, ten dollars per month; provided, that in addition to the salary herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for traveling expenses in his own district, for the service of a warrant of arrest or any other process in a criminal case, or other criminal matters (when such service is in fact made) both going and returning, ten cents per mile; for each mile traveled out of his county, both going to and returning from the place of arrest in the service of process five cents per mile, and for transporting persons to the county jail ten cents per mile each way. In addition to the monthly salary allowed him herein each constable shall receive for his own use, the fees in civil cases, which are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

15. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable in monthly installments, and for serving as road commissioner two hundred dollars per annum; also each shall be allowed paid his actual necessary traveling expenses incurred by him while engaged in the county business outside of his district whether within or without the boundaries of his county, also his actual necessary expenses in attending the annual state convention of members of county boards of supervisors; provided, that the expense of each member attending such convention shall not exceed forty dollars in any one year; also each supervisor shall be allowed and paid his traveling expenses, while supervising the roads of his district, at the rate of twenty cents per mile for each mile so traveled; provided, that the amount so allowed and paid shall not exceed the sum of seventy-five dollars in any one month.

16. Official reporter. In counties of this class the official phonographic reporter of the superior court shall receive as compensation for his services the fees and compensation now or hereafter provided by law, and in addition thereto shall receive five dollars per day when not actually engaged in reporting in said court, but when in attendance on said court in compliance with and as provided by section two hundred seventy-one of the Code of Civil Procedure, the said per diem of five dollars to be paid in the same manner as provided in criminal cases.

17. Time when act becomes operative. It is intended by this amendment that the increase of compensation hereby made for the district attorney and for each of the offices of the several members of the board of supervisors in counties of this class shall become operative as to each of said offices only upon expiration of its current term; but the provisions herein made for expenses of each member of such boards of supervisors and also the provisions increasing the salary of the deputy of the county clerk and the salary of the deputy of the assessor and the salary of the assessor's copyists and the salary of the assistant district attorney and the salary of the clerk to the district attorney shall become operative at the expiration of ninety days after the final adjournment of the present session of this legislature. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1303.]

This section was amended twice at the legislative session of 1919. The other amendment is in the same language and can be found on page 1151 of the Statutes of 1919. This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1038.

§ 4256a. Fees of jurors, counties of twenty-seventh class. San Luis Obispo. In counties of the twenty-seventh class the fees and mileage of jurors shall be as follows: Grand jurors and trial jurors whenever summoned to attend before the superior court shall be paid three dollars per day for each day's attendance, and mileage, to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in attending said court or in attending sessions of the grand jury, in going only. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasurer for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same; provided, however, that such jurors as shall be sworn to try issues in civil cases or special proceedings of a civil nature shall be paid as the court shall order except where otherwise provided by law. [New section added May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1042.]

shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand dollars per annum, and when a new great register of voters is required by law to be made, he shall receive three hundred dollars additional, which shall be in full for all services required in registering voters and making the great register; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the county clerk, a deputy who shall be appointed by said county clerk, who shall be paid a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid in monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the county clerk is paid, said deputy to be in lieu of the deputy now allowed to the county clerk under subdivision nineteen of section four thousand two hundred fifty-seven of the Political Code of the state of California; provided, further, that it is expressly provided that in counties of this class where the number of judges of the superior court shall have been increased since the first day of January, eighteen hundred ninety-seven, or shall hereafter be increased, there must be and there hereby is allowed to the county clerk one additional deputy to act as courtroom clerk for each judge so appointed or elected, at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum for each of said deputies, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, five thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed, in addition thereto, one under-sheriff to be appointed by him, who shall receive one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, whose salary shall be paid by the county, in monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the sheriff is paid; provided, however, that said under-sheriff shall be in lieu of the deputy now allowed under subdivision nineteen of section four thousand two hundred fifty-seven of the Political Code of the state of California; provided, further, that in counties of this class where the number of judges of the superior court shall have been increased since the first day of January, eighteen hundred ninety-seven, or shall hereafter be increased, there must be and there hereby is allowed to the sheriff of such county by reason of such increase one additional deputy to be appointed by the sheriff at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid.

Said sheriff shall also have for his own use all fees, commissions and mileage for the service of all papers served by him and issued without his county.

3. Recorder. The recorder, three thousand two hundred dollars per annum, in full of all services, including filing and recording, mining and other location notices.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed one deputy to be appointed by him, who shall receive one thousand dollars per annum, whose salary shall be paid by the county, in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner as the auditor is paid. The county auditor shall charge and collect for the clerical service of making estimates of tax sales provided for in section three thousand eight hundred seventeen of this code the sum of twenty-five cents for each tax sale if the property is delinquent for two years or less; the sum of fifty cents for each sale if the property is delinquent for more than two years. If said estimates are returned to the auditor and redemptions made within thirty days from date of issue and prior to the change of penalty, as provided for in section number three thousand eight hundred seventeen of this code, the amount charged for making said estimates shall be refunded to the redemptioner. If the redemption is not made as herein provided then the sum charged for making the estimate shall be paid into the county treasury.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that all commissions received by the treasurer on the collection of inheritance taxes shall be paid into the county treasury.

6. Tax and license collector. The tax and license collector, two thousand dollars per annum in full compensation for all services, save and except that he be allowed a deputy, to be appointed by him, for eight months of each year, at a compensation of seventy-five dollars per month; the salary of said deputy to be paid by the county; provided, that all commissions and fees heretofore retained by the tax and license collector shall be paid into the county treasury.

7. Assessor. The assessor, three thousand dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed in addition thereto ten deputies, to be appointed by him, who shall each receive not to exceed four dollars per day while engaged in the performance of their duties; provided, that the amount paid for services of deputy assessors shall not exceed two thousand four hundred dollars in any one year; provided, that all commissions heretofore retained by the county assessor shall be paid into the county treasury.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum, and he is hereby allowed in addition thereto one deputy appointed by him, who shall receive nine hundred dollars per annum; provided, that the district attorney is entitled to receive and retain for his own use fifteen dollars to be taxed as costs for each suit brought under the provisions of article six, chapter one, title eight of part three of the Political Code.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. Public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and necessary expenses for traveling in visiting schools in the county, to be allowed by the supervisors of the county; and there shall be, and there is allowed to the superintendent in addition, a clerk or bookkeeper, who shall be appointed by the superintendent of schools, who shall be paid a salary of six hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid by such county in monthly installments at the time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, ten dollars per day for all work performed for the county, and, in addition thereto, all necessary expenses and transportation for work performed in the field, which per diem and expenses shall be in lieu of all fees and per diem heretofore allowed by law.

13. Population of townships. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships in this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the federal census of one thousand nine hundred ten as follows: Townships having a population of three thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of two thousand five hundred and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of one thousand eight hundred and less than two thousand five hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand four hundred twenty-five and less than one thousand four hundred fifty shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of one thousand four hundred fifty and less than one thousand eight hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class, and townships having a population of less than one thousand four hundred twenty-five shall belong to and be known as townships of the sixth class.

14. Justices of the peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid, out of the general fund of the county and which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred ten dollars per month; in townships of the second class, ninety dollars per month; in townships of the third class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, fifteen dollars per month; and in townships of the sixth class, fifteen dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions, cases and examinations, each justice of the peace may, for his own use, collect the following fees, and no other, in civil actions; provided, that the existing fee bill for the justices of the peace in counties of this class be repealed and the general fee bill of the state of California as provided for justices of the peace in section four thousand three hundred of the Political Code be substituted therefor.

15. Constables. Constables shall receive the following salaries, which shall be paid monthly, in the same manner as the salaries of county officers are paid out of the general fund of the county, and which shall be in full of all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred dollars per month; in townships of the second class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the third class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, fifteen dollars per month; and in townships of the sixth class, fifteen dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions, cases and proceedings, each constable shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually and properly incurred, in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, and also all necessary expenses actually incurred in the transportation of prisoners from prison to court, and the return of said prisoner to prison; and shall be allowed, also, for each mile actually traveled, both in going and coming in the service of subpoenas, in criminal actions, per mile, ten cents; which said expense and mileage shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims against the county are audited and allowed, and shall be paid out of the county treasury.

In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed for services in criminal actions and cases, each constable may, for his own use, collect the following fees, and no others, in civil actions:

For serving summons and complaint, for each defendant served, fifty cents.

For each copy of summons for service, when actually made by him, twenty-five cents.

For levying writ of attachment or execution, or executing order of arrest, or for delivery of personal property, one dollar.

For serving writ of attachment or execution on any ship, boat or vessel, three dollars.

For keeping personal property, such sum as the court may order; but no more than one dollar and fifty cents per day shall be allowed for a keeper when necessarily employed.

For taking bond or undertaking, fifty cents.

For copies of writs and other papers, except summons, complaint and subpoenas, per folio, ten cents; provided, that when correct copies are furnished to him for use, no charge shall be made for such copies.

For serving any writ, notice, or order, except summons, complaint and subpoenas, for each person served, fifty cents.

For writing and posting each notice of sale of property, fifty cents.

For furnishing notice for publication, twenty-five cents.

For serving subpoenas, each witness, including copy, twenty-five cents.

For collecting money on execution, one and one half per cent.

For executing and delivering certificate of sale, fifty cents.

For executing and delivering constable's deed, one dollar and fifty cents.

For each mile actually traveled within his township in the service of any writ, order, or paper, in civil actions, in going only, per mile, twenty-five cents.

For traveling outside of his township to serve such writ, order, or paper, in civil actions, in going only, twenty-five cents per mile; provided, that a constable shall not be required to travel outside of his township to serve any civil process, order, or paper. No constructive mileage shall be charged, allowed, or paid in criminal or civil cases.

For each day's attendance in court, in civil cases, three dollars per day.

For executing a search warrant, two dollars; and for each mile necessarily traveled within his own county in executing a search warrant, both in going and returning from the place of search, fifteen cents; said fee and mileage to be paid by the party demanding the search.

For summoning a jury, in civil cases, two dollars, including mileage.

For commissions for receiving and paying over money on execution without levy, or when the goods or land levied on shall not be sold, one per cent. The fees herein allowed for the levy of an execution, and for making or collecting the money on execution, shall be collected from the judgment debtor, by virtue of such execution, in the same manner as the sum herein directed to be paid.

16. When new township formed. Payment of fees. It is expressly provided that in counties of this class, where a township has been created, or may hereafter be created out of any township, the population of which is shown in the federal census of nineteen hundred ten, the population of the newly created township and the population of the township from which the newly created township was taken shall be separately ascertained and determined by the board of supervisors in the following manner: By appointing a suitable person in each of such townships to take said census, and said census shall be taken by said person so appointed of all the inhabitants of each of said townships; the full name of each person shall be fully written, the names alphabetically and regularly numbered in one complete series, and when completed shall be verified before any officer authorized to administer oaths, and be filed with the county clerk, and thereupon the same shall be the official census of said township or townships. The expense of taking said census shall be a county charge. From the taking of such census the salary of the justices of the peace and of the constables of the newly created township, and the township from which the newly created township was taken, shall be estimated and paid on the basis of the classification hereinbefore given under the federal census of nineteen hundred ten pro rata according to the population of the newly created and former township as shown by the census taken as hereinbefore provided to be ascertained and determined by the board of supervisors. County officers must, and township officers may, demand the payment of all fees in advance. Justices of the peace shall, on or before the first Monday of each month, pay into the county treasury all moneys collected by them on fines imposed and collected and all moneys belonging to the county coming from any source.

17. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum and ten cents per mile, one way between residence and county seat, in attending upon all regular, special or adjourned meetings of the board of supervisors; provided, that the chairman of the board of supervisors may receive twenty-five cents per mile, one way, between residence and the county seat, when attending at the county seat for the single purpose of counting the money in the county treasury as required by law. [Amendment approved May 28, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1016.]

§ 4258. Counties of twenty-ninth class, salaries of officers. Siskiyou. In counties of the twenty-ninth class, the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum and such fees as are now or may be hereafter by law; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the county clerk, one clerk, which office is hereby created, at a salary of one hundred dollars per month and who shall be appointed

He shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses, visiting the schools of this county and such per diem as is now or hereafter be allowed by law for services as a member of the board of education; provided, that in counties of this class there be and there hereby is allowed to the superintendent of schools a deputy to be appointed by the superintendent of schools, who shall receive the county a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, which shall be paid by the county in equal monthly installments, and the said salary shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner out of the same funds as is the salary of the superintendent of schools.

12. Surveyor. The county surveyor, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that if the county surveyor shall be appointed superintendent of the permanent highways in the county constructed under bond issue, under any statute of this state providing for appointment of such superintendent, then and in that event said county surveyor shall receive a salary of four thousand dollars per annum; said surveyor may appoint one chief deputy surveyor who shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; also, the county surveyor may appoint another deputy or deputies, the compensation to said deputy or deputies in the aggregate not to exceed two hundred dollars in one year, payable to such deputy or deputies in installments, at such times and in such amounts as may be designated by the county surveyor; provided, that the county surveyor shall with the county auditor a verified statement showing in detail amounts and the persons to whom said compensation is paid; provided further, that in counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the county surveyor a stenographer who shall be appointed by said county surveyor and whose salary is hereby fixed at the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum. The salary of said chief deputy surveyor and said stenographer shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same funds as the salaries of county officers are paid.

13. Board of education. In counties of this class, each member of the county board of education shall receive five dollars for each day the board of education is in session, not to exceed a total of three hundred fifty dollars per annum. In addition each member shall receive the same mileage as is allowed the members of the board of supervisors of said county. Compensation of the members of the county board of education shall be payable out of the same funds and in the same manner as is the salary of the county superintendent of schools.

14. Justices of peace. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as salaries of other county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered in civil and criminal cases: In townships where the population is four thousand or more, one hundred fifty dollars per month, and said justices the peace shall be furnished with offices and necessary supplies by the board of supervisors of said county; in townships where the population is two thousand and less than four thousand, eighty dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand and less than two thousand, forty dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, twenty dollars per month; provided, that the justice of the peace shall, before receiving his monthly salary, file with the auditor a statement of all fines received, together with the treasurer's receipt for same; provided, further, that no justice of the peace shall hold the office of city recorder.

15. Constables. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases: In townships where the population is four thousand or more, eighty dollars per month; in townships where the population is two thousand and less than four thousand, seventy dollars per month; in townships where the population is one thousand and less than two thousand, fifty dollars per month; in townships where the population is less than one thousand, twenty-five dollars per month. In addition to the monthly salary herein allowed, each constable may retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil actions, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting or conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which said expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury.

16. Population of townships. For the purposes of subdivisions fourteen and fifteen of this section, the population of the several judicial townships shall be ascertained by the board of supervisors of said county at their regular meeting in the month of December following the election of justices of the peace and constables in said county, by multiplying by three the number of registered voters in said township as shown by the register prepared by the county clerk of said county for the general election next preceding the date of such determination. It is hereby found, as a fact, that the salaries provided for in subdivisions fourteen and fifteen do not work an increase in the compensation and the same shall apply immediately to incumbents.

17. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and their necessary expenses when attending to the business of the county, other than the meetings of the board at the county seat, and twenty cents per mile in traveling from his residence to the county seat; provided, that not more than one mileage for any one regular session of the board shall be allowed, and not more than one mileage for any special session of the board shall be allowed.

18. Salaries payable monthly. The salaries of all county and township officers and their deputies shall be payable in monthly installments on the first day of each month.

19. Jurors. For acting as a grand juror in the superior court, for each day's attendance per day, three dollars. For every mile actually traveled in attending court as a grand juror in going only, twenty five cents per mile. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. p. 1069.]

§ 4260. Counties of thirty-first class, salaries of officers. Placer counties of the thirty-first class the county and township officers receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law by virtue of their offices, the following salaries and fees, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, three thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and also such compensation as is now or may after be allowed by law; and in each year in which a new and complete registration of voters is required by law he shall receive such an amount as shall be necessary to pay deputy registration clerks for taking oaths of registration outside of the office at the rate of ten cents each, and such an amount as shall be necessary to pay deputies in the office for enrolling the registrations upon the great register at the rate of four cents each, the claims for which shall be presented and allowed by the board of supervisors as other claims are presented and allowed; he may also appoint a deputy clerk, which office of deputy clerk is hereby created, whose salary shall be nine hundred dollars per annum, payable as the salaries of county officers are paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, six thousand dollars per annum.

3. Recorder. The recorder, two thousand two hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that such recorder shall collect and pay into county treasury for the use and benefit of the county the fees required by law to be so collected; and provided, that when the amount of fees so collected shall amount to more than two hundred dollars in any one month, the said recorder may receive and retain for his use, in addition to his salary, one-half of all fees in excess of two hundred dollars in one month so collected; and provided, that in counties of this class the recorder may appoint two deputy recorders in service in his office, which offices of deputies for the county recorder are hereby created, and said deputies shall receive as compensation for their services the sum of nine hundred dollars each per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the recorder is paid.

4. Auditor. The auditor, two thousand dollars per annum; he may also appoint a deputy auditor, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created, whose salary shall be seventy-five dollars per month, payable as the salaries of all other county officers are paid. The provisions of this subsection do not increase the compensation of a county auditor and shall take effect immediately.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, two thousand dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the treasurer may appoint a deputy treasurer, which office of deputy treasurer is hereby created, and said deputy treasurer shall receive as compensation for such services the sum of nine hundred dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the treasurer is paid.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, one thousand dollars per annum; provided, that said tax collector shall perform the duties and receive and retain for his own use, the fees provided by law for the license tax collector.

7. Assessor. The assessor, four thousand two hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class the assessor may appoint a field deputy, which office of field deputy is hereby created, who shall hold office from the first day of March of each year up to and including the last day of July of each year. The salary of said field deputy herein provided for is fixed at the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month, to include expenses for each month during which the said field deputy holds office, as herein provided. The salary of said field deputy shall be paid at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; he may also appoint a deputy, which office of deputy district attorney is hereby created, whose salary shall be one thousand dollars per annum, payable as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, including services on the board of education. He shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses not to exceed three hundred dollars per annum; he shall also be allowed one deputy whose salary shall be fifty dollars per month, payable the same as the salary of county officers; provided, that he shall keep his office open from nine o'clock A. M. to five o'clock P. M., of each business day.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor shall receive a per diem of ten dollars for all work performed for the county, in addition thereto all necessary expenses and transportation on work performed in the field.

13. Justices of peace. For the purpose of fixing the compensation of justices of the peace according to their duties, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to population. The population shall be determined by the board of supervisors upon the enactment of this act, and also at the time of the formation of any new township or townships. The board may determine such population by multiplying by three the number of registered voters at the last general election next preceding the date of such determination.

Townships having a population of five thousand eight hundred or more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of four thousand and less than five thousand eight hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three thousand and less than four thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of two thousand two hundred and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of one thousand seven hundred and less than two thousand two hundred shall belong to and be known as a township of the fifth class; townships having a population of one thousand two hundred and less than one thousand seven hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the sixth class; townships having a population of one hundred and less than one thousand two hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the seventh class; townships having a population of three hundred and less than six hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the eighth class; townships having a population of less than three hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the ninth class.

Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries: In townships of the first class, the sum of nine hundred dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which the act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum; in townships of the second class, the sum of seven hundred eighty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which the act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of seven hundred eighty dollars per annum; in townships of the third class, the sum of six hundred sixty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of six hundred sixty dollars per annum; in townships of the fourth class, the sum of five hundred dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of five hundred dollars per annum; in townships of the fifth class, the sum of three hundred twenty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of three hundred twenty dollars per annum; in townships of the sixth class, the sum of two hundred forty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of two hundred forty dollars per annum; in townships of the seventh class, the sum of one hundred eighty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of one hundred eighty dollars per annum; in townships of the eighth class, the sum of one hundred twenty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of one hundred twenty dollars per annum; in townships of the ninth class, the sum of sixty dollars for the period beginning with the date upon which this act becomes effective and ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter a salary of sixty dollars per annum.

Such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid and shall be compensated in full for all services rendered.

All fees received by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury every month.

14. Constables. The constable shall receive the following fees: For serving summons and complaint, for each defendant s one dollar; for each copy of summons for service when made by him, twenty-five cents; for levying writ of attachment or execution or executing order of arrest or for the delivery of personal property, one dollar; for keeping personal property, such sum as the court may order, but no more than two dollars per day shall be allowed for a keeper when necessarily employed; for taking bond or undertaking, fifty cents; for copies of writs and other papers, except summons, complaints and subpoenas, per folio ten cents; provided, that when correct copies are furnished him for use, no charge shall be made for copies, for serving any writ, notice or order, except summons, complaint or subpoenas, for each person served, fifty cents; for writing and posting each notice of sale of property, twenty-five cents; for serving subpoenas, each witness, including copy, twenty-five cents; for collecting money on execution, two and one-half per cent, to be charged against the defendant named in the execution; for executing and delivering a certificate of sale, one dollar; for executing and delivering constable's deeds, two dollars; for every mile necessarily traveled in his township, in going only, to serve any civil or criminal process or paper, or to take a prisoner before a magistrate or to a prison, twenty-five cents, outside of his township, but within his county, twenty cents; but when two or more persons are served or summoned in the same suit and at the same time, mileage shall be charged only for the more distant if they live in the same direction; for each mile traveled outside his county in making criminal arrests, both going and returning from the place of arrest ten cents; in transporting prisoners to the county jail, or before a magistrate, either upon arrest or for trial or examination, or after conviction, he shall receive in addition to the above mileage his actual and necessary expenses for himself and prisoners; provided, that if two or more prisoners are transported at the same time, no more than one mileage shall be allowed; for making each arrest in criminal cases, one dollar and fifty cents for sales of estrays, the same fees as for sales on execution; for summoning a jury, two dollars, including mileage; for all other services, the same fees as are allowed sheriffs for like services; provided, further, that no more than sixty dollars shall be allowed to any constable in counties of this class in any one month for fees and mileage in criminal matters.

15. Supervisors. Each supervisor, six hundred dollars per annum, and twenty cents per mile for traveling from his residence to and from the county seat; provided, such mileage shall not be allowed more than once a month; and for his services as road commissioner he shall receive twenty cents a mile one way, for all distances actually and necessarily traveled by him in the performance of his duties; provided, he shall not in any one year receive more than three hundred dollars as such road commissioner. The road commissioners shall be reimbursed for all traveling, personal and other necessary expenses while actually engaged in the performance of their duties upon the road; provided, that the full amount of expenses incurred shall not exceed six hundred dollars in any one year, to be allowed as any other claim by the board of supervisors.

16. Probation officer. The probation officer, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; provided, further, that said probation officer shall devote his entire time to the performance of the duties of said office.

17. Jurors. In counties of this class grand jurors and jurors in superior court shall receive for each day's attendance the sum of ten dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from residence to county seat the sum of twenty-five cents; such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. [Amendment approved March 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 9.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 116.

§ 4261. Counties of the thirty-second class, salaries of officers and Kings. In counties of the thirty-second class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for their services required of them by law, and by virtue of their office, the following salary or fees, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and one deputy at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum. The salary of said deputies to be payable monthly in the same manner as the salaries of the other county officers are paid; provided, further, however, that in each year in which a new and complete registration of voters is required by law the county clerk shall appoint an additional deputy or deputies whose compensation in the aggregate shall not exceed four hundred dollars in any one year; provided, further, that the county clerk shall file with the county auditor a certified statement showing in detail the amount and persons to whom said compensation is paid. Such salaries of such deputies shall be paid out of the same fund as the salaries of the other county officers are paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand dollars per annum and fees for the service of process issued without his county. 7. Assessor. The assessor, two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be one deputy assessor, who shall be appointed by the assessor and shall receive as compensation for all services performed by him the sum of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month; and provided, further, that the assessor may appoint such additional deputies as may be required in the judgment of the assessor, the length of time that such deputies shall serve in any one year not to exceed, in the aggregate, three hundred days, and the aggregate compensation to be paid all of said deputy not to exceed, in the aggregate, one thousand five hundred sixty dollars, which shall be paid out of the county treasury in the same manner at the same time and out of the same funds as the salaries of county officers are paid; provided, further, that the assessor may employ one copyist, to be paid a compensation of three dollars per month for a period not to exceed four months in any one year, and such allowance shall be made as other claims are allowed by the board of supervisors, and when so allowed shall be paid out of the salary fund.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, the district attorney may employ a stenographer, whose compensation shall be seventy-five dollars per month, and such allowance shall be made as other claims are allowed by the board of supervisors, and when so allowed shall be paid out of the salary fund.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, two thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the superintendent of schools a deputy who shall be appointed by the board of supervisors and paid a salary of five hundred dollars per annum, said salary to be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools is paid.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, ten dollars per day when engaged on county work. He shall also receive his actual expenses when at work in the field.

13. Justices of peace and constables. In counties of this class township officers shall receive the following compensation for services rendered by them in criminal matters of whatever kind, character or description: In townships having a population of five thousand or more, justices of the peace and constables shall receive a monthly salary of one hundred twenty-five dollars, to be paid each month in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid. In townships having a population of less than five thousand, said justices of the peace shall receive a salary of six hundred dollars per annum, and constables shall receive a salary of five hundred eighty dollars per annum, to be paid in monthly installments.

14. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, in full payment for services as member of the board of supervisors, as member of the board of equalization and as road commissioner and twenty-five cents per mile for traveling from his residence to the county seat not more than once each month. It is hereby found as a fact that the changes proposed for in this subdivision do not work an increase in compensation of office, and it is intended that the same shall apply immediately to the present incumbents.

15. Court reporter. In counties of this class, the official reporter of the superior court shall receive such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law. The compensation allowed each officer above enumerated shall be in full payment for all services performed by him. [Amendment approved April 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 68.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 68.

§ 4272. Counties of forty-third class, salaries of officers. San Benito. In counties of the forty-third class the county officers shall receive, as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their office, the following salaries, to wit:

1. County clerk. The county clerk, one thousand nine hundred twenty dollars per annum, and such fees as he may be now or hereafter allowed by law to retain; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there hereby is allowed to the county clerk one deputy clerk, who shall be appointed by the county clerk and shall be paid a salary as follows: the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, which sum shall be paid by the said county in equal monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county clerk is paid.

2. Sheriff. The sheriff, three thousand five hundred dollars per annum. The sheriff shall also receive for his own use and benefit all fees, commissions and mileage, in all civil cases within his county, and all fees, commissions and mileage for service of any papers issued by any court outside of his county.

3. Recorder. The recorder, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and such fees as he may be now or hereafter allowed by law to retain; and one deputy, whose office is hereby created, to be appointed by the recorder, who shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per annum. The salary of said deputy shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time and from the same funds as county officers are paid. The board of supervisors is hereby authorized to employ such number of copyists at such salaries and for such length of time as the said board may deem necessary to properly and expeditiously record all instruments and documents filed for record in the office of the county recorder of such county, and the salary of such copyist or copyists shall be paid out of the general fund of said county.

4. Auditor. The auditor, six hundred dollars per annum.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, one thousand eight hundred sixty dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, seven hundred dollars per annum.

7. Assessor. The assessor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. He shall also be permitted to appoint such deputies as he may desire, of whom one shall be paid by the county for the term of twelve months, beginning on the first Monday in January in each year at the rate of one hundred dollars per month, and one of whom shall be paid in the county for the term of four months, beginning on the Monday in March in each year, at the rate of one hundred dollars per month, and one of whom shall be paid by the county at the rate of one hundred dollars per month for the term of two months, said term beginning on the first Monday of March of each year. The board of supervisors shall allow the assessor to appoint extra deputies, other than as above provided, in the ratio of one for every three hundred statements, or major fraction thereof in excess of two thousand eight hundred statements, and said extra deputies shall each serve for two months in each year, at the will of the assessor, and shall be paid one hundred dollars per month. All salaries of deputies as above provided, shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salary of the assessor is paid. All commissions allowed by law to the assessor for the collection of poll tax, road poll, personal property and special taxes, shall be paid into the county treasury by the assessor monthly as collected, for the use of the county, and shall be apportioned by the auditor and the treasurer to the salary fund.

5. Treasurer. The treasurer, nine hundred dollars per annum.

6. Tax collector. The tax collector, six hundred dollars per annum, which shall be in full for all services as tax collector and license collector.

7. Assessor. The assessor, one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum; provided, that the board of supervisors shall allow the traveling expenses of the assessor and his deputies, necessarily incurred in the performance of the duties of said office, not to exceed the sum of three hundred dollars per year, to be allowed and paid as other claims against the county are allowed and paid; provided, further, that the provisions herein contained for the expenses of the assessor shall apply to the incumbent.

8. District attorney. The district attorney, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

9. Coroner. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

10. Public administrator. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

11. Superintendent of schools. The superintendent of schools, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, to be in full compensation for all services rendered, including his traveling expenses while visiting schools, and his services as member of and secretary of the board of education; provided, that the provisions herein contained for the salary of the superintendent of schools shall apply to the incumbent.

12. Surveyor. The surveyor, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law.

13. Justices of peace. Population of townships. In counties of this class the justices of the peace shall receive the following compensation, to wit:

(a) In townships having a population of one thousand or over, the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly.

(b) In townships having a population of less than one thousand, the sum of two hundred forty dollars per annum, payable monthly.

The above-named salaries shall be in full compensation for all services of said justices of the peace in criminal and civil cases, and when acting as coroner said justices of the peace shall be allowed and paid actual expenses, which expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury. The above compensation shall be in lieu of all other fees received for services and said fees shall be accounted for to the auditor and paid into the county treasury.

The salaries of justices of the peace as herein provided for shall be paid in the same manner, at the same time, and out of the same funds as county officers are paid.

For the purpose of this subdivision the population of the several judicial townships is hereby determined to be the population of the townships as shown by the federal census taken in the year A. D. one thousand nine hundred ten.

14. Constables. Constables, the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, which shall be paid, in the manner and at the same time and out of the same funds as county officers are now paid. The above compensation shall be in lieu of all other fees received for services, and said fees shall be accounted for to the auditor and paid into the county treasury; provided, the provisions hereof and herein contained shall apply to the present incumbent.

15. Supervisors. Each member of the board of supervisors, five dollars a day when the board is in session, and ten cents a mile, in going or returning for traveling from his residence to the county seat, and when serving as road commissioner three dollars per day, and actual and necessary expenses; provided, he shall not in any one year receive more than two hundred fifty dollars as supervisor, exclusive of mileage, nor more than two hundred dollars as road commissioner, exclusive of travel expenses.

16. Board of education. Each member of the board of education excepting the superintendent of schools shall receive five dollars per day as compensation for his services when in actual attendance upon the board, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile, one way, or from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. Said compensation of the members of said board shall be paid out of the school fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools. Claims for service and mileage shall be presented to the board of supervisors and shall be allowed at the rate above named, and in the same manner as the claims against the county are allowed. The compensation of the members of the board of education herein provided for, is not in addition to that provided in section one thousand seven hundred seventy of this code.

17. Jurors. In counties of this class, for attending as a grand juror or as a trial juror in a criminal case in the superior court, for each day's attendance, three dollars. Such jurors shall receive for each day actually and necessarily traveled in attending as a juror, in going and returning, fifteen cents.

18. Witnesses. In counties of this class witnesses shall be allowed for each day's actual attendance, when legally required to attend in the superior court in a criminal case, three dollars, and for each day actually and necessarily traveled as such witness, in going and returning, ten cents; provided, that such per diem and such mileage shall be allowed only upon such a showing to the court as is now or may be hereafter required by law.

19. Intent of act. The legislature hereby declares that the provisions of this act are not intended to and do not increase or diminish the compensation of the officers herein mentioned, but are intended to change the same to a fixed salary basis wherever a salary is provided for compensation of such officers.

20. Time in effect. The provisions of this act shall take effect thirty days after the final adjournment of the session of the legislature which passed this act and said provisions shall be in force and apply to the present incumbent. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1001.]

[Amendment approved April 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 203.]

§ 4288. Time of payment of salaries of county officials. The salaries of such officers named in this title as are entitled to salaries shall be paid monthly out of the county treasury; and it shall be the duty of the auditor, on the first day of each and every month, to draw his warrant upon the treasurer in favor of each of said officers for the amount of salary due him under the provisions of this title for the preceding month; except that, unless in this title otherwise provided, one-half of the annual salary of the assessor shall be paid to him in equal monthly installments for the months of March, April, May and June, and one-half in equal monthly installments for the remaining eight months of the year. The treasurer shall pay said warrants on presentation, out of the salary fund of the county treasury; provided, that in counties of the first class or in counties operating under a charter, the board of supervisors may, by ordinance, fix a date or schedule of dates for the payment of salaries of the officers, deputies, clerks and other employees of the several departments and institutions of the county government. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 57.]

§ 4289. Statement of fees before salary warrant issued. The auditor shall not draw his warrant for the salary of any such officer for any month until the latter shall first have filed with him the sworn statement required in section four thousand two hundred ninety-four and a copy of the treasurer's receipt for all fees and other moneys payable into the county treasury, collected by such officer in that month. [Amendment approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 936.]

fees provided in this title shall be in full compensation for all services of every kind and description rendered by the officers named in this title either as officers or ex-officio officers, their deputies and assistants, unless in this title otherwise provided, and all deputies employed shall be paid by their principals out of the salaries provided in this title, unless in this title otherwise provided; provided and except, that the assessor shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use, unless in this title otherwise provided, six per cent of personal property tax collected by him, as authorized by section three thousand eight hundred twenty, and fifteen per cent of all amounts collected by him for poll taxes, and road poll taxes, and also five dollars per hundred names of persons returned by him as subject to military duty, as provided in section one thousand nine hundred one, and shall also be allowed by the county his actual expense when summoned before the state board of equalization in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the state of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation," and the license collector shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use ten per cent on all licenses collected by him, except where otherwise provided in this title; provided, however, that in counties and cities and counties of the first, second and third classes, the assessor shall receive no commission for the collection of taxes on personal property, nor shall such assessor receive any compensation or commission for the collection of poll taxes or road poll taxes, nor shall such assessor receive any compensation for making out military roll of persons returned by him as subject to military duty, as provided by section one thousand nine hundred one; nor shall the license collector in counties and cities and counties of the first and second classes receive any commission for licenses collected by him; provided, further, that the treasurer shall receive and retain for his own use the commissions on all inheritance and transfer taxes collected by him; and provided, further, that whenever the treasurer of any county shall employ a special attorney for the collection of such taxes, said attorney shall be paid out of the commissions and fees allowed by law for the collection of such taxes; provided, that in any county where the number of judges of the superior court shall have been increased since the first day of January, 1911, or shall hereafter be increased, there must be and there hereby is allowed to the sheriff of such county, by reason of such increase, one additional deputy, to be appointed by the sheriff, at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid, and also there must be and is hereby allowed to the county clerk of such county, one additional deputy to act as courtroom clerk, for each judge so appointed or elected, at a salary not exceeding one thousand two hundred dollars per annum for each of said deputies, to be paid at the same time and in the same manner county officers are paid. The board of supervisors shall allow to the sheriff his necessary expenses for pursuing criminals, or transacting any criminal business, and for boarding prisoners in the county jail; provided, that the board of supervisors shall fix a reasonable price at which such prisoners shall be boarded, if not otherwise provided for in this title, which price shall not be less than twelve cents for each meal for each prisoner; provided, further, that the sheriff shall be entitled to receive and retain for his own use, five dollars per diem for conveying prisoners to and from the state prisons, and for conveying persons to and from the insane asylums, or other state institutions, not otherwise provided for by law; also, all expenses necessarily incurred in conveying insane persons to and from the insane asylums and in conveying persons to and from the state prisons, or other state institutions, which per diem and expenses shall be allowed by the board of examiners and collected from the state. The court shall also allow the sheriff his necessary expenses in keeping and preserving property seized on attachment or executions, to be paid out of the fees collected in the action. The sheriff may retain for his own use the mileage for service of papers or process issued by any court of the state; provided, further, that the county treasurers of the several counties of this state, where their necessary expense incurred in the making of the state settlements provided for by section three thousand eight hundred sixty-six shall exceed the maximum amount of mileage allowed them by section three thousand eight hundred seventy-six shall be allowed out of the county treasury of their respective counties, the amount of such excess, which shall be paid as other demands against the county are paid; provided, further, that in case county or city and county officers perform municipal duties imposed by a charter framed under the provisions of sections eight and eight and one-half of article eleven of the constitution the compensation of such officers and the expense of such officers may be apportioned by the board of supervisors in proportion to the duties rendered as county officers under general laws and rendered as municipal officers under charter provisions, and the compensation determined to be for the performance of municipal duties shall be paid from funds raised for municipal purposes and the compensation determined to be for county duties shall be paid from funds provided by sections three thousand seven hundred fourteen and four thousand three hundred five of this code. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1323.]

§ 4292. Payment of fees into county treasury. All salaried officers of the several counties and townships of this state shall charge and collect for the use of their respective counties, and pay into the county treasury, on or before the fifth day of each month, the fees now or hereafter allowed by law in all cases, except where such fees, or a percentage thereof, is allowed such officers, and excepting also such fees as are a charge against the county. [Approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 937.]

§ 4293a. Deposit and withdrawal of trust moneys. Every officer of the several counties and townships of this state must, on the certificate of the auditor immediately deposit in the county treasury all trust moneys officially coming into his possession. Such trust moneys so deposited shall be withdrawn only on a warrant issued by the county auditor, drawn on an order of the court into which the money was paid, or upon requisition of the officer depositing the same in instances where there are no court proceedings. [New section added May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 238.]

public inspection during office hours, in which must be entered, at once and in detail, all fees or compensation, and fines, of whatever nature, kind, or description, collected or chargeable. On the first day of each and every month, the officer must add up each column in his book to the first day of the month, and set down the totals. On the expiration of the term of such officer, he must deliver all such records kept by him to the county auditor. [Amendment approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 937.]

§ 4294. Statement filed with auditor. Form of affidavit. Each of the officers authorized to receive fees under the provisions of this title must pay the fees and compensation and fines collected and chargeable for the county in each month, to the treasurer on or before the fifth day in the following month and must file with the auditor a statement, duly verified, showing the amounts and kinds of fees, compensation, and fines collected or chargeable, the amounts collected and the amount of trust moneys received, disbursed, and on hand. The affidavit shall be in substantially the following form:

"I, A. B., county clerk (or other officer, as the case may be), do swear that the fee record in my office contains a true statement in detail of all fees and compensation of every kind and nature for official services rendered by me, my deputies and assistants, and the amount of all fines, and trust money, received, disbursed and on hand, for the month of —, A. D. —, and that said fee record shows a full amount received or chargeable in said month, and that neither myself, nor to my knowledge or belief, any of my deputies or assistants have rendered any official service, except as provided in sections four thousand two hundred ninety-five and four thousand two hundred ninety-seven of the Political Code, which is not fully set out in said fee record and that the foregoing statement thereof and of other matters, is complete, true, and correct."

The auditor shall file and preserve in his office said statements and affidavits. [Amendment approved May 25, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 937.]

§ 4295. Prepayment of fees for official services. Records of United States service. State, county, and township officers shall not in any case except in proceedings upon habeas corpus perform any official services unless upon the prepayment of such fees as are prescribed by law for the performance of such services; provided, that the state or any county, city, or city and county, or any public officer, or board, or body acting in his or its official capacity on behalf of the state, or any county, city or city and county, shall not be required to pay or deposit any fee for the filing of any document or paper or for the performance of any official service; provided, further, that the state, or any county, city, or city and county, or any public officer or board, or body, acting in his, or its official capacity on behalf of the state, or any county, city, or city and county, shall not collect, demand or receive any fee or compensation for recording or indexing any discharge of a soldier or sailor discharged from the army or navy of the United States or for issuing certified copies thereof or for any service whatever rendered in the matter of a pension claim, application, affidavit, voucher, or in the matter of any claim to be presented to the bureau of war risk insurance under and by virtue of an act of Congress of the United States entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to authorize the establishment of a bureau of war risk insurance in the treasury department," approved October 6, 1917, and acts amendatory thereof, or furnishing a verified copy of the public record of a marriage, death, birth or divorce or making a search for same, wherein the same is to be used in a claim for a pension, or a claim for an allotment, allowance, compensation, insurance, or otherwise under the said act establishing the said bureau of war risks insurance. Said services shall be rendered on the request of a United States official, a claimant or his or her attorney, and for every failure or refusal so to do such officer shall be liable on his official bond. Upon the payment by any person of the fees required by law, the officer must perform the services required, and for every failure or refusal so to do such officer shall be liable on his official bond. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 269.]

The act amending section 4295 also contained the following section:

§ 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, and under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution of the state of California shall take effect immediately upon approval. The facts constituting such urgency are as follows: The United States has just concluded a war and the claims for allotment, allowances, compensations and insurance referred to in section one of this act are urgent emergency claims growing out of said war. Said claims for allotment, allowances, compensation and insurance are in a vast and innumerable number of instances payable to dependent wives, parents or relatives in destitute circumstances, who without the financial aid and assistance of said allotments, allowances, compensations and insurance would be left in want. It is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace and health that these claims be presented to the war risk insurance bureau for immediate action and this act is necessary to enable claimants to so present their respective claims.

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1175.

GENERAL LAWS

OF THE

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

AMENDMENTS OF 1917 AND 1919.

TITLE 6.

ADULTERATION.

ACT 29.

An act to prevent the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a state laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor.

Amended 1909, pp. 51, 353; 1911, p. 1114; 1915, p. 170; 1917, p. 1641; 1919, p. 241.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§3. Standard of purity. The standard of purity of food and liquor shall be that published in circular number nineteen, the food inspection decisions and the service and regulatory announcements of the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture. Nothing in this section contained shall authorize or permit any adulteration of any food or liquor because the standard of purity of such food or liquor shall not be proclaimed by the secretary of the United States department of agriculture. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 241.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1641.

§9. Laboratory for analysis of foods and drugs. Duties of director, etc. Salaries. Assistants. For the purpose of this act there is hereby established a state laboratory for the analysis and examination of foods and drugs, which shall be under the supervision of the state board of health, which laboratory shall be located at such place as the state board of health may select. The state board of health shall appoint a director of said laboratory, consulting nutrition expert, and an assistant to such director, all of whom shall be skilled pharmaceutical chemists and analysts of foods and drugs. Said director shall perform all duties required by this act and which shall be required by the state board of health. Said consulting nutrition expert shall at all times be ready for consultation with, give advice to, and perform duties in connection with the director of said laboratory, and shall at all times be under the supervision of and perform such duties under this act as are required by the state board of health. As a part of his duties he shall consult and advise with the state board of control concerning standards of purity and other matters relating to foods and drugs purchased by the state of California for any or all of its institutions. The assistant shall be under the supervision of the director and shall perform all duties required of him by the director and by the state board of health.

The director shall receive an annual salary of three thousand six hundred dollars, the consulting nutrition expert shall receive an annual salary of one thousand two hundred dollars and the assistant to the director shall receive an annual salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of state officers.

The state board of health, out of the appropriation hereinafter provided, and out of the funds derived from the operation of this act, may employ and fix the compensation of other and additional clerical and professional assistants. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1641.]

§ 10. Suspected food to be analyzed. Duty of sheriffs. Powers of inspectors. The state board of health or its secretary, shall cause to be made by the said director of the state laboratory, or under his supervision, examinations and analyses of food and liquor on sale in California, suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded at such times and places and to such extent as said board or its secretary may determine, and may appoint such agent or agents, as it may deem necessary, and the sheriffs of the respective counties of the state are hereby appointed and constituted agents for the enforcement of this act, and any agent or sheriff shall have free access, at all reasonable hours, for the purpose of examining any place where it is suspected that any article of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods exist, and such agent or sheriff upon tendering the market price of said articles, if a sale be refused, may take, from any person, firm or corporation samples of any articles suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, and shall deliver or forward such samples to the said director of the state laboratory for examination and analysis. The director of the state laboratory, the agents and inspectors of the state board of health shall have the same powers as are possessed by peace officers in this state. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1642.]

§ 16. Hearing for violation of act. When an examination or analysis of the directors of the state laboratory shows that any provisions of this act have been violated, notice of that fact, together with a copy of the certificate of the findings, shall be furnished to the party or parties from whom the sample was obtained, or who executed the guarantee, as provided in this act, and a day shall be fixed by the secretary of the state board of health, at which said parties may be heard before the state board of health, or before any two members thereof and the secretary. The hearing shall be held at such place as the state board of health or its secretary may designate, and at least fifteen days' notice thereof shall be served upon the party complained of. These hearings shall be private and confined to questions of fact. Parties interested therein may appear in person or by attorney and may propound interrogatories and submit oral or written evidence to show any fault or error in the findings made by the director of the state laboratory. If the examination or analysis be found correct, or if the party or parties fail to appear at such hearing, after notice duly given as provided herein, the secretary of the state board of health shall forthwith transmit a certificate of the facts so found to the district attorney of the county in which said adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded food was found. No publication as in this act provided shall be made until after said hearing is concluded. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 241.]

§ 20. Penalty. Adulterated food seized. Adulterated food destroyed.

Any person, firm, company or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Whenever the director of the state laboratory shall find after investigation and examination that any article of food found in the possession of any person, firm, company or corporation is adulterated, misbranded or mislabeled within the meaning of this act, he may seize such article of food and tag the same "quarantined," and said article of food shall not thereafter be sold, offered for sale, removed or otherwise disposed of pending hearing and final disposition as in this act provided.

Whenever the director of the state laboratory or any agent or inspector of the state board of health shall find any article of food adulterated within the meaning of the sixth subdivision of section four of this act, he may seize such article of food and tag the same "quarantined" and said article of food shall not thereafter be sold, offered for sale, removed or otherwise disposed of until further notice in writing from said director of the state laboratory. Food found to be adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act may, by order of any court or judge, be seized and destroyed. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1642.]

An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, to grade milk, to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved June 11, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1478.]

Repealed 1917, p. 803. See next Act.

An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, butter, ice-cream and other milk products; to declare ice-cream a milk product; to grade milk; to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to repeal an act entitled, "An act to prevent the sale of impure and unwholesome milk, to grade milk, to provide rules and regulations therefor, and to empower cities, groups of cities, counties and groups of counties, or cities and counties, to establish inspection service; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to prescribe penalties for violation of the provisions hereof; and to make an appropriation therefor," approved June 11, 1915.

§ 1. Milk must be pasteurized. Cream for butter. Butter used in manufacture of foodstuffs. Marking of butter. Ice-cream a milk product. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, except in bulk to the wholesale trade, to sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption any milk from cows that have not passed the tuberculin test, until it has been pasteurized by the holding process at a temperature not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit for twenty-five minutes; provided, that milk for drinking purposes shall not be heated for more than one hour nor above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit; provided, further, that cream that is to be manufactured into butter may be pasteurized by heating it to a higher degree than milk and, when the same is uniformly heated to and held at a higher degree of temperature than one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit, the time for holding may be decreased from twenty-five minutes by one minute for each degree of temperature over one hundred fifty-one degrees Fahrenheit. It shall further be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange or offer or expose for sale or exchange for human consumption any butter, ice cream or other milk products except cheese and butter as hereinafter provided, into the composition of which any milk enters other than that permitted in this section of this act, to be sold at retail for human consumption; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the use or sale of butter that is not pasteurized or butter that is not the product of nonreacting tuberculin-tested cows; provided, that said butter be used by manufacturers of foodstuffs only and in the manufacture of such foodstuffs said butter shall be subjected to a minimum temperature of two hundred twenty-five degrees Fahrenheit; and provided, further, that it shall be unlawful to use any such butter except in the manufacture of food subjected to said temperature. Butter offered for sale for human consumption shall be marked: "From nonreacting tuberculin-tested cows," or "Pasteurized," as the case may be. Butter, which, by the provisions of this act, is permitted to be used for cooking and baking purposes only shall be marked "for cooking and baking only." Ice-cream is hereby declared to be a milk product. For the purpose of this act milk shall be construed to include cream.

§ 2. Sale of milk where milk inspection service established. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, in any city, county, or city and county, in which a milk inspection service, approved by the state dairy bureau, has been established, any milk otherwise than as hereinafter provided in this act, and for the purpose of this act, the term "inspecting department" shall be construed to mean the health department of a county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county maintaining a milk inspection service approved by the state dairy bureau, and such inspecting department shall include at least one regularly licensed physician. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange any milk as and for, or under, the designation, label or other representation of "guaranteed," "grade A," or "grade B" milk, except within a county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county maintaining a milk inspection service approved by the state dairy bureau; provided, that a person, firm or corporation, which is authorized to sell milk within the jurisdiction of an inspecting department may sell milk from the same supply, of the same quality, in similar containers, and under the same label in territory outside the jurisdiction of any inspecting department, if local ordinances are not thereby violated, and also in territory within the jurisdiction of any other inspecting department; provided, the consent of said other inspecting department has been previously obtained.

§ 3. Milk not to be sold for human consumption. All milk sold or exchanged or offered or exposed for sale or exchange except in bulk to the wholesale trade in any county or group of counties, city or group of cities, or city and county, in which a milk inspection service, approved by the state dairy bureau has been established, except certified milk, guaranteed milk, grade A milk and grade B milk, is hereby declared to be impure and unwholesome and must not be sold for human consumption.

§ 4. Grades of milk. Where an inspection service is maintained as provided in section two of this act, milk shall be graded as follows: Certified milk, guaranteed milk, grade A milk, grade B milk and milk not suitable for human consumption; provided, that milk sold or exchanged or offered or exposed for sale or exchange as and for, or under the designation, label or other representation of "guaranteed," "grade A" or "grade B," milk shall have the grade and whether raw or pasteurized marked on the container or cap of the container in capital letters not less than one-eighth inch long and one-sixteenth inch wide; and provided, further, that milk not suitable for human consumption shall be plainly so marked.

§ 5. Approval of inspecting department. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as or for guaranteed milk, any milk, raw or pasteurized the quality of which is guaranteed by the dealer, without approval in writing of the inspecting department, which milk must be of a higher standard than that required for grade A raw milk.

§ 6. Requirements for grade A milk. Dairies having not more than two cows. Sterile containers. Bacteria content. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for grade A milk, any milk that does not conform to the rules and regulations and the methods and standards for production and distribution of grade A milk adopted by the inspecting department.

Grade A milk shall conform to the following requirements as a minimum: If raw, it shall consist of the clean raw milk from healthy cows as determined by physical examination at least once in six months by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department, and by the tuberculin test by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the state veterinarian, and from dairies that score not less than seventy per cent on the score card hereinafter set forth; provided, however, that dairies having not more than two milking cows, and, which are found by any such inspecting department to comply fully with the remaining provisions of this act are hereby exempted from such scoring requirements and from the use of the labels prescribed in section four hereof. The tuberculin test must be repeated annually if no reacting animals are found in the herd. If reacting animals are found they must be removed from the herd, and the tuberculin test repeated in six months. All cows are to be fed, watered, housed and milked under conditions approved by the inspecting department. All persons who come in contact with the milk must exercise scrupulous cleanliness and must not harbor the germs of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria or other infectious diseases liable to be conveyed by milk. Absence of such infections shall be determined by cultures and physical examination, to the satisfaction of the inspecting department.

This milk is to be delivered in sterile containers and is to be kept at a temperature established by the inspecting department until it reaches the ultimate consumer, when it must contain less than one hundred thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter. If pasteurized it shall come from cows free from disease as determined by physical examination at least once in six months, by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department. It shall contain less than two hundred thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter before pasteurization and less than fifteen thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter at the time of delivery to the ultimate consumer. Dairies from which this milk is derived must score at least sixty on the score card hereinafter set forth.

§ 7. Requirements for Grade B milk. Pasteurization. Records. No person, firm or corporation shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for grade B milk, any milk that does not conform to the following requirements as a minimum: It must be obtained from cows in no way unfit for the production of milk for use by man, as determined by physical examination at least once in six months by a qualified veterinarian under the supervision of the inspecting department. Before pasteurization such milk shall contain less than one million bacteria per cubic centimeter. After pasteurization it shall contain less than fifty thousand bacteria per cubic centimeter.

Milk for pasteurization must be kept at a temperature established by the inspecting department up to the time of delivery to the pasteurization plant and rapidly cooled after pasteurization to a temperature of fifty degrees Fahrenheit or below and so maintained to the time of delivery of the same. Pasteurization shall be by the holding method at a temperature not less than one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit; provided, that milk for drinking purposes shall not be heated above one hundred forty-five degrees Fahrenheit.

Such pasteurization plant shall be equipped with a self-registering device for record of the time and temperature of pasteurization. Such records shall be kept for two months and be available for inspection by any health department, the state veterinarian or any of his agents, or the state dairy bureau. Pasteurized milk shall be marked with the day of the week of pasteurization and must be delivered to the consumer within forty-eight hours thereafter. If milk is repasteurized, it must not be sold except as not suitable for human consumption; provided, however, if graded, cream of any grade shall conform to all the standards set for milk of the same grade, except that the maximum bacterial count for cream shall be not more than three times as great as that of the corresponding grade of milk. [Amendment approved May 6, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 326.]

§ 8. Milk not suitable for human consumption. Milk not suitable for human consumption may be sold for industrial purposes, provided it be heated to a higher temperature than necessary for pasteurization, and delivered in a distinctive container, plainly marked with the words "Not suitable for human consumption," in letters not less than one-quarter inch in length and one-twelfth inch stroke.

§ 9. Counties, etc., may maintain inspection service. Counties, or groups of counties, cities or groups of cities, or cities and counties, are hereby authorized to maintain a milk inspection service and laboratory conformable to requirements as set forth by the state dairy bureau, and to establish pasteurizing plants.

§ 10. Penalties for violation. Any person who violates any provision of this act or the rules made in accordance with section eleven of this act or who directs or knowingly permits an employee to violate any of said provisions or said rules, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Any firm, corporation, society or association which violates any of said provisions or of said rules shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined as above provided.

In the event an officer, director, manager or managing agent of any firm, corporation, society or association violates any of the provisions of this act or the rules made in accordance with section eleven of this act or directs or knowingly permits any employee to violate any of said provisions or said rules, such officer, director, manager or managing agent shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine or imprisonment or both as above provided; and, in such case, the firm, corporation, society or association shall also be guilty and upon conviction shall be fined as above provided. One-half of all such fines shall be paid into the state treasury and placed to the credit of the general fund. [Amendment approved May 6, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 327.]

§ 11. Duty of state dairy bureau. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, with the assistance of the pure food and drugs laboratory, to enforce all the provisions of this act except the tuberculin testing of cows and the marking of reactors; and said bureau, with the approval and assistance of the pure food and drugs laboratory, is hereby empowered to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and advisable for such enforcement.

§ 12. Duty of state veterinarian. It shall be the duty of the state veterinarian, as soon as practicable, either directly or through local inspecting departments, to enforce the provisions of this act as to the tuberculin testing of cows and the exclusion of reacting animals from the herds, and to mark indelibly by tattooing the ear with the capital letter "T" one inch long any cattle which have been tested with tuberculin under the provisions of this act and found to react to the test. For such purpose he may appoint such veterinarians as may be necessary.

§ 13. Dairyman not operating under inspecting department. If any dairyman not operating under an inspecting department desires to sell milk, he may file with the state veterinarian a written request that his cows be tuberculin tested. After the filing of such request, said dairyman shall not be liable under the provisions of this act until such time as the state veterinarian shall be able to make the required test. The provision of this section shall apply also to any dairyman, operating under an inspecting department, if such inspecting department approves.

§ 14. Score card. The following score card shall be used in scoring dairies under the provisions of this act:

An act to define imitation milk and to regulate the business of producing, buying or selling imitation milk or imitation milk products, providing for the licensing of said business by the state dairy bureau, and prescribing penalties for a violation of the provisions hereof, and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

§ 1. Imitation milk defined. For the purposes of this act certain manufactured substances, certain mixtures and compounds shall be known and designated as "imitation milk," namely: (a) Any mixture or compound composed of skim milk or condensed, evaporated or powdered skim milk and any edible oil or fat other than natural milk fat, whether with or without any other ingredient or ingredients; (b) any mixture or compound made in imitation or semblance, or having the appearance or semblance, of milk or condensed or evaporated milk, or when so made or having such appearance or semblance calculated or intended, whether by intent of the compounder or other person, or by reason of the appearance or other characteristic of the mixture or compound, for use or disposition as or for milk, or as or for condensed or evaporated milk, or to induce its purchase, or use as or for milk or condensed or evaporated milk.

§ 2. Manufacture and sale of imitation milk. No person by himself, his agents or servants shall render, manufacture, sell, offer for sale, expose for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell or to use, or to serve to patrons, customers, boarders or inmates of any hotel, dwelling-house, restaurant, public conveyance or boarding-house, any article, product or compound made wholly or in part, out of any imitation milk; provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the manufacture or sale, under regulations hereinafter provided, of imitation milk, of substances or compounds that may be used as imitation milk, of a separate and distinct character not resembling milk or condensed or evaporated milk, and in such a manner as will advise the purchaser and consumer of its real character, colored or containing ingredients that cause it to look unlike pure whole cow's milk or the condensed or evaporated product made therefrom; and provided, further, it is not adulterated within the meaning of this act; and provided, further, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent or prohibit the manufacture, sale, or use, for cooking purposes, of imitation milk as defined by section one of this act.

§ 3. Imitation milk to be labeled. Each person, who by himself, or another, lawfully manufactures any imitation milk, or any substitute that may be used as and substituted for milk or condensed or evaporated milk, shall mark the same by printing, stamping or stenciling upon the top, if the top be of sufficient size and upon the sides of each case, box, carton, or other package, in which that article or substance shall be kept, and in which it shall be removed from the place where it is produced or put up in a clear manner, in the English language, the words, "imitation milk," in printed letters in plain roman type, each of which shall not be less than one inch in height and one-half inch in width, and in addition to the above shall prepare a statement, printed in plain roman type, of a size not smaller than pica, stating in the English language its name, and the name and address of the manufacturer, the name of the place where manufactured or put up, and also the name and actual percentages of the various ingredients used in the manufacture of such imitation milk; and shall place a copy of said statement within and upon the contents of each case, box, carton, or other package, and next to that portion of each case, box, carton, or other package as is commonly and most conveniently opened, and in addition thereto shall label each bottle, can, container, or other package containing imitation milk with the words "imitation milk" printed in black-face plain roman capital letters of a size not less than twelve point, and said words shall appear upon the main or principal label of said bottles, cans, containers, or other packages containing any imitation milk, and in addition thereto said main or principal label shall contain or bear the words: "Not suitable for infant food," in plain legible type.

§ 4. Adulteration. Imitation milk, not condensed or evaporated, shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act if it contains less than three per cent of edible fats, or oils, and imitation milk, if evaporated or condensed, shall be deemed adulterated within the meaning of this act if it contains less than seven and eight-tenths per cent of edible fats or oils.

§ 5. Display of sign by restaurants, etc. No keeper or proprietor of any bakery, hotel, boarding-house, restaurant, saloon, lunch counter, or any place of public entertainment, and no person having charge thereof, or employee thereat, and no employer when such board is furnished as compensation, or part of the compensation of any employee, shall place before any patron or employee for use as food, any imitation milk, unless there shall be displayed in a prominent place in said bakery, hotel, boarding-house, restaurant, saloon, lunch counter, or other place of public entertainment in each room where meals are served, a sign bearing the words: "Imitation milk used and served here," in black-faced letters and not less than four inches in length upon a white ground.

§ 6. License for manufacture and sale of imitation milk. No person, firm or corporation shall engage in the business or occupation of manufacturing, selling, dealing, or in furnishing imitation milk, without first having applied for and obtained a license so to do as hereinafter provided. Any person, firm or corporation dealing in or engaged in the business or occupation of manufacturing, selling, dealing in or furnishing to his, its or their patrons, imitation milk, as in this act defined shall first make application each year to the state dairy bureau for a license, and upon payment of license fee of the amount mentioned herein to the state dairy bureau, said bureau shall issue to the applicant a license. All such licenses shall contain the following proviso: provided that this license does not authorize the holder thereof to manufacture, sell, deal in or furnish any imitation milk and similar substances that may be used as a substitute for milk or condensed or evaporated milk which resembles in appearance pure whole cow's milk, or the condensed or evaporated product made therefrom. All such licenses shall expire on June thirtieth of each year, and may be issued in periods of one year or less than one year, on payment of a proportionate part of the license fee, provided that no license shall be issued for a period of less than three months. The fee for issuing said license to said manufacturers, of any of the said substances within this state shall be one hundred dollars; for issuing to wholesale dealers in, or importers or agents for importers, of any of said substances the fee shall be fifty dollars; for issuing to retail dealers in any of said substances the fee shall be five dollars; and for issuing to the keeper of any hotel, restaurant, boarding-house, and any other place where meals are served and payment is received therefor, either immediately or by the day, week or month, the fee shall be two dollars. The term "wholesale dealer" as used in this section includes all persons, firms or corporations who sell any of said substances in quantities of one full case or more at a time or in the same transaction. The term "retail dealer" includes all persons who sell only in quantities of less than one case. All licenses while in force shall be kept conspicuously displayed in the places of business of the party or parties to whom they have been issued.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to manufacture, buy, sell, deal in or furnish to his, its or their patrons, or to have in their possession, for any purpose whatsoever other than for consumption in his own family, or for transportation in case of a boat or railroad company, or for the purpose of storage in case of a warehouse or cold storage company, any imitation milk or similar substance designed to be used as a substitute for milk or for condensed or evaporated milk without having first applied for and obtained from the state dairy bureau of the state of California a license herein required.

§ 7. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 8. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the state dairy bureau, now existing under the laws of this state, to enforce the provisions of this act; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any city or county or state board of health or other city or county official from enforcing the provisions of this act.

§ 9. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 8.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

ACT 53.

An act to prohibit the advertising of venereal disease remedies and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions of this act.

§ 1. Advertising of venereal disease remedies prohibited. From and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association, except boards of health or agencies approved by the state board of health, to post or otherwise exhibit or distribute in any manner whatsoever in any place, any advertising or other printed matter concerning venereal diseases, lost manhood, lost vitality, impotency, seminal emissions, self-abuse, varicocele, or excessive sexual indulgence, and calling attention to any medicine, device, compound, treatment or preparation that may be used therefor.

§ 2. Penalty. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall upon conviction therefor be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year or by both such fine and imprisonment.

TITLE 10.

AGENTS.

ACT 60.

An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision, and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner and making an appropriation therefor. [Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1579.]

Repealed 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1252. See post, Act 61.

ACT 61.

An act to define real estate brokers and salesmen; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to create a state real estate department and the office of real estate commissioner; to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision, and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner; and making an appropriation therefor," approved June 1, 1917, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

§ 1. License for real estate business. It shall be unlawful for any person, copartnership or corporation to engage in the business, or act in the capacity of a real estate broker, or a real estate salesman within this state without first obtaining a license therefor.

§ 2. Real estate broker. Real estate salesman. Application of act. Act constituting person, etc., a broker. A real estate broker within the meaning of this act is a person, copartnership or corporation who, for a compensation, sells, or offers for sale, buys, or offers to buy, or negotiates the purchase or sale or exchange of real estate, or who, for compensation, negotiates loans on real estate, leases, or offers to lease, rents, or places for rent, or collects rent from real estate, or improvements thereon, for others as a whole or partial vocation. A real estate salesman within the meaning of this act is one who for a compensation is employed by a licensed broker to sell, or offer for sale, or to buy, or to offer to buy, or to negotiate the purchase or sale or exchange of real estate, or to negotiate a loan on real estate, or to lease, or offer to lease, rent, or place for rent, any real estate, or improvements thereon, as a whole or partial vocation. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any person, copartnership or corporation who shall perform any of the acts aforesaid with reference to property owned by such person, copartnership or corporation; nor shall the provisions of this act apply to persons holding a duly executed power of attorney from the owner, nor shall this act be construed to include in any way the services rendered by an attorney at law in performing his duties as such attorney at law; nor shall it be held to include any receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, or any person acting under order of any court, nor to a trustee selling under a deed of trust. One act, for a compensation, of buying or selling real estate of or for another, or offering for another to buy or sell or exchange real estate, or negotiating a loan on or leasing or renting or placing for rent real estate, or collecting rent therefrom shall constitute the person, copartnership or corporation making such offer, sale or purchase, exchange or lease, or negotiating said loan, or so renting or placing for rent or collecting said rent a real estate broker within the meaning of this act.

§ 3. State real estate department created. Clerks and deputies.

There is hereby created a state real estate department. The chief officer of such department shall be the real estate commissioner. He shall be appointed by the governor and hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, to be paid monthly out of the state treasury upon a warrant of the controller. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state of California a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars executed by two or more sureties, or by a surety company duly authorized to do business in this state, to be approved by the governor of the state, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office. The real estate commissioner shall have full power to regulate and control the issuance and revocation, both temporary and permanent, of the licenses to be issued under the provisions of this act, and to perform all other acts and duties provided in this act and necessary for its enforcement. The real estate commissioner shall employ such deputies, clerks and assistants as he may need to discharge in proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law. Neither the real estate commissioner, nor any of his deputies, clerks or assistants, shall be interested in any real estate company or real estate broker as director, stockholder, officer, member, agent or employee. Such deputies, clerks and assistants shall perform such duties as the real estate commissioner shall assign to them. The real estate commissioner shall fix the compensation of such deputies, clerks and assistants, which compensation shall be paid monthly on a certificate of the real estate commissioner and on the warrant of the controller out of the state treasury. Each deputy shall, after his appointment, take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state.

§ 4. Office in Sacramento. The real estate commissioner shall have his principal office in the city of Sacramento, and may establish branch offices in the city and county of San Francisco, and in the city of Los Angeles, and he shall from time to time obtain the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, light and other proper conveniences for the transactions of business, the expenses of which shall be paid out of the state treasury on the certificate of the real estate commissioner and the warrant of the controller.

§ 5. "Real estate commissioner's fund." All fees charged and collected under this act shall be paid by the real estate commissioner at least once a week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state to the credit of a fund to be known as the "real estate commissioner's fund," which fund is hereby created. All moneys which shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the "real estate commissioner's fund" are hereby appropriated to be used by the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this act, including the payment of the salaries of the commissioner and his deputies, clerks and assistants; and the controller shall draw his warrant on said fund from time to time in favor of the commissioner for the amounts expended under his direction, and the treasurer shall pay the same; provided, however, that all of the expenditures of said commissioner including his salary shall be paid only from the real estate commissioner's fund. The commissioner may, with the consent of the board of control, withdraw from said fund a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars to be used as a "revolving fund" where cash advances are necessary. The commissioner must account for the sum withdrawn from said "revolving fund" at any time upon demand of the board of control. It shall be the duty of the real estate commissioner semi-annually to certify under oath to the state treasurer and secretary of state the total amount of receipts and expenditures of the real estate commissioner's department for the six months preceding. All moneys remaining in the state treasury to the credit of the "real estate commissioner's fund" at noon on the thirty-first day of December of each year shall on or before the fifteenth day of the succeeding January be transferred from said "real estate commissioner's fund" to the general fund of the state.

§ 6. Seal. The real estate commissioner shall adopt a seal with the words "Real Estate Commissioner State of California" and such other device as the commissioner may desire engraved thereon, by which he shall authenticate the proceedings of his office. Copies of all records and papers in the office of the real estate commissioner's department certified under the hand and seal of the commissioner shall be received in evidence in all cases equally and with like effect as the originals.

§ 7. Attorney general attorney for commissioner. The attorney general shall render to the real estate commissioner opinions upon all questions of law relating to the construction or interpretation of this act or arising in the administration thereof that may be submitted to him by the commissioner, and shall act as the attorney for the commissioner in all actions and proceedings brought by or against him under or pursuant to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 8. Limitations on license. No real estate license shall give authority to do any act mentioned in section two of this act to any person, copartnership or corporation other than those to whom said license is issued; provided, however, that when a license is issued to a corporation the officers thereof, other than the president, shall be required to obtain a license if engaged in the real estate business as a whole or partial vocation; and provided, further, that when a license is granted to a copartnership the members of said copartnership shall each be required to obtain a separate license, except as provided in section ten hereof.

§ 9. Applications for license. Licenses for salesmen. Application for license as real estate broker shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, which application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of the county in which such applicant resides or has his place of business, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation, and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. If the applicant shall have resided, or shall have engaged in business for less than one year in the county from which the application is made, the same shall also be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of each of the counties where he has formerly resided or engaged in business during said period of one year prior to the filing of said application, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. Where the applicant for a real estate broker's license maintains more than one place of business within the state he shall be required to apply for and procure a duplicate license for each branch office so maintained by him. Such duplicate license shall be issued without additional charge. Every such application shall state the name of the person, copartnership or corporation, and the location of the place or places of business for which such license is desired.

Application for license as real estate salesman shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, signed by the applicant, setting forth the period of time during which he has been engaged in the business, stating the name of his last employer and the name and place of business of the person, copartnership or corporation then employing him, or in whose employ he is to enter. The application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of his employer, if employed, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good reputation, and recommending that the license be granted to the applicant.

The real estate commissioner may require such other proof as he may deem advisable of the honesty, truthfulness and good reputation of any applicant for a license, or of the officers of any corporation, or of the members of any copartnership making such application before authorizing the issuance of a license.

§ 10. License fees. The fees for licenses shall be as follows:

(1) For a broker's license the annual fee shall be ten dollars. If the licensee be a corporation, the license issued to it shall entitle the president thereof to engage in the business of real estate broker within the meaning of this act. For officers other than the president of a licensed corporation, who shall engage in the business of real estate broker, within the meaning of this act, the annual fee shall be two dollars. If the licensee be a copartnership, the license issued to it shall entitle one member of said copartnership to engage in the business of real estate broker within the meaning of this act. For each other member of such copartnership who engages in the business of real estate broker within the meaning of this act the annual fee shall be two dollars.

(2) For a salesman's license the annual fee shall be two dollars.

(3) If application for a license is made during the period beginning on the first day of April and ending on the thirtieth day of June, in any year, three-fourths of the annual fee shall be paid; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of July and ending on the thirtieth day of September, one-half of such annual fee; if application is made during the period beginning on the first day of October and ending on the thirty-first day of December, one-fourth of such annual fee.

(4) All applications for license shall be accompanied by the license fee as herein provided, and all licenses shall expire on December thirty-first of each year.

§ 11. Display of licenses in offices. The licenses of both broker and salesman shall be prominently displayed in the office of the real estate broker, and no license issued hereunder shall authorize the licensee to do business except from the location stipulated in the license. Notice in writing shall be given the commissioner of change of business location or change of employer, whereupon the commissioner shall issue a new license for the unexpired period without charge. The change of business location without notification to the commissioner and the issuance by him of a new license shall automatically cancel the license heretofore issued.

Each person, firm or corporation licensed as a broker under the provisions of this act shall be required to have and maintain a definite place of business in the state of California which shall serve as his office for the transaction of business.

§ 12. Revocation of licenses. Appeal from revocation of license. The real estate commissioner may upon his own motion, and shall upon the verified complaint in writing of any person, investigate the actions of any person, copartnership or corporation engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of a real estate broker, or a real estate salesman, within this state, and shall have the power to temporarily suspend or permanently revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this act, at any time where the holder thereof in performing, or attempting to perform, any of the acts mentioned in section two hereof is guilty of—

(1) Making any substantial misrepresentation, or

(2) Making any false promises of a character likely to influence, persuade or induce, or

(3) A continued and flagrant course of misrepresentation or making of false promises through agents or salesmen, or

(4) Acting for more than one party in a transaction without the knowledge or consent of all parties thereto, or

(5) Any other conduct, whether of the same or a different character than hereinabove specified, which constitutes dishonest dealing.

Before suspending or revoking any license the said commissioner shall notify, in writing, the holder of such license of the charges against him and afford an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel in reference thereto. The decision of the said commissioner in suspending or revoking any license under this act shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of chapter one of title one of part three of the Code of Civil Procedure; and any party aggrieved by such decision of the commissioner may within ten days from the date of said decision appeal therefrom to the superior court of the state of California, in and for the county in which the person affected by such decision resides or has his place of business under the terms of this act, by serving upon the commissioner a notice of such appeal and a demand in writing for a certified transcript of all the papers on file in his office affecting or relating to such decision and all the evidence taken on the hearing and paying ten cents for each folio of the transcript and one dollar for the certification thereof. Thereupon the commissioner shall, within thirty days, make and certify such transcript, and the appellant shall, within five days after receiving the same, file the same and the notice of appeal with the clerk of said court. Upon the hearing of such appeal, the burden of proof shall lie upon the appellant, and the court shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary, concerning the action of the commissioner from which the appeal is taken, but shall be limited to a consideration and determination of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in making such decision.

The decision of the commissioner shall not take effect until ten days after its date, and if notice of appeal and demand for transcript are served upon the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this section, then such stay shall remain in full force and effect until decision upon appeal by said superior court. But if said aggrieved party shall fail to perfect his appeal as herein provided, said stay shall automatically terminate.

§ 13. Powers of commissioners. Service of process. Powers of superior court. Taking of depositions. Right to attendance of witnesses. The real estate commissioner shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers. In any hearing in any part of the state the process issued by the commissioner shall extend to all parts of the state and may be served by any person authorized to serve process of courts of record or by any person designated for that purpose by the commissioner. The person serving any such process shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the commissioner, not to exceed the fees prescribed by law for similar service, and such fees shall be paid in the same manner as provided herein for the payment of the fees of witnesses. Each witness who shall appear by order of the commissioner shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party shall be subpoenaed by the commissioner his fees and mileage shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the said real estate department in the same manner as other expenses of said department are paid.

The superior court in and for the county in which any hearing may be held by the commissioner shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of books and papers as required by any subpoena issued by the commissioner. In case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena the commissioner may report to the superior court in and for the county in which the hearing is pending by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by subpoena before the commissioner in the cause or proceeding named in the subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such hearing, and ask an order of said court compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commissioner. The court upon petition of the commissioner shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended or testified or produced said papers before the commissioner. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commissioner, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commissioner at the time and place fixed in said order and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

The commissioner may in any hearing before him cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers.

Any party to any hearing before the commissioner shall have the right to the attendance of witnesses in his behalf at such hearing or upon deposition as set forth in this section upon making request therefor to the commissioner and designating the person or persons sought to be subpoenaed.

§ 14. When salesman is discharged. When any salesman shall be discharged by his employer for a violation of any of the provisions of section twelve hereof, a written statement of the facts in reference thereto shall be filed forthwith with the real estate commissioner by the employer.

§ 15. Employer's license not affected by employee's violation. No violation of any of the provisions of this act on the part of any salesman or employee of any licensed broker in this state shall cause the revocation or suspension of the license of the employer of said salesman or employee unless it shall appear upon a hearing to be had by the commissioner in accordance with section twelve hereof that said employer had guilty knowledge of such violation.

§ 16. Prosecution of violations. The real estate commissioner may prefer a complaint for violation of section one of this act before any court of competent jurisdiction, and said commissioner and his counsel, deputies or assistants may assist in presenting the law or facts at the trial. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in this state to prosecute all violations of the aforesaid provision of this act in their respective counties in which such violations occur.

§ 17. Penalty for acting without license. Any person or corporation acting as real estate broker or real estate salesman within the meaning of this act without a license as herein provided shall, upon conviction thereof, if a person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail or state prison for a term not to exceed two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court; or if a corporation, be punished by a fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars.

§ 18. No commission to unlicensed persons. It shall be unlawful for any licensed broker to pay a commission for performing any of the acts herein specified to any person who is not a licensed broker, or a licensed salesman.

§ 19. Violation of sections fourteen and eighteen. For a violation of any of the provisions of sections fourteen and eighteen of this act the real estate commissioner may temporarily suspend or permanently revoke the license of such holder in accordance with the proceedings set forth in section twelve of this act.

§ 20. Party to action must be licensed. No person, copartnership or corporation engaged in the business or acting in the capacity of a real estate broker or a real estate salesman within this state shall bring or maintain any action in the courts of this state for the collection of compensation for the performance of any of the acts mentioned in section two hereof without alleging and proving that such person, copartnership or corporation was a duly licensed real estate broker or real estate salesman at the time the alleged cause of action arose.

§ 21. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 22. Stats. 1917, p. 1579, repealed. An act entitled "An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner and making an appropriation therefor," approved June 1, 1917, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

AGRICULTURE.

ACT 78d.

An act providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report at the forty-second session of the legislature relative to the adoption of a system of land colonization and rural credits, and making an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 17, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 475.]

Repealed by act approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1573. See post, Act 3822.

ACT 78f.

An act creating a department of agriculture, providing for its organization and declaring its functions; transferring to said department the powers and duties of various state agencies and the unexpended balances of their appropriations and funds; prohibiting certain acts, and prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof.

[Approved May 16, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 542.]

§ 1. Department of agriculture created. Director. A department of the government of the state of California to be known as the department of agriculture is hereby created. The department shall be conducted under the control of an executive officer to be known as director of agriculture, which office is hereby created. The director shall be appointed by and hold office at the pleasure of the governor, and shall receive a salary of five thousand dollars per annum. Before entering upon the duties of his office, the director shall execute an official bond to the state of California in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties. He shall maintain his office at Sacramento, and shall adopt and keep an official seal. He shall act as chief of one of the divisions herein created.

§ 2. Divisions. For the purpose of administration, the department shall be organized by the director in such manner as, with the approval of the governor, shall be deemed necessary to properly segregate and conduct the work of the department. The work of the department shall be divided into at least two divisions: One to be known as the division of plant industry and one as the division of animal industry. The director shall adopt such rules and regulations not inconsistent with law as may be necessary to govern the activities of the department. He shall have the power to arrange and classify the work of the department and to assign to each of the officers thereof such duties and labors as he may see fit.

§ 3. Appointments by director. Civil service exemptions. The director shall have power, except as otherwise provided herein, to appoint heads of divisions and such assistants, agents, experts, and other employees as are necessary for the administration of the affairs of the department, to prescribe their duties and, subject to the approval of the governor, to fix the salaries; provided, that the director or other officer of the department shall have no authority on the part of the state to incur obligations exceeding the amount of moneys made available by law for the support of the department. The heads of divisions, assistants, agents, experts and other employees appointed by the director shall execute to the state such official bonds as the director may determine and require. The head of each division and one position under him of a confidential nature shall be exempt from the provisions of the civil service law. The director and all officers, assistants and agents of the department shall be civil executive officers.

§ 4. Traveling expenses. All heads of divisions, assistants, agents, experts and other employees of the department shall be entitled to receive in addition to their salaries, their actual necessary traveling expenses when away from their headquarters on state business. The salaries and expenses of all heads of divisions, assistants, agents, experts and other employees of the department shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries and expenses of other state officers are paid.

§ 5. Powers and duties of director. Power of subpoena. Powers of officers. The director of agriculture may make investigations and prosecute actions concerning all matters relating to the business activities and subjects under the jurisdiction of the department as well as relating to the acts and the statistics referred to in section nine of this act. In connection therewith he shall have the right to inspect books and records and to hear complaints, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding pertinent or material thereto in any part of the state.

In the event of the failure or the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce such papers, books, accounts or documents or give such testimony or in the event of any disobedience of said subpoena, the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation or proceeding may be held by the director of agriculture, shall have power to compel the attendance of said witness, the giving of said testimony and the production of said papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the director of agriculture. The court upon petition of the director of agriculture shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the director of agriculture. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the director of agriculture, the court shall thereupon enter an order that the said witness appear before the director of agriculture at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

The powers conferred upon the director of agriculture by the provisions of this section may be exercised with like force and effect by such officers of the department as the director may authorize and designate to conduct any such investigation or hearing; provided, however, that except in his report to the director, or when called upon to testify in any court or proceeding at law, any such officer who shall divulge any information acquired by him from the private books, documents or papers of any person, while acting or claiming to act under any such authorization or designation, in respect to the confidential or private transactions, property or business of any person, firm, association or corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be disqualified from acting in any official capacity in the department. In addition thereto, such officer shall be liable in damages to any person, firm, association or corporation for all injury resulting from such unlawful disclosure.

§ 6. Report to governor. The director shall make a report to the governor at least sixty days before the commencement of each biennial session of the legislature. Such report shall give an account of all matters pertaining to his department, together with any recommendations, and shall specifically set forth a statement of expenditures made by the department during the period up to and including the thirtieth day of June preceding said session. There shall also be set forth in such report a statement of the organization plan of the department, together with the number and classes of officers and employees in the department and the compensation paid the same.

§ 7. Duty of attorney general. The attorney general shall be the legal adviser of the department in all matters relating to the department and to the powers and duties of its officers. Upon request of the director, the attorney general, or under his direction, the district attorney of any county in which the action is brought, shall aid in any investigation, hearing, prosecution or trial had under the laws which the director is required to administer, and shall institute and prosecute all necessary actions or proceedings for the enforcement of such laws and for the punishment of all violations thereof. The sheriffs and constables in the several counties shall execute all lawful orders of the director in such counties.

§ 8. Powers of existing boards, etc., transferred. Offices abolished. The director of the department of agriculture shall succeed to and is hereby vested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of the state commissioner of horticulture, of the state board of horticultural examiners, of the state dairy bureau, of the state veterinarian, of the stallion registration board, of the state board of viticultural commissioners, of the board of citrus fruit shipments, of the cattle protection board and of the several officers of such bodies and offices; and whenever by the provisions of any statute or law now in force or that may hereafter be enacted as a duty or jurisdiction is imposed or authority conferred upon any of said bodies, offices or officers, such duty, jurisdiction and authority are hereby imposed upon and transferred to the director of the department of agriculture the same as though the title of the director of the department of agriculture had been specifically set forth and named therein. Said bodies, offices and officers whose duties, powers, purposes and responsibilities are so transferred to and vested in the director of the department of agriculture, are and each of them is hereby abolished and shall have no further legal existence, but the statutes and laws under which they existed and all laws prescribing their duties, powers, purposes and responsibilities and jurisdiction together with all lawful rules and regulations established thereunder, are hereby expressly continued in force. The department of agriculture shall also succeed to and be in control of all records, books, papers, offices, equipment, supplies, moneys, funds, appropriations, land and other property, real or personal, now or hereafter held for the benefit or use of said bodies, offices and officers.

§ 9. Laws to be enforced. Powers transferred to director. The director of the department of agriculture is hereby vested with the power and is charged with the duty of administering and enforcing the following laws:

An act to regulate the sale of commercial fertilizers or materials used for manurial purposes, and to provide penalties for the infractions thereof, and means for the enforcement of the act, approved March 20, 1903, and all acts amending or supplementing said act.

An act to prevent the propagation by the production of seed of that certain plant known as Sorghum halepense, otherwise known as Johnson grass, approved March 20, 1903, and all acts amending or supplementing said act.

An act to regulate the manufacture, sale, adulteration and misbranding of insecticides or fungicides or materials used for insecticidal or fungicidal purposes and to provide penalties for the infraction thereof and to appropriate money therefor, approved May 1, 1911, and all acts amending or supplementing said act.

An act to regulate the production of certified milk, cream, ice-cream, butter and cheese; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the production of certified milk," approved March 18, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, approved April 25, 1913, and all acts amending or supplementing said act.

An act prohibiting the destruction of foodstuffs, food products or food articles, approved June 5, 1913, and all acts amending or supplementing said act.

Wherever in any of the statutes enumerated in this section or in any of the statutes amending or supplementing the same, a duty or jurisdiction is imposed or authority conferred upon any state board, commission, office or officer to administer the provisions of any of said statutes, such duty, jurisdiction and authority are hereby imposed upon and transferred to the director of the department of agriculture and the officers thereof with the same force and effect as if the name of the director of the department of agriculture occurred in the statute in each instance in lieu of the name of any board, commission, office or officer, or in lieu of the name of any member, deputy, assistant or employee thereof, as the case may be.

§ 10. Authority to spend money on hand. From and after the date upon which this act takes effect, the director shall be and is hereby authorized and empowered to expend the moneys in any appropriation or in any special fund in the state treasury now remaining or made available by law for the administration of the provisions of any of the statutes enumerated in section nine hereof or for the use, support, or maintenance of any board, commission, office or officer that is abolished by the provisions hereof and whose duties, powers and functions are, by the provisions of this act, transferred to and conferred upon the department of agriculture. Such expenditures by the director shall be made in accordance with law in carrying on the work for which such appropriations were made or such special funds created.

An act appropriating money for co-operation with the United States government under the provisions of an act of congress of the United States entitled "An act to provide for the co-operative agricultural extension work between the agricultural colleges in the several states receiving the benefits of the act of congress approved July 2, 1862, and of acts supplementary thereto and the United States department of agriculture," approved by the President of the United States May 18, 1914.

§ 1. Appropriation. Agricultural extension work. The sum of one hundred four thousand eight hundred fifty-six dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in agricultural extension work in co-operation with the United States government under the provisions of an act of congress of the United States entitled: "An act to provide for the co-operative agricultural extension work between the agricultural colleges in the several states receiving the benefits of the act of congress approved July 2, 1862, and of acts supplementary thereto and the United States department of agriculture," approved by the President of the United States May 18, 1914.

TITLE 12.

ALAMEDA CITY.

ACT 86.

An act granting to the city of Alameda the salt marsh, tide and submerged lands of the state of California, including the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of Alameda, and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

Amended 1917, p. 907.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Alameda. Conditions of grant. There is hereby granted to the city of Alameda, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to the salt marsh, tide and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, warehouses, factories, storehouses, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion, benefit and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, except as herein authorized, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and this grant, for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, and on such other terms and conditions as said city may determine, including a right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases, and said lease or leases may be for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with navigation or commerce, with reversion to the said city on the termination of such lease or leases of any and all improvements thereon, and on such other terms and conditions as the said city may determine, but for no purpose which will interfere with navigation or commerce; subject also to a reservation in all such leases or such wharfing out privileges of a street, or of such other reservation as the said city may determine for sewer outlets, and for gas and oil mains, and for hydrants, and for electric cables and wires, and for such other conduits for municipal purposes, and for such public and municipal purposes and uses as may be deemed necessary by the said city, upon compensation being made for the injury and damage done to any improvement or structure thereon.

Provided, further, that in the granting of any and all such leases the city council shall, whenever in its judgment it can reasonably do so, give preference to the owners of upland abutting on the salt marsh, tide or submerged land proposed to be leased; provided, however, that the said city of Alameda may grant, give, convey and alien such lands or any portion thereof, forever to the United States for public purposes of the United States; provided, however, that no such grant shall be made unless authorized and approved by a vote of the majority of the electors of such municipal corporation voting up on the proposition of making such grant at an election therein, at which such proposition shall have been submitted.

This grant shall carry the right to such city of the rents, issues and profits in any manner hereafter arising from the lands or wharfing out privileges hereby granted.

The state of California shall have, at all times, the right, together with the city if there be no lessee or licensee, or together with the lessee or licensee, if there be a lessee or licensee, to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays constructed on said lands or any part thereof, except wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays or other improvements constructed on such lands by the United States for public purposes of the United States, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

No discrimination in rates, tolls or charges for use or in facilities for any use or service in connection with wharves, docks, piers, slips or quays or property operated by the city, or property leased, the use of which is dedicated by the lessee or licensee for a public use, shall ever be made, authorized or permitted.

There is hereby reserved in the people of the state of California the right to fish in the waters on which said lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose, such enjoyment of access and right to fish to be regulated by ordinance of the city of Alameda, so as not to interfere, obstruct, retard or limit the right of navigation or the rights of lessees or licensees under lease or license given.

All leases and licenses granted by ordinance of the city of Alameda prior to the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and the terms and conditions expressed therein are affirmed. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 907.]

§ 2. Expenditures required. Section two of said act, approved June 11, 1913, is hereby repealed. [Approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 909.]

TITLE 13.

ALAMEDA COUNTY.

ACT 96b.

An act to increase the number of judges of the superior court of the county of Alameda, and for the appointment of such additional judges.

§ 1. Judges increased in Alameda county. The number of judges of the superior court in the county of Alameda, state of California, is hereby increased from six to eight.

§ 2. Appointment. Election. Within thirty days after this act becomes a law the governor shall appoint two additional judges of the superior court in the county of Alameda, state of California, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, A. D. 1919. At the next general election, to be held in November, A. D. 1918, two additional judges of said superior court shall be elected in the said county, who shall be the successors to the judges appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law.

§ 3. Salary. The salary of such additional judges shall be the same in amount and be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of the other judges of the superior court of said county now authorized by law.

TITLE 15a.

ALBANY.

ACT 118.

An act granting certain tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California to the city of Albany, and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to city of Albany. There is hereby granted to the city of Albany, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, which are included within the present boundaries of the city of Albany, to be forever held by said city and by its successors in trust for the use and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Conditions of grant. That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city or its successors shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm or corporation, for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city or its successors may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for the purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Same. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

(c) Same. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors.

(d) Same. There is hereby reserved, however, in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in all the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said land for said purpose.

TITLE 25.

ANIMALS.

An act to create a cattle protection board, to define its powers and duties, to protect the breeders and growers of cattle from theft, to provide for the registration of cattle brands and the licensing of cattle slaughterers and sellers of the meat thereof, to provide for the inspection of cattle and cattle hides for brands and marks, to provide for the collection of license and inspection fees, to provide for the creation of a fund to be known as the cattle protection fund, and to provide penalties for violation of the provisions hereof.

§ 1. Cattle protection board created. Term. Appointees. Cattle protection fund. Duty of board. That there be and is hereby created a cattle protection board, to be appointed by the governor of the state of California, which shall consist of three members, two of whom shall be identified with and experienced in the cattle industry of the state of California and the other shall be the state veterinarian. Said board shall elect one of their number chairman. The members of said board shall each receive ten dollars per day for the time by him necessarily employed in discharging the duties required in this chapter; provided, however, that in no one year shall the board be in session more than sixty days, except upon the call of the governor.

The members of said board shall hold office during the pleasure of the governor. Said board is hereby authorized to appoint a secretary, counsel, inspectors, and such clerks as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and fix the salaries of said appointees. Such per diem and expenses of said members of the cattle protection board, as well as the salaries and expenses of all appointees of said board, including all other additional expenses incurred by enforcement of this act as hereinafter provided, shall be paid out of the cattle protection fund which fund is hereafter provided.

Said board is hereby authorized, and it is made its duty, to exercise a general supervision over, and protect the cattle of this state from theft and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the purposes and intent of this act.

§ 2. Cattle brands. Record. Districts. Every person owning cattle in this state except as hereinafter provided may adopt a brand with which to brand his cattle; provided, such brand be not similar to the brand heretofore adopted by any other person, except by special permit issued by the cattle protection board. Said board shall cause said brands to be recorded in books kept for that purpose. The recording of a brand shall consist of depicting in the brand book a facsimile of the design of the brand adopted, together with an entry in said book bearing a statement of the name, residence, and postoffice address of the person adopting the same, the date the brand was presented for record, the place upon the animal where the brand is proposed to be used, the number of the district and a statement of the location of the range whereon such animals are to range. Before any such record shall be made, proof shall be made that the person applying to have such brand recorded is the owner thereof and entitled to use the same.

The said board may divide the state into a number of districts. Such districts may be changed from time to time, so that all of the persons engaged in raising cattle within the state of California may adopt and record a brand, without requiring that any one brand shall be adopted or recorded in any two contiguous districts; provided, however, that where cattle in two or more contiguous districts are owned by one person, said person shall have the right to the use of said brand in contiguous districts.

§ 3. Fees. Forfeiture. The sum of two dollars shall be paid to said board for the recordation of any brand; for the right to the continued use of said brand, under the provisions of this act, the owner thereof shall before the first day of January of each year after its recordation transmit to the board the sum of one and one-half dollars. A failure to make such payment shall forfeit the right to use said brand.

When the right to any brand recorded hereunder shall have become forfeited, said brand shall not be recorded by any other person until after the expiration of one year from the date of the forfeiture thereof.

§ 4. Unrecorded brand. No person shall brand any cattle in this state with a brand that has not been recorded under the provisions of this act, nor use any device to obliterate a brand.

§ 5. Sale of range cattle. Upon the sale or transfer of any range cattle in this state, the actual delivery of such animal shall be accompanied by a written bill of sale, giving the number, kind and marks and brands of each animal, which bill of sale shall be signed by the party giving the same and acknowledged by him before two subscribing witnesses who have been freeholders of the county for at least two years.

§ 6. Not applicable to registered, etc., cattle. It is hereby expressly provided that the provisions in this act shall not apply to registered purebred cattle or purebred cattle which can be identified as being entitled to registration, or to the dressed carcasses of veal with unmarked or unbranded hides thereon, or cows actually used for dairy purposes.

§ 7. License to slaughter cattle. Bond. Annual fee. Monthly report to board. Forfeiture of license on failure to make statement. It shall be unlawful for any person to slaughter any cattle or offer for sale, barter or exchange the meat thereof, unless he shall have a license therefor issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, except as herein otherwise provided.

Every person slaughtering cattle as a business shall do so in a designated slaughter-house, and before he shall begin the business of slaughtering cattle or selling the meat thereof, he shall first procure from the board a license to carry on such business, under the conditions and upon the payment of the fees herein provided for. After procuring such license and before engaging in such business he shall execute a bond to the state of California, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) to be approved by the secretary of the board, conditioned that such person shall not slaughter, sell or expose for sale any cattle or the meat thereof, without first being the legal and equitable owner thereof, or being authorized to so slaughter, sell or expose for sale such animal, or the meat thereof, by such owner, and that in case he shall violate any of the provisions hereof, he shall pay therefor double the value of such animal. The amount so recovered shall be paid as follows: One-half to the owner of such animal and the remaining one-half to the cattle protection fund.

Said board shall grant to every applicant therefor, who complies with all the provisions of this act a license to slaughter cattle and sell the meat thereof for the unexpired portion of the calendar year in which said license is granted. Every applicant for such a license shall pay to said board the following annual fee which shall be paid in advance: For applicants who slaughter less than ten head per month, one dollar per annum. For applicants who slaughter more than ten head and less than fifty head per month, ten dollars per annum. For applicants who slaughter more than fifty head per month, twenty-five dollars per annum. For a shorter term than one year a proportionate part of said fee shall be paid. The applicant for such license shall state in his application where his slaughter-house is located, and during the term of such license he shall not slaughter any cattle at any other place than that specified in his license. If the holder of a license desires to change the location of his slaughter-house, he shall apply to said board to have such license transferred and the board may reissue such license without any additional fee.

Every holder of such a license shall, at the expiration of each calendar month, make a written report and send the same by registered mail to said board. Such report shall include the following:

(a) The number and sex of the cattle slaughtered in such establishment during the calendar month just past.

(b) The names and addresses of persons from whom said cattle were purchased or otherwise obtained.

(c) The brands and marks on said cattle.

(d) The dates on which said cattle were purchased or otherwise obtained and the dates on which said cattle were slaughtered.

Said statement shall be signed by such licensee or his duly authorized agent. Upon failure or neglect of said licensee or his duly authorized agent for a period of fifteen days to file such a statement in the manner as herein provided, the said board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to forfeit the license of such licensee; and thereafter it shall be unlawful for the owner of said slaughtering establishment, or for any other person to slaughter any cattle in said establishment until a new application is made by him to said board, accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars; provided, however, that said board shall have the power and it shall be its duty to refuse to renew the license of any slaughterer who has knowingly slaughtered cattle without the consent of the owner thereof.

§ 8. Record by butcher of meat purchased. Slaughter by ranchman for own consumption. Every peddler, butcher or retailer of meats, purchasing the meat of any bovine animal, must enter in a book to be kept for that purpose and exhibit the same on demand, the name of the person from whom said meat was purchased or otherwise obtained, the date of said purchase and the quantity so purchased.

It shall be unlawful for any peddler or retailer of meat, or person in control of any butcher-shop, to purchase the meat of any slaughtered bovine animal from any person not known to him to be licensed under the provisions of this act.

Any person who fails on demand to inform any officer of this state where and from whom he has obtained any meat of any bovine animal that he has in his possession, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit an owner of property, or a ranchman located on a definite property as a tenant, lessee or purchaser under contract, from slaughtering cattle in small numbers on said premises for his own consumption, and nothing herein shall be so construed as to prohibit such ranchman from selling or giving away a portion thereof; provided, that such person shall not be required to take out a license.

§ 9. Hides retained. Record of cattle slaughtered. The hides of all such cattle slaughtered by the owner thereof, or removed from any cattle which have died from any cause, shall be retained in the possession of the owner where the same may be inspected, with the brands attached thereto, and without any alteration or disfiguration thereof, for a period of at least fifteen days after the death of said cattle, or until said hides are inspected.

Every ranchman, who so slaughters cattle on such premises, shall keep a record in a book to be kept for that purpose of all the cattle so slaughtered by him, with a description thereof, including all the marks and brands of such slaughtered cattle, the date of slaughter, and shall at the end of each month, make a true and correct copy of such record and send the same by registered mail to the office of the cattle protection board, and shall likewise exhibit the said record on demand of any officer of this state.

§ 10. No cattle slaughtered until inspected. No cattle except cattle shipped for slaughter and which have been inspected as herein provided prior to shipment, shall be slaughtered until they shall have been first inspected and certified to as being the property of the person slaughtering same or causing same to be slaughtered or being duly authorized by the owner thereof to slaughter said cattle; provided, that, any person licensed hereunder to slaughter cattle after twenty-four hours' notice in writing, addressed to the local inspector demanding his presence at a specified time and place for the purpose of inspecting such cattle for slaughtering, may, without the certificate of inspection of said inspector slaughter said cattle, providing he makes a written statement designating the general description of the animal or animals slaughtered, such as the age, color, weight, etc., and specifying in detail the earmarks and brands of such animal or animals; and provides, further, that he retain the hides of such animal or animals for at least fifteen days thereafter as hereinbefore provided.

§ 11. Certificate of brand, etc., before shipment. It shall be unlawful for any common carrier to receive any cattle, or the hides of any cattle, for transportation to points within or without this state until such carrier shall have been furnished with duplicate certificates signed by an inspector, showing, in the case of cattle, the brands and earmarks of such cattle, the number of cattle of each earmark and brand, the names of shipper and consignee and also the origin and destination of said cattle. In the case of cattle hides, the certificates shall state the number of hides, the names of shipper and consignee and also the origin and destination of said hides. One copy of said certificates shall be mailed forthwith by the agent or other person in control of the common carrier at the point at which said cattle are received for shipment, to the consignee.

§ 12. Inspection of cattle to be shipped. It shall be the duty of inspectors to inspect all cattle for marks and brands which are offered for transportation to any common carrier at the loading stations thereof.

If upon such inspection cattle shall be found not belonging to the shipper, all such cattle shall be taken by the inspector and dealt with in accordance with the rules of the board in such cases made.

Inspectors must inspect all cattle subject to inspection immediately, and when inspected, the one in charge thereof shall at once pay to the inspector therefor the sum of five cents per head, whereupon the inspector shall certify that said cattle have been inspected.

§ 13. Volumes for recordation of marks and brands. It shall be the duty of the said board to prepare volumes for the recordation of said marks and brands, and to keep a true record of all its official transactions. When cattle or the hides thereof have been shipped or slaughtered, each record thereof must be entered under the name of the owner of said mark or brand, and must be entered in such a manner as to disclose under the record of each particular mark or brand, the number of cattle bearing any other marks or brands. An index shall be kept of unrecorded brands, as well as of those that have been recorded under the provisions hereof.

§ 15. Report of fees by secretary. The secretary of the cattle protection board, at least as often as once each month, shall report to the state controller the total amount of fees collected, and at the same time he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of such receipts. All such receipts shall be credited to the cattle protection fund, which fund is hereby created, and shall be held subject to the uses of the cattle protection board, as defined in this act.

§ 16. "Range." "Person." "Cattle." The term "range" for the purpose of the interpretation and application of this act shall be understood to mean the inclosed or uninclosed lands outside of cities, towns and villages in this state, whether of the public domain or in private ownership, upon which by custom, license or otherwise, cattle are kept or permitted to roam and feed.

The term "person" wherever used includes every person, persons, firm, association or corporation.

The term "cattle" wherever used includes every kind of animal of the bovine species.

§ 17. Penalty. Any person violating any provisions of this act shall, unless otherwise specifically designated herein, be guilty of a misdemeanor.

ACT 196b.

An act providing for the control and the destruction of predatory animals, vesting in the state commissioner of horticulture the administration of the provisions hereof, and defining his powers and duties in relation thereto.

§ 1. Control of predatory animals. The state commissioner of horticulture is hereby directed to investigate reports of the depredations occasioned by predatory animals, to assist in instituting control measures in localities where depredations are known to be serious and co-operate with county board of supervisors. He may co-operate with the bureau of biological survey of the United States department of agriculture, and may enter into contracts with said bureau, determining the method of such co-operation, establishing uniform control methods, and governing the supervision of all persons employed in such work.

§ 2. Predatory animal fund. The state commissioner of horticulture is hereby authorized to accept on behalf of the state donations of money from individuals, associations, corporations, county boards of supervisors, and other agencies interested in the control of coyotes and other harmful predatory animals, all such moneys to be paid into the state treasury and credited to the predatory animal fund which is hereby created to be expended only in the control of coyotes and other harmful predatory animals in accordance with the terms and conditions fixed by the state commissioner of horticulture acting by and through the rodent control division of his office. Moneys thus made available by any county board of supervisors shall be expended solely within the boundaries of the county making the appropriation, unless otherwise authorized by the supervisors of that county.

§ 3. Study and report on control measures. The state commissioner of horticulture is hereby directed to investigate and make a study of control measures and of existing laws of this and other states providing for the control and destruction of predatory animals, and to prepare a report, accompanied by a draft of such legislative measures as he may recommend to the legislature for adoption. Such report shall be printed by the superintendent of state printing, and shall be submitted to the governor on or before the first day of November in the year 1920, and shall be presented by him to the legislature at the opening of the forty-fourth session.

An act to prevent trespass upon real estate by livestock.

§ 1. Trespass by livestock. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to herd or graze any livestock upon the lands of another in the counties of Plumas, Lassen and Modoc without having first obtained the consent of the owner or owners of the land so to do; provided, that the person claiming to be the owner of said lands has the legal title thereto, or an application to possess the same, with first payment made thereon.

§ 2. Damages. The livestock which is herded or grazed upon the lands of another, contrary to the provisions of the first section of this act, shall be liable for all damages done by said livestock while being unlawfully herded or grazed on the lands of another, as aforesaid, together with costs of suit, and said livestock may be seized and held by a writ of attachment issued in the same manner provided by the general laws of the state of California, as security for the payment of any judgment which may be recovered by the owner or owners of said lands for damages incurred by reason of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, and the claim and lien of a judgment or attachment in such case shall be superior to any claim or demand which arose subsequent to the commencement of this action.

§ 3. Exception. This act shall not apply to any livestock running at large on the ranges or commons.

ACT 196d.

An act to regulate the herding and grazing of the livestock of nonresidents and foreign corporations upon uninclosed land in the state of California and providing a penalty for any violation of any of the provisions of this act.

§ 1. Nonresidents must have license for herding and grazing of livestock. Exemptions. It shall be unlawful for any person or for any corporation who or which does not have his or its principal home ranch and livestock headquarters in the state of California, except as herein provided, to herd or graze, or to cause to be herded or grazed, upon any uninclosed lands in the state of California any sheep or bovine cattle without having first obtained from the tax collector of the county in which such herding or grazing or some portion thereof is done, a valid license authorizing such herding and grazing in the state of California. Such license shall be issued by said tax collector to and in the name of such person or corporation upon compliance by him or it with the provisions of section two of this act, and shall be valid only for the calendar year in which it is dated; provided, that any person or any corporation which does not have its principal home ranch and livestock headquarters in the state of California, owning or leasing land in the state of California, shall be exempt from any license or the payment of any license for five head of sheep for each acre so owned or leased, and three head of bovine cattle for each acre so owned or leased.

§ 2. Affidavit of applicant for license. As conditions precedent to the issuance of said license, the applicant therefor shall:

1. File with said tax collector an affidavit which shall explicitly and truly state the following facts:

(a) If the applicant is a nonresident person, his name and place of residence; or, if the applicant is a corporation, its name, the state under whose laws it is incorporated, the date of its incorporation, its principal place of business, and the names and addresses of its officers;

(b) The location of his or its principal home ranch and livestock headquarters;

(c) The number of acres of land owned or leased in the state of California, together with a description thereof.

2. Pay to the said tax collector the sum of fifty cents a head for each of the sheep, and the sum of two dollars a head for each of the bovine cattle proposed to be herded or grazed in the state of California, after deducting the number of sheep and cattle as exempted from the payment of said tax.

§ 3. Number of animals that may be grazed or herded. No such person or corporation shall herd, graze, or cause to be herded or grazed upon any uninclosed land in any county in California any greater number of livestock than that for which he or it has previously obtained such license, and which is exempted under the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Disposal of license fees. The tax collector collecting such license moneys shall be allowed to retain for his own compensation and in addition to his salary or other fees now provided by law six per centum of the said license moneys by him collected, and shall quarterly pay the remainder of such moneys into the general county road fund.

§ 5. Penalty. Any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, and shall be prohibited from herding, grazing, or causing to be herded or grazed any livestock in the state of California until such fine is paid.

§ 6. When act shall become void. If any law passed at the present session of the legislature in any of the states bordering on California, similar to this bill affecting the citizens and corporations of the state of California, shall be declared unconstitutional and invalid by a court of last resort in any of said states, then this act shall immediately become inoperative and void.

TITLE 30.

APPROPRIATIONS.

ACT 217.

An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the state of California for the seventy-first and seventy-second fiscal years.

This act contained the following provisions (p. 1329 et seq.):

§ 2. Expenditures for printing, etc. The various sums herein appropriated for printing, binding, ruling, materials and all other work provided for by law to be done in the state printing office shall be expended only upon requisitions to be approved by the state board of control, and said board is authorized and given power to reduce the amount of such requisitions either in whole or in any item thereof. When any state publication is printed and paid for out of any appropriation in this act, the disposition of the same shall be subject to the provisions of section two thousand two hundred ninety-five a of the Political Code of the state of California. The sums that are herein appropriated for expenses of the senate and assembly shall be disbursed under the direction of the bodies to which they respectively belong, and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of section six hundred seventy-two of the Political Code; provided, that the state controller shall not be required to draw any warrants until the original claims and vouchers, itemized and properly sworn to, are filed with him. The sums herein appropriated for the expenses of the national guard shall be audited by the adjutant-general, as required by sections two thousand eighty-three and two thousand eighty-five of the Political Code. Not more than five hundred dollars of the money hereby appropriated for the support of the institutions of the state shall be used in each fiscal year for permanent improvements, but shall be used solely for the payment of salaries and traveling expenses of the commissioners or directors having charge of the same (when such salaries or expenses are allowed by law), the salaries of employees, the purchase of material and supplies for the use of said institutions, and for such incidental and current expenses as may be necessarily incurred for the proper management and support of said institutions.

§ 3. Biennial statement of state officers. Original bills required. Revolving fund. All persons having demands against the state, and various state officers, and the officers of all institutions under the control of the state, except the governor, to whom and for which appropriations other than salaries are made under the provisions of this act, shall, with their biennial report, submit a detailed statement, under oath, of the manner in which all appropriations for their respective departments and institutions have been expended, and the state board of control, is hereby expressly prohibited from allowing any demand payable out of any such appropriations until the same are presented in itemized form, accompanied by affidavit and voucher for money expended by them, stating specifically the service rendered, by whom performed, time employed, distance traveled, and necessary expenses thereof; if for articles purchased, the name of each article, together with the price paid for each and of whom purchased, with the date of the purchase; provided, that in instances where the duties of any state officer or board make necessary the use of moneys for purposes of a confidential nature, the board of control may audit claims for such expense without requiring itemization or vouchers; but such claims must be accompanied by a statement of the facts surrounding the expenditure, which statement must be filed in the office of the board of control; provided, further, that the total amount so allowed for such confidential purposes from the moneys herein appropriated shall not exceed in any one fiscal year the sum of two thousand dollars. All bills and vouchers, which shall be presented for supplies furnished or services rendered, shall be original bills and vouchers of the parties furnishing supplies and rendering services; provided, that no officer shall use or appropriate any money, appropriated by this act, for any purpose whatsoever, unless authorized thereto by law; and provided, that any officer, board, commission or department for whom any appropriation is made herein, may, with the permission of the board of control, and without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, draw from such appropriation, a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars for any such officer, board, commission or department. The sum so drawn shall be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary, and at the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon the demand of the board of control, must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and the controller.

§ 4. Amounts expendable monthly. Not more than one twenty-fourth of the amount appropriated under this act for each department or institution for the two years ending June 30, 1921, shall be expended during any one month without the consent of the state board of control, and not more than one-half of such appropriation shall be expended during the seventy-first fiscal year, unless the same has been expressly authorized by this act.

§ 5. Expenditures forbidden. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act are expressly forbidden to make any expenditure in excess of such appropriations, except the unanimous consent of the state board of control be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by every member of said board, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by said act and on such terms and conditions as said city may determine and specify, subject to the right of said city to terminate said lease at the end of the first twenty-five years or refuse to renew the same, or to terminate the lease so renewed during the term of such renewed lease on such just and reasonable terms for compensation for improvements at the then value of said improvements as said city may determine and specify.

Upon obtaining such lease and wharfing out privileges such person, firm or corporation, their heirs or assigns, shall quitclaim to said city any right they or any of them may claim or have to the said lands hereby granted.

This grant shall carry the right to such city of the rents, issues and profits in any manner hereafter arising from the lands or wharfing out privileges hereby granted.

The state of California shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad owned or operated by the state of California.

No discrimination in rates, tolls or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors in the management, conduct or operation of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in this section.

There is hereby reserved in the people of the state of California the right to fish in the waters on which said lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose.

TITLE 38.

ASEXUALIZATION.

ACT 248.

An act to provide for the asexualization of inmates of state hospitals for the insane, the Sonoma State Home, of convicts in the state prisons, and of idiots, and repealing an act entitled "An act to permit asexualization of inmates of the state hospitals and the California Home for the Care and Training of Feeble-minded Children and of convicts in the state prisons," approved April 26, 1909.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 571.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Asexualization of inmates of hospitals for insane before release. Before any person who has been lawfully committed to any state hospital for the insane, or who has been an inmate of the Sonoma State Home, and who is afflicted with mental disease which may have been inherited and is likely to be transmitted to descendants, the various grades of feeble-mindedness, those suffering from perversion or marked departures from normal mentality or from disease of a syphilitic nature, shall be released or discharged therefrom, the state commission in lunacy may in its discretion, after a careful investigation of all the circumstances of the case, cause such person to be asexualized, and such asexualization whether with or without the consent of the patient shall be lawful and shall not render the said commission, its members or any person participating in the operation liable either civilly or criminally.

TITLE 47.

BANKS AND BANKING.

ACT 297.

An act to define and regulate the business of banking.

Amended 1911, pp. 7, 958, 1003, 1008; 1911 (Ex. Sess.), pp. 2, 115; 1913, pp. 136, 335; 1915, pp. 297, 1104, 1138, 1139; 1917, pp. 586, 598, 622; 1919, pp. 186, 622.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 5. "Commercial bank." May act as insurance agent in cities of less than five thousand. The term "commercial bank," when used in this act, means any bank authorized by law to receive deposits of money, deal in commercial paper or to make loans thereon, and to lend money on real or personal property, and to discount bills, notes or other commercial paper, and to buy and sell and advertise for purchase or sale such securities as are permissible for investment by commercial banks, gold and silver bullion, or foreign coins or bills of exchange; provided, any commercial bank located and doing business in any place the population of which does not exceed five thousand persons, as shown by the last preceding federal census, or any subsequent census compiled and certified under any law of this state, may, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the superintendent of banks, act as the agent for any fire, life, or other insurance company authorized by the authorities of the state of California to do business in this state, by soliciting and selling insurance and collecting premiums on policies issued by such company; and may receive for services so rendered such fees or commissions as may be agreed upon between the said bank and the insurance company for which it may act as agent; provided, however, that no such bank shall in any case assume or guarantee the payment of any premium on insurance policies issued through its agency by its principal; and provided, further, that said bank shall not guarantee the truth of any statement made by an assured in filing his application for insurance. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 622.]

§ 7. Foreign corporations. Capital and deposits kept separate. Loans. Income as profits. Attorney. Service of process. Trust company as executor. Branch office prohibited. May lend money. No foreign corporation shall transact a banking business in this state without first complying with all the requirements of the laws of this state relative to banks as defined in this act, and without having assigned to its business in this state the amount of paid-up capital and surplus required by this act for the transaction of such business within this state. No foreign banking corporation shall transact business in this state until such corporation has made the assignment of capital required by this section and has received a certificate from the superintendent of banks; provided, that a foreign banking corporation shall not be permitted to accept deposits of money in this state but may receive a certificate from the superintendent of banks to transact in this state only the business of buying or selling, paying or collecting bills of exchange, or of issuing letters of credit or of receiving money for transmission or transmitting the same by draft, check, cable or otherwise, or of making loans; and provided, further, that those foreign banking corporations that now have power to do a banking business in this state and which now receive deposits of money shall be permitted to continue to accept money on deposit. Any foreign banking corporation transacting business in this state shall become subject to the supervision of the state superintendent of banks. Every foreign banking corporation, including those which were on January second, nineteen hundred thirteen, transacting business in this state, which receives any deposits or transacts any other banking business or transacts its business in such a manner as might lead the public to believe that its business is that of a bank shall conduct all its business in accordance with the statutes governing incorporated banking institutions organized under the laws of this state. The capital of any such foreign banking corporation assigned to its business in this state and all funds and deposits of money received by any such corporation in this state or for or in connection with its business in this state and all accounts and transactions of said business transacted by any such foreign corporation in this state shall be kept separate and apart from the general business, assets and accounts of such foreign corporation in the same manner as if the business of such foreign corporation conducted within this state was that of a separate and independent corporation organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of doing a banking business and all of the provisions of this act affecting investments, loans of money, receiving deposits and conducting business in any respect shall be deemed to apply to such assigned capital, investments, loans, deposits, assets, funds and business in the same manner as if such assigned capital, investments, loans, deposits, assets, funds and business were that of such separate and independent corporation; provided, that loans may be made by any such foreign corporation based on its entire paid-up capital and surplus in case such foreign corporation shall have assigned to its business in this state a paid-up capital and surplus as above provided equal to twenty per centum of the deposit liability of such branch agency or office to residents of this state. Such funds and investments or loans thereof shall be appropriated solely to the security and payment of such deposits, and shall not be mingled with the investments of the capital stock or other money or property belonging to such corporation or be liable for the debts or obligations thereof. All income received from the investment of said funds over and above such funds as may be paid to depositors as interest or shall be carried to the surplus fund, as provided in section twenty-one of this act, shall accrue as profits to the corporation and may be transferred to its general funds. No such foreign corporation shall transact any banking business in this state until it has executed and filed with the superintendent of banks a written instrument appointing such superintendent his successor in office, its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all process issued by authority of or under any law of this state may be served, with the same effect as if such corporation was formed under the laws of this state and had been lawfully served with process therein. Such service upon such attorney shall be deemed personal service on such corporation. The superintendent of banks shall forthwith forward by mail, postage prepaid, a copy of every process served upon him under the provisions of this section, addressed to the manager or agent of such corporation, at its principal place of business in this state. For each copy of process, the superintendent of banks shall collect the sum of two dollars, which shall be paid by the plaintiff or moving party at the time of the service, to be recovered by him as a part of his taxable costs if he succeed in the suit or proceeding. No foreign corporation shall have or exercise in this state the power to receive deposits of trust moneys, securities or other personal property from any person or corporation or any of the powers specified in section six of this act, nor have or maintain an office in this state for the transaction of, or transact, directly or indirectly, any such or similar business, except that a trust company incorporated in another state may have or exercise in this state such powers as are permitted to foreign corporations by the provisions of section ninety of this act and may be appointed and may accept appointment and may act in this state as executor of or trustee under the last will and testament of any deceased person, upon giving the bond required in such cases of individuals unless waived by the last will and testament making such appointment and by taking and subscribing an oath for faithful performance of such trust by the president, vice-president, secretary, manager or trust officer of said corporation; provided, that such superintendent of banks, for the time being, shall be attorney of such foreign corporation qualifying or acting in this state as such executor or trustee, upon whom process against such foreign corporation may be served in any action or legal proceeding against such executor or trustee affecting or relating to the estate or property represented or held by such executor or trustee, or any act or default of such foreign corporation in reference to such estate or property, and it shall be the duty of any such foreign corporation so qualifying or acting to file in the office of said superintendent of banks a copy of its articles of incorporation, or of the statute chartering such corporation, certified by its secretary under its corporate seal, together with the postoffice address of its home office, and a duly executed appointment of said superintendent of banks as its attorney to accept service of process as above provided, and said superintendent of banks, when any such process is served upon him, shall at once mail the papers so served to the home office of such corporation; and provided, further, that no foreign corporation which may have or exercise in this state such powers as are permitted to foreign corporations by the provisions of section ninety of this act or having authority to act as executor of or trustee under the last will and testament of any deceased person shall establish or maintain, directly or indirectly, any branch office or agency in this state, or shall in any way solicit, directly or indirectly, any business as executor or trustee therein, and that for any violation of this proviso, the court having jurisdiction of such executor or trustee in said proceeding may in its discretion, revoke the right of such foreign corporation thereafter to act as executor or trustee therein; provided, that nothing in this act shall limit or affect the right of any foreign corporation doing a banking business in this state, to lend within this state, moneys of such corporation which do not form a part of the moneys, deposits or assets of such corporation assigned or belonging to its business in this state.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit foreign banking corporations, which do not maintain an office in this state for the transaction of business, from making loans in this state secured by mortgages on real property, nor from accepting assignments of mortgages covering real property situated in this state, nor from making loans through correspondents which are engaged in the business of banking in this state under the laws of this state. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 598.]

§ 8. Copy of articles of incorporation. Every corporation, at the time it applies for a certificate of authority to do a banking business, must file with the superintendent of banks a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of the statute chartering such corporation, a certified copy of its by-laws, and also a certified copy of all instruments amending or altering such articles of incorporation or charter or by-laws. Thereafter a certified copy of each amendment or certificate designed to increase or decrease the capital stock, to change the number of directors, to amend the articles of incorporation, to change the principal place of business, or the name of such corporation, or to effect any other organic change shall likewise be so filed before such instrument takes effect. Each certification required by the provisions of this section other than that of by-laws must be by the secretary of state. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 623.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 601.

§ 9. Approval for opening branch office. Capital. Discontinuance. Certificate of authority. Fee. Savings banks in schools. Penalty. No bank in this state, or any officer or director thereof, shall hereafter open or keep an office other than its principal place of business, without first having obtained the written approval of the superintendent of banks to the opening of such branch office, which written approval may be given or withheld in his discretion, and shall not be given by him until he has ascertained to his satisfaction that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the opening of such branch office; provided, that no bank or any officer or director thereof, shall open or maintain any such branch office unless the capital of such bank, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act by the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for each branch office opened and maintained in the place where its principal business is transacted; and provided, that for each branch office opened or maintained by any bank, other than a bank transacting only the business described in section six of this act, in any place in this state other than the place where the principal business of such bank is transacted, the capital of such bank, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act in the sum required by this act for every bank hereafter organized in the place where each branch office is to be opened or maintained, exclusive of the capital required for a trust department; and provided, also, that for each branch office opened or maintained by any corporation which has power to transact only such business as is described in section six of this act or in section four hundred fifty-three of the Civil Code, in any place in this state other than the place where the principal business of such corporation is transacted, the capital of such corporation, actually paid in, in cash, shall exceed the amount required by this act in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars; and provided, further, that no branch office may be discontinued without the previous written approval of the superintendent of banks.

Every bank, before it opens a branch office, shall obtain the certificate of authority of the superintendent of banks for the opening of each of said branch offices. The applicant shall pay for such certificate a fee of fifty dollars; provided, however, that, in order to encourage saving among the children of the schools of this state, a bank may, with the written consent of and under regulations approved by the superintendent of banks and, in the case of public schools, by the board of education or board of school trustees of the city or district in which the school is situated, arrange for the collection of savings from the school children by the principal or teachers of such schools or by collectors. The principal, teacher or person authorized by the bank to make collections from the school children shall be deemed to be the agent of the bank and the bank shall be liable to the pupil for all deposits made with such principal, teacher or other person, the same as if the deposits were made by the pupil directly with the bank. Every bank and every such officer or director violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the people of the state the sum of one hundred dollars for every day during which any branch office hereafter opened shall be maintained without such written approval. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 601.]

§ 10. Qualifications for bank director. Bank without capital stock. No person shall be eligible for election as director of a bank having a capital stock unless he is a stockholder of the bank, owning, in his own right, shares thereof of the par value of at least five hundred dollars; and every person elected to be director who, after such election, shall cease to be the owner in his own right of the amount of such stock aforesaid, or shall hypothecate or in any way pledge such stock as security for any loan or debt shall immediately notify the superintendent of banks in writing of such sale or hypothecation and such director may be removed from the office of director by the superintendent of banks; provided, however, that any executor or executrix, administrator or administratrix holding shares of a bank of the par value of five hundred dollars, in his or her representative capacity shall be eligible for election as a director thereof. If a bank be organized without capital stock, no person shall be eligible as a director thereof unless he is both a member and a depositor of such bank. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 602.]

§ 12c. Foreign corporations may lend money in state. Representative. License. Fee. Any corporation organized under the laws of any country or state other than this state which has complied with all of the laws of this state pertaining to foreign corporations and is not engaged in the business of banking or receiving money on deposit in this state may lend money or buy and sell bonds in this state and, for that purpose, may maintain offices in this state, and sue and be sued in this state under its proper corporate name, notwithstanding any prohibitions contained in this act as to the use of any words in the name, signs or advertising matter of corporations not under the supervision of the superintendent of banks; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit any representative of any foreign banking corporation from maintaining an office in this state as the office of a representative and not the place of business of a bank or trust company, nor to prohibit such representative from making use of any office sign at the place where such representative's office is maintained having thereon words indicating that such office is the place of business of a representative of a foreign bank or trust company; and provided, further, that any representative of a foreign bank maintaining an office within this state may make use of such foreign bank's letterheads, circulars and other printed matter in the transaction of business as such representative; and provided, further, every representative of any foreign bank or trust company before opening an office as a representative shall have received a license from the superintendent of banks to open such representative's office. Such license may be issued upon application to the superintendent of banks and the payment of an annual license fee of fifty dollars and may be refused or revoked by the superintendent of banks at his discretion. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 603.]

§ 13. Corporation forbidden to engage in banking. Express companies, etc., may transmit money. No corporation, domestic or foreign, other than a corporation formed under or subject to the banking laws of this state or of the United States, except as permitted by such laws, or other than an express company as hereinafter defined in this section, shall by any implication or construction be deemed to possess the power of carrying on the business of discounting bills, notes or other evidences of debt, of receiving deposits, of buying and selling bills of exchange, or of issuing bills, notes or other evidences of debt for circulation as money, or of engaging in any other form of banking; nor shall any such corporation, except an express company having contracts with railroad companies for the operation of an express service upon the lines of such railroad companies, or a transatlantic steamship company, or a transpacific steamship company, or a telegraph company, or a telephone company, possess the power of receiving money for transmission or of transmitting the same, by draft, traveler's check, money order or otherwise. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 603.]

§ 19. Capital and deposit liabilities. The aggregate of paid-up capital together with the surplus, of every commercial bank, must equal ten per centum of its deposit liabilities. The aggregate of paid-up capital and surplus of every savings bank having a capital stock, and the reserve fund of every savings bank without a capital stock, must equal the following percentages of its deposit liabilities:

(a) Ten per centum of any amount up to and including two million dollars.

(b) Seven and one-half per centum of any amount in excess of two million dollars up to and including five million dollars.

(c) Five per centum of any amount in excess of five million dollars up to and including fifteen million dollars.

(d) Two and one-half per centum of any amount in excess of fifteen million dollars up to and including forty million dollars.

(e) One per centum of any amount in excess of forty million dollars.

The deposits shall not be increased if such proportion of paid-up capital and surplus or reserve fund to deposit liabilities is not maintained, and in no event shall said paid-up capital be less than the minimum paid-up capital provided by this act; provided, that such deposit liabilities shall be exclusive of United States and postal savings deposits and deposits of the state of California and of any county and municipality in the state of California which are secured as required by law. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 623.]

§ 20. Total reserves of commercial banks. If member of federal reserve bank. Penalty for not maintaining reserves. Reserve deposits. Restoration of reserves. Every commercial bank shall maintain total reserves against its aggregate deposits, exclusive of United States and postal savings deposits and deposits of the state of California and of any county and municipality in the state of California, which are secured as required by law, as follows:

1. Eighteen per centum of such deposits if such bank has its principal place of business in a city having a population of one hundred thousand or over.

2. Fifteen per centum of such deposits, if such bank is located in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand.

3. Twelve per centum of such deposits if such bank is located elsewhere in the state.

At least one-half of the total reserves shall be maintained as reserves on hand and shall consist of gold bullion or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States, and the remainder of the total reserves required by the provisions of this section shall be maintained as reserves on deposit or as reserves on hand; such reserves on hand to consist of gold bullion or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States; provided, however, that all or any part of the reserves may be deposited, subject to call, with a federal reserve bank in the district in which such bank is located.

If any bank shall have become a member of a federal reserve bank, it shall comply with the reserve requirements of the federal reserve act and its amendments, and its compliance therewith shall be in lieu of, and shall relieve such bank from compliance with, the provisions of this section.

If any bank shall not maintain the total reserves required the superintendent of banks may impose a penalty upon it, based upon the length of time such encroachment upon its total reserves amounting to one per centum or more of its aggregate deposits shall continue, at the following rates:

1. At the rate of six per centum per annum upon any such encroachment not exceeding two per centum of such deposits.

2. At the rate of eight per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of two and not exceeding three per centum of such deposits.

3. At the rate of ten per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of three and not exceeding four per centum of such deposits.

4. At the rate of twelve per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of four per centum of such deposits.

The superintendent of banks shall, in his discretion, upon the nomination of any bank, designate a depository or depositaries for the reserves on deposit of such bank provided for by this act. Except as otherwise provided in this section, such depository shall be a bank or national banking association located in this state. Every reserve depository, which has its principal place of business in a judicial township or in a city located in this state in which the population is less than fifty thousand, shall have at all times as its total reserves an amount equal to the total reserves required by the provisions of this section for every bank which has its principal place of business in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand. But no bank or national banking association shall hereafter be designated as a depository of any such reserves unless it shall have a combined capital and surplus of not less than the following amounts:

1. Two hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of three hundred thousand or over;

2. Two hundred thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of one hundred thousand or over and less than three hundred thousand;

3. One hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand;

4. One hundred thousand dollars, if located elsewhere in the state.

Such depository may also be a banking corporation with a capital and surplus of one million dollars or more, located in any city in the United States.

If the total reserves of any bank shall be less than the amount required by this section, such bank shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts, otherwise than by discounting bills of exchange on sight, or by paying any dividends from profits until the full amount of its total reserves has been restored. The superintendent of banks may notify any bank whose total reserves shall be below the amount herein required, to restore such total reserves; and, if it shall fail for thirty days thereafter to restore such total reserves, such bank shall be deemed insolvent and may be proceeded against under the provisions of this act; provided, that all deposits of money herein permitted or required shall comply with the provisions of section forty-three of this act.

The term, "reserves on hand," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits kept, pursuant to the provisions of this act, in the vault of any bank or in any safety deposit box in any other bank in this state, said box to be under the exclusive control of the depositing bank.

The term, "reserves on deposit," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits maintained by any bank pursuant to this act in reserve depositories, or in a federal reserve bank in the district in which such bank is located and not in excess of the amount authorized by this act.

The term, "total reserves," when used in this act, means the aggregate of reserves on hand and reserves on deposit maintained pursuant to the provisions of this act.

The term, "reserve depository," when used in this act, means a bank, trust company or banking corporation designated by the superintendent of banks on the nomination of the depositing bank as a depository for reserves on deposit. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 623.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 604.

§ 21a. Preference to depositors. No bank, banker, or bank officer, shall give preference to any depositor or creditor except as otherwise authorized by law; provided, that any commercial bank or commercial department of a departmental bank, is authorized and empowered for temporary purposes, to borrow money, or to borrow money and pledge or hypothecate as collateral security therefor, its assets not exceeding fifty per centum in excess of the amount borrowed, but only to the extent and upon terms and conditions as follows:

(1) Terms and conditions on which bank may borrow money. Any amount up to, but not exceeding the amount of its capital and surplus, without consent of the superintendent of banks; provided, however, that any amount borrowed, except as otherwise provided in this section, in excess of the amount of its capital and surplus, at such time actually paid in and remaining undiminished by losses or otherwise, must first be approved in writing by the superintendent of banks; provided, also, that no excess loan made to any such bank shall be invalid or illegal as to the lender, even though made without the consent of the superintendent of banks; provided, also, that the rediscounting with or without guarantee or indorsement with a federal reserve bank, of notes, drafts, bills of exchange and loans secured by obligations of the United States, is hereby authorized and shall not be limited by the terms of this act, and shall not be considered as borrowed money within the meaning of this section.

(2) Any amount of California, state, county, city, city and county funds, or any other public money, in the manner it is or may be authorized by law to borrow and receive such public money on deposit without the approval of the superintendent of banks.

(3) Any amount of the United States moneys and postal savings moneys of the United States, and receive such moneys on deposit, and pledge or hypothecate such of its securities and upon such terms as may be required by the laws of the United States or the rules and regulations of the secretary of the treasury of the United States, without the approval of the superintendent of banks.

(4) Any amount, in addition to the amounts authorized to be borrowed in this section, for the purpose of buying from the United States, United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or notes or obligations of the United States.

(5) To rediscount with and sell to a federal reserve bank any and all such notes, drafts, bills of exchange, acceptances and any other securities, with no other restrictions, and as fully, and to the same extent as this privilege is given to national bank members under the terms of the federal reserve act, or by regulations of the federal reserve board made pursuant thereto.

(6) No bank shall make partial payments upon any certificate of deposit.

(7) In no case shall an overdraft of more than ninety days' standing be allowed as an asset of any bank.

(8) Any debt due to any commercial bank, on which interest is past due and unpaid for the period of one year, unless the same is well secured, and is in process of collection, shall be considered a bad debt and shall be charged off to the profit and loss account at the expiration of that time. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 626.]

§ 28. Signs must show kind of bank. "Branch." Every bank in this state must, on all its window signs and in advertising, and on letter-heads and other stationery on which its business is transacted, use the word "savings" if it conducts a savings business, or the word "trust" if it conducts a trust business, and the word "commercial" if it conducts a commercial business. Every bank, which maintains a branch office, must on all window signs and in advertising, and on letter-heads and other stationery on which the business of said branch office is transacted, use in letters and type, equal in prominence to that used in its corporate name, the word "branch" and the name of the place where its principal business is located. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 606.]

§ 31a. Consolidation of banks. Ratification by stockholders. Notice. Publication. Articles of incorporation and consolidation. Certificate of authorization. Obligations not impaired. Right to increase stock. Any bank incorporated under the laws of this state may consolidate with one or more banks incorporated under the laws of this state, its capital stock, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, obligations, debts, liabilities and assets of every kind and description, upon such terms and in such manner as may be agreed upon by their respective boards of directors, a copy of which agreement must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks; provided, that such agreement shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent of banks and shall not be valid until such approval be obtained; provided, further, that no such consolidation shall take effect until such agreement shall have been ratified and confirmed in writing by the stockholders of the respective banks holding of record at least two-thirds of the issued capital stock of their respective banks, or such agreement may be submitted to the stockholders of each of such corporations at a meeting thereof to be called upon notice specifying the time, place and object thereof, addressed to each stockholder at his last known postoffice address and deposited in the postoffice, postage prepaid, at least two weeks prior to the date fixed for said meeting, and published for at least two successive weeks, prior to the date of said meeting, in a newspaper in each of the counties of the state in which any of such banks shall have its principal place of business, and if such agreement shall be approved at each of such meetings of the respective stockholders separately by the vote or ballot of the stockholders owning at least two-thirds of the stock of each such bank, the same shall be the agreement of such banks. In case of such consolidation "articles of incorporation and consolidation" must be prepared, setting forth:

First—The name of the new corporation;

Second—The purpose for which it is formed;

Third—The place where its principal business is to be transacted;

Fourth—The term for which it is to exist, which shall not exceed fifty years;

Fifth—The number of its directors (which shall not be less than three) and the names and residences of the persons appointed to act as such until their successors are elected and qualified;

Sixth—The amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided;

Seventh—The amount of stock actually subscribed, and by whom;

Eighth—The names of the constituent corporations.

Said articles of incorporation and consolidation must be signed and countersigned by the president and secretary of each constituent corporation and sealed with their corporate seals. There must be annexed thereto the approval of the superintendent of banks and memoranda of the ratification and confirmation thereof by the stockholders of each constituent corporation, which must be respectively signed and acknowledged by stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the capital stock of their respective corporations. When completed as aforesaid said articles must be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which is located the principal place of business of the new corporation, and a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation certified by such county clerk must be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who must issue, over the great seal of the state, a certificate that a copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation containing the required statement of facts has been filed in his office. The secretary of state must file in his office a duplicate of the certificate hereinbefore provided for and copies thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state, shall have the same force and effect in evidence as the original. A copy of the articles of incorporation and consolidation, certified by said secretary of state, must be filed in the office of the superintendent of banks, and also in the office of the county clerk of any county in which were filed the original articles of incorporation of either of the constituent corporations. When the superintendent of banks issues the certificate of authorization provided for by section one hundred twenty-eight of this act the new or consolidated corporation shall be a body politic and corporate by the name stated in the certificate, and for the term of fifty years, unless it is, in the articles of incorporation and consolidation, otherwise stated and thereupon each constituent corporation named in the articles of incorporation and consolidation must be deemed and held to have become extinct in all courts and places, and said new corporation must be deemed and held in all courts and places to have succeeded to all their several capital stocks, properties, trusts, claims, demands, contracts, agreements, assets, choses and rights in action of every kind and description, both at law and in equity, and to be entitled to possess, enjoy, and enforce the same and every thereof, as fully and completely as either and every of its constituents might have done had no consolidation taken place. Said consolidated or new corporation must also, in all courts and places, be deemed and held to have become subrogated to its several constituents and each thereof, in respect to all their contracts and agreements with other parties, and all their debts, obligations, and liabilities, of every kind and nature, to any persons, corporations, or bodies politic, whomsoever, or whatsoever, and said new corporation must sue and be sued in its own name in any and every case in which any or either of its constituents might have sued or might have been sued at law or in equity had no such consolidation been made. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to impair the obligation of any contract to whom any of such constituents were parties at the date of such consolidation. All such contracts may be enforced by action or suit, as the case may be, against the consolidated corporation, and satisfaction obtained out of the property which, at the date of the consolidation, belonged to the constituent which was a party to the contract in action or suit, as well as out of any other property belonging to the consolidated corporation, and the stockholders of each constituent corporation so entering into such agreement shall continue subject to all the liabilities, claims and demands existing against them at or before such consolidation to the same extent as if the same had not been made. The right of said new corporation to increase or decrease its capital stock, to change the number of its directors, to amend its articles of incorporation, to change its principal place of business, or its name, or to effect any other organic change shall be governed by the general corporation laws of this state and by the bank act, and the procedure to effect any such change shall be that defined by the general corporation laws and the bank act.

The superintendent of banks shall transmit to the secretary of state a duplicate of the certificate of authorization hereinbefore referred to and the secretary of state shall file the same in his office. The superintendent of banks shall also file a duplicate of such certificate in his own office. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 606.]

§ 35. Consent to purchase certain contracts. No bank shall purchase any contract arising from the sale of real estate or any note or bond in which contract, or note, or bond any director, officer, employee, or controlling stockholder of such bank is personally or financially interested, directly or indirectly, for his own account, for himself, or as the partner or agent of others, without the previous consent in writing of the superintendent of banks. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 37. Investment in capital stock of corporations. Stock of trust company. Stock of safe deposit corporation. No bank shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, purchase or invest its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, or any part of either, in the capital stock of any corporation unless the purchase or acquisition of such capital stock shall be necessary to prevent loss to the bank on an obligation owned or on a debt previously contracted in good faith. Any capital stock so purchased or acquired shall be sold by such bank within six months thereafter if it can be sold for the amount of the claim of such bank against it; and all capital stock thus purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by said bank within three years after such purchase or acquisition unless the superintendent of banks shall extend the time of its sale for a period not to exceed two years.

Any bank, with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, may purchase or otherwise acquire and hold the whole or any part of the capital stock of not more than one trust company organized and existing under the laws of this state, and doing business in the same city in which the principal place of business of such bank is located; provided, however, that not more than an amount equal to twenty-five per centum of the capital and surplus of any such bank may be at any one time invested in the capital stock of such trust company or such other corporation; and provided, further, that no such trust company shall engage in or combine the business of a commercial bank or a savings bank or a title insurance company.

Any bank, with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, may purchase or otherwise acquire and hold, the whole or any part of the capital stock of not more than one corporation authorized and empowered to conduct a safe deposit business, which such corporation is organized and existing under the laws of this state and doing business in the same city in which the principal place of business of such bank is located; provided, however, that not more than an amount equal to ten per centum of the capital and surplus of any such bank may be at any one time invested in the capital stock of such safe deposit corporation. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 627.]

§ 41. Consent for officer to purchase assets at discount. No officer, director, agent, or other employee of any bank shall directly or indirectly, for his own personal benefit, purchase, or be interested in the purchase of any of such bank's obligations or assets for a less sum than shall appear upon the face of any such obligations or assets to be the value thereof except with the previous consent of all the directors of said bank, such consent to be evidenced by a resolution adopted by said directors. A certified copy of said resolution shall immediately be transmitted to the superintendent of banks. Every person violating any provision of this section, shall for each offense forfeit to the people of the state, twice the face value of any such obligations or assets so purchased. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 43. Deposit of funds in another bank. No bank shall deposit any of its funds in any other bank, except a federal reserve bank, unless such other bank has been nominated as a depository for its funds by the vote of a majority of the directors or trustees of the bank making the deposit, and such other bank has been designated by the superintendent of banks as such depository.

The superintendent of banks may in his discretion revoke such a designation. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 627.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 609.

§ 45. Interest unpaid. Interest unpaid, although due or accrued, on debts owing to any bank, shall not be included in calculation of its profits previous to a dividend; nor shall any bank, except with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, enter or at any time carry on its books any of its assets at a valuation exceeding its actual cost to such bank. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 609.]

§ 48a. National banking association under federal reserve act. Charge by state banking department for services. Any national banking association, whose principal place of business is in this state, is hereby authorized to act in fiduciary capacities in all respects as provided by the acts of congress, approved December 23, 1913, and amendments thereof, commonly known as the federal reserve act, and all acts herein provided to be performed by the state treasurer, the superintendent of banks or other public officials for or in respect of trust companies, shall be performed for such national banking association equally with trust companies. Every such national banking association which shall be authorized to exercise said fiduciary powers, and which has qualified by making the deposit of securities required by the law of this state, may act, or may be appointed by any court to act in any such capacity in like manner as an individual. The superintendent of banks shall inspect and examine the books, records and assets of the trust department of each national banking association which conducts a trust department in this state to the same extent that the said superintendent of banks exercises visitorial supervision over trust companies organized and existing under the laws of this state.

The charge by the state banking department for all services rendered to any national banking association by the superintendent of banks, in accordance with the provisions of this section, shall be paid by the national banking association requiring such services. Such charge for services shall be determined by the superintendent of banks, and shall be no higher than the charge for a similar service to trust companies organized under the laws of this state.

The cost of all regular and ordinary service shall be calculated upon the amount of the securities deposited by each such national bank with the treasurer of the state for the due execution and faithful performance of its court and private trusts at the same ratio as is applied to the capital and surplus of trust companies organized under the laws of this state in determining the cost to them for such services.

The cost of all special and extraordinary services shall be the same as that provided for in section one hundred twenty-four of this act. [New section added May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 628.]

§ 54. Real estate to be sold within five years. Appraisal of value. Notice of sale. Minimum price. Fees. Costs. All real estate purchased by any bank at sales under pledges, mortgages or deeds of trust for its benefit for money loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon and all other real estate owned or held by it, which is not necessary for carrying on its business, must be sold or exchanged for other real estate by such bank within five years after title thereto shall have vested in it by purchase or otherwise; provided, however, that no exchange of such real estate for other real estate shall be made unless and until written consent thereto shall first be given by the superintendent of banks; and provided, further, that any real estate so taken in exchange may be held for such period of time as the superintendent of banks may fix but not to exceed five years. Parcels of such real estate not sold or exchanged within said time may be purchased by any person wanting the same upon the conditions and proceedings following: The intending purchaser may file a petition in the superior court in and for the county wherein said real estate or any portion thereof is situated; upon the filing of such petition a citation shall be issued out of said court directed to the bank owning such real estate requiring such bank to show cause on a day certain which shall be not earlier than ten days after the service of such citation, why commissioners should not be appointed by said court for the purpose of appraising the value of the real estate described in the petition and of selling the same at public auction under the provisions of this section. If there shall be any liens or encumbrances of record against such real estate the person or persons holding such liens or encumbrances shall likewise be cited and the court shall in its final decree distribute the proceeds of such sale, if a sale thereof shall be made, according to the equities of the parties. If it shall appear at the hearing of such petition that the real estate therein sought to be purchased is held by such bank in violation of the provisions of this section or of the constitution of this state, the court shall appoint three commissioners to appraise the value thereof and sell the same at public auction at the county seat of the county wherein said real estate or any part thereof is located. Notice of which said sale shall be given to the bank owning said real estate and to any other persons interested therein as shown by the records of such county at least ten days before the date of such sale and shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where such real estate or any part thereof may be located, or if no newspaper shall be published in such county then in a newspaper published in some neighboring county. Such notice shall state the time and place of such sale and shall describe the real estate to be sold with common certainty and state the value thereof as fixed by the appraisement of such commissioners and state that no bid less than such appraised value will be received therefor. No sale shall be made for an amount less than the appraised value of such real estate fixed by said commissioners, and in the event that no bid is received at such sale at least equal to said appraised value of said real estate no intending purchaser can institute the proceedings provided for in this section within one year thereafter. In case of any sale made under the provisions of this section and of the refusal of any bank owning such real estate or of any lienholder or encumbrancer to execute the conveyances or releases necessary or proper to vest the title of such bank, lienholder or encumbrancer in the purchaser thereof the court shall have power in such proceedings to direct said commissioner to execute such deeds, conveyances or releases upon the payment to them of the purchase price therefor. The fees of such commissioners and cost of sale shall be fixed by the court, upon making such appointment, but the entire expense thereof shall not exceed one hundred dollars. The cost of any such proceedings shall be borne by the intending purchaser if no sale shall be made, but if a sale shall be made the cost of such proceedings shall be borne by the purchaser of the property and the person who filed the petition and advanced the costs of such proceedings shall be reimbursed in case he shall not become such purchaser. All sales hereunder shall be returned to the court having jurisdiction of the matter in the same manner as in the case of sales, by commissioners, of real estate on foreclosure of mortgages. Nothing in this section contained shall be deemed to affect the power of the superintendent of banks to require the writing down of the value of real estate held by any bank, at any time, when such writing down shall be proper. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 622.]

§ 56. Authority to become member of federal reserve bank. Powers. Subject to federal reserve examinations. Any bank is hereby authorized and empowered to become a member of a federal reserve bank.

Nothing in this act shall prohibit any such bank from becoming a member of a federal reserve bank, in the manner provided in the federal reserve act, nor from investing any part of its capital or surplus or reserve fund in the capital stock of such federal reserve bank, in accordance with the terms and provisions of such federal reserve act; provided, that such investment shall in no case exceed the minimum amount required to join or associate itself with or maintain membership in such federal reserve bank; provided, also, that such investment may be carried in either the commercial, savings, or trust department, or may be apportioned to any two or all three of such departments of any departmental state bank member.

Any bank joining or associating itself with such federal reserve bank shall have and exercise all powers, not in conflict with the laws of this state, which are conferred upon any member bank in any such federal reserve bank, by the provisions of the federal reserve act and the regulations of the federal reserve board. Such member bank and its directors, officers and stockholders shall continue to be subject, however, to all liabilities and duties imposed upon them by the bank act and by any other law of this state.

Any bank which shall have become a member of a federal reserve bank shall be subject to the examinations required under the terms of the federal reserve act, and the superintendent of banks may, in his discretion, accept such examination in lieu of the examination required under the provisions of this act, and he, his agents and employees, may furnish to the federal reserve board, the federal reserve bank, or to examiners duly appointed by the federal reserve board or the federal reserve bank, copies of all examinations made, and may disclose to such federal reserve board, federal reserve bank, or examiner, any information with reference to the condition or affairs of state bank members. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 628.]

§ 56a. Bank converting into national banking association. Nothing in this act shall prevent or prohibit any bank from converting into a national banking association under the provisions of section five thousand one hundred fifty-four of the United States Revised Statutes, or section eight of the Federal Reserve Act, or any other federal or state law; provided, however, that no savings bank and no departmental bank having a savings department, organized and existing under the laws of the state of California, shall convert into a national banking association except upon the following conditions:

1. Notice of intention. Coincident with its application to the controller of the currency, any such savings or departmental bank shall file with the superintendent of banks formal notice of intention to convert into a national banking association.

2. Notice of conversion. Prior to conversion, any such savings or departmental bank shall place in the hands of the superintendent of banks—

(a) A constructive notice for newspaper advertisement, directed to its savings depositors, of the fact of conversion;

(b) Actual notice addressed to each and every savings depositor, at his or her last known address, inclosed in stamped and addressed envelopes ready for mailing, this notice to be as follows:

"You are hereby notified that the undersigned, formerly the —, now the —, has converted from a banking corporation existing under the laws of California into a national banking association; and has therefore ceased to be under the jurisdiction and direction of the California state banking department and the bank act of California, and is now under the jurisdiction and control of the federal reserve act and the national act." No other matter may be inclosed with this notice unless by permission of the superintendent of banks.

3. Surrender of state license. Upon conversion said bank shall file with the superintendent of banks a copy of its authorization as a national banking association, certified by the controller of the currency; and shall surrender to the superintendent of banks its license as a state banking corporation.

4. Advertisement of conversion. Immediately following the conversion of a state bank, the superintendent of banks shall cause the publication of the notice provided in subdivision (a) of paragraph two of this section; same to be at least once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in every town where said bank transacts its business and if there be no such paper in any such town or towns, then in the county where such bank transacts its business, and the superintendent of banks shall cause to be mailed the notices provided in subdivision (b) of paragraph two of this section. The advertisement shall be at the expense of the converting bank, prepaid to the department. [New section added May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 629.]

§ 58. Application for permission to engage in foreign banking. Information regarding foreign branches. Regulation by superintendent. Any bank possessing a capital and surplus of one million dollars or more may file application with the superintendent of banks for permission to exercise, upon such conditions and under such regulations as he may prescribe, either or both of the following powers:

First—To establish branches in foreign countries or in dependencies or insular possessions of the United States for the furtherance of the foreign commerce of this state and of the United States.

Second—To invest an amount not exceeding in the aggregate ten per centum of its paid-in capital stock and surplus in the stock of one or more banks or corporations chartered or incorporated under the laws of the state of California, and principally engaged in international or foreign banking or banking in a dependency or insular possession of the United States either directly or through the agency, ownership or control of local institutions in foreign countries, or in such dependencies or insular possessions.

Such application shall specify the name and capital of the bank filing it, the powers applied for and the place or places where the banking operations proposed are to be carried on. The superintendent of banks shall have power to approve or to reject such application in whole or in part if for any reason the granting of such application is deemed inexpedient, and shall also have power from time to time to increase or decrease the number of places where such banking operations may be carried on.

Every bank operating foreign branches shall be required to furnish information concerning the condition of such branches to the superintendent of banks upon demand, and every bank investing in the capital stock of banks or corporations described under subparagraph two of the first paragraph of this section shall be required to furnish information concerning the condition of such banks or corporations to the superintendent of banks upon demand, and the superintendent of banks may order special examinations of the said branches, banks or corporations at such time or times as he may deem best. The cost of such special examinations shall be paid by said branches, banks or corporations.

Before any bank shall be permitted to purchase stock in any such corporation the said corporation shall enter into an agreement or undertaking with the superintendent of banks to restrict its operations or conduct its business in such manner or under such limitations and restrictions as the said superintendent of banks may prescribe for the place or places wherein such business is to be conducted. If at any time the superintendent of banks shall ascertain that the regulations by him are not being complied with, said superintendent of banks shall be authorized and shall have power to institute an investigation of the matter and to send for persons and papers, subpoena witnesses and administer oaths in order to satisfy himself as to the actual nature of the transactions referred to. Should such investigation result in establishing the failure of the corporation in question, or of the bank or banks which may be stockholders therein, to comply with the regulations laid down by the said superintendent of banks, such banks may be required to dispose of stock holdings in the said corporation upon thirty days' notice, and in the event of their noncompliance with such order the superintendent of banks may institute proceedings for forfeiture of license.

Every such bank shall conduct the accounts of each foreign branch independently of the accounts of other foreign branches established by it and of its home office, and shall at the end of each fiscal period transfer to its general ledger the profit or loss accruing to each branch as a separate item. [New section added May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 630.]

§ 61. Purchase of real or personal property by savings banks. Limitations on purchase of personal property. Purchase of bonds. Any savings bank may purchase, hold and convey real or personal property as follows:

1. The lot and building in which the business of the bank is carried on; furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business; such lot and building, furniture and fixtures, vaults and safe deposit vaults and boxes shall not, in the aggregate, be carried on the books of such bank as an asset to an amount exceeding its paid-up capital and surplus; and hereafter, the authority of a two-thirds vote of all of the directors shall be necessary to authorize the purchase of such lot and building, or the construction of such building.

2. Such as may have been mortgaged, pledged or conveyed to it in trust for its benefit in good faith, for money loaned in pursuance of the regular business of the corporation.

3. Such as may have been purchased at any sales under pledge, mortgage or deed of trust made for its benefit for money so loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon.

No savings bank shall purchase, own, or sell personal property, except such as may be requisite for its immediate accommodation for the convenient transaction of its business, notes or bonds secured by trust deeds or mortgages on real estate, bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness, public or private, gold or silver bullion and United States mint certificates of ascertained value, and evidences of debt issued by the United States. No savings bank shall purchase, own, hold or convey bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness, public or private, except as follows:

(a) United States bonds. Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those issued under authority of the United States;

(aa) Foreign bonds. Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of England or the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, or France, or the Dominion of Canada, or those for which the faith and credit of any one or more of said countries are pledged for the payment of principal and interest; or bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of any other foreign country or government, which bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations shall have first been approved by the superintendent of banks in writing;

(b) State of California bonds. Bonds of this state, or those for which the faith and credit of the state of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those of any county, city and county, city or school district of this state;

(c) State bonds. Bonds or stocks or notes of any state in the United States that has not, within five years previous to making such investment by such banks, defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest, or those of any county, city and county, city or town, in any state of the United States other than the state of California, issued under authority of any law of such state, which county, city and county, city or town, had, as shown by the federal or state census next preceding such investment, a population of more than twenty thousand inhabitants; provided, however, that the entire bonded indebtedness of such county, city and county, city or town, including such issue of bonds or stocks or notes, does not exceed fifteen per centum of the value of the taxable property therein as shown by its last equalized assessment-roll; and provided, further, that such county, city and county, city or town, or the state in which it is located has not defaulted in payment of any part of either principal or interest due upon any legally authorized bond or stock or note issue within five years next preceding such investment;

(d) District bonds. Bonds of any district organized under the laws of the state of California which are required to be and are investigated any railroad corporation incorporated under the alifornia and operating exclusively therein; provided, that such corporation has had net earnings for the period herein fixed not less than one and one-fourth times the interest on all its outstanding indebtedness; or, any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the United States, operating at least five hundred miles of track exclusive of sidings; provided, said corporation has had for the period herein fixed net earnings amounting to at least one and one-fourth times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage in-any railroad corporation, the payment of which has been guaranteed both as to principal and interest, by a railroad corporation meeting the requirements of either subdivision (1) or (2) of this section; provided, that such guaranteeing corporation has had for the period herein fixed net earnings amounting to not less than one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding indebtedness and, in addition thereto, sufficient, taken with the net earnings of all corporations whose bonds it has guaranteed, to qualify for investments for savings banks, as in this section provided, all bonds guaranteed; provided, that the excess of income of any corporation whose bonds have been so guaranteed, over the amount required by this section for such corporation, shall not apply to or be included in determining the income so required; provided, further, that the guarantee of such bonds hereafter guaranteed must establish a lien on the operating properties of the guaranteeing corporation, which lien must take precedence over any subsequent issues of mortgage obligations by said guaranteeing corporation.

In determining the income of any corporation specified in paragraph one of subdivision three of this section, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation or corporations, the entire business and income producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired.

All bonds authorized for investment by paragraph (f) of subdivision three of this section must be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust which is, at the time of making such investment, either

I. First mortgage. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or,

II. First mortgage. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

III. Refunding mortgage. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation, and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

IV. Trust deed on operative property. Guaranteed railroad bonds legal investments for savings banks. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes, and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, or, if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses cannot be definitely ascertained, on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, and taxes of the corporation then owning such property and on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust; provided, however, that if the payment of the bonds secured by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust shall be guaranteed or assumed by the corporation then owning the property securing the same, such bonds shall be legal investments for savings banks, if the net income of such corporation from all sources shall equal the amount herein required, notwithstanding any insufficiency of the income derived from the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust to meet the requirements of this section.

No savings bank shall purchase the bonds of any railroad corporation deriving less than twenty per centum of its gross receipts from passenger revenues.

The term, "railroad corporation," when used in paragraph (f) of subdivision three of this section, shall have the meaning defined in the "public utilities act."

Public utility bonds. Security. Bonds of any street railroad corporation of any gas; water; pipe-line; light; power; light and power; and power; electrical; telephone; telegraph; or telephone and corporation or of any other "public utility" incorporated under of the state of California; and operating exclusively in the state of California, provided said corporation has had, for the period herein fixed, net earnings amounting to one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or, operating its property in part within the state of California, and said corporation has had, for each of its two fiscal years next preceding such investment, net earnings amounting to one and one-half times the interest on all its outstanding mortgage indebtedness; or, payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a public utility corporation meeting the requirements of division (1) or (2) of paragraph (g) of this section, provided such guaranteeing corporation has had for the period respective subdivisions of this paragraph relating thereto, net earnings amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on said guaranteeing corporation's outstanding mortgage indebtedness; in addition thereto, sufficient, taken with the earnings of corporations whose bonds it has guaranteed, to qualify as investments in banks, as in this section provided, all such guaranteed bonds, provided, that the excess of income of any corporation whose bonds have been so guaranteed, over the amount required by this section for such corporation, shall not apply to or be included in determining the amount so required; provided, further, that the guarantee of such bonds hereafter guaranteed must establish a lien upon all the operating property of the guaranteeing corporation which lien must take precedence over any subsequent issues of mortgage obligations by said guaranteeing corporation.

In determining the income of any corporation specified in paragraph (g) subdivision three of this section, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation whose business and income producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired.

Bonds authorized for investment by paragraph (g) of subdivision three of this section must be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust as at the time of making such investment; either

First mortgage. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or,

First mortgage. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements specified in the respective subdivisions of this paragraph applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

Refunding mortgage. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements of such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

IV. Trust deed on operative property. Definitions. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust or, if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses cannot be definitely ascertained, on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes of the corporation then owning such property and on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust; provided, however, that if the payment of the bonds secured by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust shall be guaranteed or assumed by the corporation then owning the property securing the same, such bonds shall be legal investments for savings banks, if the net income of such corporation from all sources shall equal the amount herein required, notwithstanding any insufficiency of the income derived from the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust to meet the requirements of this section.

The terms "street railroad corporation," "pipe-line corporation," "gas corporation," "electrical corporation," "telephone corporation," "telegraph corporation," "water corporation," and "public utility," when used in paragraph (g) of subdivision three of this section, shall have the meaning defined in the "public utilities act."

(h) Notes secured by first mortgage. Market value of oil and timber land. Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or deed of trust or other first lien upon real estate, improved or unimproved; provided, that the entire note or bond issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of such real estate, or such real estate with improvements, taken as security; and provided, further, in case the said note or bond issue is created for a building loan on real estate, that at no time shall the entire outstanding note or bond issue exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate and the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security.

In determining the market value of any real estate under the provisions of paragraph (h), subdivision three of this section, where such real estate, improved or unimproved, consists of oil or other mineral or timber land, the value represented by such oil or other mineral or timber shall not be included in fixing such market value. Nothing herein contained shall prevent savings banks from making loans secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon lands wherein redwood timber is included in fixing the market value thereof.

(i) Collateral trust bonds. Collateral trust bonds or notes when secured by either:

(1) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section of a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; or,

(2) Deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value at least twenty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of said collateral trust bonds or notes shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by bonds authorized for investment by this section.

(3) Deposit of any notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value of at least thirty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of such collateral trust bonds or notes issued shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section; provided, further, that the collateral pledged consist of bonds authorized for investment by this section of the market value of at least seventy-five per centum of the par value of such collateral trust bonds or notes issued.

(j) Legal investment in New York and Massachusetts. Bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts; provided, however, that as to bonds of the character specified in paragraph (c) of subdivision three of this section, such bonds shall also conform to the requirements of such paragraph.

(k) Guaranteed payment. "Net earnings." Bonds, etc., certified by superintendent of banks. Legality of previous investments not affected. Investment value. Bonds of public utilities. State does not guarantee bonds. Advertisements of bonds as legal investments. Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, and mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company in accordance with the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code.

"Net earnings" as used in this section shall be deemed to mean the amount remaining after deducting from the gross earnings all taxes, maintenance charges and operating expenses except depreciation charges, sinking fund charges and interest on indebtedness.

Unless herein otherwise expressly provided the period for which any corporation must have "net earnings" sufficient to qualify its bonds as an investment for savings banks under this section shall be either the fiscal year of such corporation next preceding the investment therein by any savings bank or twelve consecutive months in the fourteen months next preceding such investment.

No notes, bonds, or other securities shall be deemed to come within or conform to the requirements of either of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision three of this section, unless such notes, bonds or other securities shall, in the manner provided in this act, have been certified by the superintendent of banks to come within and fully conform to the requirements of one or the other of said paragraphs; provided, however, that any bank may, without such certification by the superintendent of banks, purchase any note or bond or issue of notes or bonds provided for in said paragraph (h), whenever such purchase constitutes the entire amount of notes or bonds executed by the makers thereof and secured by the same real estate; provided, also, that no savings bank shall hold any such notes or bonds unless such holding constitutes the entire issue thereof at any time outstanding; and provided, also, that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to permit savings banks to invest in notes or certificates evidencing participation in any mortgage on real estate unless in this act specifically authorized or in or on any form of obligation secured by any undivided interest in real estate designed to distribute the obligation so secured.

The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this section, or of any law of this state as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by any amendments to this section or this act; nor shall any such amendments require the changing of investments once lawfully made under this act.

Any bonds authorized by this section as a legal investment for savings banks may be carried on the books of said bank at their investment value, based on their market value at the time they were originally bought, unless the superintendent of banks shall require any or all of the bonds which may thereafter have a market value less than the original investment value to be written down to such new market value which shall be done gradually if practicable and in such manner as he may determine; or he may, by a plan of amortization to be determined by him, require such gradual extinction of premium as will bring such bonds to par at maturity.

When it shall be necessary to prevent loss to any savings bank on an obligation owned or on a debt previously contracted in good faith, it may, with the previous written consent of the superintendent of banks, purchase or acquire bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the state of California and operated exclusively therein, notwithstanding such bonds do not conform to the requirements in this section contained; provided, any bonds so purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by any bank within five years after such purchase or acquisition.

No savings bank shall hereafter purchase or loan money upon any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any "public utility," subject to the jurisdiction, regulation or control of the railroad commission of this state under the provisions of the "public utilities act," approved December 23, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, unless each such bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness was either:

- (a) Issued prior to the taking effect of the "public utilities act"; or,
- (b) Issued under authority of the railroad commission, in accordance with the provisions of said act; or,
- (c) A note issued for a period not exceeding twelve months, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of section fifty-two of said act.

No provision of this act, and no act or deed, done or performed under or in connection therewith, and no finding made or certificate issued under any provision thereof, shall be held or construed to obligate the state of California to pay, or be liable for the payment of, or to guarantee in any manner whatsoever, the regularity or the validity of the issuance of any stock or bond certificate, or bond, note, or other evidence of indebtedness certified under any provision of this act, by the superintendent of banks.

It shall not be lawful for any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation to advertise by newspaper or circular or in any other manner that any securities are legal investments for savings banks in this state or to use any advertisement which might lead the public to believe that any securities conform to the requirements of law relating to investments by savings banks unless such securities are such as are specified in paragraphs (a), (aa), (b), (c), (d), (e), (j), or (k) of subdivision three of this section or shall, in the manner provided in this act, have been certified by the superintendent of banks to come within and fully conform to the requirements of one or the other of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision three of this section or unless such advertisement shall have been approved in writing by the superintendent of banks prior to publishing, circulating or otherwise issuing the same. Any individual, firm, association, bank, trust company, stock company, copartnership or corporation who shall advertise any securities in violation of the provisions of this paragraph shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 631.]

§ 61a. Superintendent of banks may investigate bonds. Opinions of attorneys. Certificates revoked. Renewal or extension of certificate. Expenses. The superintendent of banks shall have power, when any issue of bonds or securities is presented to him for that purpose, to investigate and ascertain whether such bonds or securities come within and fully conform to all the requirements of paragraphs (f), (g), (h), or (i) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act, or of either of said paragraphs. He may also investigate and ascertain for what period of time, and upon what conditions, any franchise granted to or held by any corporation issuing any such bonds or securities will remain in force, and any other facts or conditions bearing upon the value or sufficiency of such bonds. The superintendent of banks may accept and act upon the opinions and appraisements of any attorneys, engineers, or appraisers which may be presented by such person or corporation, so applying, and the reports of any of the executive officers of the corporation issuing such bonds or securities, on any question of fact concerning or affecting such bonds or securities, the security thereof, the franchise conditions herein mentioned, or the financial condition of the corporation issuing the same. In lieu of or in addition to such opinions, appraisements and reports, the superintendent of banks may, if he deems proper, have any or all such matters passed upon and certified to him by attorneys, engineers, appraisers or accountants of his own selection at the expense of the applicant. If the superintendent of banks shall find from such investigation that the bonds or securities so presented come within and fully conform to all the requirements of any of said paragraphs of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act, and is satisfied from such investigation as to such franchise conditions, he shall so certify unless for any reason he shall be of the opinion that such bonds are not a safe or proper investment for savings banks, and in such event or if such bonds shall fail to meet the requirements of this act such certificate must be refused. The superintendent of banks also shall have power to investigate and ascertain the status and sufficiency as investments for savings banks of any bonds specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act. If upon such investigation it shall be determined in the opinion of the superintendent of banks that any bond specified in said paragraph (e) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act, constitutes a proper investment for savings banks he shall so certify.

Any certificate issued by the superintendent of banks under authority of the provisions of this section may be revoked at any time in his discretion. Any certificate issued in relation to notes or bonds specified in paragraphs (f), (g) or (i) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act shall expire not later than three months after the end of the then current fiscal year of the corporation issuing such notes or bonds.

Any such certificate so expiring may be renewed or extended by the superintendent of banks without application therefor from such corporation or other interested parties if he shall be satisfied that the notes or bonds referred to in said certificate are in conformity with the then requirements of section sixty-one of this act.

The actual expense of investigating any issue of bonds or securities so presented shall be paid by the person, district or corporation presenting the same for investigation, and the superintendent of banks, before making such investigation, may require a cash deposit of such amount as he may deem necessary to cover such expense. The superintendent of banks shall keep an official list of all bonds and securities certified by him. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 641.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 594.

§ 62. Savings banks not to trade in real property. Drafts. Savings banks borrowing money. No savings banks shall, directly or indirectly, deal or trade in real or personal property in any other case or for any other purpose than is authorized by this act, and shall not contract any debt or liability for any purpose whatever other than for deposits, except as in this section provided.

Savings banks may pay regular depositors, when requested by them, by draft upon deposits to their credit with their banks, and charge current rate of exchange for such drafts.

No savings bank shall borrow money, or pledge or hypothecate any of its securities, except to meet the immediate demands of its own depositors, and then only in pursuance of a resolution adopted by a vote of a majority of its board of directors, duly entered upon their minutes, wherein shall be recorded the ayes and nays upon each vote; also with the written approval of the superintendent of banks, and he shall have the authority to fix the amount to be borrowed, the amount and character of the securities to be pledged or hypothecated, and the term and rate of interest thereon; provided, that any savings bank may, for the purpose of performing its functions and transacting its business as authorized by this act, rediscount, with or without guarantee or indorsement, with the federal reserve bank, its acceptances, notes or any other securities, available for rediscount with a federal reserve bank, in any amount up to but not exceeding its capital and surplus or reserve without consent of the superintendent of banks, and shall not be considered as borrowed money within the meaning of this section; provided, also, that savings banks may, in the manner authorized by law, and without the previous approval of the superintendent of banks, borrow the public moneys of the United States, the state of California, the counties, cities and counties, and towns of said state of California and receive such public moneys on deposit; provided, also, that savings banks may, in the manner authorized by law, and without the previous approval of the superintendent of banks, borrow postal savings moneys of the United States, and receive such postal savings moneys on deposit; and provided, further, savings banks may borrow any amount, in addition to the amounts authorized to be borrowed in this section, for the purpose of buying from the United States, United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or notes or obligations of the United States, but only in pursuance of a resolution of a majority of its board of directors, duly entered upon their minutes, and without the previous approval of the superintendent of banks, but the fact of such transaction shall forthwith be reported in writing to the superintendent of banks. No excess loan made to any savings bank with or without pledge of assets shall be invalid or illegal as to the lender. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 641.]

§ 65. No loan to director or officer. Record and report of loan. Loan to agent or employee. Record and report of. Not applicable to what corporations. Loans to director on security. No loan shall be made, for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any savings bank by such bank, or on the indorsement, surety or guaranty of any such officer or director, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such savings bank may own or hold a minority number of shares of stock, upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan; provided, also, that by and with the consent of the superintendent of banks previously obtained in writing, all directors may vote upon such a loan made by one bank to another bank where the entire capital stock of one is owned by or held in trust for the stockholders of the other bank and where all or a majority of the board of directors of each of said banks are composed of the same persons. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, officer, or director of the corporation to which such loan is made, the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. No loan may be made to any corporation, a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers of such savings bank, except with the previous consent of the superintendent of banks.

A loan may be made to any agent or employee, other than an officer or director, of any savings bank by such bank upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and an affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the borrower, the nature of his employment, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor, and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. Any officer or director of any savings bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such savings bank, contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the state of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest.

Loans may be made to any director, other than an officer, directly or indirectly, or to any agent or employee of a savings bank on the security of United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or interest-bearing notes, or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for repayment of principal or interest, or those issued under authority of the United States, notwithstanding anything in this section contained, and such loans may be made in the usual manner of making loans in which no director of such bank is interested. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 642.]

§ 67. Limitation on loans. 1. No savings bank shall loan money except on adequate security of real or personal property, and no such loan shall be made for a period longer than ten years. No such loan shall be made on unsecured notes; provided, that a savings bank may discount or purchase bankers' or trade acceptances, notes, drafts and bills of exchange of the kind and character and maturities defined and made eligible for rediscount with a federal reserve bank; provided, also, that the same are accepted or indorsed without qualification by a bank or trust company, which bank or trust company has a paid-in capital of at least one million dollars; and provided, also, that a savings bank may discount or purchase a bill which must comply with the following requirements:

(a) Requirements for bill of exchange. It must be a bill issued by a solvent individual or firm or corporation engaged in mercantile or manufacturing business in the United States that makes statements of its condition duly ascertained and certified to by a public accountant.

moneys of the United States, the state of California, the counties, cities and counties, and towns of said state of California and receive such public moneys on deposit; provided, also, that savings banks may, in the manner authorized by law, and without the previous approval of the superintendent of banks, borrow postal savings moneys of the United States, and receive such postal savings moneys on deposit; and provided, further, savings banks may borrow any amount, in addition to the amounts authorized to be borrowed in this section, for the purpose of buying from the United States, United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or notes or obligations of the United States, but only in pursuance of a resolution of a majority of its board of directors, duly entered upon their minutes, and without the previous approval of the superintendent of banks, but the fact of such transaction shall forthwith be reported in writing to the superintendent of banks. No excess loan made to any savings bank with or without pledge of assets shall be invalid or illegal as to the lender. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 641.]

§ 65. No loan to director or officer. Record and report of loan. Loan to agent or employee. Record and report of. Not applicable to what corporations. Loans to director on security. No loan shall be made, for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any savings bank by such bank, or on the indorsement, surety or guaranty of any such officer or director, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such savings bank may own or hold a minority number of shares of stock, upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan; provided, also, that by and with the consent of the superintendent of banks previously obtained in writing, all directors may vote upon such a loan made by one bank to another bank where the entire capital stock of one is owned by or held in trust for the stockholders of the other bank and where all or a majority of the board of directors of each of said banks are composed of the same persons. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, officer, or director of the corporation to which such loan is made, the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. No loan may be made to any corporation, a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers of such savings bank, except with the previous consent of the superintendent of banks.

A loan may be made to any agent or employee, other than an officer or director, of any savings bank by such bank upon authorization of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and an affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the borrower, the nature of his employment, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor, and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the superintendent of banks. Any officer or director of any savings bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such savings bank, contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the state of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest.

Loans may be made to any director, other than an officer, directly or indirectly, or to any agent or employee of a savings bank on the security of United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or interest-bearing notes, or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for repayment of principal or interest, or those issued under authority of the United States, notwithstanding anything in this section contained, and such loans may be made in the usual manner of making loans in which no director of such bank is interested. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 642.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 609.

§ 67. Limitation on loans. 1. No savings bank shall loan money except on adequate security of real or personal property, and no such loan shall be made for a period longer than ten years. No such loan shall be made on unsecured notes; provided, that a savings bank may discount or purchase bankers' or trade acceptances, notes, drafts and bills of exchange of the kind and character and maturities defined and made eligible for rediscount with a federal reserve bank; provided, also, that the same are accepted or indorsed without qualification by a bank or trust company, which bank or trust company has a paid-in capital of at least one million dollars; and provided, also, that a savings bank may discount or purchase a bill which must comply with the following requirements:

(a) Requirements for bill of exchange. It must be a bill issued by a solvent individual or firm or corporation engaged in mercantile or manufacturing business in the United States that makes statements of its condition duly ascertained and certified to by a public accountant.

Copy of such a certified statement shall be on file in the office of the savings bank discounting or purchasing such bill in a file maintained for such purpose. Said statement shall have been issued within the preceding fourteen months and shall be the latest issued by said individual or firm or corporation. Said statement shall consist of a balance sheet showing quick assets, slow assets, permanent or fixed assets, current liabilities and accounts, short term loans, long term loans, capital and surplus. Accompanying said balance sheet shall be a copy of a statement from the borrower or public accountant concerning the following:

- (1) The nature of the business.
 - (2) All contingent liabilities such as indorsements or guarantees.
 - (3) Particulars respecting any mortgage debts and whether there is any lien on current assets.
 - (4) The maximum and minimum liabilities of the individual, firm or corporation during the twelve months previous to the date of audit.
- (b) It must be issued by an individual, firm or corporation whose net worth is not less than two times the amount of its outstanding liabilities, including any contingent liabilities arising from the rediscount of bills receivable or other accommodation indorsements, nor less than three hundred thousand dollars. The quick assets of said individual, firm or corporation, consisting of merchandise, finished, raw, and in the process of manufacture, accounts receivable, bills receivable, bonds or obligations of the government of the United States at the then market value of said bonds or obligations and cash, shall not be less than two times its outstanding quick liabilities including any contingent liabilities arising from the rediscount of bills receivable or other accommodation indorsements, as shown by said statement.
- (c) It must have a maturity of not more than six months.
- (d) It must have arisen out of actual commercial transactions; that is, be a bill which has been issued or drawn for industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been or are to be used for such purposes.

Bills not eligible for discount or purchase. Credit reports. Limitation on amount. No bill shall be eligible for discount or purchase by a savings bank, the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for any of the following purposes:

- (1) For investments of a merely speculative character whether made in goods or otherwise.
- (2) Must not have been issued for carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities, except bonds of the government of the United States, and must not cover merely investments.
- (3) Must not be a bill of any individual, firm or corporation which has under pledge or hypothecation any of its personal assets.

The word "bill," when used in this section, shall be construed to include notes, drafts, or bills of exchange, and the word "goods" shall be construed to include goods, wares or merchandise.

Any savings bank purchasing or discounting such paper shall have in a file maintained for the purpose, letters from banks and merchants or mercantile reports bearing upon the credit and standing of the person, firm, copartnership or corporation whose paper is under discount.

No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, a combined total amount of bankers' and trade acceptances, drafts and bills of exchange and bills of the character defined and limited by this section, greater than twenty per centum of the deposits of such bank, nor shall any savings bank at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, an amount of bills, of the character defined and limited by this section, greater than twelve and one-half per centum of the deposits of such bank. No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bankers' or trade acceptances, drafts and bills of exchange from any one acceptor in an amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus or reserve of such savings bank nor shall any savings bank at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bills of any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation in an amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus or reserve of such savings bank.

2. Loans on bonds. No savings bank shall invest or loan an amount greater than fifty per centum of its actual paid-up capital and surplus on any one note or bond issue of the class specified in paragraph (h), or on the securities issued by any one mortgage insurance company of the class specified in paragraph (k) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act, nor more than five per centum of its assets on any one bond issue of any other class, except bonds of the United States, or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or bonds of the state of California, bonds for which the faith and credit of the United States or of the state of California are pledged, or bonds of any county, city and county, city or school district in this state, or bonds of any irrigation district such as are legal for investment by savings banks.

3. Loans on bonds. No savings bank shall loan money:

(a) On bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (a), (aa), (b), (c) and (d) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act the principal and interest of which are to be paid in whole or in part by taxes levied upon the property in the district issuing such bonds, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(b) On bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (f), and (g) or on bonds or notes of the character specified in paragraph (i) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act, when eligible as investments for savings banks pursuant to said section, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (e) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act other than those specified in the preceding paragraph of this section, unless such bonds or notes shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(c) On bonds legal for investment by savings banks in the states of New York or Massachusetts, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(d) On notes or bonds of the character specified in paragraph (h) of subdivision three of section sixty-one of this act when certified as legal investments for savings banks under the provisions of section sixty-one a or on securities of the character specified in paragraph (k) of subdivision three of said section eligible for investment by savings banks, unless such bonds, notes or securities shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(e) On personal property unless such personal property shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(f) On other bonds, or on capital stock of any corporation, unless such bonds or stock shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; provided, however, that no loan shall be made upon the capital stock of any bank unless such bank has been in existence at least two years and has earned and paid a dividend on its capital stock.

4. Loans on real estate. No savings bank shall make any loan on security of real estate, except it be a first lien, and in no event to exceed sixty per centum of the market value of any real estate taken as security except for the purpose of facilitating the sale of property owned by such savings bank; provided, that a second lien may be accepted to secure the repayment of a debt previously contracted in good faith; and provided, also, that any savings bank holding a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate may take or purchase and hold or loan upon another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust thereon, but all such loans shall not exceed in the aggregate sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate securing the same; provided, further, that a savings bank may loan not to exceed ninety per centum of the face value of a mortgage which constitutes a first lien upon real estate, but in no event shall any such loan exceed ninety per centum of sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate covered by said mortgage or deed of trust.

5. Loans on capital stock of corporations. No savings bank shall loan to any one borrower on the security of the capital stock of any corporation an amount exceeding ten per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank; provided, that all loans on the capital stock of any one corporation shall not exceed in the aggregate twenty-five per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank.

6. No loans on mining stock. No savings bank shall purchase, invest or loan its capital, surplus or the money of its depositors, or any part of either, in mining shares or stock and any president or managing officer who knowingly consents to a violation of any provision of this paragraph shall be guilty of a felony. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 642.]

§ 68. Total reserves of savings banks. Deposit of reserves. Reserves of member of federal reserve bank. Failure to maintain reserves. Dealings with commercial banks. Every savings bank or savings department of a bank shall at all times maintain total reserves equivalent to five per centum of the aggregate amount of its deposits, exclusive of United States, postal savings bank, state, county and municipal, and other public money deposits, which are secured as is required by law;

at least two and one-half per centum of such deposits shall be maintained as reserves on hand, which shall consist of gold bullion, or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States, and two and one-half per centum of such deposits may be maintained as reserves on hand, which shall consist of bonds, or interest-bearing obligations of the United States, of gold bullion, or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States or may be maintained as reserves on deposit subject to call with any reserve depository provided for in sections twenty and forty-three of this act; provided, however, that all or any part of the reserves may be deposited, subject to call, with a federal reserve bank in the district in which such bank is located; provided, also, that no savings bank or savings department shall be required to maintain reserves on hand in excess of four hundred thousand dollars, and when such reserves on hand reach that amount, the balance of total reserves necessary to make up the five per centum may be kept as reserves on deposit, subject to call, with any reserve depository provided for in sections twenty and forty-three of this act.

If any bank shall have become a member of a federal reserve bank, it shall at all times maintain the reserves required by the federal reserve act for time deposits, and in addition thereto shall be required to maintain a reserve of at least two per centum of its aggregate deposits, exclusive of United States, postal savings, state, county and municipal, and other public money deposits, which are secured as is required by law, which two per centum shall consist of gold bullion, or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States.

If any savings bank shall fail to maintain its total reserves in the manner authorized by this section, it shall be subject to the penalty provided for in section twenty of this act for commercial banks.

No new loan shall be made during any deficiency in the total reserves. Deposits with any commercial bank, or commercial department of a bank, on open account, as provided in this section, shall be permitted and shall not be construed as loans. Not more than five per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with any one bank, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. Not more than fifteen per centum of the deposits of any savings bank shall be deposited with all commercial banks, except with the consent of the superintendent of banks. No savings bank or savings department shall receive deposits of other banks other than savings deposits and such deposits shall not be treated or considered as a part of the reserves on deposit of such depositing bank; provided, the sum so deposited shall not exceed thirty per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depositing bank nor more than fifteen per centum of the paid-in capital and surplus of the depository bank. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 647.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 611.

§ 70. Power to receive Liberty bonds. Every savings bank shall have power to receive as depository, or as bailee for safekeeping and storage, Liberty bonds or other bonds or securities issued by the United States government for war purposes or otherwise. [New section added May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 648.]

§ 80. Loans of commercial banks. No commercial bank shall make any loans, directly or indirectly, to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation, in an amount which, including therein any extension of credit to such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, by means of letters of credit, or by acceptance of drafts for, or the discount or purchase of the notes, bills of exchange or other obligations of, such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, shall exceed the following percentage of its capital and surplus:

1. Without security. Ten per centum without security, except where such capital stock and surplus is not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, in which event an amount not to exceed twenty per centum of such capital stock and surplus may be loaned without security, and where such capital stock and surplus is greater than twenty-five thousand dollars and does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars may be loaned without security. Nothing herein shall prohibit any commercial bank from taking or receiving any kind, character or amount of security whatsoever, either real or personal, for the protection of any loan made under the provisions of this subdivision, but no such loan or any part thereof shall be considered or construed as a secured loan unless the whole thereof is loaned upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan; or,

2. With security. Fifteen per centum, in addition to the amount that may be loaned under the provisions of subdivision one of this section, upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan so secured; provided, the total amount which can be loaned under subdivisions one and two hereof cannot exceed twenty-five per centum in all; provided, however, that a separate note or notes shall be taken for the unsecured loans and a separate note or notes shall be taken for the secured loans, and the secured and unsecured loans shall not be combined in any way within one note, or notes; or,

3. With security. Twenty-five per centum upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of its loans so secured; provided, however, that when secured loans to this amount or any amount in excess of fifteen per centum are made, then no unsecured loans shall be permitted in addition to such secured loans; or,

4. With security. Restrictions not applicable to bills of exchange or Liberty bonds. Computing liabilities to commercial banks. Forty per centum, provided such loans are upon commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same to such bank, and are indorsed by such person without limitation; provided, however, that in addition to the amounts permitted to be loaned by subdivisions one, two or three of this section, an amount may be loaned on the securities fixed by subdivision four of this section, which taken with the amounts so permitted by said subdivisions one, two or three will not exceed forty per centum; provided, also, that the restrictions under this section shall not apply to bills of exchange or drafts, with bills of lading attached, drawn in good faith against actual existing values; provided, further, that any commercial bank, having first obtained in writing the consent of the superintendent of banks so to do and under such conditions and regulations as may be prescribed by him, may accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it running for a period of not longer than six months, but no commercial bank shall accept such drafts or bills of exchange in an amount greater at any time in the outstanding aggregate than one-half of its capital and surplus; but such acceptance or acceptances must be drawn by a person, firm, copartnership or corporation engaged in agricultural, industrial or commercial business directly connected with the production, manufacture, purchase, sale or consignment of the goods involved in the transaction in which the acceptance originated; provided, however, that no such acceptance or acceptances to any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation shall exceed ten per centum of the capital and surplus of such bank.

None of the limitations or restrictions contained in the previous subdivisions of this section shall apply to loans, discounts or other extensions of credit secured by Liberty bonds or by other bonds or securities issued by the United States government, if the market value of such Liberty bonds or other securities exceeds by ten per centum the amount of any such loan, discount or other extension of credit.

Loans which are made upon security available for loans in a savings bank may be made in a commercial bank upon the same margin of security as is permitted to savings banks anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding, and all such loans shall be deemed to be secured loans within the meaning of this section.

In computing the total liabilities of any person to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities to the bank of any copartnership or unincorporated association of which he is a member, and any loans made for his benefit or for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated association; of any firm, copartnership or unincorporated association to a commercial bank there shall be included all liabilities of its individual members and all loans made for the benefit of such copartnership or unincorporated association or any member thereof; and of any corporation to a commercial bank there shall be included all loans made for the benefit of the corporation. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 649.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 611.

§ 83. Loans to officer of commercial bank. Loans to director, agent or employee. Credit to directors, etc. Report to superintendent. Penalty. Not applicable to what corporations. Loan to corporation owned or controlled by directors. Loans to directors, etc., on security. No loan shall be made for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any officer of any commercial bank by such bank or on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such officer; provided, that a loan may be made to a corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to make such loan, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee. Loans to any director, agent or employee other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any director, agent or employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such director other than an officer, agent or other employee, can be made by any commercial bank; and provided, further, that a loan may be made or a line of credit may be given to any member of an advisory board or body of a commercial bank, not otherwise an officer of such bank, or a loan may be made to any firm, copartnership or corporation of which any member of such advisory board or body is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee, or to any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation on the indorsement, surety, or guaranty of any such member of such advisory board or body upon such conditions as are herein fixed for a loan, directly or indirectly, or a line of credit and the report thereof to any director of such bank. Loans herein authorized can be made only on authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan, by a majority of all the directors of such bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan. Such interested director shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan; provided, that by and with the consent of the superintendent of banks previously obtained in writing, all directors may vote upon such a loan made by one bank to another bank where the entire capital stock of one is owned by or held in trust for the stockholders of the other bank and where all or a majority of the board of directors of each of said banks are composed of the same persons. The board of directors of any such bank may fix the total amount of credit that may at any one time during the twelve months next succeeding be given to any director, agent, or other employee, other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership, or corporation in which any director, agent, or other employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee or to any corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to fix such total amount of credit, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, and any or all loans made within or up to the total amount of such authorized credit may at any time during said twelve months be renewed from time to time, in whole or in part, by the officers of the bank without any further vote or action on the part of the board of directors. Each such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of said bank. No director shall vote or participate in any manner in such action of the board fixing the total amount of credit that may at any one time be given to himself or to any firm, copartnership or corporation in which he is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the director, agent or employee, obtaining such loan, or the name of the firm, copartnership or corporation in which such director, agent or employee is interested, or the name of the corporation, of which any officer of a commercial bank is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, obtaining such loan, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor, if any, and the fact of final payment when made shall forthwith be reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such bank to the superintendent of banks. In case a loan is made to a corporation there shall be reported in the same manner the name of each director and officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, director, officer or employee of such borrowing corporation and the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation. All the provisions of this section relating to reports shall apply to the granting of credit and all loans made under any credit given and payments made thereon shall also be reported immediately after the same is made. In case of a loan made without the previous authorization of the directors, the fact of making such loan shall forthwith be reported and the action of the board of directors, in confirming or refusing to confirm such loan within thirty days thereafter, and the fact of final payment when made shall be reported in the same manner as herein required for loans made under previous authorization. Any officer, director, agent, or employee of a commercial bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such commercial bank contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the superintendent of banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the state of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues.

This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such commercial bank may be members or officers but in which they have no financial interest.

No loan may be made to any corporation, a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers of such commercial bank, except with the previous consent of the superintendent of banks.

Loans may be made to any director, other than an officer, directly or indirectly, or to any agent or employee of a commercial bank, on the security of United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or interest-bearing notes, or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for repayment of principal or interest, or those issued under authority of the United States, notwithstanding anything in this section contained, and such loans may be made in the usual manner of making loans in which no director of such bank is interested. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 650.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 613.

§ 90. Trust companies. *May receive deposits. Segregation of capital in cities under one hundred thousand. In cities over one hundred thousand. Separate kinds of capital. Oath by officer. Trust company as member of federal reserve bank. Authority of foreign corporation as trustee. Any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population does not exceed one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of not less than one hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made with the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, and any corporation which has been or shall be incorporated under the laws of this state, which is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, under appointment of any court or by authority of any law of this state, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law, which has its principal place of business in a city in which the population exceeds one hundred thousand persons and which has a capital of at least two hundred thousand dollars actually paid in, in cash, assigned to or available for the purpose of conducting business in any such capacity, or trust business of any character permitted by law, and which has made with the state treasurer the deposit of money or securities of the character and in the amount required by the terms of section ninety-six of this act, and which has received from the superintendent of banks the certificate of authority required by the terms of section one hundred twenty-seven of this act, to transact such business, may act, or may be appointed by any court to act, in any such capacity in like manner as an individual and when so qualified shall be known as a trust company. Any such trust company may, as provided in this act, accept or receive any deposit of money or personal property authorized, directed or permitted to be made with any such corporation by any court or law of this state, and may accept and execute any trust provided for in this act, or permitted by any law of this state, to be taken, accepted or executed by an individual. Any such trust company, if located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least fifty thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it and whenever such trust company shall, under the provision of sections ninety-six and ninety-eight of this act, be required to make the first additional deposit of securities with the state treasurer, such trust company must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside an additional fifty thousand dollars of paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it, and any such trust company, if located in a city, the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand persons, must segregate that portion of its capital and surplus assigned to or available for its trust business and must apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it and must also apportion and set aside at least one hundred thousand dollars of such paid-up capital as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it; provided, that no such trust company shall at any time be required to apportion and set aside any portion of its surplus as security for the faithful performance and execution of such private trusts, nor shall it be prohibited from so doing; and provided, further, that the respective amounts of capital or capital and surplus so apportioned and set aside shall be treated in all respects as the separate capital or capital and surplus of each respective kind or class of business, as though the same were conducted by separate and distinct corporations, and each shall be kept, held, used and disposed of wholly for the exclusive benefit, protection and security of the respective classes of trust business to which the same were respectively so apportioned and set aside. In all cases in which it is required that an executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee, shall qualify by taking and subscribing an oath, or in which an affidavit is required, it shall be a sufficient qualification by such corporation if such oath be taken and subscribed or such affidavit be made by the president, vice-president, secretary, manager, trust officer, assistant trust officer or regularly employed attorney thereof, and such officer or employee shall be liable for the failure of such trust company to perform any of the duties required by law to be performed by an individual acting in like capacity and subject to like penalties; provided, any such appointment as guardian shall apply to the estate only, and not to the person.

Any trust company upon becoming a member of a federal reserve bank is authorized and empowered:

To continue to administer, execute, enjoy and exercise all court and private trusts as defined in the bank act, powers, rights, privileges, and other fiduciary relations, appointments and business it may have at the time of becoming such trust company member, and also to take, execute and administer all new court and private trusts as defined in said bank act, including the right to the appointment of all fiduciary capacities in which it may be named in wills theretofore and thereafter executed and probated, and other appointments, powers, privileges and business, of every kind and nature, as may be then or thereafter permitted to, but subject to the same requirements and limitations as may be imposed upon any corporation under all of the provisions of the bank act.

To hold, administer, execute, and in all respects generally handle, manage and dispose of, without charge, restriction, limitation or impairment of any nature, all of its investments, rights, interests, titles to property, contractual, legal and other rights, obligations or liabilities, of every kind or nature, court and private trusts as defined in the bank act, and other powers which it may be then permitted to exercise by law.

A foreign corporation may be authorized to act in this state as trustee for the following purposes:

- (1) To deliver bonds, and receive payment therefor.
- (2) To deliver permanent bonds in exchange for temporary bonds of the same issue.
- (3) To deliver refunding bonds in exchange for those of a prior issue or issues.
- (4) To register bonds, or to exchange registered bonds for coupon bonds, or coupon bonds for registered bonds.
- (5) To pay interest on such bonds, and to take up and cancel coupons representing such interest payments.

5) To redeem and cancel bonds when called for redemption, or to pay and cancel bonds when due.

7) The certification of registered bonds for the purpose of exchanging registered bonds for coupon bonds.

8) To act as trustee under any mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument securing notes or bonds issued by any corporation. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 653.]

This section was also amended in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 615.

§ 98. When trust funds amount to five hundred thousand dollars. When funds amount to one million dollars. Treasurer's receipt, "Trust funds." Penalty. Withdrawal of securities. Validity of act. Whenever any trust company, the principal place of business of which is located in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons, receives from court trusts accepted by it, trust funds, as herein defined, to the amount of five hundred thousand dollars, it shall forthwith notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact, and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and whenever any trust company receives from court trusts such funds to the amount of one million dollars it shall further notify in writing the superintendent of banks of such fact and within thirty days thereafter shall deposit with the state treasurer additional money or securities of the character mentioned and defined in section ninety-six of this act, approved as therein provided, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars; and for each additional five hundred thousand dollars of such trust funds thereafter received by any trust company from court trusts a similar notification in writing shall forthwith be given to the superintendent of banks, and a further deposit in the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars of such money or securities, or of securities, provided for in section ninety-seven of this act likewise approved, shall be made, within thirty days thereafter, by such trust company with said state treasurer, until five hundred thousand dollars of such securities have been so deposited. The treasurer shall give his receipt for any money or securities so deposited and each and all of such deposits of money or securities, shall be held by said state treasurer for the sole benefit of the beneficiaries of the class of business for the security and protection of which same were deposited. The state shall be responsible for the custody and safe return of any money or securities so deposited with said state treasurer. The term "trust funds" when used in this section shall be deemed to mean and shall mean personal property and cash, whether received with the original trust property or as rent, income or proceeds thereof, in connection with the trust, and shall not be deemed to include and shall not include real property. Any trust company failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the state of California one hundred dollars a day for each day during which such failure or default shall continue. Upon making a request in writing to the superintendent of banks, any such trust company shall be entitled to withdraw from the state treasurer, from time to time, a sufficient amount of such securities so that at all times the amount of such securities so deposited shall conform to the requirements of this act, and so that at no time shall such trust company be required to have on deposit with the state treasurer an amount of securities in excess of the requirements of this act. Upon receiving such request in writing, and satisfactory proof of the facts warranting such withdrawal, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks to forthwith deliver to the state treasurer a written order directing the withdrawal of said securities so as to conform with the provisions of this section and it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to comply with such written order. The validity or legality of any act or proceeding done or taken by any such trust company, relating to or in connection with the administration of any such trusts shall not be affected or impaired by the neglect or failure of such trust company, or of any officer or employee thereof, to comply with any of the provisions of this act, but all such acts and proceedings done or taken prior to the revocation of its certificate of authority to do such business by the superintendent of banks, under the provisions of this act, or the revocation by any court or judge thereof of the appointment, order or decree theretofore entered in such trust matter shall be as valid and effective for all purposes as if any such neglect or failure had not occurred. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 617.]

§ 99. Evidence of title to accompany securities. When any part of the securities so deposited with the state treasurer consists of notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, it shall be accompanied by a "Registrar of Titles" certificate as to the condition of the title if the notes or bonds are secured by mortgages covering property which has been brought under the operation of the Land Title Law, commonly called the Torrens Title Law, or a policy of mortgage insurance, or a complete abstract of title or an unlimited certificate of title or a policy of title insurance prepared or issued by a person, company or corporation designated or approved by the superintendent of banks and authorized by law or otherwise found by the superintendent of banks to be competent to issue such evidence of title, which shall be examined and approved by or under the direction of said superintendent of banks. The fees for an examination of such evidence of title by council to be paid by the trust company making the deposit shall not exceed twenty dollars for each title examined, and the fee for each appraiser not exceeding two, shall not exceed five dollars for each mortgage or deed of trust. [Amendment approved May 3, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 185.]

§ 123. State banking fund created. Proportionate payment by each bank into state banking fund. Revolving fund. A fund is hereby created to be known as the state banking fund, and out of said fund shall be paid all the expenses incurred in and about the conduct of the business of the banking department, including the salary of the superintendent, chief deputy, attorney, examiners and other assistants, traveling expenses, furnishing of rooms and rent. Each bank shall pay annually its share of one hundred and ten thousand dollars, to be determined by the proportion which the capital and surplus which shall include all reserve and contingent funds, of any incorporated bank or the surplus, reserve and contingent funds of any bank organized without a capital stock bear to the capital, surplus, reserve and contingent funds in the aggregate of all such banks receiving certificates of authorization from the superintendent of banks, as shown by the last report of such bank to the superintendent of banks; provided, that the superintendent of banks may, in any fiscal year and in the exercise of his discretion, collect from each bank a less sum to be determined by the proportion established in this section, if such less sum be sufficient to pay all the expenses incurred in and about the conduct of the business of the banking department, including the salary of the superintendent, chief deputy, attorney, examiners and other assistants, traveling expenses, furnishing of rooms and rent. All moneys collected or received by the superintendent of banks, under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, shall be by him delivered to the treasurer of the state, who shall deposit the same to the credit of said banking fund, and the unexpended balance of all moneys heretofore paid into the state treasury by any of the bank commissioners or the superintendent of banks, shall be retained and become a part of said fund; provided, however, that the superintendent shall have authority to retain in his possession and under his control the sum of two thousand dollars to be used by him as a revolving fund for the benefit of the state banking department until the end of the fiscal year at which time he shall make full settlement with the treasurer of the state. If any such bank shall fail to pay such charges as are herein required, the superintendent shall forthwith cancel the certificate of said bank. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 655.]

§ 124. Inspection of banks. Extra examinations. Administration of oaths. Audit. Every bank and the trust department of every title insurance company doing a trust business, shall be subject to the inspection of the superintendent of banks. The superintendent of banks, the chief deputy, or some competent person or persons to be appointed by the superintendent of banks, to be known as examiners, shall visit and examine every bank at least once each fiscal year. On every such examination inquiries shall be made by him as to the condition and resources of the bank, the mode of conducting and managing its affairs, the action of its directors, the investment and disposition of its funds, the safety and prudence of its management, the security afforded to those by whom its engagements are held and whether the requirements of its articles of incorporation and the law have been complied with in the administration of its affairs, and as to such other matters as the superintendent may prescribe. Whenever, in the judgment of the superintendent of banks, the condition of any bank renders it necessary or expedient to make an extra examination or to devote any extraordinary attention to its affairs the superintendent of banks shall have authority to make any and all necessary extra examinations and to devote any necessary extra attention to the conduct of its affairs; and such bank shall pay for all such extra services rendered by the superintendent of banks at a price to be fixed by the superintendent of banks but not to exceed twenty dollars per day for the examination of the principal office of such bank and twenty dollars a day for the examination of each branch office of each bank. The superintendent of banks shall also have power to examine, or cause to be examined, every agency located in this state of any foreign bank or banking corporation, for the purpose of ascertaining whether it has complied with the laws of this state, and for such other purposes and as to such other matters as the superintendent may prescribe. The superintendent, chief deputy, and every such examiner shall have the power to administer an oath to any person whose testimony he may require on the examination of any bank, or on the examination of any agency of any foreign bank or banking corporation, and to compel appearance and attendance of any such person for the purpose of any such examination. When a bank shall have been examined by any examiner, and he finds securities therein which are, in his judgment, of doubtful value, he shall report the same to the superintendent of banks, who thereupon shall be authorized to employ appraisers at the expense of such bank to appraise said securities, at a compensation to be fixed by the superintendent of banks. The superintendent of banks shall, whenever required to do so by any bank, provide an auditor to make an audit of the affairs of such bank. The compensation for making such audit shall be paid by the bank direct to the person making the audit. Nothing herein shall be deemed to authorize or require the superintendent of banks to inspect or supervise the private trust business or title insurance business of any corporation doing a trust business. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 656.]

§ 128. Certificate of authorization issued. When the certified copy of articles of incorporation of any bank shall have been filed with the secretary of state, and application made for the issuance of a certificate to do business as a bank, the superintendent of banks, provided he has not withheld granting his certificate for any of the reasons set forth in section one hundred twenty-seven hereof, shall ascertain, from the best sources of information at his command, whether the character and general fitness of the persons named as stockholders are such as to command the confidence of the community in which such bank is proposed to be located, and, if so satisfied, he shall, within sixty days after such application has been made to him, issue, under his hand and official seal, the certificate of authorization required by this act. The superintendent of banks shall file a duplicate of such certificate in his own office. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 619.]

§ 131. Three reports each year. The superintendent of banks shall call for the reports specified by section one hundred thirty of this act at least three times each year. The "past day designated by the superintendent" of banks under the provisions of section one hundred thirty of this act shall for at least three times be the day designated by the controller of currency of the United States for reports of national banking associations. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 657.]

§ 139. Duty of board of directors. Report. Contents of report. When no examination made. Special examination by superintendent of banks. Report. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of every bank to examine fully, or to cause a committee of at least three of its members, none of whom shall be an officer of the bank, to examine fully into the books, papers and affairs of the bank of which they are directors, and particularly into the loans and discounts thereof, with a special view to ascertaining the value and security thereof, and of the collateral security, if any given, in connection therewith, and into such other matters as the superintendent of banks may require; such examination to be made at least once a year, but no such subsequent yearly examinations shall be made within three months of the next preceding examination. Such directors shall have power to employ such assistance in making such examinations as they may deem necessary.

Within thirty days after the completion of such examination, a report in writing thereof, sworn to by the directors making the same, shall be made by the board of directors of such bank, and placed on file with the records of said bank, and shall be subject to examination by the superintendent of banks.

Such report shall particularly contain a statement of the assets and liabilities of the bank examined, as shown by its books, together with any deductions from the assets, or additions to liabilities, which such directors or committee, after such examination, may determine to make. It shall also contain a statement, in detail, of loans, if any, which in their opinion are worthless or doubtful, together with their reasons for so regarding them; also a statement of loans made on collateral security, which in their opinion are insufficiently secured, giving in each case the amount of the loan, the name and market value of the collateral, if it has any market value, and, if not, a statement of that fact, and its actual value as nearly as possible. Such report shall also contain a statement of overdrafts, of the names and amounts of such as they consider worthless or doubtful, and a full statement of such other matters as affect the solvency and soundness of the bank.

If the directors of such bank shall fail to make such examination or fail to cause it to be made, or shall fail to file such report of such examination in the manner and within the time specified, the superintendent of banks shall have authority to make or cause to be made an extra examination of such bank, at the expense of such bank.

Whenever the board of directors of any bank may determine by resolution, duly entered in its minutes, that a special examination shall be made or caused to be made by the superintendent of banks in lieu of the examination herein required to be made by the board of directors of such bank, a certified copy of such resolution shall be transmitted to the superintendent of banks, whereupon it shall be the duty of the superintendent of banks to make or cause to be made a special examination of the affairs of such bank in lieu of the examination of such bank by the board of directors thereof. Such special examination shall be made at such time as the superintendent of banks may determine but in any event such examination shall be made within sixty days after the receipt by the superintendent of banks of the resolution hereinbefore referred to. The cost of making such examination shall be a charge against the bank for which such examination is made.

Upon the completion of such examination the superintendent of banks shall cause a report thereof in writing to be prepared and delivered to the board of directors of such bank at such time as may be fixed by the superintendent of banks, but not later than thirty days after the completion of such examination. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 619.]

§ 142. Records deemed public documents. Official reports prima facie evidence. None of the records of the state banking department shall be deemed to be public documents nor shall any of such records be open to the inspection of the public. Every official report made by the superintendent of banks and every report duly verified of an examination made, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, for all purposes in any action or proceedings wherein the superintendent of

This section was amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 620.

§ 145. Powers abridged, enlarged or modified. Investments made prior to July 1, 1909. The powers, privileges, duties and restrictions conferred and imposed upon any corporation or individual existing and doing business under the laws of this state are hereby abridged, enlarged or modified as each particular case may require to conform to the provisions of this act, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in their respective articles of incorporation or charters. All the provisions of this act shall apply with equal force and effect to all corporations which are now doing or which may hereafter do a banking business in this state, except where express exception or exemption may be made herein, and to such other persons, associations, copartnerships or corporations who shall, by violating any of its provisions, become subject to the penalties provided herein. The legality of investments heretofore made, or title to property heretofore acquired or conveyed through transactions heretofore had by any bank pursuant to any provision of law in force when such investments were made or transactions had, shall not be affected by the provisions of this act, except that any such investments made prior to July 1, 1909, when not complying with the provisions hereof, shall be changed to conform hereto; but such change shall be made gradually and in such manner as to prevent loss or embarrassment in the business of such bank, or unnecessary loss or injury to the borrowers on such security; provided that the legality of any investments heretofore lawfully made, pursuant to the provisions of this act as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by the provisions of this section. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 620.]

ACT 298.

An act relating to the liquidation of banks by the superintendent of banks; empowering him to levy assessments against the members and stockholders of any bank in process of liquidation by him to an amount which he may determine to be necessary to promptly pay the creditors of such bank in full; to enforce such assessments by suit and empowering the superior court to determine the equities of the members and stockholders of any such bank to any surplus which may remain after the payment of the creditors of such bank in full and to award and distribute the same accordingly.

§ 1. Assessment of stockholders to pay creditors. Whenever the superintendent of banks shall hereafter take possession of the business and property of any bank doing business in this state for the purpose of liquidating its affairs, as provided by law, he may at any time during the process of such liquidation determine whether it shall be necessary to assess the members or stockholders of such bank in order to promptly pay the claims of the creditors of such bank in full and he shall make such assessments as he may determine to be necessary for that purpose.

§ 2. Complaint. Such determination shall be evidenced by a complaint or petition against all of the members and stockholders of such bank filed by the superintendent of banks in the superior court of the county where the principal place of business of such bank is or was located at the time of the taking of such possession.

§ 3. Further assessments. If such assessment, first made, shall prove inadequate to pay all of the creditors of such bank in full the superintendent of banks may make further assessments or assessments by filing supplemental complaints or petition in the same proceeding.

§ 4. Proceeds applied. In any such proceeding such assessment shall be enforced and collected and the proceeds thereof shall be added to the funds of such bank and applied by the superintendent of banks for the payment of just claims against the same.

§ 5. Payment of surplus. If after the payment of all just claims against such bank and the cost of liquidation any surplus shall remain said court shall determine the equities of the respective members and stockholders of such bank thereto and direct the payment thereof by the superintendent of banks accordingly.

§ 6. Action to collect assessments. The superintendent of banks shall have power to maintain an action in any other state or country to enforce and collect such assessments against any of such members or stockholders and the proceeds thereof shall become a part of the fund and be subject to the same disposition as if collected in the proceedings provided for in this act.

§ 7. Effect on prior actions. This act shall not affect any action or proceeding instituted by the superintendent of banks prior to its enactment.

§ 8. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act; and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional or its operation or application is or may be limited or controlled by any constitutional provision.

TITLE 50.

BENEFIT SOCIETIES.

ACT 313.

An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1320.]

Amended 1915, p. 1273; 1917, pp. 164, 785, 1651.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 6. Beneficiaries. Beneficiaries of fraternal benefit societies. The payment of death benefits shall be confined to wife, husband, relative by blood to the fourth degree, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepchildren, children by legal adoption, or to a person or persons dependent upon the member; provided, that if there is not living any person above designated, the member may designate any friend as his beneficiary, or may direct that said benefit be paid to his estate; provided, further, that if after the issuance of the original certificate the member shall become dependent upon an incorporated charitable institution, he shall have the privilege, with the consent of the society, to make such institution his beneficiary. Within the above restrictions each member shall have the right to designate his beneficiary, and, from time to time, have the same changed in accordance with the laws, rules or regulations of the society, and no beneficiary shall have or obtain any vested interest in the said benefit until the same has become due and payable upon the death of said member; provided, that any society may, by its laws, limit the scope of beneficiaries within the above classes. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 785.]

§ 23a. Provisions to insure future security. If the valuation of the certificates, as hereinbefore provided, on December 31, 1917, shall show that the present value of future net contributions, together with the admitted assets, is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities, such society shall thereafter at least maintain said financial condition at each succeeding triennial valuation in respect of the degree of deficiency as shown in the valuation as of December 31, 1917. If at any succeeding triennial valuation such society does not show at least the same condition, the insurance commissioner shall direct that it thereafter comply with the requirements herein specified. If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shall show that the society has failed to maintain the condition required herein, the insurance commissioner may, in the absence of good cause shown for such failure, institute proceedings for the dissolution of such society, in accordance with the provision of section twenty-four of this act, or in the case of a foreign society, its license may be canceled in the manner provided in this act.

Any such society, shown by any triennial valuation, subsequent to December 31, 1917, not to have maintained the condition herein required, shall, within two years thereafter, make such improvement as to show a percentage of deficiency not greater than as of December 31, 1917, or thereafter, as to all new members admitted, be subject, so far as stated rates of contributions are concerned, to the provisions of section twelve of this act, applicable in the organization of new societies; provided, that the net mortuary or beneficiary contributions and funds of such new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the society. If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation, then the said new members may be placed in a separate class and their certificates valued as an independent society in respect of contributions and funds. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 164.]

§ 23b. Value of certificates on "accumulation basis." Value of certificate on "tabular basis." Table of rates and credits. In lieu of the requirements of sections twenty-three and twenty-three a, any society accepting in its laws the provisions of this section may value its certificates on a basis, herein designated "accumulation basis," by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year and with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his share of the losses for each year, herein designated "cost of insurance" and carrying the balance, if any, to his credit. The charge for the cost of insurance may be according to the actual experience of the society applied to a table of mortality recognized by the law of this state, and shall take into consideration the amount at risk during each year, which shall be the amount payable at death less the credit to the member. Except as specifically provided in its articles or laws or contracts no charge shall be carried forward from the first valuation hereunder against any member for any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit. If, after the first valuation, any member's share of losses for any year exceeds his credit including the contribution for the year, the contribution shall be increased to cover his share of the losses, and if the credit at the time any benefit becomes payable during the lifetime of the member, including any available funds does not equal such benefit, the contributions to be made by him or on his behalf shall be increased by the difference. Any such excess share of losses chargeable to any member may be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose.

Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society with net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained and on such transfer shall be entitled to make such application of his credit as provided in the laws of the society.

Certificates issued, rerated or readjusted on a basis providing for adequate rates with adequate reserves to mature such certificates upon assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the law of this state shall be valued on such basis, herein designated the "tabular basis"; provided, that if on the first valuation under this section a deficiency in reserve shall be shown for any such certificate, the same shall be valued on the accumulation basis.

Whenever in any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis, the total of all costs of insurance provided for any year shall be insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year, the deficiency shall be met for the year from the available funds after setting aside all credits in the reserve; or from increased contributions or by an increase in the number of assessments applied to the society as a whole or to classes of members as may be specified in its laws. Savings from a lower amount of death losses may be returned in like manner as may be specified in its laws.

If the laws of the society so provide, the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if an independent society, and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be mingled with the assets of other classes of the society.

A table showing the rates being paid by and the credits to individual members at each age and year of entry, and showing opposite each credit the tabular rates and the tabular reserve required, or at the option of the society the required reserve on a level rate equivalent to that being paid, according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the laws of this state and adopted by the society, and, in either case, including any benefit payable at a specified age or on account of old age disability shall be filed by the society with each annual report and also be furnished to each member before July first of each year.

In lieu of the aforesaid statement there may be furnished to each member within the same time a statement giving the data aforesaid for such member. No table or statement need be made or furnished when the reserves are maintained on the tabular basis.

For this purpose, individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the maintenance of such surplus over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the tabular basis as the society may provide by or pursuant to its laws; nor be construed as giving to the individual member any right or claim to any such reserve or credit other than in manner as expressed in the contract and its laws; nor as making any such reserve or credits a liability in determining the legal solvency of the society. [New section added April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 164.]

§ 31a. Penalty for officer, etc., borrowing funds. Any officer, director, agent or employee of any fraternal benefit society who shall directly or indirectly for himself or as partner or agent of others borrow any of the funds of such society or become indorser or surety for loans to others or in any manner be obligor for moneys borrowed or loaned by such society shall be guilty of a felony. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1651.]

§ 31b. Penalty for officer, etc., receiving reward for aiding loan. Any officer, trustee, agent or employee of a fraternal benefit society who asks or receives or consents or agrees to receive any commission, emolument, gratuity or reward or any money, property or thing of value for his own personal benefit, or of personal advantage, for procuring or endeavoring to procure for any person, firm or corporation any loans from the trust funds of, or funds belonging to, a fraternal benefit society shall be guilty of a felony. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1651.]

An act to provide whole family protection for members of fraternal benefit societies.

§ 1. Fraternal benefit society may insure children. Total benefits payable. Any fraternal benefit society authorized to do business in this state and operating on the lodge plan, may provide in its constitution and by-laws, in addition to other benefits provided for therein, for the payment of death or annuity benefits upon the lives of children between the ages of two and eighteen years at next birthday, for whose support and maintenance a member of such society is responsible. Any such society may at its option, organize and operate branches for such children and membership in local lodges and initiation therein shall not be required of such children, nor shall they have any voice in the management of the society. The total benefits payable as above provided shall in no case exceed the following amounts at ages at next birthday at time of death, respectively, as follows: Two, thirty-four dollars; three, forty dollars; four, forty-eight dollars; five, fifty-eight dollars; six, one hundred forty dollars; seven, one hundred sixty-eight dollars; eight, two hundred dollars; nine, two hundred forty dollars; ten, three hundred dollars; eleven, three hundred eighty dollars; twelve, four hundred sixty dollars; thirteen to fifteen, five hundred twenty dollars; and sixteen to eighteen years, where not otherwise authorized by law, six hundred dollars.

§ 2. Conditions of benefit certificate. No benefit certificate as to any child shall take effect until after medical examination or inspection by a licensed medical practitioner, in accordance with the laws of the society, nor shall any such benefit certificate be issued unless the society shall simultaneously put in force at least five hundred such certificates, on each of which at least one assessment has been paid, nor where the number of lives represented by such certificate falls below five hundred. The death benefit contributions to be made upon such certificate shall be based upon the "standard industrial mortality table" or the "English life table number six" and a rate of interest not greater than four per cent per annum, or upon a higher standard; provided, that contributions may be waived or returns may be made from any surplus held in excess of reserve and other liabilities, as provided in the by-laws; and provided, further, that extra contributions shall be made if the reserves hereafter provided for become impaired.

§ 3. Reserve required. Any society entering into such insurance agreements shall maintain on all such contracts the reserve required by the standard of mortality and interest adopted by the society for computing contributions as provided in section two, and the funds representing the benefit contributions and all accretions thereon shall be kept as separate and distinct funds, independent of the other funds of the society, and shall not be liable for nor used for the payment of the debts and obligations of the society other than the benefits herein authorized; provided, that a society may provide that when a child reaches the minimum age for initiation into membership in such society, any benefit certificate issued hereunder may be surrendered for cancellation and exchanged for any other form of certificate issued by the society, provided that such surrender will not reduce the number of lives insured in the branch below five hundred, and upon the issuance of such new certificate any reserve upon the original certificate herein provided for shall be transferred to the credit of the new certificate. Neither the person who originally made application for benefits on account of such child, nor the beneficiary named in such original certificate, nor the person who paid the contributions, shall have any vested right in such new certificate, the free nomination of a beneficiary under the new certificate being left to the child so admitted to benefit membership.

§ 4. Separate financial statement. An entirely separate financial statement of the business transactions and of assets and liabilities arising therefrom shall be made in its annual report to the insurance commissioner by any society availing itself of the provisions hereof. The separation of assets, funds and liabilities required hereby shall not be terminated, rescinded or modified, nor shall the funds be diverted for any use other than as specified in section three, as long as any certificates issued hereunder remain in force, and this requirement shall be recognized and enforced in any liquidation, reinsurance, merger or other change in the condition of the status of the society.

§ 5. Specified payments. Any society shall have the right to provide in its laws and the certificate issued hereunder for specified payments on account of the expense or general fund, which payments shall or shall not be mingled with the general fund of the society as its constitution and by-laws may provide.

§ 6. Continuation of certificate. In the event of the termination of membership in the society by the person responsible for the support of any child, on whose account a certificate may have been issued, as provided herein, the certificate may be continued for the benefit of the estate of the child, provided the contributions are continued, or for the benefit of any other person responsible for the support and maintenance of such child, who shall assume the payment of the required contributions.

An act providing that any domestic society, organization or company, providing life insurance for its members or their beneficiaries upon the assessment plan, including any domestic fraternal benefit society organized or operating under the act entitled "An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies," approved May 1, 1911, as amended, may change into a corporation to transact a life insurance business as a legal reserve or level premium company, not affecting existing suits, rights or contracts, for the protection of which business may be transacted of the kind transacted before reorganization, and for the protection of which a fund is to be created under conditions set forth herein.

[Approved May 21, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 759.]

§ 1. Company transformed into legal reserve or level premium company. Any domestic society, organization or company providing life insurance for its members or their beneficiaries upon the assessment plan, including any domestic fraternal benefit society organized or operating under that certain statute entitled "An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies," approved May 1, 1911, as amended, may upon a majority vote of its trustees or directors, or in any lawful manner, amend its articles of incorporation and by-laws, if already incorporated, or if not incorporated, may incorporate, in such manner as to transform itself into a legal reserve or level premium company, with the name by which it is already known or another name as its directors or trustees shall determine; and upon so doing and upon procuring from the commissioner of insurance a certificate of authority as prescribed by law to transact business in this state as a legal reserve or level premium life insurance company it shall incur the obligation and enjoy the benefits thereof the same as though originally thus incorporated; and such corporation under its articles and by-laws as so framed or amended shall be a continuation of the original organization, society or corporation and the officers thereof shall serve through their respective terms as provided in the original articles and by-laws, but their successors shall be elected and serve as the law and its articles and by-laws provide; but such incorporation, amendment or reincorporation shall not affect existing suits, rights or contracts.

The said society, organization or company so reorganized shall have the power after reorganization to transact business of the same nature transacted by it before reorganization, as well as the powers conferred hereby and contemplated by its articles of incorporation, in order to protect and perform rights and contracts existing before reorganization.

§ 2. Capital stock of reorganized company. Fund when contributions not equal to benefits. Any society, organization or company so reorganized shall have a capital stock of which at least two hundred thousand dollars must be paid up previous to the issuance of any policies by it as a legal reserve or level premium company. All assets belonging to any such society, organization or company so reorganized, prior to reorganization, or arising or accruing from policies, certificates or benefit certificates issued upon the assessment plan, shall be used only for the benefit of the holders of such policies, certificates or benefit certificates and no portion thereof shall be used or considered as any part of the capital stock provided for by this act. If at the time of reorganization, or at any time thereafter, it shall appear from the last preceding annual report of any such society, organization or company filed with the commissioner of insurance, or as the result of any investigation made by said commissioner, that the present value of the contributions to be received from the holders of policies or benefit certificates on the assessment plan, together with all assets owned by the company that have been accumulated from assessments paid by members on that plan, are not equal to the present value of the benefits to be derived by members under the assessment plan, including all matured liabilities; then the society, organization or company so reorganized shall set aside and maintain a fund which with said present value of contributions and assets will equal the present value of said benefits together with all matured liabilities. Said fund shall be used for the payment of matured liabilities arising under the assessment plan when other assets applicable thereto are exhausted. Said fund may be derived from the capital stock of said reorganized company; provided, however, that the paid-up capital stock other than said fund shall not be less than two hundred thousand dollars. Said fund need not be maintained when the same is not required by conditions as herein expressed. Members in good standing of any such company prior to reorganization shall have the right after reorganization to transfer their insurance in said company to the legal reserve or level premium plan for the same amount without further medical examination, and at the legal reserve or level premium rates. The interest and the assets of the company of any person so transferring shall be transferred to and be a part of the assets of such company on the legal reserve or level premium plan.

§ 3. Powers of reorganized company. The society, organization or company so reorganized and its officials shall exercise all the rights and powers and perform all the duties conferred or imposed by law upon organizations writing the kinds of insurance written by said society, organization or company so reorganized. Such organization and its officials shall exercise all the rights and powers and perform all the duties necessary to protect rights and contracts existing prior to reorganization.

The commissioner of insurance shall exercise the powers and discharge the duties concerning any such society, organization or company so reorganized that are applicable to companies writing insurance or issuing policies of the same class organized or operating in the state of California. The commissioner of insurance must issue a certificate of authority to any such society, organization or company so reorganized which is in a solvent condition and has fully complied with the laws of this state to transact insurance business in this state.

§ 4. Valuation of policies. Any assessment company or fraternal benefit society incorporated or reincorporated to transact a life insurance business as above provided shall value its assessment policies or certificates or benefit certificates according to the standard of valuation of assessment insurance used in this state, and its legal reserve or level premium policies according to the standard of valuation thereof in this state. The various kinds of insurance written shall be governed by the law applicable thereto.

An act to provide how fraternal benefit societies organized under the laws of this state may consolidate, merge or reinsure to their insurance risks, with any other fraternal benefit society, or assume or reinsure the risks of any other fraternal benefit society, and to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.

§ 1. Merging, etc., of fraternal benefit societies. No fraternal benefit society organized under the laws of this state to do the business of life, accident, or health insurance, shall consolidate or merge with any other fraternal benefit society, or reinsure its insurance risks, or any part thereof, with any other fraternal benefit society, or assume or reinsure the whole or any portion of the risks of any other fraternal benefit society, except as herein provided. No fraternal benefit society or subordinate body thereof shall merge, consolidate with or be reinsured by any company or association not licensed to transact business as a fraternal beneficiary society.

§ 2. Approval of contract by insurance commissioner. When any such fraternal benefit society shall propose to consolidate or merge its business or to enter into any contract of reinsurance, or to assume or reinsure the whole or any portion of the risks of any other fraternal benefit society the proposed contract in writing setting forth the terms and conditions of such proposed consolidation, merger or reinsurance shall be submitted to the legislative or governing bodies of each of said parties to said contract after due notice, and if approved, such contract as so approved, shall be submitted to the commissioner of insurance of this state for his approval and the parties to said contract shall at the same time submit a sworn statement showing the financial condition of each of such fraternal benefit societies as of the thirty-first day of December preceding the date of such contract; provided, that such insurance commissioner may, within his discretion, require such financial statement to be submitted as of the last day of the month preceding the date of such contract. The commissioner of insurance shall thereupon consider such contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance, and if satisfied that the interests of the certificate holders of such fraternal benefit societies, are properly protected, and that such contract is just and equitable to the members of each of such societies, and that no reasonable objection exists thereto, shall approve said contract as submitted. In case the parties corporate to such contract shall have been incorporated in separate states, or territories, such contract shall be submitted as herein provided to the commissioner of insurance of each of such incorporating states, or territories, to be considered and approved separately by each of such commissioners of insurance. When said contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance shall have been approved as hereinabove provided, such commissioner or commissioners of insurance shall issue a certificate to that effect, and thereupon the said contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance shall be in full force and effect. In case such contract is not approved the fact of its submission and its contents shall not be disclosed by the commissioner of insurance.

§ 3. Expenses of proceedings. All necessary and actual expenses and compensation incident to the proceedings provided hereby shall be paid as provided by such contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance; provided, however, that no brokerage or commission shall be included in such expenses and compensation or shall be paid to any person by either of the parties to any such contract in connection with the negotiation therefor or execution thereof, nor shall any compensation be paid to any officer or employee of either of the parties to such contract for directly or indirectly aiding in effecting such contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance. An itemized statement of all such expenses shall be filed with the insurance commissioner, or commissioners, as the case may be, subject to approval, and when approved the same shall be binding on the parties thereto. Except as fully expressed in the contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance, or itemized statement of expenses, as approved by the commissioner, or commissioners of insurance, as the case may be, no compensation shall be paid to any person or persons, and no officer or employee of the state shall receive any compensation, directly or indirectly, for in any manner aiding, promoting or assisting any such consolidation, merger or reinsurance.

§ 4. Penalty. Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be liable to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or to imprisonment for not more than five years, or to both fine and imprisonment.

BERKELEY.

ACT 332.

Charter of. [Stats. 1909, p. 1208.]

Amended 1913; Stats. 1913, p. 1502; 1917, p. 1814.

ACT 334.

An act granting to the city of Berkeley the salt marsh, tide and submerged lands of the state of California, including the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of Berkeley, and regulating the management, use and control thereof. [Approved June 11, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 705.]

Amended 1915, p. 901; 1917, p. 915; 1919, p. 1089.

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Berkeley. There is hereby granted to the city of Berkeley, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, which are included within the present boundaries of the city of Berkeley, to be forever held by said city and by its successors in trust for the use and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Use of lands. That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city or its successors shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation, for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city or its successors may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for the purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Improvement of harbor. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

(c) Rates, tolls, etc. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors.

(d) Right to fish reserved to people. There is hereby reserved, however, in the people of the state of California, the absolute right to fish in all the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said land for said purpose. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1089.]

§ 2. Issuance of one hundred thousand dollars in bonds before five years. [Repealed May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 915.]

TITLE 56a.

BLIND.

ACT 348b.

An act to provide a relief fund in the several counties or any city and county of the state for the needy blind, providing for and prescribing—

ing the powers and duties of boards of supervisors in every county or city and county.

§ 1. Tax for relief of needy blind. The boards of supervisors of the several counties and cities and counties in this state are hereby authorized and permitted to levy, in addition to the taxes now levied by law for other purposes than those herein provided, a tax not exceeding two-tenths of one-mill per dollar on the assessed value of the property of their respective counties and cities and counties to be levied and collected as now provided by law for the assessment and collection of taxes, for the purpose of creating a fund for the relief of the needy blind of their respective counties and cities and counties.

§ 2. Needy blind person defined. A needy blind person shall be construed to mean any person who, by reason of loss of eyesight, is unable to provide himself with the necessities of life, and who has not sufficient means of his own to enable him to maintain himself.

§ 3. Residence qualification. A needy blind person, in order to receive relief under this act, must be a resident of this state at the time this act takes effect, or become blind while a resident of this state, and shall be a resident of the county for one year next preceding the date of the application provided for herein.

§ 4. Claims for relief. Amount. All persons claiming relief under this act shall file, at least ten days prior to action on said claims, with the board of supervisors a duly verified statement of the facts bringing him within the provisions of this act. The list of claims shall be filed in the order of filing in a book furnished for that purpose by the board of supervisors, and which record shall be open to the public. No certificate of qualification for drawing money under this act shall ever be granted until the board of supervisors shall be satisfied, from the evidence of at least two reputable residents of said county and city and county, one of whom shall be a duly and regularly licensed and practicing physician, that they know the applicant to be blind, and that he has the residential qualifications to entitle him to the relief asked for, which evidence shall be in writing, subscribed to by such witnesses, subject to the right of cross-examination by the board of supervisors or other persons. If the board of supervisors is satisfied upon such testimony that the applicant is entitled to relief hereunder, they shall issue an order therefor, in such sum as they find needed, not to exceed one hundred fifty dollars per annum, to be paid quarterly out of the fund herein provided for on the warrant of the county auditor, or auditor of the city and county, and such relief shall be in lieu of any other relief of a public nature.

§ 5. Annual examination of blind list. The board of supervisors shall annually examine as to the qualifications of anyone on the blind list and increase or decrease the allowance within the statutory limits, or if said board is not satisfied that the person so on the list is qualified to draw any money said board shall entirely remove him from the list and shall forthwith notify the auditor of such action.

§ 6. Examination of applicants. The board of supervisors of every county and city and county shall meet within thirty days after this act takes effect and thereafter annually on such days as the board shall select and at such times as may be necessary and examine carefully the list of applications filed hereunder.

§ 7. Transfer of money from poor fund. The board of supervisors of every county or city and county are hereby authorized and directed to transfer from any money in the poor fund of any county to the blind fund, herein provided, for the year 1919, sufficient money to carry out the purposes of this act.

§ 8. False statement. Any person who shall make a false statement in order to secure for himself or another, the benefit herein provided, shall be guilty of perjury.

§ 9. Rules and regulations. It is hereby declared to be the duty of the board of supervisors in each county and city and county to adopt such rules, regulations and ordinances necessary to carry into effect the purposes, aims and objects of this act. It shall be competent for the board of supervisors mentioned herein to appoint such person or persons to act for such board in carrying out the object or objects and purposes of this act.

TITLE 58a.

BOARD OF CONTROL.

ACT 355.

An act granting state authority for the construction of a cut-off in the San Joaquin river to meet a public necessity.

§ 1. Cut-off in San Joaquin river authorized. The state board of control is by this act given authority to proceed with the securing of necessary rights of way and with co-operating agencies to procure the construction of a proper navigable cut-off in the San Joaquin river from a point below the mouth of Stockton channel to a point above the junction of the Calaveras river for the purpose of meeting a public necessity which is hereby declared to exist at this place.

ACT 356.

An act to authorize the state board of control to sell certain lands.

§ 1. Authority to sell certain lands. The state board of control is hereby authorized and empowered to sell in such manner and method and at such time as said board may deem best all or part of that certain property situated in the county of San Joaquin, state of California, and described as follows, to wit:

A portion of the east one-half of section eighteen of C. M. Weber's Grant El Rancho Del C. de Los Franceses, and being the south fifteen acres of the following described piece of land: Commencing for the same at a stake situated at the southwest corner of the Maxwell tract, and running thence along Betts west line south sixteen degrees, fifty-five minutes east, thirty-four and fifty one-hundredths chains to a stake; thence south seventy-three degrees five hundredths minutes west, eight and sixty-two and one-half one-hundredths chains to a point in the center line of a proposed road, said center line of said road being the easterly line of land now owned by Edw. Floyd Jones; thence along said easterly line of said land of said Edw. Floyd Jones north sixteen degrees and fifty-five minutes west, thirty-four and fifty hundredths chains to a point in Gray south line; thence along said Gray south line north seventy degrees and fifty-one minutes east eight and sixty-two and one-half one-hundredths chains to the point of beginning, containing thirty acres, more or less. Also an undivided one-half interest in the right of way granted by A. McCloud to Samuel Hewlett by deed dated the eleventh day of October, eighteen hundred sixty-nine.

§ 2. Expenses. The state board of control is hereby authorized to pay, out of the proceeds of said sale, the expenses necessarily incurred by said board in making such sale; which said proceeds, less the expenses so paid, shall be duly transferred by said board to the state treasurer.

§ 3. Deed. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to execute to the purchaser or purchasers of said property for and on behalf of and in the name of the state of California, a deed of conveyance of said property in the usual form of grant, bargain and sale and to deliver the same upon the payment of the full amount of the purchase price of said property; and said deed shall be effectual to pass and convey to said purchaser or purchasers all of the right, title, interest and estate of the state of California in and to said property.

BONDS.

ACT 387a.

An act making bonds of municipal water districts legal investments for certain purposes.

[Approved April 20, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 158. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Municipal water district bond; legal investments. All bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by any municipal water district under and in pursuance of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of municipal water districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction by said districts of waterworks, and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts," approved May 1, 1911, as subsequently amended, shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings and trust companies, and for the state school funds, and whenever any moneys or funds may, by law now or hereafter enacted, be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities in the state of California, such moneys or funds may be invested in the said bonds of municipal water districts; provided, however, no bank shall invest or loan more than five per centum of its assets on any one such bond issue.

§ 2. Construction of act. This act is intended to be, and shall be considered, the latest enactment upon the matters herein contained, and is supplemental to any and all other acts regulating, relating to and declaring what shall be, legal investments.

ACT 387b.

An act making farm loan bonds a lawful investment for insurance companies and a lawful deposit for foreign insurance companies and a lawful investment for all public and trust funds, and a lawful security for the performance of certain acts.

§ 1. Insurance companies may buy farm loan bonds. Insurance companies organized under the laws of California may, in addition to the kinds and classes of securities defined in section four hundred twenty-one of the Civil Code, invest their capital and accumulations in farm loan bonds issued under the provisions of the federal farm loan act approved July 17, 1916, and that foreign insurance companies required by section five hundred ninety-four a of the Political Code to deposit securities, be and they are hereby permitted to deposit such farm loan bonds in lieu of any other securities now permitted to be deposited by said last-mentioned section.

§ 2. Farm loan bonds may be purchased with public funds. Farm loan bonds issued under the federal farm loan act approved July 17, 1916, are hereby made a lawful investment in the state of California for all state, county, city and county, city, school, municipal and all other public funds, and a lawful investment in said state for the funds of executors, administrators, guardians, receivers, and trustees of every kind and nature, and that whenever any bonds may by any law now or hereafter enacted be used as security for the performance of any act or acts, such farm loan bonds may be so used.

An act to legalize bonds heretofore issued and sold, or to be issued and sold, by municipalities where authority for such issuance has already been given by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the electors of such municipality voting upon the question of incurring such indebtedness.

§ 1. Municipal bond issues legalized. In all cases where the legislative branch of any municipality in this state has deemed it necessary to incur an indebtedness in excess of the ordinary annual income and revenue of such municipality, and has called an election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of such municipality the question whether such indebtedness shall be incurred, and where at such election not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting thereat shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, and the mode of creating such indebtedness has been by the proposed issuance of the bonds of such municipality, the power of such municipality to issue such bonds and all the acts and proceedings of such municipality leading up to and including the issuance and sale or the proposed issuance and sale of such bonds are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes; and all such bonds, sold either before or after the passage of this act for not less than their par value are hereby legalized and declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against such municipality so issuing and selling the same, and the faith and credit of such municipality is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

§ 2. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any municipality that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at any such election, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value.

ACT 391j.

An act authorizing the state treasurer, upon approval of the governor and the board of control, to enter into agreements to pay commissions on the sale of certain bonds of the state of California, and providing for the funds from which such commissions shall be paid.

§ 1. Agreements to pay commissions on sale of harbor bonds authorized. Limitations. Application to resales. The state treasurer, upon the approval of the governor and the board of control, is hereby authorized to enter into agreements to pay commissions for services rendered in the procuring of bids for all or any portion or portions of the state bonds issued under the provisions of an act entitled "An act for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the improvement of San Francisco harbor by the construction by the board of state harbor commissioners of wharves, piers, state railroad, spurs, betterments and appurtenances, and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith in the city and county of San Francisco; to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; to define the duties of state officers in relation thereto; to make an appropriation of five thousand dollars for the expense of printing said bonds; and to provide for the submission of this act to a vote of the people," approved June 16, 1913.

No agreement shall be entered into by the state treasurer to pay a greater commission than ten per cent of the par value of the bonds sold, and no commission shall be paid for services rendered except to one who has procured and effected the sale and not until the money from the sale of such bonds has been paid into the state treasury, and no commission shall be paid on any sale of such bonds to any board, department or agency of the state authorized by law to purchase the same.

Should any purchase of said bonds or any thereof, hereafter be made by any board, department or agency of the state authorized by law to make such purchase, on any resale of such bonds so purchased or any thereof thereafter made by such board, department or agency, the foregoing provisions of the act as to entering into agreements to pay, and the payment of, commissions shall apply to such resales as well as to original sales of said bonds or any thereof.

§ 2. Payment from harbor fund. All commissions herein provided to be paid shall be paid out of and from the San Francisco harbor improvement fund, and the state controller is hereby directed to draw his warrants on said fund in favor of the person entitled to such commissions and when entitled thereto, and sufficient money for such purpose is hereby appropriated from said San Francisco harbor improvement fund as and when said commissions become due.

§ 3. Collection of money. The board of state harbor commissioners is hereby authorized and directed by the collection of dockage, tolls, rents, crantage and other port charges to collect a sum of money sufficient for the purposes of this act, over and above the amount limited by section two thousand five hundred twenty-six of the Political Code of the state of California.

§ 4. Sale without commission. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent an original sale, or a resale by any board, department or agency of the state, of said bonds or any thereof without the payment of such commission.

TITLE 69.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

ACT 428.

Building and loan commission act.

[Approved April 5, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 607.]

Amended 1911 (Ex. Sess.), p. 6; 1915, pp. 238, 992; 1917, pp. 426, 918.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 2. Building and loan commissioner. Secretary. The administration of said bureau shall be vested in a commissioner, to be known and designated as the "building and loan commissioner," who shall be appointed by the governor and commissioned to hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He must be a citizen of this state; and he must not be in any way connected with any association, corporation or society coming under his supervision. He shall appoint a secretary, who shall, ex officio, also be a deputy commissioner with full powers as such, and who must be a practical, skilled accountant, fully conversant with building and loan systems and accounts; he shall also appoint one deputy who shall be an accountant. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 918.]

§ 3. Salaries. Office in San Francisco. The commissioner shall receive a salary of three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, the secretary shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, and the deputy one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and such salaries shall be in full for all services rendered. There shall also be allowed and paid the necessary traveling expenses of the commissioner and the secretary, incurred while traveling in the line of their duties, not to exceed the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. The commissioner shall procure and have an office in the city of San Francisco, which office shall be kept open for business every business day, during such hours as are commonly observed by the banks of that city as banking hours. For such office there shall be allowed and paid a total rental of not exceeding seventy-five dollars per month. Said commissioner may also provide such fuel, stationery, printing, postage, office help and other necessary conveniences as may be requisite in such office, at a cost not to exceed in the aggregate the sum of one thousand six hundred dollars per annum. All said salaries and expenses shall be audited and paid in the same manner as the salaries and expenses of other state officers. [Amendment approved May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 919.]

§ 15a. License to act as agent for sale of stock, etc. List of persons holding licenses. No person receiving compensation therefor, other than an officer, director or salaried employee, no part of whose compensation consists of commissions, or other than a local resident agent who has resided in the county in which he holds such local agency for a period of not less than one year prior to the time that he took such agency, of a building and loan association or other similar corporation or society which is duly licensed by the commissioner, shall act as solicitor or agent for the sale of the shares of stock, shares of membership, certificates or other securities or forms of investment issued by, or for the securing of loans from, any such association, corporation or society until he has first procured from the commissioner a license therefor. To obtain such license there must be filed with the commissioner a duplicate of the authorization or appointment issued to him by, together with a request from, a licensed association, corporation or society that a license be issued to him to act as an agent or solicitor for it, and accompanied by a fee of one dollar. All such licenses shall expire by limitation on the thirtieth day of June succeeding their issue, but may be renewed from time to time, for an additional period of one year upon a request therefor from the association, corporation or society originally applying, and payment of a renewal fee of one dollar. Any such license may be revoked at any time on the application of the association, corporation or society for whom it was issued, or may be revoked by the commissioner for cause.

The commissioner shall keep an alphabetical list of the names of persons to whom such licenses are issued with the date of issue and renewal, and the name of the association, corporation or society for whom such licensee is authorized to act. All such licenses shall be issued under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner. [New section added May 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 919.]

§ 17. Suit to collect assessments. Building and loan inspection fund. The collection of all moneys assessed, as herein provided, for the payment of salaries and annual expenses, or forfeitable as fines for failure to make payments of assessments, procure licenses, or make and file reports as herein specified, and due from any such association, corporation or society coming within the provisions of this act, or imposed as a penalty for violation of any order or summons, may be enforced by the commissioner by action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction; and all moneys collected or received by the commissioner under this act, shall be deposited with the state treasurer, to be credited to a fund to be known and designated as the "building and loan inspection fund"; which said fund shall only be used in defraying the salaries and expenses provided for by this act; provided, however, that the commissioner may retain in his possession and under his control a sum not exceeding three hundred dollars to be used for the benefit of his office, as a revolving fund, for making advance payment of office rent and office expenses prior to the presentation and allowance of the periodical claims therefor. [Amendment approved May 11, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 426.]

TITLE 69a.BUILDINGS.*ACT 431.

An act to provide for the establishment within municipalities of districts or zones within which the use of property, height of improvements and requisite open spaces for light and ventilation of such buildings, may be regulated by ordinance.

§ 1. Cities may create districts with which buildings and trades regulated. For the public interest, health, comfort, convenience, preservation of the public peace, safety, morals, order and the public welfare, the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of any incorporated city and town of California, hereinafter referred to as the council, may by ordinance create or divide the city in to districts within some of which it shall be lawful and within others of which it shall be unlawful to erect, construct, alter or maintain certain buildings, or to carry on certain trades or callings or within which the height and bulk of future buildings shall be limited.

§ 2. Restriction on location of industries, etc. The council may by ordinance regulate, restrict and segregate the location of industries, the several classes of business, trades or callings, the location of apartment or tenement houses, club houses, group residences, two-family dwellings, single family dwellings and the several classes of public and semi-public buildings, and the location of buildings or property designed for specified uses, and may divide the city into districts of such number, shape and area as the council may deem best suited to carry out the purposes of this act, subject to the provisions of section four hereof. For each such district regulations may be imposed designating the class of use that shall be excluded or subjected to special regulations and designating the uses for which buildings may not be erected or altered, or designating the class of use which only shall be permitted. Such regulations shall be designed to promote the public health, safety and general welfare. The council shall give reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of the district, its peculiar suitability for particular uses, the conservation of property values and the direction of building development in accord with a well-considered plan.

§ 3. Regulations of height of buildings. Area of courts, etc. Uniform throughout district. The council may place reasonable regulations and limitations upon the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected and regulate and determine the area of yards, courts and other open spaces, having due regard to the nature of the use and occupancy in such case. The council may divide the city into districts of such number, shape and area as the council may deem best suited to carry out the purpose of this act, subject to the provisions of section four hereof. The regulations as to the height and bulk of buildings and the area of yards, courts and other open spaces shall be uniform for each class of building throughout each district. The regulations in one or more districts may differ from those in other districts. Such regulations shall be designed to secure safety from fire and other dangers and to promote the public health and welfare, and to secure provision for adequate light, air and reasonable access. The council shall pay reasonable regard to the character of buildings now erected in each district, the value of the land, and the use to which it may be put to the end that such regulations may promote public health, safety and welfare.

§ 4. Cities with planning commission. Hearing. In municipalities having a city planning commission the council shall require such commission to recommend the boundaries of such districts and appropriate regulations and restrictions to be enforced therein. Such commission shall make a tentative report and hold public hearings thereon at such times and places as said council shall require before submitting its final report. Said council shall not hereafter determine the boundaries of any district or impose any regulations until after the final report of the city planning commission is filed with the city clerk. Upon receiving such final report said council shall afford persons particularly interested, and the general public, an opportunity to be heard, at a time and place to be specified in a notice of hearing to be published in a newspaper to be designated for that purpose. Said newspaper to be a local newspaper, if there be one, otherwise a newspaper of general circulation within the municipality, and to be published not less than three times in any daily, or not less than once in any other newspaper of general circulation within the municipality, and, within the week within which said meeting is to be held.

§ 5. Cities without planning commission. In municipalities where there is no city planning commission the council may proceed in the manner prescribed in section four hereof and shall make the tentative report, arrange for and hold such public hearings, make such final report and afford all persons particularly interested and the general public, an opportunity to be heard at the time and place and in the manner prescribed in section four hereof.

§ 6. Penalties. The council may establish penalties for violations of such an ordinance once established and in effect.

ACT 431a.

An act authorizing and empowering municipalities to provide a procedure for the fixing and establishing of set-back lines on private property bordering on the whole or part of any street, avenue or highway, to prohibit the erection of buildings, fences or other structures between such set-back lines and the lines of any such street, avenue or highway, and to condemn any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose.

§ 1. City council may establish set-back lines. Whenever public interest or convenience may require, the city council of any municipality shall have full power and authority to provide a procedure for the fixing and establishing of set-back lines on private property bordering on the whole or part of any street, avenue or other highway, to prohibit the erection of buildings, fences or other structures between such set-back lines and the lines of any such street, avenue or other highway, and to condemn any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose.

§ 2. Procedure. The ordinance prescribing such procedure shall provide, among other things, for the passage of a resolution of intention describing the land deemed necessary to be taken or damaged therefor, also the exterior boundaries of the district of lands to be benefited by said work or improvement and to be assessed to pay the damages, costs and expenses thereof, and shall require that a written protest signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage upon the streets and parts of streets within the district to be assessed, and filed with such city council, shall be a bar to such proceeding for a period of six months from the date of the filing of such protest. The procedure shall provide for due notice and hearing to property owners liable to be assessed, also a method for the assessment and collection of benefits and the payment of damages, together with such other matters as may be necessary or convenient to promote the objects hereof.

ACT 431b.

An act to regulate the construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwellings, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which dwellings are erected or located, in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1461. In effect September 1, 1917.]

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state dwelling-house act," and its provisions shall apply to incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties of this state.

§ 2. Duty of building department. Duty of housing department. In case no such departments. Powers of commission of immigration and housing. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration, and arrangement of dwellings.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of dwellings after said dwellings have been erected, constructed or altered, as the case may be.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual creation, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of dwellings in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

§ 3. Unlawful to construct dwelling contrary to act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any dwelling or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any dwelling or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or to cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any dwelling or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Alterations. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes of any kind whatsoever, to any dwelling erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any dwelling hereafter erected, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act; or in any manner to diminish the size of the windows, or to remove any window or windows from the rooms contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Building conveyed to use as dwelling. Building moved. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all the provisions of this act affecting a dwelling hereafter erected.

A building used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting dwellings hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to unoccupied area.

§ 6. Penalty for violation. Procedure. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of dwellings or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a dwelling or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

§ 7. Power to enter building. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, or cities and counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act; provided, however, that the authority to enter buildings, as in this section given to the persons hereinbefore enumerated, shall not be construed or deemed to apply to the entering of any such building between the hours of six o'clock P. M. of any day and six o'clock A. M. of the succeeding day, without the consent of the owner or of the occupants of such buildings; but in no event shall the authority in this section given be construed as permitting any of the persons hereinbefore enumerated to enter any such buildings in the absence of the occupants thereof without a proper written order, duly executed by a competent court authorized to issue such orders.

§ 8. Definitions. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county," as the case may be, in which the dwelling is situated.

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

"Building" is a dwelling.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels. "Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the front of lot, and in the event that a curb has not been established shall be deemed to be the average ground level at the front of lot.

"Department." Whenever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department or such other department or officer, or department or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Dwelling" is as follows:

(a) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, which contains not more than two apartments, or not more than five guest rooms, or,

(b) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, not more than one story in height, which contains more than two apartments, or,

(c) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, of more than one story and not more than two stories in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families (four apartments) and which is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and which building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is or may be kept as a home or a residence of a separate family. Each such section having an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one separate stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building, and with no room, hallway, bathroom, water-closet or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building.

"Family" is one person living alone or a group of two or more persons living together in an apartment, whether related to each other by birth or not.

"Guest" is any person hiring and occupying a room for sleeping purposes, and shall include both boarders and lodgers.

"Guest room" is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied, for sleeping purposes by one or more guests.

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of dwelling-house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances regulating the maintenance and occupancy of buildings or structures and of the health and sanitary requirements.

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a dwelling, together with the land, and unoccupied spaces for such a dwelling, as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the dwelling.

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; also includes a firm, partnership or a corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Shall." Wherever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the front of lot to the opposite front of lot, and shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

§ 9. Constructed in substantial manner. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be constructed in a substantial manner; and the buildings shall be so constructed as to provide shelter to the occupants against the elements, and so as to exclude dampness in inclement weather.

§ 10. Sleeping in cellar. In no dwelling shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

§ 11. Rooms in basement. In no dwelling shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living purposes unless it conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building, and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground levels.

All the walls below the ground level and the floors of such a basement shall be dampproofed and waterproofed. Such dampproofing and waterproofing shall run through the walls and up as high as the ground level and continue throughout the floor.

Every basement in such buildings shall be illuminated and ventilated.

§ 12. Ventilation beneath floor. Floor area. In every dwelling hereafter erected there shall be provided a clear air space under the lowest floor thereof of at least six inches, except where there is a ventilated basement or cellar underneath such floor, which clear air space shall be inclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings, with removable screens, or similar provisions, of a size to insure ample ventilation. The surface underneath the floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to apply to masonry floors laid directly on the scil, nor to any self-supporting masonry floor.

§ 13. Width and height. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes shall contain at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

Every such room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than eight feet in height measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be eight feet in height in but one-half the area of the room.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in width and every such compartment and bath or shower compartment shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling.

§ 14. Windows. Cornice. Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes and every kitchen, water-closet compartment, shower or bathroom, shall have at least one window, of the area fixed by this act, opening directly upon a street, or upon unoccupied area not less than four in its least dimension and containing an area of not less than thirty-six square feet, and located on the same lot.

A cornice may extend into the unoccupied area two inches for each one foot in width of such unoccupied area.

Windows herein required shall be located so as properly to light all portions of the room, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment or bath or shower room may be opened directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be in no dimension less than eighteen inches; provided, further, that windows required to open on to a street or on to unoccupied area may open through porches, provided that the said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth, measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street or unoccupied area is left open, except that the open space may be inclosed with mosquito screens.

§ 15. Window area. In every dwelling hereafter erected the total window area in each room used for living or sleeping purposes shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

§ 16. Window area in water-closet. In every dwelling hereafter erected, the window area in a water-closet compartment or bathroom shall be not less than three square feet.

§ 17. Water-closets. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be provided with one water-closet for each family living therein.

§ 18. Plumbing fixtures. In every dwelling hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in dwellings hereafter erected shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

§ 19. Where no running water. Privy. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the dwelling hereafter erected, or an existing dwelling as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practical and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water, or proper means of sewage disposal; provided, further, that proper toilet facilities shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be inclosed by fly screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically, by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals.

§ 20. Earthenware bowls and seats. In every dwelling hereafter erected, and in every dwelling now existing, all plumbing fixtures shall be properly trapped and vented and all such plumbing made sanitary in every particular. Water-closets hereafter installed shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material integral with the bowls, or wooden seats, enameled or varnished or otherwise made nonabsorbent, attached directly to the bowls. All connections shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass.

No plumbing fixtures shall be inclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around the same must be left entirely open.

§ 21. Cooking in bath compartment. Sleeping in cellar, etc. Floor space for each occupant. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or water-closet compartment, or in any other place in the building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or to permit or suffer any person to live or sleep, in any cellar, bath, shower or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet or kitchen, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness, offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1	2	60 square feet
2	4	120 square feet
3	6	180 square feet
4	8	240 square feet
5	10	300 square feet
6	12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

§ 22. Repapering. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any dwelling shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

§ 23. Repairs. Every dwelling shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

Every water-closet, bathtub, sink, slop-hopper or other similar plumbing fixture shall at all times be kept clean, sanitary and in good working order.

§ 24. Metal mosquito screening. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any dwelling or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

§ 25. Garbage cans. There shall be provided by the occupant or tenant for each dwelling a tight metal receptacle, with close-fitting metal cover, for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act. The receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants or tenants.

§ 26. Room, etc., kept clean. Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any dwelling, and the lot, and the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall deposit, or cause or permit any person to deposit, any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substance in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom, or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any dwelling or in or about the said building or premises thereof for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

§ 27. No animals in dwelling. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any dwelling-house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable, be kept or maintained within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

§ 28. Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order. In case any dwelling, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exist in any such dwelling or building or structure or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said dwelling, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business in or about such dwelling or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such dwelling, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such dwelling, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

§ 29. Fine a lien. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a dwelling owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said dwelling is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

§ 30. Notice of pendency of action. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

§ 31. Time of service. Every notice or order in relation to a dwelling shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

§ 32. Manner of service. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a dwelling for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 33. Minimum requirements. Supplementary laws. Repealed. Power of cities not abrogated. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of dwellings. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, from enacting from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present ordinance or law of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling within said municipality, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

§ 34. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 35. In effect when. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

TITLE 73.

BURNED OR DESTROYED RECORDS OR DOCUMENTS.

ACT 436.

An act to provide for the establishment and quieting title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records.

[Approved June 16, 1906. Stats. 1906 (Ex. Sess.), p. 78.]

Amended 1909, p. 163; 1911, p. 6; 1913, p. 135; 1917, p. 80. Supp. 1907, p. 950.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Title to real property when public records are destroyed. Whenever the public records in the office of the county recorder of any county have been, or shall hereafter be, lost or destroyed, in whole or in any material part, by flood, fire or earthquake, any person who claims an estate of inheritance, or for life in, and who is by himself or his tenant, or other person, holding under him, in the actual and peaceable possession of any real property in such county, or of any real property now in another county but which was formerly in the county of which all or a material part of the records were lost or destroyed as aforesaid, in the event that the records so lost or destroyed included all or a material part of the public records in the office of said county recorder covering all or a material part of the time when said last mentioned real property was in the county whose records were so lost or destroyed, may bring and maintain an action in rem against all the world, in the superior court for the county in which such real property is situate, to establish his title to such property and to determine all adverse claims thereto. Any number of separate parcels of land claimed by the plaintiff may be included in the same action. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 80.]

§ 9. Record of pendency of action. The plaintiff must, at the time of filing the complaint, and every defendant claiming any affirmative relief must, at the time of filing his answer, record in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action containing the object of the action or defense, and a particular description of the property affected thereby; and the recorder shall record the same in a book devoted exclusively to the recordation of such notices and, if the property is still situated in the same county in which the records were destroyed, shall enter, upon a map or plat of the parcels of land, to be kept by him for that purpose, on that part of the map or plat representing the parcel or parcels so described a reference to the date of the filing of such notice and, when recorded, to the book and page of the record thereof. [Amendment approved April 6, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 80.]

TITLE 74.

BUTTE COUNTY.

ACT 444.

Charter of Butte county. [Stats. 1917, p. 1791.]

TITLE 75.

BUTTER.

ACT 473.

An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section 17 of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled "An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor," and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act.

Amended 1913, pp. 332, 352, 1456; 1917, p. 1654; 1919, pp. 283, 297.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1a. Milk containers to be cleansed. Every person, firm or corporation, not a common carrier, who receives from a common carrier in cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, to be thoroughly cleansed and intended for human consumption, which has been transported over any railroad, or boat or freight line, or by other common carrier, or auto truck, which said cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, are to be returned to the consignor or shipper, shall cause the said empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, any milk, cream and ice cream sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam before return shipment of the same; provided, further, that all empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, delivered to the consumer by the retailer shall be thoroughly and immediately cleansed before returning the same to the dealer or distributor. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

§ 2. Unsanitary dairies. A dairy shall be deemed unsanitary within the meaning of this act, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, impure, and unhealthy, in the following cases:

(a) If the drinking water is stagnant, polluted with manure, urine, drainage, decaying vegetable or animal matter.

(b) If the yards or inclosures are filthy or unsanitary or if any part of such yards or inclosures, other than pastures, are made the depositories of manure in heaps or otherwise where it is allowed to ferment and decay.

(c) If a suitable milk house or room is not provided and maintained, properly screened to exclude flies and insects, for the purpose of cooling, mixing, canning, and keeping the milk. Said milk house or room, shall not be located in or be a part of any residence, or dwelling-house, or any barn or poultry-house, and shall not be used for any other purpose whatsoever.

(d) If any milk or cream shall be cooled, stored, mixed,^o canned, or kept in any room or place which is occupied by any person or persons as a sleeping or living apartment, or occupied by horses, cows, hogs or other animals, or fowls of any kind, and if the milk or cream shall not be cooled to as low a temperature as practicable within one hour after it is drawn from the cows.

(e) If any ural, privy vault, open cesspool, horse stable, pig-pen, stagnant water, accumulation of manure or other filth shall be permitted within one hundred feet of any such milk house or room, or within fifty feet of any cow stalls or stanchions or other place where milking is done.

(f) If the walls become soiled with manure, urine or other filth.

(g) If to the interior of cattle stables, barns, milking-sheds, milk house or room, an application of lime whitewash is not made at least once in two years, or oftener if in the judgment of the agent of the state dairy bureau it is needed, or if in the mangers, or other receptacles from which cows are fed, decaying food or other material is allowed to accumulate.

(h) If the pails, cans, bottles or other containers of milk, or its products, or the strainers, coolers or other utensils coming in contact with the milk or its products, are not sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam each and every time the same are used.

(i) If the person or wearing apparel of the dairyman, his employees, or other persons, who come in contact with milk and its products, are soiled or not washed from time to time with reasonable frequency. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1655.]

§ 9. Oleomargarine defined. For the purposes of this act certain manufactured substances, certain extracts, and certain mixtures and compounds, including such mixtures and compounds with butter, milk or cream, shall be known and designated as "oleomargarine," namely: All substances heretofore known as oleomargarine, oleo, oleomargarine-oil, butterine, lardine, suine, and neutral; all mixtures and compounds of oleomargarine, oleo, oleomargarine-oil, butterine, lardine, suine and neutral; all lard extracts and tallow extracts; and all mixtures and compounds of tallow, beef-fat, suet, lard, lard-oil, cocoanut-oil, peanut-oil, intestinal fat, and offal-fat made in imitation or semblance of butter, or when so made, calculated or intended to be sold as butter or for butter; or butter substitute; and for the purposes of this act, every article, substance, or compound, other than that produced from pure milk, or cream from the same, made in semblance of cheese, and designed to be used as a substitute for cheese made from pure milk or cream, is hereby declared to be imitation cheese; provided, that the use of salt, rennet, and harmless coloring matter for coloring the product of pure milk or cream, shall not be construed to render such product an imitation; and provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the use of pure skimmed milk in the manufacture of cheese. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 297.]

§ 25. Weighing and sampling milk. Testing milk. License. It shall be unlawful for any hauler of milk, or cream, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream by weight or test or both, or by measure or test or both, to fraudulently manipulate the weight, measure or test of milk or cream of any person or to take unfair samples thereof, or to fraudulently manipulate such samples. The hauler or other agent shall weigh or measure the milk or cream of each patron accurately and correctly and shall report such weights or measurements accurately and correctly to the creamery or factory. He shall thoroughly mix the milk or cream of each patron by pouring or stirring until such milk or cream is uniform and homogeneous in richness, before the sample is taken from such milk or cream. When the weighing or sampling is done at the creamery, shipping station or factory, the same rule shall apply.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, by himself or as the agent, servant, employee or officer of any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, to under-read, over-read or otherwise fraudulently manipulate the Babcock test used for determining the per cent of butter fat in milk or cream, or to falsify the records thereof or to read the test at any other temperature than the correct one, which is one hundred thirty degrees to one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit, or to pay on the basis of any measurement or weight except the true measurement or weight, which is seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters for milk and nine grams or eighteen grams for cream; provided, that in all tests for cream the cream shall be weighed into the test bottle. All testing of milk or cream purchased on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, shall be done by a licensed tester who shall supervise and be responsible for the operation of the Babcock test of milk or cream. The license shall be issued to such person by the state dairy bureau whose duty it shall be to examine into the qualifications of all applicants for such license, and every such applicant shall satisfy said bureau of his qualifications and comply with the provisions herein before any license shall be issued to him.

Every creamery, shipping station, milk factory, cheese factory, ice-cream factory, condensory, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of butter fat contained therein, shall be required to hold a license^{so} to do. The license shall be issued to such creamery, shipping station, milk factory, condensory, ice-cream factory, cheese factory, or person, firm or corporation by the state dairy bureau upon complying with all sanitary laws, rules and regulations of the state of California and upon complying with the provisions of this act and upon payment of a license fee as provided for in this section.

All licenses required herein shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of each year and the fee for issuing same shall be one dollar for a full year or twenty-five cents for each remaining quarter or fraction thereof. The licenses may be revoked by the state dairy bureau if, after due notice, the licensee fails or has failed to comply with the laws, rules, and regulations under which the license was granted; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to individuals, hotels, restaurants, or boarding-houses buying milk or cream for private use.

The money for license fees as provided for in this section shall be paid by the state dairy bureau into the state treasury and shall become a part of the funds for the use of the state dairy bureau. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 298.]

This section was added in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1657. The old section 25 was repealed June 1, 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1657.

§ 26. Inspection of Babcock test bottles. Fee for testing. Every person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein as determined by the Babcock test, shall use the standard Babcock test bottles, pipettes and accurate weights and scales as defined in this act, and all Babcock test bottles and pipettes shall have been inspected for accuracy by the state dairy bureau or its agent and shall be legibly and indelibly marked by the state dairy bureau or its agents with the letters "D. B."

It shall be unlawful for any firm or corporation or any of their agents to use any other than standard test bottles and pipettes which have been examined and marked as provided by this section, to determine the amount of fat in milk or cream received or purchased on the butter fat basis.

For all testing of glassware by the said state dairy bureau or its agent, a fee of five cents shall be paid by the owner of said glassware to the state dairy bureau for every piece of glassware so examined, and said fee shall be used by the state dairy bureau to defray the cost of testing such glassware. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1659. Old section 26, repealed June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1659.]

§ 27. Specifications for standard Babcock testing glassware. Speed of tester. The term "standard Babcock testing glassware" shall apply to glassware and weights complying to the following specifications: (a) Graduation for milk test bottles. The total per cent graduation shall be eight. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than sixty-three and five-tenths millimeters (two and one-half inches) and the graduation shall represent whole per cent, five-tenths per cent, and tenths per cent. The tenths per cent graduation shall not be less than three millimeters in length; the five-tenths per cent graduations shall be one millimeter longer than the tenth per cent graduations, projecting one millimeter to the left; the whole per cent graduations shall extend at least one-half way around the neck to the right and projecting two millimeters to the left of the tenths per cent graduations. Each per cent graduation shall be numbered, the number being placed on the left of the scale. The error at any point of the scale shall not exceed one-tenth per cent.

The neck shall be cylindrical and the cylindrical shape shall extend for at least nine millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark. The top of the neck shall be flared to a diameter of not less than ten millimeters.

The capacity of the bulb up to the junction of the neck shall not be less than forty-five cubic centimeters. The shape of the bulb may be either cylindrical or conical with the smallest diameter at the bottom. If cylindrical, the outside diameter shall be between thirty-four and thirty-six millimeters; if conical, the outside diameter of the base shall be between thirty-one and thirty-three millimeters, and the maximum diameter between thirty-five and thirty-seven millimeters. The charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams. The total height of the bottom shall be between one hundred fifty and one hundred sixty-five millimeters (five and seven-eighths and six and one-half inches).

(b) Two types of bottles shall be accepted as standard cream test bottles, a fifty per cent nine gram long-neck bottle, and a fifty per cent eighteen gram long-neck bottle.

Fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle: Graduation—The total per cent graduation shall be fifty. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than one hundred twenty millimeters (four and three-quarters inches). The graduation shall represent five per cent, one per cent and five-tenths per cent. The five per cent graduations shall extend at least half way around the neck (to the right). The five-tenths per cent graduations shall be at least three millimeters in length and the one per cent graduations shall have a length intermediate between the five per cent and the five-tenths per cent graduations. Each five per cent graduation shall be numbered, the number being placed on the left of the scale.

Neck—The neck shall be cylindrical and of uniform internal diameter throughout. The cylindrical part of the neck shall extend at least five millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark. The top of the neck shall be flared to a diameter of not less than ten millimeters.

Bulb—The capacity of the bulb up to the junction of the neck shall not be less than forty-five cubic centimeters. The shape of the bulb may be either cylindrical or conical with the smallest diameter at the bottom. If cylindrical the outside diameter shall be between thirty-four and thirty-six millimeters; if conical, the outside diameter of the base shall be between thirty-one and thirty-three millimeters and the maximum diameter between thirty-five and thirty-seven millimeters.

The charge of the bottle shall be nine grams. All bottles shall bear on top of the neck above the graduations, in plain legible characters, a mark defining the weight of the charge to be used (9 grams).

The total height of the bottle shall be two hundred ten to two hundred thirty-five millimeters (eight and one-fourth to nine and one-quarter inches) and the maximum error in the total graduation or in any part thereof shall not exceed fifty per cent of the volume of the smallest unit of the graduation.

The fifty per cent, eighteen gram, long-neck bottle. The same specifications in every detail as specified for the fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle, shall apply, with the exception that the charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams, and the mark defining the weight of the charge placed at the top of the neck shall be eighteen.

The total length of the standard Babcock pipette shall be not more than three hundred thirty millimeters (thirteen and one-fourth inches). Outside diameter of suction tube, six to eight millimeters. Length of suction tube, one hundred thirty millimeters. Outside diameter of delivery tube four and five-tenths to five and five-tenths millimeters. The length of delivery tube one hundred to one hundred twenty millimeters. Distance of graduation mark above bulb, thirty to sixty millimeters. Nozzle straight. Delivery seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters of water at twenty degrees centigrade in five to eight seconds.

The sensibility of all scales used for weighing cream samples into the test bottles shall be not more than thirty milligrams and the standard weights shall be nine grams and eighteen grams.

In all testing of milk or cream where the same is received or purchased upon the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, the Babcock tester shall be operated at the proper speed, which is as follows:

For tester with diameter of fourteen inches the speed shall be between eight hundred twenty-five and nine hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of sixteen inches, the speed shall be between eight hundred twenty-five and eight hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of eighteen inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred seventy-five and eight hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of twenty inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred twenty-five and seven hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with a diameter of twenty-four inches, the speed shall be between five hundred seventy-five and six hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 300.]

This section was added June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1659. The old section 27 was repealed June 1, 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1657.

§ 30a. Rules and standards for marketing. The following rules and standards must be observed by all persons, firms or corporations engaged in the preparation of dairy products for market or delivery thereto:

(1) The owner's name, or other identification mark, the nature of which shall be made known to the dairy inspectors shall appear permanently and in a conspicuous place on or be attached to every milk or cream bottle, can or container.

(2) All milk, cream and ice-cream cans, bottles and containers shall be kept clean and shall be thoroughly washed and sterilized after each using. [New section approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 284.]

§ 30b. Standards for carriers. All carriers of dairy products, whether producer, gratuitous private carrier other than the producer, private carrier for hire, or common carrier, in transporting milk and cream shipping containers shall observe and maintain the following standard:

(1) All cars or other vehicles, while hauling milk or cream, shall be kept clean and all containers shall be so covered as to protect the milk or cream at all times from dust and from the rays of the sun.

(2) All milk or cream cans or other shipping containers, while containing milk, cream, or other dairy products, shall be handled carefully, and kept right end up.

(3) Every vehicle, railway car or boat in which milk or cream is transported shall be kept in a sanitary condition. Every vehicle and every boat transporting milk or cream either shall be inclosed or shall provide canvas covering to protect the milk and cream at all times from the sun or from the outside warm air, except only while taking on or discharging freight. No fowls, fresh meat or other contaminating things shall be kept or carried on top or in close proximity to milk, cream, or other dairy products.

(4) No milk or cream and no empty cans, bottles or other containers shall be hauled in any vehicle for hauling manure or garbage or in any other unclean vehicle, car or boat.

(5) Nothing herein shall be construed to derogate from any powers or authority of the railroad commission of the state of California. [New section approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 284.]

§ 30c. Rules for assembled dairy products. Persons producing or marketing assembled dairy products must conform to the following rules: All the ingredients used in the process of assembling must conform to all the standards of purity set for such ingredients and must have been produced under the same sanitary conditions and regulations required for the production of milk and cream where such products are sold, and such products must be labeled as herein provided for assembled products in imitation of milk, cream and ice-cream.

All assembled dairy products to which has been added any condensed or evaporated milk, or any condensed or evaporated skimmed milk, or any dry milk or milk powder or any skimmed milk or skimmed powder or any butter or sweet butter or dairy products that have been produced by the mechanical assembling of any of the natural ingredients of milk or cream, shall be so labeled on each container thereof with the words "Assembled from milk, butter, milk powder, skim milk or other milk products," as the case may be, correctly naming on the label, bill of sale, invoice and bill of fare, all the ingredients used in such assembled goods, in plain letters of the English language at least one-eighth of an inch in height; and no other names or prefixes shall be used than those by which such ingredients are separately known to the commercial trade. [New section approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 284.]

§ 30d. Penalties. Any person who violates any provision of section thirty c of this act or who directs or knowingly permits an employee to violate any of said provisions, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Any firm, corporation, society or association which violates any of said provisions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined as above provided.

In the event an officer, director, manager or managing agent of any firm, corporation, society, or association violates any of the provisions of section thirty c of this act, or directs or knowingly permits any employee to violate any of said provisions, such officer, director, manager or managing agent shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine or imprisonment or both as above provided; and, in such a case, the firm, corporation, society or association shall also be guilty and upon conviction shall be fined as above provided. One-half of all such fines shall be paid into the state treasury and placed to the credit of the general fund. [New section approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 285.]

§ 35. Branding cheese. Dairy bureau to issue brands. Grades of cheese defined. Unlawful to sell without brand. Every person, firm or corporation who shall manufacture cheese in the state of California, shall at the place of manufacture, brand distinctly and durably on each and every cheese manufactured, and upon the package or box, when shipped, the grade of cheese manufactured, as follows: "full-cream cheese," or "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese."

All brands for branding the different grades of cheese shall be procured from the state dairy bureau, and said bureau is hereby directed and authorized to issue to all persons, firms or corporations, upon application therefor, uniform brands, consecutively numbered, of the different grades specified in this section. The state dairy bureau shall keep a record of each and every brand issued, and the name and location of the manufacturer receiving the same. No manufacturer of cheese in the state of California other than the one to whom such brand is issued, shall use the same, and in case of a change of location, the party shall notify the bureau of such change.

The different grades of cheese are hereby defined as follows: First: Such cheese only as shall have been manufactured from pure milk, and from which no portion of the butter fat has been removed by skimming or otherwise, and having not less than fifty per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "full-cream cheese." Second: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure milk, and having not less than twenty-five per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "half-skim cheese." Third: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure skim milk, which shall be conspicuously branded as "skim cheese."

No person or persons, firm, association or corporation shall sell or offer for sale in this state any cheese which is not branded either "full-cream cheese," "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese," in accordance with its butter fat content. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1656.]

§ 42. Disposition of fines. One-half of all the fines imposed for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the county in which the fine is imposed. The other one-half shall be paid to the state treasurer and shall become part of the general fund. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1657.]

TITLE 81.

CALIFORNIA REDWOOD PARK.

ACT 508.

An act providing for the enlargement of the California redwood park, making an appropriation for the purchase of additional land therefor, and granting power to the California redwood park commission to purchase the same.

§ 1. Appropriation: enlargement of California redwood park. The sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, and which shall be used for the purchase by the California redwood park commission of land contiguous to the California redwood park suitable for the enlargement of said park. Said appropriation shall be available at the rate of fifteen thousand dollars a year.

§ 2. Power of park commission to purchase land. The California redwood park commission shall have the power to purchase said land, or any portion thereof, as in its judgment shall seem most suitable for an addition to and enlargement of said California redwood park, considering the protection of said California redwood park from forest fires, and the conserving of the headwaters of the streams draining said California redwood park, and of the stand of timber or trees of the species known as Sequoia sempervirens on said lands to be purchased; or it may proceed by action at law to condemn the same, or any portion thereof.

§ 3. Examination of abstracts of title. No payment of any part of said sum shall be made until an abstract or abstracts of title shall have been furnished to the attorney general of the state of California, showing that the lands purchased, and the whole thereof, are free from any valid liens or encumbrances thereon, and it is hereby made the duty of said attorney general to examine said abstract or abstracts of title and render and deliver to said commission his opinion in writing, certifying that no valid liens or encumbrances exist thereon and that the title to said lands, and the whole thereof, is good and valid. Said opinion of the attorney general, together with said abstract or abstracts of title shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

TITLE 82.

CALIFORNIA SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

ACT 511b.

An act to establish a state training school for girls; to provide for the maintenance and management of the same, and to make an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 14, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 857.]

Amended 1915, p. 53; 1917, p. 473.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Penalty for aiding escapes. Any person who knowingly permits or aids any inmate of the California School for Girls to escape therefrom or conceals her with the intent of enabling her to elude pursuit, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any fugitive from said school, or from the parties with whom she has been placed on parole, may be arrested and returned to said school by any person, upon the written order of the superintendent thereof. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 474.]

§ 3. Officers of board of trustees. The board of trustees shall elect annually a president, a vice-president and a secretary, whose terms of office shall be one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. No one but a member of the board shall be elected president or vice-president thereof. The board shall appoint a superintendent, not of their own number, who shall be a woman qualified by training and experience for the character of work to be done at this school, and fix her salary at not to exceed three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. Such superintendent shall hold office at the pleasure of the board. [Amendment approved May 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 473.]

TITLE 83.

CALIFORNIA STATE REFORMATORY.

ACT 512a.

An act providing for the control and management of a tract of land owned by the state of California and situated in the county of Napa, in said state.

§ 1. Board of control to manage land in Napa county. The board of control of the state of California is hereby authorized and directed to take charge of, manage and farm for the use and benefit of the state and its institutions, all of that certain tract of land with all improvements and appurtenances thereto attached, and formerly known as the "Fry Ranch," which said tract of land is situated near the town of Rutherford in the county of Napa, state of California, and being that certain property purchased by the state under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California entitled: "An act to establish the California state reformatory; to provide for the purchase of land therefor, and the construction of buildings and other improvements in connection therewith; to provide for the commitment and transfer of prisoners thereto and therefrom; to provide for the equipment, conduct and management thereof; and to make an appropriation therefor," approved April 24, 1911.

§ 2. Use of water. Said board of control shall have power to take and conduct therefrom for the use and benefit of the state of California such quantity of water as may be determined by the state engineer to be necessary for the use of the Veterans' Home at Yountville and the Napa State Hospital, both in the county of Napa, and to acquire rights of way by purchase, lease or condemnation for such purpose.

§ 3. Use for agricultural purposes. In carrying out the provisions of this act the board of control shall have power if it shall be deemed advisable, to co-operate with the governing board of any state institution for the purpose of utilizing said property for agricultural or horticultural purposes or as a stock or dairy farm and to transfer to and maintain upon said property any stock, cattle, cows, or other animals now owned or hereafter acquired by any of such institutions and to distribute to such institutions by arrangement therewith the product of said property or of the animals maintained thereon.

§ 4. Prisoners, etc., not to be kept on property. From and after the passage of this act, no person shall be committed by any court to imprisonment or confinement upon said property in the county of Napa, and no prisoner from any state prison or reformatory, and no patient from any state hospital for the insane, shall be transferred to, kept, housed or retained upon said property by the state board of control, or by the superintendent or governing officer or board of any such institution.

TITLE 85.

CALIFORNIA STATUTES.

ACT 515.

An act providing for the publication of an index of the laws of California, and making an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Index to laws of California. The legislative counsel is hereby directed to prepare for publication and the superintendent of state printing is hereby directed to print, bind and distribute in accordance with the directions hereof, two thousand copies of an index of the constitution and laws of this state, including the laws enacted by the legislature at its forty-third session.

§ 2. Distribution. One copy of said index shall be distributed to each member of the legislature and to each state officer, and the balance of the copies printed shall be offered for sale to the public at a price sufficient to cover the cost of publication and distribution, all receipts to be paid into the state treasury.

§ 3. Appropriation. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, there is hereby appropriated the sum of six thousand dollars to carry out the provisions hereof.

For former acts, see Stats. 1893, p. 150, and Stats. 1907, p. 572.

TITLE 89a.

CARQUINEZ STRAITS.

ACT 542b.

An act providing for the disposition of certain property.

[Approved April 21, 1851. Stats. 1851, p. 305.]

Amended 1917; 1917, p. 193.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Leases limited to fifty years. The said property above described, and the proceeds thereof, shall be disposed of by the trustees of said town and their successors in office for the improvement of the said town, and for the benefit of commerce, by the construction of wharves, piers, and docks, and otherwise; provided, that these lands may be leased for a period not exceeding fifty years, subject to all of said uses and trusts. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 193.]

TITLE 90. CEMETERIES.

ACT 545.

An act to protect public health from infection caused by exhumation and removal of the remains of deceased persons.

[Approved April 1, 1878. Stats. 1877-78, p. 1050.]

Amended 1889, p. 130; 1917, p. 36.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Provisions for disinterring remains. Permits to disinter or exhume the bodies or remains of deceased persons, as in the last section, may be granted; provided, the person applying therefor shall produce a certificate from the coroner, registrar, the physician who attended such deceased person, or other physician in good standing cognizant of the facts, which certificate shall state the cause of death or disease of which the person died, and also the age and sex of such deceased; and provided, further, that the body or remains of deceased shall be inclosed in a metallic case or coffin, sealed in such manner as to prevent, as far as practicable, any noxious or offensive odor or effluvia escaping therefrom, and that such case or coffin contains the body or remains of but one person, except where the infant children of the same parent or parents, or parent and children are contained in such case or coffin. And the permit shall contain the above conditions and the words "Permit to remove and transport the body of —, age —, sex —," and the name, age, and sex shall be written therein. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 36.]

TITLE 95. CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

ACT 576.

An act making provision for registration of and for publicity concerning the affairs of any charity for the support of which an appeal is made to the public, and prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof.

§ 1. Registration of charities. In any county or city and county in this state it shall be unlawful to make any appeal to the public for a charity either by soliciting donations or subscriptions or by promoting any bazaar, sale or exhibition, or by any similar means, unless the charity is registered with the county board of public welfare.

§ 2. Information given. For the purposes of this act, any charity may be registered with the county board of public welfare upon the giving of such information in respect to the conduct of its affairs as may be necessary to enable the board properly to investigate the charity. If the board of public welfare approves or disapproves of the proposed appeal to the public in a particular case, such approval or disapproval with the reasons therefor shall be entered in a separate book with the records of the board, and shall be open to public inspection. Such an approval shall not be deemed a guarantee or indorsement as to the proper conduct of the affairs of a charity, but it is hereby authorized for the purpose of making such information available to the public whenever an appeal is made.

§ 3. Registration with board of supervisors. In any county or city and county in which there is no board of public welfare, the registration herein provided for shall be made with the board of supervisors, and this board shall exercise the powers and duties hereby conferred or imposed upon the board of public welfare.

§ 4. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 5. Exceptions. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the solicitation of gifts, contributions or donations for religious purposes; or for the specific personal aid of any particular individual or individuals; or for the meeting of extraordinary emergencies or calamities where time is of the essence of merited succor and relief.

TITLE 101.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

ACT 606.

An act to provide for a general system, based upon investigation as to merit, efficiency and fitness, for appointment to and holding during good behavior of office and employment under state authority and, in that behalf, to create a state civil service commission, to prescribe its powers and duties, to make the willful violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor, to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith in so far as they may be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1338.

The amendments of 1919 follow:

§ 1. Definitions of terms. First—The term "commission" as used in this act means the "state civil service commission" herein created, and the term "commissioner" as used in this act means one of the three members of that commission, all unless such terms are plainly used with some other meaning.

Second—The terms "position" and "positions" as used in this act include all offices and employments under state authority, whether there be any salary or other compensation or emolument connected therewith, except offices held by elective officers as such and also except the militia and all offices and employments as now or hereafter provided by virtue of or under article eight of the constitution of the state, and except county and township offices and employments.

Third—The term "appointing power" as used in this act includes all persons whether acting singly or in conjunction with others in any way whatsoever, either by nomination or confirmation or as a board or commission or otherwise, in selecting any one to hold any position as that term is so used in this act.

Fourth—The term "appointment" as used in this act includes all means of selecting and employing any one to hold any position as that term is so used in this act. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1338.]

§ 3. Employees. The commission shall employ a chief examiner and secretary, which offices may be combined, and such other employees as it may deem necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of this act. Their compensation shall be fixed by the commissioner, and they may be paid necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties. The duties of the chief examiner, secretary and other employees shall be prescribed by the commission, subject to the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the secretary to keep the minutes of the meetings of the commission and perform such other services as may be assigned him by the commission. The commission may select suitable persons to assist in examinations under its direction. The compensation of such assistants shall not exceed five dollars per day, except in the case of special and expert examiners employed in the preparation of questions and rating of candidates; and when the persons so selected are in the official service of the state it shall be deemed a part of their official duty to serve as such assistants without additional compensation. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1338.]

§ 4. Office accommodations. The commission is authorized to secure in the city of Sacramento suitable and convenient rooms and accommodations and cause the same to be furnished, heated and lighted, for carrying on the work of the commission and the commission may order the necessary stationery, postage stamps, and official seal and other articles to be supplied, and the necessary printing to be done for its official use.

§ 5. Duties of commission. The commission shall:

Classify and grade positions. First—Classify positions to be held under state authority in accordance with the provisions of this act and in accordance with the duties attached to such positions. The commission shall grade all positions within each class with respect to salaries, to the end that like salaries shall be paid for like duties. Such classes and grades may from time to time be amended, added to, consolidated or abolished by the commission, but persons holding positions under the original classification or grade shall not be affected thereby; provided, that no person otherwise competent shall be excluded from any class on account of any physical defect or affliction unless such defect or affliction tends directly to incapacitate such person from performing the services required of that class, and that when any per-with any such physical defect or affliction which does not tend to incapacitate such person from performing the duties required of persons in that class has been appointed to a position, such person shall be placed in a different grade as to salaries from other persons in the same class.

With examinations. Second—Hold examinations to determine the fitness of persons or applicants for positions, and prepare lists from applicants so examined.

At each examination shall be prepared under the supervision of the commission or chief examiner and delivered to the examination by one of the commissioners or chief examiner or by an examiner specially designated to perform such duties.

Enforce act. Third—Enforce the provisions of this act and prescribe and enforce suitable rules and regulations for carrying the same into effect and from time to time amend and repeal the same.

Keep minutes. Fourth—Keep minutes of its own proceedings, and records of its examinations and other official actions.

Efficiency records. Fifth—Records of individual efficiency of holders of positions in performing their duties must be established and posted monthly in all offices and places of employment affected by this act. Such records shall be made by the appointing power, unless otherwise directed by the commission, and under and in accordance with such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, and a copy of such records shall be filed with the commission. The commission shall investigate all such efficiency records and may make its own records, and shall rate upon such records the item of "ascertained merit" in examinations for promotion. The commission shall establish and enforce rules and regulations under which records of unsatisfactory service may lead to reduction in grade and compensation of the person holding the position concerned, and shall further provide for the manner in which persons falling below the standards of efficiency fixed by its rules and regulations may be removed from their positions by the commission proceeding substantially as provided in this act and with the same effect as in case of removals by the appointing power.

Make investigations. Sixth—Make investigations concerning and report upon all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder; inspect all state institutions, offices, places of employment and services affected by this act, and ascertain whether this act and all such rules and regulations are obeyed. Such investigation may be made by any commissioner, or chief examiner, or by any other authorized agent of the commission. In the course of such investigation any commissioner, or chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission, or the secretary of the commission, shall have power to administer oaths, subpoena and require the attendance in this state of witnesses and the production thereby of books, papers, documents and accounts appertaining to the investigation but not requiring the attendance of witnesses either with or without books, papers, documents or accounts unless residing within the same county or within thirty miles of the place of attendance.

Rules governing hearing. Compelling witnesses to appear. Depositions. Witnesses not excused from testifying. Seventh—All hearings and investigations before the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission shall be governed by this act and by rules of practice and procedure to be adopted by the commission and in the conduct thereof neither the commission nor any commissioner nor the chief examiner nor such other authorized agent of the commission shall be bound by the technical rules of evidence. No informality in any proceeding or in the manner of taking testimony before the commission or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission shall invalidate any order, decision, rule or regulations made, approved or confirmed by the commission. The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held by the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of books, papers, documents and accounts, as required by any subpoena issued by the commission, or any commissioner, or such other authorized agent of the commission or the secretary. The commission, or the commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or the production of such books, papers, documents, or accounts, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce such books or papers or documents or accounts required by the subpoena, before the commission, or the commissioner, or the chief examiner, or such other authorized agent of the commission, in the matter named in the notice and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such proceedings, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce such books or papers or documents or accounts before the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission. The court, upon the petition of the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission, or such commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or other authorized agent of the commission, or the secretary, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission, or such commissioner, or the chief examiner or any other authorized agent of the commission at the time and place fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required books, papers, documents and accounts, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. The remedy provided in this section is cumulative, and shall not be construed to impair or interfere with the power of the commission, or a commissioner, or the chief examiner or any such other authorized agent of the commission to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, documents and accounts.

The commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, documents and accounts.

No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, paper, document or account in any investigation or inquiry by or hearing before the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or such other authorized agent of the commission, when ordered to do so, upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, paper, document or account required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture, but no person shall be prosecuted, punished or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter or thing concerning which he shall, under oath, have testified or produced documentary evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any manner giving to any person immunity of any kind otherwise than is herein expressly provided.

Biennial report. Eighth.—Make a biennial report to the governor for transmission to the legislature, showing the action of the commission, including all the rules and regulations adopted by it during such period and those that are in force at the time of making such report, information as to exempted positions as required by this act and the effects of this act and of all proceedings under it and any suggestions the commission or any commissioner may deem practical for the more effectual accomplishment of the purposes of this act.

Meetings. Ninth.—Meet at Sacramento as often as the needs of the public service may require, and at such other places as the commission may designate. A majority of the members of the commission shall constitute a quorum. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1339.]

§ 6. Duty of state officers. It shall be the duty of all persons subject to the authority of the state in that behalf (including all state officers and employees of all state institutions of every kind and character) to aid in all proper ways in carrying into effect the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed from time to time thereunder and especially, at the request of the commission, to allow the commission the reasonable use of public buildings and to heat and light the same for the purpose of making examinations of applicants and investigations as provided by this act. Everyone subject to the authority of the state in that behalf shall afford to the commission and its members and employees all reasonable facilities and give inspection of all books, papers, documents and accounts applying or in any way appertaining to any and all offices subject to the authority of the state in that behalf, and shall also produce said books, papers, documents and accounts, and shall attend and testify when required to do so by the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner, or the secretary or any other authorized agent of the commission. The attorney general shall advise and assist the commission, and the district attorneys of the counties shall prosecute violations of this act. The commission may employ special counsel. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1343.]

§ 7. Appointments to be under act. Exceptions. Position may be declared exempt. The appointing power in all cases not excepted or exempted under the provisions of this act, or by virtue of the provisions of the constitution of the state, shall fill positions by appointment, including cases of transfers, reinstatements, promotions and reductions, in strict accordance with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed from time to time hereunder, and not otherwise. Except only and to the extent that the appointing power otherwise requests as hereinafter provided, the positions held in the following specified classes are excepted from such method of appointment:

First—Appointees of the legislature and one person holding a position having a confidential relation whether as secretary or clerk or stenographer to each such appointee.

Second—Appointees of the governor and one person holding a position having a confidential relation, whether as secretary or clerk or stenographer to each such appointee.

Third—The chief deputy of and also one person holding a position having a confidential relation whether as secretary or clerk or stenographer to an elective officer.

Fourth—The secretary or executive officer, or both, and also the attorney and one stenographer of any board or commission appointed by the legislature or governor or elected by the electors, and all stenographers in the superior and appellate courts.

Fifth—The assistant and deputies of the attorney general and all special attorneys for boards and officers.

Sixth—The members of the appointing board of and any chief in any legislative reference or counsel bureau and one person holding a confidential relation to each such chief.

Seventh—One warden for each of the state prisons.

Eighth—One superintendent for each of the state reformatories, state hospitals or other state charitable or correctional institutions; also the parole officers for the state prisons, Preston School of Industry and Whittier State School.

Ninth—Persons employed by the University of California and the state normal schools, and the teaching force of the elementary, secondary, trades and technical schools.

Tenth—Persons engaged in work done by co-operation between the state and federal governments.

Eleventh—The state librarian, the chief deputy or assistant state librarian and also one person holding a position having a confidential relation to the state librarian, and appointees under provisions for court, law, teachers, school and county libraries.

Twelfth—The secretary, chief accountant and children's agents of the state board of control.

Thirteenth—The employees of the state railroad commission.

Fourteenth—Superintendents, chiefs, and heads of departments.

All provided that at any time any vacancy in any position in any of the above specified fourteen excepted classes may be filled by the appointing power in the manner provided by this act, in which case the person appointed shall hold, during the tenure of office of said appointing power, such position under the tenure of good behavior and subject to the provisions of this act as if that position had not been so excepted, but upon such appointee ceasing to hold such position that position shall be open as in such excepted class. Upon such appointee ceasing to hold such office by reason of the termination of the tenure of office of said appointing power, said appointee shall be restored to place upon the eligible lists in accordance with such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe in that behalf. Any position subject to the provisions of this act may be declared exempted by resolution passed by concurrence of the three commissioners. Such resolution shall state separately the reasons for each exemption. Not more than one appointment shall be made to or under any position covered by such resolution unless permission to appoint a different number is given therein. Any exception thus made may be terminated at any time by resolution of the commission. Appointments to exempted positions shall be reported immediately to the commission. The names of each exempted position and the names of the incumbent and the reason for each exemption shall be stated in the biennial reports of the commission. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1343.]

§ 8. Rules for classification of positions. Within three months after the commission is constituted, it shall make rules for the classification of positions to be held under state authority to be provided by this act, and subject to the provisions of this act; such rules shall govern appointments, transfers, reinstatements, promotions, reductions and removals, and examination of applicants, and the commission may amend such rules from time to time. Such rules shall be printed for public distribution. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1344.]

§ 10. Character of examinations. Preliminary requirements. Application blanks. May refuse to examine. Appointing power may require bond. The examinations shall be practical in their character, and shall relate to those matters which will fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined to discharge the duties of the positions they seek. Applicants for positions in the mechanical trades and occupations may, in the discretion of the commission, be rated solely on experience and physical qualifications which may be determined by such evidence and in such manner as the commission may direct; and such applicants may be submitted to such further tests as the commission may require. The commission shall prepare lists of preliminary requirements and subjects of examinations for the several positions, and shall publish its rules and regulations and such information and advertise such examinations in such manner as the nature of the examination may require. The commission, except as may be otherwise provided in the case of laborers, shall require an applicant to file in its office, in accordance with its rules and regulations, a reasonable length of time before the date of examination, a formal application filled out in his own handwriting. Blank forms of such application shall be furnished by said commission without charge to all persons requesting the same. The commission may require in connection with applications, including laborers, such certificates of citizens, physicians, public officers or others having knowledge of the applicant, as the good of the service may require. The commission may refuse to examine or after examination to certify as eligible, anyone who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit to perform the duties of the position to which he seeks appointment, or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; or who has been guilty of a crime or of infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has intentionally made a false statement of any material facts, or practiced, or attempted to practice any deception or fraud in his application, in his examination, or in securing his eligibility. Any person appointed to a position under the provisions of this act who has secured his place on the eligible list through fraud shall be removed by the commission from his position and shall not thereafter be eligible for examination for any position under the provisions of this act except by unanimous permission of the commission. When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing power may require the appointee to furnish a reasonable bond or other security, and shall notify the commission of the amount and necessary details thereof. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1345.]

§ 11. Temporary appointments. When there is no eligible list from which a position may be filled, the appointing power may, with the consent of the commission, fill such position by temporary appointment; and such temporary appointment shall not continue for a longer period than three months, nor shall successive temporary appointments be made to the same position under this section without the previous consent of the commission, and in no case shall any person hold a position under such successive temporary appointments for a longer period than six months without the unanimous consent of the commission. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1346.]

§ 12. Emergency appointments. The commission shall establish rules and regulations under which emergency appointments may be made when those on the eligible lists are not immediately available, and for the time for which such emergency appointments shall be valid; and may fix a different time for different counties or cities and counties of the state for which such emergency appointments shall be valid. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1346.]

in a lower grade of the department, office or institution in which the vacancy exists. Promotion shall be based upon merit and competition and upon the superior qualifications of the person promoted as shown by his records of efficiency. For the purposes of this section an increase in the salary or other compensation of any person holding an office or position within the scope of the rules and regulations in force hereunder beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such office and position is classified, shall be deemed a promotion. The commission may authorize the transfer of any person legally holding a position to a similar position in the same class or grade, and may provide for the reinstatement within one year of persons separated from positions without fault or delinquency on their part, if within that time there is need for their services. No promotion, transfer or reinstatement shall be made from a position in one class to a position in another class, nor shall a person be transferred to or reinstated in a position for original entrance to which there is required by this act or the rules and regulations thereunder an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1346.]

§ 15. Employment of laborers. The commission shall provide by rule for the employment of laborers in the labor class in the order of priority of application for employment. There shall be separate lists of applicants for different kinds of labor, and the commission may provide separate labor registration lists for departments, institutions, districts or localities. The commission may require an applicant for registration to pass such examination as they may deem proper with respect to his age, residence, physical condition, ability to labor, skill, capacity and experience. The commission shall establish such time as it may deem expedient for the duration of eligible lists in the labor class. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1346.]

§ 16. Reports of appointees, etc. Official roster. It shall be the duty of each appointing power to report to the commission forthwith upon each appointment the name of the appointee, the title or character of the position, the date of the commencement of such service, and the salary or compensation therefor, and to report from time to time, and upon the date of official action in, or knowledge of each case, any separation of the person from the position, or other changes, and such other information as the commission may require in order to keep the roster hereinafter mentioned. The commission shall keep in its office an official roster of all persons holding positions under the provisions of this act and shall enter thereon the name of each and every person who has been appointed to, promoted, reduced, transferred, reinstated or removed from or left any position and require such evidence as it may deem satisfactory as to whether such person was appointed to, promoted, reduced, transferred, reinstated or removed from such position in accordance with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations of the commission thereunder and as to when and why and how such person was otherwise separated from such position. The official roster shall show opposite, or in connection with, each name, the date of appointment, promotion, reduction, transfer or reinstatement, the compensation of the position, the date of commencement of service and change in or separation from position and when and why and how there was such change or separation. The names of all persons holding positions at the time of the taking effect of this act which if vacant would be filled under the provisions of this act shall be certified to the commission by the appointing power that could then so fill such position if vacant, and such names shall be entered in said roster, and thereupon shall be deemed appointed under the provisions of this act and persons then holding such positions who have served in such positions a less period than one year and more than sixty days from the date of the classification of such positions as required by this act shall be deemed to be serving the probationary period, and persons who have served in such positions for less than such sixty days shall be deemed temporary appointees. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1347.]

§ 17. Certification of pay-rolls. It shall be unlawful for the controller or other fiscal officer of the state to draw, sign, issue, or authorize the drawing, signing, or issuing of any warrant on the treasurer or other disbursing officer of the state for the payment of, or for the treasurer or other disbursing officer to pay any salary or compensation to anyone holding any position under the provisions of this act unless the estimate, pay-roll or account for such salary or compensation, containing the name of the person to be paid, shall bear the certificate of the commission that the persons named in such estimate, pay-roll or account are holding positions as provided by this act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder. Any sums paid contrary to the provisions of this section may be recovered from anyone making such appointment in violation of the provisions of this act and of the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder or from any officer signing, or countersigning, or authorizing the signing or countersigning of any warrant for the payment of the same, and from the sureties on his official bond in an action in any court of competent jurisdiction of this state maintained by a citizen resident therein, who is assessed for and is liable to pay, or within one year before the commencement of such action has paid, a tax therein. All moneys recovered in any action brought under the provisions of this section must, when collected, be paid into the treasury of the state, except that the plaintiff in any such action shall be entitled to receive for his own use the taxable costs of such action. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1347.]

§ 18. Penalty for false marking, grading, etc. Any commissioner or examiner, or any person who shall willfully by himself or in co-operation with one or more persons, defeat, deceive or obstruct any person in respect of his or her right of examination or registration, according to any rules or regulations prescribed pursuant to the provisions of this act, or who shall willfully and falsely mark, grade, estimate, or report upon the examination or proper standing of any person examined, registered, or certified pursuant to the provisions of this act, or aid in so doing, or who shall willfully make any false representation concerning the same, or concerning the person examined, or who shall willfully furnish to any person any special or secret information for the purpose of either improving or injuring the prospects or chances of any person so examined, registered, or certified, or to be examined, registered, or certified, or who shall personate any other person, or permit or aid in any manner any other person to personate him, in connection with any examination or registration or application or request to be examined or registered, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1348.]

§ 19. Soliciting prohibited. No officer, agent, clerk or employee, under the government of the state shall, directly or indirectly, solicit or receive, or be in any manner concerned in soliciting or receiving, any assessment, subscription, contribution or political service, whether voluntary or involuntary, for any political purpose whatever, from anyone on the eligible lists or holding any position under the provisions of this act.

Every officer, agent, clerk or employee under the government of the state who may have charge or control in any building, office, or room occupied for any purpose of said government is hereby authorized to prohibit the entry of any person, and he shall not permit any person to enter the same, for the purpose of therein making, collecting, receiving or giving notice of any political assessment, subscription or contribution, and no person shall enter, or remain in any said building, office or room, or send or direct any letter or other notice thereto, for the purpose of giving notice of, demanding, or collecting a political assessment, subscription or contribution, nor shall any person therein give notice of, demand, collect or receive, any such assessment, subscription or contribution contrary to the provisions of this section. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1349.]

§ 20. Promise of advancement for political influence prohibited. No one, while holding any public office, or in nomination for, or while seeking a nomination or appointment for, any public office, shall use or promise to use, whether directly or indirectly, any official authority or influence (whether then possessed or merely anticipated) in the way of conferring upon any person, or in order to secure or aid any person in securing any position under the provisions of this act, either in nomination, confirmation, promotion, or increase in salary, or as to any change in any such position, upon a consideration or condition that the vote or political influence or action of the last-named person or any other, shall be given or used in behalf of any candidate, officer or party, or upon any other corrupt condition or consideration. And no one, being a public officer, or in nomination for, or while seeking nomination or appointment for, any public office or having or claiming to have any authority or influence (whether then possessed or merely anticipated) for the securing or holding of or as to affecting any position under the provisions of this act, shall use, or promise or threaten to use, any such authority or influence, directly or indirectly, in order to coerce or persuade the vote or political action of any person on the eligible lists or holding any position under the provisions of this act. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1349.]

or other emolument of such position shall be approved or paid except upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1349.]

§ 22. Appointing power must pay persons accepting appointment in good faith. Any person acting in good faith in accepting appointment or employment contrary to the provisions of this act or of the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder, shall be paid by the appointing power the compensation promised by or on behalf of the appointing power or in case no compensation is so promised than the actual value of any service rendered and the expense incurred in good faith under such attempted appointment or employment, and shall have a cause of action against the appointing power for such sum or sums and for the costs of action. No public officer shall be reimbursed by the state or any of its instrumentalities for any sum so paid or recovered in such action. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1349.]

§ 23. Political or religious opinions not to be considered. No recommendation or question or inquiry under the authority of this act shall relate to the political or religious opinions or affiliations of any person, and no appointment or change in or removal from any position under the provisions of this act shall be in any manner affected or influenced by such opinions or affiliations. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1350.]

§ 24. Witness fees. Witnesses and officers to subpoena and secure the attendance of witnesses before the commission, or any commissioner, or the chief examiner or other authorized agent of the commission, shall be entitled to the same fees as are allowed witnesses in civil cases in courts of record. Such fees need not be prepaid, but the controller shall draw his warrant for the payment of the amount thereof when the same shall have been certified to by the commission and duly proved by affidavit or otherwise to the satisfaction of the controller. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1350.]

§ 25. Penalty. Any person willfully violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1350.]

§ 26. Veteran defined. The term "veteran" as used in this act means and includes any person who has served in the United States army, navy, marine corps, revenue marine service, or as an active nurse in the service of the American Red Cross or in the army and navy nurse corps, during or prior to the war between the United States and the Central European Powers and who has not been dishonorably discharged from such service. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1350.]

§ 27. Preference to veterans. When proper proof is presented to the state civil service commission that an applicant is a veteran, as defined in this act, and such veteran stands equal in percentage in any civil service examination for original entrance into the public service, with any other applicant or applicants taking the same examination, it shall be the duty of the state civil service commission to show such veteran preference by giving him the higher rank. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1350.]

§ 28. Purpose of act to give preference to veterans. It is the purpose of this act to give preference, in the manner set forth in the foregoing section, to all persons who have served the government and the people in the army, navy, marine corps, revenue marine service, or as active nurses in the American Red Cross or the army and navy nurse corps, and particularly to persons who have rendered such service during the Ally-Germanic war, the Spanish-American war, the Philippine insurrection, the Boxer uprising, the Indian wars, or the Civil war. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1350.]

§ 29. Interpretation by court. Whenever this act or any part or section thereof is interpreted by a court, it shall be liberally construed by such court. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1350.]

§ 30. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1351.]

§ 31. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1351.]

The amendatory act of 1919 also contained the following provision:

§ 6. Inasmuch as the United States military and naval forces are being demobilized and those who went into the federal service are suddenly returning in great numbers to their homes; and inasmuch as this act will assist them to re-employment, thereby simplifying the problems of reconstruction, it is hereby declared that this act is an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution of the state of California and that this act shall take effect immediately.

TITLE 106.

COLD STORAGE.

ACT 624.

An act relating to cold storage, the regulation of refrigerating warehouses, the disposition or sale of food kept or preserved therein, and defining the duties of the state board of health in relation thereto.

[Approved June 13, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 769.]

Amended 1915, p. 601; 1917, p. 152.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Application to operate cold storage plant. License fee. Restaurants, hotels, etc., excepted. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse wherein shall be stored

"articles of food" for a period exceeding thirty days, shall make application in writing to the state board of health for that purpose, stating the location of its plant or plants. On receipt of the application the state board of health shall cause an examination to be made into the sanitary condition of said plant or plants and if found to be in a sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for the business of cold storage, the state board of health shall cause a license to be issued authorizing the applicant to operate a cold storage or refrigerating warehouse for and during a period of one year. The license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee to the state board of health for each and every warehouse or plant operated by applicant under the provisions of this act for all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of ten thousand cubic feet, or less, a fee of fifteen dollars. For all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of more than ten thousand cubic feet and less than fifty thousand cubic feet, a fee of thirty dollars. For all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of more than fifty thousand cubic feet and less than one hundred thousand cubic feet, a fee of forty dollars. For all cold storage or refrigerating warehouses or plants having a capacity of one hundred thousand cubic feet or more, a fee of fifty dollars.

The secretary of the state board of health shall keep a full and correct account of all fees received under the provisions of this act, and shall, at least once each month, deposit all such fees collected with the state treasurer and make a detailed report covering same to the state controller, and such moneys shall be credited to the appropriation for the support of the pure food and drug laboratory; provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall apply to cold storage or cold storage or refrigerating plants or warehouses as herein defined which are maintained or operated by restaurants, hotels, or exclusively retail establishments not storing articles of food for other persons. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 152.]

§ 7. Dates of receipt and withdrawal marked on articles. All articles of food when deposited in cold storage shall be marked plainly on the containers in which they are packed or on the individual article with the date of receipt, in accordance with such rules and forms as may be prescribed by the state board of health, under the authority hereinafter conferred; and when removed from cold storage shall be marked in like manner with the date of withdrawal. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 153.]

CONSERVANCY DISTRICTS.

ACT 688.

An act to provide for the organization and government of conservancy districts for certain specified purposes; to provide for the issuance, sale and hypothecation of district bonds to pay the costs and expenses incurred in relation thereto, and to provide for the retirement of such bonds; to provide for the levying and collection of taxes to pay the annual installment of principal and interest on said bonds; to provide for levying and collecting special assessments for special benefits and to issue improvement warrants to represent such special assessments for special benefits; to provide for the effect and enforcement of such improvement warrants and the application of moneys derived from the enforcement thereof; and to provide a method of dissolving such districts.

§ 1. Title. Terms defined. Terms defined. This act may be known and cited as the "conservancy act of California"; the bonds which may be issued hereunder may be briefly called "conservancy bonds," and shall be so engraved or printed on their face; the districts created hereunder shall be briefly termed "conservancy districts" or "conservation districts"; the tax books and records provided for hereunder shall be termed "conservancy books" or "conservancy records," and such titles shall be printed, stamped or written thereon.

Wherever the term "publication" is used in this act and no manner specified therefor, it shall be taken to mean once a week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county wherein any part of the district is situated.

Wherever the term "assessment-roll" is used herein it shall be held to mean the "last" tax assessment-roll of the county.

Where the term "railroad commission" is used herein it shall be held to mean that certain state commission referred to in the public utilities act of the state of California.

Wherever the term "water commission" is used herein it shall be held to mean that certain commission of the state of California referred to in an "act to create the use of waters," etc., approved June 16, 1913, and when the "water commission act" is referred to it shall be held to mean said "act to create the use of waters," etc., approved June 16, 1913.

Wherever the term "state engineer" is used it shall be held to mean the department of engineering of the state of California. The chief engineer of said department shall be ex officio an engineer of any district formed under this act, and it shall be the duty of said department to supervise, examine and pass upon the plans and specifications of the district in the manner provided for herein.

Wherever the term "person" is used in this act, and not otherwise specified, it shall be taken to mean any person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation, other than county, city or other political subdivision. Similarly, the words "public corporation" shall be taken to mean counties, cities, school districts, road districts, protection districts, flood control districts, ditch districts, park districts, levee districts, and all other governmental agencies and political corporations clothed with the power of levying general or special taxes or general or special assessments which may be levied for local improvement purposes.

Wherever the term "board of supervisors" is used, and not otherwise specified, it shall be taken to mean the board of supervisors of the county wherein the petition for the organization of the district was filed and granted, and where a district lies in more than one county, the words "board of supervisors" shall mean the board of supervisors of all the counties sitting conjointly.

Wherever the word "board" is used and not otherwise specified, it shall mean the board of directors of the district.

Wherever the word "treasurer" or "treasurer of the district" is used, it shall mean ex officio the treasurer of the county with which the petition is filed, unless otherwise specified.

Wherever the term "secretary" is used it shall be held to mean the "secretary" of the district.

The word "clerk" unless otherwise specified shall mean the clerk of the district, who shall also be clerk of the board of directors.

Wherever the terms "land" or "property" are used in this act they shall, unless otherwise specified, be held to mean real property, as the words "real property" are used in and defined by the laws of the state of California, and shall embrace all railroads, tramroads, roads, electric railroads, street and interurban railroads, streets and street improvements, telephone, telegraph and transmission lines, gas, sewerage and water systems, pipe-lines and rights of way of public service corporations, and all other real property whether public or private.

Wherever the term "main county" is used herein, it shall be held to mean the county wherein the petition for formation of the district has been filed.

§ 2. Conservancy districts established by board of supervisors. Purposes. The board of supervisors of any county in this state is hereby vested with jurisdiction, power and authority, when the conditions stated in this act are found to exist, to establish conservancy districts, which may be entirely within unincorporated territory or partly within unincorporated and partly within incorporated territory, and either entirely within, or partly within and partly without, the county in which said board is located, for all or any of these objects and purposes:

- (a) Of preventing floods;
- (b) Of regulating ditches and water channels by changing, widening and deepening the same;
- (c) Of reclaiming or of filling or of draining wet, swamp and overflowed lands;
- (d) Of preventing or aiding the deposit of detritus and silt;
- (e) Of regulating the flow of streams;
- (f) Of constructing canals;
- (g) Of forestation or reforestation;
- (h) Of spreading and sinking flood water;
- (i) Of diverting in whole or in part eliminating watercourses; and incident to such purposes and to enable their accomplishment, to straighten, widen, deepen, divert, or change the course or terminus of, any natural or artificial watercourse;
- (j) To build reservoirs, canals, levees, walls, embankments, bridges, dams, bypasses or spreading basins; or sinking wells or sinking basins; to maintain, operate and repair any of the constructions herein named.
- (k) To conserve flood waters and to dispose of waters which have been conserved, for purposes of irrigation;
- (l) To construct and maintain levees and embankments for the prevention of damage by floods to real or personal property or real and personal property and to do all things for the fulfillment of the purposes of this act.

§ 3. Petition to establish district. Contents. Amendments. Evidence of ownership. Petition. Before any board of supervisors shall call an election to determine whether a district shall be established, and before a district shall be established as outlined in section two hereof, a petition shall be filed in the office of the clerk of said board of supervisors signed either by fifty freeholders, or by a majority of the freeholders, or by the owners of more than half of the property, in either acreage or assessed value, according to the last assessment-roll, within the limits of the territory proposed to be organized into a conservancy district under this act.

The petition shall set forth:

First—The proposed name of said district.

Second—The necessity for the proposed work and that it will be conducive to the public health, safety, convenience or welfare.

Third—A general description of the purpose of the contemplated improvement, and of the territory to be included in the proposed district. Said description of the territory to be included need not be given by metes and bounds, or by legal subdivisions, but it shall be sufficient if a generally accurate description is given of the territory to be organized as a district. Said territory need not be contiguous, provided it be so situated that the public health, safety, convenience or welfare will be promoted by the organization as a single district of the territory described.

Fourth—Said petition shall pray for the organization of the district by the name proposed.

No petition with the requisite signature shall be declared null and void on account of alleged defects, but the board of supervisors may at any time prior to the hearing thereof permit the petition to be amended in form and substance to conform to the facts, by correcting any errors in the description of the territory to be included, or in any other particular. Several similar petitions or duplicate copies of the same petition for the organization of the same district may be filed and shall together be regarded as one petition. All such petitions filed prior to the hearing on said petition shall be considered by the board of supervisors the same as though filed with the petition first placed on file.

In determining when a majority of land owners have signed the petition the board of supervisors shall be governed by the names as they appear upon the last tax assessment-roll prior to one day before the filing of said petition, which shall be prima facie evidence of such ownership.

§ 4. Bond. At the time of filing the petition, or at any time subsequent thereto and prior to the time of the hearing on said petition, a bond shall be filed running to the board of supervisors of the county in which the petition is filed, with security approved by the board of supervisors, sufficient to pay all the expenses connected with the proceeding in case the said board of supervisors refuses to organize the district. If at any time during the proceeding the said board of supervisors shall be satisfied that the bond first executed is insufficient in amount, it may require the execution of an additional bond within a time to be fixed to be not less than ten days distant, and upon the failure of the petitioners to execute the same the petition shall be dismissed.

§ 5. Notice of hearing. Jurisdiction of supervisors. Joint meeting. Hearing of objections. Lands included in district. Immediately after the filing of such petition, the clerk of the board of supervisors with whom such petition is filed shall cause notice by publication to be made of the pendency of the petition and of the time and place of the hearing thereon and of the hearing of objections to the formation of such district. The board of supervisors of the county in which the petition was filed, shall thereafter, for all purposes of this act, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, maintain and have original and exclusive jurisdiction coextensive with the boundaries and limits of said district and of lands and other property proposed to be affected by said district; provided, that where said district lies in more than one county the board of supervisors of the county where the petition is filed shall forthwith notify the board or boards of supervisors of other counties in which said district is situated by directing a letter and transmitting the same by mail to the clerk or clerks of said board or boards notifying said board or boards of that fact and setting a day for a joint meeting with said board or boards, whereupon said boards shall meet jointly for the purpose of hearing said petition and objections thereto, if any, and for the transaction of business, in the chambers of the board with whom the said petition was filed; provided, that said meetings from time to time may be continued, by mutual agreement, whereupon said boards shall sit cojointly thereafter for all purposes of this act, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, and maintain and have original and exclusive jurisdiction coextensive with the boundaries and limits of the district and of lands and other property proposed to be included in said district or affected by said district without regard to the usual limits of their jurisdiction. A majority of the members of the joint board shall constitute a quorum; provided, that in the event that the board of supervisors of any county in which a portion of the district lies, after having been given due notice, as herein provided, of the hearing for the formation of such district, who shall after having been given said notice fail to appear and participate, as a member, or members, of said joint board, shall be considered to have waived all right to participate in the deliberations of said board, and a majority of the supervisors representing the other county or counties in which said district lies, shall thereby automatically constitute the joint board of supervisors and shall have all jurisdiction and powers provided for said joint board of supervisors under this act. The clerk of the board of supervisors with whom the petition is filed, and all officers of the board with whom the petition is filed, shall be clerk and officers of the board sitting cojointly as herein specified. The act of the clerk of said board of supervisors transmitting said letter of notification shall be deemed the act of said board of supervisors so notifying. At the day set for said hearing all objections to said petition shall be heard by said board or joint board. Said board or joint board shall have and it is hereby given full discretion to approve or deny said petition by a majority vote of its members present. Its decision in the matter shall be final and conclusive except as to the matters hereinafter stated. Objections to said petition need not be in writing, but the determination of said board shall be in writing and entered upon the minutes of said board.

Said board shall at said hearing, if it approve said petition, determine what land or lands within said proposed district will be benefited by said proposed improvements, and said board may in its discretion change or alter the boundaries of said proposed district to conform to the needs of the district; provided, that they shall include therein only such land as will in their judgment be benefited by the proposed work or improvement; and provided, that they shall not include therein land not included within the proposed boundaries of the district set forth in the petition; and provided, that said board shall at said hearing or adjourned hearing define the boundaries of the proposed district. The findings of such board shall be conclusive upon the genuineness and sufficiency of the signatures to the petition and of the notice of the hearing.

§ 6. Election. Notice. Candidates for director. Conduct of election. One vote for each acre. Fraction of acre. Joint ownership. Unknown owners. Proxies. Canvass. Powers of district. Said board or joint board of supervisors, unless said petition be denied, must, if said lands of said district lie wholly within the county, within ten days after the determination of a hearing upon said petition, otherwise within thirty days after the termination of a hearing upon said petition, call an election within the proposed district for the determination of the question, whether such proposed district shall or shall not be organized and also to elect five persons who shall act as directors of the district for a term of four years in case such district be organized, and shall divide said district into convenient precincts and fix a polling place in each, and shall appoint three qualified electors in each precinct of said district to conduct said election; which election must be held within forty days from the date of said order.

Said election shall be called by posting notice thereof in three of the most public places in such county in said proposed conservancy district, and by publication in a daily or weekly paper in each of said counties, if there be one, at least once a week for not less than fifteen days. Said notices must specify the time, place or places and purposes of said election, give the boundaries of the said proposed conservancy district as determined at the hearing of the petition, designate the respective election precincts and the polling place in each and the election officers and the hours during which the polls will be kept open; provided, that the polls must be opened not later than eight o'clock A. M., and kept open until seven o'clock P. M.

It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to order placed upon the ballot the names of candidates for the position of director of the district who shall have been indorsed by a petition to said board of supervisors containing the names of ten or more electors of the district, petitioning that the names of candidates designated in the petition be placed upon the ballot to be voted on at such election; provided, however, that such petitions be filed with the board of supervisors calling said election within fifteen days after the first publication of the notice calling said election.

Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of this state so far as applicable, and except as herein otherwise provided, without reference to the form of the ballot or manner of voting, except that the ballots shall contain the words "for the formation of a conservancy district," and "against the formation of a conservancy district," and the voter shall write or print or stamp a cross after the words that indicate his choice, together with the number of votes he is entitled to cast therefor as hereinafter provided, and that said ballots shall also contain the names of all candidates for the position of director of the district, with instructions to the voter to vote for five of the candidates for said position whose names appear upon such ballot, with the right to vote for each of the five candidates selected by him the number of votes he is entitled to cast as hereinafter provided.

Each and every owner of land in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy, and shall have the right to cast one vote for each acre of real estate owned by him in the district, such ownership to be determined from the next preceding assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the lands of the district are situated, and the board shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified and furnished to the board of elections at each voting place, a true and correct copy of the entries upon said next preceding assessment-rolls so far as such assessment-rolls apply to any lands within such district, and to the extent of showing the name of the owner and the number of acres assessed to each such owner, and which said certified entries from said rolls shall be used by the board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast.

In calculating the number of acres owned by any voter any fraction of an acre in excess of the integral number owned by him shall be disregarded.

Where land is owned in joint undivided ownership, the votes shall be divided in accordance with the interests of each joint owner.

Where land is assessed to unknown owners, any person producing an affidavit of any searcher of records certifying the true ownership of such land at the date of the election, or at any time five days previous thereto, accompanied by an affidavit of the person certified to be the owner that he is the owner of the property at that time, said person so certified to be the owner shall be entitled to vote in like manner as if his name appeared upon the assessment-roll as above mentioned.

Where corporations or partnerships appear as the owners of properties the votes of such voters shall be cast by any person holding a proxy from such corporation or firm.

Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the vote of the estates represented by them.

No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property, and filed with the board of elections.

The election officer in delivering to each voter his ballot shall ascertain and write upon the ballot, the number of votes the holder of the ballot is entitled to cast, and in their canvassing returns shall see to it that the number of votes cast does not exceed the number of votes such voter was entitled to cast, but if there is an excess, the ballot shall not be disregarded or invalidated, but only the number which the voter was entitled to cast shall be counted.

It shall be the duty of the election officers to publicly canvass the votes immediately after the close of the election, and to make a report of the result of said election to the board of supervisors within five days subsequent to the holding thereof, who shall as soon as practicable proceed to canvass said returns.

If a majority of the votes cast at said election shall be in favor of a conservancy district, the said board of supervisors shall, by resolution, establish said conservancy district and proceed as herein otherwise stated.

If a majority of the votes cast shall be against the conservancy district, the board of supervisors shall by order so declare, and shall thereafter dismiss said proceedings by order and proceed to adjudge the cost against the signers of the petition or their bondsmen; no other proceedings shall be taken for the formation of a similar district until the expiration of one year from said election.

If the majority of votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a conservancy district, the board of supervisors shall canvass the returns of said election for the position of directors for the district and having determined upon the five candidates duly elected as directors shall by resolution declare them to be so duly elected and declare them to be the directors of the district for the ensuing term of four years and certificates of election shall be issued to them.

The fact of the presentation of the petition and the order establishing the conservancy district and the order declaring the five directors elected, shall be entered in the minutes of the board of supervisors of the main county, and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and that each of the petitioners was at the time of the signing the same and presentation of the petition an assessed freholder in the proposed district, and of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act, and of the existence and validity of the district. Should the office of any of said directors elected become vacant before his term of office expires, the same shall be filled by the board of directors for the unexpired term. On the expiration of the terms of said directors elected as herein specified, the supervisors shall again call an election in accordance with the provisions of this section to fill the offices so becoming vacant.

In said resolution establishing the district the board shall give said district a corporate name, which may or may not be the name designated in said petition, by which in all proceedings it shall thereafter be known, and thereupon the district shall be a political subdivision of the state of California, a body corporate with all the powers of a corporation, and shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession and existence.
2. To sue and to be sued in the name of said district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.
3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.
4. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise or lease, to hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real or personal property of every kind within or without such district necessary to the full exercise of its powers.

After an order is entered by the board of supervisors establishing the district, such order shall be deemed final and binding upon the property within the district and shall finally and conclusively establish the regular organization of the said district against all persons except the state of California upon suit commenced by the attorney general. Any such suit must be commenced within three months after said decree declaring such district organized as herein provided and not otherwise.

Upon the election and qualification of a board of directors as herein provided said board of directors shall designate the place where the office or principal place of business of the district shall be located, which shall be within the corporate limits of the district if practicable, and which may be changed by order of said board of directors from time to time. The regular meetings of the board of directors shall be held at such office or place of business, but for cause entered of record may be adjourned to any other convenient place. The official records and files of the district shall be kept at the office so established.

§ 7. Within thirty days after the said district has been duly established the clerk of the main county shall transmit to the secretary of state, and to the county recorder and the county clerk in each of the counties having lands in said district, copies of the resolution establishing said district. The same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state in the same manner as articles of incorporation are now required to be filed and recorded under the general law concerning corporations, and shall also be filed in the office of the county clerk of each county in which a part of the district may be, where they shall become permanent records; and the recorder in each county shall receive a fee of one dollar for filing and recording the same, and the secretary of state shall receive for filing and for recording said copies such fees as are now or hereafter may be provided by law for like services in similar cases. The expenses required for filing papers and all other incidental expenses to the organization of the district shall be paid from the general fund of the main county and shall be refunded by the district on demand.

§ 8. Oath of director. President and secretary. Each director before entering upon his official duties shall take and subscribe to an oath before a qualified officer that he will honestly, faithfully and impartially perform the duties of his office, and that he will not be interested directly or indirectly in any contract let by said district, which said oath shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of the main county. Upon taking the oath, the board of directors shall choose one of their number president of the board, and shall elect some suitable person secretary, who may or may not be a member of the board. Such board shall adopt a seal, and shall keep a record of all its proceedings, minutes of all meetings, certificates, contracts, bonds given by employees or contractors and all corporate acts, which record book shall be open to the inspection of all owners of property in the district, as well as to all other interested parties.

§ 9. Quorum. A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum, and a concurrence of at least three directors in any matter within their duties herein prescribed shall be valid as the act of the board.

§ 10. Duties of secretary. Chief engineer. Attorney. The secretary shall be the custodian of the records of the district and of its corporate seal and shall assist the board of directors in such particulars as said board may direct in the performance of its duties. It shall be the duty of the secretary to attest, under the corporate seal of the district, all certified copies of the official records and files of the district that may be required of him by the provisions of this act, or by any person ordering the same and paying the reasonable cost of transcription. And any portion of the record so certified and attested shall prima facie import verity. The board of directors shall also employ a chief engineer who may be an individual, copartnership, or corporation; an attorney, attorneys, and such other agents and assistants as may be needful; and may provide for their compensation, which, with all other necessary expenditures, shall be taken as a part of the cost of the improvement. The employment of the secretary, engineer and attorney for the district shall be evidenced by agreements in writing, which, so far as possible, shall specify the amounts to be paid for their services.

§ 11. Plan for improvements. Use of former survey. Notice of hearing on plan. Approval of state engineer. Adoption. Upon their qualification, and after their organization, the board of directors shall cause to be prepared a plan by the engineer of the district employed for this purpose, for the improvements for which the district was created. Such plan shall include such surveys, maps, profiles, plans and other data and descriptions as may be necessary to set forth properly the location and character of the work, and the location and extent of the property benefited or taken or damaged, with estimates of cost and with specifications for doing the work. In case the board of directors finds that any former survey made by any other district, or in any other manner, is useful for the purpose of the district, the board of directors shall have the power to acquire such data and records of surveys as may be useful to it, and shall pay therefor an amount not to exceed the value of such data and records to said district. The plan herein referred to may include any improvement work already done for conservancy or flood control purposes or any of the purposes contemplated by this act, by any person, firm, corporation, private or public, or any district or municipality, and if so the board of directors shall have power to acquire the same and pay therefor an amount not to exceed the appraised value thereof as appraised by the board of appraisers hereafter referred to.

Upon the completion and filing of such plan, the board shall cause notice by publication to be given as provided in section one herein in each county of said district, of such completion of said plan, and shall permit the inspection thereof at their office by all persons interested. Said notice shall fix the time and place for the hearing of all objections to said plan not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days after the last publication of said notice; any person interested in property within the district may object to such plan. All objections to said plan shall be in writing and filed with the secretary of said board at his office not more than one day before the time of such hearing. Said objection shall specify the features of the plan objected to. At the time specified in said notice, the board of directors shall meet at the office of said district, and hear said objections and adopt, reject or refer back said plan for modification to the engineer of said district. If said plan be referred back to said engineer said meeting shall be continued from time to time until such modified plan shall be reported by said engineers. The state engineer shall be invited to be present in person or by representative at said hearing or any continuation thereof and may approve, reject or modify said plan, his actual expenses to be borne by the district. Before final approval of the official plan the same shall have had the written approval of the state engineer whose duty it shall be to pass upon the feasibility of the plan, its proper adaptation to a general flood control plan of the stream system or systems of which it may be a part as well as the safety of the works to be constructed and until such approval shall have been received such official plan may not be adopted. After said hearing before the board of directors and their approval, and after said plans have been approved or modified and approved by the state engineer, the said board shall adopt said plan as approved, or as modified and approved, as the official plan of said district. If said board of directors shall reject said plan, then said board shall proceed as in the first instance under this section to prepare another plan. Upon final adoption of said official plan, a record of such adoption shall be entered upon the minutes of the board and shall be filed with the secretary together with the approval of the state engineer.

§ 12. Power of directors. The board of directors shall have full power and authority to devise, prepare for, execute, maintain and operate any or all works or improvements necessary or desirable to complete, maintain, operate and protect the improvement outlined by the official plan. They may secure and use men, materials and equipment under the supervision of the chief engineer or other agents, or they may in their discretion let contracts for such works, either as a whole or in part, to the lowest responsible bidder after publication calling for bids as hereinafter provided.

§ 13. Right to enter lands to make surveys, etc. The board of directors of any district organized under this act, or their employees or agents, including contractors, and their employees, and the members of the board of appraisers and their assistants may upon first obtaining an order of court enter upon lands within or without the district in order to make surveys and examinations to accomplish the necessary preliminary purposes of the district, or to have access to the work, being liable, however, for actual damage done, but no unnecessary damage shall be done. Any person or corporation preventing such entrance shall be guilty of misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding fifty dollars.

§ 14. Powers of directors to perform work. Limitation on powers. In order to effect the protection from damage by flood waters or the drainage, reclamation or irrigation of the land and other property in the district, and to accomplish all other purposes of the district, the board of directors is authorized and empowered, subject to the laws of this state, to clean out, straighten, widen, alter or deepen the course or terminus of any conduit, pipe-line or ditch, drain, sewer, river, watercourse, wash, pond, lake, creek or natural stream, to plant trees for the protection of the same or to forest or reforest lands for the conservation of flood water, to establish settling basins, shafts or tunnels for sinking water and to construct dams in or out of said district; to fill, abandon or alter any ditch, drain, sewer, river, watercourse, wash, pond, lake, creek or natural stream, and to concentrate, divert or divide the flow of water in or out of said district; to construct and maintain main and lateral conduit pipe-lines or ditches, sewers, canals, levees, dikes, dams, sluices, revetments, reservoirs, holding basins, floodways, pumping stations and siphons, and any other works and improvements deemed necessary to construct, preserve, operate or maintain the works herein provided for, and subject to approval of general plan therefor

... or officers in charge of such highways to construct or enlarge or cause to be constructed or enlarged any and all public bridges that may be needed in or out of said district; to construct or elevate highways and streets in the manner herein provided; to construct any and all of said works and improvements across, through or over any public highway, canal, railroad right of way, track, grade, fill or cut, in or out of said district, as herein provided; to remove or change the location of any fence, building, railroad, canal, or other improvements in or out of said district as herein provided; and shall have the right to hold, encumber, control, to acquire by donation, purchase or condemnation, to construct, own, lease, use and sell real and personal property, and any easement, riparian right, railroad right of way, canal, sluice, reservoir, settling basin, holding basin, mill dam, water-power, wharf, or franchise in or out of said district for right of way, holding basin or for any necessary purpose, or for material to be used in constructing and maintaining said works and improvements, open new roads, streets and alleys, or change the course of an existing one, as herein provided, and may dispose of waters conserved for irrigation as herein provided; provided, however, that the powers of this act vested in said board of directors are vested subject to the conditions, restrictions and limitations imposed by the public utilities act of the state of California and the act of the state of California creating the water commission, and the reclamation board act of the state, and subject to the powers therein vested in the said railroad commission and the said water commission and the said reclamation board of this state; and provided, further, that the approval of the officer or officers in charge of public highways be first had before any public highway, alley, lane, or bridge or appurtenance thereto be in any manner interfered with.

§ 15. Letting of contracts. When it is determined to let the work by contract, contracts in amounts to exceed one thousand dollars shall be let after notice calling for bids shall have been published, once a week for three consecutive weeks completed on date of last publication, in at least one newspaper of general circulation within said district, or in case there is no such newspaper within the district, then within the county where the work is to be done, and the board may let said contract to the lowest or best bidder who shall give a good and approved bond, with ample security, conditioned on the carrying out of the contract, or the board may reject all bids and readvertise for the same. But said contract shall not be let to another than the lowest responsible bidder unless upon a hearing before the board of directors, and with notice to all parties interested, an order be obtained therefor. Such contract shall be in writing, and shall be accompanied by or shall refer to official plans and specifications for the work to be done, prepared by the engineer of said district in accordance with said final plan. Said contract shall be approved by the board of directors and signed by the president of the board and by the contractor, and shall be executed in duplicate; provided, that in case of sudden emergency when it is necessary in order to protect the district, the advertising of contracts may be waived upon the unanimous consent of the board of directors in writing.

§ 16. Right of eminent domain. Said board, where necessary for the purposes of this act, shall have a right of eminent domain subject to the rights and powers vested in the railroad commission of this state.

§ 17. Right to condemn property. Said board shall also have the right, subject to the powers and rights vested by law in the state railroad commission, to condemn for the use of the district any land or property within or without said district.

§ 18. Regulation of ditches. Where necessary, in order to secure the best results from the execution and operation of the plans of the district, or to prevent damage to the district by deterioration or misuse, or by the pollution of the waters, of any watercourse therein, the board of directors may make regulations for and may prescribe the manner in which existing ditches or other works shall be adjusted to or connected with the works of the district or any watercourse therein; and when not in conflict with local or state health regulations may prescribe the manner in which the watercourses of the district may be used for sewer outlets or for disposal of waste; provided, however, that the consent of the properly constituted local or state health officer or officers be first obtained.

§ 19. Consent of health officers. Power to change watercourse, etc. The board of directors, subject to such regulations as may be imposed by law, shall have power and authority to improve in alignment, section, grade or in any other manner any watercourse, and they may require the removal, widening, lengthening, deepening, raising or other change of any public or private road bridge or railroad bridge or any aqueduct or telephone, telegraph, gas, oil, sewer, water or other pipe lines or any other construction over, along, across, under or through such watercourse; provided, however, that no change shall be made in any public bridge, highway, ditch, or other public structure without the consent of the public officer or officers in charge of the same be first had and obtained. In case such change is made necessary in any such structure by the failure of such bridge or other structure to permit the free flow of the water in such stream in time of flood, then the owner of any such construction shall make such change without cost to the district, or without any claim for damages against the district, except that the district shall pay the cost of excavating the earth for the enlargement of any channel or for placing earth for the filling of any channel where such excavation or filling is required as a part of plans of the district in making the changes outlined in this section, but the district shall not be required to make such fill or excavation unless it would be necessary to the plans of the district if the bridge or other construction did not exist; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall deprive any owner of property of due process of law in determining the amount of damages due him for property damaged or taken for the uses herein stated; and provided, further, that in all things where the railroad commission of this state is empowered to act by the laws of this state their sanction to any act must first be had.

§ 20. Moving dredge boat through bridge or grade. In case it is necessary to pass any dredge boat or other equipment through a bridge or grade of any railroad company or other corporation, county or municipality, the board of directors shall give twenty days' notice to the owner of said bridge or grade that the same shall be removed temporarily to allow the passage of such equipment or that an agreement be immediately entered into in regard thereto. The owner of said bridge or grade shall keep an itemized account of the cost of the removal, and, if necessary, of the replacing of said bridge or grade, and said actual cost shall be paid by the district. In case the owner of said bridge or grade shall refuse to provide for the passage of said equipment, the board of directors may remove such bridge or grade at the expense of the district after proceeding according to law so to do, interrupting traffic in the least degree consistent with good work and without delay or unnecessary damage; provided, that, where required by law, the consent of the railroad commission of the state is first obtained. In case they shall be impeded from doing so, the owner of said bridge or grade shall be liable for damage for the resulting delay. Nothing in this act specified to be done affecting any public bridge or highway shall be undertaken without first obtaining the consent in writing of the officer or officers of the county or city or state having supervision of such bridge or highway in which such improvement is contemplated.

§ 21. Stream gauges, etc. The board of directors shall also have the right to establish and maintain stream gauges, rain gauges, a flood warning service with telephone or telegraph lines or telephone or telegraph service, and may make such surveys and examinations of rainfall and flood conditions, stream flow and other scientific and engineering subjects as are necessary and proper for the purposes of the district, and they may issue reports of their findings.

§ 22. Co-operation with United States government, etc. The board of directors shall also have the right and authority to enter into contracts or other arrangements with the United States government or any department thereof, with persons, railroads or other corporations, with public corporations, and the state government of this or other states, with protection, flood control, drainage, conservation, conservancy, levee or other improvement districts, in this or other states, for co-operation or assistance in constructing, maintaining, using and operating the works of the district or the waters thereof, or for making surveys and investigations or reports thereon; and may purchase, lease or acquire land or other property in adjoining states in order to secure outlets or for other purposes of this act, and may let contracts or spend money for securing such outlets or other works in adjoining states.

§ 23. Appropriation of increased water supply. Application to use waters appropriated. Rights of municipalities. Term of lease, etc. Regulations for purpose of determining rates. Rates fixed by railroad commission. Determination of water rights, etc. Wherever the organization of or the improvements made by the district increase the supply of water in the stream or stream system such increase may be subject to appropriation by the district, and the rights to such increase where lawfully appropriated may be leased, sold, or assigned by the district in return for reasonable compensation, subject, however, to such regulation and control as may be reposed by law in water commission or other office, agency or department of the state of California.

Persons, corporations, municipalities, or other parties desiring to secure use of the waters lawfully appropriated by the district for protection against flood damage, or watercourses of the district, or of the district rights therein, which may have been acquired by appropriation under the laws of this state, may, subject to the regulations and conditions authorized by law to be imposed by the state water commission, make application to the board of directors for lease, purchase, or permission for such use. Such application shall conform to the rules and regulations of the state water commission and state the purpose and character of such use, the period and degree of continuity of such use, the amount of water desired and the place of use and the means of conveyance. Where it is not possible nor reasonable to grant all applications, preference shall be given to domestic and municipal water supply. All other applications shall be granted in the order of their filing and shall be granted subject to the applicable provisions of the said water commission act and to said public utility act and other acts of the state of California now in force.

Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed or construed to limit the rights of municipalities in the exercise of the right of eminent domain under the laws of the state of California.

The board of directors shall not permanently sell, lease, assign, permit or otherwise part with the control by the district of the use of the waters thereof, and rates for light, power or other services charged by vendees, assignees, lessees or licensees of such board of directors shall be subject at all times to revision and control by state law. Assignments, leases, sales or permissions may be made for periods of not greater than twenty-five years. At the termination of the period of such assignments, sales, leases or permissions, they shall be renewed for a reasonable period not to exceed fifteen years, on the condition that a new determination is made of a reasonable charge therefor, as herein provided; unless there are other applications on file, the granting of which would result in filling a greater need or in a more reasonable use. In case such applications are on file, they shall have preference.

The board of directors may make regulations, subject always to the applicable provisions of the said water commission act and the said public utilities act of the state of California, and other act or acts of said state, for the determination and measurement of the increased, or better, or more convenient use of, or benefit from the water supply of the district, for the purpose of determining rates of compensation, and for the purpose of securing to all parties interested the greatest and best use of the water thereof. A copy of such regulations shall be transmitted to the state water commission for its approval and to the railroad commission of the state of California, accompanied by a request for the fixing of rates by said commission for said district. Said commission shall thereupon proceed to fix said rates in the manner provided by law and report the same to said board of directors. In case of failure of any user to pay for use in the manner specified by order of the court, the board may compel payment, and may enjoin further use until such payment is made. The rights under any lease or sale shall not extend to a change of use, or of place, time or manner of use, except in so far as is specifically stated in the lease or other agreement.

All money received as compensation under the provisions of this section shall be added to the maintenance fund of the district and used for defraying the expenses thereof.

As a basis for assessment of benefits due to a greater, better, or more convenient use of, or benefit from, the waters of the district the directors of the district may themselves cause a determination to be made or may avail themselves of data in the hands of the said state water commission of the conditions of the water supply and of the watercourses of the district as they were before the improvements were made, or as they existed at any subsequent time, and they may petition the state water commission to make a determination of all rights, property, easements, or other interests in the waters, or the watercourses of the district, such determination being based upon records of greatest and least flow, upon the evidence of use, or evidence of legal rights, and upon any other evidence and records which may be available, and upon receipt of such petition it shall become the duty of the state water commission to immediately proceed to ascertain the same and to report to said board of directors their findings. Upon the completion of such determination and the receipt of a report thereof by them, the directors of the district shall make their report thereon and file the same with the secretary of said district. Thereupon notice shall be given of the pendency of said report and a hearing thereon, which notice and hearing shall conform as nearly as possible to the notice and hearing on appraisals of benefits and of land to be taken. Upon the determination of the matter by the board of directors, its findings shall be conclusive, and shall be the basis of any future assessment; provided, that in case any party shall thereafter establish in court or through the action of the state water commission any right or property in the waters of the district, or the use thereof, which has not been adjudicated, the existence of such right, or the failure to adjudicate it, shall not affect the operation of this provision nor the findings of the board of directors thereon in any other particular.

The appraisal of benefits made by the appraisers of the district shall not include benefits for such greater, better or more convenient use of, or benefit from the waters of the district, but the compensation for such use or benefits shall be made according to the provisions of this section.

§ 24. Board of appraisers. At any suitable time after having taken their oath of office, the board of directors shall appoint three appraisers whose duty it shall be to appraise the lands or other property within and without the district to be acquired for rights of way, reservoirs and other works of the district, and to appraise all benefits and damages accruing to all lands within or without the district by reason of the execution of the official plan. Said appraisers shall be freeholders residing within the state of California, who may or may not own lands within said district. Each of the appraisers shall, before taking up his duties, take and subscribe to an oath that he will faithfully and impartially discharge his duties as such appraiser, and that he will make a true report of such work done by him. The said appraisers shall at their first meeting elect one of their own number chairman, and the secretary of the board of directors or his deputy shall be ex-officio secretary of said board of appraisers during their continuance in office. A majority of the appraisers shall constitute a quorum, and a concurrence of the majority in any matter within their duties shall be sufficient for its determination. Said appraisers shall continue to hold their office until dismissed by the board of directors, and the board of directors shall fill all vacancies in the board of appraisers, or may appoint a new board for subsequent appraisals, as occasion may require. Such new board, if appointed, shall fill all the requirements of the board of appraisers of the district, and perform its duties.

§ 25. Appraisal of benefits and damages. Appraisal of property for purchase. When the official plan is adopted and filed with the secretary of the district and said appraisers have been appointed he shall at once notify the board of appraisers, and they shall thereupon proceed to appraise the benefits of every kind to all real property within or without the district, which will result from the organization of said district and the execution of the official plan; and also to appraise the damages sustained and the value of the land and other property necessary to be taken by the district for which settlement has not been made by the board of directors. In the progress of their work, they shall have the assistance of the attorney, engineers, secretary and other agents and employees of the board of directors.

The board of appraisers shall also appraise the benefits and damages, if any, accruing to property or interests in properties of cities, counties and other public corporations, and to the state of California.

Before appraisals of compensation and damages are made, the directors of the district may report to the appraisers the parcels of land or other property, or any other works to be done, included within the powers granted under the act they may wish to purchase and for which they may wish appraisals to be made, both for easement and for purchase in fee simple. The board may, if it deems best, specify in case of any property the particular purpose for which and the extent to which an easement in the same is desired, describing definitely such purpose and extent. The appraisers shall appraise all damages which may, because of the execution of the official plan, accrue to real or other property either within or without the district, which damages shall also represent easements acquired by the district for all the purposes of the district, unless otherwise specifically stated. Upon such appraisals being confirmed by the board of directors, the board of directors of the district shall have the option of paying the entire appraised value of the property and acquiring full title to it (in fee simple), or of paying only the cost of such easement for the purposes of the district. The appraisers in appraising benefits and damages shall consider only the effect of the execution of the official plan. The appraisers in making appraisals shall give due consideration and credit to any other works or other systems of reclamation already constructed, or under construction, which form a useful part of the work of the district according to the official plan. Where the appraisers return no appraisal of damages to any property, it shall be deemed a finding by them that no damage will be sustained.

§ 26. Lands outside district. If the appraisers find the lands or other property not embraced within the boundaries of the district will be affected by the proposed improvement, or should be included in the district, they shall appraise the benefits and damages to such land, and shall file notice with the board of directors of the appraisal which they have made upon the lands beyond the boundaries of the district.

§ 27. Report of board of appraisers. The board of appraisers shall prepare a report of its findings which shall be arranged in tabular form and bound in book form, and which shall be known as the conservancy appraisal record. Such record shall contain the names of the owners of property appraised as it may appear on the last assessment-roll of the county, a description of the property appraised, the amount of benefits appraised, the amount of damages appraised, and the appraised value of land or other property which may be taken for the purposes of the district. They shall also report any other benefits or damages or any other matter which in their opinion should be brought to the attention of the board of directors. No error in the names of the owners of real property or in the descriptions thereof shall invalidate said appraisal or the levy of assessments or taxes based thereon, if sufficient description is given to identify such real property.

When their report is completed, it shall be signed by at least a majority of the appraisers and filed with the secretary.

§ 28. Notice of hearing on appraisals. Description of lands. Upon the filing of the report of the appraisers, the secretary of the district shall give notice thereof by publication. Said notice shall be substantially as in form six of the schedules hereto attached. It shall not be necessary for said secretary to name the parties interested.

It shall not be necessary to describe the separate lots or tracts of land in giving said notice, but it shall be sufficient to give such descriptions as will enable him, the owner, to determine whether or not his land is covered by such description. For instance, it will be sufficient to state "all land lying in block — of the town of —" or, "all land abutting on — street in the town of —," or "all land lying west of — river and east of — railroad in — township," or any other general description pointing out the lands involved and identifying the same.

Where lands in different counties are mentioned in said report it shall not be necessary to publish a description of all the lands in the district in each county, but only of that part of the said lands situate in the county in which publication is made.

§ 29. Hearing of objections. Any property owner may accept the appraisals of benefits and of damages and of lands to be taken made by the appraisers, or may acquiesce in their failure to appraise damages, and shall be construed to have done so unless he shall within ten days after the last publication provided for in the preceding section file objections to said report. All objections shall be heard by the board of directors, beginning not less than twenty nor more than thirty days after the last publication provided for herein, and determined in advance of other business so as to carry out, liberally, the purposes and needs of the district. The board of directors, if it deem necessary, may alter or amend said report in accordance with such objection or any of them, or may return the report to the board of appraisers for their further consideration and amendments, and enter its order to that effect. If, however, the appraisal roll as a whole is referred back to the appraisers, the board of directors shall not resume the hearing thereof without due notice, as for an original hearing thereon.

§ 30. Approval of report. Disorganization of district on disapproval of report. If it appears to the satisfaction of the board of directors after having heard and determined all said objections that the estimated cost of constructing the improvement contemplated in the official plan is less than the benefits appraised, then the said board shall approve and confirm said appraisers' report as filed or as so modified and amended. In case the board of directors shall find that the benefits appraised are less than the estimated total costs, it shall report the fact to the board of supervisors who shall disorganize the district after having provided for the payment of all expenditures by an order of said board abandoning all proceedings.

§ 31. Condemnation of property. If after the approval of the appraisers' report the said board of directors deems it necessary to proceed by condemnation to acquire for the district property to carry out the official plan of the district, it may proceed so to do, under and by virtue of the laws of the state of California, and the passage of a resolution by said board that the lands to be acquired are for a public use shall be conclusive of that fact.

§ 32. Alterations or additions to plan. The board of directors may at any time before the conclusion of the hearing thereon and the approval by the state engineer, when necessary to fulfill the objects for which the district was created, alter or add to the official plan as in section eleven provided, and when such alterations or additions are formally approved by the said board and by the state engineer and are filed with the secretary, they shall become parts of the official plan for all purposes of this act. Where such alterations or additions in the judgment of the said board neither materially modify the general character of the work, nor materially increase resulting damages for which the board is not able to make amicable settlement, nor increase the cost more than ten per cent, no reappraisal shall be necessary. In case the proposed alterations or additions in the opinion of the board materially modify the resulting damages or materially reduce the benefits, for which the board of directors is not able to make amicable settlement, or materially increase the benefits in such a manner as to require a new appraisal, or increase the cost more than ten per cent, the board of directors shall direct the board of appraisers (which may be the original board or a new board appointed by the board of directors) to appraise the property to be taken, benefited or damaged, by the proposed alterations or additions. Upon the completion of the report thereon by the board of appraisers notice shall be given and a hearing had on their report in the same manner as in the case of the original report of the board of appraisers; provided, that where only a few land owners are affected, the secretary of the district may, on order of the board of directors, if found by them to be more economical and convenient, give personal notice to such land owners of the hearing of the report of said appraisers, instead of notice by publication; and provided, that when the only question at issue is additional damages or reduction of benefits to property, due to modifications or additions to the plans, the board of directors may, if they find it practicable, make settlements with the owners of the property damaged or benefited, instead of having appraisals made by the board of appraisers. In case such settlements are made, notice and hearing need not be had. After bonds have been sold, in order that their security may not be impaired, no reduction shall be made in the aggregate amount of benefits appraised against property in the district.

§ 33. Validity of proceeding not affected by fault. No fault in any notice or other proceedings shall affect the validity of any proceeding under this act except to the extent to which it can be shown that such fault resulted in a material denial of justice to the property owner complaining of such fault if any appraisal of benefits shall be declared ineffectual by any court.

The board of directors may render a finding as to the amount of benefits to said property, and appraise the proper benefits accordingly, and thereupon said land shall be assessed according to such benefits.

§ 34. District funds. The moneys of every conservancy district organized hereunder shall consist of four separate funds: (1) Preliminary fund, by which is meant the proceeds of the ad valorem tax authorized by this act and such advancements as may be made from the general county funds as provided in this act; (2) bond fund, by which is meant a fund raised by the issuance and sale of bonds of the district; (3) improvement warrant fund, by which is meant the proceeds of levies made against the special assessments of benefits equalized and confirmed under the provisions of this act; and (4) maintenance fund, which is a special assessment to be levied annually for the purpose of upkeep, administration and current expenses as hereinafter provided. It is intended that the cost of preparing the official plan, the appraisal (except as paid out of the preliminary fund) and the entire cost of construction and superintendence, including all charges incidental thereto, and the cost of administration during the period of construction, shall be paid out of the bond fund.

No vouchers shall be drawn against the preliminary fund (except for advances from the general county funds) or against the maintenance fund until a tax-levying resolution shall have been properly recommended by the board of directors and passed by the board of supervisors and duly entered upon its records; no bonds shall be issued against the bond fund until a tax-levying resolution shall have been properly recommended by the board of directors and passed by the board of supervisors and duly entered upon its records; no moneys shall be transferred from the improvement warrant fund except by order of the board of supervisors, upon recommendation of the board of directors.

§ 35. Payment of preliminary expenses. Advance of fund, by counties. Tax levy for incidental expenses. If the district is not organized, then the costs of publication and other official costs of the proceedings shall be collected by the county from the petitioners or their bondsmen, paid into the county treasury and there held in a separate fund against which warrants may be audited and drawn on the order of the board of supervisors, as other warrants of the county are audited and drawn. Upon the organization of the district, the board of supervisors shall make an order indicating a preliminary division of the preliminary expenses between the counties included in the district in approximately the proportions of interest of the various counties as may be estimated by said board of supervisors. And the board of supervisors of each respective county shall issue an order to the auditor of its respective county to issue his warrant for the pro rata amount to be paid that county, upon the treasurer of his county to reimburse the county having paid the total cost; provided, however, that the joint board of supervisors shall first determine at a previous meeting the pro rata amount to be borne by each county and shall determine the same upon a basis of the assessed value of property benefited in the district in each county.

Expenses incurred thereafter prior to the receipt of money by the district from taxes or assessments, bond sales, or otherwise, shall be paid from the general funds of the respective counties proportionately upon the order of the board of supervisors, and shall be paid upon certification of the clerk of the board of supervisors of such order, specifying the amount and purpose of the claims to the auditor of each county, who shall thereupon at once issue his warrant to the treasurer of his county. Upon receipt of funds by the district from the sale of bonds or by taxation or assessment the funds so advanced by the counties shall be repaid.

As soon as any district shall have been organized under this act, and a board of directors shall have been elected and qualified, such board of directors shall recommend to the board of supervisors and the board of supervisors shall have the power and authority to levy upon the property within the district an assessment not to exceed three-tenths of a mill on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation thereof as a level rate to be used for the purpose of paying expenses of organization, for surveys and plans, and for other incidental expenses which may be necessary up to the time money is received from the sale of bonds or otherwise. This assessment shall be certified to the auditors of the various counties having property within the district and by them to the respective treasurers of their counties. If such items of expense have already been paid in whole or in part from other sources, they may be repaid from the receipts of such levy, and such levy may be made although the work proposed may have been found impracticable or for other reasons is abandoned. The tax collector shall at once proceed to collect said assessment and the collection of such assessment levy shall conform in all matters to the collection of taxes and assessments for the district outlined in this act, and the same provisions concerning the nonpayment of taxes shall apply. In case a district is disbanded for any cause whatever before the work is contracted, the data, plans and estimates which have been secured shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors with which the petition thereupon was filed, and shall be matters of public record available to any person interested.

§ 36. Interest on unpaid warrants. If any warrant issued by the board of directors is presented for payment and is not paid for want of funds in the treasury, that fact with the date of refusal shall be indorsed on the back of such warrant, and said warrant shall thereafter draw interest at the rate of six per cent, until such time as there is money in the treasury of said district sufficient to pay the amount of said warrant with interest.

§ 37. Bond issue to complete works. Additional issues. Elections. Rate of interest. Form and sale of bonds. Payment, pledge and validity of bonds. Registry of. As investments. At any time after the adoption of the original official plan the board of directors may by majority vote of said board adopt and enter on their minutes a resolution estimating the amount of money needed to complete the works according to said official plan and authorizing and directing a petition to be filed with the board of supervisors of the county in which the original petition for the organization of the district was filed, requesting that a special election be called to submit to the electors of the district qualified under this act the question of incurring an indebtedness in the amount specified in said resolution. Said petition shall set forth the amount of bonds to be issued, the rate of interest to be paid, which shall not exceed six per cent per annum and in general terms the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is to be incurred. After the filing of said petition the board of supervisors shall without delay call a special election and submit to the electors of said district, qualified under the provisions of this act, the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in the amount estimated by the board for the construction of the works in accordance with said official plan.

If the amount of money provided in the original bond issue is not sufficient to complete the work according to the official plan nothing herein contained shall prohibit the board of directors from filing petitions for additional issues of bonds in the same form and manner hereinabove set forth for the original issue of bonds. The plan and procedure for the original issue of bonds shall be followed for all subsequent issues of bonds.

Said board of supervisors shall call such special election by ordinance, and shall recite therein the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided, that it shall be sufficient to give a brief general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the official plan on file for particulars; and said ordinance shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and what part of such indebtedness shall be paid each and every year, and which shall be not less than one-fortieth of the whole amount of such indebtedness, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, the manner of holding the same and the manner of voting for or against incurring such indebtedness. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed six per centum per annum.

For the purposes of said election, said board of supervisors shall in said ordinance establish election precincts within the boundaries of the said district, and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general election purposes in said district to a number not exceeding six for each such bond election precinct, and shall designate a polling place and appoint two inspectors, two judges and two clerks for each of such precincts.

In all particulars not recited in such ordinance, such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the state.

Said board of supervisors shall cause so much of said official plan as covers a general description of the work to be done, and the map showing the location of the proposed work and improvements, to be printed at least thirty days before the date fixed for such election, and a copy thereof furnished to every elector of said district qualified under the provisions of this act who shall apply for the same.

Said ordinance calling such election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published ten times in a daily, or four times in a weekly newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said district, and designated by said board of supervisors for said purpose. No other notice of such election need be given.

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such election shall not affect the validity of the bonds.

If at such election a majority of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then bonds of said district for the amount stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided. All bonds issued under this act shall mature serially in equal annual amounts of not less than one-fortieth part of the aggregate principal in each year, and their principal and interest shall be made payable at the county treasurer's office of the main county; in United States gold coin. The board of supervisors by an order entered upon its minutes shall prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto; the denominations of the bonds, which shall be not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars; the dates of payment of principal and interest, and the serial numbering of the bonds and coupons. Said bonds shall be signed on behalf of the district by the chairman of the board of supervisors of the main county and by the auditor of said county, and the coupons shall be signed by the engraved or lithographed facsimile signature of such auditor; and when so signed said bonds and coupons shall be delivered for safe-keeping to the county treasurer of said main county, who shall deliver them to the purchaser or purchasers thereof on receipt of the purchase price. If any officer signing shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, such signature shall nevertheless be valid and effectual. Said bonds shall be sold in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than par, and the proceeds of sale thereof, including any premium received at such sale, shall be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the construction fund of the district. Payments from said fund shall be made by the county treasurer upon demands signed by the president and secretary of the district and approved by resolution of the board of directors, each of which demands shall recite that it is drawn in payment of work to be done under said official plan, or for expense incidental thereto. Bonds issued under this act shall constitute a continuing lien upon all property within the district. The board of supervisors shall levy a tax each year upon the taxable property in such district, sufficient (when added to the district bond fund in the county treasury available therefor) to pay the annual interest on said bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof necessary to be collected as will become due before the collection of the next general tax levy. Such tax shall be levied and collected on such property in each county containing any part of the district at the time and in the same manner as the general tax levy for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid by the treasurer of each county into the county treasury of the main county to the credit of the district bond fund, to be used for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds and for no other purpose. The treasurer shall pay therefrom the principal and interest of said district bonds in the manner provided by law for payment of county bonds.

The provisions of the Political Code prescribing the manner and effect of levying, equalizing and collecting taxes, the sale of property for delinquency, and the redemption from such sale, and the duties of the several county officers in respect thereto, so far as they do not conflict with the specific provisions of this act, are hereby adopted and made applicable to the levy and collection of said taxes for the payment of bonds. Such officers shall be liable on their official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed on them by this act.

If at the time the bonds are ready to be issued, the board shall be of the opinion that such bonds cannot advantageously be issued and sold in whole, the board may sell parts only of the entire issue or may pledge all or part of said issue as collateral to a loan, but no partial sale or pledge shall be made without the order of the board made and entered of record, and no pledge shall be made at a greater margin than at the rate of one hundred dollars of bond principal for ninety dollars of loan.

The district may secure the payment of loans from the United States government in the same manner as it may secure the payment of bonds, and the board of directors may make any necessary regulations to provide for such payments.

This act shall, without reference to any other act of the legislature of California, be full authority for the issuance and sale of the bonds in this act authorized, which bonds shall have all the qualities of negotiable paper under the law-merchant, and when executed and sealed and certified to by the state treasurer in conformity with the provisions of this act, and when sold in the manner prescribed herein and the consideration therefor received by the district, shall not be invalid for any irregularity or defect in the proceedings for the issue and sale thereof, and shall be incontestible in the hands of bona fide purchasers or holders thereof for value. No proceedings in respect to the issuance of any such bonds shall be necessary except such as are required by this act. Whenever the owner of any coupon bond issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall present such bond to the treasurer of the district with a request for the conversion of such bond into a registered bond, the said treasurer shall cut off and cancel the coupons of any such coupon bond so presented and shall stamp, print or write upon such coupon bond so presented, either upon the back or the face thereof, as may be convenient, a statement to the effect that the said bond is registered in the name of the owner and that thereafter the interest and principal of said bond are payable to the registered owner. Thereafter and from time to time, such bond may be transferred by such registered owner in person or by attorney duly authorized on presentation of such bond to the treasurer of the district and the bond again registered as before, a similar statement being stamped, printed or written thereon. Such statement stamped, printed or written upon any such bond may be substantially in the following form:

(Date, giving month, year and day.)

This bond is registered pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, in the name of (here insert name of owner), and the interest and principal thereof are hereafter payable to such owner.

Treasurer — conservancy district.

If any bond shall be registered as aforesaid, the principal and interest of such bond shall be payable to the registered owner. The treasurer of the district shall enter in a register of said bonds to be kept by him or in a separate book, the fact of the registration of such bond and the name of the registered owner thereof, so that said registry or book shall at all times show what bonds are registered and the name of the registered owner thereof.

§ 38. Bonds of any district issued pursuant to the provisions of this act which are investigated and approved by any commission or officer now or hereafter authorized by the laws of this state to conduct such investigation and give such approval and by authority of which approval said bonds are declared to be legal investments for savings banks may be lawfully purchased or received in pledge for loans by banks, trust companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this state, or of any county, city, city and county or other municipal or corporate body within the state having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

§ 39. Improvement warrants. Form of improvement warrant. Upon the adoption of the report of appraisers hereinbefore referred to, the board of directors shall certify said report to the board of supervisors. The board of supervisors shall levy against the respective parcels of property within the district the sum set forth in said report of appraisers assessed to the respective parcels of property as therein set forth for special benefits. The board of supervisors shall thereupon issue what shall be known as improvement warrants, under the provisions of this act, to represent such special assessments against each parcel of land, in the form and manner and with the effect in this act provided. Said improvement warrants shall be numbered consecutively, their said numbers corresponding with the numbers given to the respective parcels of land as shown upon the map accompanying the general plan, and shall be deemed to refer to said map. The respective special assessments so levied, as evidenced by said improvement warrants, shall bear the same rate of interest per annum from the date of the issuance of the said warrants until paid as is borne by the district bonds, hereinbefore authorized to be issued, and said interest, together with a sum equal to the first installment of principal, plus one per cent of said principal, shall be paid semi-annually at the treasury of said district. Said assessments shall be apportioned by said board of supervisors over a period of twenty-six years, both principal and interest payable at the office of the treasury of said district. The said improvement warrants issued to evidence said assessments shall be attested by the seal of said district, and shall be signed by the secretary of the board of directors, and shall be a lien for the amount indicated on the face of such warrants, viz., the amount of said special assessment, together with accrued interest, if any, against the specific parcels of land to which the said improvement warrants respectively refer. Payment of the annual installment of the principal of said assessment, as evidenced by said improvement warrants, together with accrued interest, shall be due on the first day of July and January of each year, and the first payment shall be due on the first day of July next following the date of the issuance of such improvement warrant. In case of default in the payment of any installment of the principal provided for in said improvement warrant, or interest accrued on deferred payments, then and in that event the entire remaining unpaid installments shall become immediately due and payable, and the same, and all liens which are security therefor, may be collected and enforced as in this act provided. Said improvement warrants shall be in the following, or substantially the following form, and of effect as therein stated:

Improvement Warrant No. — of — Conservancy District.

This improvement warrant, known as and numbered improvement warrant number — of the — conservancy district, is issued to represent an assessment for benefits to the amount of $ —, levied in the — conservancy district, state of California. The amount herein stated is the amount assessed in said assessment against the lot or parcel of land numbered — in the report of appraisers on file herein, and in the diagram attached thereto, and which said amount has been divided into fifty-two equal installments of principal, one installment of which, together with accrued interest, is to be paid semi-annually, and which said amount, except as indicated on the back hereof, remains unpaid, and until entirely paid, with accrued interest, is a first lien upon the property affected thereby, and as the same is described herein and in said recorded assessment with its diagram, to wit, the lot or parcel of land in the — conservancy district, county of —, state of California, described as follows: —

The term of this improvement warrant is twenty-six years from July 1, 19—, and at the expiration of said time the whole sum then unpaid, together with accrued interest, shall be due and payable, but on the first days of July and January of each year after the date hereof, an even semi-annual proportion of its principal is due and payable until the whole is paid, with accrued interest, at the rate of — per cent per annum. The interest on deferred payments is payable semi-annually, on the first day of July and January in each year hereafter until paid, the first of which is due for the interest from date to the first day of July, 19—, and thereafter the interest payments are for the interest due on all deferred payments. Should default be made in the first or any succeeding payments of principal, or in any payment of interest by the owner of said lot or parcel, or anyone in his behalf, the district is entitled to declare the whole unpaid amount to be due and payable, and thereupon have a right to collect the same and to enforce all liens which are security therefor, as by law provided, and as in the case of unpaid state and county taxes.

Issued by order of the board of supervisors this — day of —, 19—.

Secretary of the board of directors of the — conservancy district.

Amounts due on said improvement warrants shall be payable to the district treasurer, and no mistake or error in the description in said warrant or in the description of the lot or parcel of land assessed shall affect the validity of the lien of any improvement warrant, unless the mistake or error is such that the said lot or parcel of land cannot be identified, and in such event, the same, by order of the board of directors, may be corrected upon application to the treasurer and to the officers or board who or which made the assessment to represent which such warrant is issued.

§ 40. Record of improvement warrants. The treasurer of the district shall enter in a book kept for that purpose in his office a record of each improvement warrant issued hereunder, specifying the date of its issue, the amount for which issued, its duration, and a description of the lot or parcel against which issued. Payments of principal and interest on account of any warrant issued hereunder shall be made to the treasurer of the district, who shall keep a separate account of all such payments, entering the same in the record herein required to be kept, and credit the same on the back of the warrant, and place the same in appropriate funds for the payment of principal and interest of the improvement warrants on account of which paid.

§ 41. Amount of warrant lien on property. Such warrants issued hereunder shall by their issuance be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of all proceedings thereto. The amount due upon any such improvement warrant shall be a lien upon the lot or parcel described in such improvement warrant, superior to all other liens, charges and encumbrances until paid, except the liens of prior assessments and of state, county and municipal taxes, assessments levied or assessed by statutory authority and taxes levied to pay off the principal and interest of the bonds hereinbefore referred to.

§ 42. Improvement warrant fund. The proceeds derived from the payments of such improvement warrants shall be paid into what shall be known as the improvement warrant fund of the district, to represent, and shall represent, assessments for which said improvement warrants were issued. Upon recommendation of the board of directors, and upon order of the board of supervisors, proceeds received from the payment of the principal and interest of such improvement warrants shall be employed for the purpose of retiring the bonds of the district hereinbefore first authorized to be issued, and for no other purpose.

§ 43. Sale of land on default of owner. Whenever, through the default of the owner of any lot or parcel of land against which any such improvement warrant or warrants is or are issued to represent the assessment and interest against such lot or parcel of land, payment of the principal or of the interest is not made when the same has become due, the treasurer of the district, upon order of the board of supervisors, shall proceed to advertise and sell said lot or parcel of land as herein provided, and provided there is money in any available fund so to do, the board of directors, in the name of the district, may buy in said lot or parcel of land. Thereupon the whole improvement warrant or its unpaid remainder, together with accrued interest, shall become due and payable immediately, and on the day following shall become delinquent.

§ 44. Delinquent improvement warrants. If the payment of principal or interest of any improvement warrant issued shall become delinquent, as hereinbefore provided, the said treasurer shall publish twice in a newspaper of general circulation to be designated by him, published in the city where his office is situated, a notice which must contain the date and number of the delinquent improvement warrant, a description of the property mentioned in said warrant, and the name of the owner of such property, if known, and if unknown, the fact shall be so stated, the amount due thereon, and a statement that unless the amount of said improvement warrant and the interest due thereon, together with the cost of publication of such notice are paid, the real property described in said improvement warrant will be sold at public auction on a day to be therein fixed, which shall not be less than fifteen nor more than thirty days from the day of the first publication of said notice, and the place of such sale, which must be the office of the said treasurer. A like notice shall be served upon any such owner, if known, either personally or by depositing the same in the postoffice at such city, addressed to such owner at his address if known, with the postage thereon prepaid. At any time prior to the sale, the owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale under the provisions of this act, may pay the whole amount of said improvement warrant then due, with costs, and said improvement warrant and the assessment evidenced thereby shall thereupon be canceled; but in case such payment is not made by such owner, or person in possession, or by someone in behalf of such owner, or of the person in possession, the property subject thereto shall be sold at public auction, first, preferably to the district; secondly, if the district does not bid therefor, to the bidder offering to pay the amount due on the warrant with costs for the least portion of such lot or parcel of land offered for sale.

§ 45. Affidavit of publication. The district treasurer, before the day of sale hereinafter provided for, must file with the secretary of the board of directors a copy of the publication, with an affidavit of the publisher of such newspaper or someone in his behalf attached thereto, that it is a true copy of the same, and that the publication was made in a newspaper, stating its name and place of publication, and the date of each appearance in which such publication was made, which affidavit is prima facie evidence of all the facts stated therein.

§ 46. Added costs. The treasurer of the district must collect, in addition to the amount due on such improvement warrant, the cost of the publication of such notice, and fifty cents for the certificate of sale delivered to the purchaser as hereinafter provided.

§ 47. Record of sale. The treasurer of the district, before delivering any certificate of sale, must, in a book kept in his office for that purpose, enter the date, number and series of the improvement warrant, a description of the land sold corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of sale, purchaser's name, the amount paid, and regularly number the descriptions on the margins of the book, and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection during office hours when not in actual use, and he shall enter on the records and on the improvement warrant the words, "Canceled by sale of the property," giving the date of such sale.

§ 48. Purchaser divested of lien. Immediately on the sale, the purchaser shall become vested with the lien on the property so sold to him to the extent of his bid, and is only divested of such lien by the payment to the treasurer of the district of the purchase money, including costs herein provided for, with interest thereon at the rate of one per cent per month from date of sale.

§ 49. Redemption of property sold. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner of the property or any party in interest within twelve months from the date of purchase, or at any time prior to the application for a deed, as hereinafter provided. Redemption must be made in lawful money of the United States, and when made to the treasurer of the district he must credit the amount paid to the person named in his certificate and pay it on demand to him or his assignees.

§ 50. Certificate of sale filed. On receiving the certificate of sale, the secretary must file it and make an entry in a book similar to that required of the treasurer of the district, the fee for which shall be fifty cents, and on presentation of the receipt of the treasurer of the district for the total amount of the redemption money, the secretary must, without charge, mark the word "Redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made.

§ 51. Deed to property sold. If the property is not redeemed within the time allowed by the provisions of this act for its redemption, the treasurer of the district or his successor in office, upon application of the purchaser, or his assignee, must make to said purchaser or his assignee a deed to the property, reciting in the deed substantially the matter contained in the certificate, and that no person has redeemed the property during the time allowed for its redemption. The treasurer shall be entitled to receive from the purchaser two dollars for making said deed, which shall be deposited in the treasury of the district for the use of the district after payment has been made therefrom for the acknowledgment of said deed; provided, however, that the purchaser of the property, or his assignee or agent, must, thirty days prior to the expiration of the time of the redemption, or thirty days before his application for a deed, serve upon the owner or agent of the property purchased, if named in such certificate of sale, and upon the party occupying the property if the property is occupied, a written notice, stating that said property, or a portion thereof, has been sold to satisfy the improvement warrant lien, and stating the date of sale, the number, the amount then due, and the time when the right of redemption will expire, or when the purchaser will apply for a deed, and the owner of the property shall have the right of redemption indefinitely until such notice shall have been given and such deed applied for, upon the payment of the fees, penalties and costs in this act required. In case of unoccupied property, a similar notice must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property at least thirty days before the purchaser applies for a deed, and no deed to the property sold in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be issued by the treasurer of the district to the purchaser of such property until such purchaser shall have filed with such treasurer an affidavit showing that the notice hereinbefore required to be given has been given as herein required, which said affidavit shall be filed and preserved by the said treasurer as other records kept by him in his office. Such purchaser shall be entitled to receive the sum of fifty cents for his services of such notice and the making of such affidavit, which sum of fifty cents shall be paid by the redemptioner at the time and in the same manner as the other sums, costs and fees are paid.

§ 52. Deed conclusive evidence of proceedings. The deed, when duly acknowledged or proven, shall be conclusive evidence of all things which the improvement warrant upon which it is based is conclusive evidence and prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings subsequent to the issue of the warrant, and conveys to the grantee the absolute right to the lands described therein, free of all encumbrances except the lien for state, county and municipal taxes and assessments levied or assessed by statutory authority.

§ 53. Paying off warrant. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to deprive any person or persons whose land has been assessed, as evidenced by said improvement warrants of the privilege of paying off and having said warrant canceled by the payment of the principal and accrued interest of said warrant at any time when payments may be made during the life of said warrant.

§ 54. Conservancy maintenance assessment. To maintain, operate and preserve the reservoirs, ditches, drains, dams, levees, settling basins or settling wells, canals or other improvements made pursuant to this act and to strengthen, repair and restore the same, when needed, and for the purpose of defraying the current expenses of the district, the board of directors may recommend, and the board of supervisors upon such recommendation may upon the substantial completion of said improvements and on or before the first day of September in each year thereafter, levy an assessment upon each tract or parcel of land and upon property within the district, subject to assessments under this act, to be known as a "conservancy maintenance assessment." Said maintenance assessment shall be apportioned upon the basis of the total appraisal of benefits accruing for original and subsequent construction, and shall be levied, collected, audited and deposited in each county in which lands of said district are situate, in the same manner as county taxes are levied, collected, audited and deposited; provided, however, that said funds shall be deposited to the credit of the "conservancy maintenance assessment fund," hereby established.

The amount of the maintenance tax paid by any parcel of land shall not be credited against the benefits assessed against such parcel of land; but the maintenance tax shall be in addition to any tax that has been or can be levied against the benefit assessment.

§ 55. Readjustment of appraisal of benefits. Whenever the owners or representatives of twenty-five per cent or more of the acreage or value of the lands in the district shall file a petition with the clerk of the district, stating that there has been a material change in the values of the property in the district since the last previous appraisal of benefits, and praying for readjustment of the appraisal of benefits for the purpose of making a more equitable basis for the levy of the maintenance assessment, the said clerk shall give notice of the filing and hearing of said petition in the manner hereinbefore provided.

Upon hearing of said petition if said board of directors shall find there has been a material change in the value of property in said district since the last previous appraisal of benefits, the board of directors shall order that there be a readjustment of the appraisal of benefits for the purpose of providing a basis upon which to levy the maintenance assessment of said district. Thereupon the board of directors shall direct the appraisers of the conservancy district to make such readjustment of appraisal in the manner provided in this act, and said appraisers shall make their report; and the same proceedings shall be had thereon, as nearly as may be, as are herein provided for the appraisal of benefits accruing for original construction; provided, that in making the readjustment of the appraisal of benefits said appraisals shall not be limited to the aggregate amount of the original or any previous appraisal of benefits, and that after the making of such readjustment the limitation of the annual maintenance assessment to one per cent of the total appraised benefits shall apply to the amount of the benefits as readjusted; and provided, further, that there shall be no such readjustment of benefits oftener than once in six years.

§ 56. Invalid assessments. If any assessment made pursuant to the provisions of this act shall prove invalid, the board of directors shall by subsequent or amended acts or proceedings promptly and without delay remedy all defects or irregularities as the case may require by making and providing for the collection of new taxes or assessments or otherwise.

§ 57. Collection of tax levied against county or city. Designation of district. Dissolution of district. Liens not affected by dissolution. Duty of officers on dissolution. Whenever, under the provisions of this act, an assessment is made or a tax levied against a county or city, it shall be the duty of the governing or taxing body of such political subdivision, upon receipt of the order of the board of directors which established the district, confirming the appraisal of benefits and the assessment based thereon, to receive and file the said order, and to immediately take all the legal and necessary steps to collect the same. It shall be the duty of the said governing or taxing body or persons to levy and assess a tax, by a uniform rate upon all the taxable property within the political subdivision, to make out the proper duplicate, certify the same to the auditor of the county in which such subdivision is, whose duty it shall be to receive the same, certify the same for collection to the tax collector of the county, whose duty it shall be to collect the same for the benefit of the conservancy district, all of said officers above named being authorized and directed to take all the necessary steps for the levying, collection and distribution of such tax.

Nothing in this section shall prevent the assessment of the real estate of other corporations or persons situated within such political subdivision, which may be subject to assessment for special benefits to be received.

Every conservancy district formed or established under the provisions of this act, must be designated by the name and under the style of — conservancy district (using the name of the district), of — county (using the name of the county in which such district is situated), and in that name the board of supervisors may make and award contracts, and may sue and be sued.

The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof voting at an election called by the board of supervisors, upon the question of dissolution. Upon a petition signed by fifty or more property owners and residents of such conservancy district, or by thirty-three per cent of the property owners and residents, asking for the dissolution of said district, the board of supervisors shall within thirty days after receiving said petition by resolution, order that an election be held in the said district, for the determination of the question. Such election shall be called and conducted in the same manner as other elections of the district. Upon such dissolution, any property which may have been acquired by such conservancy district shall vest in the board of supervisors of the county wherein such conservancy district is situated; provided, however, that if at the time of the election to dissolve such district there be any outstanding indebtedness of such district, then, in such event, the vote to dissolve such district shall dissolve the same for all purposes excepting only the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such outstanding indebtedness; and from the time such district is thus dissolved, until such indebtedness is fully paid, satisfied and discharged, the board of supervisors is hereby constituted ex officio the governing board of such district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness, as herein provided.

In the event of any dissolution or disincorporation of any conservancy district organized pursuant to the provisions of this act, such dissolution or disincorporation shall not affect the lien of any assessment for benefits imposed pursuant to the provisions of this act, or the liability of any land or lands in such district to the levy of any future assessments for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of any bonds issued hereunder, and in that event, or in the event of any failure on the part of the officers of any district to qualify and act, or in the event of any resignations or vacancies in office, which shall prevent action by the said district or by its proper officers, it shall be the duty of the county tax collector and of all other officers charged in any manner with the duty of assessing, levying and collecting taxes for public purpose in any county, in which said lands shall be situated, to do and perform all acts which may be necessary and requisite to the collection of any such assessment which may have been imposed and to the levying, imposing and collecting of any assessment which it may be necessary to make for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of the said bonds. Any holder of any bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act or any person or officers being a party in interest, may either at law or in equity by suit, action or mandamus, enforce and compel performance of the duties required by this act of any of the officers or persons mentioned in this act.

§ 58. Failure of tax collector to make prompt payment. If any county tax collector or other person intrusted with the collection of these assessments refuses, fails or neglects to make prompt payment of the tax or any part thereof collected under this act to the treasurer of said district upon his presentation of a proper demand, then he shall pay a penalty of ten per cent on the amount of his delinquency; such penalty shall at once become due and payable and both he and his securities shall be liable therefor on his official bond.

§ 59. Use of surplus funds. Report to board of supervisors. Any surplus funds in the treasury of the district may be used, upon resolution of the board of directors, for retiring bonds, reducing the rate of assessment to purchase lands sold for taxes or assessments, as hereinbefore provided, or for accomplishing any other of the legitimate objects of the district.

At least once a year, or oftener if the board of supervisors shall so order, the board of directors shall make a report to the board of supervisors of its proceedings and an accounting of receipts and disbursements to that date which shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall order the auditing of said accounts by public accountants of recognized standing who shall file their report thereon with the clerk of the board of supervisors.

§ 60. Per diem and expenses of directors and appraisers. Each member of the board of directors shall receive not to exceed ten dollars a day and his necessary traveling expenses, when away from home, for the time actually employed in performing his duties. Each appraiser shall receive not to exceed ten dollars a day and his expenses for the time actually employed in his duties.

§ 61. Land in more than one district. The same land, if conducive to public health, safety, convenience or welfare, may be included in more than one district and be subject to the provisions of this act for each and every district in which it may be included; provided, that no district shall be organized under this act in whole or in part within the territory of a district already organized under this act until the board or joint boards of supervisors determine whether the public health, safety, convenience or welfare demand the organization of an additional district, or whether it demand that the territory proposed to be organized into an additional district shall be added to the existing district; and in case the proceedings concerning two or more such districts are before the board of supervisors of two or more counties, such determination shall be as provided in the next section.

§ 62. Conference of supervisors to determine jurisdiction of districts. In case any district or districts are being organized within, or partly within and partly without, the same territory in which some other district or districts have been or are being organized, the board of supervisors of every such county in which such districts have been or are being organized shall confer at the earliest convenient moment after they ascertain the possibility of a conflict in jurisdiction, the sitting to be had in the county having the largest assessed valuation in the proposed district or districts, anything to the contrary herein stated notwithstanding.

At such conference, the several supervisors shall determine to what extent the several districts should be consolidated, or to what extent the boundaries should be adjusted in order to most fully carry out the purposes of this act; and they shall by suitable orders make such determination effective. At such conferences, the decision of the majority of the supervisors shall be necessary for the determination of any matter.

The provisions of this, and of the preceding section shall not operate to delay or to interrupt any proceeding under this act until the question of jurisdiction has been finally determined by the court or courts.

§ 63. Subdistricts. Officers of main district to serve. Whenever it is desired to construct improvements wholly within any district organized under this act, which improvements will affect only a part of said district, for the purpose of accomplishing such work, subdistricts may be organized upon petition of the owners of real property, within the district, which petition shall fulfill the same requirements concerning the subdistricts as the petition outlined in this act is required to fulfill concerning the organization of the main district, and shall be filed with the clerk of the same board of supervisors, and shall be accompanied by a bond as provided for in this act in the first instance. All proceedings relating to the organization of such subdistricts shall conform in all things to the provisions of this act relating to the organization of districts, including also the provision in regard to holding an election excepting as to an election of directors. Whenever the board of supervisors shall by its order duly entered of record declare and decree such subdistricts to be organized, the clerk of said board shall thereupon give notice of such order to the directors of the district, who shall thereupon act also as directors of the subdistrict. Thereafter, the proceedings in reference to the subdistrict shall in all matters conform to the provisions of this act, with the same officers, directors and appraisers; except that in appraisal of benefits and damages for the purposes of such subdistricts, in the issuance of bonds, in the levying of assessments or taxes, and in all other matters affecting only the subdistrict, the provisions of this act shall apply to this subdistrict as though it were an independent district, and it shall not, in these things, be amalgamated with the main district.

The board of directors, board of appraisers, chief engineer, attorney, secretary and other officers, agents and employees of the district shall, so far as it may be necessary, serve in the same capacities for such subdistrict, and contracts and agreements between the main district and the subdistrict may be made in the same manner as contracts and agreements between two districts. The distribution of administrative expense between the main district and subdistrict shall be in proportion to the interests involved and the amount of service rendered, such division to be made by the board of directors with an appeal to the board of supervisors establishing the district. This section shall not be held to prevent the organization of independent districts for local improvements under other laws within the limits of a district organized under this act.

§ 64. Protection of works. The board of directors shall have the right to police the works of the district, and in times of great emergency may compel assistance in the protection of such works, and shall, also, have the right to prevent persons, vehicles or livestock from passing over the works of the district in any manner which would result in damage thereto.

§ 65. Penalty for injuring bench marks, etc. The willful destruction, injury or removal of any bench marks, witness marks, stakes or other reference marks, placed by the surveyors or engineers of the district or by contractors in constructing the works of the district, shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

§ 66. Liability for damages. All persons and corporations shall be liable for damages done to works of the district by themselves, their agents, their employees, or by their livestock, in the same manner, and punishable in the same manner as persons and corporations are liable for damage committed to property or works belonging to private persons.

§ 67. Districts for forestation and reforestation. Districts may be formed under the provisions of this act for forestation and reforestation of the lands leased or owned by said district or upon federal or state lands upon receiving proper permits therefor, when deemed necessary for and incidental to the conservation or control of flood waters against damage by floods, by a substantial compliance with the terms of this act. But no such district in its construction or operation shall in any manner interfere with works for the prevention of floods, or the drainage of lands, or materially diminish their protective value. And the board of supervisors organizing such district for the conservation of water by forestation or reforestation solely, shall require a statement in the petition and proof of the effect that the organization and operation of the same will not materially interfere with any works or plans for flood prevention or the drainage or protection of lands, but will assist in preventing such damage. Nor shall any improvement under this act deprive the owners of lands lying upon any streams of water, of the ordinary flow in said stream without compensation therefor.

Subject to the above, the board of directors shall have the same powers as are herein conferred generally by its provisions so far as applicable.

§ 68. If notice is not properly given. In any and every case where a notice is provided for in this act, if the board of directors finds for any reason that due notice was not given, the board of directors shall not thereby lose jurisdiction, and the proceeding in question shall not thereby be void; but the board of directors shall in that case order due notice to be given, and shall continue the hearing until such time as such notice shall be properly given, and thereupon shall proceed as though notice had been properly given in the first instance.

In case any individual appraisal or appraisals, assessment or assessments, or levy or levies, shall be held void for want of legal notice, or in case the board may determine that any notice with reference to any land or lands may be faulty, then a petition may be filed with the board of directors asking that the board of directors order notice to the owner of such land or lands given and set a time for hearing as provided in this act. And in case the original notice as a whole was sufficient, and was faulty only with reference to publication as to certain tracts, only the owners of and persons interested in those particular tracts need be notified by such subsequent notice. And if the publication of any notice in any county was defective or not made in time, publication of the defective notice need be had only in the county in which the defect occurred.

§ 69. Early hearing on question of validity. All cases in which there arises a question of the validity of the organization of conservancy districts shall be advanced as a matter of immediate public interest and concern, and heard in all courts at the earliest practicable moment.

§ 70. Construction of act. This act being necessary for securing the public health, safety, convenience or welfare, and being necessary for the prevention of great loss of life and for the security of public and private property from floods and other uncontrolled waters, it shall be liberally construed to effect the control and conservation and drainage of the waters of this state.

§ 71. Constitutionality. In case any section or sections or part of any section of this act shall be found to be unconstitutional, the remainder of the act shall not thereby be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

§ 72. Alternative act. All existing laws of the state and parts of laws relating to drainage, flood control, protection from storm waters, irrigation and subjects of which this act treats, shall not be in any other way affected by this act, but this act shall be treated and shall be in effect an alternative act thereto.

§ 73. For the sake of convenience:

(a) Jurisdiction of supervisors over proceeding. In any orders of the board of supervisors, the words, "the board of supervisors now here finds that it hath jurisdiction of the parties to and of the subject matter of this proceeding," shall be equivalent to a finding that each jurisdictional act necessary to confer plenary jurisdiction upon the board of supervisors beginning with the proper signing and filing of the initial petition to the date of the order to meet every legal requirement imposed by this act, has been conferred.

(b) Bonding resolution. No other or further evidence of the legal disposition of the special assessment to the payment of the bonds shall be required than the passage of a bonding resolution by the board of directors recommending to the board of supervisors the issuance of bonds in accordance therewith.

(c) Abbreviations. In the preparation of any assessment or appraisal roll the usual abbreviations employed by engineers, surveyors and abstractors may be used.

(d) Land described by reference to record. Where properly to describe any parcel of land, it would be necessary to use a long description, the appraisers after locating the land generally, may refer to the book and page of the public record of any instrument to which the land is described, which reference shall suffice to identify for all the purposes of that act the land described in the public record so referred to.

(e) Unnecessary to specify names in notice. It shall not be necessary in any notice required by this act to be published to specify the names of the owners of the lands or of the persons interested therein; but any such notice may be addressed, "to all persons interested" with like effect as though such notice named by name every owner, of any lands within the territory specified in the notice and every person interested therein, and every lienor, actual or inchoate.

(f) District a political subdivision. Powers of state commissions not limited. Every district declared to be a conservancy district in accordance with this act shall thereupon become a political subdivision and a public corporation of the state of California, invested with all the powers and privileges conferred upon such districts by this act.

Nothing in this act stated shall be construed to limit or abridge the rights and powers now vested in the railroad commission of the state of California, the water commission of the state of California, the reclamation board, any other commission, officer or agency created by law, and all things herein enumerated to be done shall be performed subject to and in compliance with the authority now vested or hereafter to be vested by law in such commission, board, officer or agency, anything appearing herein notwithstanding.

§ 74. Forms. Notice of hearing on petition. Finding on hearing. Bond and coupon. Notice of enlargement of district. Hearing on appraisals. The following forms may suffice to illustrate the character of the procedure contemplated by this act; and if substantially complied with, those things being changed which (to meet the requirements of the particular case) should be changed, such procedure shall be held to meet the requirements of this act.

1. Form of Notice of Hearing on the Petition.

TITLE 126.

CORPORATIONS.

Act 755.

An act relating to corporations and to the issue of shares by them without a nominal or par value.

[Approved May 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1321. In effect July 28, 1917.]

§ 1. Issuance of shares without nominal or par value. Equal to other shares. Any corporation having a capital stock may provide in its articles of incorporation for the issuance of the shares of stock of such corporation, other than preferred stock having a preference as to principal, without any nominal or par value by stating in such articles:

(1) The number of shares that may be issued by the corporation and, if any of said shares be preferred stock, the amount of each class having a preference and the particular character of such preferences, and if such preferred stock or any part thereof shall have a preference as to principal, the par value of each share thereof, which shall be one dollar or some multiple thereof not exceeding one hundred dollars.

(2) The amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business, which amount, if any portion of the shares shall be preferred stock having a preference as to principal, shall be a sum equal to the product obtained by multiplying the par value of such preferred shares by the whole number of shares that may be issued by the corporation, but which otherwise shall be equal to the product obtained by multiplying one dollar, or some multiple thereof not exceeding one hundred dollars, by the whole number of shares that may be issued by the corporation.

Such statements in the articles shall be in lieu of any statements prescribed by section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code of the state of California as to the amount of its capital stock, the number of shares into which it is divided and the par value thereof. No distinction shall exist between any shares or classes of shares either as to voting power or as to the statutory or constitutional liability of the holders thereof to the creditors of the corporation, and each share of stock without nominal or par value shall be equal in every other respect to every other share authorized to be issued, subject only to the preferences granted to the preferred stock, if any, as stated in such articles. Certificates for shares without nominal or par value shall not have printed or otherwise expressed thereon any nominal or par value of such shares. Such corporation may issue and may sell its authorized shares from time to time for such consideration as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation, and any shares sold or issued for such consideration shall be deemed, when such consideration shall have been paid or delivered to the corporation, to be fully paid.

§ 2. Capital fully paid. Liability of directors. Capital reduced by dividends. No corporation authorized to issue shares in accordance with section one hereof shall begin to carry on business or shall incur any debts until the amount of capital stated in its articles of incorporation shall have been fully paid in money or in property taken at its actual value. If the amount of capital stated in its articles of incorporation shall at any time be increased, such corporation shall not increase the amount of its indebtedness then existing until it shall have received in money or property taken at its actual value the amount of such increase of its stated capital. The directors of any corporation assenting to the creation of any debt in violation of this section shall be liable jointly and severally for such debt. Any director who, because of any such liability under this section, shall pay any debt of the corporation shall be subrogated to all rights of the creditor in respect thereof against the corporation and its property, and also shall be entitled to contribution from all other directors of the corporation similarly liable for the same debt and the personal representative of any such director who shall have died before making such contribution.

No such corporation shall declare any dividend which shall reduce the amount or actual value of its capital below the amount stated in the articles as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business. If any such dividend shall be declared, the directors under whose administration the same may have happened (except those who may have cause their dissent therefrom to be entered at large on the minutes of the directors at the time, or were not present when the same did happen) are, in their individual or private capacity, jointly and severally liable to the corporation and to the creditors thereof to the full amount of any loss sustained by such corporation or by its creditors respectively by reason of such dividend.

§ 3. Aggregate amount of capital stock. Par value. For the purpose of any rule of law or of any statutory provision relating to the amount of the capital stock of the corporation or to the amount or par value of its shares, the aggregate amount of the capital stock of any such corporation formed pursuant to this act shall be deemed to be the aggregate amount of capital specified in the articles of incorporation, or in any certificate of increase or decrease made pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, as the amount of capital with which the corporation will carry on business; the amount or the par value of each share of preferred stock having a preference as to principal shall be deemed to be the amount or par value thereof as stated in the articles of incorporation, and the amount or par value of each other share shall be deemed to be an aliquot part of the aggregate capital so stated in such articles or in such certificate of increase or decrease, in excess of the specified amount (if any) of the preferred stock therein authorized to be issued with a preference as to principal.

An act to provide for and regulate the issuance of stock without nominal or par value by public utility corporations now existing or hereafter organized.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1367. In effect July 30, 1917.]

§ 1. Issuance of shares without nominal or par value by public utility corporation. Any public utility corporation as defined in the "public utilities act" hereafter organized may, if so provided in its articles of incorporation, issue shares of stock without nominal or par value. Such articles of incorporation shall set forth, in lieu of setting forth the amount of its capital stock and the par value thereof, the number of shares into which its capital stock is divided, and shall state that all such shares are without nominal or par value; or such articles of incorporation shall set forth, in addition to setting forth the amount of its capital stock and the par value thereof, a provision for the conversion or exchange of shares having a nominal or par value at any time outstanding for shares without nominal or par value. In all other respects such articles shall set forth the matters and things specified in section two hundred ninety of the Civil Code. Any such corporation may, in common with other corporations formed for profit, by its articles of incorporation provide for the classification of its shares of capital stock into preferred and common shares.

§ 2. Resolution to issue shares. Ratification by stockholders. Amended articles of incorporation. Any public utility corporation now or hereafter organized which shall not be authorized by its articles of incorporation to issue shares of stock without nominal or par value, but which desires to issue shares without nominal or par value, may do so by a resolution of its board of directors, passed and adopted at any regular or special meeting, and ratified by the vote of stockholders representing at least two-thirds of its subscribed or issued capital stock at a meeting called for that purpose, or by the written assent of stockholders representing at least two-thirds of its subscribed or issued capital stock filed with the secretary. Such resolution shall specify that such corporation proposes to divide its capital stock into shares without nominal or par value and to issue such shares of stock then outstanding; such resolution shall also set forth the number of shares into which its capital stock shall be divided, how many of said shares, if any, shall be preferred shares, the terms of preference of any preferred shares, and the basis of exchange of such shares for the shares of stock then outstanding; provided, however, that no such resolution shall be valid which sets forth a basis of exchange which, if carried out, would give to the holders of any class of outstanding stock shares evidencing a less proportionate interest in the capital stock or earnings of the corporation than the outstanding shares of stock held by them, unless such resolution is ratified by the unanimous vote or written assent of the holders of all the outstanding stock of the class prejudicially affected, but with such ratification such resolution shall be valid. Upon the ratification of such resolution by the stockholders by vote or written assent as aforesaid, the board of directors of said corporation shall, without further assent or vote of the stockholders, cause to be prepared amended articles of incorporation setting forth the number of shares into which its capital stock is divided and the fact that such shares are without nominal or par value, the number of shares, if any, to which preference is granted, and the nature and extent of such preference. Such amended articles, certified to as correct by the president and secretary and a majority of the directors under the seal of said corporation shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the original articles of incorporation were filed, and a copy of such amended articles of incorporation certified by such county clerk, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. A copy of such amended articles, certified by the secretary of state, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of every county in which such corporation has or holds real property, except only the county in which the original articles were filed. From and after the filing of such certified copy of such amended articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, all outstanding shares of capital stock shall be deemed shares without nominal or par value. Upon the surrender of all or any certificates representing such outstanding shares, the corporation shall issue to the holder or holders thereof a certificate or certificates representing the number and kind of shares without nominal or par value to which such holder or holders may be entitled, but whether or not such surrender is made, all outstanding shares shall, for all purposes, be regarded as representing the number and kind of shares without nominal or par value to which the holder or holders thereof may be entitled.

§ 3. Outstanding shares with par value. No such corporation shall at any time have outstanding shares of stock having a nominal or par value and at the same time have outstanding shares of stock without nominal or par value.

§ 4. When shares deemed to be of par value. For the purpose of determining the amount of money payable to the secretary of state for filing articles of incorporation, and for the purpose of determining the vote of the stockholders upon the question of the increase of the stock or bonded indebtedness of such corporation, but for no other purpose, such shares shall be deemed to be of the par value of one hundred dollars each. The words "capital stock" and "amount of capital stock" as used in existing laws shall, for the purpose of making such laws applicable to corporations having stock without nominal or par value, be construed in the case of such corporations to mean the aggregate number of shares of stock without nominal or par value. Except as in this act otherwise provided, all provisions of law relating to stock having a par value, so far as the same may be legally, necessarily or practically applicable, shall apply to and govern stock without nominal or par value.

§ 5. Consent of railroad commission. No public utility as defined in the public utilities act may issue any share of stock without nominal or par value, nor shall any share of stock or any stock certificate outstanding be converted into or deemed to be converted into stock without nominal or par value, without the consent of the railroad commission first having been secured in accordance with the provisions of the public utilities act, and the jurisdiction of the railroad commission with reference to such issue and such conversion of stock shall be in all respects the same as that defined in the public utilities act with reference to the issue by public utilities of stock or stock certificates, and nothing in this act shall be construed to in any way limit the jurisdiction of the railroad commission under the public utilities act over the issue of stock and stock certificates.

An act prescribing terms and conditions upon which corporations may transact business in this state and providing penalties and forfeitures for noncompliance.

[Approved May 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 422.]

The entire act was amended in 1917 (Stats. 1917, p. 371), to read as follows:

§ 1. Corporations must file articles of incorporation. Certified copy filed with county clerk. Affidavit. Fee. Foreign corporations must file amendments, etc. Affidavit showing capital stock. Representatives of foreign corporations. Benefit of law. Every corporation organized under the laws of another state, territory, or of a foreign country, which is now doing interstate or intrastate business in this state or maintaining an office herein, and which has not filed with the secretary of state prior to the day on which this act takes effect the document or documents required by this section, or which shall hereafter do such business in this state or maintain an office herein, or which shall enter this state for the purpose of doing such business herein, must file in the office of the secretary of state of the state of California a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, in cases where it has been created by charter, or statute, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act, duly certified by the secretary of state or other officer authorized by the law of the jurisdiction under which such corporation is formed to certify such copy, and must also file a certified copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state of this state in the office of the county clerk of the county where its principal place of business in this state is located, and also where such corporation owns any real property. With such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, charter, or legislative, executive or governmental act creating it, such corporation shall also file with the secretary of state an affidavit sworn to by the president or secretary of such corporation which shall state the amount of such corporation's authorized capital stock at or within fifteen days prior to such filing. Every such corporation shall pay to the secretary of state for filing in his office such certified copy of its articles of incorporation, or of its charter, or of the statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive, or governmental act or acts creating it, a fee of seventy-five dollars; provided, that foreign corporations organized for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes and having no capital stock, and foreign nonprofit corporations shall pay a fee of five dollars for filing the document or documents hereinabove required.

Foreign corporations shall also file any amendment of or change in any of the provisions of its original articles of incorporation, or charter, or of the statute or legislative, executive or governmental act or acts creating it. Every foreign corporation subject to the tax hereinafter provided shall file with the secretary of state, at the time it tenders payment of said tax and any penalty which has accrued, an affidavit sworn to by its president or secretary, showing the amount of its authorized capital stock on the first day of January of the year in which said payment is made, and in the event that such authorized capital stock, as shown by such affidavit, differs from the amount of such capital stock as appears from the records of the secretary of state, then the tax hereinafter provided shall be measured by the amount of the capital stock shown in such affidavit. The license hereinafter required shall not be issued nor shall the amount so tendered be accepted until copies of any documents relating to such change in authorized capital stock, certified as required by this section, shall have been filed with the secretary of state.

Every foreign corporation shall file with the secretary of state a designation of some person residing within this state upon whom process issued by authority of law may be served as the representative, for such purpose, of such corporation. A copy of such designation certified by the secretary of state is sufficient evidence of the appointment of such representative. Such process may be served on the person so designated, or, in the event that no such representative is designated, then on the secretary of state, and such service shall be a valid and binding service on such corporation.

Every corporation which complies with the provisions of this section is thereafter entitled to the benefit of the laws of this state limiting the time for the commencement of civil actions, but any corporation created by or under the laws of any foreign state or country and that has not complied with this section is not entitled to the benefit thereof, nor can any such foreign corporation maintain or defend any action or proceeding concerning its property in this state or any intrastate business or transaction, in any court of this state or acquire or convey any legal title to any real property within this state. In any action or proceeding instituted against any body styled as a corporation, but not created by nor under the laws of this state, evidence that such body has acted as a corporation, or employed methods usually employed by corporations, must be received by the court for the purpose of proving the existence of such corporation, the sufficiency of such evidence to be determined by the court with like effect as in other cases. Every corporation which has complied with the law requiring it to make and file a designation of the person upon whom process against it may be served, need not make or file any further designation. Any designation made may be revoked by the filing by the corporation with the secretary of state of a writing stating such revocation. Within forty days after the death or removal from the state of any person designated by the corporation, or after the revocation of the designation, the corporation must make a new designation, or be subject to the provisions and penalties of this section; provided, however, that any foreign corporation which, prior to the eighth day of March, one thousand nine hundred one, shall have complied with the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to amend 'An act in relation to foreign corporations,' approved April first, one thousand eight hundred seventy-two," approved March seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine, shall, in lieu of the provisions of this section above set forth, file the affidavit and designation of representative herein required and the license-tax due from such corporation shall be measured by the authorized capital stock, as shown thereby.

§ 2. Fees. Upon filing in the office of the secretary of state the certified copy of articles of incorporation of corporations organized under the laws of this state, there shall be paid to the secretary of state the fees prescribed therefor by section four hundred nine of the Political Code.

§ 3. Annual license. Tax. Determination of tax. Tax on corporations having no capital stock. Except those corporations hereinafter specified, every corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, and every corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state, territory, or foreign country now doing intrastate business within this state, or which shall hereafter engage in intrastate business in this state, shall procure annually from the secretary of state a license authorizing the transaction of such business in this state, and pay therefor the license tax prescribed herein.

For the purpose of measuring said tax the secretary of state shall examine all articles of incorporation and all documents on file in his office relating to an increase or decrease in the authorized capital stock of corporations which are subject to said tax, and determine the amount due from each corporation by the following rule:

When the authorized capital stock of the corporation does not exceed ten thousand dollars, the tax shall be ten dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds ten thousand dollars, but does not exceed twenty thousand dollars, the tax shall be fifteen dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds twenty thousand dollars but does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be twenty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be twenty-five dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds one hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars, the tax shall be fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds two hundred fifty thousand dollars but does not exceed five hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be seventy-five dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed one million dollars, the tax shall be one hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds one million dollars but does not exceed three million dollars, the tax shall be two hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds three million dollars but does not exceed five million dollars, the tax shall be three hundred fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds five million dollars but does not exceed seven million five hundred thousand dollars, the tax shall be five hundred fifty dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds seven million five hundred thousand dollars but does not exceed ten million dollars, the tax shall be eight hundred dollars; when the authorized capital stock exceeds ten million dollars, the tax shall be one thousand dollars; when the capital stock of any corporation has no par value the tax shall be one hundred dollars; when part of the capital stock of any corporation has a par value and a part of such stock has no par value, the tax shall be computed upon such par value stock in accordance with the admeasurement schedule herein established, to which sum shall be added the sum of fifty dollars. Building and loan companies and associations shall pay an annual license tax of ten dollars.

All corporations having no capital stock, but organized for profit, shall pay an annual tax of ten dollars. Said license tax shall be due and payable to the secretary of state on the first day of January of each and every year. Such license tax shall be paid on or before the hour of six o'clock P. M. of the first Monday of February of each year and if not so paid shall at said hour become delinquent and there shall thereupon be added thereto as a penalty for such delinquency the sum of ten dollars.

§ 4. Tax authorizes transaction of business. The license hereby provided authorizes the domestic corporations holding the same to transact business in this state, and authorizes foreign corporations to transact intrastate business in this state, during the year or any fractional part of such year for which such license is issued. "Year" within the meaning of this act, means from and including the first day of January to and including the thirty-first day of December next thereafter.

§ 5. License tax for part of year. At the time any corporation subject to the license tax provided herein shall file certified copy of articles of incorporation, or charter, or statute or statutes, or legislative, or executive or governmental act or acts creating a corporation, when filed between the first day of January and the thirty-first day of December, inclusive, in any year, there shall be paid to the secretary of state, in addition to all other fees required by law, that proportion of the license tax specified in section three of this act which the unexpired number of months of such year bears to the entire year including the month in which such filing occurs, and thereupon the secretary of state shall issue a license for such fractional part of the then current year.

§ 6. Corporations exempt. Corporations organized and conducted solely and exclusively for educational, religious, scientific or charitable purposes, corporations which are not organized or conducted for profit, corporations organized under the laws of any other state, territory or foreign country doing solely and exclusively an interstate or foreign business, and those corporations taxed under subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution, are exempt from payment of the tax provided by section three of this act.

§ 7. "Corporation license tax exemption board." Protest. Contents. Corporations excepted. The secretary of state, state controller and members of the state board of control shall be and are hereby constituted the "corporation license tax exemption board." Except in cases where articles of incorporation are filed in the month of December, every corporation claiming exemption from the payment of the annual license tax prescribed by this statute must file with said board, at least thirty days before such license tax becomes due and payable, a written protest in which shall be set forth all facts and reasons upon which such exemption claim is made. Such protest shall contain a concise statement of the nature, character and manner of doing business by such corporation, together with any other data illustrating the method of doing such business and the places in which such business is transacted within this state. Such corporation shall furnish to said board such other or additional information as may be required by said board. Such application shall be sworn to by the president, secretary or general manager, or authorized agent of such corporation. Failure to protest in the manner and within the time herein prescribed shall constitute a waiver of all rights of exemption from said tax; provided, however, that the corporation license tax exemption board shall have the power, irrespective of such protests to grant such exemption in the case of corporations mentioned in section six of this act.

The provisions of this section with respect to filing written claim of exemption, shall not apply to educational, religious, scientific or charitable corporations, specified in section six of this act nor to corporations taxed under subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

§ 8. Tax exemption determined before filing articles of incorporation. Before filing a certified copy of the articles of incorporation of any domestic corporation in the office of the secretary of state, and before any foreign corporation files with the secretary of state the document or documents required by section one of this act, said articles of incorporation or said documents shall be submitted to said corporation license tax exemption board, which board shall determine the question of whether such corporation is exempt, under any of the provisions of this act, from the license tax imposed hereby.

All claims or applications for exemption, under this and the preceding section together with all evidence and proofs submitted therewith, shall be considered by such license tax exemption board, which shall determine the question of such exemption. The determining of such corporation license tax exemption board upon all questions of fact, with respect to such claims of exemption, shall be final and conclusive.

§ 9. Notice of time when tax payable. Notice of delinquency. Notice of suspension or forfeiture. On or before the first day of December of each year the secretary of state shall mail a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act, notifying such corporations of the time when such tax shall be due and payable, when delinquent, and of the penalties for delinquency and nonpayment. Immediately after the first Monday in February of each year the secretary of state shall mail a notice to every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to pay the same, notifying such corporation of its delinquency and the penalties therefor. Within ten days after the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March of each year the secretary of state shall, by registered mail, notify every corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act and which has failed to pay the same, that such corporation has been recorded by him as a "suspended" or "forfeited" corporation in accordance with the provisions of this act, and that such suspension or forfeiture may be removed by complying with the provisions of this act. Mailing by the secretary of state to any corporation of any of the notices required by this section shall not be a jurisdictional prerequisite to the accrual of any forfeiture provided by this act, or to the suspension of the corporate powers of any delinquent corporation and the officers thereof hereinafter provided, nor be held to be an essential prerequisite to the imposition of such or any other penalties for delinquency and nonpayment.

§ 10. License tax lien. The license tax due from any corporation subject to the provisions of this act is a lien upon the real property of such corporation from and after the first day of January of each year and until paid or until the property is sold for the payment thereof. On or before the first Monday in April of each year the secretary of state shall make a list of all corporations subject to the tax imposed by or that should have been paid under this act and which have failed to pay the same, and transmit a certified copy thereof to each county clerk and county recorder in this state. Said county clerks and county recorders shall file such certified copies in their respective offices in such manner that the same shall be preserved in the form of a permanent record of such office and easily identified by and available to the public. Said copies so certified by the secretary of state and filed as herein provided shall, in the case of each corporation, state whether such corporation is a domestic or foreign corporation and specify the tax and penalties which each corporation has incurred for failure to pay the tax imposed by this act. Such certified copies so filed with either of said county officers, or any copy thereof certified by the secretary of state, shall be received in evidence in any court in lieu of the original record on file with the secretary of state and shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of all statements contained therein.

§ 11. Rights of domestic corporations suspended. Right of foreign corporations forfeited. Forfeiture relieved. After six o'clock P. M. of the Saturday preceding the first Monday in March in any year, the corporate rights, privileges and powers of every domestic corporation which has failed to pay the tax and money penalty for nonpayment thereof imposed by this act shall, from and after said hour of said day, be suspended, and incapable of being exercised for any purpose or in any manner, except to execute and deliver deeds to real property in pursuance of contracts therefor made prior to such time, and to defend in court any action brought against such corporation, until said tax with all accrued penalties, taxes and charges due to the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution are paid as hereinafter provided. The right and privilege of every foreign corporation, subject to the provisions of this act, to transact intrastate business in this state shall, for failure to pay the tax and money penalty for nonpayment thereof imposed by this act, be forfeited at said hour of said day, and the secretary of state shall make a record of such forfeiture. In the case of foreign corporations such forfeiture may be relieved and the corporation's privilege to transact intrastate business in this state restored in the manner hereinafter provided. After said hour of said day and until such taxes, penalties and charges are paid, every person who attempts or purports to exercise any of the rights, privileges or powers of any delinquent domestic corporation except as permitted by this act, or, who transacts or attempts to transact any intrastate business in this state in behalf of any forfeited foreign corporation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars and not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than fifty days or more than five hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The jurisdiction of such offense shall be held to be in any county in which any part of such attempted exercise of such powers, or any part of such transaction of business was had or occurred. Every contract made in violation of this section is hereby declared to be void.

§ 12. Application by stockholder or creditor to restore rights. Payment of additional amount. Contractor's certificate. All corporate powers, rights and privileges, suspended or forfeited under the provisions of this act may be revived and restored to full force and effect upon application therefor by any stockholder or creditor thereof and upon payment of all accrued taxes and penalties due to the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution. In case the application for such revivor and restoration is not made during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, such application shall not be granted nor a certificate of revivor issued to such corporation until there is paid to the secretary of state in addition to the tax and money penalty due or that should have been paid the state under this act and subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution for the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, a sum of money, equal to the tax, without penalty, imposed or that should have been paid under this act during the year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred, for each year succeeding said year in which such suspension or forfeiture occurred. Upon payment of all such taxes and penalties, and upon payment of all other taxes due the state under subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution, the state controller shall issue a certificate under his seal evidencing such payment and restoration, which certificate, when recorded in the office of any county recorder shall constitute a release of all existing liens for such taxes upon the property of such corporation. Each county recorder shall keep an index of all such controller's certificates recorded by him. Upon presentation of such controller's certificate of revivor to any county clerk said officer shall make a record thereof in his office in a book kept for such purpose. The record so made by said county clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the restoration to such corporation of all previously suspended or forfeited rights, powers and privileges unless it appears from the records in the office of such county clerk or of the controller or secretary of state that subsequent to the date of such certificate of revivor the powers of said corporation have been again suspended or its right to do intrastate business again forfeited.

§ 13. No dissolution until tax paid. No court shall have jurisdiction to make or enter any decree of dissolution of any domestic corporation until all taxes and penalties due under this act shall have been paid.

§ 14. Restoration of right under acts of 1905 and 1915. Use of new name. Any corporation which has heretofore failed to pay any license tax and penalty imposed under the provisions of chapter three hundred eighty-six, Statutes 1905, and amendments thereof, or under chapter one hundred ninety, Statutes 1915, and for such nonpayment suffered a forfeiture of the charter of such corporation or of the right to do business in this state, may be relieved of such forfeiture, or may be restored to its right to do business in this state, upon making application therefor in writing and paying the license tax and penalties prescribed by said act, for nonpayment of which such forfeiture occurred. Application for restoration under the provisions of this section shall be made in writing, shall be signed by four-fifths of the surviving trustees or directors of said corporation, duly verified by said trustees or directors and filed with the state controller. Upon payment of the moneys due this state under the provisions of said act for the one year in which such forfeiture occurred, together with any tax levied in such year under subdivision (d) of section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution by the state board of equalization, and the license tax due under the provisions of this act, the state controller shall issue a certificate of revivor to such corporation, and thereupon such corporation is revived and its powers restored to full force and effect.

The revivor of a corporation, under the provisions of this section, shall be without prejudice to any action or proceeding, defense or right, which has occurred by reason of the original forfeiture.

In case the name of any corporation which has suffered the forfeiture prescribed by either of said acts first in this section above mentioned, has been adopted by any other corporation since the date of said forfeiture, or in case any corporation has adopted subsequent to such forfeiture any name so closely resembling the name of such reviving corporation as will tend to deceive, then such reviving corporation shall be entitled to a certificate of revivor pursuant to the terms of this section only upon the adoption by such corporation seeking revivor of a new name, and in such case nothing in this section contained shall be construed as permitting such reviving corporation to carry on any business under its former name. Such reviving corporation shall have the right to use its former name or take such new name only upon filing an application therefor with the secretary of state, and upon the issuing of a certificate to such corporation by the secretary of state, setting forth the right of such corporation to take such new name or use its former name as the case may be. The secretary of state shall not issue any certificate permitting any corporation to take or use the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state and which has not suffered a forfeiture under either of the acts in this section first above mentioned, or to take or use a name so closely resembling the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state as will tend to deceive.

The provisions of title nine, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure, in so far as they conflict with this section of this act are not applicable to corporations seeking revivor under this act.

§ 15. Surrender of right to engage in intrastate business. Any foreign corporation may surrender its right to engage in intrastate business in this state by filing with the corporation license tax exemption board an affidavit, sworn to by the president of such corporation, which shall contain a concise statement of the nature, character and manner of doing any business of any kind that such corporation may thereafter intend to transact in this state. Said corporation shall furnish such other or additional information as may be required by said board. Said board shall consider such application and the order of such board approving the same shall terminate the right of such corporation to transact intrastate business in this state. Any person transacting any intrastate business in this state in behalf of such corporation after approval of such application to surrender such privilege shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable as provided in section eleven of this act.

§ 16. False statement. Any false statement contained in any of the affidavits herein required shall constitute perjury, and shall be punishable as such.

§ 17. Moneys paid. All moneys herein required to be paid shall, upon collection, be immediately paid into the state treasury.

§ 18. Statutes unaffected. Nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting or repealing any statute of this state respecting the assessment of franchises and levying of taxes thereon, as required by section fourteen, article thirteen of the constitution and chapter three hundred thirty-five of statutes of one thousand nine hundred eleven of this state and amendments thereof.

§ 19. Title. This act shall be known as the "corporation license act." The amendatory act of 1917 also contained the following provision:

§ 2. In effect. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy, shall, under the provisions of section one of article four of the constitution, take effect immediately.

ACT 777.

An act defining industrial loan companies, providing for their incorporation, powers and supervision.

[Approved May 18, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 658. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. "Industrial loan company." The term "industrial loan company" as used in this act means any corporation which in the regular course of its business loans money and issues its own choses in action under the provisions of this act.

§ 2. Incorporation. Corporations may be incorporated under and by virtue of this act in the same manner as corporations under and by virtue of chapter one of title one of part four, division first of the Civil Code, except as otherwise herein provided.

§ 3. Capital stock. Shares. Capital stock paid. The capital stock of any corporation incorporated under the provisions of this act shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars in any city having a population of twenty-five thousand inhabitants or more and less than fifty thousand; and shall not be less than fifty thousand dollars in any city having fifty thousand or more inhabitants, and less than one hundred thousand; and shall not be less than one hundred thousand dollars in any city having one hundred thousand or more inhabitants, according to the last official census. The capital stock of any such corporation shall be divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each. Before the articles of incorporation of any corporation, incorporated under the provisions of this act, are filed, there must be paid in cash for the benefit of the corporation to a treasurer, elected by the subscribers, not less than twenty-five per cent of the amount of the capital stock; the balance of the capital stock shall be paid in cash to the corporation at the rate of not less than ten per cent per month, following the initial payment. No corporation organized hereunder shall create more than one class of stock.

§ 4. Powers of corporation. Every corporation under the provisions of this act shall have power:

First—To loan money on personal security, or otherwise, and to deduct interest therefor in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, or less, and in addition, to receive and to require uniform weekly or monthly installments on its certificates of investment, purchased by the borrower simultaneously with the said loan transaction, or otherwise, and pledged with the corporation as security for the said loan, with or without an allowance of interest on such installments.

Second—To sell or negotiate choses in action for the payment of money at any time, either fixed or uncertain, and to receive payments therefor in installments or otherwise, with or without an allowance of interest upon such installments. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorize corporations hereunder to receive deposits or to issue certificates of deposit. The issuance of choses in action herein authorized shall be approved as to form by the commissioner of corporations and shall bear the indorsement on the face of the instrument "This is not a certificate of deposit."

Third—To charge for a loan, made pursuant to this section, one dollar for every fifty dollars, or fraction thereof loaned, for expenses, including any examination or investigation of the character and circumstances of the borrower, and the drawing and taking acknowledgment of any papers, or other expenses incurred in making the loan. No charge shall be collected unless a loan shall have been made, and in no case shall such charge exceed five dollars.

Fourth—To establish branch offices, or places of business, within the county in which its principal place of business is located, but not elsewhere.

In addition to the powers herein enumerated, every corporation, under the provisions of this act, shall have the general powers conferred upon corporations by chapter three, title one, part four, division first, of the Civil Code, except as herein otherwise provided.

§ 5. Limitations on corporations. No corporation under the provisions of this act shall:

(a) Hold at any one time the obligation or obligations of any person, firm or corporation, for more than two per cent of the amount of the capital and surplus of such industrial loan company.

(b) Make any loan, under the provisions of this act, for a longer period than one year from the date thereof.

(c) Deposit any of its funds with any other moneyed corporation, unless such corporation has been designated as such depository by a vote of the majority of the directors or of the executive committee, exclusive of any director who is an officer, director or trustee of the depository so designated.

(d) Invest any of its funds, otherwise than as herein authorized, except in such investments as are by law legal investments for savings banks, or in the choses in action issued by any other corporation organized under this act.

(e) Have outstanding at any time its investment certificates in an aggregate sum in excess of ten times the aggregate amount of its paid up capital, exclusive of those hypothecated with the company issuing them.

§ 6. Holding real estate. Every corporation, under the provisions of this act, may purchase, hold and convey real estate for the following purposes, but for no other:

First—Such as shall be conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business.

Second—Such as it shall purchase at sale under judgments, decrees or mortgage foreclosures under securities held by it, but no such corporation shall bid at any such sale a larger amount than shall be necessary to satisfy its debt and costs.

Real estate shall be conveyed under the corporate seal of such corporation and the hand of its president or vice-president and manager or treasurer. No real estate acquired in the cases contemplated above shall be held for a longer period than five years. Parcels of such real estate not sold within said time may be purchased by any person wanting the same, upon the conditions and proceedings provided in section fifty-four of "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909.

§ 7. Dividends. The directors of every corporation, under the provisions of this act, may at certain times and in such manner as its by-laws prescribe, declare and pay dividends to the stockholders of such corporation, of so much of the net profits of the corporation as may be appropriated for that purpose under its by-laws, but before any such dividend is declared, not less than ten per cent of the net profits of such corporation for the preceding half year or for such period as is covered by the dividend, shall be carried to its surplus until such surplus shall amount to twenty-five per cent of the paid up capital stock.

§ 8. Certificates of investment issued not creation of debt. Issuing certificates of investment and the like in the transaction of the business of corporations under the provisions of this act shall not be construed to be the creation of debt within the meaning of the phrase "create debt" in section three hundred nine of the Civil Code nor of "indebtedness" within the meaning of the phrase "the capital stock cannot be diminished to an amount less than the indebtedness of the corporation" in section three hundred fifty-nine of the Civil Code, except that no company organized hereunder shall reduce its capital stock to an amount less than is required by this act to be maintained by such company or less than any indebtedness of such company other than such investment certificates.

§ 9. Taxed. Corporations, under the provisions of this act, shall be taxed the same as other general corporations.

§ 10. Subject to investment companies act. Corporations under the provisions of this act shall be subject to the provisions and regulations of "An act to define investment companies, investment brokers and agents; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof; to provide penalties for the violation thereof; to create the office of commissioner of corporations and making an appropriation therefor," approved May twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred thirteen, and any additions or amendments thereto.

§ 11. Order to discontinue violation of law. Order to discontinue unsafe practices. Suit to restrain enforcement. Commissioner of corporations may take possession of property. If it shall appear to the commissioner of corporations that any company hereunder has violated or failed to comply with the provisions of its articles of incorporation, or any law of this state, or whenever it shall appear from the report of any company hereunder, or the commissioner shall have reason to conclude, that the capital of any company hereunder is impaired or reduced below the amount required by law, he may, by an order under his hand and official seal, addressed to such company, direct such company to discontinue such violation and to comply with the law, or to make good the deficiency or impairment of capital alleged by him to exist within sixty days after the date of such requisition; or

If it shall appear to the commissioner that such company is conducting business in an unsafe or injurious manner, he may, in like manner, direct the discontinuance of any such unsafe or injurious practices. Such orders shall require such company to show cause, before the commissioner, at a time and place to be fixed by him, why said order should not be observed. If upon such hearing it shall appear to the commissioner that such order should be made final he shall proceed to do so, and such company shall immediately comply with such order made by the commissioner of corporations.

Such company shall have ten days after any such order is made final in which suit may be commenced to restrain enforcement of such order and unless such action be so commenced and enforcement of such order be enjoined within ten days by the court in which such is suit is brought, then such company shall comply with such order.

Upon failure of any company to comply with such order or if such company shall refuse to submit its books, papers and concerns to the inspection or examination of the commissioner of corporations, or to anyone authorized by him to make such examination, or if any officer of such company shall refuse to be examined upon oath touching the concerns of such company, or if any such company shall neglect or refuse to observe any order made by the commissioner of corporations pursuant to his supervision as authorized by this act, the commissioner of corporations may forthwith take possession of the property and business of such company and retain such possession until such company shall resume business or its affairs be finally liquidated. On taking possession of the property and business of any such company, the commissioner of corporations may proceed to liquidate the same in the manner provided by the bank act.

§ 12. Powers of commissioner of corporations not affected. Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed or construed as a limitation or restriction of or as in any way affecting the power or discretion of the commissioner of corporations, under the investment companies act or any other statute now or hereafter in effect, to issue a permit authorizing any corporation under the provisions of this act to issue and dispose of choses in action in such amounts and upon such terms and conditions as he may in such permit provide and to impose such conditions as he may deem necessary to the issue of such securities and to establish such rules and regulations as may be reasonable or necessary to insure the disposition of the proceeds of such securities in the manner and for the purposes provided in such permit and from time to time for cause to amend, alter or revoke any permit issued by him or to refuse to issue such permit or otherwise authorize the issue of such securities.

TITLE 130.

COUNTIES.

ACT 806.

An act authorizing any county now or hereafter organized to incur indebtedness, issue negotiable bonds, levy taxes to pay the principal and interest thereof, acquire by condemnation or otherwise land within the county, and, in, consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county, to convey the same to the United States, for a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any or all such military purposes, including supply stations, the mobilization, disciplining and training of the United States army, state militia and other military organizations, as are now or may at any time be authorized or provided for under any law or laws of the United States; conferring on such counties the power of eminent domain for the purposes of this act and providing the procedure therefor; granting the consent of the state to such conveyance and ceding exclusive jurisdiction to the United States over the lands so conveyed.

§ 1. Boards of supervisors may incur indebtedness to purchase land for United States mobilization stations. Whenever the secretary of war of the United States shall agree, on behalf of the government of the United States, to establish in any county now or hereafter organized in this state, a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any or all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States, on condition that land in such county aggregating approximately a designated number of acres at such location or locations within any such county as may have been or may thereafter be from time to time selected or approved by such secretary of war be conveyed to the United States with the consent of the state of California, for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States for such purpose and the board of supervisors shall determine that it is desirable and for the general welfare and benefit of the people of such county and for the interest of the county to incur an indebtedness in an amount sufficient to acquire land in such county aggregating approximately the number of acres so designated, at such location or locations as may have been theretofore or may be thereafter selected or approved by such secretary of war, and, in consideration of the benefits to be derived therefrom by such county, to convey all such lands to the United States to be used by the United States for any or all such military purposes, as are now, or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States, including permanent mobilization, training and supply stations, such county is hereby authorized and empowered by and through its board of supervisors to incur an indebtedness evidenced by negotiable bonds of such county for such purposes in any amount not exceeding, together with all existing bonded indebtedness of such county, five per cent of the taxable property of the county, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof, whenever two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting thereon shall assent thereto, at any election, either general or special, at which the proposal to incur such bonded indebtedness may be submitted to such electors in the manner provided by law.

§ 2. Manner of incurring indebtedness. Not to exceed five per cent of taxable property. Question submitted to voters. Such indebtedness shall be incurred in the following manner, to wit: The board of supervisors of any such county shall by order specify (a) the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred, which shall in general be, for acquiring land in such county aggregating approximately the number of acres designated in such agreement by such secretary of war to be conveyed for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States for such purposes, to the United States for the purposes of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station, (b) the amount of bonds proposed to be issued, provided that such amount, together with all then existing bonded indebtedness of such county shall not exceed five per cent of the taxable property of the county as shown by the last equalized assessment-book thereof, exclusive of the taxable value of the land so proposed to be acquired and conveyed to the United States, (c) the rate of interest it is proposed such bonds shall bear, (d) the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run, and (e) such order shall further provide for submitting the question of the issuance of such bonds to the qualified electors of such county at the next general election, or at a special election to be called by the board for that purpose. The words to appear on the ballot shall be "Bonds—Yes" and "Bonds—

No" or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of the bonds to be issued, and which general statement shall include a statement that the purpose is to acquire and convey to the United States, for the consideration of the benefits to be derived by such county from the use of such lands by the United States, the amount of land set out in said order of the board of supervisors for the purpose of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station. If the question is submitted at a special election, notice thereof shall be given and the question submitted as provided in section four thousand eighty-eight of the Political Code of the state of California.

§ 3. If two-thirds favor. Procedure. If two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county voting thereon shall vote in favor of the issuing such bonds, the board must proceed to issue the amount of bonds specified. The board of supervisors in issuing and selling said bonds shall follow the procedure provided in said section four thousand eighty-eight of said Political Code as to other bonds of the county, and said bonds shall be in the form, of the denominations and specify the rate of interest as provided in said section and shall in all respects conform to the provisions of said section, and the payment thereof, both principal and interest, shall be provided for by a tax levy in the same manner as is provided in said section for the payment of the principal and interest of other bonds issued by any county, and said section, except as herein modified, is hereby specifically made applicable to all bonds at any time issued under the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Right of eminent domain granted. The acquisition of land for the establishment of a permanent mobilization, training and supply station for any and all such military purposes as are now or may be then or thereafter authorized or provided by or under any law of the United States is hereby declared to be a public use, and the right of eminent domain is hereby granted and extended to every county availing itself of the provisions of this act for every purpose of condemnation, appropriation or disposition intended by this act and such county is hereby authorized and empowered to condemn and appropriate all lands and rights whatsoever necessary or convenient for carrying out the provisions of this act. Such right of eminent domain may be exercised on behalf of such public use in accordance with the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure of the state of California.

§ 5. Consent to acquisition by United States. Consent to exercise of exclusive legislation. Pursuant to the constitution and laws of the United States and especially to paragraph seventeen of section eight of article one of such constitution, the consent of the legislature of the state of California is hereby given to the United States to acquire, upon the conditions and for the purposes herein set forth, from any county acting under the provisions of this act, title to all lands herein intended to be referred to; such title to be evidenced by a deed or deeds of such county, signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and attested by the clerk of such county, under seal and the consent of the state of California is hereby given to the exercise by the congress of the United States of exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever over such tracts or parcels of land so conveyed to it; subject, however, to the right of the state to have concurrent jurisdiction so far that all process, civil or criminal, issued under authority of the state may be executed by the proper officers thereof within such tract, upon any person or persons amenable to the same in like manner and with like effect as if such conveyance had not been made. The board of supervisors shall have the power to insert in every conveyance made under the authority of this act, such conditions subsequent as such board shall deem necessary to insure the use of such lands by the United States government for the purposes herein mentioned and to carry out the provisions of this act.

An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties, qualifications and powers, providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau, and fixing his qualifications fixing the compensation of said director and clerk, and providing for the manner of paying the same, and providing for the expense of conducting the office. [Approved March 20, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 520.]

An act creating a state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, providing for its organization and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions hereof, and repealing an act entitled "An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, and providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties and qualifications and powers; providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau and fixing his qualifications; fixing compensation of said director and clerk, providing for the manner of paying the same and providing for the expense of conducting the office," approved March 20, 1905.

§ 1. State bureau of criminal identification and investigation created. There is hereby created a state bureau of criminal identification and investigation.

§ 2. Appointment and term of members. Within ten days after this act goes into effect, it will be the duty of the governor to appoint a board of managers of said bureau, consisting of three members: One of whom shall be a chief of police of an incorporated city within the state of California, and one to be a duly elected, qualified and acting sheriff of a county within said state, and one to be a duly elected, qualified and acting district attorney of a county within said state; one member of said board shall be appointed to hold office for the term of two years, one member shall be appointed to hold office for the term of three years, and one member to be appointed to hold office for the term of four years, and thereafter, all appointments shall be for the full term of four years; provided, however, that should the term of any such member of the said board expire as such chief of police, or such sheriff, or such district attorney, he shall cease to be a member of the said board; and provided, further, that the governor shall fill all vacancies created in said board by the appointment of the same kind of an officer as was his predecessor.

§ 3. Duties of board of managers. Superintendent. It shall be the duty of said board of managers within ten days after its appointment to take absolute control and management of said bureau, to meet and organize by choosing one of their number to be president, to make and adopt such rules as are necessary for proper conduct of their business as such board of managers, to provide for the appointment of a superintendent and such other employees as may be required; said appointments to be made by the said board of managers from an eligible list provided for such purpose by the civil service commission; also to provide equipment for said bureau, with necessary furniture, fixtures, apparatus, appurtenances, appliances and materials as are necessary for the collection, filing and preservation of all criminal records both as to identification and investigation of criminals, and stolen, lost, found, pledged or pawned property.

§ 4. Photos, etc., of criminals. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to procure and file for record and report in their office, as far as such can be procured, all plates, photos, outline pictures, descriptions, information and measurements of all persons who have been or shall hereafter be convicted of felony, or imprisoned for violating any of the military, naval, or criminal laws of the United States of America, and of all well known and habitual criminals from wherever procurable.

§ 5. Information furnished. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to file or cause to be filed all plates, photographs, outline pictures, measurements, information and description which shall be received by it by virtue of its office and it shall make a complete and systematic record and index of the same, providing thereby a method of convenience, consultation and comparison. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to furnish, upon application, all information pertaining to the identification of any person, or persons, a plate, photograph, outline picture, description, measurement, or any data of which person there is a record in its office. Such information shall be furnished to the United States officers or officers of other states or territories, or possession of the United States or peace officers of other countries duly authorized to receive the same, and all peace officers of the state of California, which application shall be in writing and accompanied by a certificate signed by the officer making such application, stating that the information applied for is necessary in the interest of the due administration of the laws, and not for the purpose of assisting a private citizen in carrying on his personal interests or in maliciously, or uselessly, harassing, degrading or humiliating any person or persons.

§ 6. Systems of identification. In this bureau may be used the following systems of identification: the Bertillon, the finger-print system and any system of measurement that may be adopted by law in the various penal institutions of the state. It shall be the duty of said board of managers to keep on file in its office a record consisting of duplicates of all measurements, processes, operations, signalletic cards, plates, photographs, outline pictures, measurements and descriptions of all persons confined in penal institutions of this state as far as possible, in accordance with whatever system or systems may be in vogue in this state.

§ 7. Offices. Suitable offices for the proper conduct of the bureau shall be provided for by the superintendent of capitol buildings and grounds.

§ 8. Daily copies of finger prints furnished. Daily reports of property stolen. It is hereby made the duty of the sheriffs of the several counties of the state of California, the chiefs of police of incorporated cities therein and marshals of incorporated cities and towns therein to furnish to the said bureau daily copies of finger-prints on standardized eight by eight inch cards, and descriptions of all such persons arrested who in the best judgment of such sheriffs, chiefs of police, or city marshals are persons wanted for serious crimes, or are fugitives from justice, or of all such persons in whose possession at the time of arrest are found goods or property reasonably believed by such sheriffs, chiefs of police or city marshals to have been stolen by them; or of all such persons in whose possession are found burglar outfits or burglar tools or burglar keys or who have in their possession high-power explosives reasonably believed to be used for unlawful purposes or who are in possession of infernal machines, bombs or other contrivances in whole or in part and reasonably believed by said sheriffs, chiefs of police and city marshals to be used for unlawful purposes, or of all persons who carry concealed firearms or other deadly weapons and reasonably believed to be carried for unlawful purposes, or who have in their possession inks, dye, paper or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit bank notes, or in the alteration of bank notes; or dies, molds or other articles necessary in the making of counterfeit money, and reasonably believed to be used by them for such unlawful purposes. This section is by no means intended to include violators of city or county ordinances or of persons arrested for other trifling offenses. It is further made the duty of the aforesaid sheriffs, chiefs of police or city marshals to furnish said bureau daily reports of lost, stolen, found, pledged or pawned property received into their respective offices.

§ 9. Record of reports. In order to assist in the recovery of said property and in the arrest and prosecution of criminals, it is hereby made the duty of the said board of managers of said bureau to keep a complete record of all reports filed with the said bureau, of all personal property stolen, lost, found, pledged, or pawned in any city or county of this state.

§ 10. File cards. To provide for the installation of a proper system, and file, and cause to be filed therein cards containing an outline of the method of operation employed by criminals in the commission of crime.

§ 11. Salaries. The board of managers of this bureau shall serve without compensation; provided, however, that they shall receive their necessary traveling expenses while attending meetings of said board. The superintendent shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; the salaries of the other employees shall be fixed by the board of managers subject to the approval of the board of control. The superintendent and the other employees shall be paid in the same manner and out of the same fund as the state officers are paid.

§ 12. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of thirty-six thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to be used by said board of managers in furnishing, equipping and maintaining the said bureau in accordance with the provisions of this act, and for the payment of the salaries herein provided for, for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred eighteen, and the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred nineteen.

§ 13. State controller directed to draw warrants. The state controller is hereby directed to draw warrants in favor of the said board of managers at such times and such amounts as shall be approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 14. Furniture, equipment and records of bureau of criminal identification. All furniture, equipment and records now on file and in use in the office of the "bureau of criminal identification of the state of California," shall become a part of the furniture, equipment and records of the "state bureau of criminal identification and investigation," immediately upon the organization of the board of managers as provided for in this act.

§ 15. Stats. 1905, p. 520, repealed. An act entitled, "An act to create a state bureau of criminal identification, and providing for the appointment of a director of said bureau, defining his duties and qualifications and powers; providing for the appointment of a clerk of said bureau and fixing his qualifications; fixing compensation of said director and clerk, providing for the manner of paying the same and providing for the expense of conducting the office"; approved March 20, 1905, is hereby repealed and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

ACT 867.

An act creating an advisory pardon board; defining and prescribing the powers and duties thereof; and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 17, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 465.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 291.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Advisory pardon board created. President pro tempore of senate serves when. An advisory pardon board of and for the state of California is hereby created, which shall consist of the lieutenant-governor, who shall be chairman of said board, the attorney general, and the wardens of the two state prisons. Should the lieutenant-governor be absent or unable to perform the duties herein prescribed, the president pro tempore of the senate shall act in his place. The board shall have and exercise the powers and duties hereinafter set forth and specified. [Amendment approved May 8, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 291.]

TITLE 141.

DEADLY WEAPONS.

ACT 889.

An act relating to and regulating the carrying, possession, sale or other disposition of firearms capable of being concealed upon the person; prohibiting the possession, carrying, manufacturing and sale of certain other dangerous weapons and the giving, transferring and disposition thereof to other persons within this state; providing for the registering of the sales of firearms; prohibiting the carrying or possession of concealed weapons in municipal corporations; providing for the destruction of certain dangerous weapons as nuisances and making a felony to use or attempt to use certain dangerous weapons against another.

§ 1. Manufacture, etc., of certain dangerous weapons misdemeanor. Every person who manufactures or causes to be manufactured, or leases, or keeps for sale, or offers, or gives, or otherwise disposes of any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, bludgeon, or metal knuckles, a dirk or dagger, to any person within this state is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been previously convicted of a crime made punishable by this section, he is guilty of a felony.

§ 2. Possession of certain dangerous weapons misdemeanor. Every person who possesses any instrument or weapon of the kind commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, bludgeon, metal knuckles, bomb or bombshells, or who carries a dirk or a dagger, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been convicted previously of any felony or of a crime made punishable by this act, he is guilty of a felony.

§ 3. Carrying firearms without license misdemeanor. Every person who carries in any city, city and county, town or municipal corporation of this state any pistol, revolver, or other firearm concealed upon his person, without having a license to carry such firearm as hereinafter provided in section six of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and if he has been convicted previously of any felony, or of any crime made punishable by this act, he is guilty of a felony.

§ 4. Unlawful possession of weapon etc., nuisance. Surrender of weapons, etc. Destruction of weapons, etc. The unlawful possessing or carrying of any of the instruments, weapons or firearms enumerated in section one to section three inclusive of this act, by any person other than those authorized and empowered to carry or possess the same as hereinafter provided, is a nuisance, and such instruments, weapons or firearms are hereby declared to be nuisances, and when any of said articles shall be taken from the possession of any person the same shall be surrendered to the magistrate before whom said person shall be taken, except that in any city, city and county, town or other municipal corporation the same shall be surrendered to the head of the police force, or police department thereof. The officers to whom the same may be so surrendered, except upon certificate of a judge of a court of record, or of the district attorney of any county that the preservation thereof is necessary or proper to the ends of justice, shall proceed at such time or times as he deems proper, and at least once in each year to destroy or cause to be destroyed such instruments, weapons or other firearms in such manner and to such extent that the same shall be and become wholly and entirely ineffective and useless for the purpose for which it was manufactured.

§ 5. Attempted use of weapons felony. Any person who attempts to use, or who with intent to use the same unlawfully against another, carries or possesses a dagger, dirk, dangerous knife, razor, stiletto, or any loaded pistol, revolver or other firearm, or any instrument or weapon commonly known as a blackjack, slungshot, billy, sandclub, sandbag, metal knuckles, bomb, or bombshell or any other dangerous or deadly instrument or weapon, is guilty of a felony. The carrying or possession of any of the weapons specified in this section, by any person while committing, or attempting or threatening to commit a felony, or breach of the peace, or any act of violence against the person or property of another, shall be presumptive evidence of carrying or possessing such weapon with intent to use the same in violation of this section.

§ 6. License to carry concealed firearm. It shall be lawful for the board of police commissioners, chief of police, city marshal, town marshal, or other head of the police department of any city, city and county, town, or other municipal corporation of this state, upon proof before said board, chief, marshal or head, that the person applying therefor is of good moral character, and that good cause exists for the issuance thereof, to issue to such person a license to carry concealed a pistol, revolver or other firearm; provided, however, that the application to carry concealed such firearm shall be filed in writing and shall state the name and residence of the applicant, the nature of applicant's occupation, the business address of applicant, the nature of the weapon sought to be carried and the reason for the filing of the application to carry the same.

§ 7. Register of sales of firearms. Duplicate sheet mailed to police. Violation misdemeanor. Form of register. Every person in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring a pistol, revolver or other firearm, of a size capable of being concealed upon the person, whether such seller, leasor or transferrer is a retail dealer, pawnbroker or otherwise, except as hereinafter provided, shall keep a register in which shall be entered the time of sale, the date of sale, the name of the salesman making the sale, the place where sold, the make, model, manufacturer's number, caliber or other marks of identification on such pistol, revolver or other firearm. Such register shall be prepared by and obtained from the state printer and shall be furnished by the state printer to said dealers on application at a cost of three dollars per one hundred leaves in duplicate and shall be in the form hereinafter provided. The purchaser of any firearm, capable of being concealed upon the person shall sign, and the dealer shall require him to sign his name and affix his address to said register in duplicate and the salesman shall affix his signature in duplicate as a witness to the signature of the purchaser. Any person signing a fictitious name or address is guilty of a misdemeanor. The duplicate sheet of such register shall on the evening of the day of sale, be placed in the mail, postage prepaid and properly addressed to the board of police commissioners, chief of police, city marshal, town marshal or other head of the police department of the city, city and county, town or other municipal corporation wherein the sale was made; provided, that where the sale is made in a district where there is no municipal police department, said duplicate sheet shall be mailed to the county clerk of the county wherein the sale is made. A violation of any of the provisions of this section by any person engaged in the business of selling, leasing or otherwise transferring such firearms is a misdemeanor. This section shall not apply to wholesale dealers in their business intercourse with retail dealers, nor to wholesale or retail dealers in the regular or ordinary transportation of unloaded firearms as merchandise by mail, express or other mode of shipment, to points outside of the city, city and county, town or municipal corporation wherein they are situated. The register provided for in this act shall be substantially in the following form:

§ 8. Exceptions. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to sheriffs, constables, marshals, policemen or other duly appointed peace officers nor to any person summoned by any such officers to assist in making arrest or preserving the peace while said person so summoned is actually engaged in assisting such officer; nor to duly authorized military or civil organizations while parading nor to the members thereof when going to and from the places of meeting of their respective organizations; nor to the possession or transportation by any merchant of unloaded firearms as merchandise; nor to bona fide members of any club or organization now existing or hereinafter organized, for the purpose of practicing shooting at targets upon established target ranges, whether public or private, while such members are using any of the firearms referred to in this act upon or in such target ranges, or while going to and from such ranges.

§ 9. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

TITLE 142.

DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND.

ACT 895b.

An act to authorize certain improvements upon the grounds of the California School for the Deaf and Blind at Berkeley, California.

§ 1. Fences on grounds of California School for Deaf and Blind. The directors of the California School for the Deaf and Blind are hereby authorized to remove the present fence on the grounds of said school, which extends thirty feet across the eastern terminus of Derby street, and also the fence which extends a distance of one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one hundredths feet from said terminus along Tanglewood road, as said street and road are delineated upon a map entitled, "plat of Tanglewood road opening, Berkeley, California," filed in the office of the county recorder of Alameda county on the third day of April, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, and recorded in liber fourteen of maps, page twenty-five, and to replace said fence along a line described as follows:

Commencing at the point of intersection of the northerly line of Derby street and the easterly line of Belrose avenue extended northerly, as said street and avenue are delineated on said plat of Tanglewood road opening, Berkeley, California; thence easterly parallel to the southerly line of plot seventy-eight, as said plot is shown and designated upon Kellersberger's map of rancho of Vicente and Domingo Peralta, and filed in the office of the county recorder of Alameda county, a distance of eighteen and five-tenths feet; thence along a circular arc of two hundred two and ninety-four one hundredths feet radius easterly and southerly to its intersection with the said southerly line of plot seventy-eight at a point distant therein easterly one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one hundredths feet from the intersection of the easterly line of Belrose avenue and the said southerly line of plot seventy-eight, in order that the following described triangular piece of land may be used as a public highway:

Beginning at the intersection of the eastern line of Belrose avenue with the dividing line between plot seventy-seven and plot seventy-eight as shown upon said Kellersberger's map of rancho of Vicente and Domingo Peralta, and running thence northerly along the said eastern line of Belrose avenue thirty-feet; thence easterly parallel to the southern line of said plot seventy-eight, a distance of eighteen and five-tenths feet; thence along a circular arc of two hundred two and ninety-four one-hundredths feet radius easterly and southerly to its intersection with the said southern line of plot seventy-eight at a point distant therein easterly one hundred twenty-four and sixty-five one hundredths feet from the point of beginning; thence westerly in a straight line to the point of beginning; being a portion of said plot seventy-eight and containing six-hundredths acre, more or less.

DEATH.

ACT 897a.

An act to establish a state board of embalmers, defining the duties thereof, providing for the better protection of life and health, preventing the spread of contagious disease, regulating the practice of embalming in connection with the care and disposition of the dead and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved April 16, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 80.]

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1334.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 13. Affidavits to corrections in death certificates. When embalmer's license lapses. Whenever it may be alleged that the facts are not correctly stated in any certificate of death theretofore registered, the local registrar shall require an affidavit under oath to be made by the person asserting the fact, to be supported by the affidavit of one other credible person having knowledge of the facts, setting forth the changes necessary to make the record correct. Having received such affidavits, the local registrar shall file them and shall then draw a line through the incorrect statement or statements in the certificate, without erasing them, and make the necessary corrections, noting on the margin of the certificate his authority for so doing, and transmit the affidavits, attached to the original certificate, when making his regular monthly returns to the state registrar. If the correction relates to a certificate previously returned to the state registrar, the local registrar shall transmit the affidavit forthwith to the state registrar. If the correction is first made upon the original certificate on file in the state bureau of vital statistics, the state registrar shall transmit a certified copy of the original certificate, corrected as above, to the local registrar, who shall thereupon substitute such certified copy for the copy of the certificate in his records. All such corrections and marginal notes referring to them shall be legibly written in ink, typewritten or printed. When an embalmer has allowed his license to lapse, for any reason whatever, his license and number may be reinstated by the proper application of such embalmer, said application to be accompanied by a fee of two dollars and all back dues to date, whereupon the board may reinstate such applicant, provided such lapse shall not have been over two years. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1334.]

§ 22. Special license for nonresidents. Nonresidents living along the border of the state of California, doing business within this state, may make application for a special license, provided they can comply with the rules and regulations governing applicants for license, and furnish a certificate from their state certifying that the applicant holds a valid license, and upon the payment of a fee of twenty dollars, with a yearly renewal fee of five dollars. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1335.]

§ 23. School of embalming. The state board of embalmers is authorized to enter into an agreement with the proper authorities for the purpose of establishing a school of embalming in connection with any state educational institution of university grade or school of secondary grade maintained by a city, city and county, or school district in this state for the purpose of instructing students in the art of embalming and the sanitary care of the dead. The board shall be empowered to employ instructors; secure paraphernalia; lay out a course of instruction and requirements for a graduation; to require fees for same; which said fees shall be deposited in the state treasury in a fund which is hereby created and which shall be known as the embalmers school fund; this school to be in no way an expense to the state. Upon graduation a diploma thereupon shall entitle the holder to be admitted to practice within the state. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1335.]

§ 24. Manufacture and distribution of embalming fluids. It is prohibited to manufacture, sell or distribute embalming fluids within the state containing mineral poison. All fluid containers to have printed on the label "no mineral poison." All manufacturers and distributors of embalming fluids are hereby required to state the per cent formaldehyde contained therein, upon the label. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1335.]

TITLE 152a.

DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL.

ACT 947.

An act to authorize the justices of the district court of appeal for the second appellate district to provide proper rooms for the accommodation of the court and its officers and library, and declaring the expenses thereof to be an annual charge against the general fund of the state treasury.

§ 1. Rooms and accommodations for second district court of appeal. The justices of the district court of appeal for the second appellate district are hereby authorized to provide proper rooms in which to hold court and for the proper accommodation of its officers and library, and the presiding justices of the two divisions of said district court of appeal are hereby authorized to enter into any contract or lease with reference thereto, approved by at least two justices of each division of said court; and the expenses thereof, certified to be correct by at least two justices of each division of said court, shall be paid out of the state treasury; and for such expenses a sufficient sum, shall be annually appropriated out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

TITLE 159.DRAINAGE.*ACT 976.

An act validating the formation and organization, and determining the boundaries of drainage improvement district number one of the county of Merced, state of California.

[Approved January 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 3. In effect immediately.]

§ 1. Drainage improvement district No. 1, Merced county, validated. Drainage improvement district number one of the county of Merced, state of California, as formed and organized by the board of supervisors of said Merced county, and as now existing, is hereby recognized and declared valid, and all proceedings on the formation and organization thereof are hereby approved, ratified and declared valid.

§ 2. Boundaries. The boundaries of said district, as fixed by the board of supervisors of said Merced county are hereby approved and declared to be as follows:

Commencing at the northeast corner of section two, township seven south, range eleven east, Mount Diablo base and meridian, thence, following section lines, south three miles to the southeast corner of section fourteen, of said township and range; thence, following section lines, west two miles, to the southwest corner of section fifteen, said township and range; thence, following section line, north one mile to the northwest corner of said section fifteen; thence east three-eighths mile; thence north one-half mile; thence east three-sixteenths mile; thence north one-quarter mile; thence east seven-sixteenths mile; thence north one-quarter mile to the northeast corner of section ten, said township and range; thence, following section line, north seven-eighths mile to a point on the continuation easterly of the southerly line of lot one of the San Joaquin-Eucalyptus Company's subdivision; thence westerly along lot lines to the southwest corner of lot four of said subdivision; thence northerly along lot line and the continuation thereof to the north line of section three, said township and range; thence following section lines east and one-eighth miles, more or less, to the point of commencement.

§ 3. Urgency measure. Inasmuch as there are in said districts bodies of stagnant water in close proximity to communities, neighborhoods and a large number of residences; and inasmuch as said bodies of stagnant water are injurious to the health of the said residents, and of the inhabitants of said communities and neighborhoods, and for the preservation of the safety and health of the public, must be drained; and inasmuch as this act is necessary to provide ample power for the drainage of said bodies of stagnant water, it is hereby determined and declared that this act, and each and all of the provisions thereof, constitute and is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety and health within the meaning of section one of article four of the constitution and shall take effect and be in full force immediately from and after its passage.

ACT 976a.

An act validating the formation and organization, and determining the boundaries of drainage improvement district number two of the county of Merced, state of California. [Approved, January 29, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 4.]

ACT 976b.

An act validating the formation and organization and proceedings of Los Angeles county drainage improvement district number three under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California, approved March 21, 1903, as amended May 7, 1915, and entitled as amended: "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie, providing for the issuance of bonds and levying of assessments on lands benefited, to pay the cost and expenses thereof." [Approved April 21, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 135.]

ACT 977.

An act to create a drainage district to be called Knight's Landing ridge drainage district; to promote drainage therein by the making of a cut through Knight's Landing ridge, and the construction of a canal leading therefrom; to provide for the election and appointment of officers of said drainage district; defining the powers, duties and compensation of such officers; and providing for levying and collecting assessments upon the lands within said drainage district; the issuance of bonds by said drainage district and testing the validity of the levy of such assessments and the issuance of such bonds.

[Approved April 30, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 109.]

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 7½. Assessments adjudged invalid become credit. In the event that any land owner of the said districts shall have paid the amount, or any portion of the amount, assessed against any tract of land before said assessment shall have been adjudged invalid, in whole, or in part, the amount so paid by said land owner, together with legal interest thereon from the date of such payment, shall be a credit and shall be credited by the treasurer of the county where the assessment list is filed, or by said district, or upon any subsequent assessment on the tract of land on which the said invalid assessment was paid, or be applied in satisfaction pro tanto of any such subsequent assessment thereafter levied on said tract. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 278.]

The amendment adding § 7½ to the act also contained the following provision:

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. [New section added May 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 277.]

ACT 977a.

An act determining and defining the exterior boundaries of Knight's Landing ridge drainage district, created by that certain act approved April 30, 1913, for the purpose of correcting an error in description. [Approved May 7, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 365. In effect July 22, 1919.]

ACT 985.

An act to promote drainage.

[Approved March 18, 1885. Stats. 1885, p. 204.]

Amended 1891, p. 262; 1909, p. 25; 1917, p. 782.

§ 20½. Disincorporation of drainage district. Taxes for payment of indebtedness. Any drainage district organized under the provisions of this act may be disincorporated at any time by proceedings had in the following manner:

Whenever a petition praying for such disincorporation shall be presented to the trustees of said district, signed by a majority of the electors therein, they shall call an election in the same manner as elections for members of the board of trustees are called, and submit to the electors of said district the question of disincorporation. Said election shall be held in all respects in the same manner as regular elections of trustees of the district. If it appears that two-thirds of the electors voting at said election have voted in favor of disincorporation, the trustees shall cause such fact to be entered upon their minutes, and shall forward a copy of such entry to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district was formed, who shall file the same with their clerk, and from the date of such filing, said district shall be deemed disincorporated; provided, that if at the time of the dissolution, or disincorporation of said district, there be any outstanding bonded or other indebtedness of such district, then taxes for the payment of such bonded or other indebtedness shall be levied and collected the same as if such district has not been dissolved and disincorporated, but for all other purposes such district shall be deemed dissolved and disincorporated from the time of the forwarding of said copy of such entry to said board of supervisors. [New section added May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 782.]

An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie. [Approved March 21, 1903. Stats. 1903, p. 354.]

Amended 1915, p. 359; repealed 1919, p. 731. See post, Act 986a, sec. 27.

NOTE.—There was no mention of the repeal in the title of the repealing act.

ACT 986a.

An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie; providing for the issuance of bonds and levying of assessments on lands benefited, to pay the costs and expenses thereof.

§ 1. Petition for establishment of drainage system. Hearing.

Whenever twenty or more property owners or the owners of a majority of the land within a district proposed to be organized under this act, which district contains a body of wet, swamp or overflowed lands, susceptible of drainage by a ditch or drain or a system of ditches or drains, and which said district is to be benefited by the construction of any improvements contemplated by this act, shall file with the board of supervisors of the county in which said lands are situated, a petition for the establishment of such ditch or drain, or system of ditches or drains, for the draining of said body of lands, defining the boundary of the district proposed to be benefited and defining the boundaries of such body of lands to be drained and giving a general description and approximate location of such ditch or drain, or system of ditches or drains, and shall give said board of supervisors a good and sufficient bond, in an amount to be determined by said board, for the payment of all costs that may accrue; provided, said petition shall not be granted, said board shall, within thirty days after the filing of said petition, appoint a day for the hearing of the same, which shall be not less than fifteen nor more than forty days after such appointment; and shall, also, cause to be published in some newspaper published and having a general circulation in the county, a copy of said petition, together with a notice by the clerk of said board of the time and place set for hearing said petition; said publication shall be at least once each week in a daily or weekly newspaper and for at least two weeks next preceding the time set for said hearing.

§ 2. When lands lie within more than one county. Jurisdiction. Payment of assessments by counties. When part of municipality included. Whenever a portion of the lands in the district proposed to be formed hereunder, and to be benefited thereby, lie within the boundaries of more than one county, the petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county within which lie the greatest portion of lands of the proposed district, signed by at least ten property owners, or the owners of a majority of the land of the district within each of the counties to be affected, which petition shall set forth and particularly describe the proposed boundaries of such district, and all other matters required by section one hereof.

Said board of supervisors of the county within which lie the greatest portion of the lands of the proposed district shall have jurisdiction to proceed as in the manner herein provided, and the officers of said county having jurisdiction, shall, as provided in this act, be the officers of said district and shall have the powers and duties herein provided. The several notices in this act provided to be given or published shall, wherever possible, be respectively given or published in the manner prescribed, within the boundaries of the several counties respectively.

Upon filing with the recorder and tax collector of said counties of the certified copy of the plat and report of the engineer of construction and the order of said board levying the special assessments as hereinafter provided, said county or counties other than the county having jurisdiction shall each year collect and pay over to the county having jurisdiction, the total amount of the assessments levied for said year upon the lands within their respective boundaries as levied in said report of the engineer of construction and adopted by the order of the board of supervisors of the county having jurisdiction. Thereafter all costs of every nature which may be incurred or made necessary in the keeping up or preservation of any work or improvement done under the provisions of this section, shall be borne by the county or counties affected by such work or improvement.

Whenever a portion of any ditch or drain or system of ditches or drains for the drainage of any such body of wet, swamp, or overflowed lands will cross or run along the boundary line of any municipal corporation, or when said board of supervisors find that adjacent territory within a municipality will be benefited by such work or improvement, such adjacent territory may be included within the boundaries of such proposed district. Any such territory included within a district formed under this act shall be subject to its provisions. Any work of any improvement herein contemplated to be done may be done either within or without the boundaries of the district organized therefor as may be necessary properly to drain by a ditch or drain or a system of ditches or drains any body of wet, swamp or overflowed lands within said district.

§ 3. Action on petition. The board of supervisors shall, in its discretion, in conclusion of the aforementioned hearing and as a sufficient determination of all questions arising at said hearing, by resolution to be entered upon its minutes, grant or deny said petition. Said petition shall not be granted unless the public health, safety, convenience or welfare will be promoted by the organization of such district. If said petition is granted the resolution granting the same shall so state. If the petition includes any portion of an incorporated municipality, as provided in section two of this act, the board of supervisors shall by resolution find that said portion of said incorporated municipality will be benefited thereby.

§ 4. Duty of county surveyor. Consulting engineer. Attorney. The county surveyor shall be the engineer of construction of said district and his deputies shall be deputy engineers of construction. He shall cause the surveying and other necessary engineering work under this act to be done, and shall survey and measure the work to be done, and shall estimate the costs and expenses thereof, and furnish all plans and specifications, and do all acts appertaining to the duties of the engineer of construction. Every certificate signed by him or by any of his deputies shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of its contents. He shall as in other cases keep a record of all surveys made under the provisions of this act. The board of supervisors may appoint a consulting engineer to assist the engineer of construction, or an attorney for the district, or both, should said board deem it for the best interests of the district. The compensation of said consulting engineer and of said attorney, if appointed, or the rate, or basis for computing the same shall be fixed and stated in the resolution of appointment, which said resolution shall be entered in the minutes of the board of supervisors.

§ 5. Specifications. Approval by state reclamation board. Before the passing of any resolution of intention, under this act, plans and specifications for work substantially the same as that described in the petition for the establishment of said district, and for a district substantially the same as that described in said petition, shall be prepared by the engineer of construction. If the work to be constructed is of such a nature and in such location as to be within the jurisdiction of the state reclamation board, the approval of that said board shall be obtained before the plans are adopted.

Said specifications shall include an estimate of the aggregate amount of the cost and incidental expenses of the work and the cost of the proceedings and shall be signed by the engineer of construction and be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors.

§ 6. Resolution of intention. Before ordering any work to be done under this act, the board of supervisors shall pass a resolution of intention so to do. Such resolution may in form, and shall in substance, be as following (filling all blanks):

In the matter of drainage district improvement No. —.

Resolution of Intention No. — (both numbers being that of the district).

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of supervisors of the county of —, state of California, proceeding under and by virtue of the drainage district improvement act of 1919, and in the matter of drainage district improvement district No. — (the number being that of the district), on the — day of —, 19—, at the hour of — M. of that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at the chambers of said board, to order work to be done, as follows: (Here insert a description of the work, stating the territorial extent thereof with all reasonable exactness, and other particulars generally, yet so as to indicate fairly and approximately its probable cost), the said work to be done in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor filed with the clerk of said board on the — day of —, 19—, except as the boundaries of the district and the plans and specifications may be changed at the hearing hereinafter provided, which plans and specifications are made a part hereof, and to which all persons are referred for further particulars. For the cost and incidental expenses of the work and the cost of the proceeding, bonds will be issued in the total amount thereof, due and payable in — annual installments bearing interest at the rate of — per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, all in gold coin of the United States.

A special fund for the payment of said bonds and interest thereon, to be designated drainage district improvement No. — (the number being that of the district) interest and sinking fund, is to be constituted by the levy and collection of special assessment taxes upon all land within a district to be known as "drainage improvement district No. — of the county of —."

Such district (as proposed) being all that territory in the county or counties of —, state of California, within exterior boundaries as follows, to wit: — (the blank to be filled with a careful statement of the exterior boundaries of the district).

Notice is hereby given that at the time herein specified for ordering the work, the matter of said drainage district improvement No. — will come up for hearing, and all objections which under the provisions of said drainage district improvement act of 1919, are entitled to be heard or determined, will then be heard and determined, and the boundaries of said district and the plans and specifications will be then finally determined and established.

The — (here insert name and character of newspaper. If the district include lands within more than one county, as provided in section two, a newspaper, if any, published in each county, shall be designated) is (or are) hereby designated as the newspaper (or newspapers) for making publication of this resolution and for making all other publications in the proceeding.

The county surveyor is hereby appointed to superintend the work of said improvement.

The foregoing resolution was, on the — day of —, 19—, passed by the board of supervisors of the county of —, state of California.

Attest:

Clerk of the board of supervisors of said county of —.

By — —, deputy clerk.

§ 7. Publication and posting of resolution. Affidavit of publication. Such resolution of intention shall be filed, and be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper or newspapers therein designated, which shall be a newspaper or newspapers published and circulated in the county or counties, or, if there be no such newspaper, then in any newspaper designated by said board of supervisors in such resolution. Printed copies of such resolution, headed, "Notice of drainage district improvement," such heading to be in letters not less than one inch in height, shall, by the engineer of construction, be posted along the line of work described in said resolution, at a distance of not more than three hundred feet apart, but not less than three notices in all. Affidavits by the person so publishing or posting, in proof of such publication and posting, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. When, before the day of the hearing specified in the resolution of intention, twenty days, including Sundays and holidays, have elapsed since the posting and the first publication (they need not be simultaneous) of the resolution of intention, the board of supervisors shall have acquired power to proceed with such hearing and to act in the proceeding as herein authorized. The determination of the board of supervisors to proceed with such hearing, whether evidenced by an express declaration or by its proceeding with the hearing, shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of all the facts upon which the power of the board to proceed depends, except such as are required to appear of record in the proceeding, and except, also, in so far as rebutted by the record in the proceeding.

§ 8. Objections. At any time before the day in the resolution of intention specified for ordering the work and the hearing of the matter, any property owner may, alone or with other property owners, file with the clerk of the board of supervisors written objection to the ordering of the work, as an entirety but not merely to some part thereof, as described in the resolution of intention; provided, that the objection of any person who ceases to be such property owner before the day of said hearing shall not then be heard. Property owners within the meaning of this act are those and those only, who own property which will be liable to assessment hereunder, and an executor or administrator shall be deemed representative of his decedent, and a trustee of an express trust in land other than as security for the payment of money, of the land so held in trust, and a trustee in bankruptcy, of the bankrupt.

Next after in order of hearing, the board shall proceed to hear such objections as may be made to the plans and specifications, and then such objections as shall be made to the boundaries of the district as set forth in the resolution of intention. Objection to the plans and specifications or to the boundaries of the district may be made by any property owner upon the hearing without filing any written statement thereof. The hearing may be continued from time to time by the board of supervisors by an order to be entered in the minutes of the board.

§ 9. Finding of board. Boundaries. Notice inviting sealed proposals.

The board of supervisors shall in conclusion of the aforementioned hearing, and as a sufficient determination of all questions arising thereat, by resolution or resolutions to be entered upon its minutes, declare its finding determining, in its discretion, either that the work shall be ordered or that all proceedings shall be abandoned. If said board determines that said work shall be ordered it shall further determine the boundaries of the district and finally approve the plans and specifications. If no changes be made in the boundaries of the district as set forth in the resolution of intention, it shall be sufficient to state that the boundaries of the district are those set forth in the resolution of intention; if any change of such boundaries is made, the boundaries of the district, as finally determined, shall be fully set forth. If no change be made in the plans and specifications, it shall be sufficient to state that such plans and specifications are approved. In either case, the boundaries of the district so determined shall be the boundaries of the district for all purposes of the proceeding and until any bonds to be issued for the cost of the work shall have been fully paid and discharged; the plans and specifications so approved shall be the plans and specifications of the district for all the purposes of proceeding. The boundaries of the district, as set forth in the resolution of intention, shall not be so changed as to include within the district any territory not within the boundaries as set forth in said resolution, nor so that the place or locality of any work as finally approved and originally planned to be within the district shall be excluded from the boundaries of the district as finally determined. In like manner the board of supervisors may order the work to be done, and if it so do, shall fix a time for receiving proposals or bids for doing the work, and direct the clerk to give notice, inviting sealed proposals or bids. Such notice shall include a statement that the work is to be done under the provisions of the drainage district improvement act of 1919, and according to the plans and specifications on file, except in so far as such plans and specifications were changed by the board of supervisors in conclusion of the hearing in said act provided; to which said act, to the resolution of intention and all proceedings had thereunder the attention of bidders is hereby directed, and which are by this reference made part of this notice.

§ 10. Publication of notice. The notice inviting sealed proposals or bids shall be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention, and (though it need not be simultaneously) a copy or copies of the same shall be posted and kept posted for five days, at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors. All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the county, certified by a responsible bank in an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal or bid, or by a bond in such amount running to the county, signed by the bidder, with two sureties qualifying before an officer competent to administer oaths, each in said amount over and above all statutory exemptions, or executed by some bonding company acceptable to said board of supervisors. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said board.

§ 11. Award to lowest bidder. Notice of award. Bidder to pay expenses of publishing resolutions, etc. Said board shall, in open session, open and examine and declare the same. No proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by such check or such bond in terms satisfactory to the board. The board may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem it for the public good, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work to the lowest responsible bidder at the price named in his bid.

A notice of such award, attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors shall be transmitted to the successful bidder by mail by the clerk of the board of supervisors, and shall also be published and posted in the manner herein provided as to the notice inviting proposals or bids.

The check or bond accompanying such accepted proposal or bid shall be kept by the clerk of said board until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into. Checks or bonds of unsuccessful bidders shall be returned by the clerk of said board. If said successful bidder fails, neglects or refuses for fifteen days after being awarded the contract to execute the same, the certified check accompanying his bid, and the amount thereof shall be declared forfeited to the county, and may be collected by it and paid into the interest and sinking fund of the district, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount thereof collected and paid into said fund.

Before being entitled to a contract the bidder to whom the award thereof has been made must advance and pay to the clerk of the board of supervisors, the costs and expenses of publishing and posting the resolutions, notices and orders required under this act to be made, which have been made, given, posted or published in the proceeding.

If for fifteen days after being awarded the contract, the awardee fails, neglects or refuses to execute the same, the board of supervisors may direct the clerk of the board to give notice as in the first instance, inviting sealed proposals or bids, and thereupon, after receiving bids shall award as in the first instance; and as in the case of the default of a first awardee, so also in the case of a second or any subsequent awardees.

§ 12. Estimate of cost of work. Assessment of benefits. Report to engineer. Notice of hearing on report. Objections. Assessments. Fund to retire bonds. Delinquent installments. Tax for maintenance fund. After adopting said plans and specifications as hereinabove provided, and before executing a contract for the construction of the improvement, the board of supervisors shall direct the engineer of construction to estimate the total cost of making the proposed improvements and performing such proposed work (which estimate shall include all expenses of every kind incurred or to be incurred, either directly or indirectly, in carrying out said work and improvements), and to assess the same in proportion to the benefits thereof to the lands in said district, and to do all things proper and necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

Said engineer of construction shall proceed to view the lands within the district and may examine witnesses under oath. He shall proceed to assess against the land within said district the estimated amounts of the cost of the proposed work or improvement and the expenses incident thereto, in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said work or improvement so far as he reasonably can estimate the same, including in such estimate of benefits the real property of any railroad company within said district, if such there be. He shall state the amounts to be assessed on each parcel of land separately, and shall divide the total assessment on each parcel of land into yearly installments of amounts clearly sufficient to retire the bonds and to pay the interest thereon for each year that said assessment shall continue.

In estimating the total cost and expenses of doing said work, the engineer of construction shall be governed by the amount he deems necessary to pay the principal and interest on bonds to be issued therefor as herein set forth and all incidental expenses to be incurred as herein authorized. Such estimate shall be based upon the amount bid by the successful bidder for doing the work as set forth in the plans and specifications together with an estimate of the incidental expenses to be incurred.

The engineer of construction having made his assessment of the benefits, shall with all diligence, and before the board of supervisors declares the work to have been completed, make a written report thereof to, and file the same with, said board, and shall accompany said report with a plat of the district showing the relative location of each block, lot or portion of lot, or other piece of land and its dimensions so far as he can reasonably ascertain the same. Each block and lot, or portion of lot, or other parcel or parcels of land affected or assessed shall be designated and described in said plat by an appropriate number and a reference to it by such descriptive number shall be sufficient description of it in all respects. Said report of said engineer of construction shall also state the names of the persons owning lands over which a right of way for said improvement has been obtained, as well as the name of any lessee, encumbrancer, or other person having an interest in said land over which a right of way has been obtained, together with the particulars of their interest therein, and together with a waiver of any interest they may have had in said land so obtained for said right of way. Errors in the designation of the owner or owners of any land or improvement or any interest therein, or of the particulars of their interest, shall not affect the validity of the assessment.

The report of such engineer of construction and the affidavit accompanying it shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and said board shall thereupon fix a time for the hearing thereon, and thereupon the clerk of said board shall give notice of said hearing by publication once each week for at least three weeks prior to the time fixed for said hearing, in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention. Such notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Notice of the filing of the report of the engineer of construction of drainage improvement district No. — (the number being that of the district) of the county of —.

Notice is hereby given that the engineer of construction of drainage improvement district No. — (the number being that of the district), did on the — day of —, 19—, file his report of the assessment of benefits in said district with the clerk of the board of supervisors of said county, which said report is now on file in the office of the said board of supervisors in the city of —, of said county, and that said report will be heard by said board at its chamber on the — day of —, 19—, at the hour of —M. Said report and the map, plans and specifications of the improvements mentioned therein are hereby referred to for further particulars. All persons interested are hereby required to show cause, if any they have, at the time and place fixed for said hearing, why such report should not be adopted and confirmed by said board, and why the several parcels of land referred to in said report should not be assessed for said improvement as therein set forth. All objections shall be in writing, signed by the person objecting, and filed with the clerk of said board at least one day prior to the time fixed for the hearing of said report.

Signed, — —,

Clerk of the board of supervisors, — county.

Any property owner may file with the clerk of said board at least one day before the time fixed for the hearing, a written objection to said report, or to any part thereof, to the assessment as a whole or to the assessments on the several parcels of land, as set forth in said report. At the time fixed for such hearing or at any time to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon all objections so filed, and shall proceed to pass upon said report and the assessments therein contained, and may confirm, correct or modify the same, or may direct the engineer of construction to make a new assessment, report and plat which shall be filed, heard and acted upon in the same manner, and on like notice as an original report. The action of the board upon the report and objections thereto shall be final and conclusive as to all matters therein, and no assessment shall be set aside except upon such hearing for any error, defect, or informality therein, or in the proceedings prior thereto, where notice of the hearing of the report has been given as herein prescribed. The board of supervisors shall, upon the adoption of said report, by order entered upon its minutes, levy against and upon all lands within said drainage improvement district No. — (being the district as established and bounded in the order for the work to be done) a special assessment upon the lands found to be benefited by such improvement in the amount set forth in the said report of the engineer of construction as adopted by the board of supervisors, and which said amount shall be available for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon. Said assessment shall be payable as herein provided at the times and in the amounts indicated in said report of said engineer of construction. When the said board has levied the special assessment as hereinabove set forth, the clerk of said board shall cause to be filed with the recorder, and with the tax collector of the county or counties in which the district is situated, certified copies of the plat and report as adopted and confirmed by said board, together with certified copies of the order of said board levying said special assessment, and also give to the county auditor notice of the total amount of the installments for each year. If the district lies within more than one county as provided in section two, said certified copies shall be filed with the recorder and tax collector of each county affected. Upon the filing of such certified copies the charges assessed upon each piece of land for the first year shall immediately become due and payable, and shall constitute a lien thereon; thereafter the installments for the succeeding year shall become due and payable on the third Monday of October of each year, and shall thereupon constitute a lien upon the land against which it is assessed.

All moneys paid upon such assessment, either by property owners or by the county or municipality affected, shall be placed in the county treasury of the county in which such district was organized in a special fund to be known as drainage district improvement No. — interest and sinking fund (the number being that of the district), and shall be used only to retire the bonds issued to pay the cost of constructing the improvement and the incidental expenses thereof, and to pay the interest on said bonds. Any surplus remaining shall be paid into the maintenance fund of said district. Upon the filing of the certified copy of the report, assessment plat, and order with the tax collector of the county or counties as above provided, the tax collector shall give notice by ten days publication in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention, that the assessment list of drainage improvement district No. — has been filed in his office, with the date of such filing; that the first installments entered thereon are due and payable, and that if not paid on or before the last Monday of April next ensuing the same will become delinquent and will be collected as are delinquent taxes. He shall note on said assessment list all assessments paid, and give receipts as upon the payment of taxes, and shall pay all money collected into the county treasury at the same time and in the same manner as money collected for taxes.

Subsequent collections of installments shall be made in the manner above set forth, and the tax collector shall annually publish a like notice, and the same proceedings shall be had as upon the collection of the first installment.

When said installments have become delinquent the tax collector of the county shall proceed to collect the same, together with an additional ten per cent added thereon, and pay the same over to the county treasurer as state and county taxes are collected and paid over; for the purpose of collecting such assessments and delinquent installments and penalties, all of the provisions of chapter seven, title nine, part three of the Political Code not in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby made applicable. The entire assessment against a parcel of land within the district, subsequent installments as well as the installment for the current year, may at any time be paid in full.

The board of supervisors shall each year, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes, levy an ad valorem tax upon the real estate in each drainage improvement district in their county organized under this act in an amount sufficient to raise the revenue which will be needed for the current year for maintaining and repairing the works and improvements for said district. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment-roll and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When collected it shall be placed in the treasury of the county in a fund to be designated "drainage district improvement No. — maintenance fund," (the number being that of the district), and shall be used only for the purpose for which it was raised.

If said district includes land within more than one county as above provided in section two, the ad valorem tax herein provided to be levied, shall, by each of said counties be collected as to the lands lying within its boundaries; and said counties shall pay said tax so collected over to the county having jurisdiction of said district.

§ 13. Execution of contract. Bond of contractor. County to issue bonds. Taking over or reletting contract. Action on bond for material or labor furnished. The chairman of the board of supervisors is hereby authorized, in the name of the county to execute the contract with the awardee thereof, and to receive and approve all bonds required by this act on the part of the awardee, and shall, by the terms of said contract, fix the time for the beginning of the work, which shall not be more than twenty days from the date thereof. The contract shall provide that the work shall be prosecuted with diligence until completed, and shall fix a time for such completion. Such time of completion may be extended from time to time by the board of supervisors, in its discretion, and by resolution, entered by the clerk in the minutes of said board, a copy of which shall by said clerk be indorsed upon or annexed to the contract.

Before the execution of such contract, a bond shall be executed and filed, running to the county, in an amount not less than one-half of the contract price of the work, signed by the contractor and two or more sureties, who, unless surety companies, shall qualify before an officer entitled to administer the oath, in a sum aggregately equal to the amount of the bond, each surety in the amount for which he becomes surety. Such bond shall be conditioned for the faithful execution of the contract by the contractor, and for the payment by him for all labor and materials furnished for or in the doing of the work. The form and sufficiency of said bond shall be passed upon by some member of the board of supervisors, and such bond shall inure as well to the benefit of any and all persons furnishing labor or materials for the work as to that of the county.

By said contract the county shall undertake that the board of supervisors will, upon the fulfillment and performance of the contract on the part of the contractor, and under the provisions of the drainage district improvement act of 1919 take all steps, in or by said act authorized to be taken, to effect the issuing by the county treasurer of the bonds in said act authorized to be issued, and provide a fund for their payment, as in or by said act prescribed. The contract shall state that in no case shall the county be liable thereunder, nor any officer thereof be holden thereunder except for the discharge of official duty under the law.

If the contractor shall fail to begin in good faith the work provided for in said contract within the time in said contract set forth, or shall fail thereafter to prosecute said work in a workmanlike and diligent manner, or shall fail in any other respect to carry out the terms of said contract, then the board of supervisors shall cause written notice to be served upon said contractor, specifying the particular in which he is not fulfilling the requirements of said contract, and if for a period of three days thereafter said contractor shall fail to remedy the defects set forth in said notice, and to prosecute said work thereafter with diligence and in a workmanlike manner, then the board of supervisors shall either take over said contract and complete said work, or shall relet said contract, without the necessity of advertising for bids, and cause the work to be completed, and shall declare the bond given by said contractor forfeited and order suit brought thereon, and all moneys collected therefrom shall be paid into the interest and sinking fund of the district.

If the contractor shall fail to pay for any labor or material furnished for or in the doing of said work by any person, such person may within ninety days after the making of the final order hereinafter referred to, file with the county treasurer a verified statement of such facts, and such person may thereafter, within six months after the filing of such statement, bring an action on said bond in his own name, or if he has assigned his claim, the action may be brought in the name of the assignee; provided, however, that the right of the county to recover on said bond shall be superior to the rights of any such person to recover thereon; provided, moreover, that if such statement shall be filed before the expiration of twenty days from the making of such final order, then the county treasurer shall be authorized to withhold from the contractor sufficient of the bonds, issued as herein provided, to satisfy said claim, and costs, which can reasonably be anticipated.

§ 14. Declaration that work has been completed. Hearing to determine whether work will be accepted. Notice of final hearing. Objections. Continuance of hearing. As soon as in good faith may be done, there shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors a declaration that the work has been completed according to the contract, together with an itemized statement of all the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the cost of the proceedings inclusive of the estimated cost of publishing the notice of final hearing hereinafter provided. The aggregate amount of such items shall be stated, and also the amount due under the contract; and also the gross sum for a bond issue representing the entire amount thereof, as claimed by the contractor. The said declaration and statements shall be signed and verified by the engineer of construction and by the contractor or by some person cognizant of the facts signing on his behalf and stating why he, instead of the contractor, so signs and verifies. Either signer may except from his signature and verification any amount or item to which he does not assent. The chairman of the board of supervisors shall fix a time for a hearing, to be known as the final hearing, for the purpose of determining whether the work shall be accepted as completed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amount for which bonds shall be issued representing the total costs of the work and the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceedings, all of which have been charged to and are payable by the contractor. Notice of such hearing shall be given and may, in form, and shall, in substance be as follows (filling the blanks):

NOTICE OF FINAL HEARING.

In the matter of drainage district improvement No. —.

Notice is hereby given that a final hearing in the above-named matter will be had at the hour of —M. on the — day of —, 19—, at the chamber of the board of supervisors of the county of —, state of California, for the purpose of determining whether the work done under the contract with — under resolution of intention No. — in drainage improvement district No. — of the county of — shall be accepted as being performed according to the contract, and for determining the aggregate amount for which bonds shall issue representing the cost of such work, including the incidental costs and expenses of the work and the proceedings, of which a statement has been filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors of the county of — to which statement the attention of all persons interested is hereby directed.

— of the board of supervisors of the county of —.

Attest: —,

Clerk of said board of supervisors.

Such notice shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors and published by at least two insertions in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention, and a copy or copies thereof posted and kept posted for two days at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors, the first day of such publication and that of such posting (they need not be simultaneous) to be not less than five days before the day in said notice specified for the hearing. Proof of such publication shall be made by affidavit or affidavits, and the same shall be filed. If a quorum be not present at the time specified in the notice of the hearing, the members of the board then present may continue the hearing; and at all stages the hearing may, by resolution entered in the minutes, be continued from time to time. At any time before the day in said notice specified for the hearing any property owner may file written objection to the acceptance of the work on the ground that the work has not been completed or done according to the contract, specifying in ordinary language the particulars in which the work has not been so completed or done. Any person interested in the proceeding, as of the interest of the contractor, shall be presumed to take issue with such objection and shall be heard accordingly. Questions as to the incidental costs or expenses of the work or the proceedings may be raised orally by any property owner within the district. Evidence may be adduced as to any of the matters to be determined, and in such order as the board may direct. If, when the matter has been fully heard, whether under, or in the absence of, objections, the board of supervisors is of the opinion that the work has not been completed or done according to the contract, it shall in writing specify what must be done in order to complete the work, and shall, by an order or resolution to be entered in its minutes, continue the further hearing of the whole matter to a specified day, expressly stating that such continuance is for the purpose of enabling the contractor to complete his contract. On said continued hearing, the objections to the work filed before the day of the first hearing shall continue in force, and evidence shall be received, if offered, as to what has been done by way of completing the contract in the particulars specified in the order of the board on the said continuance of the hearing. If, upon such continued hearing, the board is of the opinion that the work is still uncompleted in the particulars as to which it was ordered to be completed, it shall be discretionary with said board to order or refuse a second continuance of the hearing. If the board does order such second continuance, it shall be ordered in the same manner, with like effect as upon the first continuance; and likewise as to a second and any other or further continuance. Objections to any item of incidental costs and expenses shall pend and be heard on said day, or at any continued hearing had as above in this section provided. Every continuance of said hearing for the purpose of enabling the contractor to complete his contract or the work shall continue or revive such powers in the proceeding as the board of supervisors had under the provisions of this act, at the time of the filing of the contractor's declaration that the work was completed, as above provided, and also operate to extend the time for the completion of said contract in such manner that its completion within the time to which the hearing is continued, shall be as valid performance of such contract as if completed at the time of filing such declaration.

§ 15. Acceptance of work. Whenever upon the hearing in section fourteen provided, whether original or continued, the board shall be of the opinion that the work has been completed and done according to the contract, said board shall by resolution to be entered upon its minutes so declare, and shall in said resolution declare that the work is accepted and the amount of the contract price for doing the work and the amount of the incidental costs and expenses of the work and proceedings and the aggregate amount for which bonds are to be issued and shall make final order that bonds be issued therefor as hereinafter provided. The decision and determination of said board at the hearing provided for in section fourteen shall, as to all matters determined at said hearing and as to all errors, informalities, irregularities, or omissions which said board might have avoided or remedied during the progress of the proceedings, or which it can at that time remedy, be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to be heard before said board on said matters, and no assessment or tax levied for the payment of the bonds, and the interest thereon, to be issued for said work and expenses, shall be held invalid by any court for any error, informality, omission or other defect in the proceedings where the resolution of intention has been actually published as in this act provided, before the said board shall have ordered the work to be done.

§ 16. Bonds to be issued by treasurer. Drainage district improvement bond. Term and interest. Manner of making payments. Bonds evidence of prior proceedings. Upon the expiration of twenty days after the making of the final order provided in section fifteen of this act, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county an attested copy of said final order, and upon receipt of the same, the treasurer shall proceed to issue bonds amounting in the aggregate to the principal sum for which bonds are to be issued as the same is stated in said final order. A bond may be issued in any amount, provided that the aggregate of the bond or bonds made payable in any one year is the proper part of the whole principal of the bond issue as specified in said final order, and that the interest thereon shall be payable as hereinafter provided. The said bonds may in form, and shall in substance, be as follows:

DRAINAGE DISTRICT IMPROVEMENT BOND.

County of —, State of California.

Drainage Improvement District No. —.

$—.

Bond No. —.

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the state of California, known as the "drainage district improvement act of 1919"

(here may be inserted a further designation of the act if desired) the county of —, state of California, will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of the said county, on the — day of —, 19—, the sum of — dollars in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon, in like gold coin at the rate of — per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the — day of —, and the — day of — of each year from the date hereof (the last installment thereof shall be payable at maturity of this bond) upon presentation and surrender, as they respectively become due, of the proper interest coupons hereto attached, the first of which is for interest from date hereof to the next date of interest payment, and the last for interest to maturity hereof from the last preceding date of interest payment.

This bond is issued under and in conformity with the provisions of said drainage district improvement act of 1919 and the amendments thereof, and is one of a series of bonds of like date and effect numbered from one to — consecutively, amounting in the aggregate to — dollars, issued in behalf of drainage improvement district No. — of said county, which constitute the only indebtedness of said district. It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

This bond is payable out of drainage district improvement No. — interest and sinking fund exclusively, as the same appears on the books of the treasurer of said county, and neither said county nor any officer thereof shall be holden for its payment otherwise.

In witness whereof said county has caused this bond to be signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and countersigned by its treasurer and the seal of said board to be hereto affixed and said interest coupons to be signed by the said treasurer this — day of —, 19—.

Chairman of the board of supervisors of the county of —.

Countersigned: —,

Treasurer of the county of —.

Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and countersigned by the treasurer of the county, and shall have the seal of said board of supervisors thereto affixed, and when so signed shall be binding according to the terms thereof as prescribed in said form. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as said treasurer may determine, subject to the provisions of this act and the approval of the board of supervisors. Said coupons need be signed only by the treasurer either in writing or by lithographed or printed facsimile. Said bonds shall be delivered by the said treasurer to said contractor or to his order, assignee, or lawful representative.

The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to determine the number of years, not to exceed twenty, within which the aggregate principal of bonds to be issued under this act shall be paid and discharged, and to fix the rate of interest, not to exceed seven per cent per annum, to be paid thereon, and it shall be a sufficient determination and fixing of the same to set forth in the resolution of intention that bonds will issue for the work in any terms that will fairly indicate such time and such rate and the fractional part of the principal to be paid each year, which fractional part, for each year except the last, shall be that multiple of one hundred dollars nearest the amount obtained by dividing the amount of the total bond issue by the number of years through which said bond issue is to continue, and for the last year shall be for the balance of the total bond issue not provided to be paid in the previous years.

The interest payments on said bonds shall become due and payable semi-annually on such dates as will cause the final installment thereof to become due and payable on the date of the maturity of the bond in the manner indicated in said form of bond. Interest and principal shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer in gold coin of the United States of America; but it shall not be necessary, either in the resolution of intention or otherwise, to set forth or determine the days of the month on which payments of interest are to be made, nor that payments shall be made in such gold coin, nor that payments shall be made at such treasurer's office, but all persons are charged with notice of the contents of this section, especially in the aforesaid particulars.

§ 17. Bonds evidence of prior proceedings. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings prior thereto under this act, and after the same are issued, no tax levied or collected for the purpose of paying the principal or interest on said bonds shall be held to be illegal or set aside or refunded by reason of any informality, irregularity, omission or defect in any of the proceedings prior to the issuance of said bonds, nor shall any action be maintained to cancel or set aside said bonds, or to prevent the payment thereof or the levy or collection of a tax for such payment.

§ 18. Costs paid by contractor. All costs, charges and expenses of the proceeding, including the salaries of the engineer of construction and of any assistants or employees necessarily employed by or under him in his work as herein provided, and in making the report and spreading the assessment as by this act required, and the costs of all publications provided to be made, and any and all other expenses, whether for material or labor, necessary in the performance of the duties of said engineer of construction, as in this act provided, shall be paid by the county. But the amount thereof shall thereupon become a charge upon the contractor and shall have been repaid by him to the county before delivery of the bonds shall be made by the county treasurer; provided, however, that if said costs and expenses are not paid within ten days after notice given that said bonds, excepting such number thereof as may be withheld to satisfy claims filed as hereinabove provided are ready for delivery, a sufficient number of said bonds may be sold at not less than ninety-five per cent of their face value to fully satisfy said costs and expenses, any surplus over said costs and expenses obtained by such sale to be paid to said contractor; provided, further, that the county treasurer may make delivery of such bonds, if there be deposited with him, subject to the order of the board of supervisors, money to the amount of the costs and expenses chargeable to the contractor as the same is stated in the final order of the board of supervisors, provided for in section fifteen of this act; provided, further, that for furnishing plans and specifications and posting and publishing the resolution of intention and other notices which have been posted or published, the county shall be liable in case the proceedings cease or are abandoned, before the award of the contract. The contractor and all persons claiming under him any interest in said bonds, whether of ownership, lien or otherwise, shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of this section.

§ 19. Publication in newspaper. If publication in the newspaper or newspapers designated in the resolution of intention become impossible for any reason, the board of supervisors may by a resolution to be entered in its minutes, stating the facts, designate another newspaper for each required publication as occasion therefor arises.

§ 20. Papers filed with clerk of board. All papers in a proceeding under this act (save such as thereunder may be returnable to owners) shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and by him kept together in a package appropriately labeled. Whenever in this act the term "clerk of the board of supervisors" is employed, it shall be deemed to include one who is, ex officio, such, and it shall be immaterial that he designate himself as county clerk where the county clerk is ex-officio clerk of the board of supervisors, nor shall it be material that his act be by deputy.

§ 21. Augmenting other streams or drains. The provisions of this act shall not be so construed as to permit waters to be carried out of their natural course to augment other streams or drains, to the damage of the residents along the banks of the streams or drains so augmented.

§ 22. Securing rights of way. Costs charge on contractor. It shall be the duty of the engineer of construction where possible, to obtain options on rights of way necessary to the carrying out of the plans and specifications and to submit the same to the board of supervisors for ratification. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county in which a district is formed under this act cannot purchase at a reasonable price or procure the right of way, or any lands found by them to be necessary in order to carry out the plans and specifications for the proposed drainage of any such district, or procure the consent of all parties interested to join or connect with any existing ditches or outlets, the board may proceed to condemn the same under the provisions of title seven, part three of the Code of Civil Procedure.

The costs of such rights of way or such condemnation proceedings shall be paid by the county, but the amount thereof shall thereupon become a charge upon the contractor as provided in section eighteen of this act.

§ 23. Incidental expenses. Advance by county to pay interest or retire bonds. In all cases, when, after the bonds have been issued, it is found that the contractor has failed, through error or oversight, to pay any item of incidental expenses, the county shall pay the same and reimburse itself from the interest and sinking fund. Likewise, when the contractor has paid to the county an amount more than sufficient to cover the incidental expenses, for which bonds have been issued, the county shall pay such surplus to said interest and sinking fund.

If, for any reason whatsoever, there be insufficient money in the interest and sinking fund to pay the interest or retire said bonds when such interest or bonds become due and payable, the county shall advance the balance necessary to pay such interest or retire such bonds becoming due at that time, and shall reimburse itself from moneys paid into said interest and sinking fund.

§ 24. Maintenance of improvement. The engineer of construction shall, subject to the approval of the board of supervisors, do all things necessary for the proper maintenance of the improvement. The compensation of any assistants or employees or the cost of any material necessary shall be payable out of the maintenance fund.

In a like manner the engineer of construction shall maintain all existing drainage district improvements constructed under the act of 1903, being the act referred to in section twenty-seven of this act.

§ 25. Construction. This act shall be liberally construed with a view to promoting the objects and purposes thereof.

§ 26. Title. This act shall be known as the drainage district improvement act of 1919, and by such designation shall be sufficiently identified in any proceeding thereunder, and whenever in the resolution of intention it shall be set forth or recited that the proceeding is under the "drainage district improvement act of 1919," this act shall be construed as the paramount statute for such proceeding.

§ 27. Act, Stats. 1903, p. 354, repealed. Alternative act. This act shall supersede and repeal an act of the legislature of the state of California approved March 21, 1903, and amendments thereto entitled "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands, and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie"; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall operate to invalidate any proceedings heretofore taken under the provisions of said act approved March 21, 1903, as amended; provided, further, that any district formed under the provisions of the said act of 1903, but not completed at the time this act takes effect, shall be completed, accepted by the board of supervisors and bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of the said act of 1903, but may be issued for all the purposes specified in this act including expenditures made to procure rights of way whether inside of such drainage district or outside thereof, where the board finds it necessary for such district, but such district shall thereafter be maintained under the provisions of section twenty-four of this act. Otherwise this act is not intended to supersede or repeal any other act for the construction of work for drainage purposes, but is intended as an independent and alternative act of the legislature of the state of California.

NOTE.—This act repealed the act of March 21, 1903, to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands (Act 986), although there was no mention of the repeal in the title.

ACT 988a.

An act declaring certain drainage work already done within drainage district number one, Butte county, to have been legally done, validating the same, and making such work a proper subject for the levy of an assessment to pay therefor; authorizing the levy and collection of such assessment in said district to provide for such payment, and interest; the original assessment levied and collected being insufficient to provide for such payment.

§ 1. Work in drainage district No. 1, Butte county validated. All the work, labor, and services rendered drainage district number one in the county of Butte, state of California, in the construction, maintenance and repair of main and lateral drainage ditches, and drainage works, already done upon lands lying within said district, for the payment for which the original assessment levied and collected under the provisions of the act entitled, "An act to promote drainage," approved March 18, 1885, as amended, was insufficient, is hereby declared to have been legally done, is hereby validated and is hereby made a proper subject for the levy of an assessment for the payment therefor.

§ 2. Statement to board of supervisors. Order to make assessment. The board of trustees of said drainage district is hereby authorized and empowered to present to the board of supervisors of said county, a statement of all the work, labor and services rendered said district in the construction, maintenance and repair of main and lateral drainage ditches, and drainage works, already done upon lands lying within said district, for the payment for which the original assessment levied and collected under the provisions of said act approved March 18, 1885, as amended, was insufficient. Such statement shall contain a memorandum of the unpaid claims existing by reason of the performance of said work, and the names of the respective claimants; and shall specify those claims included in said memorandum for which warrants have been issued, if there are any such claims, and the date of their registration, and shall also specify those claims included in said memorandum for which no warrants have been issued, if there are any such claims. Said board of supervisors is hereby authorized and empowered to make an order directing that the commissioners who made such original assessment, or other commissioners to be named in such order, assess upon the lands situated within said district a charge proportionate to the whole expense incurred for such work, the total of which shall not exceed the sum of six thousand dollars, and to the benefit which has resulted from such work; which charges must be collected and paid into the county treasury of said county either in cash or in regularly issued warrants of said district as hereinafter provided, and must be placed by the treasurer of said county to the credit of said district, and applied to the payment of said claims, and to the payment of interest on any of said claims for which warrants were issued and registered, at the rate of six per cent per annum, from the respective dates of registration, upon the warrants of said trustees, approved by said board of supervisors.

§ 3. Warrants. All such warrants drawn by said trustees must, after they have been approved by said board of supervisors, be presented to said treasurer; and if they are not paid on presentation like indorsement must be made thereon, and they must be registered in like manner as county warrants, and paid in the order of their registration. All

... shall, from the date of their registration, bear interest ... per cent, per annum; provided, however, that any ... may be used in the payment of the assessment herein ... without regard to the order of their registration.

... validating the formation and organization of Los Angeles County Drainage District Improvement No. 1 under the provisions of an act of the legislature of the state of California approved March 21, 1917, as amended May 7, 1915, and entitled as amended, "An act to promote the drainage of wet, swamp and overflowed lands and to promote the public health in the communities in which they lie, providing for the issuance of lands and levying of assessments on lands benefited, to pay the costs and expenses thereof." [Approved March 4, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 227.]

The nature and purpose of the act sufficiently appear from the title.

ACT 1935c.

An act to recognize and declare valid all proceedings in drainage district number one hundred of Butte county. [Approved April 4, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 32. In effect July 22, 1919.]

ACT 1935d.

An act to validate bonds of the Bellevue-Wilfred drainage district, and all proceedings relating thereto, and making final and conclusive, except as herein provided, the finding as to the result of the election at which said bonds were authorized. [Approved May 16, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 713. In effect July 22, 1919.]

TITLE 160.

EGGS.

ACT 1911a.

An act to regulate the sale of eggs which have been in transit more than thirty-one days, and prescribing penalties for violations thereof. [Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 258. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Words defined. For the purpose of this act the words "person, firm, company or corporation" shall include wholesalers, retailers, jobbers, and every person, firm, company or corporation owning, operating or conducting any place of business where eggs are sold or offered for sale.

§ 2. Eggs in transit more than thirty-one days to be marked "storage." Every person, firm, company or corporation who sells, offers for sale, or has in his or their possession for sale, or consigns, ships or presents to any dealer, commission merchant, consumer, or other person, any egg or eggs which said egg or eggs is or were produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, shall, before so doing, cause to be stamped, marked or branded upon the container thereof in black-faced letters not less than one-half of an inch in height the word "storage."

§ 3. Display of sign in salesroom. Every person, firm, company or corporation selling or offering for sale any eggs which were produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, prior to the date of sale or offering for sale, shall display in a conspicuous place in his or their public salesroom a sign which shall not be less than one foot in height and six feet in length, bearing the words "storage eggs sold here" in black-faced letters not less than six inches in height and one inch in width upon a white ground.

§ 4. Report to state board of health. Every person, firm, company or corporation who receives eggs that have been produced at any place requiring thirty-one days or more to transport the eggs to the selling point, prior to their sale or offering for sale, shall, immediately thereafter report to the state board of health the number of eggs received, the date when received and the place where such eggs were produced, and the name of the person, firm, company or corporation to whom sold.

§ 5. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act, and to that end the said board may make necessary rules and regulations.

§ 6. Penalty. Every person, firm, company or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months; or by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

TITLE 162.

ELECTIONS.

ACT 1010.

An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to state conventions and for nominating electors of President and Vice-president of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees, and to repeal the act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also to repeal the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Repealed 1915, p. 239. Amended 1916 (Extra Session), p. 41; 1917, p. 1341; 1919, pp. 40, 382.

The repealing act of 1915 was defeated by a referendum at a general election held October 26, 1915.

The amendatory act of 1916 (Extra Session) was repealed by a referendum at a general election held November 7, 1916. The act in force therefore consists of the original act of 1913 as amended in 1917 and 1919. The act is herewith given in full;

§ 1. Definitions. Words and phrases where used in this act shall, unless such construction be inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows:

1. The words "primary election," any and every primary nominating election provided for by this act.

2. The words "August primary election," the primary election held in August to nominate candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election or to elect members of a party central committee or delegates to a party convention.

3. The words "May presidential primary election," any such primary election, held in May of each year of the general November election at which electors of President and Vice-president of the United States are to be chosen, as shall provide for the indication of preference in the several political parties for party candidates for President of the United States through the election of delegates to national party conventions.

4. The word "election," a general state, county, city or city and county election as distinguished from a primary election, recall election, or special election.

5. The words "November election," either the presidential election, or the general state, county, or city and county election held in November of each even-numbered year.

6. The words "judicial officer," any justice of the supreme court, justice of a district court of appeal, judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, or justice of such inferior court as the legislature may establish in any county, township, incorporated city or town, or city and county; and the words "judicial office," the office filled by any of the above judicial officers.

7. The words "school officer," the superintendent of public instruction and the superintendent of schools of a county or city and county; and the words "school office," the office filled by any of the above school officers.

8. The words "county officer," any officer elected within the boundaries of any county or city and county except a member of the state board of equalization, judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, member of the state senate or assembly or a member of the house of representatives of the congress of the United States or a member of any party county central committee or delegate to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and the words "county office," the office filled by any county officer. The words "township officer," any such county officer as is elected within the boundaries of any judicial township that is now or may be hereafter provided by law; and the words "township office," the office filled by any township officer.

9. The word or words "political party," "party," "political organization," or "organization," a political party or organization of electors which has qualified, as hereafter provided, for participation in any primary election; and such party or organization shall be deemed to have so qualified when one or both of the following conditions have been complied with:

(a) Qualification as political party. If at the last preceding November election there was polled for any one of its candidates who was the candidate of such party only for any office voted on throughout the state, at least three per cent of the entire vote of the state, or for any one of its candidates who was the joint candidate of such party and any other party for any office voted on throughout the state, at least six per cent of the entire vote of the state; or

(b) If on or before a date which shall be the seventy-fifth day before any primary election, there shall be filed with the secretary of state a petition signed by registered qualified electors of the state, equal in number to at least three per cent of the entire vote of the state at the last preceding November election, declaring that they represent a political party or organization the name of which shall be stated therein, which party said electors desire to have participate in such primary election; such petition to be circulated, signed, and the signatures thereon of the registered electors certified to and transmitted to the secretary of state by the county clerks substantially as provided in section five of this act, for the circulation, signing, certification, and transmission of nomination papers for state officers; providing, however, that no electors or organization of electors shall assume a party name or designation which shall be so similar to the name of an existing party or organization as to mislead voters.

Construction. This statute shall be liberally construed, so that the real will of the electors shall not be defeated by any informality or failure to comply with all the provisions of this law.

In counties having registrar. In each county and city and county in this state, having a registrar of voters or registrar of voters and a board of election commissioners, the powers conferred and the duties imposed in this statute upon a county clerk and his deputies, and other officers, in relation to matters of election and polling places, shall be exercised and performed by such registrar of voters or his deputies, or registrar of voters or his deputies and board of election commissioners; and all nominating papers, list of candidates, expenses, and oaths of office, required by this statute to be made to or filed with county clerks, shall be made to or filed with the registrar of voters. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1341.]

§ 2. Nomination of candidates. All candidates nominated at a primary election for elective public offices shall be nominated by direct vote at such election held in accordance with the provisions of this act; provided, that electors of President and Vice-president of the United States shall be nominated as provided in subdivision 2 of section 24 of this act. This act shall not apply to recall elections or to special elections to fill vacancies; nor to the nomination of officers of municipalities, counties, or cities and counties whose charters provide a system for nominating candidates for such officers; nor the nomination of officers for any district not formed for municipal purposes; nor to the nomination of freeholders to be elected for the purpose of framing a charter; nor to the nomination of officers for cities of the fifth and sixth classes, nor to the nomination of school district officers. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1343.]

§ 3. August primary. Legal holidays. The August primary election shall be held at the legally designated polling places in each precinct on the last Tuesday in August, for the nomination of all candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election. The day of the August primary election and the day of the May presidential primary election are hereby declared to be holidays within the meaning of section 10 of the Political Code. Any person entitled to vote at such August or May primary elections shall, on the day of such election, be entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed, for the period of two consecutive hours, between the time of opening and the time of closing the polls; and such voter shall not, because of so absenting himself, be liable to any penalty, nor shall any deduction be made, on account of such absence, from his usual salary or wages. Any primary election other than the August primary election, or May presidential primary election shall be held on Tuesday, three weeks next preceding the election for which such primary election is held.

§ 4. Statement of electors registered. Notice of offices for which candidates are to be nominated. On the twenty-fifth day before the first Tuesday in May, on the twenty-fifth day before the last Tuesday in August, and on the twenty-fifth day before the date of the November election, in each even-numbered year, the county clerk or registrar of voters of each county or city and county shall transmit a statement to the secretary of state of the total number of electors registered in his county between the first day of January next preceding and a date in each instance five days preceding the date of transmission of such statement as herein provided for, together with the number so registered under each of the several political affiliations, and also the number declining or failing to declare such affiliation. At least seventy days before the time of holding the August primary election in 1918 and biennially thereafter, the secretary of state shall prepare and transmit to each county clerk and to the registrar of voters in any city and county a notice in writing designating all the offices, except township offices, for which candidates are to be nominated at such primary election, together with the names of the political parties qualified to participate in such election.

2. Publication of notice. Within ten days after receipt of such notice such county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall publish once in each week for two successive weeks in not more than two newspapers published in such county or city and county so much thereof as may be applicable to his county, including a statement of the township offices in the county for which candidates are to be nominated, and a statement of the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by each political party in each supervisorial or assembly district, as the case may be, according to the provisions of subdivision 4 of section 24 of this act.

3. Publication of notice of other primaries. In the case of primary elections other than the August primary elections the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of the political subdivision for which such primary election shall be held shall cause one publication of such notice to be given, such publication to be not more than forty and not less than fourteen days before such primary election. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1344.]

§ 5. 1. Method of getting name on ballot. The name of no candidate shall be printed on an official ballot to be used at any primary election unless at least forty days prior to the primary election, if the candidate is to be voted for at the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, and at least twenty-five days prior to the

2. (b) Five electors may propose candidate. Consent of candidate. Form of nomination paper. Additional deputies. Any five qualified electors of any county or city and county who are registered as intending to affiliate with the same political party may join in proposing a candidate for nomination to any office to be voted on in such county or city and county at the next ensuing primary election, and in appointing verification deputies to serve within such county or city and county in securing signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate for such office. If the office is an office the candidate for which is to be voted on in more than one county, he may be proposed for nomination as herein provided by five of the registered qualified electors in each of the counties in which such electors may desire to circulate a nomination paper in his behalf. The signatures of the said five qualified electors shall be verified free of charge before any officer authorized to administer an oath, and the document containing such signatures shall be filed with the county clerk of the county or city and county in which said five qualified electors reside, at or before the time the nomination paper of the candidate is left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for filing or for examination as provided in subdivision four of this section. In said document the five signers shall make affidavit that the candidate therein named for the office therein specified has given his consent to be thus proposed for nomination to such office; and shall also state that the verification deputies therein appointed are duly registered qualified electors of said county or city and county; and the verification deputies therein appointed shall be recognized as the duly authorized verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of such candidate in such county or city and county. Said document shall be substantially in the following form:

State of California, }
County of —, } ss.

We, the undersigned, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that we are each qualified electors of the county of —, state of California, and that we are each registered as intending to affiliate with the — party and we do hereby propose —, who resides at No. —, — street in the city of (or in the town of) —, county of —, as a candidate for the nomination of such party for the office of —, to be voted for at the primary election to be held on the — day of August, 19—; and we do solemnly swear (or affirm) that said — has consented to this proposal of his name as candidate for the nomination for said office. In case it is desired to appoint additional verification deputies to secure signatures to the nomination paper of said candidate, one or more similar documents may be filed, to supplement the first document. When the office for which the candidate is proposed is a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the provisions of this subdivision shall apply, except that the five qualified electors shall make no statement of their party affiliation and may be affiliated with different parties or with no party; and the candidate proposed for nomination shall not be so proposed as the candidate of any party.

3. Obtaining signatures to nomination papers. Verification deputies appointed as provided in subdivision two of this section to obtain signatures to the nomination paper of any candidate for any office to be voted for at any primary election, may, at any time not more than sixty-five days nor less than forty days prior to such election, obtain signatures to such nomination paper of such candidate for such office; each signer of a nomination paper shall sign but one such paper for the same office, except that in case two or more persons are to be elected to the same office at the same election, an elector may sign the nomination papers of as many persons as there are persons to be elected to such office, and such act on the part of such elector shall not be deemed in conflict with the signer's statement hereinafter provided. In the case of primary elections other than August primary elections or May presidential primary elections, signatures may be obtained not more than forty days nor less than twenty-five days prior to such election.

Presentation in sections. Affidavit of deputies. Sections returned to five electors. He shall also declare his intention to support such candidate for nomination, and shall add his place of residence, giving his street and number if any. His election precinct shall also appear on the paper just preceding his name, and he shall write the date of his signature at the end of the line just after his residence. Any nomination paper may be presented in sections, but each section shall contain the name of the candidate and the name of the office for which he is proposed for nomination. Each section shall bear the name of the city or town, if any, and also the name of the county or city and county, in which it is circulated, and only qualified electors of such county or city and county, registered as intending to affiliate with the political party by which the nomination is to be made shall be competent to sign such section. Any section circulated within any incorporated city or town shall be signed only by registered qualified electors of such city or town. Each section shall be prepared with the lines for signatures numbered, and shall have attached thereto the affidavit of the verification deputy who has obtained signatures to the same, stating that all the signatures to the attached section were made in his presence, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief, each signature to the section is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be; and no other affidavit thereto shall be required. The affidavit of any verification deputy obtaining signatures hereunder shall be verified free of charge by any officer authorized to administer an oath. Such nomination paper so verified shall be prima facie evidence that the signatures thereto appended are genuine and that the persons signing the same are registered qualified electors, unless and until it is otherwise proven by comparison of such signatures with the affidavits of registration in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters. Each section of the nomination paper, after being verified, shall be returned by the verification deputy who circulated it to one of the five electors by whom the said verification deputy was appointed; and in this manner all the sections circulated in any county shall be collected by said five electors of that county and shall be by them arranged for filing or for examination, as provided in subdivision four of this section, and shall then be by some one of them filed or left for examination and filing. In case said verification deputy was appointed directly by the candidate according to the provisions of subdivision two (a) of this section, the collecting, arranging, and filing, or leaving for examination and filing, of the sections of the nomination paper shall be done by the candidate, or on his behalf, instead of by the "five electors" as hereinbefore provided. Each section of the nomination paper shall be in substance as follows:

Form of each section. County of —, city (or town) of — (if any).

Nomination paper of —, candidate for — party nomination for the office of —.

State of California, }
County of —, } ss.

Signer's Statement.

I, undersigned, am a qualified elector of the city (or town) of —, county of —, state of California, and am registered as intending to affiliate with the — party; and I hereby nominate — who resides at No. — street, city of —, county of —, state of California, as a candidate for the nomination of the — party for the office of — to be voted for at the primary election to be held on the — day of August, 19—. I have not signed the nomination paper of any other candidate for the same office, and I further declare that I intend to support for such nomination the candidate named herein.

I furthermore declare that I have not signed the nomination paper of this candidate or any other candidate for office, as candidate of any other party at such primary election.

In case of judicial office, etc. In the case of a nomination paper for any candidate for a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, the provisions of this subdivision shall apply, except that no such nomination paper nor any section thereof shall contain the name of any political party and any nomination paper for any candidate for a judicial office, school office, county office, township office, or municipal office may be signed by any registered qualified elector of the county or city and county, whether registered as being affiliated with any, or with no, political party.

4. Arrangement prior to filing. Prior to the filing of a nomination paper for any candidate, the sections thereof must be numbered in order and fastened together by cities or towns or portions of the county not included in such cities or towns, substantially in the manner required for the binding of affidavits of registration by the provisions of section one thousand one hundred thirteen of the Political Code; provided, that the sections of the nomination paper may be preceded by an index of precincts, arranged by cities, towns or outside territory in the numerical or alphabetical order of such precincts for each such city, town or outside territory and showing after the name or number of such precinct the numbers of the sections on which the names of the electors registered in such precinct are to be found, and after the number of each section, the number (in parenthesis) of times such names are to be so found on such section. Such index shall be in substantially the following form:

Candidates voted for in more than one county. Examination by clerk. Time for filing. Persons who may not verify signatures. Statement of candidate. And provided, further, that for all nominations of candidates to be voted for in more than one county, or throughout the entire state, the nomination papers, properly assembled, may be consolidated and fastened or bound together by counties; but in no case shall nomination papers signed by electors of different counties be fastened or bound together. The county clerk or registrar of voters of any county or city and county shall examine all nomination papers herein provided for which purport to have been signed by electors of his county or city and county, and shall disregard and mark "not sufficient" any name appearing on such paper or papers which does not appear in the same handwriting on an affidavit of registration in his office made on or before the date when such name was signed, or which, except in the case of nomination papers of candidates for judicial, school, county, township or municipal offices, the signers of which may be registered as of any or of no party, does not appear on said affidavit as intending to affiliate with the party named in such nomination papers. Such officer shall, within five days after any nomination papers are filed with him or left for examination, examine the same as herein provided, and affix thereto a certificate reciting that he has examined the same and stating the number of names signed thereto which have not been marked "not sufficient" as hereinabove provided. All nomination papers which by this act are required to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, shall be left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for examination, as above provided, at least forty days prior to the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, and shall, with such certificate of examination attached, within five days after being so left, be forwarded by such county clerk or registrar of voters to the secretary of state, who shall receive and file the same. All nomination papers which by this act are required to be filed in the office of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any city or municipality shall be left with the county clerk or registrar of voters for examination, as above provided, at least twenty-five days prior to the primary election at which such nominations are to be made, and shall, with such certificate of examination attached, within five days after being so left be forwarded by such county clerk or registrar of voters to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality who shall receive and file the same. The verification of signatures to nomination papers shall not be made by the candidate, nor by any county clerk, or registrar of voters, nor by any of the deputies in the office of such county clerk or registrar of voters, nor within one hundred feet of any election booth, polling place, or any place where registration of electors is being conducted. Each candidate on or before the thirty-fifth day prior to the August primary election or the May presidential primary election, or on or before the twenty-fifth day prior to any other primary election, shall file in the place where his nomination paper is required to be filed, as provided in section six of this act, his affidavit, stating his residence, with street and number, if any; his election precinct; that he is a qualified elector in the election precinct in which he resides; the name of the office for which he is a candidate; that he will not before said primary election withdraw as a candidate for nomination and that if nominated he will accept such nomination and not withdraw, and that he will qualify as such officer if nominated and elected; and he shall also make the statement required in subdivision five of section six of this act. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to limit the rights of any person to become the candidate of more than one political party for the same office upon complying with the requirements of this act, but no person shall be entitled to become a candidate for more than one office at the same election. No more than one affidavit need be filed by any candidate, even though he is the candidate for nomination by more than one political party. In no case shall the secretary of state, county clerk, or city clerk, place the name of any candidate on this ballot or certify any such name to be placed thereon unless the requisite affidavit has first been filed as herein provided.

5. Number of signatures required. Except in the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial office, school office, county office, or township office, nomination papers shall be signed as follows: If the candidate is the candidate for an office to be voted on throughout the state, by not less than one-half of one per centum and not more than two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as defined in subdivision six of this section, of the party of the candidate seeking nomination, within the state; if the candidate is the candidate for an office to be voted on in some political subdivision of the state, but not throughout the state, by not less than one per centum nor more than two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage, as defined in subdivision six of this section, of the party of the candidate seeking nomination within said political subdivision in which such candidate seeks nomination.

6. Basis of percentage. Except in case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, the basis of percentage in each political party shall be the vote polled for such party's candidate for governor, at the last preceding November election at which a governor was elected, in the state or in that political subdivision for which the candidate is proposed for nomination; provided, that such candidate for governor was the candidate of such political party alone. If such party's candidate for governor was not the candidate of such party alone, the basis of percentage shall be the vote polled at said election by that one of such party's candidates voted on throughout the state who received the greatest number of votes of all of such party's candidates who were the candidates of such party alone. But if no candidate voted on throughout the state was the candidate of such party alone, then the basis of percentage shall be the vote polled at said election by that one of such party's candidates voted on throughout the state who received the greatest number of votes of all of such party's candidates who were the candidates of such party in conjunction with one or more other parties.

7. In case of change of political subdivision. Whenever by rearrangement of political subdivisions of the state by any legislature, board of supervisors or other legislative body, the boundaries of such political subdivisions are changed, the vote polled for governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election by each party in each of the new political subdivisions shall be determined as follows: If the change occurs wholly within any county or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters of such county or city and county shall determine as nearly as possible such vote of each party in the new political subdivision by adding together for each party the vote for such party's candidate for governor in each of the former precincts which now are combined to make up such new political subdivision. If the change occurs outside the limits of any county or city and county, the secretary of state shall determine such vote of each party in such new political subdivision by adding together for each party the vote for such party's candidate for governor in the counties which now are combined to make up such new political subdivision. In the same way that the highest vote for each party in each new political subdivision is ascertained, shall also be ascertained the total vote at such election as is required to be determined by the provisions of subdivision eight of this section. Every political party qualified to participate in the primary election by the provisions of subdivision nine of section one of this act, for nomination by which party there shall have been filed nomination papers for one or more candidates containing a sufficient number of signatures, shall be entitled to a separate party ticket at the primary election; but all such party tickets must be alike in the designation of candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices.

8. In case of judicial office, etc. In the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office, nomination papers shall be signed by not less than one-half of one per centum, nor more than two per centum of the total vote cast at the last general election in the state or political subdivision thereof in which such candidate for judicial or school, county, or township office seeks nomination.

9. Independent candidates. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the independent nomination of candidates as provided by section one thousand one hundred eighty-eight of the Political Code, as said section reads at the time of said nomination; except that a candidate for whom a nomination paper has been filed as one of the candidates for nomination to any office on the ballots of any political party at a primary election held under the provisions of this act, and who is defeated for such party nomination at such primary election, shall be ineligible for nomination as an independent candidate, or as a candidate named by a party central committee to fill a vacancy as provided in section twenty-five of this act, for the same office at the ensuing general election; and no person shall be permitted to file nomination papers for a party nomination and an independent nomination for the same office, or for more than one office at the same election. Nor shall any person whose name has been written in upon any ballot or ballots for any office at any primary election, have his name placed upon the ballot as a candidate for such office at the ensuing general election, except under the provisions of said section one thousand one hundred eighty-eight of the Political Code or of section twenty-five of this act providing for the filling of vacancies by party central committees, unless at such primary election he shall have received for such office votes equal in number to the minimum number of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to be filed to have placed his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for nomination to such office. [Amendment approved April 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 39.]

10. Record of papers filed. The officer with whom nomination papers are filed shall keep a record in which he shall enter the names of every person presenting the same for filing, the name of the candidate, the title of the office, the party, if any, and the time of filing. [Amendment approved April 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 39.]

§ 6. Office in which papers must be filed. All nomination papers provided for by this act shall be filed as follows:

1. For state officers, United States senators, representatives in Congress, members of the state senate and assembly, delegates to state conventions from "hold-over senatorial districts" and all officers voted for in districts comprising more than one county, in the office of the secretary of state.

2. For officers to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county, except representatives in Congress, delegates to state conventions from "hold-over senatorial districts" and members of the state senate and assembly, in the office of the county clerk of such county or in the office of the registrar of voters in such city and county.

3. For city officers, in the office of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality.

4. When a nomination paper or sections thereof shall have been received which contain a number of signatures equal to two per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as provided in subdivisions five, six and eight of section five of this act, the officer with whom such papers are required to be filed shall not receive or file further sections of the nomination paper for the candidate named therein.

5. No more signatures shall be secured for any candidate than a number equal to three per centum of the vote constituting the basis of percentage as provided in subdivisions five, six and eight of section five of this act; provided, that if through miscalculation or otherwise, more signatures are secured than the said three per centum, all sections of the nomination paper containing signatures in excess of said three per centum must be sent to the candidate; and before any nomination paper is filed as provided in this section, the candidate must notify each signer of such excess sections that his name has not been used; and in the affidavit required to be filed in subdivision four of section five of this act, affiant must state whether he has complied with the provisions contained in subdivision five of section six of this act. - [Amendment approved April 8, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 49.]

§ 7. Filing fees. 1. A filing fee of fifty dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for state office or for the United State senate, except as otherwise provided in this section.

2. A filing fee of twenty-five dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for representative in congress or for any office, except member of state senate and assembly, to be voted for in any district comprising more than one county.

3. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the secretary of state by each candidate for the state senate or assembly.

4. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county when the nomination paper or papers and affidavit of any candidate to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county are filed with such county clerk or registrar of voters.

5. A filing fee of ten dollars shall be paid to the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality when the nomination paper or papers and affidavit of any candidate for a city office are filed with such clerk or secretary of such legislative body.

6. No filing fee shall be required from any person to be voted for at the May presidential primary election, or from any candidate for an office to the holder of which no fixed compensation is required to be paid, or for township or municipal offices the compensation to the holder of which does not exceed the sum of six hundred dollars per annum.

7. In no case shall the secretary of state, county clerk, registrar of voters, or city clerk, receive any nomination papers for filing until the requisite fee for such filing, as prescribed in this section, has first been paid to him.

8. When a person for whom a nomination paper has not been filed is nominated for an office by having his name written on a primary election ballot, he must pay the same filing fee that would have been required if his nomination paper had been filed; otherwise his name must not be printed on the ballot at the ensuing general election.

9. When a candidate for nomination to office is proposed for nomination by more than one political party, he must pay a separate filing fee for each party in which he is proposed for nomination; or if, having filed a nomination paper for one party, he is nominated by another party by having his name written on a primary election ballot, he must pay the same filing fee for such other party nomination that would have been required if his nomination paper for such other party had been filed; otherwise his name shall not be printed on the general election ballot as the nominee of such other party. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1354.]

§ 8. Clerk to pay fees to treasurer. The county clerk shall immediately pay to the county treasurer and the registrar of voters in any city and county shall immediately pay to the city and county treasurer all fees received from candidates. The city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality shall immediately pay to the city treasurer all fees received from candidates. Within ten days after the primary election the secretary of state shall pay to the state treasurer all fees received from candidates and shall apportion the fees paid to him by each candidate equally among the counties within which such candidate is to be voted for, and certify such apportionment to the state controller, who shall issue warrants on the state treasurer for the amount due each county and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

§ 9. Expense of primary. The expense of providing all ballots, blanks and other supplies to be used at any primary election provided for by this act and all expenses necessarily incurred in the preparation for or the conduct of such primary election shall be paid out of the treasury of the city, city and county, county or state, as the case may be, in the same manner, with like effect and by the same officers as in the case of general elections.

§ 10. Secretary of state to transmit list of nominees. Publication by clerk. At least thirty days before any August primary election preceding a November election or before any May presidential primary election the secretary of state shall transmit to each county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county a certified list containing the name and postoffice address of each person for whom nomination papers have been filed in the office of such secretary of state, including the candidate for delegate to a state convention, if any, from a "hold-over senatorial district" and who is entitled to be voted for in such county at such primary election, together with a designation of the office for which such person is a candidate and except in the case of a judicial office, or a school office of the party or principle he represents. Such county clerk or registrar of voters shall forthwith, upon receipt thereof, publish under the proper party designation the title of each office (except a judicial office or a school office) which appears upon the certified list transmitted by the secretary of state as hereinbefore provided, together with the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed for each of said offices in the office of the secretary of state, and also the names of all candidates for the county central committee, filed in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters. He shall also publish the title of each judicial office, school office, county office, and township office, together with the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed for each of said offices, either in the office of the secretary of state or in the office of the county clerk or registrar of voters, and shall state that candidates for said judicial, school, county, and township offices may be voted for at the primary election, by any registered, qualified elector of the county, whether registered as intending to affiliate with any political party or not. He shall also publish the date of the primary election, the hours during which the polls will be open, and that the primary election will be held at the legally designated polling places in each precinct, which shall be particularly designated. It shall be the duty of the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county to cause such publication to be made once each week for two successive weeks prior to said primary election.

§ 11. Newspapers in which publication shall be made. Every publication required by this act shall be made in not more than two newspapers of general circulation published in such county or city and county, and one of such newspapers shall represent the political party that cast at the last preceding general election the highest number of votes in such county or city and county, and one of such newspapers, if any, shall represent the party which cast the next highest number of votes at such election. In any case where the publication of the notices provided for by this act cannot be made as hereinbefore provided it shall be made in any newspaper having a general circulation in the city or county in which the notice is required to be published.

§ 12. Ballots. 1. All voting at primary elections within the meaning of this act shall be by ballot. A separate official ballot for each political party shall be printed and provided for use at each voting precinct; but all such party ballots must be alike in the designation of candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices. The ballots must have a different tint or color for each of the political parties participating in the primary election. There shall also be printed and provided a nonpartisan ballot of a different tint and color from all the others (or white, if all the others are colored), which shall contain only, but in like manner, all the candidates for judicial, school, county, and township offices to be voted for at the primary election; and one of the nonpartisan ballots shall, at the primary election, be furnished to each registered qualified elector who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any one of the political parties participating in said primary election; but to any elector registered as intending to affiliate with any political party participating in the primary there shall be furnished, not a nonpartisan ballot, but a ballot of the political party with which said elector is registered as intending to affiliate.

It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county or of the registrar of voters in any city and county to provide such printed official ballots to be used at any August primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for in such county or city and county at the ensuing November election and at any May presidential primary election. It shall be the duty of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality to provide such printed official ballots for any primary election other than the August primary election or the May presidential primary election. Such official ballots to be used at any primary election shall be printed on official paper, furnished by the secretary of state, in the manner provided by section one thousand one hundred ninety-six of the Political Code, and in the form hereinafter provided. The names of all candidates for the respective offices for whom the prescribed nomination papers have been duly filed shall be printed thereon.

2. Official primary election ballots used at any primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at any presidential or general state election, except as provided in subdivision five of this section, shall be as long as the herein prescribed captions, headings, party designations, directions to voters and lists of names of candidates, properly subdivided according to the several offices to be nominated for, may require; and no official primary election ballot shall be less than six and one-half inches wide.

3. Across the top of the ballot shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than forty-eight point, the words: "Official Primary Election Ballot"; providing, that on a nonpartisan ballot said words may be printed in gothic capital type not smaller than twenty-four point. Beneath this heading shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point, the party designation if it be a party ballot; or, in the case of a ballot containing the names of no candidates except candidates for a judicial, school, county, or township office, the words "Nonpartisan Ballot." Beneath the party designation or the words "Nonpartisan ballot," as the case may be, insert the respective number of the congressional, senatorial, or assembly district in which the ballot is to be voted, in black-face type, as large as the width of the ballot shall make possible. In the case of official primary election ballots to be used at any primary election held for the nomination of candidates other than those to be voted for at a presidential or a general state election, and on which, in accordance with the provisions of this act, the names of candidates may be printed in a single column or in two parallel columns, as the case may be, the words "Official Primary Election Ballot" shall be printed thereon in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twenty-four point. The party or nonpartisan designation shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than eighteen point. The instructions to voters shall be printed in ten point gothic type.

4. Instructions to voters. At least three-eighths of an inch below the district designation shall be printed in ten point gothic type, double leaded, the following instructions to voters: "To vote for a person whose name appears on the ballot, stamp a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote. To vote for a person whose name is not printed on the ballot, write his name in the blank space provided for that purpose."

5. Candidates' names in parallel columns. Order of precedence. Manner of printing names. Tally sheets. The instructions to voters shall be separated from the lists of candidates and the designations of the several offices to be nominated for by one light and one heavy line or rule. The names of the candidates and the respective offices shall, except as may be hereinafter otherwise provided, be printed on the ballot in four or more parallel columns, each two and one-half inches wide. The number of such parallel columns shall be exactly divisible by two, and such parallel columns shall be equally divided on the ballot for party and nonpartisan tickets by a solid black line, extending down from the printed lines separating the instructions to voters from the list of names of candidates to the bottom margin of the ballot. In the case of a primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at a presidential or general state election, the order of precedence shall be as follows, that is to say: In the column to the left, under the heading STATE shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for state offices, except judicial and school offices, and for members of the state board of equalization. In the second column, under the heading CONGRESSIONAL shall be printed the groups of names for United States senator in Congress, if any, and for representative in Congress. Next, under the heading LEGISLATIVE shall be printed the groups of names for state senator, if any, for member of assembly, and for election as delegate to the state convention from a "hold-over senatorial district," if any. Finally under the heading COUNTY COMMITTEE shall be printed the names of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee of the party. In the case of primary elections where state officers are not to be nominated, at the left of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. In the parallel columns to the right of the solid black dividing line shall be printed the groups of names of candidates for nomination to judicial, school, county, and township offices in the following order: Under the heading JUDICIAL shall be printed all the names of candidates for judicial offices, in the order of chief justice supreme court, associate justices supreme court, judge of district court of appeals, judge of superior court and justice of the peace. Next, under the heading SCHOOL shall be printed all the names of candidates for school offices in the order of state superintendent of instruction, superintendent of schools, and school district officers, if any. Next, under the heading COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP shall be printed the groups of candidates for all county and township offices except judicial or school offices. In the case of primary elections where county officers are not to be nominated, at the right of the solid black dividing line there may be only one column. The nonpartisan ballot provided for in subdivision one of this section shall be identical as to offices and names of candidates with that portion of the party ballot which is printed to the right of the solid black dividing line hereinabove described. The tally sheets furnished to election officers shall have the names of offices and candidates arranged in the order in which said names of officers and candidates are printed on the ballots according to the provisions of this section and subdivision. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city, city and county or municipal offices only, the groups of names of candidates may be printed in two parallel columns and the order of precedence shall be determined by the legislative body of such city or municipality or by the board of election commissioners of any such city and county.

6. Candidates for judicial offices, etc. The group of names of candidates for nomination to any judicial office, school office, county office, or township office shall include all the names receiving the requisite number of signatures on a nomination paper for such office, and shall be identical for each such office on the primary election ballots of each political party participating at the primary election; but the groups of names of candidates for all other offices on the ballots of each political party shall comprise only the names of the candidates for nomination by such party.

7. Order of lists of candidates. The order in which the list of candidates for any office shall appear upon the primary election ballot shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the office is an office the candidates for which are to be voted on throughout the entire state, including United States senator in Congress, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first assembly district; and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. If the office is that of representative in Congress, or is an office the candidates for nomination to which are to be voted on in more than one county or city and county, but not throughout the entire state, except the office of state senator or assemblyman, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for that assembly district which is lowest in numerical order of any assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for such succeeding assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on, the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged. In transmitting to each county clerk or registrar of voters the certified list of names as required in section ten of this act, the secretary of state shall certify and transmit the list of candidates for nomination to each office according to assembly districts, in the order of arrangement as determined by the above provisions; and in the case of each county or city and county containing more than one assembly district he shall transmit separate lists for each assembly district. Except for the office of state senator or assemblyman, the order in which the names filed with the secretary of state shall appear upon the ballot, shall be for each assembly district the order as determined by the secretary of state in accordance with the above provisions, and as certified and transmitted by him to each county clerk or registrar of voters.

(b) Office to be voted on throughout state. If the office is an office to be voted on throughout, but wholly within, one county or city and county, except the office of representative in Congress or state senator or assemblyman, the county clerk of such county or the registrar of voters of such city and county, shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first supervisorial district; and thereafter for each supervisorial district, the name appearing first for each such office in the last preceding supervisorial district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged; provided, there are no more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county. If there are more than five assembly districts in such county, or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall so arrange on the ballot the order of names of all candidates for such office that they shall appear in alphabetical order for that assembly district in such county, or city and county, which is lowest in numerical order, and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in such county, or city and county, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding assembly district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

(c) Senator or assemblyman. If the office is that of state senator or assemblyman, or delegate to the state convention from a "hold-over senatorial district," or member of a county central committee, or any office except the office of representative in Congress to be voted on wholly within any county or city and county but not throughout such county or city or county, the names of all candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

(d) Municipal office. If the office is a municipal office in any city or town whose charter does not provide for the order in which names shall appear on the ballot, the names of candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

8. Order of publication of names and addresses. In publishing the names and addresses of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been filed, as required in section ten of this act, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall publish the names in the order in which they will appear upon the ballot; provided, that in counties or cities and counties containing more than one assembly district the order of names of candidates shall be that of the assembly district in such county or city and county which is lowest in numerical order.

9. Designation of office. Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be preceded by the designation of the office for which the candidates seek nomination, and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more according to the number to be elected to such office at the ensuing election. Such designation of the office to be nominated for and of the number of candidates to be nominated shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type, not smaller than ten point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the direction for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line.

10. Printing names of candidates. Headings. Borders and perforations. Number of ballots. Form of ballot. The names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot without indentation, in roman capital type not smaller than eight point, between light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart. Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed as many blank spaces, defined by light lines or rules, three-eighths of an inch apart, as there are to be candidates nominated for such office. To the right of the names of the candidates shall be printed a light line or rule so as to form a voting square three-eighths of an inch square. Each group of names of candidates shall be separated from the succeeding group by one light and one heavy line or rule. Each series of groups shall be headed by the word "State," "Congressional," "Legislative," "County and Township" or "Municipal" or other proper general classification, as the case may be, printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twelve point. The left-hand side of the first column of names on the ballot, and also the right-hand side of the last column of voting squares on the ballot shall be bordered by a broad printed line one-twelfth of an inch wide. The binding or stitching of each package of ballots shall be on the left side thereof. The ballots shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub not over one and one-half inches in width, and separated therefrom by a perforated line from top to bottom, one-half inch to the left of the broad printed line along the left border of the ballot. Upon this stub shall be printed the number of the ballot only. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend across the top of the ballot one inch from the top thereof. The same number as appears on the stub shall be printed above such perforated line within two inches of the perforated line on the left side of the ballot, and above this number shall be printed in parenthesis in small type as follows: "(This number to be torn off by inspector)"; and one-half inch to the right of this ballot number there shall be a short perforated line extending from the perforated line along the top of the ballot to the top edge of the ballot. Immediately above said perforated line shall be printed in black-face lower case type, at least twelve point in size, and inclosed in a parenthesis, the following: "(Fold Ballot to this Perforated Line, Leaving Top Margin Exposed)." Above this printed direction, and midway between it and the top edge of the ballot, shall be printed in black-face capital type, at least twelve point in size, if possible, and with the four middle words underlined or otherwise made prominent, the following: MARK CROSSES (X) ON BALLOT ONLY WITH RUBBER STAMP; NEVER WITH PEN OR PENCIL. The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county; provided, that the sequence of numbers on such official ballots and stubs for each party shall begin with the number one. The official ballots of each political party shall be made up in stub-books, each book to contain ten, or some multiple of ten, ballots, in the manner provided by law for official election ballots, and except as to the order of the names of candidates shall be printed in substantially the following form: [Form of ballot on pages 1008 and 1009.] [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 381.]

§ 13. Sample ballots. Mailed to voters. Printing of official ballot. In cities. At least twenty days before the August primary election or before the May presidential primary election each county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall prepare separate sample ballots for each political party, and a separate sample nonpartisan ballot, placing thereon in each case in the order provided in subdivision 7 of section 12 of this act, and under the appropriate title of each office, the names of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been duly filed with him, or have been certified to him by the secretary of state, to be voted for at the primary election in his county or city and county. Such sample ballots shall be printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot, and one sample ballot of the party to which the voter belongs as evidenced by his registration shall be mailed to each such voter entitled to vote at such August primary election or May presidential primary election, as the case may be, not more than ten nor less than five days before the election. Not more than ten nor less than five days before the August primary election a nonpartisan sample ballot printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot shall be mailed to each registered qualified elector who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any of the parties participating in said primary election. Such clerk or registrar of voters shall forthwith submit the ticket of each political party to the chairman of the county committee of such party and shall mail a copy to each candidate for whom nomination papers have been filed with him or whose name has been certified to him by the secretary of state, to the postoffice address as given in such nomination paper or certification, and he shall post a copy of each sample ballot in a conspicuous place in his office. Before such primary election the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall cause the official ballot to be printed as provided by section 12 of this act, and distributed in the same manner and in the same quantities as provided in sections 1198, 1199 and 1201 of the Political Code for the distribution of ballots for elections; provided, that the number of party ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct as intending to affiliate with such party, and the number of nonpartisan ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct without statement of intention to affiliate with any of the parties participating in the primary election. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city offices it shall be the duty of the city clerk, secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality, or such other officer charged by law with the duty of preparing and distributing the official ballots used at elections in such city or municipality, to prepare and mail the sample ballot and to prepare and distribute the official primary election ballots, and so far as applicable and not otherwise provided herein the provisions of this act shall apply to the nomination of all candidates for city offices.

§ 14. Polls open 6 A. M. to 7 P. M. The polls must be open at 6 o'clock of the morning of the day of primary election and must be kept open until 7 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, when the polls shall be closed; provided, however, that if at the hour of closing there are any voters in the polling place, or in line at the door, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote. But no one who shall arrive at the polling place after 7 o'clock in the afternoon shall be entitled to vote, although the polls may be open when he arrives. No adjournment or intermission shall be taken except as provided in the case of general elections.

§ 15. Election officers. The officers for primary elections shall be the same, and shall be appointed in the same manner, as provided by law for general elections, and such officers shall receive the same compensation for their services at primary elections as provided by law for general elections.

It shall be the duty of the proper officers to furnish the original affidavits of registration and indexes for use at primary elections, which shall show the names of all voters entitled to vote at such primary elections, and shall be numbered, for purposes of the primary election, in like manner as provided in section 1113 of the Political Code. And all the provisions of section 1096 of the Political Code, as far as they are consistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby made applicable to primary elections within the meaning of this act.

§ 16. Challenge of voter. Any elector offering to vote at a primary election may be challenged by any elector of the city, city and county or county, upon either or all of the grounds specified in section 1230 of the Political Code, but his right to vote the primary election ticket of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration, as provided in section 1096 of the Political Code, or his right to vote the nonpartisan primary ticket providing no such party is so designated, shall not be challenged on any ground or subjected to any tests other than those provided by the constitution and section 1230 of the Political Code of this state.

§ 17. Qualified electors may vote. Any elector qualified to take part in any primary election, who has, at least thirty days before the day of such primary election, qualified by registration, as provided by section 1096 of the Political Code, shall be entitled to vote at such primary election, such right to vote being subject to challenge only as hereinbefore provided; and shall, on writing his name or having it written for him on the roster, as provided by law for general elections in this state, receive the official primary election ballot of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration; (or the nonpartisan ballot, providing no such party was so designated), and no other; provided, however, that no one shall be entitled to vote at any primary election who has not been a resident of the state one year, and of the county ninety days, preceding the day upon which such primary election is held. He shall be instructed by a member of the board as to the proper method of marking and folding his ballot, and he shall then retire to an unoccupied booth and without undue delay stamp the same with the rubber stamp there found. If he shall spoil or deface the ballot he shall at once return the same to the ballot clerk and receive another.

§ 18. Designating choice. The voter shall designate his choice on the ballot by stamping a cross (X) in the small square opposite the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote. If he shall stamp more names than there are candidates to be nominated for any office, or if for any reason it be impossible to determine his choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but the rest of his ballot, if properly stamped, shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice, nor even though such ballot be somewhat soiled or defaced.

§ 19. Folding ballot. When a voter has stamped his ballot he shall fold it so that its face shall be concealed and only the printed designation on the back thereof shall be visible, and hand the same to the member of the board in charge of the ballot-box. Such folded ballot shall be voted as ballots are voted at general elections, and the name of the voter checked upon the affidavit of registration as having voted as is required at such general elections. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1354.]

§ 20. No intermission between closing of polls and counting of votes. No adjournment or intermission whatever shall take place until the polls shall be closed and until all the votes cast at such polls shall be counted and the result publicly announced, but this shall not be deemed to prevent any temporary recess while taking meals or for the purpose of other necessary delay; provided, that no more than one member of the board shall at any time be absent from the polling place.

§ 21. Canvass of votes. As soon as the polls are finally closed the judges must immediately proceed to canvass the votes cast at such primary election. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed and the result thereof declared. Except as hereinafter provided, the canvass shall be conducted, completed and returned as provided by sections 1253, 1254, 1255, 1256, 1257, 1258, 1259, 1260, 1261, 1262, 1263, 1264, 1264a, 1265, 1266, 1267, 1268 of the Political Code of this state; provided, however, that the ballots of each party must be sealed and returned in separate envelopes, and the nonpartisan ballots must be sealed and returned in another separate envelope. The number of ballots agreeing or being made to agree with the number of names on the lists, as provided by section 1255 of the Political Code, the board must take the ballots from the box, count those cast by each party, and string them separately; count all the votes cast for each party candidate for the several offices and record the same on the tally lists; and count all the votes on all the ballots, both party and nonpartisan, for the candidates for judicial, school, county, township, and municipal offices, and record the same on the tally lists. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1354.]

§ 22. Canvass of returns. Declaration of result. Returns to secretary of state. Secretary of state to compile returns. The board of supervisors of each county, the board of election commissioners in any city and county, or, in the case of a city or municipal primary election, the officers charged by law with the duty of canvassing the vote at any city or municipal election in such political subdivision, shall meet at the usual place of such meeting, or at any other place permitted by law, at one o'clock in the afternoon of the first Thursday after each primary election to canvass the returns, or as soon thereafter as all the returns are in. When begun the canvass shall be continued until completed, which shall not be later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the sixteenth day following such primary election. The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared, enter upon the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement shall contain the whole number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party, for each candidate for each judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, for each candidate for delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district, and for each candidate for membership in the county central committee; provided, however, that in entering the statement of such result, the provisions of subdivision six of section 1282 of the Political Code shall apply, and a duplicate as to each political party shall be delivered to the county, city and county or city chairman of such political party, as the case may be. The clerk shall also make an additional duplicate statement in the same form showing the votes cast for each candidate not voted for wholly within the limits of such county or city and county. The county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall forthwith send to the secretary of state by registered mail or by express one complete copy of all returns as to such candidates, and as to all candidates voted for wholly within one county for the following offices: State assembly, state senate, representatives in congress, members of the state board of equalization, judicial officers, except justices of the peace, and delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and as to all persons voted for at the May presidential primary election. The secretary of state shall, not later than the twenty-fifth day after any primary election, compile the returns for all candidates voted for in more than one county, and for all candidates for the assembly, state senate, representatives in congress, member of the state board of equalization, and judicial offices (except justices of the peace), delegate, if any, to a state convention from a hold-over senatorial district, and for all persons voted for at the May presidential primary election, and shall make out and file in his office a statement thereof. He shall compile the returns for the May presidential primary election not later than the twenty-first day after such election, and shall compile said returns in such a manner as to show, for each candidate, both the total of the votes received and the votes received in each congressional district of the state. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1355.]

§ 23. Names which go on ballot for final election. In case of judicial office, etc. Certificates of nomination. List of persons entitled to receive votes. Except in the case of a candidate for nomination to a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the person receiving the highest number of votes, at a primary election as the candidate for the nomination of a political party for an office shall be the candidate of that party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election; provided, he has paid the filing fee as required by section seven of this act; and provided, further, that no candidate for a nomination for other than a judicial, school, county, township or municipal office who fails to receive the highest number of votes for the nomination of the political party with which he was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as ascertained by the secretary of state from the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such candidate resides, shall be entitled to be the candidate of any other political party.

In the case of a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office, the candidates equal in number to twice the number to be elected to such office, or less, if the total number of candidates is less than twice the number of offices to be filled, who receive the highest number of votes cast on all the ballots of all the voters participating in the primary election for nomination to such office, shall be the candidates for such office at the ensuing election, and their names as such candidates shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election; provided, however, that in case there is but one person to be elected at the November election to any judicial, school, county, or township office, any candidate who receives at the August primary election a majority of the total number of votes cast for all the candidates for such office shall be the only candidate for such office whose name shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing election; and provided, further, that in case there are two or more persons to be elected at the November election to any judicial, school, county, or township office, and in case any candidate for such office receive at the August primary election the votes of a majority of all the voters participating in the primary election in the state or political subdivision in which said office is voted upon, such candidates being herein designated as "majority candidates," said "majority candidates" shall, if their number is not less than the number of persons to be elected to such office, be the only candidates for such office whose names shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing November election; and if the number of such "majority candidates" falls short of the number of persons to be elected to such office, the names of said "majority candidates" shall be printed on the ballot at the ensuing November election, together with such number of additional names only of such other candidates receiving the next highest number of votes for nomination to such office as may make the number of such additional names equal to twice the difference between the number of such "majority candidates" and the number to be elected, or a smaller number, if the list of said other candidates is exhausted. Of the candidates for election to membership in the county central committee, the candidates equal in number to the number to be elected receiving the highest number of votes in their supervisorial district or assembly district, as the case may be in accordance with the provisions of subdivision four of section twenty-four of this act, shall be declared elected as the representatives of their district to membership in such committee. It shall be the duty of the officers charged with the canvass of the returns of any primary election in any county, city and county or municipality to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such party candidates (other than congressional and legislative candidates, candidates for the state board of equalization, and delegates to the state convention from a hold-over senatorial district), as have received the highest number of votes as the candidates for the nomination of such party for any offices to be voted for wholly within such county, city and county, or municipality, and cause to be issued to each member of a county central committee a certificate of his election; and to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such candidates for judicial, school, county, township or municipal offices voted for wholly within one county as may be entitled to nomination under the provisions of this section. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue official certificates of nomination to candidates nominated under the provisions of this act for representatives in congress, members of the state senate and assembly, members of the state board of equalization, and officers voted for in more than one county; and to issue a certificate of election to each delegate elected to the state convention from a hold-over senatorial district; and to issue certificates of election to all persons elected at the May presidential primary election as delegates to their respective national party conventions.

Not less than thirty days before the November election the secretary of state shall certify to the county clerks or registrars of voters of each county and city and county within the state, the name of every person entitled to receive votes within such county or city and county at said November election who has received the nomination as a candidate for public office under and pursuant to the provisions of this act, and whose nomination is evidenced by the compilation and statement required to be made by said secretary of state and filed in his office, as provided in section 22 of this act. Such certificates shall in addition to the names of such nominees respectively, also show separately and respectively for each nominee the name of the political party or organization which has nominated such person if any and the designation of the public office for which he is so nominated. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1356.]

§ 24. 1. Party conventions. Party conventions of delegates chosen as hereinafter provided may be held in this state, for the purpose of promulgating platforms and transacting such other business of the party as is not inconsistent with the provisions of the act.

2. State conventions. Platforms. State central committee. Presidential electors. Membership qualifications. Certificate stating affiliation. In districts represented by hold-over senator. Filling vacancies. Executive committees. The candidates of each political party for congressional offices and for state offices, if any, except judicial and school offices, and such candidates for senate and assembly as have been nominated by such political party at the primary election, and in whose behalf nomination papers have been filed, together with the hold-over senators affiliated with and nominated by such political party at the election at which said hold-over senators were elected and one delegate chosen by such political party from each senatorial district not represented by a hold-over senator affiliated with and nominated by such political party at the election at which the hold-over senator was elected, shall meet in a state convention at the state capitol at two o'clock in the afternoon of the third Tuesday in September after the date on which any primary election is held preliminary to the general November election. They shall forthwith formulate the state platforms of their party, which said state platform of each political party shall be framed at such time that it shall be made public not later than six o'clock in the afternoon of the following day. They shall also proceed to elect a state central committee to consist of at least three members from each congressional district, who shall hold office until a new state central committee shall have been selected. In each year of the general November election at which electors of president and vice-president of the United States are to be chosen, they shall also nominate as the candidates of their party as many electors of president and vice-president of the United States as the state is then entitled to, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue certificates of nomination to the electors so nominated, and to cause the names of such candidates for elector to be placed upon the ballots at the ensuing November election.

Membership in the state convention shall not be granted to a party nominee for a congressional office, state office, or office of senator or assemblyman who has become such by reason of his name having been written on a ballot, and who has not had his name printed on the primary ballot by having had a nomination paper filed in his behalf, as provided in section five of this act; nor shall membership in such convention be granted to the nominee of any party if such nominee has not stated his affiliation with such party in his affidavit of registration used at such primary election; and, in every such case, a vacancy in the membership of such convention shall be deemed to exist; and any such vacancy thereby existing, or existing because no nomination for such office has been made, or for any other cause, shall be filled as hereinafter provided. Each candidate who has received the nomination of more than one party for a congressional, state, or legislative office shall procure from the county clerk of the county in which he resides, a certificate stating the party with which such candidate was affiliated thirty-five days before the date of the primary election, as shown by the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of such county clerk; and this certificate shall be the credentials of such candidate to membership in the convention of his party.

In any senatorial district represented by a hold-over senator there shall be chosen at such primary election by the electors of each political party, other than the party which the hold-over senator was affiliated with and nominated by, one delegate to the state convention, who shall have nomination papers circulated in his behalf, shall have his name placed upon the ballot, and shall be chosen in the same manner as a state senator is nominated from any senatorial district; but no such delegate shall be disqualified by reason of holding any office, nor shall any filing fee be required in order to have his name placed upon the ballot. The term "hold-over senator" as herein used shall apply to a state senator whose term of office extends beyond the first Monday in January of the year next ensuing after the primary election, and the term "hold-over senatorial district" shall apply to the district represented by such hold-over senator.

In the event that there shall not have been filed any nomination paper for a candidate for any congressional or state office or office of senator or assemblyman or delegate from a hold-over senatorial district by the electors of any political party, or in the event that the nominee of any party for such office has not declared his affiliation with such party, as herein provided, or in the event of the death of the candidate prior to the convention, the vacancy thus created in the state convention of such party shall be filled as follows:

(a) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district situated wholly within the limits of a single county or city and county, by appointment by the newly elected county central committee of such party in such county or city and county.

(b) If the vacancy occurs in a senatorial or assembly district comprising two or more counties, by appointment by the newly selected chairman of the several newly elected county central committees of such party in such counties.

(c) If the vacancy occurs in a congressional or state office, by appointment by the state central committee of such party.

Such delegate so appointed shall present to the convention credentials signed by the chairman and the secretary of the appointing committee, or by the appointing chairman of the several committees, as the case may be.

3. Executive committee. Each state central committee may select an executive committee, to which executive committee it may grant all or any portion of its powers and duties. It shall choose its officers by ballot and each committee and its officers shall have the power usually exercised by such committees and the officers thereof in so far as may be consistent with this act. The various officers and committees now in existence shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until their successors are chosen in accordance with the provisions of this act.

4. District congressional committee. The executive committee of the state central committee of each political party shall, in conjunction with each nominee for Congress affiliated with such party, select a congressional committee for the district in which such nominee is a candidate. Such committee shall consist of not less than fifteen nor more than thirty-five members, and shall have charge and conduct of the campaign of such nominee, subject to the supervision of the state central committee of such party.

5. County central committee. At each August primary election there shall be elected in each county or city and county a county central committee for each political party, which shall have charge of the party campaign under general direction of the state central committee or of the executive committee selected by such state central committee. In any city and county containing more than ten assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by each assembly district and shall consist of five members from each assembly district in such city and county. In all counties containing five or more assembly districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by assembly districts and shall consist of one member for each seven hundred votes or fraction thereof in each such assembly district cast for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which a governor was elected. In all counties containing less than five assembly districts the county central committee shall be elected by supervisor districts, and the number to be elected from any supervisor district shall be determined as follows: The number of votes cast in such supervisor district for such party's candidate for governor at the last general election at which such governor was elected shall be divided by one-twentieth of the number of votes cast for such governor in such county; and the integer next larger than the quotient obtained by such division shall constitute the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by such party in said supervisor district. The county clerk or registrar of voters in each county or city and county shall, between the first Monday and the second Monday of June next preceding the primary election, compute the number of members of the county central committee allotted to each assembly district or supervisor district, as the case may be, by the provisions of this subdivision. Each candidate for member of a county central committee shall appear upon the ballot upon the filing of a nomination paper according to the provisions of section five of this act, signed in his behalf by the electors of the political subdivision in which he is a candidate, as above provided; and the number of candidates to which each party is entitled, as hereinbefore provided, in each political subdivision, receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected; but no candidate for county committeeman shall be declared elected unless he shall have received votes equal in number to the minimum of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to place his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for member of the county committee. Each county central committee shall meet in the courthouse at its county seat on the second Tuesday in September following the August primary election, and shall organize by selecting a chairman, a secretary and such other officers and committees as it shall deem necessary for carrying on the campaign of the party.

6. Persons ineligible. Filling vacancies. No person shall be eligible for appointment or election to the state, county or district committee of any party who is not registered as affiliated with such party at the time of such appointment or election. In the event of the appointment or election to any party committee of an ineligible person, or whenever any member of any such committee dies, resigns or becomes incapacitated to act, or removes from the jurisdiction of the committee, or ceases to be a member of such committee's party, a vacancy shall exist, which shall be filled by appointment by the chairman of the committee in which such ineligibility or vacancy occurs. [Amendment approved April 8, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 49.]

§ 25. Withdrawing as candidate. Filling vacancies. Power of committees. Name printed on ballot. No candidate whose nomination papers have been filed for any primary election can withdraw as a candidate at such primary election. No candidate nominated at any primary election can withdraw as a candidate at the ensuing general election except such as are permitted to withdraw by this section. In case as a result of any primary election a person has received a nomination to any office without first having nomination papers filed, and having his name printed on the primary election ballot, he may at least thirty-one days before the day of election cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing in the office where he would have filed his nomination papers had he been a candidate for nomination, his request therefor in writing, signed by him and acknowledged before the county clerk of the county in which he resides; and no name so withdrawn shall be printed on the election ballot for the ensuing general election. The vacancy created by the withdrawal of such person as aforesaid, or on account of the ineligibility of such person to qualify as a candidate because of the inhibitions of subdivision nine of section five of this act, or by reason of the failure of a party to nominate any candidate for the office at the primary election, or for any other cause shall not be filled except in the following cases:

1. By reason of the death of a candidate occurring at least twenty-five days before the date of the next ensuing November election.

2. By reason of the disqualification of a candidate occurring on account of the failure of such candidate to secure the nomination in his own party as required by section twenty-three of this act.

Vacancies occurring by reason of such death of any candidate, or because of such disqualification imposed by section twenty-three of this act, may, in the case of legislative offices, be filled by the newly elected county central committee or committees of the party in which such vacancy occurs, in the county or counties comprising the legislative district of such deceased or disqualified candidate; and in the case of all other district or state offices requiring party nomination, by the newly selected state central committee of such party.

If such vacancy occurs among candidates chosen at the primary election to go on the ballot for the succeeding general election for a judicial, school, county, township, or municipal office according to the provisions of section twenty-three of this act, in which case that candidate receiving at said primary election the highest vote among all the candidates for said office who have failed to receive a sufficient number of votes to get upon said ballot according to the provisions of said section twenty-three, shall go upon said ballot to fill said vacancy; provided, however, that if the vacancy occurs in a case where, by reason of having received a majority vote at the primary election, only one person is entitled to have his name printed upon the ballot at the ensuing November election, the names of the two candidates receiving the next highest vote at the primary election, if there were such number, shall be placed upon the ballot for the November election; and provided, further, that a vacancy authorized to be filled by the provisions of this section shall be filled and certified to the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballots twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever a nomination paper containing a sufficient number of signatures has been filed for any person as a candidate to be voted for at a primary election, the name of such person must be printed upon the ballot or ballots of such primary election as hereinbefore provided in section twelve of this act, unless such person has died and such fact has been ascertained, by the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballot, at least twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever a candidate has been nominated at any primary election after having nomination papers filed, the name of such candidate must be printed upon the ballot at the ensuing general election unless such candidate has died and such fact has been ascertained, by the officer charged with the duty of printing the ballots, at least twenty-five days before the day of election.

Whenever, upon the death or disqualification of any candidate, the vacancy thereby created is filled by a party committee, a certificate to that effect shall be filed with the officer with whom a nomination paper for such office may be filed, and shall be accepted and acted upon by him as in the case of such nomination paper. [Amendment approved April 8, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 53.]

§ 26. Tie vote. In case of a tie vote, if for an office to be voted for wholly within one county or city and county, the county, city and county or city board, as the case may be, shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received such tie votes to appear before such board, at a time and place to be designated by said board, and such board shall at said time and place determine the tie by lot. In the case of a tie vote for an office to be voted on in more than one county, the secretary of state shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received such tie votes to appear before him at his office at the state capitol at a time to be designated by him and said secretary of state shall at said time and place determine the tie by lot. Such summons must in every case be mailed to the address of the candidate as it appears upon his affidavit of registration, at least five days before the date fixed for the determination of such tie vote. [Amendment approved April 8, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 55.]

§ 27. Correction of errors or omission. Whenever it shall be made to appear by affidavit to the supreme court or district courts of appeal or superior court of the proper county that an error or omission has occurred or is about to occur in the placing of any name on an official primary election ballot, that any error has been or is about to be committed in printing such ballot, or that any wrongful act has been or is about to be done by any judge or clerk of a primary election, county clerk, registrar of voters in any city and county, canvassing board or any member thereof, or other person charged with any duty concerning the primary election, or that any neglect of duty has occurred or is about to occur, such court shall order the officer or person charged with such error, wrong or neglect to forthwith correct the error, desist from the wrongful act or perform the duty, or forthwith show cause why he should not do so. Any person who shall fail to obey the order of such court shall be cited forthwith to show cause why he shall not be adjudged in contempt of court.

§ 28. Contest of nomination. Copy of affidavit mailed to contestee. Precincts considered. Hearing. No demurrer. Additional judges. Recount of votes. Decision. No appeal. Any candidate at a primary election, desiring to contest a nomination of another candidate for the same office, may, within five days after the completion of the official canvass, file an affidavit in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he desires to contest the vote returned from any precinct or precincts in such county, and thereupon have a recount of the ballots cast in any such precinct or precincts, in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such affidavit must specify separately each precinct in which a recount is demanded, and the nature of the mistake, error, misconduct, or other cause why it is claimed that the returns from such precinct do not correctly state the vote as cast in such precinct, for the contestant and the contestee. The contestee must be made a party respondent, and so named in the affidavit. No personal service or other service than as herein provided need be made upon the contestee. Upon the filing of such affidavit the county clerk shall forthwith post in a conspicuous place in his office a copy of the affidavit. Upon the filing of such affidavit and the posting of the same, the superior court of the county shall have jurisdiction of the subject matter and of the parties to such contest, and all candidates at any such primary election are permitted to be candidates under this act, only upon the condition that such jurisdiction for the purposes of the proceeding authorized by this section shall exist in the manner and under the conditions provided for by this section. The contestant on the date of filing such affidavit, must send by registered mail a copy thereof to the contestee in a sealed envelope, with postage prepaid, addressed to the contestee at the place of residence named in the affidavit of registration of such contestee, and shall make an affidavit of such mailing and file the same with the county clerk to become a part of the records of the contest. At any time within three days after the filing of the affidavit of the contestant to the effect that he has sent by registered mail a copy of the affidavit to the contestee, such contestee may file with the county clerk an affidavit in his own behalf, setting up his desire to have the votes counted in any precincts, designating them, in addition to the precincts designated in the affidavit of the contestant, and setting up his grounds therefor. On the trial of the contest all of the precincts named in the affidavits of the contestant and the contestee shall be considered, and a recount had with reference to all of said precincts; and the contestant shall have the same right to answer the affidavit of the contestee as is given to the contestee herein with reference to the affidavit of the contestant except that such answer must be filed not later than the first day of the trial of said contest. On the eighth day after the completion of the official canvass the county clerk shall present the affidavits of the contestant and the contestee and proof of posting, as aforesaid, to the judge of the superior court of the county, or any judge acting in his place, or the presiding judge of the superior court of a county or city and county, or anyone acting in his stead, which judge shall, upon such presentation, forthwith designate the time and place where such contest shall proceed, and in counties or cities and counties where there is more than one superior judge, assign all the cases to one department by the order of such court. Such order must so assign such case or cases, and fix such time and place for hearing, which time must not be less than one nor more than three days from the presentation of the matter to the court by the county clerk as herein provided. It shall be the duty of the contestee to appear either in person or by attorney, at the time and place so fixed, and to take notice of the order fixing such time and place from the records of the court, without service. No special appearance of the contestee for any purpose except as herein provided shall be permitted, and any appearance whatever of the contestee or any request of the court by the contestee or his attorney, shall be entered as a general appearance in the contest. No demurrer or objection can be taken by the parties in any other manner than by answer, and all the objections must be contained in the answer. The court if the contestee shall appear, must require the answer to be made within three days from the time and place as above provided, and if the contestee shall not appear shall note his default, and shall proceed to hear and determine the contest with all convenient speed. If the number of votes which are sought to be recounted, or the number of contests are such that the judge shall be of opinion that it will require additional judges to enable the contest or contests to be determined in time to print the ballots for the election, if there be only one judge for such county, he may obtain the service of any other superior judge, and the proceedings shall be the same as herein provided in counties where there is more than one superior court judge. If the proceeding is in a county or city and county where there is more than one superior court judge, the judge to whom the case or cases shall be assigned, shall notify the presiding judge forthwith, of the number of judges which he deems necessary to participate, in order to finish the contest or contests in time to print the ballots for the final election, and the said presiding judge shall forthwith designate as many judges as are necessary to such completion of such contest, by order in writing, and thereupon all of the judges so designated shall participate in the recount of such ballots and the giving of judgment in such contest or contests in the manner herein specified. The said judges so designated by said last-mentioned order, including the judge to whom said contests were originally assigned, shall convene upon notice from the judge to whom such contest or contests were originally assigned, and agree upon the precincts which each one of such judges will recount, sitting separately, and thereupon such recount shall proceed before each such judge sitting separately, as to the precincts so arranged, in such manner that the recount shall be made in such precincts before each such judge as to all the contests pending, so that the ballots opened before one judge need not be opened before another judge or department, and the proceedings before such judge in making such recount as to the appointment of the clerk and persons necessary to be assistants of the court in making the same, shall be the same as in contested elections, and the judge shall fix the pay or compensation for such persons, and require the payment each day in advance of the amount thereof, by the person who is proceeding with and requiring the recount of the precinct being recounted. When the recount shall have been completed in the manner herein required, if more than one judge has taken part therein, all the judges who took part shall assemble and make the decision of court, and if there be any differences of opinion, a majority of such judges shall finally determine all such questions, and give the decision or judgment of the court in such contest or contests, separately. Such decision or judgment of the court shall be final in every respect, and no appeal can be had therefrom. The judgment shall be served upon the county clerk or registrar of voters by delivery of a certified copy thereof, and may be enforced summarily in the manner provided in section twenty-seven of this act, and if the contest proceeds in more than one county, and the nominee is to be certified by the secretary of state from the compilation of election returns in his office, then the judgment in each county in which a contest may be had shall show what, if any changes in the returns in the office of the secretary of state relating to such county or city and county, ought to be made, and all such judgments shall be served upon the secretary of state, by the delivery of a certified copy, and he shall make such changes in the record in his office as such judgment or judgments require, and conform his compilation and his certificate of nomination in accordance therewith. If the office contested is one to be voted upon in more than one county, the time within which such contest may be brought in any county involved shall begin to run at the time of the declaration of the official canvass by the board of supervisors of the county last making such declaration. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1363.]

§ 29. Campaign expenses. No candidate for nomination to any elective office, including that of United States senator in congress, shall directly or indirectly pay, expend or contribute any money or other valuable thing, or promise so to do, except for lawful expenses. Lawful expenses as used in this section are limited to expenses for the following purposes only:

1. For the candidate's official filing fee.
2. For the preparing, printing, circulating, and verifying of nomination papers.
3. For the candidate's personal traveling expenses.
4. For rent and necessary furnishing of halls or rooms, during such candidacy, for public meetings or for committee headquarters.
5. For payment of speakers and musicians at public meetings and their necessary traveling expenses.
6. For printing and distribution of pamphlets, circulars, newspapers, cards, handbills, posters and announcements relative to candidates or political issues or principles.
7. For his share of the reasonable compensation of challengers at the polls.
8. For making canvassers of voters.
9. For clerk hire.
10. For conveying infirm or disabled voters to and from the polls.
11. For postage, expressage, telegraphing, and telephoning, relative to candidacy.

§ 30. Campaign expenses. Every person who shall be a candidate for nomination to any elective office shall make in duplicate, within fifteen days after the primary election, a verified statement, setting forth each and every sum of money contributed, disbursed, expended or promised by him, and, to the best of his knowledge and belief, by any and every other person or association of persons in his behalf wholly or partly in endeavoring to secure his nomination. This statement must show in detail all moneys paid, loaned, contributed, or otherwise furnished to him directly or indirectly in aid of his nomination, together with the name of the person or persons from whom such moneys were received; and must also show in detail, under each of the subdivisions of section 29 of this act, all moneys contributed, loaned, or expended by him directly or indirectly by himself or through any other person, in aid of his nomination, together with the name of the person or persons to whom such moneys were paid, or disbursed. Such statement must set forth that the affiant has used all reasonable diligence in its preparation, and that he same is true and is as full and explicit as he is able to make it. Within the time aforesaid the candidate shall file one copy of said statement with the officer with whom his nomination papers were filed, and the other with the recorder of the county or city and county in which he resides, who shall record the same in a book to be kept for that purpose, and to be open to public inspection. No officer shall issue any certificate of nomination to any person until such statement as herein provided has been filed and no other statement of expenses shall be required except that provided herein, and no fee or charge whatsoever shall be made or collected by any officer for the verifying, filing, or recording of such statements or a copy thereof. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1365.]

§ 31. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of section 29 or section 30 of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon trial and conviction thereof, in addition to the sentence imposed by the court, he shall forfeit all right to the office for which he was a candidate at the time of violating the provisions aforesaid.

§ 32. Bribes. Penalty. 1. Any person who shall offer, or with knowledge of the same permit any person to offer for his benefit, any bribe to a voter to induce such voter to sign any nomination paper, and any person who shall accept such bribe or any promise of gain of any kind in the nature of a bribe as consideration for signing any nomination paper, whether such bribe or promise of gain in the nature of a bribe be offered or accepted before or after signing, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon trial and conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than one hundred and twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2. Failure to file nomination papers. Any person who, being in possession of any nomination paper or papers and affidavits entitled to be filed under the provisions of this act, shall wrongfully either suppress, neglect or fail to cause the same to be filed at the proper time and in the proper place shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon trial and conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

3. Other offenses. Any act or omission declared to be an offense by the general laws of this state concerning primaries and elections shall also in like case be an offense concerning primary elections as provided for by this act, and shall be punished in the same manner and form as therein provided, and all the penalties and provisions of the law governing elections, except as herein otherwise provided, shall apply in equal force to primary elections as provided for by this act.

§ 33. Preparation of forms. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state and the attorney general to prepare on or before September 1, 1917, all forms necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, which forms shall be substantially followed in all primary elections held in pursuance hereof. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1366.]

§ 34. Title of act. This act shall be known as the direct primary law.

§ 35. Constitutionality of act. If any section, subdivision, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subdivision, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 36. Repeal. The act approved April 7, 1911, known as the direct primary law, and also the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said direct primary law, are hereby repealed; and all other acts or parts of acts, inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act, are also hereby repealed.

ACT 1010a.

An act making an appropriation to pay the expenses of electors of President and Vice-President of the United States of America. [Approved January 18, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1. In effect immediately.]

The act appropriated $900 for the purpose indicated.

TITLE 163.

ELECTRICITY.

ACT 1025.

An act to regulate the construction and maintenance of subways, man-holes, and underground rooms, chambers, and excavations, used to contain, encase, cover, or conduct wires, cables, or appliances to conduct, carry, or handle electricity, and providing the punishment for the violation thereof.

[Approved April 22, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1042.]

Amended 1917, p. 801.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Regulation of. No commission, officer, agent, or employee of the state of California or of any city and county or city or county or other political subdivision thereof, and no other person, firm or corporation, shall build or rebuild or cause to be built or rebuilt within the state of California:

(a) Dimensions of electric wire subways. Any subway, manhole, chamber, or underground room used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable, or appliance, to conduct, carry or handle electricity, unless such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room shall have an inside measurement of not less than four feet at the maximum points between the side walls thereof, and between the end walls thereof, and not less than five feet at all points between the floor thereof, and the top or ceiling thereof, or if circular in shape, at least four feet diameter inside measurement, and not less than five feet at all points between the floor and ceiling thereof; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor or be employed; further provided, that the provisions of this paragraph (a) shall not be held to apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the railroad commission of the state of California, that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with this law within the space or location so designated by the proper municipal authorities.

(b) Opening to outer air. In any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, any opening to outer air which is less than twenty-six inches if circular in shape, or less than twenty-four inches by twenty-six inches clear measurement if rectangular in shape.

(c) Openings to be not less than three feet from street-car track. In any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, any opening which is at the surface of the ground, within the distance of three feet at any point from the rail of any railway or street-car track; provided, that the provisions of this paragraph (c) shall not be held to apply where satisfactory proof shall be submitted to the railroad commission of the state of California, that it is impracticable or physically impossible to comply with this law in the space or location so designated by the proper municipal authorities.

(d) Floor of subway to be of concrete, etc. Any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, used or to be used to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable, or appliance to conduct, carry, or handle electricity, unless the floor of such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room is made of stone, concrete brick or other similar material not subject to decomposition; provided, that this paragraph (d) shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor or be employed.

(e) Subways to be kept free from seepage. Or maintain any subway, manhole, chamber or underground room used, or to be used, to contain, encase, cover or conduct any wire, cable or appliance to conduct, carry or handle electricity, unless such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room is kept at all times in a sanitary condition, and free from stagnant water, or seepage, or other drainage, or any offensive matter dangerous to health, either by sewer connection or otherwise; provided, that this paragraph (e) shall not be held to apply to any such subway, manhole, chamber or underground room, within which it is not intended or required that any human being perform work or labor, or be employed. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 801.]

§ 2. Penalty for violation. Any violation of any provision of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable upon conviction by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 802.]

§ 5. Power of railroad commission. The railroad commission of the state of California is hereby vested with authority and power to inspect all work which is included in the provisions of this act, and to make such further additions or changes as said commission may deem necessary for the purpose of safety to employees and the general public, and the said railroad commission is hereby charged with the duty of seeing that all the provisions of this act are properly enforced. [New section added May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 802.]

TITLE 164.ELEVATORS.*ACT 1025b.

An act to provide for the periodical inspection of elevators operated in places of employment in this state; to require a permit for such operation; to make it a misdemeanor to operate such elevator without such permit; and to provide for an injunction against such operation if dangerous to the life or safety of employees; to vest in the industrial accident commission the power to make such inspections and determine the competency of inspectors and require reports of inspections and to issue such permits and prescribe maximum fees therefor.

§ 1. Permit to operate elevator. Injunction to restrain operation without permit. No power elevator or hand-power elevator, unless exempted in the following section, shall be operated in any place of employment in this state unless a permit, as hereinafter provided, for the operation thereof, shall have been issued by the industrial accident commission, and unless such permit shall remain in full force and effect. The operation of such elevator by any person owning or having the custody, management or operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a misdemeanor, and each day of operation of such elevator without such permit shall constitute a separate offense; provided, that no prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance or renewal of such permit shall have been requested and shall remain unacted upon. Whenever any elevator in any place of employment is being operated without the permit herein required, and is in such condition that its use is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, the industrial accident commission, a commissioner or any safety inspector thereof, or any person affected thereby may apply to the superior court of the county in which such elevator is located for an injunction restraining the operation of such elevator until such condition shall be corrected. Proof by certification of the said commission that such permit has not been issued, together with the affidavit of any safety inspector of the commission that the operation of such elevator is dangerous to the life or safety of any employee, shall be sufficient ground for the immediate granting of a temporary restraining order.

§ 2. Exemptions. Elevators under the jurisdiction of the United States government, and all elevators operated by employers not subject to the safety provisions of the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 and acts amendatory thereof, are exempted from the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Inspection of elevators. Order for repairs. Temporary permit to operate. The industrial accident commission shall cause power elevators to be inspected, not less frequently than twice each year and hand-power elevators not less frequently than once each year. If such elevators shall be found upon such inspection to be in a safe condition for operation, a permit shall be issued by said commission for their operation for not longer than six months for a power elevator or longer than one year for a hand-power elevator, which shall be the permit referred to in section one.

If such inspection shall show such elevator to be in an unsafe condition, the commission, or a commissioner, may issue a preliminary order requiring such repairs or alterations to be made to such elevator as may be necessary to render it safe, and may order the use of such elevator discontinued until such repairs or alterations are made or such unsafe conditions are removed. Unless such preliminary order be complied with, a hearing before the commission, a commissioner or referee of such commission shall be allowed, upon request, at which the owner, operator or other person in charge of such elevator shall have opportunity to appear and show cause why he should not comply with said order. If it shall thereafter appear to the commission that such elevator is unsafe and that the requirements contained in said preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make such elevator safe, the commission may order or confirm the withholding of the permit to operate such elevator and may make such requirements as it deems proper for its repair or alteration or for the correction of such unsafe condition. Such order may thereafter be reheard by the commission or reviewed by the courts in the manner specified by the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 for safety orders, and not otherwise. If the operation of such elevator during the making of repairs or alterations is not immediately dangerous to the safety of employees, the commission may, in its discretion, issue a temporary permit for the operation of such elevator for not to exceed thirty days during the making of such repairs or alterations. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as a limitation upon the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

§ 4. Inspectors. Certificate of competency. The commission may, in its discretion, cause the inspection herein provided for to be made either by its safety inspectors or by any qualified elevator inspector employed by an insurance company, or may issue its permit, based upon a certificate of inspection issued by qualified elevator inspectors of any municipality, upon proof to its satisfaction that the safety requirements of such municipality are equal to the minimum safety requirements for elevators adopted by the commission; provided, that such persons making inspections shall first secure from the commission a certificate of competency to make such inspections. The commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to determine the competency of any applicant for such certificate, either by examination or by other satisfactory proof of qualifications. The commission may rescind at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, any certificate of competency issued by it to an elevator inspector, or may at any time, upon good cause being shown therefor, and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, revoke any permit to operate such elevator. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit the authority of the commission to prescribe or enforce general or special safety orders.

§ 5. Fees for inspection. The commission may fix and collect such fees for the inspection of elevators as it may deem necessary, not to exceed two dollars for each inspection or four dollars per year for each elevator. Such fees must be paid before the issuance of any permit to operate such elevator. No fee shall be charged by the commission where an inspection has been made by an inspector of any insurance company or municipality, if such inspector holds a certificate of competency from said commission. All fees collected by the commission under this act shall be paid into the accident prevention fund.

§ 6. Report of inspections. Every inspector so certified shall forward to the commission, on the forms provided by it, within twenty-one days after such inspection is made, a report of such inspection, in default of which his certificate of competency may be canceled.

TITLE 165a.

EMERYVILLE.

ACT 1028.

An act granting certain tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California, to the city of Emeryville, and regulating the management, use and control thereof.

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Emeryville. There is hereby granted to the city of Emeryville, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty in and to all tide-lands and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, which are included within the present boundaries of the city of Emeryville, to be forever held by said city and by its successors in trust for the use and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Use of land. That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, only for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city or its successors shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands or any part thereof to any individual, firm or corporation, for any purposes whatever; provided, that said city or its successors may grant franchises thereon, for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands or any part thereof for limited periods, but in no event exceeding fifty years, for the purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California, and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Improvement of harbor. That said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California.

(c) Rates, tolls, etc. That in the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors.

(d) Right to fish reserved to people. There is hereby reserved, however in the people of the state of California the absolute right to fish in all the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said land for said purpose.

TITLE 167a.

ENGINEERS.

ACT 1040.

An act providing for a county engineer for each county in this state, providing for his appointment, manner of removal, qualifications, compensation and duties; transferring to such engineer certain powers, functions and duties heretofore vested in and performed by county surveyors and members of the board of supervisors; also authorizing the board of supervisors for each county to purchase and obtain all necessary equipment, materials and instrumentalities to carry out the objects of this act; to provide said county engineer with an office and necessary assistants; to provide for abolishing the office of county surveyor and for the fixing and levying of taxes for road purposes.

§ 1. Appointment of county engineer. The board of supervisors of any county at their option may appoint, and upon petition therefor signed by qualified electors of the county equaling in number not less than twenty-five per cent of the total vote cast in the county for governor at the last preceding election at which a governor was elected, they must appoint a competent civil engineer who has had within five years last past, not less than one year's actual experience in practical road building as county engineer, who shall be deemed an employee and not a county officer. The county engineer shall, under the general direction and supervision of the board of supervisors and except as otherwise provided in this act, have complete direction and control over all of the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

§ 2. Term. The county engineer shall hold his employment for the term of four years from the date of his appointment; provided, that he may be removed at any time by the board of supervisors for inefficiency, neglect of duty, malfeasance or misconduct in office, or other good cause shown, upon written charges to be filed with and heard by the board of supervisors and sustained by a three-fifths vote of said board after a hearing as herein provided. Said board is hereby vested with the power to administer oaths, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and testimony. A copy of such charges shall be personally served upon said county engineer and he shall be given not less than ten days' time in which to file a written answer to the charges, and if it appears to the satisfaction of such board that the charges have been substantiated, the said board shall so notify said county engineer by mail, and such notice shall specifically state the findings and judgment of said board, and the board of supervisors of such county must thereupon forthwith remove such county engineer from office and shall immediately appoint his successor in the manner provided in section two of this act. Prior to entering upon the duties of his employment the county engineer shall file with the county clerk the oath of office as prescribed for the county officers and a bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, with sufficient sureties approved by a judge of the superior court, in the sum of five thousand dollars.

§ 3. Salary. The salary of the county engineer shall be fixed by the board of supervisors, and said salary, together with the compensation of said engineer's assistants, shall be paid monthly out of the county treasury of the county in which he is appointed and in the same manner as county officers. The county engineer shall also be allowed from the county treasury his actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of the duties of his employment, and shall be a charge against the general fund. The salary of the county engineer in the several counties shall be fixed by the board of supervisors of said county; provided, however, that the compensation of county engineer in any county shall be not less than the compensation received by the county surveyor of that county at the time said county engineer is first appointed.

§ 4. Ex-officio road commissioner. The county engineer shall be ex-officio road commissioner of and for each and every road district of his county, and, subject to the control and supervision of the board of supervisors as herein provided, shall have and exercise the powers and duties hereinafter set forth and specified, and such duties as may hereafter be provided by law.

§ 5. Duties. The county engineer shall:

(a) Make, or cause to be made, all surveys, maps, plans, specifications and estimates necessary or required for the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of the county roads, highways and bridges, and shall, from and after the first Monday in September, 1919, have and exercise all the powers and duties, and perform all the functions which are now by law conferred or imposed upon county surveyors, except as herein otherwise provided.

(b) Examine and inspect, or cause to be examined and inspected, the work performed on such roads, highways and bridges, and report to the board of supervisors whether or not the work has been done in accordance with the plans and specifications and contracts therefor.

(c) Approve and certify to the progress estimates and allowances for work performed under all contracts for the construction, improvement, maintenance, or repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

(d) Inspect, or cause to be inspected, all county roads, highways and bridges within the county, and keep such roads, highways and bridges clear from obstructions, and when authorized by the board of supervisors he may employ all men, teams and equipment necessary to keep such roads in good repair when the same is not let by contract, and report to the board of supervisors with respect to such inspection and such work from time to time as said board shall require; and certify to the correctness of all pay-rolls for work done by day labor or force account on county roads, highways and bridges.

(e) Have control and management under the general supervision of the board of supervisors of all county rock quarries, oil pits and depots, gravel-pits and all materials, property, implements, instruments, tools, machinery and other appurtenances necessary for the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges, and shall be the custodian of the plans therefor.

(f) He may also hold and perform the duties of the office of county surveyor, but in all such cases no salary or other compensation shall be paid to him as county surveyor. He shall not be interested either directly or indirectly in any contracts within his jurisdiction, nor shall he be interested in the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment of any kind used in connection with the performance of his duties under the provisions of this act.

(g) Prepare annually a budget showing in detail the needs of the county for construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges for the ensuing year, and submit the same to the county auditor and board of supervisors at least sixty days prior to the date of the meeting at which the board of supervisors is required to fix the county tax rate and levy the county taxes.

(h) Make a written report to the board of supervisors at their first regular meeting of each month, and in it he shall state the amount and character of work done, during the preceding month, the progress of any contracts under way, approximate cost of the work and matters pertaining to the public roads, highways, streets and bridges or other public works, which, in his judgment, should be brought to their attention. This report shall contain the recommendation of acceptance or rejection of any public work completed, and all official announcements or statements which the engineer is required to make to the board. The size and form of these reports shall be uniform and upon blanks supplied by the state engineer and a copy shall be filed, one in the office of the board of supervisors and another in the office of the county engineer.

(i) On or before the first day of July of each year, file with the board of supervisors a complete report of the work of the preceding year, which report shall be in the form required and contain the information desired and requested by the state engineer and upon blank forms supplied by him. A copy of said report shall also be filed in the office of the board of supervisors.

(j) Perform such other duties pertaining to the construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges as the board of supervisors may prescribe.

§ 6. Employment of additional help. The board of supervisors shall provide by ordinance or resolution for the employment, when necessary, of additional field and office help by said county engineer, and shall prescribe the compensation to be paid to all persons so employed, for the time during which they may be actually engaged in the service of the county and for their actual necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duty.

§ 7. Office accommodations. The board of supervisors shall provide and assign to the county engineer and his assistants a suitable office or offices in the courthouse, or in some place conveniently located with reference thereto with all necessary instruments, tools, implements, stationery and supplies.

§ 8. Requisition for supplies. The county engineer shall make requisition upon the board of supervisors for the purchase of all tools, implements, machinery, materials and supplies required to carry out the intent of this act, and said requisition shall state plainly the estimated cost of the article or articles to be purchased. He shall approve all claims for the same before such claims are audited and passed by the board of supervisors. He shall be the custodian and be responsible for all equipment under his control. All such property shall be stored and protected from the weather when not in use. An inventory of all property in his custody shall be made annually and kept on file in the office of the county engineer.

§ 9. Certificate of approval of contract work. Upon the completion of work done for the county on its roads, highways, streets, bridges and aqueducts, or in connection with the same, the county engineer must examine the same and if completed in accordance with the specifications thereof, he must submit to the board of supervisors a certificate over his signature and official seal to the effect that such work by the contractors thereof has been completed in accordance with the specifications thereof and recommending its acceptance. The board shall thereupon audit the same and direct its payment out of the proper fund or funds.

§ 10. Purchase of material from state. Whenever the state department of engineering has authority to sell equipment, materials or supplies for road building, repairs or maintenance and a saving may be made to a county by purchasing from said department, the board of supervisors upon the recommendation of the county engineer may purchase such equipment, materials or supplies from the state.

§ 11. County surveyor replaced by county engineer. The office of county surveyor of any county shall be and is hereby abolished upon the occurrence of any of the following conditions:

(a) Upon the appointment as county engineer of the person who holds the office of county surveyor at the time such appointment is made and the acceptance of such appointment by the county surveyor; or

(b) In other cases, upon the expiration of the term of the person who holds the office of county surveyor at the time the appointment of county engineer is made; provided, that if such appointment is made within six months of the expiration of the then current term of county surveyor, the office of surveyor in such county shall be and is hereby abolished upon the expiration of the next succeeding term.

§ 12. Does not limit powers of supervisors. Nothing herein contained shall be held, deemed or construed to prevent members of boards of supervisors from visiting and inspecting work in progress within the county or from receiving for such services the mileage now allowed by law.

§ 13. Title. This act shall be known as and when cited or amended may be designated as "the county engineer act."

TITLE 172.

ESTRAYS.

ACT 1071.

An act concerning trespassing of animals upon private lands in certain counties in the state of California.

Amended 1877-78, p. 878; 1919, p. 524; Supp. 1907, p. 300.

The amendment of 1919 is as follows:

§ 16. Trespassing of animals upon private lands in certain counties. This act shall apply to all of that part of the county of San Bernardino, not embraced within the boundaries of the Angeles national forest, and lying south of a line drawn due east and west from the Colorado river to the western boundary line of said county, on the township line between townships two and three north, of San Bernardino base line, and shall also apply to Alpine county, and to all that portion of Salmon Falls township, in El Dorado county, lying south of the south fork of the American river, and to the counties of Colusa, and to that portion of Tehama county lying west of the Sacramento river and south of Red Bank creek, and to the counties of Humboldt, Merced, Solano, Santa Barbara, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, Sacramento and Los Angeles, and also to the townships of White Oak and Mud Springs, in the county of El Dorado. [Amendment approved May 11, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 524.]

ACT 1074.

An act relating to estrays, providing for taking them up and giving a lien on them for damages, costs, and expenses incurred by reason of taking them up.

§ 1. Estray domestic animals may be taken up. Any person finding at any time any estray domestic animal or animals upon his premises, or upon premises to which he has the right of possession, may take up the same and have a lien thereon for all expenses incurred and costs in keeping and caring for said animal or animals, as hereinafter provided; and no person shall remove them from the possession of the taker-up, or from the possession of the officer to whom they may have been delivered, except as hereinafter provided.

§ 2. "Premises." Substantial fence defined. Whenever the term "premises" is used in this act, it shall be construed to mean land entirely inclosed with a good and substantial fence, and none of the provisions of this act shall apply to any unfenced lands. No wire fence shall be deemed a good and substantial fence within the meaning of this act unless the same has three tightly stretched barbed wires securely fastened to posts of reasonable strength, firmly set in the ground not more than one rod apart, one of which wires shall be at least four feet above the surface of the ground; provided, however, that any kind of wire or other fence of height, strength and capacity, equal to or greater than the wire fence herein described shall also be deemed a good and substantial fence within the meaning of this act.

§ 3. Enforcement of lien. Any such lien shall be enforced in the manner prescribed by the provisions of sections two to nine inclusive of the act entitled "An act relating to estrays, providing for taking them up and giving a lien on them for all damages, costs, and expenses incurred by reason of taking them up, and repealing all other acts and parts of acts now in force relating to estrays," approved March 23, 1901, as amended, which sections are incorporated herein and made a part hereof.

§ 4. Election in supervisorial district to make act operative. The provisions of this act shall not become operative or effective in any supervisory district until, at a general election or at a special election called for that purpose by the board of supervisors, the electors of the district shall have declared by a majority vote in favor thereof. The form of the ballot shall be substantially as follows:

Shall the provisions of this act become effective?	YES
	NO

To vote for making effective the provisions of this act, electors shall stamp a cross in the square opposite the word "Yes" on the ballot. To vote against making effective the provisions of this act, electors shall stamp a cross in the square opposite the word "No." Such an election shall be conducted and the ballots cast thereat, counted, canvassed and returned as in the case of the election of a member of the county board of supervisors.

§ 5. Exceptions. Except in such districts as shall hereafter elect to accept the provisions of this act by the method set forth in section four hereof, none of the provisions of any act of this state relative to or affecting estrays shall be repealed, modified or effected hereby.

§ 6. Counties excepted. None of the provisions of the act shall apply to the counties of Del Norte, Lassen, Modoc, Shasta, Siskiyou or Trinity.

§ 7. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

TITLE 174.

EUREKA.

ACT 1083.

Charter of Eureka. [Stats. 1895, p. 356.]

Amended 1907, p. 1172; 1911, p. 2036; 1913, p. 1544; 1917, p. 1742.

EXPLOSIVES.

ACT 1092.

An act relating to explosives and prescribing regulations for the transportation, storage and selling of explosives, and providing penalties for the violation of this act.

[Became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, March 21, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 391.]

Amended 1917, p. 695; 1919, p. 148.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 3. Magazine. Magazines in which explosives may lawfully be stored or kept shall be two classes, as follows:

(a) First class. Magazines of the first class shall consist of those containing explosives exceeding one hundred pounds, and shall be constructed wholly of brick, wood covered with iron, or other fireproof material, and must be fireproof, and, except magazines where gunpowder or black blasting powder only is stored must be bullet proof, and shall have no openings except for ventilation and entrance. The doors of such magazines must be fireproof and bullet proof, and at all times kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. Every such magazine shall have sufficient openings for ventilation thereof, which must be screened in such manner as to prevent the entrance of sparks or fire through the same. Upon each side of such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign, with the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous," legibly printed thereon in letters not less than six inches high. No matches, fire or lighting device of any kind except electric light shall at any time be permitted in any such magazines. No package of explosives shall at any time be opened in any magazine. No blasting caps, or other detonating or fulminating caps, or detonators, or electric fuzes, shall be kept or stored in any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored, but such caps, detonators or fuzes may be kept or stored in a magazine constructed as above provided which must be located at least one hundred feet from any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored. Magazines in which explosives are kept or stored must be detached and must be located at least one hundred feet from any other structure.

(b) Quantity depends on distance from buildings, etc. On and after January 1, 1919, the quantity of explosives that may be lawfully had, kept or stored in any magazine shall depend upon the distance that such magazine is situated from buildings, highways, or railroads, and upon the protection afforded by natural or efficient artificial barricades to such buildings, highways or railroads. Whenever any of the quantities given in column one of the quantity and distance table herein-after set forth is had, kept or stored in any magazine in this state, the distance that any quantity given in column one of said table may be lawfully had, kept or stored from buildings is the distance set opposite said quantity in column two of said table, and the distance that any quantity in column one of said table, may be lawfully had, kept or stored from railroads is the distance set opposite said quantity in column three of said table, and the distance that any quantity given in column one of said table may be lawfully had, kept or stored from highways is the distance set opposite said quantity in column four of said table. The quantity and distance table governing the keeping or storing of explosives is as follows:

QUANTITY AND DISTANCE TABLE.

Column 1. Quantity that may be lawfully kept or stored from nearest building, highway or railroad				Column 2	Column 3	Column 4
Blasting caps		Other explosives		Distance from nearest building, feet	Distance from nearest railroad, feet	Distance from nearest highway, feet

Whenever the building, railroad or highway to be protected is effectually screened from the magazine, where explosives are had, kept or stored, either by natural features of the ground or by an efficient artificial barricade of such height that any straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the magazine to any part of the building to be protected, will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, and any straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the magazine to any point twelve feet above the center of the railroad or highway to be protected will pass through such intervening natural or efficient artificial barricade, the applicable distances given in column two, three and four of the quantity and distance table may be reduced one-half.

Whenever the building, railroad or highway to be protected is effectually screened from the magazine, where explosives are had, kept or stored by a natural barrier which, at any one point thereon, is forty feet or more in height above a straight line drawn from the top of any side wall of the magazine to any part of the building to be protected or to any point twelve feet above the center of the railroad or highway to be protected, which natural barrier has a natural thickness of not less than two hundred feet where the same is intersected by the straight line drawn as aforesaid then, the quantity and distance table shall not be applicable to such magazine.

If at any time the distances from a magazine to a building, highway or railroad be decreased through the construction of a new building, highway or railroad or by any other means, then the amounts of explosives which may be lawfully had, kept or stored in said magazine must be reduced to correspond with the quantity and distance table; provided, in the case of a new building, that the same is constructed in good faith for any of the purposes specified in the following paragraph, and not with intent to annoy, harass, oppress or hinder the owner of said magazine.

The term "building" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean and include only any building regularly occupied in whole or in part as a habitation for human beings, and any store, church, school-house, railway station or other public place of assembly.

The term "highway" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean public streets or public roads, and shall not include roads constructed and maintained by private persons.

The term "railroad" when used in the foregoing table shall be held to mean and include any steam, electric or other railroad that carries passengers or articles of commerce for hire.

The term "efficient artificial barricade" when used in the foregoing shall be held to mean an artificial mound or properly revetted wall of earth of a thickness of not less than three feet. The provisions of this subsection (b) shall not apply to mining or quarrying operations. Nothing contained in this subsection (b) shall be held to prohibit the keeping or storing of explosives at any explosive manufacturing plant which was actually used in manufacturing explosives prior to the fifteenth day of April, 1917.

(c) Magazines of second class. Storage in tunnels. Magazines of the second class shall consist of a stout box, and not more than one hundred pounds of explosives shall at any time be kept or stored therein, and, except when necessarily opened for use by authorized persons, shall at all times be kept securely locked. Upon each such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign with the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous," legibly printed thereon.

Nothing in this section contained shall be held to prohibit the keeping or storing of explosives in any tunnel, where no person or persons are employed; provided, always, that any tunnel so used for the storage of explosives shall have fireproof doors, which must at all times be kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. The door of such tunnel magazine shall at all times have legibly printed thereon the words, "magazine," "explosives," "dangerous."

§ 2. Repealed. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 148.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 695.

§ 11. Explosives in mines. [Repealed May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 698.]

EXPOSITIONS.

ACT 1093a.

An act giving and granting to the board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego the right to use and the right to authorize the use of Balboa Park in said city for exposition purposes.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Use of San Diego park for exposition. The board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego, California, is hereby authorized and empowered to use, or authorize any exposition company to use, any part or portion of the lands set aside as a public park by resolution of the board of trustees of the city of San Diego and approved and ratified by an act of the legislature of the state of California, approved February 4, 1870, for the purpose of giving an exposition in the year 1917 to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal. [Amendment approved January 19, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1. Section 1 was also amended at the Extra Session of 1916; Stats. 1916 (Extra Session), p. 43.]

§ 2. Emergency measure. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure within the meaning of section one, article four, of the constitution of the state of California, and shall take effect immediately.

The facts constituting such emergency are as follows: The directors of the Panama-California International Exposition and the members of the board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego are desirous of continuing the Panama-California International Exposition, situated in the city park of San Diego, for a further period of time, not to exceed one year. A large amount of money has been expended in the permanent improvement of the exposition site in the park, and many of the buildings contain exhibits that cannot be removed for some time. Therefore, it is necessary for legislative action immediately, in order to authorize the maintenance of such an exposition for the further period of time—the authorization of the state of California for the maintenance of said exposition having expired on the first day of January, 1917.

FEES.

ACT 1119.

To regulate fees and salaries of certain officers.

[Stats. 1869-70, p. 148.]

Amended 1869-70, pp. 677, 680; 1871-72, pp. 140, 178, 188, 219, 910; 1873-74, pp. 102, 204, 212, 885; 1877-78, pp. 134, 738; 1917, p. 788.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 28. Fees of grand and trial jurors. Grand and trial jurors shall receive the fees as established by law. No juror who shall be excused from attendance upon his own motion, on the first day of his appearance, in obedience to the venire, shall receive per diem, but mileage only. In civil actions tried by a jury the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall pay the trial jury their per diem fees as jurors but shall recover the fees so paid, except in actions to recover the possession of personal property where the value of the property recovered amounts to less than three hundred dollars and in actions for the recovery of money or damages where the recovery is less than three hundred dollars, as costs from the party or parties against whom the verdict is rendered. For that purpose the party or parties to the action who shall announce that a trial by jury is required shall be required during the trial to deposit daily with the clerk of the court, at or before the time the case each day is called for trial, the amount of money necessary to pay in full the trial jury fees, for such day. Out of the total sum of money so deposited the clerk shall pay daily to each trial juror the fees to which he shall be entitled as provided by law. Clerks of courts of record shall keep an account of all moneys received for trials by each juror during the term, and if the sum so received by such juror shall not amount to the jury fees provided by law per day, he shall deliver to such juror a certificate of the time for which he is entitled to receive pay, which shall be paid out of the county treasury as other county dues. If in any trial in a civil case the jury be for any cause discharged without finding a verdict, the fees of the jury shall be paid by the party who shall have announced that a trial by jury is required, but may be recovered as costs if he afterwards obtain judgment; and until they are paid no further proceedings shall be allowed in the action. On the first day of each regular meeting of the board of supervisors the clerks of courts of record shall file with the clerk of the board of supervisors of their respective counties a detailed statement, containing a list of the jurors, and the amount of fees earned by each juror and paid out of the county treasury. No allowances shall be made to any clerk for any service performed by him, until the statement required by this section shall have been filed as aforesaid.

The amendatory act of 1917 contained the following provision:

§ 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 21, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 788.]

TITLE 182.FELTON.*ACT 1129.

An act to incorporate the town of Felton in the county of Santa Cruz, state of California. [Approved March 8, 1878. Stats. 1877–78, p. 185.]

Repealed by act approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 151.

TITLE 188.FIRE.*ACT 1171.

An act to provide for the fighting of forest fires in the San Dimas canyon in the San Gabriel mountains, California, and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 476. In effect July 27, 1917.]

ACT 1171a.

An act to provide for the prevention of forest fires in the San Antonio canyon in the San Gabriel mountains, California, and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 818. In effect July 22, 1919.]

The act appropriated five thousand dollars for the purpose indicated.

ACT 1172.

An act to provide for the prevention of forest fires in the San Antonio canyon in the San Gabriel mountains, California, and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 526. In effect July 27, 1917.]

TITLE 189.FIRE DEPARTMENT.*ACT 1173.

An act to create a firemen's relief, health, and life insurance and pension fund in the several counties, cities and counties, cities, and towns of the state.

Amended 1913, p. 690; 1917, p. 119.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 12. Moneys to be paid into firemen's pension fund. The board of supervisors, or other governing authority, of any county, city and county, city or town, shall, for the purposes of said "firemen's relief and pension fund," hereinbefore mentioned, direct the payment annually, and when the tax levy is made, into said fund, of the following moneys:

First—All rewards given or paid to members of such firemen's force.

Second—All fines imposed upon members of such fire department in keeping with rules and regulations of the department.

Third—An amount equal to two per cent of the salaries paid to the firemen of such county, city and county, city or town during the preceding year, payable from the funds of such municipal corporation.

Fourth—One-half of all fines imposed and collected for violation of laws pertaining to precaution against fire. [Amendment approved April 14, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 119.]

ACT 1174.

An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to equip and maintain a fire department, and to assess and collect taxes, from time to time, for such purpose, and to create a board of fire commissioners.

[Approved March 4, 1881. Stats. 1881, p. 26.]

Amended 1899, p. 69; 1909, p. 1028; 1919, p. 7.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 3½. Purchase of land as site for firehouse. Special election. Sale of land purchased as site for firehouse. The board of fire commissioners so appointed by said board of supervisors, and their successors, are further authorized and empowered, in their discretion, to purchase or otherwise acquire land and to erect thereon a firehouse for purposes of housing the fire equipment and fire apparatus, or to purchase or otherwise acquire land already improved with a building thereon suitable for housing said equipment and apparatus, and to pay for said land, improved or unimproved, as the case may be out of the annual tax provided for under section nine of this act, or by special tax to be voted by the voters within the fire limits in the manner provided for by section fifteen of this act. Said board of fire commissioners may furthermore in their discretion submit to the qualified electors within said fire limits at a special election for that purpose, or at the annual election provided for in section seventeen of this act, the proposition whether or not land shall be purchased or otherwise acquired and a firehouse built thereon, or the proposition of whether or not land with a firehouse already thereon shall be purchased or otherwise acquired, or both of said propositions, and in event of such submission the vote registered for or against the proposition or propositions so made to the voters shall be binding upon said board of fire commissioners. Said board of fire commissioners are further hereby empowered to sell or otherwise dispose of any such land, improved or unimproved, as the case may be, theretofore by them or by their predecessors acquired for firehouse purposes; provided, however, that if the same shall have been originally acquired pursuant to the vote of the electors within the fire limits, as herein permitted, then the same shall not be sold excepting by like vote of the electors within said limits. The proceeds derived from the sale of any such land or improvements thereon shall be exclusively devoted to the purchase of other land or other improvements. All real property acquired under the provisions of this section shall be conveyed to, and held in the name of, the "board of fire commissioners of the unincorporated town (or village) of —" (naming said town or village). [New section added March 26, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 8.]

§ 17. Annual elections. An election shall be held on the first Monday of April subsequent to the appointment of the fire commissioners by the board of supervisors for the election of three fire commissioners who shall take office on the next succeeding Monday of the same month. Said commissioners shall at their first meeting so classify themselves by lot that one of their number shall go out of office on the second Monday of April of the year next succeeding said first election, one thereof on the second Monday of April of the second year succeeding, and one thereof on the second Monday of April of the third year succeeding. On the first Monday of April of the year next succeeding said first election and on the first Monday of April of every year thereafter, an election shall be held for the election of one fire commissioner, who shall take office on the next succeeding Monday in the same month and shall hold office for the term of three years, or until his successor is elected and qualified; provided, that as to fire districts heretofore created under this act, the commissioners of which were elected prior to the date this amendment becomes operative, said commissioners at their first meeting after said amendment becomes operative shall classify themselves by lot so that one of their number shall go out of office on the second Monday of April of the year next succeeding, one thereof on the second Monday of April of the second year succeeding, and one thereof on the second Monday of April of the third year succeeding. Notice of such elections shall be given by the board of fire commissioners by posting in three public places within the fire limits for at least two weeks before the day of election. They shall also appoint the judges of election. The elections shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the general election laws of the state of California, excepting as in this act provided to the contrary. [Amendment added March 26, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 7.]

§ 21. Regulation of chimneys, etc. The said board of fire commissioners may regulate the construction of, and order the suspension, discontinuance, removal, repair, or cleaning of, fireplaces, chimneys, stove and stovepipes, flues, ovens, boilers, kettles, forges or any apparatus used in any building, manufactory, or business, which may be dangerous in causing or promoting fires, and prescribe limits within which no dangerous nor obnoxious and offensive business may be carried on, and they may order the clearing of land or the removal therefrom of dry grass, stubble, brush, rubbish, litter, or other inflammable material, if, in their judgment, said inflammable material endangers the public safety by creating a fire hazard. [Amendment approved March 26, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 9.]

TITLE 190.

FIRE DISTRICTS.

ACT 1185.

An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of Tamalpais forest fire district, to prevent and extinguish forest, brush and grass fires therein, and protect persons and property from injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fires; and to provide for the assesment, levy, collection and disbursement of taxes and revenues therein, and the contribution or payment of public funds therefor.

[Approved May 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 774. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. "Tamalpais forest fire district" organized. There is hereby organized, created, established and incorporated a forest fire district within the county of Marin, to be known as "Tamalpais forest fire district," the boundaries of which are hereby established, described and determined as follows, to wit: Commencing at the point where the electric pole line of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company running from the Alto power-house to Bolinas first joins the state highway between the town of Mill Valley and Alto; running thence along the line of said pole line, southerly, south-westerly, and westerly across the Rancho Saucelito and the Rancho Las Baulinas until the said pole line crosses the county road along the easterly side of Bolinas inner bay or lagoon; running thence north-westerly along said county road to its intersection with the lower county road leading from Bolinas to Olema; running thence northwesterly along said Bolinas and Olema county road to its intersection with the Tocaloma road at the village of Olema; running thence easterly along said county road leading to Tocaloma to its intersection with the county road running along the easterly bank of Paper Mill creek; running thence north-erly and easterly along said county road running along the easterly bank of Paper Mill creek to the mouth of Nicasio creek; running thence up the county road running up Nicasio creek, in an easterly and southerly direction, through the village of Nicasio to the intersection of the Nicasio and San Geronimo county road with the Lucas Valley county road; thence easterly along said Lucas Valley county road to its inter-section with the state highway at Las Gallinas; thence southerly along the state highway as at present laid out to the northerly corporate limits of the city of San Rafael; thence westerly along said northerly corporate limits of said city of San Rafael to the easterly corporate limits of the town of San Anselmo; thence southerly along the easterly corporate limits of the town of San Anselmo to the easterly corporate limits of the town of Ross; thence southerly along the easterly corporate limits of the town of Ross and westerly along the southerly corporate limits of the town of Ross to the intersection thereof with the state highway; thence southerly along the state highway to the northwesterly corporate limits of the town of Larkspur; thence northerly, easterly and southerly, along the corporate limits of the town of Larkspur to their intersection with the northerly corporate limits of the town of Corte Madera; thence easterly, southerly and westerly along the corporate limits of the town of Corte Madera to their intersection with the state highway; and thence southerly along the state highway to the point of beginning.

§ 2. Appointment of board of trustees. Term. Within thirty days after this act shall go into effect, a governing board of trustees for said district shall be appointed. Said board shall consist of one trustee to be appointed from said district at large by the board of supervisors of said county of Marin, and of one trustee to be appointed from each municipal-ity lying wholly or partially within said district by the governing board of such municipality. The governing board of such district shall be called "the board of trustees of Tamalpais forest fire district." Each trustee appointed by a municipal board shall be an elector of the municip-ality from which he is appointed, and each appointee of the board of supervisors shall be an elector of the district. All such trustees shall hold office for the term of two years from and after the second day of the calendar year succeeding their appointment; provided, however, that the first board of trustees appointed under the provisions of this act shall, at their first meeting, so classify themselves by lot that one-half of their number, if the total membership is an even number, and if uneven then that a majority of their number, shall go out of office at the expiration of one year and the remainder at the expiration of two years, from the second day of the calendar year succeeding their appointment.

§ 3. Officers. Expenses. Meetings. The members of the board of trustees shall meet on the first Monday subsequent to thirty days after this act shall go into effect and shall organize by the election of one of their members as president and one thereof as secretary. The members of the board shall serve without compensation provided that the necessary expenses of each member for actual traveling expenses on meetings or business connected with said board shall be allowed and paid. In event of the resignation, death or disability of any member, his successor shall be appointed by the board of supervisors, if such board originally made such appointment, or by the governing board of the appropriate municipality, if such appointment were originally made by the board of a municipality. The board of trustees shall provide for the time and place of holding its regular meetings, and the manner of calling the same, and shall establish rules for its proceedings. Special meetings may be called by three trustees and notice of the holding thereof shall be given to each member at least three hours before the meeting. All sessions, whether regular or special, shall be open to the public and a majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

§ 4. Powers of board of trustees. The board of trustees of such district shall have power to take all necessary or proper steps for the prevention or extinguishing of forest, brush or grass fires within the district, and for the protection of persons or property from any injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fire or fires; to purchase such supplies and materials and to employ such labor or skilled services as may be necessary or proper in furtherance of the objects of this act, and if necessary or proper in the furtherance of the same to build, construct and thereafter to keep clear and maintain necessary fire roads or fire trails, hydrants or other fire-fighting apparatus upon the lands within the district or adjacent thereto, and to acquire by purchase, condemnation, license or other lawful means, in the name of the district, all necessary lands, rights of way, easements or property or material requisite or necessary for any of such purposes; to make contracts, to indemnify or compensate any owner of land or other property for any injury or damage necessarily caused by the exercise of the powers by this act conferred, or arising out of the use, taking or damage of such property for any such purposes, and generally to do any and all things necessary or incident to the powers hereby granted and to carry out the objects specified herein.

§ 5. Estimate of money needed. "Tamalpais forest fire district tax." Levy and collection. The board of trustees of said district shall at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors of Marin county is required by law to levy the amount of taxes required for county purposes, furnish to said board of supervisors and to the county auditor of said county, respectively, an estimate in writing of the amount of money necessary for all purposes required under the provisions of this act during the next ensuing fiscal year. The board of supervisors of such county shall thereafter at the time and in the manner of levying other county taxes levy upon all of the taxable property within the district and cause to be collected a tax, to be known as the "Tamalpais forest fire district tax," the maximum rate of which must not be greater than sufficient to raise the amount estimated to be raised by the said board of trustees of the district, nor in any event shall such tax exceed ten cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property in such district.

All taxes levied under the provisions of this section shall be computed and entered on the county assessment-roll of said county by the county auditor thereof, and collected at the same time and in the same manner as state and county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury of said county for the use of said district.

The funds shall be withdrawn from said county treasury upon the warrant of the board of trustees of such district signed by the president or acting president of the board, and countersigned by its secretary.

§ 6. Proposal of amount to be paid toward expenses by state, etc. Governing board authorized to make proposal. The board of trustees of such forest fire district prior to its estimate of the amount of money necessary for all purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year, as hereinabove provided, may request from the governing board or body having jurisdiction and control over any forest, brush or grass lands within such district owned or held for any purpose whatsoever by the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation, or other political corporation or subdivision of the state, a proposal or promise as to what amount, if any, the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of the state owning or holding such lands, will agree to pay to such district towards its necessary expenses for the next ensuing fiscal year, or such proposal may be for the next two ensuing fiscal years in the event that such lands shall be under the control of the state of California, in consideration of said district taking over the supervision and concurrent control, as hereinafter set forth, of such lands so owned or held, only, however, in so far as is necessary or proper to prevent or extinguish forest, brush or grass fires thereon or within such district, or to protect persons or property from any injury, loss or damage resulting from any such fire, and said governing body having jurisdiction and control over such lands is hereby authorized and empowered, for the consideration aforesaid, to propose or promise, as aforesaid, and so obligate the state of California or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of the state owning or holding such lands respectively, to such district upon its board of trustees accepting such proposal for such purpose, whereupon such agreement shall be duly executed in the form of a contract, and such district shall thereupon take over the supervision and control of the prevention and extinguishing of forest, brush or grass fires upon such lands in the manner aforesaid for the next ensuing fiscal year, or for the life of such contract.

§ 7. Annexation of territory. Petition. Proposition submitted to electors. If majority vote favors. Territory deemed added when. Exclusion of land. Petition. Hearing. Notice. Deemed excluded when. Any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying adjacent and contiguous to said forest fire district, and within the same county therewith, may be added and annexed to such district, at any time, upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided; and any territory, incorporated or unincorporated, lying within said district, may be withdrawn and excluded therefrom upon proceedings being had and taken as in this act provided. The board of trustees of such district upon receiving a written petition containing a description of the new territory sought to be annexed to such district, signed by the owners comprising more than one-half of the assessed value of such territory as shown by the last county assessment-roll, must thereupon submit to the electors of the district and also to the electors residing in the territory sought to be annexed, the proposition of whether such proposed territory shall be annexed and added to such district. The proposition to be submitted to the electors at such election, both within said district and within said territory so proposed to be annexed, shall be as follows: "for annexation," or "against annexation," or words equivalent thereto. Such election must be called and held, and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district, and also in a newspaper, if any, printed and published in such territory so proposed to be annexed. The board of trustees, shall canvass, separately, the votes cast within said district, and the votes cast within said territory so proposed to be annexed, and if it shall appear from such canvass that a majority of all the ballots cast in such district and a majority of all the ballots cast in such territory so proposed to be annexed are in favor of annexation, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state describing said property proposed to be annexed and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been annexed and added to the Tamalpais forest fire district and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of said county in which such forest fire district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the territory named therein shall be deemed added and annexed to and form a part of said forest fire district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. If the property so proposed to be annexed is included within a municipality, consent to such annexation shall first be obtained from the governing board of such municipality, and an authenticated copy of the resolution or order of such board so consenting to such annexation, shall be attached to the petition, and be made a part thereof. At any time after the organization of said forest fire district, and the appointment of the board of trustees thereof, the owner or owners of the record title to any land or lands within said district may file a petition with the board of supervisors of the county praying that his or their lands be excluded from the district; provided, that no petition shall be presented or received for the exclusion of lands which, either by themselves, or together with other lands included in the same petition, do not lie adjacent to the exterior boundaries of said forest fire district. At its first regular meeting after the filing of such petition the board of supervisors shall, by its order, set said petition for hearing, which hearing shall not be more than forty days nor less than ten days from the date of its said order. Notice of such hearing shall be mailed to the petitioners, and to the members of the board of trustees of the forest fire district at least one week before the hearing. At such hearing, or at any continuation thereof, the board of supervisors shall hear and determine the facts urged for or against said petition, and shall make a finding determining whether or not the said lands petitioned to be withdrawn, or any part thereof, shall be withdrawn from the district. In case such finding shall be in favor of excluding such lands, or any portion thereof from the district, the board of supervisors shall make its order certifying such fact to the secretary of state, describing said property proposed to be excluded by said findings, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall issue his certificate reciting that the territory (describing the same) has been excluded from the Tamalpais forest fire district, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of the county of Marin. From and after the date of such certificate, the territory described therein shall be deemed excluded from said forest fire district.

§ 8. Dissolution of district. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, upon an election called either by its board of trustees or by petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the registered voters within the district upon the question of dissolution, and the proposition which shall be submitted to the electors at such election shall be as follows: "Shall the district be dissolved?" Such election must be called and held; and notice thereof shall be published for at least four weeks prior to such election in a newspaper printed and published in such district. If two-thirds of the votes at such election shall be in favor of the dissolution of the district, the board of trustees shall certify such fact to the secretary of state, and upon receipt of such last mentioned certificate, the secretary of state shall thereupon issue his certificate reciting that said forest fire district has been dissolved, and a copy of such certificate of the secretary of state shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of said county in which such forest fire district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate the district named therein shall be deemed dissolved, and the property of the district shall thereupon vest in the county wherein said district is situate, if the district at the time of its dissolution comprises unincorporated territory alone, and if it comprises incorporated territory alone, or partly incorporated and partly unincorporated territory, then in such event its property shall be ratably apportioned amongst the several municipalities and the county in proportion to the assessed value of the property included within said district as shown upon the last county assessment-roll; provided, however, that any real property, easements or rights of way belonging to said district shall in such event remain the property of the municipality wherein the same is situate, if situated within incorporated territory, otherwise the same shall remain the property of the county.

§ 9. Publication of notices. Words defined. Every notice herein required to be published may be published in a daily or weekly or semi-weekly newspaper; and if there is no daily, or weekly or semi-weekly newspaper published within the district or within a subdivision thereof or other territory wherein the same is required to be published, then such notice shall be posted for the length of time herein required for the publication of the same in three public places of such district or such subdivision thereof or such other territory as the case may be. The term "municipality," as used in this act, shall include a city or town, and shall be understood and so construed as to include, and is hereby declared to include, all corporations heretofore organized and now existing, and those hereafter organized, for municipal purposes. The words "district" shall apply, unless otherwise expressed or used, to said forest fire district formed under the provisions of this act, and the word "trustees," and the words "board of trustees," shall apply to the trustees and to the board of trustees of such district.

§ 10. Provision optional and permissive. The provision herein contained for the entering into proposals and contracts with said forest fire district by the state of California, or any county, city, township, municipal corporation, public corporation or other political corporation or subdivision of this state, is hereby declared to be optional and permissive and no further authority of law shall be required for such proposals or contracts than that herein contained, and no further authority of law shall be required than that contained in this act for the levy of taxes by boards of supervisors for the purposes herein specified, and no further authority shall be required by law for the bringing of actions in eminent domain, for the acquiring by said forest fire district of rights of way for fire roads or trails, and easements to cut timber, brush or grass thereon, and to maintain the same, than the authority contained in this act.

§ 11. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

TITLE 195.

FOODS.

ACT 1206.

An act providing for the inspection of animals slaughtered for human food, providing for the inspection of the meat and meat food products of such animals, providing for the collection of fees to defray the expenses incurred by maintaining such inspection, providing for the appointment and duties of officials to carry into effect the provisions of this act, providing for the marking of carcasses and parts thereof, and providing a penalty for violation thereof.

§ 1. Inspection of slaughtering establishments by state veterinarian. Any person, firm or corporation in the state of California, engaged in the slaughtering of cattle, sheep, swine, or goats, desiring to have the healthfulness of the meat and meat food products of such animals certified to, may make application for the inauguration of an inspection service in such establishment. Said application shall be in writing addressed to the state veterinarian of California, and shall be made on blanks which will be furnished by said state veterinarian. In such application such applicant for inspection shall agree to comply with the provisions of this act and to maintain said establishment in a clean and sanitary manner. Upon receipt of said application the state veterinarian shall make an inspection of said establishment and if found clean and sanitary, and properly equipped to conduct its business in a clean and sanitary manner, he shall inaugurate an inspection service therein, and shall give to such establishment an official number, and this number shall be used to mark the meat and meat food products of the establishment as hereinafter provided. Such an establishment shall thereafter be known as "Official Establishment No. —."

§ 2. Fees. The cost of such inspection service shall be borne by the establishment where it is maintained and shall be paid for in the following manner: When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the volume of business is sufficient to occupy the continuous services of one inspector, such establishment shall pay a fee of one hundred fifty dollars per month. When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the services of more than one inspector are required to properly carry on the work, the fee in such cases shall be one hundred fifty dollars per month for the first inspector, and one hundred twenty-five dollars per month for each additional inspector. When, in the opinion of the state veterinarian, the inspection work in two or more neighboring establishments can be properly supervised by one inspector, said state veterinarian may, in such cases, probate the fees among such establishments, but in no instance where only one inspector is employed to supervise the work in more than one establishment shall the aggregate fees be less than one hundred fifty dollars per month, and in no such instance shall the individual fees be less than fifty dollars per month. All such fees shall be paid during the first week of January, April, July and October of each year and they shall be paid in advance for the ensuing three months. Such fees shall be paid to the state veterinarian, who shall at least as often as once each month and oftener if required to do so, report to the state controller the total amount of fees collected, and at the same time he shall pay into the state treasury the entire amount of said receipts. All such receipts shall be credited to the meat hygiene fund, which fund is hereby created, out of which shall be paid the salaries of inspectors who are appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act, as well as other expenses that may be incurred incidental thereto. In no instance, however, shall any of the fees collected as provided herein be refunded. The state veterinarian is hereby authorized to appoint such inspectors as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

§ 3. Hours for slaughtering. All slaughtering in each official establishment shall be conducted between the hours of seven o'clock A. M. and seven o'clock P. M. of any one week day, unless a special permit in writing or by telegram, authorizing slaughtering at any other time, is granted by the state veterinarian. The manager or other person in charge of such establishment shall inform the inspector when work has been concluded for the day, and of the day and hour when work will be resumed. Where one inspector is detailed to conduct the work at two or more establishments where few animals are slaughtered, the inspector may designate the hours for work.

§ 4. Ante-mortem examination of animals. In each official establishment an ante-mortem examination shall be made of all cattle, sheep, swine and goats about to be slaughtered, and satisfactory facilities shall be provided for conducting such examinations, and for separating and holding apart from passed animals those that are unfit for immediate slaughter.

§ 5. Parts inspected. Mark. In each official establishment a careful inspection shall be made of all animals at the time of slaughter. The head and tongue, tail, thymus gland, and all viscera, and all parts and blood used in the preparation of meat food and medicinal products shall be retained in such a manner as to preserve their identity until after the post-mortem examination has been completed. Carcasses and parts thereof found to be sound, healthful, wholesome and fit for human food shall be passed and marked in the following manner: Upon all passed carcasses and parts thereof slaughtered in an official establishment the inspector shall place a mark bearing the words "Cal. Inspected and Passed." This mark shall also contain the official number of the establishment. The number of such marks that shall be affixed and their location on the carcasses and parts thereof shall be determined by the state veterinarian. Each carcass or part thereof, which is found on post-mortem inspection to be unsound, unhealthful, unwholesome or otherwise unfit for human food shall be marked conspicuously by the inspector at the time of inspection with the words "Cal. Inspected and Condemned," and such carcass or part thereof shall, under the supervision of the inspector, be rendered unfit for human consumption in some manner approved by the state veterinarian.

§ 6. Rules and regulations. The state veterinarian shall, from time to time, make such rules and regulations as are necessary for the efficient execution of the provisions of this act, and all inspections and examinations made under this act shall be such and made in such manner as described in the rules and regulations prescribed by said state veterinarian not inconsistent with the provisions of this act; provided, however, that in making such rules and regulations said state veterinarian shall be guided by the regulations governing meat inspection of the United States department of agriculture.

§ 7. Violation. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation except the inspector as herein provided, to have in possession, keep or use any mark, stamp or brand provided or used for marking, stamping or branding any article herein required to be marked, stamped or branded. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to have in possession, keep, make or use any mark, stamp or brand having thereon a device or words similar in character or import to the marks, stamps or brands provided or used for marking, stamping or branding such articles, and any violation hereof shall be deemed a misdemeanor.

An act to define commercial feeding stuffs and to establish a standard therefor, providing for the branding and labeling of same, empowering the state board of health to enforce the provisions of the act and providing penalties for the violation of same.

[Approved May 16, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 551. In effect November 1, 1919.]

judge for the violations of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer, and the state treasurer shall deposit such money to the credit of the fund for the maintenance of the state laboratory, to be drawn against by warrants of the state controller upon claims which shall be approved by the state board of health and the state board of control. No dealer shall be prosecuted under the provisions of this act when he can establish a guaranty signed by the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other party, residing in the United States, from whom he purchased such commercial feeding stuffs to the effect that the same are not adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of this act, and can also establish by satisfactory evidence that the commercial feeding stuffs sold, offered or exposed for sale or distributed in this state were mislabeled or did not conform to the analysis declared on the label or tag affixed thereto, and that at the time of selling, offering or exposing for sale or distributing in this state such commercial feeding stuffs the dealer was not aware of that fact; such guaranty may be either general or special. A general guaranty shall guarantee, without condition or restriction all of the commercial feeding stuffs purchased, prepared, compounded, packed, distributed or sold by the guarantor as not mislabeled or adulterated within the meaning of this act. A special guaranty shall guarantee in the same manner the particular commercial feeding stuffs listed in an invoice of the same and shall be attached to or shall fully identify such invoice. Both said guaranties to afford protection must contain the name and address of the party or parties making the sales of such commercial feeding stuffs to said dealer. If the guaranty be to the effect that such commercial feeding stuffs are not adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded within the meaning of the national pure food act, approved June 30, 1906, it shall be sufficient for the purposes of this act and have the same force and effect as though it referred to this act, except that a guaranty referring to the said national pure food act alone shall not be sufficient for the purposes of this act in any case where at any time the standard for the commercial feeding stuffs concerned under this act is higher than the standard for like commercial feeding stuffs under said national pure food act. In case the wholesaler, jobber, manufacturer or other party making such guaranty to said dealer resides without this state and it appears from the certificate of the director of the state laboratory that such commercial feeding stuffs were adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, within the meaning of this act or the national pure food act approved June 30, 1906, the district attorney must forthwith notify the attorney general of the United States of such violation.

§ 9. Enforcement. The state board of health is hereby empowered to enforce the provisions of this act and to prescribe the form of tags, or labels to be used, and to prescribe and enforce such rules and regulations relating to the sale of commercial feeding stuffs as it may deem necessary to carry into effect the full intent and meaning of this act.

§ 10. In effect when. This act shall take effect on the first day of November, 1919.

§ 11. Repealed. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

TITLE 198.FORESTRY.*ACT 1216.

An act to provide for the regulation of fires on, and the protection and management of, public and private forest lands within the state of California, creating a state board of forestry and certain officers, subordinate to said board, prescribing the duties of such officers, creating a forestry fund, and appropriating the moneys in said fund, and defining and providing for the punishment of certain offenses for violations of the provisions of this act, and making an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. State board of forestry. The governor shall appoint four persons, one of whom shall be familiar with the timber industry, one with the livestock industry, one with the grain and hay industry, and one at large, who together with the state forester, shall constitute the state board of forestry, which shall supervise and direct all matters of state forest policy, management and protection. Said board shall make rules and regulations for its government, and shall meet at such times and places as it sees fit. The members, except the state forester, shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be paid actual traveling expenses which may be incurred in the performance of their official duties, which shall be paid out of the fund appropriated for the support of the state board of forestry. [Amendment approved May 25, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1191.]

§ 18. Civil liability for forest fires. In addition to the penalties provided in sections fourteen, fifteen, sixteen and seventeen of this act, the United States, state, county, or private owners, whose property is injured or destroyed by such fires may recover in a civil action, double the amount of damages suffered if the fires occurred through willfulness, malice or negligence; but if such fires were caused or escaped accidentally or unavoidably, civil action shall lie only for the actual damage sustained as determined by the value of the property injured or destroyed, and the detriment to the land and vegetation thereof. The presumption of willfulness, malice or neglect shall be overcome; provided, that the precautions set forth are observed; or, provided, fires are set during the "dry season" with written permission of and under the direction of the district firewarden. Persons or corporations causing fires by violations of this act shall be liable to the United States, state, county, or private owners in action for debt to the full amount of all expenses incurred by the United States, state, county or private owners in fighting such fires.

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 234.]

§ 1. "Commercial feeding stuffs" defined. Exceptions. The term "commercial feeding stuffs" shall be held to include all feeding stuffs used for feeding livestock and poultry, except the following:

- (a) Whole seeds or grains.
- (b) The unmixed meals made directly from the entire grains of corn, wheat, rye, barley, oats, buckwheat, flaxseed, kaffir, milo and light rice; provided, that light rice shall be labeled "light rice" when ground.
- (c) Whole bays, straws, cottonseed hulls and corn stover, when unmixed with other materials.
- (d) All other materials containing sixty per centum or more of water.

§ 2. Standards. The standards for commercial feeding stuffs shall be the latest revision of the definitions of feeding stuffs adopted by the association of feed control officials of the United States.

§ 3. Label for parcels. Contents of label. Every lot or parcel of commercial feeding stuffs sold, offered or exposed for sale or distributed within this state shall have affixed thereto a tag or label, in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, containing a legible and plainly printed statement in the English language, clearly and truly certifying:

- (a) The net weight of the contents of the package, lot or parcel;
- (b) The name, brand or trademark;
- (c) The name and principal address of the manufacturer or person responsible for placing the commodity on the market;
- (d) The minimum per centum of crude protein;
- (e) The minimum per centum of crude fat;
- (f) The maximum per centum of crude fiber;
- (g) The maximum per centum of ash;
- (h) The specific name of each ingredient used in its manufacture.
- (i) The per centum of such ingredients as corn cobs, corn bran, oat hulls, barley hulls, rice hulls, ground light rice, alfalfa meal or similar materials, when such constitute a portion of the package, lot or parcel.
- (j) In the case of poultry feeds, the per centum of grit or mineral matter they contain.

The crude protein, crude fat, crude fiber and ash shall be determined by the methods in force at the time by the association of official agricultural chemists of North America.

§ 4. Inspection by state board of health. The state board of health and its agents and inspectors shall have free access to all places of business, mills, buildings, carriages, cars, vessels and parcels of whatsoever kind used in the manufacture, transportation, importation, sale or storage of any commercial feeding stuffs, and shall have the power and authority to open any parcel containing or supposed to contain any commercial feeding stuffs, and upon tender and full payment of the selling price of said sample, to take therefrom samples for analysis. The methods of analysis shall be those in force at the time by the association of official agricultural chemists of North America.

§ 5. Adulterated. Commercial feeding stuffs shall be deemed adulterated if they do not conform to the analysis declared on the label or tag.

§ 6. Mislabelled. Commercial feeding stuffs shall be deemed mislabeled if they are not labeled or tagged in accordance with the provisions of section three of this act.

§ 7. Prosecution for violation of act. If it appears that any of the provisions of this act has been violated, the state board of health shall certify the facts to the proper prosecuting attorney and furnish that officer with a copy of the result of the analysis or other examination of such feeding stuffs duly authenticated by the analyst or other officer making the determination, under the oath of such officer; provided, that it shall appear from any such examination that any of the provisions of this act has been violated the state board of health shall cause notice to be given to the manufacturer or dealer from whom said sample was taken; any party so notified shall be given an opportunity to be heard in his defense under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the state board of health before the facts shall be certified to the proper prosecuting attorney. In all prosecutions arising under the provisions of this act, certificates of the analyst or other officer making the examination or analysis, when duly sworn to by such officer, shall be prima facie evidence of the fact or facts therein certified.

§ 8. Penalties. One-half of fines to be paid to state treasurer. Guaranty of wholesaler. State standard higher than national. Any manufacturer, importer, jobber, firm, association, corporation or person who shall sell, offer or expose for sale, or distribute in this state, any commercial feeding stuffs without having attached thereto or furnished therewith such labels or tags as required by the provisions of this act, or who shall impede, obstruct, hinder or otherwise prevent or attempt to prevent said state board of health or its authorized agent in the performance of its duty in connection with the provisions of this act, or who shall sell, offer or expose for sale or distribute in this state any commercial feeding stuffs as defined in section one, without complying with the requirements of the provisions of this act, or who shall sell, offer or expose for sale or distribute in this state any commercial feeding stuffs which contains a smaller per centum of crude protein or crude fat or a larger per centum of crude fiber or ash than is certified to be contained therein, or who shall fail to properly state the specific name of each and every ingredient used in its manufacture or who shall fail to properly state the per centum of such ingredients as corn cobs, corn bran, oat hulls, barley hulls, rice hulls, ground light rice, alfalfa meal or similar materials, when such constitute a portion of the package, lot or parcel, or the per centum of grit or mineral matter in poultry feeds shall be deemed guilty of a violation of the provisions of this act and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars for the first violation and not less than one hundred dollars for each subsequent violation. Any manufacturer, jobber, importer, firm, association, corporation or person who shall mix or adulterate any feeding stuffs with any substance or substances injurious to the health of livestock or poultry shall be deemed guilty of a violation of the provisions of this act, and in addition to the penalty provided in this section, the lot of feeding stuffs shall be subject to seizure, condemnation and sale as the court may direct. The court may in its discretion release the feeding stuffs so seized when the requirements of the provisions of this act have been complied with, and upon payment of all costs and expenses incurred by the state in any proceedings connected with such seizure. One-half of all fines, and the proceeds from condemned foodstuffs collected by any court or

An act to fix the salaries of the state forester, deputy forester and assistant forester.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 439.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 1. Salaries of state forester and assistants. The salary of the state forester shall be three thousand dollars per annum. The state forester shall have authority to appoint a deputy forester at a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and an assistant forester at a salary of one thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The deputy forester shall exercise all the powers and duties of the state forester during the latter's absence. All the salaries mentioned herein are to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers are paid.

§ 2. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

ACT 1223.

An act to provide for the reforestation, constructing and maintaining of fire lanes and fire trails on the Angeles national forest, and to make an appropriation therefor. [Approved May 22, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1240. In effect July 22, 1919.]

The act appropriated five thousand dollars for the purpose indicated.

Former act. See Stats. 1917, p. 532.

ACT 1224.

An act providing for the establishment and maintenance of a state nursery under the jurisdiction and management of the state forester for the growing of stock for reforestation and the planting of trees along highways and in public places, and making an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. State nursery established. There is hereby established a state nursery under the jurisdiction and management of the state forester for the growing of stock for reforestation of public lands, the planting of trees along public streets and highways and for the beautifying of parks and school grounds. The state nursery shall be located by the state forester upon lands now owned by the state or donated to the state for that purpose.

§ 2. Duty of state forester. The state forester shall construct and maintain such buildings, improvements and equipment, and shall employ and fix the compensation of such employees as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. He may also purchase nursery stock and seed and distribute the same at cost for public planting or reforestation.

§ 3. Governor to receive deeds, etc. The governor, on behalf of the state, is hereby authorized to receive all such deeds, conveyances, assurances or donations of real or personal property as may be necessary in law to vest in the people of the state of California the title to any site or sites for said nursery and any equipment and supplies therefor that may be donated to the state and accepted by the governor.

§ 4. Appropriation. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated the sum of fourteen thousand dollars for the purposes of this act.

TITLE 200.

FRANCHISES.

ACT 1235.

An act providing for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in cities or cities and counties having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California, which charter provides for the resettlement of franchise rights of and the granting of resettlement franchises to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such a municipality, and providing conditions for the granting of such franchises by legislative or other governing bodies of such city or city and county.

§ 1. Power of board of supervisors, etc., to provide for resettlement of franchise rights. The board of supervisors, the board of trustees or common council, or other governing or legislative body of any city or city and county having at the effective date of this act a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the state of California, and which charter provides for the resettlement of and the granting of a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation engaged in operating a public utility in such city or city and county, is hereby empowered to provide for a general resettlement of the franchise rights and to grant a resettlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a street, suburban or interurban railroad in said city or city and county, upon written application therefor, and upon such terms and conditions as are in this act provided, and may, in such resettlement of any such franchise impose other and additional terms and conditions not in conflict herewith.

§ 2. Franchise submitted to vote of electors. Every such resettlement franchise which is granted shall be granted after such publication and upon such notice as the governing or legislative body shall by resolution determine, or failing such determination after such publication and upon such notice as is or shall be prescribed by law for the enactment of ordinances by such governing or legislative body. After the final passage of such franchise, the same shall be referred and submitted to the vote of the electors of the city or city and county at the general or special election next ensuing not less than twenty days after the final passage of such ordinance, or if no general or special election is to be held in the city or city and county within a period of not less than twenty days and not more than ninety days after such final passage, the said governing or legislative body may call a special election for the purpose of submitting said ordinance to the electors as aforesaid, said special election to be held not less than thirty days and not more than sixty days after such final passage. No such resettlement franchise shall go into effect until it shall have been so submitted to the electors of the city or city and county and receive the approval of a majority of the electors voting thereon; and provided, further, that such resettlement franchise shall not be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

§ 3. Rights conferred by franchise. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall confer upon the grantee thereof the right to occupy the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places and pathways of the city or city and county, particularly set out in the terms and conditions of such franchise, permit or privilege, for the purpose of conducting, operating and maintaining thereon a street, suburban or interurban railroad, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of said grantee; provided, however, that said grantee shall pay to the city or city and county such a percentage of the net revenue annually collected from any and all sources under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege, as shall be fixed in such franchise. What constitutes such annual net revenue shall be provided in such franchise.

§ 4. New franchise may be part of resettlement franchise. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that any new franchise granted to the holder of such resettlement franchise shall be considered as part of such resettlement franchise.

§ 5. Extension of franchise to annexed territory. The legislative or governing body may in such resettlement franchise provide that in case of consolidation or annexation to the city or city and county of any territory not now included in said city or city and county at the date said resettlement franchise is granted, any franchise to operate such street, suburban or interurban railroad, or any part thereof, held or claimed by the holder of such resettlement franchise in or for any portion of such consolidated or annexed territory shall thereupon be surrendered to the city or city and county, and that the rights and obligations of such resettlement franchise shall thereupon automatically extend to such additional territory, and that a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of the properties used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, in the operation of such street, suburban or interurban railroad in the area so consolidated or annexed, and not included in the capital valuation already fixed in such resettlement franchise shall be added to the capital account of such resettlement franchise grantee at a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest, and otherwise determined as provided in this act.

§ 6. Grantee to surrender franchises owned. Every resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof shall surrender the franchises or rights, owned or claimed by the grantee, to occupy such portion of the roads, streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, lanes, alleys, courts, places and pathways as it is proposed such street, suburban or interurban railroad shall thereafter occupy under the provisions of such resettlement franchise, and that the grantee shall accept in lieu thereof the rights and privileges granted by such resettlement franchise as a franchise for the continued operation of such street, suburban or inter-urban railroad within the limits of the city or city and county or such portion thereof as had theretofore been operated under the franchise or franchises surrendered.

§ 7. Granted for indeterminate period. Purchase by city. Valuation by railroad commission. Every such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period, subject always to the right of the city or city and county to acquire and possess the property of the grantee. Every resettlement franchise shall be granted upon the express condition that the city or city and county may, at a valuation for the purpose of public acquisition, fixed and determined as hereinafter provided, either assume ownership by purchase, take over and possess the property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee, his or its successors or assigns, upon giving said grantee written notice of its intention to purchase and take over said property, which written notice shall be given only when authorized by ordinance of the legislative or governing body of the city or city and county. The valuation for the purpose of public acquisition of such property used and useful, or, in the discretion of the city or city and county, prospectively useful, and owned by the grantee at the time application is made for such resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, shall be fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest. The valuation of such property, as fixed by the railroad commission of the state of California, may be set forth in said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege, in which case a readjustment from time to time of this valuation by the addition of the cost of extensions and betterments and by the deduction of the value of property sold or abandoned, and of the amount of depreciation sustained by the property used or useful, or prospectively useful, of the franchise grantee shall be made in such manner as may in said resettlement franchise be provided. All expenses of such valuation by the railroad commission of the state of California, or its successors in interest shall be paid by the city or city and county to the railroad commission of the state of California or its successors in interest.

§ 8. Value in excess of amount paid not to be claimed. Said resettlement franchise shall provide that the grantee thereof, its successors or assigns, shall never claim before any court or other public authority in any proceeding of any character any value for said resettlement franchise, permit or privilege in excess of the amount originally paid for the same by the grantee thereof to the public authority granting the same.

§ 9. Amendment. Any resettlement franchise may be amended from time to time by ordinance passed by the governing or legislative body of the city or city and county and ratified by the electors of the city or city and county in the manner herein prescribed for the passage of such resettlement franchise in the first instance, and not otherwise; provided, that no such amendment shall be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such resettlement franchise.

§ 10. Exercise of police power. Right of city to acquire property by right of eminent domain. The legislature hereby declares that this act is passed subject to the continued power of the state of California in the exercise of its police power or otherwise through the instrumentality of the railroad commission of the state of California or other agency to provide at any and all times for the supervision and regulation of public utilities notwithstanding any franchise, permit or privilege or any provision thereof granted under this act, or any part thereof.

Nothing herein contained, nor any provision of any franchise granted hereunder shall be deemed to prevent a city or city and county from acquiring at any time the property of any public utility through the exercise of the right of eminent domain under the then constitution and laws, and the legislature hereby declares it to be against the policy of the state for any city or county to contract away, either for a term or in perpetuity, the right to exercise the right of eminent domain in respect to any public utility.

§ 11. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

TITLE 202.

FREE LIBRARIES.

Act 1248a.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the state of California, and repealing "An act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act."

[Approved February 25, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 80.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1610; 1919, pp. 19, 23, 62, 123.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 9ff. Counties of thirty-second class, salary of librarian. Kings. In counties of the thirty-second class the county librarian shall receive one thousand five hundred dollars per year. [Amendment approved April 21, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 122.]

§ 9gg. Salary of county librarian. Counties of thirty-third class. Merced. In counties of the thirty-third class the salary of the county librarian shall be eighteen hundred dollars per annum. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1610.]

§ 9ii. Counties of thirty-fifth class, salary of librarian. Yolo. In counties of the thirty-fifth class the salary of the county librarian shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum. [Amendment approved April 21, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 123.]

§ 9mm. Counties of thirty-ninth class, salary of librarian. Tuolumne. In counties of the thirty-ninth class the salary of the county librarian shall be one thousand five hundred dollars per annum. [New section added March 31, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 19.]

§ 9pp. Counties of forty-second class, salary and expenses of librarian. Lassen. In counties of the forty-second class the county librarian shall receive one thousand eight hundred dollars per year, to be paid by such counties in equal monthly installments at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid, and shall also be allowed the actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred on the business of the office. [Amendment approved April 9, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 61.]

§ 9ccc. Counties of fifty-fifth class, salary of librarian. Trinity. In counties of the fifty-fifth class the salary of the county librarian shall be one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. [New section added April 4, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 23.]

ACT 1250.

An act to authorize the deposit of certain newspaper files kept in recorders' offices in free public libraries. [Approved March 19, 1909; Stats. 1909, p. 436.]

Amended 1919, p. 278.

§ 1. Deposit of newspapers in public libraries. The county boards of supervisors of the several counties may authorize the recorders of their several counties to deposit with any free public library maintained at the county seat, or with the California state library, such newspaper files, or portions thereof, as may be in the custody of such recorders by virtue of an act approved April 8, 1862, and entitled "An act for the purchase and preservation of public newspapers, printed and published in the several counties of this state," or by virtue of any other act. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 278.]

§ 2. Agreement required. Before making such deposit, the said board of supervisors shall obtain from the board of trustees or authorities in charge of such free public library, or the board of trustees of the California state library, an agreement that they will properly preserve and care for such newspaper files, and make them accessible to the public. [Amendment approved May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 278.]

§ 3. Files may be transferred to state library. The county boards of supervisors of the several counties may authorize the boards of trustees or other authorities in charge of any free public library with which newspaper files have been deposited in accordance with section one of this act to deposit such newspaper files with the California state library. [New section added May 2, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 278.]

TITLE 204.

FRESNO COUNTY.

ACT 1264a.

An act to increase the number of judges of the superior court of the county of Fresno, and to provide for the appointment of an additional judge.

§ 1. Fresno county judges. The number of judges of the superior court Fresno county is hereby increased from two to three.

§ 2. Appointment of one additional judge. Election. Within ninety days after the taking effect of this act, the governor shall appoint one additional judge of the superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, A. D., one thousand, nine hundred nineteen. At the general election to be held in November, 1918, a judge of the superior court of said county shall be elected in said county, who shall be the successor of the judge appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law.

§ 3. Salary. The salary of said additional judge shall be the same in amount, and shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of the other two judges of the superior court of said county now authorized by law.

TITLE 205.

FRUIT.

ACT 1275.

An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof. [Approved June 10, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1386.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 285. See next Act.

ACT 1275a.

An act to establish standards for the packing and marketing of apples, forbidding the sale of certain infected and diseased apples, providing for its enforcement, fixing penalties for its violation, and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions thereof, and repealing an act entitled "An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof," approved June 10, 1915.

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known, and for any and all purposes may be designated and referred to, as "The standard apple act of 1917."

§ 2. Standard grades established. The following standard grades and standard box are hereby established for apples, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the state of California:

(a) "California fancy." The "California fancy" grade shall consist of apples of well-grown, properly matured specimens of one variety, hand picked, with stems retained therein, either in whole or in part, well colored and normally shaped for the variety and locality where produced, uniform in size, well packed, and shall be free from insect pests, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises and other defects, except such bruises and defects as are necessarily caused in the operation of packing, and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that a variation from the said standard, as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spot, insect bites, bruises and other defects, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect; and provided, further, that a variation in size of the apples shall be allowed, not to exceed three-eighths of one inch, when measured through widest portion of cross section thereof, and that no apples less than two and one-fourth inches when measured in like manner, shall be placed in "California fancy" grade except Lady and Winesap apples, when the smallest size shall be not less than two inches when measured in like manner.

(b) "B grade." The "B grade" shall consist of apples of well-grown properly matured specimens of one variety, hand picked, uniform in size, well packed, free from insect pests, diseases, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spot, insect bites, sun scald and frost bite more than skin deep, and bruises resulting in the breaking of the skin, and virtually free from dirt; provided, however, that insect bites which have healed in the process of maturity of the apple, and which do not cause serious deformity, and slightly misshapen apples, shall be permitted in this grade, that a variation in size of the apples shall be allowed, not to exceed three-eighths of one inch when measured through widest portion of cross section thereof, and that a variation from the said standard, as to insect pests, diseases, dry rot, Baldwin spots, bruises and other defects, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect.

(c) "C grade." The "C grade" shall consist of apples of properly matured specimens of one variety, free from insect pests, visible rot, visible dry rot, visible Baldwin spots and diseases; provided, however, that a variation from said standard as to insect pests, dry rot, Baldwin spots and diseases, shall be allowed, not to exceed ten per cent total of such defects in any one package, nor to exceed three per cent of any one such defect.

(d) Standard container. The standard container shall be a box of the following dimensions, inside measurements, when measured without distention of parts: Depth of end ten and one-half inches; width of end eleven and one-half inches; length of box eighteen inches, and having a cubical content of as nearly as possible two thousand one hundred seventy-three and one-half cubic inches.

(e) Use after July 1, 1920. On and after July 1, 1920, all packed apples, when shipped, offered for sale or sold, shall be placed in the standard box herein described; provided, however, that other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-half inch high "irregular container." [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 258.]

§ 3. Labeling of container. Every packed container of apples shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in the state of California, shall bear upon the outside thereof, and on the end, in plain words or figures and in the English language, the following: The grade of the apples therein contained, as herein defined, the designation of grade, when the stamps hereinafter provided for are not used, being stated in letters not smaller than thirty-six point type, that is, not less than one-half inch in height; the number of apples contained in the package, or the minimum net weight of the apples contained therein; the variety of the apples contained in the package, unless the variety be unknown to the packer, in which case the variety shall be stated as unknown; the name and business address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who first packed or caused the same to be packed, and, if repacked, the name and business address of the person, firm, company, organization or corporation who repacked the same or caused same to be repacked; the date when such apples were first packed, or if repacked, the date of repacking; provided, however, that a variation of five apples, more or less than the number stated, shall be allowed.

(a) Definitions. The term "packed," whenever used in this act, shall mean the regular, compact arrangement of all or a part of the fruit in any container.

(b) Definitions. The terms "three and one-half tier," "four tier," and "four and one-half tier," whenever used as the designation of the size of apples sold or offered for sale, shall have the following meanings, respectively, to wit: The term "three and one-half tier" shall mean an apple larger in size than three and one-eighth inches, when measured through the widest cross section thereof; the term "four tier" shall mean an apple larger in size than two and five-eighth inches but not larger than three and one-eighth inches, when so measured; and the term "four and one-half tier" shall mean an apple not smaller in size than two and one-fourth inches nor larger than two and five-eighth inches, when so measured.

(c) Definitions. The term "cross-section," whenever used in this act, shall mean the section of an apple taken at a right angle to a straight line drawn from the stem end to the blossom end thereof. [Amendment approved April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 259.]

§ 4. Labeled apples must conform to standard. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall sell or offer for sale, within the state of California, any apples labeled, designated, invoiced or represented to be, of "California Fancy" or "B" or "C" grade, whether contained in closed packages or otherwise, unless the same shall conform to the standard for such grade herein established; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the grading of Gravenstein apples as "California Fancy," though the stems be not retained therein.

§ 5. Importation of infected apples forbidden. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall import into this state, or sell, barter, offer for sale or have in his possession for sale, any apples infected with any insect pest or the pupae or larvae thereof or any disease; provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to prevent a grower of fruit so infected in the state of California from selling the same, as a part of his crop, in bulk, to a packer, or to prevent a grower or packer from manufacturing the same into an apple by-product, or from selling the same to the operator of a by-product factory for the purpose of such manufacture; and, provided, further, that the provisions of this section shall be construed to be limited by the variations allowed by the terms of section two of this act.

§ 6. False statements, etc. No statement, figure, design or device, appearing upon any container in which apples are sold, bartered, or offered for sale, or in which apples are packed for sale or shipment, or upon the brand or lining of any such container, or upon the wrapper of any apple therein contained, or upon any sign or placard used in connection therewith and having reference to the apples contained, shall be false or misleading, in any particular. The word "Fancy" shall not be used with reference to any apples the grade of which does not conform to the standard for "California Fancy" as in this act defined.

§ 7. Powers of state commissioner of horticulture. The state commissioner of horticulture of California shall be charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, and for that purpose shall have power:

(a) To enter and to inspect every place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all apples and apple containers and equipment found in any such place.

(b) To design, and cause to be printed or lithographed, suitable uniform stamps to be used on packages containing apples of the various grades, standards for which are established by the terms of this act, to sell the same as hereinafter provided, and to prescribe the method of canceling the same.

(c) In accordance with the provisions of the civil service law of this state, to appoint, superintend, control and discharge such chief inspectors and subordinate inspectors as in his discretion may be deemed to be necessary, for the special purpose of enforcing the terms of this act, to prescribe their duties, and, in conjunction with the board of control, to fix their compensation, provided that no chief inspector shall be paid more than seven dollars per day and no subordinate inspector more than five dollars per day.

(d) Personally, or through any deputy or any such inspector, to seize and retain possession of, any apples or apple boxes packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

(e) In the name of the people of the state of California to cause to be instituted and to prosecute, in the superior court of any county or city and county of the state of California, in which apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, may be found, an action or actions for the condemnation of apples as provided in section thirteen of this act.

§ 8. Sale of stamps. The stamps designed and provided by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, as provided by section seven of this act, by him shall be placed on sale and sold to any person who may apply therefor, at the price of one-half cent each. All moneys received by him from the sale of such stamps shall be paid over to the treasurer of the state of California, who shall deposit the same to the credit of a fund to be used exclusively for the payment of the expenses of enforcing the provisions of this act, and to be paid out only upon claims approved by the state commissioner of horticulture of California and by the board of control.

§ 9. Qualifications of inspectors. Powers. Assignment of inspectors.

The inspectors appointed by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, as in section seven hereof provided, shall be citizens of the United States, and of the state of California, not less than twenty-one years of age, shall be skilled in the inspection of apples, and have a thorough knowledge of insect pests and diseases commonly preying upon such fruits; they shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect all such places and apples and apple containers, found in any such place; and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the state commissioner of horticulture of California, or by law.

The said commissioner shall assign such inspectors to such territory, within the state, as he may see fit; provided, that when the stamps purchased for any year by packers in any town, city or district, shall yield a sum of money sufficient to pay the expense thereof, such commissioner shall assign one inspector or more for special duty in such town, city or district, during the packing season of that year, or for a longer period, if deemed to be necessary; and provided, further, that in the discretion of said horticultural commissioner, he may refuse to permit inspection of fruit at the place where same is being packed if packed by any person, firm, company, organization or corporation who shall not make use of the stamps hereinabove provided for upon the packages of "California Fancy," "B" and "C" grade apples packed by him or it.

§ 9a. Powers and duties of inspectors. Every such inspector shall have power to enter and to inspect any place within this state where any apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such apples and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such place. It shall be the duty of the inspectors to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, company, firm, corporation or organization, whom he knows or has reason to believe to be guilty of the violation of any of its provisions. Every inspector, in the performance of his duties, shall have the same powers possessed by peace officers under the laws of the state of California. [New section added April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 260.]

§ 10. Repacking. No container to or on which is attached any such stamp or on which shall appear the designation of grade as "California Fancy," "B" grade or "C" grade, shall be used as the container of any apples, other than those originally packed therein, until such stamp or grade designation has been removed; provided, that when apples are repacked, without the addition of new stock, other than stock of the same grade and from the same lot of which the package or packages repacked is or are a part, the same containers may be used without removing the stamps or grade designations.

§ 11. Refusal to permit inspectors to enter. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall refuse to permit the state commissioner of horticulture of California, or any of his duly appointed deputies, or any inspector duly appointed by said commissioner under the provisions of this act, to enter or to inspect any place within the state of California where apples are produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, or to inspect such places, or any apples or apple containers or any equipment found there.

§ 12. Penalty. Any person, firm, company, organization or corporation, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 13. Apples packed, shipped, etc., in violation of law, nuisance. Any apples packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and the containers in which they may be, shall be deemed to be a public nuisance, may be seized by said commissioner of horticulture, or his deputy, or by any inspector appointed under the provisions of this act, or by any county horticultural commissioner or his deputy, and by order of the superior court of the county or city and county within which the same may be found, shall be condemned and destroyed or released upon such conditions as the court in its discretion may impose to insure that they will not be packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

§ 13a. Refusal to receive or ship. It shall be lawful for any person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to refuse to accept for shipment or transportation and to refuse to ship or transport any apples which upon inspection are found to be or to be packed in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and any such person, firm, corporation, organization or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or to hold at the expense and risk of the latter all apples which upon inspection are found to be or to be packed in violation of any of the provisions of this act. [New section added April 30, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 260.]

§ 14. Guaranty. Form of guaranty. No person, firm, company, organization or corporation, shall be convicted of a violation of any provision of this act, if he shall establish a guaranty, signed by the person, firm, company, organization, or corporation, residing or lawfully engaged in business in the state of California, by or for whom the apples in question were originally packed, or repacked, to the effect that the apples, container, brand and label in question comply in all respects with the provisions of this act, and in addition, shall establish that the same are in substantially the same condition, in every respect, as they were when they were delivered out of the possession of such packer, and that the accused was not aware that such apples, container, brand or label, were or was in any respect in violation of any provision of this act. The signature to such guaranty may be printed, when done by the authority of the signer. To afford protection, such guaranty, in form and substance, must be substantially as follows:

"The undersigned guarantees that (this box or other package of apples or the boxes or other packages of apples mentioned in this, or the attached invoice, are all boxes or other packages of apples packed or repacked by the undersigned), comply, in all respects with the standard apple act of 1917. (Signature of the packer, with statement as to whether packer is firm, company, organization or corporation and business address.)"

Where the guaranty is used on each separate box, it may consist of the legend, "guaranteed by the packer, under the standard apple act of 1917," printed, stamped or written on the labeled or branded end of the package.

§ 15. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of the county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation, and also, at the request of the state commissioner of horticulture, or any one of his deputies, to institute and prosecute such actions for condemnation as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

§ 16. Effect on foods and liquors act. No act which is made unlawful by any provision of an act of the legislature of the state of California, entitled, "An act for preventing the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a state laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor," approved March 11, 1907, or any amendment thereto, shall be deemed lawful by reason of any provision of this act; nor shall this act be construed in any respect to limit the powers of the state board of health.

§ 17. Appropriation. The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated for the payment of the cost of printing, lithographing, stationery, stamps, clerical assistance, traveling expenses and salaries of inspectors and office rentals, incurred by the state commissioner of horticulture in the enforcement of this act during the fiscal years commencing July 1, 1917, and July 1, 1918, respectively. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrants for the sum herein appropriated in favor of said commissioner and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

§ 18. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

This section was re-enacted in the same language in 1919. See Stats. 1919, p. 261, § 5.

§ 19. Stats. 1915, p. 1386, repealed. An act entitled "An act to establish a standard for the packing and marketing of apples, fixing penalties for the violation of its provisions, and providing for its enforcement and making an appropriation to carry into effect the provisions hereof," approved June 10, 1915, is hereby repealed.

ACT 1275b.

An act to promote the development of the California fresh fruit industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing a standard for the packing of certain fresh fruits specified therein, and to prevent deception in the packing, prescribing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof, and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith.

§ 1. Standard for packing fresh fruits. To promote the development of the California fresh fruit industry and to prevent deception in packing for state or interstate shipment, there is hereby created and established a "standard" for the packing of fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act.

§ 2. Application. Unless specifically excepted in this act, all of its provisions shall be applicable to all fresh fruits specified herein when packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold in any container or subcontainer.

§ 3. Free from diseases. All fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act when packed shall be practically free from insects and fungous diseases.

§ 4. Fruits exempt. All fresh fruits of the kind specified in this act, except citrus fruits, which shall be sold in bulk or loose in the box or in any other manner, excepting in standardized packs as provided in this act (excepting grapes, which must conform to the sugar standards provided in section eight a hereof), shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Words defined. When used in this act the words herein mentioned shall be defined as follows: "Pack, packing or packed," shall mean the regular compact arrangement of all or part of the fruit in any container or subcontainer used for the purpose of sale or transportation for sale. The words "in bulk or loose in the box without packing" shall mean the indiscriminate placing without any thought of regular arrangement of any of the kinds of fresh fruit mentioned in this act into a box, wagon or other receptacle used for the purpose of sale or transportation for sale.

The words "fresh fruit" shall mean the fresh product of any tree, vine or plant mentioned in this act.

The word "maturity" shall mean a degree of ripeness fit for shipment.

The word "county" includes a consolidated "city and county."

The word "container" shall mean any box, crate or other package used to hold or contain packed fresh fruit.

The word "subcontainer" shall mean any basket or other receptacle used within a container of packed fresh fruit.

§ 6. Cherries. All cherries packed in containers or subcontainers shall contain cherries well colored, of practically uniform size, quality, and maturity and one variety only, excepting that such containers may contain more than one variety if such fact be plainly stamped on the outside thereof with the words "mixed varieties" with letters not less than one-half inch high. Each container or subcontainer shall be stamped on the outside with the minimum weight of contents and the container shall have the name of variety or varieties stamped thereon.

§ 7. Peaches, apricots, pears, etc. Peaches, apricots, pears, quinces, tomatoes, plums and prunes when packed shall be of practically uniform size, quality and maturity. When packed in containers made up of two or more subcontainers having sloping sides, for the purpose of ventilation of the fresh fruit therein, the contents shall not vary in size more than ten per cent in each layer, and not more than twenty per cent in the whole subcontainer, and no layer below the top shall contain a greater numerical count than the top layer. Each container or subcontainer shall be stamped upon the outside with the minimum weight of its contents. Each container shall bear in plain letters the name of the variety contained therein. When packed in a container having perpendicular sides and ends, each shall contain approximately the same numerical count in each layer; provided, that when peaches are packed in containers having perpendicular sides the container shall also be marked upon the outside of the end thereof in plain figures with the approximate number of peaches in the box, which shall be within four peaches of the true count.

When the fresh fruits mentioned in this section are packed in containers known to the trade as "lug" boxes, the provisions of this section appertaining to variety, numerical count and marking shall not apply.

§ 8a. Table grapes. Table grapes, when packed, shall be of practically uniform quality and shall be well matured and show a sugar content of not less than seventeen per cent Balling scale, except Emperor, Gros Coleman and Cornichon, which shall show not less than sixteen per cent Balling scale. Each crate or package except subcontainers shall be stamped in plain letters with the name of the variety of grapes therein. Each container, or subcontainer, shall be stamped in plain figures and letters upon one end with a minimum net weight, and no container or subcontainer shall contain less than the minimum stamped thereon. Irregular containers in addition thereto, shall be plainly marked "irregular" and have the actual gross weight stamped thereon.

§ 8b. Standard containers for table grapes. "Irregular containers." The standard containers for table grapes when packed shall be:

1. Standard crate, which after packing when measured at the end, shall not exceed five inches between the top and bottom and when measured in the center shall not exceed five and three-fourths inches between the top and bottom and containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-four pounds.

2. Double crates containing a minimum net weight of not less than forty-eight pounds.

3. One-half crates containing a minimum net weight of not less than twelve pounds.

4. Thirty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty pounds.

5. Forty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than thirty-two pounds.

6. Fifty pound lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than forty-two pounds.

7. Williams lugs containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-four pounds.

8. Kegs or drums packed with sawdust or other preserving material, containing a minimum net weight of not less than twenty-nine pounds and a maximum net weight of not more than thirty-five pounds.

9. All other containers of table grapes shall be "irregular" containers.

§ 9. Standard container for berries. The standard container for berries shall be: Dry quart containing an interior capacity of sixty-seven and two-tenths cubic inches, or dry pint containing an interior capacity of thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches, or dry one-half pint containing an interior capacity of sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by two and one-fourth in depth, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by two in depth, or baskets four and one-half by four and one-half by one and three-eighths in depth; all measurements are in inches or fractions thereof. All other sizes shall be marked "irregular." When packed, the berries in any container or subcontainer shall be practically uniform throughout the container, or subcontainer, in quality, color and maturity. Irregular containers shall be marked "irregular."

§ 10. Cantaloupes. Cantaloupes packed in containers as follows shall be known as standard packed:

Standard crates twelve by twelve by twenty-two and one-half inches containing forty-five or thirty-six cantaloupes;

Pony crates eleven by eleven by twenty-two and one-half inches containing forty-five or fifty-four cantaloupes;

Jumbo crates thirteen by thirteen by twenty-two and one-half inches containing thirty-six or forty-five cantaloupes;

Standard flats four by twelve by twenty-two and one-half inches containing twelve or fifteen cantaloupes;

Jumbo flats four and one-half by thirteen and one-half by twenty-two and one-half inches containing twelve or fifteen cantaloupes.

All measurements herein to be inside measurements without distention.

All other sizes of containers when packed shall be marked "irregular." All standard packs shall be marked "standard." All containers when packed shall have the number of cantaloupes contained therein stamped in plain figures on the label end of the crates with figures not less than one-half inch high. All cantaloupes when packed shall be fully netted of uniform size, firm and mature, free from bruises and practically free from aphis honey dew and other defects.

§ 11a. Sale of immature or frozen citrus fruits. It shall be unlawful for anyone to sell, offer for sale, ship or deliver for shipment any citrus fruits, which are immature or frozen to the extent of injuring the reputation of the citrus industry of the state of California if shipped, and for anyone to receive any such citrus fruits under a contract of sale, or for the purpose of sale, or for shipment, or for delivery for shipment; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to prevent the sale or shipment for sale of frozen or otherwise defective fruit to a by-product factory, or the manufacture thereof into citrus by-products; nor shall this section apply to the sale, or contract for sale, of citrus fruits on the trees, nor shall it apply to common carriers or their agents who are not interested in such fruits and are merely receiving the same for transportation.

§ 11b. Matured oranges. An orange shall be deemed properly matured for sale, or to be offered for sale, for shipment or to be offered for shipment, under the provisions of this act, either when the juice contains soluble solids equal to, or in excess of, eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization, or when the orange is substantially colored on the tree. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to shipments of oranges to foreign countries other than the Dominion of Canada, during any season, provided such shipments are made after the first day of November.

§ 12. Name marked on containers. All containers of fruit of a kind specified in this act, except subcontainers, when packed and offered for sale, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof, the name of the orchard where the same was produced, with the postoffice address thereof, or the name and postoffice address of the person, firm, company or corporation, or organization who shall have first packed or authorized the packing of the same, or the name under which such packer shall be engaged in business, together with the postoffice address of such packer.

§ 13. Office of "inspector of fresh fruits" created. "Inspectors in chief of fresh fruits." The office of "inspector of fresh fruits" is hereby created for each and every county in the state. The horticultural commissioner of each county, and all deputy horticultural commissioners shall be ex-officio inspectors of fresh fruits thereof, and the district inspectors under each county horticultural commissioner are ex-officio "deputy inspectors of fresh fruits" in their respective districts. The board of supervisors shall appoint as many deputy "inspectors of fresh fruits" as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Their term of office shall be for such time as is deemed necessary by said board of supervisors. For the purpose of creating and securing unity in inspection, the offices of "inspectors in chief of fresh fruits" are hereby created, and the state commissioner of horticulture and his chief deputy, for the purposes of this act, are hereby made ex-officio such inspectors in chief and shall, where there is a dispute or difference between the inspectors of fresh fruits of two or more counties, or where the interpretation of inspection standards between two or more counties differs materially, have the power and authority to settle the dispute between the inspectors of fresh fruit of such counties and to fix reasonable standards between such counties where they materially differ.

§ 14. Appointment when no commissioner of horticulture. If in any county or city and county of this state, there is no commissioner of horticulture, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors thereof to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits and such deputy inspectors of fresh fruits as the said board of supervisors shall deem necessary. Such inspectors and deputy inspectors of fresh fruits shall be appointed to serve for such time during each year as fresh fruits are being packed or shipped in said county or city and county. The salary of an inspector of fresh fruits shall be five dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses. The salary of a deputy inspector of fresh fruits shall be three dollars and fifty cents per day and necessary traveling expenses.

§ 15. Deputy state commissioner of horticulture assigned, when. In case the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, shall fail or neglect, for thirty days after receipt of a written request from the state commissioner of horticulture, to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits, or necessary deputy inspectors of fresh fruits for such county, or city and county, then the said state commissioner of horticulture shall forthwith assign to said county, or city and county, one or more deputy state commissioners of horticulture, as he shall deem necessary, and such deputy or deputies shall perform all of the duties, within the said county or city and county to which assigned, as is provided in this act to be performed by an inspector of fresh fruits. The actual cost of services rendered by an inspector or deputy inspector, as the case may be, of fresh fruits, assigned to any county in pursuance hereof, together with his necessary traveling expenses shall be a county charge and shall be paid in the same manner in which other claims against the county are paid.

§ 16. Removal. Vacancy. The board of supervisors shall remove any inspector of fresh fruits and the inspector of fresh fruits shall remove any deputy upon proper showing of neglect of duty, malfeasance in office, or general unfitness for office. Whenever a vacancy in the office of inspector of fresh fruits or deputy inspector of fresh fruits occurs, the vacancy shall immediately be filled by the appointing power.

§ 17a. Power of inspector. Every inspector of fresh fruits and every deputy inspector of fresh fruits shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the county for which he has been appointed where any fruit mentioned in this act is produced, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such fruits and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such places.

§ 17b. Duty of inspector. It shall be the duty of the inspectors or deputy inspectors of fresh fruit in their respective districts to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm, corporation or organization, whom they know or have reason to believe is guilty of the violation of its provisions.

§ 17c. Inspectors have powers of peace officers. An inspector or deputy inspector of fresh fruits in the performance of their duties shall have the same powers as are possessed by peace officers of the city, county or state and shall have the right while exercising such police powers to seize and hold as evidence such amount of any pack, load, consignment or shipment of fresh fruit packed in violation of this act, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating this act.

§ 17d. Duty of district attorney. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each and every county in the state to prosecute all persons charged with any violation of this act.

§ 18. Lawful to refuse shipments in violation of act. It shall be lawful for any fresh fruit forwarding person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to decline to accept for shipment or transportation and to decline to ship or transport any fresh fruits which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act, and any such fruit forwarder or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor, thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or hold at the expense and risk of the latter, all fresh fruits which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act.

§ 19. Penalty for violation. No person, firm, corporation, company or organization shall pack or cause to be packed for sale, or shipment, or shall ship or sell or offer for sale fruit which, or the container or sub-container in which, the same shall be contained, shall in any respect fail to comply with the requirements of this act.

Any person, firm, corporation, company or organization who shall violate the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 20. Conflicting laws. All laws in conflict with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed only in so far as they may conflict with any of the provisions of this act.

§ 21. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

ACT 1275c.

An act to prevent the sale and use of sulphur containing material quantities of arsenic for the purpose of sulphuring fruits or other foods; to provide a standard for sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods, and to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.

§ 1. Amount of arsenic permitted in sulphur. No person, firm, company or corporation shall sell, offer for sale, or keep for sale sulphur containing more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3) for the purpose of sulphuring fruits or other foods.

§ 2. Definition. For the purposes of this act the term "sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods" shall be construed to mean sulphur which contains not more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3).

§ 3. Sale. No person, dealer, jobber, firm, company or corporation shall sell, keep for sale, or offer for sale sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods which contains more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3). Every package, parcel, bag or container of sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods shall be labeled or tagged, and said label or tag shall contain the words in bold faced type, not less than one-fourth inch in height, "Sulphur for sulphuring fruits or other foods." Said label or tag shall also contain the name and address of the person, firm, company or corporation which manufactures, prepares or packs the sulphur.

§ 4. Use. No person, firm, company or corporation shall use sulphur containing more than ten parts per million of arsenic oxide (As_2O_3) for the purpose of sulphuring fruits or other foods.

§ 5. Penalty. Any person, firm, company or corporation which violates any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 6. Enforcement by state board of health. The state board of health is hereby empowered to enforce the provisions of this act and to prescribe the form of tags, or labels to be used, and to prescribe and enforce such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary to carry into effect the full intent and meaning of this act.

ACT 1275d.

An act providing for the protection of the vineyards of the state against Phylloxera by regulating the transportation within the state of grapevines or parts thereof for use as fuel.

§ 1. Transportation of grapevines regulated. Any person, firm or organization desiring or planning to transport, move or cause to be moved any grapevines or parts thereof from premises or localities within the state of California known to contain grape Phylloxera (Phylloxera vastatrix) shall notify the county horticultural commissioner of the county wherein such premises or localities are situated of such intention at least ten days in advance. Such county horticultural commissioner shall within ten days of the receipt of such notice make an inspection of such premises or grapevines to determine whether the grape Phylloxera exists thereon. If, after such inspection, it is found by the county horticultural commissioner that such premises or grapevines are infested with the grape Phylloxera, or if in his judgment such premises or grapevines are liable to be so infested and that there is danger of the said grape Phylloxera being disseminated to other premises or localities by the movement of such grapevines, the said county horticultural commissioner shall prescribe such treatment as he shall deem necessary to destroy such grape Phylloxera so infesting said grapevines. It shall be unlawful to transport, move or cause to be moved any such grapevines or parts thereof from the premises whereon the same are growing until said county horticultural commissioner shall certify in writing after inspection that such grapevines have been thoroughly disinfected under his direction and to his satisfaction; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to grapevines or roots which are for planting or propagation.

§ 2. Expenses. Any expenses incurred by such disinfection as may be prescribed by the county horticultural commissioner under section one hereof, shall be at the expense of the owner or owners, or agent or agents, or person having charge or possession of such grapevines or the premises whereon the same are growing.

§ 3. Penalty. Any person, firm or organization who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

ACT 1275e.

An act to promote the development of the California fruit and vegetable industry in state and interstate markets, and to protect the state's reputation in these markets by establishing standards and standard packages for certain fruits and vegetables specified therein, and to prevent deception in fruit packages, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions hereof and making an appropriation for the enforcement of all provisions hereof, and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith.

§ 1. Standard packages for fruits, etc., established. To promote the development of the California fresh fruit, nut and vegetable industry and to prevent deception in fruit or vegetable packages for state or interstate shipment, there are hereby created and established certain standards and standard packages for apricots, almonds, walnuts, berries, cantaloupes, cherries, grapes, oranges, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, quinces, tomatoes, onions, sweet potatoes and potatoes.

§ 2. All fresh fruits, nuts and vegetables of the kind specified in section one of this act, except oranges which shall be governed by the provisions of section nine, and except such fruits and vegetables for which special grades shall be established under section three of this act, when being packed, or after packing, or when shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, in any container or subcontainer, shall be mature but not overripe, well colored for the variety and locality, virtually uniform in quality, virtually free from insect and fungous pests, rots, bruises, frost injury, sunburn and other serious defects, and, except in the case of unpacked fruit or vegetables, shall be virtually uniform in size. When packed in layers there shall be approximately the same numerical count in each layer throughout a container or subcontainer having straight sides. In the case of sloping side containers no layer below the top layer shall contain a greater numerical count than the top layer.

§ 3. Enforcement by commissioner of horticulture. The state commissioner of horticulture is hereby empowered, through his deputies and the inspectors of fresh fruit and vegetables of each county in the state, to enforce all the provisions of this act, and to establish and enforce such grades and grading rules as may be deemed necessary after a thorough investigation has been made of the needs of the particular fruit or vegetable for which grades are contemplated. Such grades and grading rules must, before they become effective, be approved in one or more public meetings attended or represented by at least fifty per cent of the growers and shippers of that locality interested in the industry affected. Such meetings shall be widely advertised in a newspaper published in that locality for at least two weeks prior to the meetings; said meetings shall be presided over by the state commissioner of horticulture, or any of his deputies, and shall, in so far as possible and practicable, be conducted at places that can be conveniently reached by representatives of the affected industry. In like manner the state commissioner of horticulture may provide for standard packages other than those provided for in section six of this act. Grades and grading rules established in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not be modified, nor shall standard packages which have been established be changed during the current shipping season of the fruits or vegetables for which such grades or standard packages were established.

§ 4. Exemptions. All fresh fruits or vegetables of the kind specified in this act for use in the manufacture of by-products, shall be exempt from the provisions of this act, and any inspector or deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables may require from the owner or shipper of such fruits or vegetables such proof as he may deem necessary that they will be used in the manufacture of by-products, and shall hold same until satisfactory proof is given.

§ 5. Definitions. When used in this act the words herein mentioned shall be defined as follows: "Packages" shall mean any box, basket, barrel, drum, or crate used as a container or subcontainer for fruits or vegetables. "Pack, packing or packed," shall mean the regular compact arrangement of all or part of the fruit or vegetables in any container or subcontainer used for the purposes of sale or transportation for sale. "Deceptive pack" shall mean any package of fruits or vegetables, which has in the outer layer or the exposed surface fruit or vegetables which are so superior in quality or condition to those in the interior of the package, or the unexposed portion, as to materially misrepresent the entire contents. "Fresh fruit (except oranges) or fresh vegetables" shall mean the fresh product of any tree, vine or plant mentioned in this act. "Mature" shall mean a degree of ripeness fit for shipment. "Virtually uniform in size" shall mean in the case of packed fruits a difference in size of the various fruits as follows: Pears, peaches and quinces, a variation of not more than one quarter of an inch when measured through widest portion of cross section; apricots, plums, prunes, cherries and berries, a variation of not more than one-eighth of an inch when measured through widest portion of cross section. "Virtually free" from insect and fungous pests, rots, bruises, frost injury, sunburn and other serious defects, shall mean that the total defects shall not exceed ten per cent in any one package of fruits or vegetables, and excepting grapes that there shall not be more than three per cent of any one defect. "By-product" shall mean any product manufactured from fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, or their juices. "County" shall include in its meaning a consolidated city and county. "Container" shall mean any box, crate or other package utilized in handling fresh fruit or vegetables. "Subcontainer" shall mean any basket or other receptacle used within a container. "Substantially colored" shall mean at least seventy per cent color.

§ 6. Specifications for standard containers. Standard containers are hereby established as follows:

(1) Standard apricot, plum and grape basket, approximately eight inches square on top, six and one-half inches on bottom and four inches deep, inside measurements.

(2) Standard berry baskets, dry pint containing an interior capacity of approximately thirty-three and six-tenths cubic inches and dry one-half pint containing interior capacity of approximately sixteen and eight-tenths cubic inches.

§ 7. Labels for fruit containers. Subcontainers exempt. All containers of fruit of a kind specified in this act, except subcontainers, when packed and offered for sale, shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on the outside thereof the following: Name of the orchard where the same was produced, with the postoffice address thereof, or the name and postoffice address of the person, firm, company or corporation, or organization who shall have first packed or authorized the packing of the same, or the name under which such packer shall be engaged in business, together with the postoffice address of such packer; name of variety if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; minimum net weight or approximate number of fruits in the container or subcontainer, which number shall be within four of the true count, and no container or subcontainer shall have less than the minimum stamped thereon. When two or more varieties are packed or placed in a container, they shall be labeled "mixed varieties"; provided, that pears and peaches, when packed, shall have the correct number within four placed on the container.

Standard or other containers when used as subcontainers are exempt from the provisions regarding marking, when the container in which they are placed is marked in compliance with the terms of this section. No containers or subcontainers of fresh fruits or vegetables shall bear grade or other designations that are in any way false or misleading.

§ 8. Standard containers. "Irregular container." After January 1, 1920, all fresh fruits of the kinds specified in this act, except such as shall be used in the manufacture of by-products, when prepared or offered for sale or sold, shall be packed or placed in standard containers, which are hereby established, and shall conform to all provisions of this act; provided, that other sized containers may be used if conspicuously marked in letters not less than one-quarter inch high, "irregular container."

§ 9. Standard for table grapes. Standard for oranges. In addition to the standards prescribed in section two of this act, table grapes shall show a sugar content of not less than seventeen per cent Balling scale, except Emperor, Gros Coleman and Cornichon, which shall show not less than sixteen per cent Balling scale. Oranges shall be deemed properly matured for shipment or sale under the provisions of this act when the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water of crystallization; provided, that the oranges have attained at least twenty-five per cent yellow or orange color before picking, and oranges which are substantially or at least seventy per cent colored at the time of picking shall be deemed properly matured for shipment or sale, irrespective of analysis of the juice. When packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, oranges shall be virtually free from insect and fungous diseases and other serious defects. Oranges shall be considered unfit for shipment when frosted to the extent of endangering the reputation of the citrus industry, if shipped. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to shipments of oranges to foreign countries other than the dominion of Canada, during any season, provided such shipments are made after the first day of November.

§ 10. Inspectors of fresh fruit and vegetables. The office of "inspector of fresh fruit and vegetables" is hereby created for each and every county in the state. The horticultural commissioner of each county, and all deputy horticultural commissioners shall be ex-officio inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables thereof, and the inspectors under each county horticultural commissioner are ex-officio "deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables" in their respective counties. The county horticultural commissioner shall appoint as many deputy "inspectors of fresh fruits" as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Their term of office shall be for such time as is deemed necessary by said board of supervisors. The offices of "inspectors in chief of fresh fruits and vegetables" are hereby created, and the state commissioner of horticulture and his chief deputy, for the purposes of this act, are hereby made ex-officio such inspectors in chief. It shall be the duty of the "ex-officio inspectors in chief of fresh fruits and vegetables" to secure strict and uniform enforcement of the provisions of this act throughout the state, and for that purpose, immediately after this act becomes a law, the state commissioner of horticulture shall appoint two state inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables, each of whom shall receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and necessary traveling expenses when engaged in the duties of enforcing this act.

§ 11. Appointed by supervisors. Compensation. If in any county, or city and county, of this state there is no commissioner of horticulture, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors thereof to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables and such deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables as shall be deemed necessary. Such inspectors and deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables shall be appointed to serve for such time during each year as fresh fruits and vegetables are being packed or shipped in said county, or city and county. Inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables thus appointed shall receive six dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses. The salary of a deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables shall be five dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses. In case the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, shall fail or neglect, for thirty days after receipt of a written request from the state commissioner of horticulture, to appoint an inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables, or necessary deputy inspectors of fresh fruits and vegetables for such county, or city and county, then the said state commissioner of horticulture shall forthwith assign to said county, or city and county, one or more deputy state commissioners of horticulture, as he shall deem necessary, and such deputy or deputies shall perform all of the duties within the said county, or city and county, to which assigned, as are provided in this act to be performed by an inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables. The actual cost of services rendered by an inspector or deputy inspector, as the case may be, of fresh fruits and vegetables, assigned to any county in pursuance hereof, together with his necessary traveling expenses, shall be a county charge and shall be paid in the same manner in which other claims against the county are paid.

§ 12. Powers and duties of inspector. Every inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables and every deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables shall have power to enter and to inspect every place within the county for which he has been appointed where any fruit or vegetables mentioned in this act are produced, stored, packed, shipped, delivered for shipment, offered for sale or sold, and to inspect such places and all such fruits and vegetables and the containers thereof and the equipment found in any such places. It shall be the duty of the inspectors or deputy inspectors of fresh fruit or vegetables in their respective districts to enforce the provisions of this act and to cause the prosecution of any person, firm, corporation or organization; whom they know or have reason to believe to be guilty of the violation of any of its provisions. Any inspector or deputy inspector of fresh fruits and vegetables in the performance of his duties shall have the same powers possessed by peace officers of the city, county, or state, and shall have the right while exercising such police powers to seize and hold as evidence part or all of any pack, load, consignment or shipment of fresh fruits or vegetables packed in violation of this act, as may in his judgment be necessary to secure the conviction of the party he knows or believes has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this act. He may start proceedings in any court of the county, or city and county, within his jurisdiction to secure the conviction of the party or parties who have violated any of the provisions of the act. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of said county, or city and county, in which any violation of this act may occur, to prosecute the person, firm, company, organization or corporation accused of such violation and also, at the request of the state commissioner of horticulture, or any one of his deputies, to institute and prosecute such action for condemnation as may be authorized under the provisions of this act.

§ 13. Refusal to ship. It shall be lawful for any fresh fruit or vegetables forwarding person, firm, corporation or organization and for any common carrier to decline to ship or transport any fresh fruits or vegetables which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act, and any such fruit or vegetables forwarder or common carrier may reserve the right in any receipt, bill of lading or other writing given to the consignor thereof, to reject for shipment and to return to such consignor or hold at the expense and risk of the latter all fresh fruits or vegetables which upon inspection are found to be packed in violation of the provisions of this act.

§ 14. Penalty for violation. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, company, organization or corporation, to pack or cause to be packed for sale or shipment, import, sell, offer for sale, or deliver for shipment any of the fresh fruits or vegetables specified in this act that do not conform to the standards herein provided. It shall also be unlawful to prepare, sell or offer for sale, a deceptive pack of fresh fruits, fresh vegetables or dried fruits or dried vegetables or to mislabel any package of any such fruits or vegetables. Any person, firm, corporation, company or organization who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 15. Repealed. All laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

§ 16. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 17. Appropriation. The sum of seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used in the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

ACT 1295e.

An act to further divide the state into fish and game districts by establishing a district specially suited for propagation of game, and to provide for the management and protection thereof.

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 521.

§ 1. "Mount Tamalpais game refuge," created. Boundaries. For the protection, conservation and propagation of game animals, except fish, there is hereby set apart and established a district to be known as "Mount Tamalpais game refuge," the boundaries of which are hereby determined to be as follows, to wit: All that certain territory within the county of Marin, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the intersection of the easterly shore of inner Bolinas bay with the northwesterly boundary line, extended, of the Stinson ranch conveyed to A. H. Stinson et al., by decree of distribution dated the twenty-eighth day of July, 1911, and recorded in the office of the county recorder of Marin county in book one hundred thirty-seven of deeds at page one hundred two; thence northeasterly along the said northwesterly boundary line to the southwesterly boundary line of the lands of the Marin municipal water district on the top of Bolinas ridge, thence along the exterior boundary of the lands of said district in such a way as to include the same, to a point in the abandoned portion of the Fairfax and Bolinas county road; thence northerly along the said road and along the Fairfax and Bolinas county road, to a point in the southwesterly line of the right of way of the Northwestern Pacific railroad company near Fairfax station; thence along the said last mentioned line in a southerly direction past the railroad stations at San Anselmo, Kentfield and Corte Madera, to its intersection with Humboldt street on the westerly boundary of the lands of the Sausalito land and ferry company, as said street is laid down and delineated on the official map of said lands filed in the office of the county recorder of Marin county in rack number one, pull number nine; thence southerly along the westerly line of said Humboldt street and the westerly line of Tennessee avenue of the same tract, to the corner common to ranches E, F, and A as said ranches are delineated on the Tamalpais land and water company's map number three, filed in said recorder's office in map book number one, page one hundred four; thence southwesterly along the southeasterly boundary lines of ranches E, L, and K, as shown on said last mentioned map, to the shore of the Pacific Ocean; thence northwesterly along the shore of the Pacific Ocean and across the easterly end of the Bolinas sandspit, and along the easterly shore of inner Bolinas bay, to the point of beginning, excepting from the area of said Mount Tamalpais game refuge all lands lying within the exterior boundaries of any incorporated town.

§ 2. No open season. The provisions of law for the protection of fish in the second fish and game district of this state shall be enforced within said Mount Tamalpais game refuge and there shall be no open season therein for any game animals except fish.

§ 3. Unlawful to kill game birds or animals. Firearms, etc. Game animals defined. It shall be unlawful within said territory at any time:

(a) To hunt, pursue, take, kill or destroy any game birds or animals, except to capture the same to be set at liberty elsewhere, as hereinafter specially provided;

(b) To hunt, pursue, take, kill, or destroy any other wild birds or animals except as hereinafter provided;

(c) For any person to have in his possession any firearms, trap or other contrivance designed to be used to kill, destroy or capture game animals except fish, without first having obtained a permit so to do from the fish and game commission of this state; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall prohibit the lawful occupant of any privately owned lands within said district, or his employees at the direction of said occupant, from killing ground squirrels, gophers, owls, hawks, blue jays, skunks and other destructive animals which are not game animals as hereinafter defined that may be on the land of said occupant; and provided, further, that nothing in this subdivision "c" contained shall apply to persons traveling upon any public highways within said territory, nor to members of the organized militia while on the state rifle range, nor to members of any high school militia while on the grounds of the high school at which time they may be enrolled. The term game animals used herein is intended to include all birds and animals which are protected or fostered by any of the laws of this state.

§ 4. Power of fish and game commission. The fish and game commission of the state of California shall have power:

(a) To exercise control over all game animals on all lands within the boundaries of said game refuge.

(b) To accept, on behalf of the state, donations of ownership or leasehold interest of any lands within the boundaries of said game refuge, to be used for the furtherance of the objects of protecting, feeding, or propagating game.

(c) To accept, on behalf of the state, donations of game birds and animals, and of money given or appropriated for protection, feeding, or propagation of game in said district, and to use the same for the said purposes, and as nearly as may be, for any particular purpose indicated by the donor.

(d) To make additional rules and regulations, not in conflict with this act or other statutes of the state, for the protection and propagation of game in said district.

(e) To issue in their discretion, and under such restrictions as they may deem best, permits for carrying, using, or having in possession within said district, firearms, traps, or other instruments or means for killing or taking birds or animals; but no such permits shall allow any person to hunt, kill, destroy or take any game birds or animals; and, no hunting, killing or destruction of wild birds or animals, other than game birds or animals, within said Mount Tamalpais game refuge shall be allowed, by game wardens or by persons holding special permits for the purpose; and persons holding such special permits shall be allowed so to hunt, kill, or destroy only when accompanied by a member of the fish and game commission, or by an authorized deputy thereof, or by the sheriff or a deputy sheriff of Marin county, except the lawful occupants of said lands and their employees shall not be required to obtain permits for the purpose of killing ground squirrels, gophers, owls, hawks, blue jays, skunks or other destructive animals which are not game animals as in this act defined.

§ 5. Penalty. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 521.]

§ 6. Duty of officers. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission of the state of California and of its deputies, and also of the district attorney, and of the sheriff, and of all other peace officers of Marin county to enforce all the provisions of this act, and to institute and-assist in prosecutions for violations thereof.

§ 7. County appropriation. Any county may, in the discretion of its board of supervisors, appropriate and pay to the fish and game commission of the state of California, funds to be used by them, as provided in subdivision "c" of section 4 hereof.

ACT 1295f.

An act to authorize the state board of fish and game commissioners to prepare and maintain free camping grounds on land in Placer county belonging to the state of California and to adopt and enforce regulations pertaining thereto.

§ 1. Free camping grounds in Placer county. Rules and regulations. Removal of hatchery. The state board of fish and game commissioners is hereby authorized and directed to prepare as a free camping ground for the people of the state of California that certain property situated in the county of Placer, state of California, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Lot seven of Bittencourt tract, as per plat of said tract recorded in book "A" of field-notes or town plats, pages eighty-four and eighty-five, Placer county records.

The said commission is directed to prepare such portion of said land for camping purposes for the summer season of the year nineteen hundred nineteen, as shall be suitable for such purposes, and as shall not interfere with the state fish hatchery now on said land or the pollution of waters used to supply said hatchery.

The commission is hereby authorized to establish rules and regulations for the government of such camping ground, to the end that the greatest number of people can avail themselves of the privileges of the ground, and may regulate the time when and for which any person may have the use of any portion of such ground for camping purposes. All expense in maintaining said camping ground shall be paid from the state fish and game preservation fund, and for the purposes of enforcing the rules and regulations by said commission, pursuant to this act, the state fish and game commissioners, their deputies and employees, are hereby vested with the power and authority of peace officers.

As soon as practicable, the fish and game commission shall remove the hatchery now on the above-described land to another site, and thereafter such additional portion of such land as is available and suitable for camping purposes, shall be placed in condition for camping purposes.

An act to regulate and license the hunting of wild birds and animals, and to provide revenue therefrom, for game and fish preservation and restoration.

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 650; 1919, p. 119.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 3. Fees for hunting licenses. The licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows:

First—To any citizen of the United States who is a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of one dollar.

Second—To any citizen of the United States, not a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of ten dollars.

Third—To any person not a citizen of the United States who shall have declared his intention to become such citizen according to the law made and provided for such purpose, who is a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of ten dollars; provided, that after he has declared his intention to become a citizen, he must complete his naturalization at the earliest period allowed by law; provided, further, that said applicant shall make and subscribe an oath before the person issuing such license that he has not claimed his citizenship in a foreign country as a basis for avoiding service in the armed forces of the United States and the person issuing such license is hereby empowered to administer said oath.

Fourth—To any person not a citizen of the United States, upon the payment of twenty-five dollars, except as provided in the third subdivision of this section. [Amendment approved April 21, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 119.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 650.

ACT 1297a.

An act to regulate the issuance of licenses for resale to hunters and anglers.

[Approved May 20, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 685.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, pp. 40, 663.

The amendments of 1917 follow:

§ 1. Who may issue hunting and fishing licenses. Licenses granting the privilege to take, catch, hunt or kill fishes, wild mammals or wild birds shall be issued and delivered, upon application in writing, by the county clerk of any of the counties of the state, or by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or by the persons duly appointed and authorized by any such county clerk or the board of fish and game commissioners. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

§ 2. Compensation for sale of licenses. For each license sold, registered and accounted for by any person, except by a fish and game commissioner or a deputy or assistant fish and game commissioner paid a salary in full for his services to the state, he shall be allowed as compensation, for his own use, out of the fish and game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount or amounts accounted for by him. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

§ 3. Bond. Every person authorized to issue and sell licenses under the provisions of this act shall, when required by said board of fish and game commissioners, execute to the fish and game commission a good and sufficient bond in a sum equal to the value of such licenses so delivered to such person to be sold as herein provided, to secure the faithful accounting and payment to the fish and game commission of the funds collected from the sale of such licenses and the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act, and said board of fish and game commissioners is hereby authorized and empowered to pay the premium on such bond out of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 18, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 663.]

The act of 1915 relating to issuance of licenses for resale to hunters and licenses was also amended in 1917 as follows:

§ 1. Who may issue hunting and fishing licenses. Licenses granting the privilege to take, catch, hunt or kill fishes, wild mammals, or wild birds shall be issued and delivered, upon application in writing, by the county clerk of any of the counties of the state, or by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or by the persons duly appointed and authorized by the said county clerks or the board of fish and game commissioners. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 40.]

§ 2. Compensation for sale of licenses. For each hunting or angler's license sold, registered and accounted for by any person, except by a fish and game commissioner or a deputy or assistant fish and game commissioner paid a salary in full for his services to the state, he shall be allowed as compensation, for his own use, out of the fish and game preservation fund, ten per cent of the amount or amounts accounted for by him, and for each market fisherman's license hereunder fifty cents. [Amendment approved April 5, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 40.]

An act to regulate the vocation of fishing, and to provide therefrom revenue for the propagation, restoration and preservation of fish in the waters of the state of California.

Amended 1913, p. 985; 1917, p. 686.

Entirely amended in 1917 to read as follows:

§ 1. License required. Every person who uses or operates or assists in using or operating, any boat, net, trap, line or other appliance in the state for the purpose of catching or taking fish, mollusks or crustaceans for profit, and every person using or operating, or assisting in using or operating any boat, net, trap, line or other appliance for taking or catching fish, mollusks or crustaceans, or who brings or causes said fish, mollusks or crustaceans to be brought ashore at any point in the state for the purpose of selling the same as fresh fish, without first procuring a commercial fishing license, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 2. Licenses prepared by controller. Duty of president of commission. The controller of state shall prepare suitable licenses, of the classes designated by the fish and game commissioners, which shall license the holder of such license to catch or take fish, mollusks or crustaceans or to assist in catching or taking fish, mollusks or crustaceans, as provided in section one of this act, for the term of one year from the first day of April of one year to the first day of April of the year following. The licenses shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one, and contain blanks for the insertion of the name of the holder, his resident address, and his description, by age, height, nationality and color of eyes and hair, which description shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners, on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license, before delivery to the applicant for a license, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners, and the president of the board of fish and game commissioners shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California, in the sum of two thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act.

§ 3. Fee. Forfeiture of license. Licenses shall be issued and delivered upon application to the state board of fish and game commissioners, or their deputies. The license fee shall be ten dollars for each person. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same year, except upon affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed, and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued. Every person having a license as provided herein, who refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of this state, or who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a fisherman's license, or who fails to have his license with him where it may be readily examined by any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws, at the time he is using or operating or assisting in using or operating any net, trap, line or other appliance, or who uses or assists in using any net, trap, line or other appliance by modes or methods in violation of any law, for the preservation of fish and game shall forfeit this license.

§ 4. Fees paid to whom. The said license fees must be paid to the fish and game commissioners, or to someone designated by them for that purpose.

§ 5. Credited to preservation fund. The money collected from such licenses shall be paid by the commissioners into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

§ 6. Penalty. The violation of any provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and every person violating any of its provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

ACT 1298a.

An act to regulate and license the taking and catching of game fishes and to define game fish and to provide revenue therefrom, for fish preservation and restoration.

[Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 986.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 37.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 3. Fees for game fish licenses. Licenses as herein provided for shall be issued as follows:

First—To any citizen of the United States, over the age of eighteen years, who is a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of one dollar; provided, that licenses shall be issued to veterans of the Civil War free of charge.

Second—To any citizen of the United States, over the age of eighteen years, not a bona fide resident of the state of California, upon the payment of three dollars.

Third—To any person, not a citizen of the United States and over the age of eighteen years, upon the payment of three dollars.

ACT 1340g.

An act to authorize and regulate the possession, use, transportation and sale of trout or other fish, by persons engaged in the business of propagating and rearing such fish, and by persons who transport such fish, and by persons who purchase fish so reared.

§ 2. Application for license. Every citizen desiring to propagate and raise domesticated trout or other domesticated fish in any artificial body of water or private hatchery shall file with the fish and game commission a written application for a license so to do. Said application shall state the name, residence and place of business of the applicant and shall set forth the exact description of the land upon which said artificial body of water or private hatchery is to be located and the applicant's title to said land and the kind and number of fish desired to be kept therein. Said application shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars, which, if such application be granted, shall be paid into the state treasury by the state fish and game commission to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

§ 3. No outlet or inlet. All artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries in which domesticated trout or other domesticated fish may be propagated and raised under the provisions of this act shall be entirely within the exterior boundaries of the land owned or leased by the applicant for said license and there shall be no natural inlet or outlet for the waters contained therein. All artificial inlets and outlets of said artificial bodies of water or private hatcheries must be screened to prevent the ingress or egress of fish to or from any natural body of water. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

§ 4. Granting of license. Permit to import domesticated fish. Upon the receipt of said application the state board of fish and game commissioners shall make an examination of the land and waters described in the said application. All the expenses of the said examination shall be borne by the applicant. If it shall appear that the aforesaid artificial body of water or private hatchery has been constructed and screened ac-ording to the provisions of this act and the application is in other respects proper and reasonable, the said fish and game commission shall grant to such applicant a license to propagate and raise domesticated trout or other domesticated fish mentioned in the application and to possess said domesticated trout or other domesticated fish during the entire calendar year. The license shall be posted or displayed in a conspicuous place on the land described in the application and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight.

Upon obtaining a permit from the fish and game commission domesticated trout or other domesticated fish raised in a regularly licensed hatchery under the laws of any other state may be imported into this state, transported, sold or offered for sale during the entire calendar year upon the payment of a fee of five dollars per year; provided, that such imported domesticated trout or other domesticated fish shall be duly tagged in accordance with the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. The permit issued under the provisions of this act shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the principal place of business of the person importing such fish and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 941.]

§ 5. Domesticated fish may be sold during year. Domesticated trout or other domesticated fish propagated and raised in this state under the license granted in accordance with the provisions of this act may be transported, sold or offered for sale during the entire calendar year when duly tagged according to the rules and regulations to be prescribed by the fish and game commission. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 6. Tags. The fish and game commission will furnish to each person to whom a license or a permit has been issued under the provisions of this act metallic tags inscribed with the letters "C. F. & G. C." Each applicant shall pay to the fish and game commission for such tags the actual cost of said tags. One of each of said tags shall be affixed to each domesticated trout or other domesticated fish raised under the provisions of this act and transported, sold or offered for sale and said tag shall remain so affixed until said domesticated trout or other domesticated fish has been prepared for consumption. The possession of any domesticated trout or other domesticated fish without such tag affixed thereto shall be a violation of this act. Only tags so furnished shall be used; no tag shall be used more than once. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 7. Live trout transported. Live trout, for propagation purposes only, may be transported when accompanied by a permit issued by the fish and game commission, and not otherwise. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 8. Marking of package. Before any domesticated trout, or other domesticated fish named in the aforesaid license or permit, are shipped or transported, the package in which the same are contained must have affixed thereto a tag on which shall be plainly marked the number of pounds and kind of fish contained therein, together with the name and address of the consignee and the consignor, the initial point of billing and the point of destination. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 9. Sale of domesticated fish. Any person may buy, sell or have in possession for sale for use as food at any season of the year any trout, or other domesticated fish, artificially propagated and kept; and provided, also, that the same is tagged as hereinbefore provided. The tag shall be removed only by the consumer, and when removed shall be destroyed. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 942.]

§ 10. Report to fish and game commission. Every person receiving a license, as aforesaid, to propagate and raise trout, or other domesticated fish, shall make a written report to the fish and game commission on or before December thirty-first of each year, stating the number and variety of trout, or other fish named in the permit, sold or exchanged, or given away, for use as food, or for propagation or exhibition during the preceding year.

§ 11. Public nuisance. Any lake, pond, or any body of water maintained in violation of this act shall be deemed a continuing public nuisance, and may be abated as provided by law for the abatement of public nuisances, and each day the same is maintained in violation thereof shall be deemed a separate offense. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 943.]

§ 12. Penalty for violation. License revoked. The violation of any of the provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor and every person violating any of its provisions shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

If any person to whom such license or permit shall have been issued, under the provisions of this act, shall be convicted of a violation of any of the fish and game laws of this state, the state board of fish and game commissioners may revoke the license or permit of such person and thereafter no similar license or permit shall be issued to such person. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 943.]

ACT 1340j.

An act to provide for the protection of fur-bearing mammals, defining fur-bearing mammals, providing for a license for hunting or trapping such fur-bearing mammals and requiring reports to be filed with the fish and game commission.

Amended 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 388.

§ 1. Killing fur-bearing mammal. Every person who, between the last day of February and the fifteenth day of October of any year, traps, hunts, takes or kills any fur-bearing mammal is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

§ 2. Killing other than by trap or gun. Every person who at any time takes, hunts or kills any fur-bearing mammal in any manner other than by trap or gun, or who shall at any time take or kill any skunk by digging or driving them from dens or by use of chemicals is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 3. Unlawful to use poison. It shall be unlawful for any person to use poison of any kind in the taking or killing of any fur-bearing mammal; provided, however, that the fish and game commission may in its discretion issue to any person a permit to use poison in the taking or killing of any such mammal upon an application therefor, which application shall contain detailed information concerning the kind of poison desired to be used and when and where it is desired to use the same; provided, further, that such fur-bearing mammals injuring any property may be taken or killed at any time in any manner.

§ 4. Trapping without license. Every person in the state of California over the age of eighteen who traps for profit any fur-bearing mammals without first procuring a license therefor as provided by this act is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

§ 5. Licenses to trap for profit. Licenses granting the privilege to trap for profit any fur-bearing mammals shall be issued by the state board of fish and game commissioners, who shall prepare suitable licenses of convenient size and form and have printed thereon the words, "trapping license No. —, state of California. Expires June 30, 19—," with registration number and appropriate year printed or stamped thereon, which said license shall be prepared by the state board of fish and game commissioners, which board shall account for same to the controller of the state.

§ 6. Fees. Licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows: (1) To any citizen of the United States upon payment of one dollar; (2) to any person not a citizen of the United States upon payment of two dollars; provided, however, that any veteran of the civil war by applying to the state board of fish and game commissioners may obtain a license without the payment of any fee. [Amendment approved May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

§ 7. Name, address, etc. furnished. Every person applying for and procuring a license as herein provided shall furnish to the state board of fish and game commissioners his name and resident address. Such applicant shall also furnish to the board of fish and game commissioners a written description of himself by age, height, nationality, color of eyes and hair and shall also give information relative to the sections of the state in which he intends to trap.

§ 8. Term. All licenses issued as herein provided shall be valid and shall authorize the person to whom issued to trap fur-bearing mammals for profit on and from the first day of July of the year in which said license is issued until the date of expiration written or stamped thereon, but no license shall continue in force for a longer period than one year.

§ 9. Statement of mammals taken. Every person to whom a license is issued, under the provisions of this act, must, before the first day of July following the date issued, send to the fish and game commission a sworn statement showing the number of each kind of fur-bearing mammals taken together with the name and address of the firm or person to whom they were shipped or sold. A new license cannot be granted unless this provision is complied with; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to persons eighteen years of age or under.

§ 10. What are fur-bearing mammals. For the purpose of this act, the following shall be considered fur-bearing mammals: Black and brown bear, ring-tailed cat, coon, pine martin, fisher, wolverine, mink, skunk, river otter, grey, cross, silver and red fox.

§ 11. Moneys credited to game preservation fund. All moneys collected from licenses as provided herein and all fines collected for violations of the provisions hereof shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the game preservation fund.

§ 12. No more than one license. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same fiscal year, except upon an affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued.

§ 13. Disturbing traps. Every person who shall disturb or remove the traps of any licensed trapper while trapping on the public domain or on lands where he has permission to trap is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 14. Refusal to exhibit license. Every person having a license as provided herein who refuses to exhibit such license or any furs that may be in his possession or control upon the demand of any officer authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of this state or any peace officer of the state shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and every person lawfully having such license who transfers or disposes of same to another person to be used as a trapping license or who violates any of the laws for the protection of game shall forfeit the same.

§ 15. Penalty. Every person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than ten or more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 16. Propagation in confinement. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the propagation of fur-bearing mammals in confinement in accordance with any rules and regulations that may be specified by the fish and game commission. [New section added May 13, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 389.]

In the title of the amendatory act of 1919 it says that section 2 of the act was amended. No such amendment, however, appears in the body of the act.

ACT 1340k.

An act empowering the state board of health to examine sources from which shellfish are taken; making it unlawful to take shellfish from contaminated sources if determined by said board to be a menace to health; making violations of this act misdemeanors and providing for the punishment of same.

[Approved April 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 42. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Taking of oysters, etc., unlawful, when. It shall be unlawful to take oysters, clams, quahaugs, mussels or other shellfish used or intended to be used for human consumption from any tidal waters, flats, areas or sources from which the taking of such shellfish shall be determined to be a menace to health as hereinafter provided.

§ 2. Examination of tidal waters, etc., by state board of health. Posting of notices. The state board of health may and is hereby empowered to examine any tide waters, flats, areas or sources from which oysters, clams, quahaugs, mussels or other shellfish may be taken, and to determine whether such waters, flats, areas or sources are subject to sewage contamination, and to determine whether the taking of such shellfish from such waters, flats, areas or sources does or may constitute a menace to the lives and health of human beings. Upon the determination by said state board of health that such waters, flats, areas or sources are or may be subject to sewage contamination and that the taking of shellfish therefrom does or may constitute a menace to the lives and health of human beings, said board shall ascertain as accurately as may be the bounds of such contamination, and shall cause the posting of notices prohibiting the taking of shellfish from such sources and describing the bounds of the tidal flats, waters, areas or sources from which the taking of shellfish shall be unlawful. The fact of the posting of such notices shall be published once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation, published in the county in which such waters, flats, areas or sources are situated, if there be one, and if there be none, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

§ 3. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the state board of health to enforce the provisions of this act and its inspectors and employees are hereby empowered to enter upon public or private property upon which shellfish may be located at all times for the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for a term of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, but such penalties shall not be incurred until the fact of such prohibition shall have been published for four successive weeks, as above provided. Each day's violation shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

An act to license canners, curers, preservers and packers of fish and handlers of crustaceans and mollusks, and providing a revenue therefrom for the conservation, propagation and restoration of fish in the state of California, and providing for a record of fish caught or received, and providing penalties for the violations of the provisions thereof, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

§ 1. Unlawful to can, etc., fish without license. Any person in this state, who engages in the business of canning, curing, preserving or packing fish, which are taken in the waters of this state or are brought into this state in a fresh condition; or of manufacturing fish scrap, fish meal, fish oil, chicken feed or fertilizer from fish or fish offal; or of dealing in mollusks or crustaceans by wholesale, without first procuring a license for each plant or place of business is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 2. Licenses prepared by controller. The controller of state shall prepare suitable licenses, of the classes designated by the fish and game commissioners, which shall license the holder of such license to can, cure, preserve or pack fish, to manufacture fish meal, fish oil and other products from fish, and to deal in mollusks and crustaceans by wholesale in this state, (subject to the restrictions provided by law) as provided in section 1 of this act, for the term of one year from the first day of July of one year to the thirtieth day of June of the year following. All licenses shall be numbered consecutively, beginning with number one and contain blanks for the insertion of the name of the holder, his residence, and place of business, which information shall be furnished by the applicant to the board of fish and game commissioners. The controller shall sign all licenses and deliver the same to the fish and game commissioners, on demand, who shall be charged for the same by the controller. Each license, before delivery to the applicant for a license, must be countersigned by the president of the board of fish and game commissioners and the president of the board of fish and game commissioners shall execute a bond to the people of the state of California in the sum of two thousand dollars for the faithful performance of the duties imposed upon him by this act.

§ 3. Issued to whom. Licenses shall be issued and delivered upon application to the state board of fish and game commissioners or their deputies. The licenses herein provided for shall be issued as follows: To any citizen of the United States and to any person who has duly made his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States as provided by law, upon the payment of five dollars; to any person not a citizen of the United States, upon the payment of twenty dollars. In case a license is lost or destroyed, a duplicate may be issued to any licensee by the fish and game commission, upon an affidavit by him that the one issued has been lost or destroyed. Every person having a license as provided herein, who refuses to exhibit such license upon demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of this state, or any peace officer of this state, or who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a license, shall forfeit this license.

§ 4. Payment of fees. The said license fees must be paid to the fish and game commissioners or to some one designated by them for that purpose.

§ 5. Record of fish purchased. Monthly statement to fish and game commission. Every person operating under a license as provided in section one of this act, and every person dealing in fresh fish shall keep a book or books in which shall be entered a full and correct record, in the English language, of all fresh fish purchased or received by them from fishermen or taken by themselves, giving the names of the different species, and the number of pounds so received or caught of each different species, and the name and address of the person or persons from whom such fish were received. Said book or books are to be open at all times for the inspection of members of the fish and game commission or persons duly authorized by them. They shall also render to the fish and game commission, on or before the tenth day of each month on blanks to be furnished by the said fish and game commission, a true and correct statement showing the amount of each species of fresh fish, stated separately, so purchased, received or caught during the previous month, together with the name and address of the person or persons from whom such fish were received or purchased. Said monthly statements are to be accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that the said report is a true and correct statement of all the fish received from fishermen or caught by themselves during the time covered by the report.

§ 6. Receipts to fishermen. Every person operating under a license as provided in section 1 of this act, and every person dealing in fish who receives fish from fishermen shall issue receipts to the fishermen from whom fish are received and shall give in such receipt the date of issuance, the name of the fisherman or fishermen to whom issued, the weight in pounds of each variety of fish received, the price per pound paid to the fishermen, and the signature of the dealer who issued the receipt. A duplicate manifold copy of this receipt shall be kept on file by the dealer issuing the same, for a period of six months and the said duplicate copy shall be available for inspection at any time within six months, upon demand of the fish and game commissioner, or any duly authorized assistant thereof.

§ 7. Privilege tax. Quarterly report of fresh fish purchased. Affidavit. Forfeiture of license. Every person operating under a license, as provided in section one of this act, shall, in addition to the license fee, pay a privilege tax of two and one-half cents for each one hundred pounds, or fraction thereof, of fish purchased or received by them, or fish caught or taken by themselves, with their own equipment; provided, that any fish, excepting mollusks and crustaceans, so taken or received, which are utilized for human consumption in its fresh state, shall not be subject to such tax; and provided, further, that herring and buck shad shall also be exempt from the tax provided herein; and such person shall, in addition to making a monthly report as provided in section five of this act, make a quarterly report to the fish and game commission, showing the total amount of fresh fish, in pounds, purchased, caught or received by them (for purposes other than human consumption in its fresh state), and of mollusks and crustaceans purchased or received by them from fishermen, or caught by themselves, whether they be used fresh or otherwise, during the three months next preceding March thirty-first, June thirtieth, September thirtieth, and December thirty-first of each year. Blanks for this report shall be furnished by the fish and game commission, and such report shall be rendered to the fish and game commission, not later than the fifteenth day of the month following the months of March, June, September and December of each year.

Said reports shall be accompanied by an affidavit by the person or firm purchasing, taking, catching or receiving such fish, to the effect that said report is a true and correct record of all fish caught or received by them (for purposes other than human consumption in its fresh state); and of all mollusks and crustaceans purchased or received from fishermen, or caught by themselves, during the quarterly period covered by the report. Upon the failure of any person operating under a license, as provided in section one of this act, to pay the privilege tax provided herein, said person shall forfeit his license for a period of one year. Said privilege tax shall be paid to the fish and game commission, or some one authorized by them, within thirty days after the close of each quarterly period.

§ 8. Moneys used for conservation work. All moneys collected from the sale of licenses and from the privilege tax on fish, as herein provided, shall be paid to the fish and game commissioners, or some one designated by them for that purpose and all money so collected shall be paid by the fish and game commissioners into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund, and shall be expended on conservation work for the benefit of the commercial fishing industries within the districts from which the revenues are derived.

§ 9. Penalty for violation. The violation of any of the provisions of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor, and every person violating any of its provisions, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

ACT 1340m.

An act to provide for the protection of fish and to prevent the introduction into this state of parasitized, infected or diseased fish, shellfish, mollusks, crustaceans, amphibians, aquatic plants or aquatic animal life, and declaring the same to be a public nuisance and authorizing the summary destruction of same; providing for a quarantine for the enforcement of this act, and making a violation of the terms of this act a misdemeanor and providing for a penalty therefor.

§ 1. Importation and transportation of diseased fish, etc. Notice to commission. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation, who, for the purpose of propagation, receives, brings in, or causes to be brought into the state of California, any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, or the ova of any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, or any aquatic plant, or the seeds of any aquatic plant, from any state, district or foreign country, wherein any infected, diseased or para-sitized fish, shellfish, crustaceans, amphibians, mollusks or aquatic plants are known to exist, or who carries or causes to be carried from one point in this state which has been posted according to the provisions of this act to any other point in this state any infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, or the ova of any such infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, aquatic plant or seeds of such aquatic plant; any person, firm or corporation who receives, brings or causes to be brought into the state of California for the purpose of propagation any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, aquatic plant or the seeds of any aquatic plant or the ova of any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk before notifying the board of fish and game commissioners of the probable date of arrival of such fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, aquatic plant or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or who places or causes or suffers to be placed any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian, mollusk, aquatic plant or the seeds of any aquatic plant or the ova of any fish, shellfish, crustacean, amphibian or mollusk, in or into any private or public waters of this state before inspection by the state fish and game commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

§ 2. Inspection by commission. The board of fish and game commissioners, or any deputy fish and game commissioner, is hereby authorized to enter at any time any car, warehouse, depot or upon any ship, within the boundaries of the state of California, whether in the stream, or at the dock, wharf, depot, mole, or any other place, where such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants, or the seeds of any such aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans are held or stored, for the purpose of making an investigation or examination to ascertain whether such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, or amphibians are infected, diseased or parasitized.

§ 3. Destruction of diseased fish, etc. If, after such examination or inspection of any of said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, the same are found to be infected, diseased or parasitized as aforesaid, then the same are hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and it shall be the duty of the state fish and game commissioners to summarily destroy said infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans.

§ 4. Reshipment of diseased fish, etc. If, after such examination or inspection of any of said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants, or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, shall be deemed to be deleterious to any fish, aquatic plant or aquatic animal life of this state, it shall be the duty of the owner, person, firm or corporation having charge or possession thereof to reship said fish, shellfish, mollusk, amphibian, crustacean, aquatic plant or seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, within the time ordered by the fish and game commission, or said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians or crustaceans, shall be destroyed by said fish and game commission.

§ 5. Notice of diseased areas to be posted and published. Expenses of inspection. Tag on package containing fish, etc. If upon examination by the fish and game commission, infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, or aquatic plants, are found growing within this state, the said fish and game commission shall post notices describing as nearly as possible, the boundaries of such areas within which said infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, or aquatic plants are found, and shall state the period during which the taking, carrying and transportation of said infected, diseased or parasitized fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, or aquatic plants, from said area shall be unlawful. The fact of posting of said notices shall be published, once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which said infected area is situated, and, if there be no such newspaper in said county, then in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjoining county.

The expense of any inspection or examination made necessary by the provisions of this act, shall be borne by the owner or owners of said fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plant, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, and crustaceans, or the person or persons importing same into this state.

Each package containing such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians, crustaceans, aquatic plants or the seeds of any aquatic plants, or ova of such fish, shellfish, mollusks, amphibians and crustaceans, must bear in a conspicuous place a tag containing the name and residence of the consignor and the name and residence of the consignee, and the exact contents of each package.

§ 6. Repealed. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

§ 7. Oysters exempt. None of the provisions of this act shall apply to oysters.

ACT 1340n.

An act to conserve the fish supply in California by empowering the fish and game commission to regulate and control the handling of fish or other fishery products for the purpose of preventing deterioration or waste; to establish grades to which the fish or other fishery products offered for delivery to canners or preservers or to the fresh fish market must conform; to make regulations to insure the proper handling and delivery of fish or fishery products to canners, preservers or fresh fish dealers; to regulate and control the use of fish or other fishery products for reduction purposes, and to provide penalties for any violation of any of the provisions of this act.

§ 1. Jurisdiction over fish industries. The fish and game commission is hereby vested with jurisdiction to regulate and control fishing boats, barges, lighters or tenders, commercial fishermen, fish canners, packers or preservers, fish reduction plants, dealers in fish, mollusks or crustaceans or other fishery products, in so far as it may be necessary to insure the taking, catching and delivery of the fish or other fishery products in a wholesome and sanitary condition to canning, packing and preserving plants or to any fresh fish dealer, and to prevent deterioration and waste of fish or other fishery products. Any fish and game commissioner or duly appointed assistant or employee of the fish and game commission shall have the authority to enter any canning, packing, preserving or reduction plant, or place of business where fish or other fishery products are packed or preserved, bought or sold, or to board any fishing boat, barge, lighter or tender for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act.

§ 2. Establishment of grades. The fish and game commission may establish grades for different varieties of fish or other fishery products, which said grades must be reached and conformed to by the commercial fishermen who deliver fish or other fishery products to canners, packers or preservers of fish or to fresh fish dealers, or to reduction plants, and every canner, packer or preserver of fish or fish dealer or owner of reduction plant must conform to such grade.

§ 3. Enforcement. The fish and game commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to make and enforce such regulations as may be necessary or convenient for carrying out any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred under this act.

§ 4. Disposal of waste. No person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of catching, buying, selling, canning, packing or preserving fish, shall suffer or permit, or cause any preventable deterioration, or willfully do any act that might cause deterioration or waste of any fish caught or taken within or without the waters of this state and brought into this state, and no person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of catching, buying, selling, canning, packing or preserving fish or other fishery products shall sell or offer for sale or delivery, or deliver any fish or other fishery products, to any reduction plant or divert fish or other fishery products for reduction purposes without first having written permission from the fish and game commission, and no reduction plant shall accept or receive any fish, other than fish offal, from any person, firm or corporation without such written permission.

§ 5. Canneries, etc., may not take more fish than can be handled. No person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of taking or catching fish or other fishery products shall take, catch or kill more fish or other fishery products than the boat or boats operated by said person, firm or corporation can handle without preventable deterioration, waste or spoilage, and no person preserving fish or other fishery products shall accept or receive or agree to accept or receive more fish or other fishery products than the canning, packing or preserving plant or plants of such person, firm or corporation can handle without preventable deterioration, waste or spoilage, and no person dealing in fish shall take, catch or kill, accept or receive, or agree to accept or receive, more fish or other fishery products than such person, firm or corporation is able to handle without preventable deterioration, waste or spoilage.

§ 6. Complaint of violation of act. Hearing. Superior court may compel attendance of witnesses. Order directing witness to appear. Taking of depositions of witnesses. Complaint may be made by any officer charged with the enforcement of the fish and game laws, or any person having knowledge of a violation, against any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act or violating any of the rules or regulations made by the fish and game commission under the provisions of this act. Said complaints shall be in writing, setting forth the particular offense charged to have been committed, a copy of which shall be filed with the board of fish and game commissioners and a copy served on said offender, together with a notice setting forth the time and place of hearing, which hearing must be held in the county in which said violation is alleged to have been committed. The person, firm or corporation charged must appear and answer either in person or by attorney, and either orally or in writing, within five days after notice having been served. If the person charged fails to appear or appears and denies the charge, the board of fish and game commissioners or any deputy or employee appointed by said board of fish and game commissioners to take testimony, shall proceed to hear the testimony offered and if the person, firm or corporation so charged is found guilty of the offense charged, the board of fish and game commissioners may suspend for a period not to exceed ninety days, any license issued by any state board or officer to such person, firm or corporation, to take, catch, kill, buy, sell, can or preserve fish or fishery products, and no license shall be issued during such period of suspension.

Each member of the board of fish and game commissioners or any of the deputies or employees designated to take testimony at the hearing provided herein shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses at such hearing.

The superior court in and for the county, or city and county in which any proceeding may be held under the authority of this section, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony, and the production of papers, as required by any subpoena issued under authority of this section. The fish and game commission, or representative of the commission before whom the testimony is to be given or produced may in the case of refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, report to the superior court in which the proceeding is pending by petition setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of the attendance of said witness or the production of said papers and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena before the commission or its representatives, in the case or proceeding named in the notice of time and place of hearing and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of said proceeding, and ask an order of said court to compel the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or its representatives.

The court, upon the petition of the commission or its representatives, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at any time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representatives. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or its representatives the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness shall appear before the commission or its representatives at the time and place entered in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

The commission or its representatives, or any party designated by the fish and game commission, may in any investigation or hearing before the commission, or its representatives, cause the deposition of witnesses, residing within or without the state, to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and papers.

An act empowering the state fish and game commission to collect statistical data of the commercial fisheries and to make investigations for the purpose of gaining knowledge for the conservation of the fisheries; providing a system for obtaining an accurate record of each variety of fish caught; providing for the registration of fishing boats and their fishing equipment, and providing penalties for violations of this act.

§ 1. Data of commercial fisheries to be gathered. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission to gather data of the commercial fisheries and to prepare the data so as to show the real abundance of the most important commercial fishes; to make such investigations of the biology of the various species of fish as will guide in the collection and preparation of the statistical information necessary to determine evidence of overfishing; to make such investigations as will bring to light as soon as possible those evidences of overfishing as are shown by changes in the age groups of any variety of fish; to determine what measures may be advisable to conserve any fishery, or to enlarge and assist any fishery where that may be done without danger to the supply.

§ 2. Record of fish, etc., received from fishermen. When fish dealer, etc., catches own fish. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying, canning, curing or preserving fish, or manufacturing fish meal, fish oil or fish fertilizer, or dealing in fish, mollusks or crustaceans, shall make a legible record in the form of a receipt, said record to be in triplicate carbon copies and on forms to be furnished by the fish and game commission, which shall show the name of the fisherman and boat or the dealer from which the fish, mollusks or crustaceans were received, together with the date received, the weight of the fish, mollusks or crustaceans by species, the price received by the fishermen and the name of the person receiving same.

It shall be stated in the record for what use the fish are intended, whether to be sold fresh or whether they are to be canned, cured, made into fish meal or fertilizer, or any other disposition is to be made of them, or if a commercial distinction is made between different sizes or qualities of any species or variety, it must be so stated on said record or receipt, and the record shall also state if the fish were taken in foreign waters, or in the high seas off another state or foreign country. The names used in the record for designating the variety or species of fish handled must be the name which is in common usage, and the fish and game commission shall have the power to decide what is the common usage name of any variety.

The original copy of this record shall be delivered to the fisherman at the time of the purchase or receipt of the fish, the duplicate copy shall be kept by the dealer or person receiving the fish and the triplicate copy shall be delivered to the fish and game commission or any duly authorized assistant thereof.

Where a fish dealer, canner or preserver catches his own fish he shall fill out the above record as required when he purchases the fish from fisherman or dealer or if it so desires the fish and game commission may furnish a separate form for such cases. It shall be the duty of the fish and game commission to preserve all such records of the fisheries as are obtained by it in places adequately safeguarded from fire or other destructive agencies and such records are to be kept in such manner as to render them accessible for reference or research, the intention being to guard against the destruction or such neglect of the records as will detract from their future value.

§ 3. Record of fish caught. Any master of any otter or beam trawl, paranzella net or similar gear taking fish in the public waters of this state, or taking fish by such nets without the state and bringing the same within the state, shall keep a record in a book, to be furnished by said fish and game commission, stating the time and place of each haul made on each trip, the duration of the haul and approximate catch according to species or variety made in each haul, the time of the voyage and the total catch by species as weighed out when landed; provided, further, that where the owner of the vessel or boat is the dealer selling such fish, the information must be kept by the dealer in a form approved by the fish and game commission.

§ 4. Annual statement of fish canneries. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of canning, curing or preserving fish or manufacturing fishery products from fish or fish offal, shall render on or before the fifteenth day after the last day of each calendar year for the preceding year, a statement on forms to be furnished by the board of fish and game commissioners, showing name of person, firm or corporation, location of plant, kind of business, capital invested, number of persons employed, number of months operating, the amount and kind of fishery products canned, preserved or manufactured.

§ 5. Annual statement of fishing boat owners. Every person, firm or corporation owning or operating any boat engaged in the business of fishing for profit in the public waters of this state or who catch fish without the state and bring them into the state, shall on or before April first of each calendar year, file with the board of fish and game commissioners on a form to be provided by the fish and game commission, a statement giving the dimensions of the fishing boat or boats operated by said person, firm or corporation, together with the motive power, number in crew, equipment and description of fishing gear.

§ 6. Right to enter premises. Penalty. The board of fish and game commissioners or their duly appointed agent shall have the right to board any fishing boat, or enter any place of business where fish are sold fresh, or canned, or cured, or any reduction works, or place of business where fish meal is made, and to examine any and all books and records containing any account of fish caught, bought or sold.

Every person violating any of the provisions of this act, or who fails to permit an inspection as provided in section six of this act, or refuses to produce any books or records containing any record of fish bought or sold shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days, nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures imposed and collected under this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

An act to restrict fishing within seven hundred fifty feet of any pier, wharf, jetty or breakwater in fish and game district number nineteen of the state of California.

[Approved May 13, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 463.]

§ 1. Protection of fish near pier, wharf, etc. Smelt excepted. Every person who, in fish and game district number nineteen, takes, catches, or kills any fish, except with hook and line in the manner known as angling and except anchovies, squids and sardines with a hand-net conforming to the following measurements and description: A dip or bait net constructed with a metal ring or hoop, or a square frame not to exceed ten feet in diameter around which a fine mesh net, sack or bag is hung, to this hoop or frame, from which the net bag is hung, three or four lines are attached and form a bridle, which is made fast to a hand line, which is used for lowering the net from the pier or bank, within seven hundred fifty feet of the end or sides of any pier, wharf, jetty or breakwater, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that this act shall not apply to the taking or catching of smelt only.

§ 2. Penalty. Every person found guilty of a violation of the provisions of this act shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not more than one hundred fifty days; and all fines or forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this act must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

§ 3. For scientific purposes. Nothing in this act shall prohibit the United States fish and game commission and the fish and game commission of this state from taking, at all times, such fish in such manner as they may deem necessary for the purposes of propagation or for scientific purposes.

TITLE 225.

HARBOR COMMISSIONERS.

ACT 1439b.

An act to authorize the board of state harbor commissioners of San Francisco harbor to pay the claim of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland. [Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1514. In effect July 30, 1917.]

This act authorized the harbor commissioners to pay the claim of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland for the sum of $1,218.92.

TITLE 226a.

HAY.

ACT 1440a.

An act relating to baling of hay; defining hay-baler; providing regulations governing the baling of hay; providing for the sale of hay by net weight; providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act.

§ 1. "Baler" and "presser" defined. The term "baler" or "presser" as referred to in this act shall mean the person, firm, association, or corporation owning or having possession of or operating a hay press.

§ 2. Scales to be tested and sealed. Any person baling hay for compensation shall employ scales that have been tested and sealed by the sealer of weights and measures and any record of weight forming the basis in settlement for baling hay shall be the true net weight of the baled hay; and any record of weight forming the basis of settlement in the sale or purchase of baled hay shall be the true net weight of such baled hay.

§ 3. Falsely increasing weight. No baler or presser of hay shall put or conceal in any such bale of hay anything whatever for the purpose of increasing the weight of such bale with intent to defraud.

§ 4. Standard weight. Hay when sold, offered, or exposed for sale shall be sold by avoirdupois weight and a ton shall consist of two thousand pounds net weight; providing, however, that hay may be sold by the bale in which case the net weight of the bale shall be indicated on a tag securely fastened to the bale.

§ 5. Broken bales. When any hay is shipped by a common carrier in bales and where such bales become broken, the approximate weight of such broken bales shall be included in the total weight of the hay shipped.

§ 6. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation, violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, or more than one hundred dollars.

TITLE 228a.

HERMOSA BEACH.

ACT 1446a.

An act granting to the city of Hermosa Beach the tide-lands and submerged lands of the state of California within the boundaries of the said city.

§ 1. Tide-lands granted to Hermosa Beach. There is hereby granted to the city of Hermosa Beach, a municipal corporation of the state of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the state of California, held by said state by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all the tide-lands and submerged lands, whether within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific Ocean, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit:

(a) Use of lands. Said lands shall be used by said city and by its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the establishment and construction of bulkheads or breakwaters for the protection of lands within its boundaries, or for the protection of its harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion or accommodation of commerce and navigation, and the protection of the lands within said city, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon, for a period not exceeding forty years, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof for a period not exceeding forty years, for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the state of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor.

(b) Improvement of harbor. Said harbor shall be improved by said city without expense to the state, and shall always remain a public harbor for all purposes of commerce and navigation, and the state of California, shall have, at all times, the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other improvements constructed on said lands, or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft, or railroad, owned or operated by the state of California;

(c) Rates, tolls, etc. In the management, conduct or operation of said harbor, or of any of the utilities or appliances mentioned in paragraph (a), no discrimination in rates, tolls, or charges, or in facilities, for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or by its successors. The absolute right to fish in the waters of said harbor, with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose, is hereby reserved to the people of the state of California.

TITLE 229.HIGHWAYS.*ACT 1447.

An act authorizing any county to permit the construction and maintenance of a highway or boulevard over highways within its limits connecting with main public highways of an adjoining county by the board of supervisors or highway commissioners of such adjoining county, permitting boards of supervisors of such adjoining counties to construct and maintain such bridge or bridges on such highways or boulevards as they may deem necessary, permitting such boards of supervisors to macadamize or pave or gutter such highways or boulevards, providing the manner in which the cost and expense thereof shall be paid, and prescribing the procedure whereby the use, control, maintenance and jurisdiction of any highway or boulevard constructed under the provisions of this act may be retransferred to the county originally granting the use thereof. [Approved April 6, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 88. In effect July 27, 1917.]

Repealed 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 323.

An act making an appropriation to pay any assessment that may be imposed against the state of California under the provisions of an act entitled "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California," approved April 5, 1917; to pay the share of the state of California under any agreement or agreements with the United States government for co-operative work in the construction, improvement or maintenance of highways useful for military purposes and authorizing the state department of engineering to enter into any such agreements; and to pay the cost of making surveys and preparing plans and estimates for the following highways: An extension of the Trinity-Humboldt state road, from its westerly end, in a westerly direction, and to the town of Bridgeville, in Humboldt county; a highway beginning at or near Oxnard in Ventura county, California, and extending to a point near San Juan in Orange county, California; a highway from Jackson's ranch near Pescadero in San Mateo county, California, to Governor's Camp in the California Redwood Park, Santa Cruz county, California; a highway beginning at Carmel in Monterey county, California, and running thence in a southerly direction to San Simeon in San Luis Obispo county, California, and a lateral highway from a point most feasible thereon to a point at or near Jolon in said Monterey county; a bridge to span San Francisco bay at or near Dumbarton Point; and a highway from the western boundary line of Kern county, California, to the state highway near the city of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara county, California. [Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1519. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The act appropriated $250,000 for the purpose indicated.

ACT 1448.

An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing, and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor.

Amended 1909, p. 151; 1911, pp. 505, 589; 1911 (Ex Sess.), p. 65; 1913, p. 324; 1917, p. 154.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 10. Improvements must be durable. Highway shall not be used by railroad. Use of highway by railroad in incorporated city. All improvements constructed under this act shall be of a durable and lasting character; provided, that said commission shall have the power to determine how said highways shall be improved and constructed, and the character of the materials to be used in the improvement and construction thereof. If said commission shall determine that said highways, or any of them, shall be macadamized or paved, then the macadamized or paved portion of the roadbed constructed or any highway portion thereof improved under this act, shall not exceed eighteen feet in width, unless donations are made to the highway commission for that purpose, in which case such donations may be used to defray the increased cost of constructing such macadamized or paved roadbed more than eighteen feet wide on any part of such highway specified by the donors; but no part of the proceeds of any bond issue shall be expended for such purpose. No railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall be constructed along or upon any highway, or any portion thereof, improved under the provision of this act, except for crossings duly authorized by the board of supervisors, nor shall any board of supervisors have power to grant any franchise for the construction of any railroad, electric road, or street railroad along or upon any such highway or portion thereof, except for crossings; provided, that when any such highway or portion thereof shall, after the improvement of the same under the provisions of this act, be included within the boundaries of any incorporated city, city and county or town the foregoing provisions of this section shall not prohibit the granting of any such franchise by the proper municipal authorities along, upon or across any such highway, or portion thereof so included within the boundaries of any such incorporated city, city and county, or town. Any such franchise shall be granted only upon the express condition that the grantee thereof will pay to the county for the benefit of the general fund thereof an amount equal to the cost of the improvement or construction of such portion of the roadbed or highway constructed or improved under the provisions of this act as shall be occupied by the track or tracks of such railroad, electric road or street railroad. [Amendment approved April 20, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 154.]

An act to legalize the organization of permanent road divisions and validate all proceedings for the issuance of bonds of said divisions where authority for issuance of said bonds has already been given by a vote of at least two-thirds of the electors of any permanent road division.

[Approved April 19, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 141. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Organization of permanent road divisions validated. Time for instituting suit. In all cases where the board of supervisors of any county of this state, purporting to act under and by virtue of the proceedings of the Political Code applicable thereto, has organized a permanent road division, all proceedings for the organization of any such road division and the organization thereof are hereby validated and declared legal and no proceedings to test the validity of any such road division shall be maintained unless instituted within ninety days from the effective date of this act. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county has ordered the issuance of bonds of any such road division, after an election of the qualified electors thereof has been held to determine whether such indebtedness shall be incurred, at which election not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting at such election have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, all the proceedings preceding and including the issuance and the proposed issuance of such bonds are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed; and all such bonds sold or to be sold for not less than par and accrued interest are hereby declared to be valid and legal obligations of such road divisions in accordance with their terms, and no suit shall be maintained to prevent the issuance, sale or delivery of any such bonds or to prevent the payment of principal or of the interest accruing thereon when such principal and interest, respectively, become due in accordance with the terms of such bonds, unless such suit is instituted within ninety days from the effective date of this act.

An act to provide for the formation and establishment of boulevard districts; the construction, acquisition, maintenance, control and use of boulevards; defining the term boulevard; providing for the voting, issuing and selling of bonds, and the levying of taxes to pay for the acquisition, construction, maintenance and repair of such boulevard; providing for a boulevard commission to have charge of the affairs of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance and repair of boulevards, within such districts; providing for the election of such commission, their terms of office, and of elections to be held in such districts; and repealing an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of boulevard districts, and the construction, maintenance, and use of boulevards, and defining the term boulevard," approved March 22, 1905, and the act amendatory thereof, approved April 15, 1909.

Amended Ex. Sess. 1911, p. 223; 1913, p. 394; 1917, p. 1299; 1919 p. 351.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Boulevard district formed. Any portion of a county not contained in a boulevard district under the provisions of this act, may be formed into a boulevard district, and when so formed shall be known and designated by the name and style of — boulevard district (using the name of the district) of — county (using the name of the county in which said district is located), and shall have the rights herein enumerated, and such as may hereafter be conferred by law. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1300.]

§ 2. Petition to board of supervisors. Bond filed. A petition for the formation of such boulevard district (naming it) may be presented to the board of supervisors of the county wherein the district is proposed to be formed, which said petition shall be signed by not less than ten freeholders, owning land within the proposed district and shall contain:

(1) The boundaries of the proposed district and an estimate of the number of inhabitants residing therein;

(2) An estimate of the number of acres contained therein and the assessed value thereof and of the improvements thereon;

(3) A request that an election be called within said district for the purpose of determining the question of the formation of said boulevard district, for the construction and maintenance of a boulevard or boulevards therein under the provisions of this act.

There shall be filed with said board of supervisors at the time of the filing of the petition for the organization of said boulevard district with said board, a bond in the sum of not more than three hundred dollars, with two sufficient sureties, to be approved by said board, who shall each qualify in double the amount of said bond, conditioned that they will pay the expense and cost of said election in an amount not exceeding the amount mentioned in said bond, in case the proposition to organize said district shall be defeated at said election. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1300.]

§ 3. Hearing on petition. Such petition must be presented at a regular meeting of said board of supervisors and they shall thereupon fix a time for hearing said petition, not less than twenty, nor more than sixty days after the date of presentation thereof, and shall publish a notice of the fact that such petition has been filed (referring to the same on file with the clerk of the board of supervisors for further particulars) and giving the time and place at which said petition will be heard, and directing all parties interested to appear at said time and place, and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted, which said notice shall be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in some newspaper published and circulated in said proposed district; provided, that if no newspaper be so published in said district, then said notice shall be so published in some newspaper published and circulated at the county seat of the county in which said proposed district is located. [Amendment approved May 29, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1301.]

§ 4. Land excluded. Lands included. Upon the day named for the hearing of said petition, the board of supervisors shall hear the same and any objections thereto and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not more than sixty days in all. If the board find that lands have been improperly included, it may in fixing the final boundaries exclude from such district any lands which may have been so included, or the board may, as it deems for the best interests of such district, include any adjacent lands outside the boundaries described in said petition, either on petition of the owners of such lands, or upon notice of its intention to include such adjacent lands by publication once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published either in said district or at the county seat, which notice shall refer to the petition for the formation of the district on file with the board of supervisors, shall describe the adjacent territory intended to be included within the proposed boundaries of said proposed district and shall direct all persons interested therein to appear at a specified time and place and show cause if any there be why said adjacent lands should not be so included. Upon the petition and evidence produced at such hearings the board shall determine and fix the boundaries of such district and must thereupon, by order, define and establish such boundaries. [Amendment approved May 29, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1301.]

§ 5. Election. Notice. The board of supervisors thereupon, and not later than thirty days after the establishment of said boundaries, as hereinbefore provided, shall by order, call an election to be held in such proposed boulevard district for the purpose of determining whether such district shall be formed. The order must fix the day of such election, which must be within sixty days from the date of the order, and must show the boundaries of the proposed district, and must state that at such election one member of the boulevard commission will be voted for. This order shall be entered in the minutes of the board, and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and of the fact that each of the petitioners was, at the time of the signing and presentation of such petition, a freeholder owning land within the proposed district and that all other steps and actions requisite to and pertaining to the making of said order, including the hearing of said petition and establishment of the boundaries of said district, have been properly taken; notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order for three successive weeks prior to the election, in three public places within the proposed district, and by publication of a copy of such order at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published in the proposed district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the county seat. [Amendment approved May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1302.]

§ 6. Polling places. Election officers. Ballots. Election of member of boulevard commission. Canvass of returns. The board of supervisors, at least fifteen days prior to the election, shall select one, and may select two, or more polling places within the proposed district, and make all suitable arrangements for the holding of such election. They must select and appoint, from among the qualified electors of the proposed boulevard district, one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, who shall constitute the officers of said election and the election board; if none are so appointed or if any officer appointed does not attend at the opening of the polls on the morning of election, the electors present may appoint substitutes to fill the election board. The ballot shall contain the words "boulevard district—yes," and "boulevard district—no," and shall also make provision for voting for one member of the boulevard commission of said district. At such election there shall be elected one member of the boulevard commission, whose term of office shall be for four years and until the election, or appointment, and qualification of his successor. Such election, and all subsequent, or other, elections in said district shall, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the provisions of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations and the selection or appointment of officers of election, shall not apply, and that no irregularity or informality in conducting any election under this act, not substantially affecting adversely the legal rights of any elector, as herein defined, shall invalidate or affect such election. At each election pursuant to this act, every qualified elector, resident within the district as proposed or established, and who would be entitled on the date of the respective election to vote in said district at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at such election. The said officers of election must make return of the election to the board of supervisors of said county, which shall canvass said returns as by law provided, and if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of a boulevard district the board of supervisors shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes of said board an order that the boulevard district of the name, and with the boundaries theretofore established by said board (setting forth such boundaries), has been duly established, and shall declare the person receiving the highest number of votes for member of the boulevard commission, duly elected as such commissioner; and said order shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act or by law, and of the existence and validity of the boulevard district. If a majority of the votes cast shall be against a boulevard district, the board shall by order entered in its minutes so declare, and no other proceeding shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the date of the presentation of the petition to said board. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 352.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1302.

§ 7. Officers. Vacancy. Appointment of member by state highway commission. Term. Bond. No compensation. The officers of the district shall be three members of the boulevard commission, who shall be designated as commissioners, and shall be, except as hereinafter provided, the chairman of the board of supervisors and the county surveyor, or the county engineer, as the case may be, of the county in which the district is situated, who shall be ex-officio commissioners, and a third commissioner elected as herein provided who must have been a bona fide resident and freeholder within the boundaries of the district for at least one year prior to his election. Any vacancy in the office of commissioner shall, except as hereinafter provided, be filled by appointment for the unexpired term by the board of supervisors from among the bona fide resident freeholders within said district who shall have been such resident freeholders for at least one year prior to such appointment, but no member of the said board of supervisors, except the chairman thereof, shall be eligible to hold office on said commission or to hold any position in connection therewith. At any time, upon petition in writing signed by at least twenty-five per cent in number of the number of qualified electors, residing within the district and named upon the great register of the county in which the district is situated, and presented to the state highway commission, the said state highway commission shall, and it is hereby empowered to, declare the office of boulevard commissioner theretofore held by the said county surveyor, or county engineer, as the case may be, vacant, and nominate and appoint as commissioner to fill such vacancy a person who shall be a civil engineer, qualified in the opinion of the state highway commission to act as such commissioner. The commissioner so appointed shall hold office for the term of four years from and after his appointment, and until the appointment and qualification of his successor, and all appointments to fill any vacancy in the office of such commissioner either during or at the expiration of his term of office shall be made by the state highway commission upon the receipt of written notice from the boulevard commission of such vacancy or expiration, but no petition shall be necessary therefor. Each commissioner shall give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his duties in the sum of five thousand dollars, to be approved by a judge of the superior court of the county in which the district is located. The commissioners shall receive no compensation whatever either for general or special services. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1304.]

Original section 7 was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 8. Election every fourth year. Notice of election. Polling places and election officers. Canvass of returns. An election shall be held in each boulevard district on the first Monday after the first Tuesday in March in the fourth year after the formation of the district, and in every fourth year thereafter, at which shall be elected a commissioner in place of the elected commissioner whose term shall expire during such year. Not less than twenty days before the day of each such election the boulevard commission must give notice of said election by posting notice thereof in three public places in the boulevard district, which notice must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officer to be elected. They shall select one, and may select two or more, polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if any of those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint all, or any, of them so absent or not appointed and they shall conduct the election as if so appointed by said commission and present. The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must make return of the election within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the board of supervisors. Said board of supervisors at its first meeting after receiving said returns shall canvass the same and shall make, sign and deliver a certificate of election to the person elected. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 353.]

This section was added May 29, 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1304. The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 9. President and secretary. The boulevard commission shall be the governing body of the district, and shall exercise all the powers thereof. At its first meeting or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, the commission shall choose one of its members as president, and another of its members as secretary. All contracts, deeds, warrants, releases, receipts and documents of every kind shall be signed in the name of the district by its president, and shall be countersigned by its secretary. The commission may hold such meetings, either in the day or in the evening, as may be convenient, all such meetings of the commission must be held in the district at an appointed place. In case of the absence or inability to act of the president or secretary, the commission shall, by order entered upon its minutes, choose from its members a president pro tempore, or secretary pro tempore, as the case may be. A majority of the members of the commission is a sufficient number to form a commission for the transaction of business, and every decision of a majority of the members forming such commission made when duly assembled, is valid as an act of said commission. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1305.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 10. Powers of district. Every boulevard district formed under the provisions of this act shall have power to have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the boulevard commission; to sue and be sued by its name; to lay out, establish, construct, acquire and maintain one or more boulevards within the district, and for this purpose to acquire by purchase, gift, devise, condemnation proceedings or otherwise real and personal property and rights of way within the district, and to pay for and hold the same; provided, however, that if any boulevard or boulevards are constructed with moneys raised by taxation and not from the sale of bonds as herein provided, such boulevard or boulevards shall be constructed only after an election to be had in the manner herein provided for elections in said district, for the purpose of determining whether such boulevard or boulevards shall be constructed and at which election a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the construction of such boulevard or boulevards; to make and accept any and all contracts, deeds, releases and documents of any kind which shall be necessary or proper to the exercise of any of the powers of the district, and to direct the payment of all lawful claims and demands against it; to issue bonds as hereinafter provided, and to provide for the payment of the same and the interest thereon; and to cause to be levied taxes sufficient when directed by a vote of the people of the district for the construction, maintenance or repair of said boulevard, or boulevards, and all indebtedness of such district, and the running expenses of the district; to employ all necessary engineers, surveyors, agents and workmen to do the work on or in connection with the boulevard or boulevards in said district; and generally to do and perform any and all acts necessary or proper to the complete exercise and effect of any of its powers or the purposes for which it was formed. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1305.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 11. "Boulevard." By the term "boulevard" as used herein is meant a highway not less than thirty and not more than one hundred feet in width, and upon, along, and over the portion or portions of which where the same is less than sixty feet in width no railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall, except upon a permit granted therefor by the board or body in control of such boulevard evidence by an order entered in its minutes, be constructed or operated; and any easements granted or condemned for the building of said boulevard shall be so granted or condemned; provided, that nothing herein shall be deemed to apply to or as preventing or limiting the use of vehicles across said boulevard. Any boulevard constructed under this act may be constructed, in whole or in part, over, along, or upon any county road or public highway, or any part thereof, and the moneys belonging to such boulevard district may be expended in the improvement of such road or highway to conform to the width and general character of the balance of the boulevard, and for the purposes of this act the boulevard district is hereby expressly authorized and empowered to take over, control, operate, and use in whole or in part any such county road or public highway. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1306.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 12. Survey, etc., of proposed boulevards. The boulevard commission shall, before the construction of any boulevard and before the calling of any election for the issuance of bonds, employ an engineer or engineers who shall make all necessary surveys, prepare a map or maps showing the location of the said proposed boulevard or boulevards, also showing a cross-section and profile of said proposed boulevard or boulevards, together with specifications for the construction thereof and estimates of the cost of acquiring rights of way therefor and of the cost of the construction thereof, which said surveys, maps, specifications and estimates, shall, upon the approval of the same by said commission, by order entered upon its minutes, be formally adopted by said commission and filed with its secretary and constitute the plan of said district for such proposed boulevard or boulevards; provided, that the said boulevard commission may, at its option, and it is hereby empowered to, direct the county surveyor, or county engineer, as the case may be, to do any or all of said work herein provided to be done by an engineer or engineers.

The expense of making such preliminary survey or surveys may be allowed by the board of supervisors out of the general fund or the general county road fund upon claims regularly presented and allowed in the manner provided by law. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 353.]

This section was added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1307. The original section was repealed in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 12a. Bids for construction of boulevards. Conditions of contract.

The boulevard commission shall, pursuant to an order entered in its minutes, advertise for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards, either as a whole or in such sections as it may see fit, in accordance with the plan theretofore adopted and filed, as hereinabove provided, by said commission, by publishing a notice calling for such bids, at least once a week for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper published within the boulevard district if such newspaper is published therein, otherwise in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which such district is located. Such notice shall refer to said order and said plan for further particulars. If the commission shall elect to receive separate bids for the construction of sections of said boulevard or boulevards, the said order shall describe the separate sections for which such separate bids are desired. The commission may also in its discretion advertise at the same time and in the same notice both for bids for the construction of such boulevard or boulevards as a whole and for bids for the construction of separate sections thereof. Every contract for doing any part of said work shall be let, after advertisement as herein provided, to the lowest responsible bidder, who shall, before the making of said contract, give a bond to the boulevard district for the faithful performance of his contract, with sureties satisfactory to said commission in an amount equal to at least fifty per cent of the amount of the contract price.

Said contract shall be executed on behalf of the boulevard district by the boulevard commission, subject to approval or rejection by the electors of the district, expressed at an election called for the purpose of issuing bonds for the payment of such contract. If the electors at such election fail to approve such bond issue, the contract shall be void and the boulevard commission shall immediately return to the contractor his bond given for the faithful performance of the contract; provided, however, that the commission may make contracts, without advertisement, for any construction work on said boulevard the cost of which does not exceed one thousand dollars; and provided, further, that the commission may reject any or all bids and may thereupon readvertise for bids for doing any part or the whole of said work; or may do said work without letting any contract therefor when the amount of the work is less than one thousand dollars. Said commission may hire all necessary engineers, inspectors and superintendents to supervise the performance of contracts entered into by said commission, or to have charge of the doing of all work done without contract. [New section added May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 354.]

§ 13. Bond election. Notice of election. At any time, and from time to time, after the adoption of a plan for a boulevard or boulevards, or the letting of a contract for the construction of the whole or any portion of any boulevard, the boulevard commission may, by order entered in its minutes, call an election for the purpose of determining whether bonds shall be issued for the acquisition of rights of way for, and the construction of, such boulevard or boulevards, or for the payment of such contract. Such order shall fix the day of the election and shall specify the amount of such bond issue, and shall state in general terms the purposes for which the money to be raised from the sale of such bonds shall be used, which purposes shall be confined to the acquisition of rights of way for, and the construction of, a boulevard or boulevards in said district; provided, that if such election is called for a payment of a contract already entered into by the boulevard commission, such order shall state the terms of such contract in such manner as will advise the electors of the contents thereof; provided, however, that any moneys so raised which shall remain on hand after such acquisition of rights of way and construction have been completed, may and shall be expended in the betterment and maintenance of such boulevard or boulevards. Notice of such election shall be given by posting a copy of such order for three successive weeks prior to the election in at least three public places within the district, and by publication of a copy thereof for at least once a week for three successive weeks prior to the election in some newspaper published within the district, if there be one, and if not, in some newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which such district is located. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 355.]

This section was added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1307. The original section was repealed in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 14. Polling places and election officers. Ballots. Canvass of returns. At any time prior to the day fixed for the election the commission shall select one, and may select two or more, polling places within the district, and select and appoint from among the qualified electors within the district, one inspector, and two judges for each polling place to conduct the same, and shall make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. The ballots shall contain the words "bonds, yes" and "bonds, no." After the vote shall have been counted and the result announced by the election officers the ballots shall be sealed up and delivered to the secretary of the boulevard commission, with the election returns, and said commission shall, at its first meeting thereafter, canvass said returns and shall enter the result upon its minutes. Such entry shall be conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided by this act or by law, and of the facts stated in such entry. If, at such election, not less than two-thirds of the votes cast be in favor of the issuance of bonds, the said commission shall have full power and authority to issue and sell said bonds as proposed in the order calling the election and as hereinafter provided. If the result of the election be against the issuance of bonds no other election upon the question shall be called or held for one year after such election. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 355.]

This section was added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1307. The original section was repealed in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 15. Denomination. Payment. Sale. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be of such denomination as the boulevard commission may determine, except that no bonds shall be of less denomination than one hundred dollars nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars. Said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the county treasurer of the county wherein said district is situated, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum; which interest shall be payable semi-annually in like gold coin. Not less than one-thirtieth part of the total issue of bonds shall be payable each year, commencing not more than five years after the date of said bonds. Each bond shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the boulevard commission, and said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, in the order of their maturity, and shall have coupons for interest attached, attested by the facsimile signature of the secretary of said commission. The bonds may be sold by the boulevard commission in such manner and in such quantities as it may determine, but no bond may be sold for less than its face value. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited with the county treasurer and shall be by him placed in the fund to be called the boulevard fund of — boulevard district (naming it); the money in such fund shall be used for the purposes indicated in the order calling the election upon the question of the issuance of bonds. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1308.]

§ 16. Estimate of amount needed. The commission must at or before the first meeting of the board of supervisors in September of each year, furnish the supervisors and the auditor of the county wherein the district is situated, an estimate in writing of the amount of money needed for the purposes of the district for the ensuing fiscal year. The amount must be sufficient to pay all interest and principal of outstanding bonds of the district maturing during the ensuing fiscal year, and to pay the estimated cost of repairs and maintenance of the boulevard, or boulevards, and the running expenses of the district. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1308.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 17. Levy of tax. Collection. Moneys from general fund. Constitutionality. The board of supervisors of any county wherein is situated a boulevard district, must annually at the time of levying county taxes levy a tax to be known as the "— (name of district) boulevard district tax," sufficient to raise the amount reported to them as herein, in section sixteen hereof, provided by the boulevard commission. The supervisors must determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the total assessed value of the real property of the district within the county, as it appears on the assessment-roll of the county, and dividing the sum reported by the boulevard commission as required to be raised by the remainder of such total assessed value. The tax so levied shall be computed and entered on the assessment-roll by the county auditor, and if the supervisors fail to levy the tax as provided in the preceding section, then the auditor must do so. Such tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of said district, and the purposes herein specified. The provisions of the Political Code of this state prescribing the manner of levying and collecting taxes and the duties of the several county officers with respect thereto are, so far as they are applicable and not in conflict with the specific provisions of this act, hereby adopted and made a part hereof. Such officers shall be liable upon their several official bonds for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act. All moneys raised by taxation as herein provided shall belong to said district. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding the board of supervisors shall set apart and turn over to the boule-ward commission out of the general fund of the county twenty-five per cent of the cost of acquisition of rights of way for, and of construction of, said boulevard or boulevards and also twenty-five per cent of the cost of maintenance and repair of said boulevard or boulevards, all such moneys to be used by the boulevard commission for such purposes respectively, and the board of supervisors shall set apart and use for road work in the boulevard district all moneys raised in such district by the county for road purposes; provided, however, that if for any reason the provisions, or any thereof, of this sentence are unconstitutional or affect the constitutionality of this act or any of the provisions thereof, then this sentence, or such provisions thereof, only, shall be void and the remainder of this act shall stand as if this sentence, or such provisions thereof, as the case may be, had not been included in this act, the same being hereby declared to be separable. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1309.]

§ 18. Funds kept by county treasurer. The treasury of the county wherein the district is situated shall be the repository of all the funds of the district. The treasurer of the county shall receive and receipt for the same, and shall place the same to the credit of the boulevard district. He shall be responsible upon his official bond for their safe-keeping and disbursement in the manner herein provided. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1310.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 19. Funds established. The following funds are hereby established to which the money belonging to the district, and raised by taxation as herein provided, shall be apportioned by the treasurer, to wit: bond fund, construction and maintenance fund, and district expense fund. The treasurer shall pay out the same only upon warrants of the boulevard commission, signed by the president and attested by the secretary, except that all bonds and coupons shall be paid on presentation by the county treasurer out of the bond fund without such warrant. The treasurer shall report in writing to the commissioners whenever requested by them or the secretary the amount of money in the various funds, the amounts of receipts since his last report and the amounts paid out. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1310.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 20. Maintenance and repair. The commission may do any or all work of maintenance or repair upon such boulevard, or boulevards, either with or without contract therefor, and with or without advertising for bids for contracts for such work of maintenance and repair, at its discretion; provided, however, that if the cost of any such work of maintenance or repair shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, then such work shall be done under contract pursuant to bids for such work after advertising in the same manner herein provided for advertising for bids and letting contracts for construction work. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 356.]

This section was added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1310. The original section was repealed in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 21. Application to state department of engineering for exercise of powers. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have and is hereby given power and authority, at its option, to make application to the department of engineering of the state of California, or to the proper subdivision of said department, for the exercise by said department, or proper subdivision thereof, as the case may be, of any or all powers, duties or authority which said department or proper subdivision thereof, as the case may be, may now, or at any time hereafter, exercise or enjoy with respect to the ownership, construction, maintenance or improvement of any boulevard or boulevards or proposed boulevard or boulevards, constructed or to be constructed pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the preparation of plans, specifications and estimates for, and the handling and expenditure of boulevard district moneys for, such construction, maintenance or improvement; any such application to said department of engineering, or subdivision thereof, shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the law as it now is or may hereafter exist defining the powers, duties or privileges of such department of engineering or subdivision thereof in relation to such matters, and upon the granting of any such application by said department of engineering or subdivision thereof, the boulevard commission shall have full power to carry out the terms of such application on its part. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1311.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

22. Transfer boulevard to county. Anything in this act to the contrary, notwithstanding, the boulevard commission shall have, and it is hereby given, full power and authority at its option to transfer and convey all the right, title and interest of the boulevard district in and to any boulevard or boulevards in such district after complete construction thereof, to the county within which such district is situated, provided that the board of supervisors of such county consent to and accept such transfer and conveyance and agree thereafter to maintain such boulevard or boulevards as boulevards and as part of the county highway system of such county, any and all such boulevards so transferred and conveyed to be thereafter held and owned by such county as county boulevards without any further liability or responsibility therefor on the part of such district. But no such transfer or conveyance shall affect any bond or bonds theretofore issued by such district or the liability of such district thereunder. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1312.]

The original section was repealed in 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1299.

§ 23. Dissolution of district. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof at an election called by the boulevard commission upon the question of dissolution. Whenever it shall deem it advisable, the boulevard commission shall, by resolution, order that an election be held in the said district upon the question of dissolution of the district. Such election shall be called and conducted in the same manner as other elections of the district. Upon such dissolution, any property which may have been acquired by such boulevard district shall vest in the county, except that any such property lying within the boundaries of an incorporated city shall vest in such city; provided, however, that if at the time of the election to dissolve such district there be any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district, then, in such event, the vote to dissolve such district shall dissolve the same for all purposes excepting only the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such outstanding indebtedness of such district; and from the time such district is thus dissolved until such bonded indebtedness with interest thereon is fully paid, satisfied and discharged, the board of supervisors of the county shall constitute ex officio the boulevard commission of such district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as herein provided. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1312.]

§ 24. [There is no section of this number.]

§ 25. Established districts validated. Any and all boulevard districts heretofore established by order entered by any county board of supervisors under this act, and all amendments thereof or of any section or sections thereof, are hereby declared to be legally organized and existing and all the proceedings on the organization and formation of any and all such boulevard districts are hereby approved and in all respects declared valid, and all boulevard districts are subject to the provisions of this act so far as applicable. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1313.]

§ 26. Proceeding to determine legality of district. Any district formed hereunder, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the superior court of the county in which it was organized by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the district, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal boulevard district formed under the provisions of this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be addressed generally to all persons interested in said district or in any of the lands therein contained, and shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the said county. Within thirty days after the last publication thereof any person interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district. If no answer shall be filed within said time the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If an answer be filed the court shall proceed as in other civil cases. Said proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the state of California. [New section added May 29, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1313.]

§ 1. Joint highway district may be created. A joint highway district, to be composed of two or more counties may be created, organized and governed for the purpose of constructing public highways therein as in this act provided. The word "county" as used in this act shall include any "city and county," but such city and county is herein regarded solely as a political subdivision of the state, and not as a municipality.

§ 2. Resolution initiating proceedings. The board of supervisors of any county may initiate proceedings for the creation of a joint highway district to be composed of two or more counties of the state by the adoption of a resolution reciting:

(a) That the public interest requires the construction of a public highway, stating generally the location and course thereof, and naming the counties in or through which such highway will pass.

(b) The names of the counties interested in and which will be benefited by such highway construction.

(c) That it is proposed to create a joint highway district composed of the counties so named.

When adopted, certified copies of the same shall be transmitted to the advisory board of the state engineering department of the state of California, and to the clerks of the boards of supervisors of the counties named in the resolution.

§ 3. Notice and hearing. Immediately upon receipt of a copy of the resolution adopted as aforesaid, the said advisory board, either at a regular or special meeting, shall fix a time and place in the county adopting the resolution at which the matter of the creation of a joint highway district will be heard and determined. Notice of such hearing shall be published five days in one daily newspaper published in each of the counties named in said resolution, or two times in a newspaper published less than six days a week or if no newspaper be published in any county then such notice shall be posted in three public places in such county for a period of ten days. The time fixed for such hearing shall be not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of meeting at which the said advisory board caused such notice to be given.

§ 4. Proof of publication. Proof of the publication shall be made by the affidavit of the publisher, manager or principal clerk of the newspaper making such publication, or person posting the notice, and such notice, the publication, or posting thereof and proof thereof shall be sufficient to vest said advisory board of the state engineering department with jurisdiction and power to hear, determine and order the creation of the proposed joint highway district. A copy of such notice shall be mailed to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of the counties named in the initiatory resolution.

§ 5. Board of directors named. Upon the receipt of such notice it shall be the duty of each of the boards of supervisors to name and appoint either one of its members or some other suitable person and each of the persons so appointed shall constitute a member of the board of directors of the joint highway district when created. It shall be the duty of each of the persons so appointed to attend the hearing fixed by the said advisory board. The said directors so appointed, may meet from time to time in advance of the time fixed for said hearing and may make and enter into an agreement limiting the amount to be assessed upon each of the counties to comprise the district when formed, and such limitation so agreed upon shall not thereafter be changed except by the unanimous vote of all the directors.

§ 6. Objections to creating district. At the time and place fixed for said hearing any person may appear and offer objections to the creation of the joint highway district, and the said advisory board shall hear such objections and may continue such hearing from time to time and all parties shall be deemed to have notice of any such continuance.

§ 7. Order creating district. At the conclusion of such hearing the said advisory board shall determine all matters relating to the creation of such joint highway district and may sustain or overrule any objection offered. The objections offered need not be specifically set forth, but may be sustained or overruled in general terms. An objection made by any person appointed a member of the proposed board of directors shall prevent the creation of the district. If no objections are made or if all objections shall be overruled, then the said advisory board shall make and enter in its minutes an order creating such joint highway district. The order shall contain the names of the several counties composing the district and the names of the persons constituting its board of directors. Districts shall be numbered in the order of their creation. A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the secretary of state and transmitted to the clerks of the several boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district. Upon the filing of the said order with the secretary of state said joint highway district shall be deemed created and organized, and shall exercise all of the powers granted by this act, and shall be a public corporation under the designation of "joint highway district No. — of the state of California."

§ 8. Purpose of districts. The purpose for which the joint districts may be created is to provide the necessary authority and means to construct and maintain the highway described in the initiatory resolution in and through the several counties constituting the district; such highway to be continuous and afford adequate intercommunication for vehicular traffic. This act shall be so construed as to facilitate the accomplishment of this purpose.

§ 9. Board of directors to manage district. Said joint highway districts shall be managed, and the powers herein conferred thereon, shall be exercised by a board of directors. Said directors shall be chosen and appointed as follows: One by the board of supervisors of each of the counties composing said district either from its members or other suitable person. Said directors shall serve during the pleasure of the appointing power. They shall receive no compensation for their services, but may be allowed actual expenses incurred by them in connection with the discharge of their duties under this act.

§ 10. Place of business. Secretary. President. Vice-president. Said board shall fix a place within the district for the transaction of its business, but may hold its meetings from time to time in any place in said district that will best serve the convenience of the public. A majority of the members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. It may make all rules necessary to the orderly transaction of such business. It shall appoint a secretary; may employ such additional clerical, or legal or engineering service as may be required from time to time and fix the compensation to be paid therefor. Said board shall organize within thirty days from the date of the creation of the district and the time and place of meeting for purposes of organization shall be fixed by the director chosen by the supervisors of the county adopting the initiatory resolution. It shall choose one of its members as president of the board, who shall preside at its meetings. A vice-president shall be appointed who shall act in the absence or disability of the president. The president shall perform such duties as the board may designate.

§ 11. Powers. Said joint highway district through its board of directors shall have power—

To lay out, construct and maintain a highway as specified in section three of this act.

To accept in the name of the district all gifts, donations or contributions from any source whatsoever made to further the purpose of this act, and the counties composing the district may convey such public highways as may be utilized as a part of the highway herein authorized to be constructed.

To acquire necessary lands, or rights of way for purposes of such highway.

To exercise the right of eminent domain necessary to acquire lands or rights of way for highway purposes.

To acquire and use such personal property as may be necessary in the exercise of the powers herein granted.

To employ such labor and service as may be necessary.

To arrange for the safekeeping of all funds belonging to the district and to this end may appoint a treasurer or depository, and exact from him such bonds or other security as may be proper.

To sue and be sued.

To adopt a seal.

§ 12. Contingent fund. For the purpose of providing a contingent fund for the district and to meet the incidental expenses thereof, the boards of supervisors of the several counties comprising the district are hereby authorized and directed to appropriate from any money received by such counties under the provisions of the "vehicle act," in effect January 1, 1916, or any act in continuance thereof or supplemental thereto, such percentage thereof as may be determined by the board of directors of the joint district by a resolution adopted by a vote of all of its members. Such sums so appropriated shall be paid by warrant drawn in the name of the joint highway district, and shall be deposited with the treasurer or depository of the district.

§ 13. Survey of highway. Report by engineer. As soon as practicable after the organization of the board of directors of the district, said board shall cause to be surveyed and located the highway authorized by this act to be constructed or such portion thereof as may be deemed expedient, and for that purpose may employ an engineer and necessary assistants. Upon the completion of such survey the engineer shall file a report thereof with the board of directors together with all necessary maps, drawings and plans of construction, other than detailed drawings and specifications, also an estimate covering the cost of the completion of said highway, including rights of way therefor and interest to be paid during construction.

§ 14. Hearing on report. Assessment covering estimated cost. Upon filing said report the board of directors shall fix a time and place for considering the same. The hearing thereon may be continued from time to time or from place to place in the different counties, if so desired.

Upon such hearing being had said board of directors shall make an assessment covering such estimated cost, upon the state of California, and the several counties comprising the district according to the benefits that may result from the construction of such highway to said state and counties and the people residing therein, or may assess not to exceed one-fourth of such estimated cost upon such land in private ownership as may be benefited thereby in the manner provided by this act.

§ 15. Order determining benefits. Upon the conclusion of such hearing such board of directors shall make an order determining the amount of the benefits to accrue to the state and to each county comprising the district and to the people residing therein and shall make an assessment against the state and said counties in proportion to the benefits so to accrue, in a sum equal to said estimated cost, or as much thereof as may be necessary, but said estimated cost if deemed excessive may be reduced to such an amount as the board of directors shall seem proper. The amount of such assessment shall be certified to and transmitted to the state board of control and to the boards of supervisors of the counties constituting the district.

§ 16. Appeal to advisory board. In case the state board of control or the board of supervisors deem that the assessment imposed upon the state or such county be excessive or that it has been inequitably treated, the state board of control or such board of supervisors, within forty days from the receipt of the certificate referred to in the preceding section, may appeal from the order of the board of directors of the district to the advisory board of the state engineering department. Such appeal shall be in writing and set forth the nature of the objection and a copy thereof shall be filed with the board of directors of the district, with the advisory board of the state engineering department and with the boards of supervisors of the counties constituting the district.

§ 17. Hearing. Judgment. Upon filing such appeal, the said advisory board shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the same. It may take testimony and hear all parties interested. It may change or modify any of the plans of the engineer, and may reduce the estimate of cost or change or modify any assessment or make a new assessment. Its judgment shall be final and conclusive, and a copy thereof shall be filed with the state board of control and with the boards of supervisors of the counties composing the district.

§ 18. Assessment charge on state and counties. Installments. Time for payment of first installment. The amount of the assessment imposed by the board of directors of the district, or by the said advisory board, shall be a charge, respectively, upon the state and the counties composing the district to the amount determined as herein provided, and shall be payable in five annual installments; provided, that should any installment exceed a sum equal to that which could be raised by a tax of five cents upon each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation as the same appears upon the assessment-roll of a county, then in the case of such county the number of annual installments may be increased to such a number that the amount of each installment will be less than that which would result from the levy of such tax. The first installment shall be payable on or before the first day of January following the filing of the assessment with the state board of control and boards of supervisors; provided, said assessment shall have been so filed prior to the first day of September preceding; otherwise it shall be payable on the first day of the second January succeeding such filing. The remaining installments shall be payable on the same day in each succeeding year.

§ 19. Payment of installments. On or before the time fixed by law for levying taxes for county purposes, the boards of supervisors of each county composing the district shall make provision for the payment of the amount of the installment of the assessment, either by the payment of the same from the moneys received from the state as herein stated or from a tax levied for that purpose, which tax shall be in addition to all taxes levied for county purposes. The amount assessed against the state in the discretion of the state board of control, may be paid in one installment and from any fund now available, or which may hereafter be made available for the purpose, or out of special appropriations for the purpose made by the legislature. Moneys shall be paid by the state treasurer upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon demands made by the state engineering department and audited by the state board of control.

§ 20. "Construction fund." All moneys received by the joint highway district, unless otherwise provided herein, shall be kept in a fund to be named "construction fund" and shall be paid out upon the order of the board of directors only for the construction of the highway herein provided.

§ 21. "Revenue bonds." Maturity. Board of directors determine form, etc. Interest rate. Purchase by state board of control. At any time after the assessment, either against the state, the several counties or the land within an assessment district has been made, the board of directors of the district may anticipate the payment thereof and may issue "revenue bonds" against the fund into which shall be paid all sums paid on account of the assessments imposed. The maturity of any bonds issued shall be subsequent to the date upon which any installment of assessment is due and the amount to become due shall not exceed the amount of such installment of assessment available to pay the same. The intent of the foregoing provision is that there shall be available for the payment of the principal and interest of all bonds issued a sum sufficient to pay the same at the time such interest and principal become due, and it shall be the duty of the board of directors to make provision for the payment of all bonds issued and interest thereon prior to their sale and delivery.

The bonds shall be issued at such times and in such amounts as may be required to meet the payment of the demands of the district, as may be determined by the board of directors. The form, denomination, rate of interest, time, place and manner of payment and all matters relating to such issuance shall be determined by the board of directors of the district; provided, that the rate of interest shall not exceed five per centum per annum.

The bonds so issued shall be sold in such amounts as the board of directors may determine. The state board of control is hereby authorized to purchase such bonds and pay for them out of any surplus money in the state treasury which, in its judgment, shall not be required for governmental purposes prior to the maturity of such bonds. The boards of supervisors of the several counties shall likewise have authority to purchase such bonds with any surplus funds under their control.

§ 22. Highway assessment district. Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the board of directors that any land under private ownership will be benefited by the construction of the highway herein provided for, said board of directors, after the receipt of the report and estimates of costs herein required to be made and filed, may adopt a resolution of intention substantially in the following form:

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION.

Whereas, it appears to the satisfaction of the board of directors of joint highway district number — of the state of California, that land under private ownership will be benefited by the construction of a highway provided for in an act entitled: "An act providing for the creation, organization and government of joint highway districts composed of two or more counties of the state of California," therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of directors of said joint highway district to create a highway assessment district to comprise all the land under private ownership within the following boundaries to wit: (Here set forth the boundaries of the proposed district.)

Further resolved, That it is the intention to assess the sum of $—, being a — part of the estimated cost of said highway construction as appears upon the report of the district engineer filed in the office of the board of directors of said district, upon the land within the boundaries of said proposed district as herein described in the manner provided in said act.

Further resolved, That — the — day of — 19—, at the hour of — at (meeting place of the board of directors) is hereby fixed as the time and place for hearing all objections that may be made to the creation of said district or the amount of benefits to be assessed as aforesaid; also to hear and determine all claims for damages that may result from the construction of the highway aforesaid.

Reference to the aforesaid report of the district engineer for further particulars is here made.

Adopted by the board of directors of joint highway district number — of the state of California, this — day of —, 19—.

_____,
Directors.

Attest: — —,
Secretary.

Time for hearing. The time of hearing shall be not less than thirty nor more than forty days from the date of the adoption of the above resolution.

§ 23. Notice of resolution. Proof of publication. Posting of notices. The board of directors shall cause a notice of the passage of such resolution including a copy of the same to be published five times in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties composing the district or two times in a newspaper published less than six days a week, or if no newspaper be published in any county then such notice shall be posted in three public places in such county for a period of ten days. The first publication in each of said counties shall be within five days after the adoption of said resolution of intention. Such notice shall be headed by the words "notice of intention to create highway assessment district." Proof of the publication of such notice shall be made by affidavit filed in the office of the secretary of the board of directors and such publication and proof shall be held sufficient to vest jurisdiction in the board of directors to hear and determine all matters authorized by this act to be so heard at the time and place of hearing fixed by the said resolution of intention.

The board of directors shall also cause to be conspicuously posted within fifty feet of all points where the highway proposed to be constructed shall intersect existing public highways two copies of the notice herein required to be published. Said notice shall be headed as herein specified and the words of said heading shall be in type at least two inches in height and the body of said notice shall be set in what is known as twelve-point or pica type. Said notices shall be posted within ten days from the date of the adoption of the resolution of intention.

§ 24. District engineer to prepare map. The district engineer shall be directed to prepare a map showing the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, the line of the proposed highway, intersecting highways, boundary lines of the counties, the separate parcels of land within the district and names of the owners thereof as nearly as the same may be ascertained from the records of the assessors' office in the several counties. Said map shall be completed before the date set for the hearing.

§ 25. Objections. Any person who may be affected by the creation of the proposed assessment district may make objection thereto. Objections shall be in writing signed by the objector or his agent and filed prior to the day fixed for the hearing. Objections may be made to the boundaries of the district or to the amount of the assessment proposed to be imposed. Claims for damages to result from the construction of the highway or the grade thereof as delineated upon the map or profile drawings of the district made by district engineer shall also be presented prior to the day of hearing and a failure to present such claims shall be deemed to be an express waiver thereof.

§ 26. Hearing of objections. At the time fixed in the resolution of intention for hearing objections, or at such time as such hearing may be continued, and all parties shall be deemed to have notice of such continuance, the board of directors shall hear and determine all objections that may be made and it shall be competent for said board to hear and determine any or all objections of every kind or nature even though such objections shall not be expressly authorized by this act, and also may pass upon, compromise or determine any claim for damages presented as herein provided.

§ 27. Changing boundaries, etc. Claims for damages. Order by board of directors. At the conclusion of the hearing the board of directors may change the boundaries of the proposed district, but may not include any territory outside thereof, may reduce the total amount of the assessment proposed to be imposed, change or modify any grades of a proposed highway and may sustain or overrule any other objections or generally overrule all objections that may have been made. It may also reject or approve in whole or in part any claim for damages. The total amount of all claims for damages that may be allowed shall be added to the estimate of the cost of the proposed highway and one-fourth of such amount of claims may be added to the amount of assessment proposed to be imposed unless such estimate shall already have provided for such damages.

All matters pertaining to the hearing having been heard and determined, the board of directors shall cause an order to be entered in its minutes ordering the construction of the proposed highway, creating a highway assessment district for the purposes of this act and describing the boundaries of the highway assessment district in accordance with this determination, declare the amount of the assessment to be imposed and assessing the same upon the land within the district, which shall be deemed to be the benefits thereto accruing from such proposed highway construction, and the same to be distributed to and imposed upon the several parcels of land within the district and to be paid as in this act provided, and fix the number of annual installments in which such assessment may be paid. All objections not specifically set forth in said order shall be deemed to have been disallowed and overruled. The order shall also approve the map of the district made as herein provided.

§ 28. Order sent to assessors and recorders. Copies of said order and the map so approved shall be forthwith transmitted to the assessor and recorder of the several counties comprising the joint highway district. The recorder shall record said order and map as provided by law without charge therefor. The assessor shall preserve said map and in making any assessment-roll shall cause all parcels of land within the assessment district to be separately valued so that the value of all the land therein shall be definitely ascertained.

§ 29. Statement of total assessed value. On or before the fifteenth day of August in each year the auditor of each of the counties composing the district shall certify and transmit to the secretary of the joint highway district a statement showing the total assessed value of the land within his county included in the assessment district created as herein provided.

§ 30. Secretary to determine amount of installment. Immediately upon receipt of the statements required by the preceding section, the secretary of said joint highway district shall ascertain the amount of the installment of the assessment due and to be paid within the year thereafter. The sum so ascertained shall be the amount to be raised by taxation upon all the property within the assessment district. He shall apportion the said amount to the several counties composing the district according to the assessed value of the land therein as certified and shall transmit to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of said counties a statement showing the total assessed value of the land within these counties included in the assessment district and the amount of money required to be raised by a tax imposed thereon.

§ 31. Levy of special tax in district. At the time and in the manner provided by law for the levying of taxes by board of supervisors, the board of supervisors in each of the counties composing the joint highway district shall levy a special tax upon all the land within the highway assessment district and within the county, sufficient to raise the sum of money required by this act and as certified by the secretary of the joint highway district.

§ 32. Collected at time of county tax. The tax so levied shall be computed and collected in the time and manner required by law for the computation and collection of taxes for county purposes and the land subject to such tax shall be subject to the same penalties for delinquencies, and the same provisions of law relating to the sale and redemption of land for nonpayment of county taxes, shall apply to the tax herein authorized.

§ 33. Moneys paid to treasurer. All money collected as the proceeds of a tax levied as herein provided shall be paid by the tax collector to the treasurer of the joint highway district and placed to the credit of the funds of the district as herein provided.

§ 34. Additional reports. It is hereby expressly provided that the entire highway originally described need not be provided for in the report of the engineer made as provided in section thirteen of this act. Additional reports may be made from time to time as the same shall be deemed expedient and provide for the construction of other sections of

§ 1. Powers of boards of supervisors to do road work. Prohibited work. Power is hereby vested in the board of supervisors of every county in this state, by and under the procedure prescribed in this act, to grade or regrade to the official grade, plank or replank, pave or repave, macadamize or remacadamize, gravel or regravell, pile or repile, cap or recap, oil or reoil the whole or any portion of roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes or alleys so far as not within the territory of any incorporated city or town, and so far as by dedication or otherwise, public and open to public use, and to do so for any length or width of the same, one of the same or any number of the same in combination, and to construct therein or thereon sidewalks, sewers, manholes, culverts, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks, and to do the aforesaid things singly or in any combination of the same, and the various items of the said work and constructions need not be continuous; and to issue bonds representing the costs and expenses of any said work or constructions as in this act hereafter provided; and to constitute a fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided; and to constitute a special fund for the payment of such bonds as in this act hereafter provided; and to levy special assessment taxes upon a district as in this act hereafter provided; and to establish said district and determine its boundaries as in this act hereafter provided; and, as incidental to the exercise of the powers aforesaid, to establish official grades within said district and such districts; and to transfer from county road funds to such special funds as in this act hereafter provided; and to purchase material and furnish the same to be used in the doing of any of the works above named.

But said board of supervisors are hereby prohibited from doing, under the provisions of this act, any work, except sewer or drain work, within the roadway of any railroad or within any area which by law is required to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, and this prohibition shall have the effect of excepting the prohibited work from that described in any resolution of intention in any proceeding under this act, and of charging all persons with notice of such exception or exclusion, and such exception of said prohibited work need not be made in any such resolution of intention. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1370.]

§ 3. Resolution of intention. Form of resolution. Before ordering any work to be done under this act, the board of supervisors shall pass a resolution of intention so to do. Such resolution may, in form, and shall, in substance, be (filling all blanks) as indicated following, to wit:

In the matter of road district improvement No. ——. Resolution of intention No. — (the same number for both blanks.)

Resolved, That it is the intention of the board of supervisors of the county of —, state of California, proceeding under and by virtue of the road district improvement act of 1907, and in the matter of road improvement district No. —, on the — day of —, 19—, at the hour of — M. of that day or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at the chambers of said board, to order work to be done, as follows: (Here insert a description of the work, stating the territorial extent thereof with all reasonable exactness, and in other particulars generally, yet so as to indicate fairly and approximately its probable cost), the said work to be done in accordance with the specifications therefor filed with the clerk of said board on the — day of —, 19—, except as the boundaries of the district and grades therein specified may be changed at the hearing of the matter hereinafter mentioned, which specifications are made part hereof, and to which all persons are referred for further particulars as to said work. For the costs and expenses of the work and the proceeding bonds will be issued to the amount of the same, bearing interest at the rate of — per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and one — part of the principal annually, all in gold coin and the aggregate principal of said bonds shall be paid and discharged within “—” years from the issue thereof.

A special fund for the payment of said bonds is to be constituted by the levy of special assessment taxes upon all land within a district to be known as “road improvement district No. — of the county of—,” (and it may be added, “and partly by transfer of moneys from county road funds”).

Such district (as proposed) being all that territory in the county of —, state of California, within exterior boundaries as follows, to wit: — (the blank to be filled with a careful statement of the exterior boundaries of the district).

Notice is hereby given that at the time specified hereinbefore for ordering the work, the matter of said road district improvement No. — will come up for hearing, and all objections, which are, under the provisions of said road district improvement act of 1907, entitled to be heard or determined, will then be heard and determined, and the boundaries of said district and grades therein be finally determined and established.

The — (here insert name and character of newspaper), is hereby designated as the newspaper for making publication of this resolution and for making all other publications in the proceeding.

—, a competent person, is hereby appointed superintendent of work with compensation at the rate of — dollars per diem for days actually spent in the performance of duty under this appointment, (or, in lieu of the paragraph last preceding, it may appear, “—, a county officer is hereby appointed superintendent of work without compensation”).

The foregoing resolution was, on the — day of —, 19—, passed by the board of supervisors of the county of —, state of California.

Attest — —,

Clerk of the board of supervisors of said county of —,

By — —,

Deputy Clerk.

The principal and interest of the bonds representing the cost of work done under the provisions of this act, shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of America, and the board of supervisors is authorized to determine the time, not to exceed twenty years, in which bonds issued to represent the cost of the work shall be paid, and to determine the rate, not to exceed seven per cent per annum, of the interest to be paid thereon, which interest shall be payable semi-annually, and to make such bonds in all respects as indicated by the form therefor, in this act hereafter provided. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1370.]

§4. Publication of resolution. Copies posted. Power to proceed. Evidence of facts. Such resolution of intention shall be filed, and be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper therein designated, which shall be a newspaper published and circulated in the county, or, if there be no such newspaper, then in any newspaper designated by said board of supervisors in such resolution. Printed copies of such resolution, headed, "notice of road district improvement," such heading to be in letters not less than one inch in length, shall be, by the superintendent of work, or by some person appointed by him for the purpose, posted along the line of work described in said resolution, at not more than one hundred feet in distance apart, but not less than three in all.

Affidavits in proof of such publication and posting shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. When, before the day of the hearing specified in the resolution of intention, twenty days have elapsed since the posting and the first publication (they need not be simultaneous) of the resolution of intention, the board of supervisors shall have acquired power to proceed with such hearing and to take all other action in the proceeding as is in this act authorized.

The determination of the board of supervisors to proceed with such hearing, whether evidenced by an express declaration or by its proceedings to make other determinations at such hearing, shall be presumptive evidence, at least, of the existence of all of the facts upon which the power of the board to proceed depends, except such as are required to appear of the record in the proceeding, and except, also, in so far as such presumption is rebutted by the record in the proceeding. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1372.]

§ 7. Publication of notice inviting bids. Consideration of bids. Notice of award to be published. Bonds accompanying bids. Successful bidder to pay for advertising. The notice inviting sealed proposals or bids shall be published by at least two insertions in the newspaper designated in the resolution of intention and, not necessarily simultaneously, a copy or copies of the same be posted and kept posted for five days, at or near the chamber door of the board of supervisors. All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the order of the presiding officer of the board of supervisors, certified by a responsible bank for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal or bid, or by a bond for said amount running to the presiding officer of the board of supervisors, signed by the bidder, with two sureties qualifying each in said amount over and above all statutory exemptions before an officer competent to administer an oath.

Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said board, and said board shall, in open session, examine and declare the same, but no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said check or such bond in terms satisfactory to the board. The board may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest regular proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work to the lowest responsible bidder at the price named in his bid.

A notice of such award, attested by the clerk of the board of supervisors, shall be published two days and posted for five days in the same manner as hereinbefore provided with respect to the notice inviting proposals or bids.

The check or bonds accompanying such accepted proposals or bids shall be kept by the clerk of said board until the contract for doing said work, as hereinafter provided, has been entered into. If said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract for said work, as hereinafter provided, then the certified check accompanying his bid, and the amount therein mentioned, shall be declared forfeited to the county, and may be collected by it and paid into its road fund, and any bond forfeited may be prosecuted, and the amount thereof collected and paid into said fund.

Before being entitled to a contract the bidder to whom the award thereof has been made must advance and pay to the clerk of the board of supervisors, for payment by him the costs and expenses of publishing and posting resolutions, notices and orders required under this act to be made, which have been made, given, posted or published in the proceeding. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1373.]

§ 9a. If contractor fails to carry out contract. Action to recover on bond. If the contractor shall fail to begin in good faith the work provided for in said contract within the time in said contract set forth, or shall fail thereafter to prosecute said work in a workmanlike and diligent manner, or shall fail in any other respect to carry out the terms of said contract, then the board of supervisors shall cause written notice to be served upon said contractor, specifying the particular or particulars in which he fails to fulfill the requirements of said contract and if for a period of three days thereafter said contractor shall fail to remedy the defects set forth in said notice, and to prosecute said work thereafter with diligence and in a workmanlike manner, then the board of supervisors shall either take over said contract and complete said work, or shall relet said contract, without the necessity of advertising for bids, and cause the work to be completed, and shall declare the bond given by said contractor forfeited and order suit brought thereon, and all moneys collected therefrom shall be paid into the general road fund of the county.

If the contractor shall fail to pay for any labor or material furnished for, or in the doing of said work, by any person, such person shall have and hold a lien against the bonds to be issued to cover the cost and expenses of said work. Such person may at any time prior to the issuance of said bonds file with the county treasurer a verified statement of the fact that he has not been paid for such labor or material. The county treasurer shall withhold from the contractor or anyone claiming under him as assignee or otherwise, sufficient of said bonds to satisfy such claim, and costs which can reasonably be anticipated. Such claimant, if he so elects, and if he has not received the said bonds, may as an alternative, at any time within six months after the filing of such statement bring an action on the bond of the sureties in his own name, or if he has assigned his claim, the action may be brought in the name of the assignee; provided, however, that the right of the county to recover on said bond shall be superior to the rights of such claimant to recover thereon. [Amendment approved May 15, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 558.]

§ 12. Bonds to be issued in road districts. Road district improvement bond. Upon the expiration of twenty days from the making of the final order mentioned in section eleven of this act, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall transmit to the county treasurer of the county an attested copy of said final order, and upon receipt of the same the treasurer shall proceed to issue bonds amounting in the aggregate to the principal sum for which bonds are to be issued as the same is stated in said final order. Said bonds, when issued, shall be dated as of the day when said final order of the board of supervisors was made. A bond may be issued in any amount, provided that the aggregate of the bond or bonds made payable in any one year is the proper part of the whole principal of the bond issue as specified in said final order, and that the interest thereon shall be payable as hereinafter provided. The said bonds may in form and shall in substance be as indicated following, to wit:

ROAD DISTRICT IMPROVEMENT BOND.

County of —, State of California.

Road Improvement District No. —.

§ —.

Bond No. —.

Under and by virtue of an act of the legislature of the state of California, known as the "road district improvement act of 1907" (here may be inserted a further designation of the act, if desired) the county of —, state of California, will pay to the bearer, out of the fund hereinafter designated, at the office of the treasurer of the said county, on the — day of —, 19—, the sum of — dollars in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon, in like gold coin at the rate of — per cent per annum, payable semi-annually on the second day of January and the second day of July of each year from the date hereof (except the last installment thereof, which shall be payable at maturity of this bond) upon presentation and surrender, as they respectively become due, of the proper interest coupons hereto attached, the first of which is for interest from date hereof to the next date of interest payment, and the last for interest to maturity hereof from the last preceding date of interest payment.

This bond is issued under and in conformity to the provisions of the above-mentioned "road district improvement act of 1907" and the amendments thereof, and is one of a series of bonds of like date and effect numbered from one to —, consecutively, amounting in the aggregate to — dollars, issued in behalf of road improvement district number — of said county, which constitute the only indebtedness of said district. It is hereby certified, recited and declared that all proceedings, acts and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

This bond is payable out of road district improvement fund number — exclusively, as the same appears on the books of the treasurer of said county, and neither said county nor any officer thereof shall be holden for its payment otherwise; but in accordance with said act the board of supervisors of said county will annually, at the time of levying other taxes, levy upon all the land in said road improvement district a special assessment tax in an amount clearly sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds as the same shall become payable.

In witness whereof said county has caused this bond to be signed by the chairman of its board of supervisors and countersigned by its treasurer and the seal of said board to be hereto affixed and said interest coupons to be signed by the said treasurer this — day of —, 19—.

Chairman of the board of supervisors of the county of —.

[Seal of board of supervisors.]

Countersigned: —,

Treasurer of the county of —.

Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors and countersigned by the treasurer of the county, and shall have the seal of said board of supervisors thereto affixed, and when so signed shall be binding according to the terms thereof as prescribed in said form. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall be in such form as the said treasurer may determine, subject to the provisions of this act and the determination made by the board of supervisors, and their signature by said treasurer alone, by either written or lithographed or printed facsimile signature, shall be sufficient. Said bonds shall be delivered by the said treasurer to said contractor or to his order, assignee, or lawful representative.

The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power to determine the number of years, not to exceed twenty, within which the aggregate principal of bonds to be issued under this act shall be paid and discharged, and to fix the rate of interest, not to exceed seven per cent per annum, to be paid thereon, and it shall be a sufficient determination and fixing of the same to set forth in the resolution of intention that bonds will issue for the work, in any terms that will fairly indicate such time and such rate and the fractional part of the principal to be paid each year, which part shall be the same for each of the years covered by the bond issued.

The interest payments on said bonds shall be payable semi-annually on the second days of January and July of each year (except the last installment, which shall be payable at maturity of the bonds) in the manner indicated in said form of bond, and the interest and principal shall be payable at the office of the county treasurer in gold coin of the United States of America; but it shall not be necessary, either in the resolution of intention or otherwise, to set forth or determine the days of the month on which payments of interest are to be made, nor that payments shall be made in such gold coin, nor that payments shall be made at such treasurer's office, but all persons are charged with notice of the contents of this section, especially in the aforesaid particulars. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 516.]

§ 13a. Materials furnished to contractor. The board of supervisors, by a four-fifths vote, may adopt a resolution setting forth that the improvement to be made is of more than local importance, and that all or a portion of the materials needed for the improvement are to be purchased and furnished to the contractor and paid for out of the general road fund or out of the fund of the road district in which the improvement lies, or if it lies in two or more road districts, out of the funds of such districts in a proportion to be determined by the board of supervisors, and may thereupon purchase and furnish to the contractor such materials, and pay for the same in the manner set forth in said resolution; provided, however, that no material shall be furnished the contractor unless the specifications contain a statement of the kind and amount of the material to be furnished, and only in the amount and of the kind set forth in said specifications. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1374.]

§ 14. Engineer of work. The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power as follows, to wit:

1. To appoint, at any stage of the proceeding before calling for proposals or bids, any competent engineer, to be designated "engineer of work," for the purpose of doing and furnishing all the civil engineering work or services, surveying and similar work and services necessary to the proper doing of the work. His compensation or at least the rate or some basis for computing the same shall be fixed and stated in the order of his appointment, which said order shall be entered in the minutes of the board; provided, any county officer may be appointed as such engineer without compensation.

2. Superintendent of work. To appoint, in and as a part of the resolution of intention, any competent person to be designated "superintendent of work," whose duty it shall be to perform the services for him in this act prescribed or indicated, and to have the general actual supervision of the work. His compensation shall be fixed at the time and in the resolution of his appointment at a per diem not to exceed five dollars for all time actually devoted to the work; provided, any county officer may be appointed as such superintendent without compensation.

3. Specifications. To designate any competent person for the purpose of preparing and furnishing the specifications required by section two of this act, and with such designation to fix his compensation, or some basis for computing the same, or to appoint any county officer of the county without compensation.

4. Appointees. Not charge against county. Supervisors ineligible. To appoint and designate other competent persons in the places respectively of the persons so originally appointed, with compensation, so far as practicable, proportionately the same as fixed for the original appointee, and to appoint such additional persons as may be needed to carry on said work; and to fix their compensation which shall be a charge against the district.

No part of such or any compensation for said officers or employees, or for services rendered by any of them shall be a charge against the county or any officer thereof; except that for furnishing specifications and posting the resolution of intention the county shall be liable in case the proceedings cease or are abandoned, before the award of the contract; provided, however, that whenever any county officer is appointed to any of the positions hereinabove mentioned without compensation, the actual and necessary expenses incurred under his supervision, including the compensation of other persons, made necessary by the duties of such positions shall be a charge against the county but shall be repaid to the county by the contractor as in the following section provided.

No member of the board of supervisors shall be eligible to appointment to any office, position or employment under this act, except as county officer without pay. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1375.]

§ 15. Costs paid by contractor. All the costs and expenses of the proceeding, inclusive especially of the compensation of the person appointed to furnish the specifications, of the superintendent of work, of the engineer of work, of the cost of all publications under this act required to be made, shall be chargeable to and paid by the contractor, and they shall have been paid before delivery of the bonds shall be made by the county treasurer; provided, however, that if said costs and expenses are not paid within ten days after the notice given that said bonds, excepting such number thereof as may be withheld to satisfy claims filed as hereinabove provided are ready for delivery, a sufficient number of said bonds may be sold at not less than ninety-five per cent of their face value to fully satisfy said costs and expenses, any surplus over said costs and expenses obtained by such sale to be paid to said contractor; provided, further, that the county treasurer may make delivery of such bonds, if there be deposited with him, subject to the order of the board of supervisors, money to the amount of the costs and expenses chargeable to the contractor as the same is stated in the attested order of the board of supervisors, provided for in section twelve of this act. The contractor and all persons claiming under him any interest in said bonds, whether of ownership, lien or otherwise, shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of this section. [Amendment approved May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1376.]

§ 15½. Adjustments with contractor. Whenever a contractor pays into the county treasury an amount larger or smaller than that actually due for incidental or preliminary expenses, the difference thus arising shall be adjusted by transfers from or to the interest and sinking fund of the district for which the payment was made, to or from the proper fund of the county. [New section added May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1336.]

An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways; to provide for the formation, government and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex-officio boards of supervisors.

Amended 1911, p. 439; 1913, p. 447; 1915, p. 943; 1917, p. 1521.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 16. Disposition of funds. Remainder transferred to city treasurer. The revenue derived from said tax, together with all other moneys acquired in any manner whatsoever by the lighting district shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the lighting fund of the district wherein said tax was collected, subject only to the order of the board of supervisors of said district, and to be by them expended only for and on behalf of the district wherein such money was collected; provided, however, that any funds arising from assessments made under the provisions of this act, and remaining in said county treasury after the payment of all outstanding legal obligations incurred by the district, shall be ordered transferred, by the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is situated, to the city treasurer of the city, if any there be, that has been incorporated since the formation of said district, and which includes within its corporate limits such district or any considerable portion thereof. If such incorporation has not taken place, then said funds so remaining in said county treasury shall be transferred to a separate fund and, upon the order of the board of supervisors of the county, shall be repaid pro rata to the persons by whom the assessments were originally paid. [Amendment approved June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1521.]

§ 18a. Annexation of territory. Petition. Notice. Hearing. Order granting petition. The boundaries of any such highway lighting district may be altered and outlying contiguous territory in the same county in which a lighting district is situated annexed thereto in the following manner: A petition signed by the owners representing at least one-fourth in number of the total owners of real property, and at least one-fourth of the assessed valuation, as shown by the last equalized assessment-book of the county in which such lighting district is situated, of the real property, in such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed, designating the boundaries of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed and the number of owners of real property in such territory and the assessed valuation thereof, as shown by said last equalized assessment-book, and stating that such proposed territory is not within the limits of any other lighting district, and asking that such territory be annexed to said lighting district, shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which said lighting district is situated.

At their first regular meeting after the presentation of said petition, said board of supervisors shall cause notice of said petition to be published in a newspaper published and circulated in the county in which said lighting district is situated, if there be such a newspaper, otherwise by posting copies of said notice in three of the most conspicuous places in said territory proposed to be annexed, for three weeks prior to the date to be fixed by said board of supervisors for hearing said petition. Upon the date fixed for said hearing, or to which it may be continued, said board of supervisors shall take up and consider said petition, and any objections thereto which may be filed or to the inclusion of any property in said district.

Said board of supervisors shall have the power, by order entered on its minutes, to grant said petition either in whole or in part, and by order entered on its minutes to alter the boundaries of said lighting district, and annex thereto all, or such portion of said contiguous territory, described in said petition, as will be benefited by inclusion in said lighting district. No territory which will not be so benefited, or which is not contiguous to said lighting district, or which is not described in said petition shall be included in said district.

Such order shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of all prior proceedings leading to the annexation or recited in said order, and from and after the making of said order, such territory shall become and be a part of such lighting district and shall be taxed, together with the remainder of said district, for all taxes to be thereafter levied by said board of supervisors, for the maintenance of said lighting district. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917. p. 1522.]

§ 18b. If district annexed to city. If part of district annexed. Upon the annexation of all or of any portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city or city and county, all funds paid into the county treasury to the credit of the lighting fund of such district, if the whole of such district shall be annexed, shall be turned over by the board of supervisors of such district to the treasurer of said incorporated city, or city and county, and administered by the legislative body of said incorporated city, or city and county; said legislative body shall have all of the powers and perform all of the duties granted to or imposed upon the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is located and of the board of supervisors of said district, and shall carry out the provisions of this act as to such district to the same purpose and extent as if originally constituted, under the provisions of this act, the governing body thereof. Upon the expenditure of the funds and the discharge of the obligations and liabilities of any such lighting district, the whole of which has been annexed to an incorporated city, or city and county, such district shall ipso facto be dissolved with the same force and effect as if dissolved under the provisions of section eighteen of this act. In the event of the annexation of a portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city, or city and county, such proportionate part of the funds collected for the benefit of such district and remaining unexpended as the area of the territory so annexed bears to the total area of said district, shall be paid over to the treasurer of such incorporated city, or city and county, in the manner hereinabove provided, and administered by the legislative body of such city, or city and county, until the same are expended, for the benefit of the portion of such district so annexed. Upon the expenditure of such funds in the manner required in this act the territory of such district so annexed shall be deemed to be withdrawn from said lighting district and thereafter the remaining territory embraced in said district and not so annexed shall, upon a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors of the county in which such territory is located, be and become a lighting district within the meaning of this act and so remain until dissolved as provided in this act. [New section added June 1, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1523.]

An act calling a special election to be held on Tuesday, July 1, 1919, and providing for the submission thereat to the qualified electors of the state of an amendment to the constitution of the state of California known as Senate Constitutional Amendment Number 27, proposed by the legislature of said state at its forty-third session, providing for the issuance of bonds to the amount of forty million dollars for the completion of the state highway system and the acquisition and construction of other state highways by the state department of engineering, and making an appropriation for the purposes of this act. [Approved April 24, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 136. In effect immediately.]

ACT 1467a.

An act expressing assent of the state of California to the provisions of the act of congress approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes."

[Approved March 21, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 20. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Assent to act of congress approved July 11, 1916. The state of California hereby assents to the provisions of the act of congress approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, and for other purposes."

ACT 1467b.

An act authorizing counties and municipalities to perform street work upon highways under the control of the state.

[Approved May 3, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 138.]

§ 1. Local improvements on state highway. The several counties, municipalities and road divisions of this state, within the limits of which may exist a state highway or highways under the jurisdiction and control of the state engineering department, are hereby empowered to do or order to be done on such highways any paving, curbing, street work or sewer work authorized by law; provided, however, that permission to do any such work shall first be obtained from the state department of engineering and all grades, elevations or curb lines sought to be established or pavement proposed to be constructed by any county, municipality or road division shall first be approved by said engineering department of the state; and provided, further, that in case any existing pavement should be injured as a result of such work, such pavement shall be restored to the satisfaction of said engineering department.

ACT 1468a.

An act to provide for maintenance of county highways improved under bond issues in the counties of the state and empowering the boards of supervisors to levy taxes therefor.

[Approved May 1, 1911. Stats. 1911, p. 1391.]

Amended 1913; Stats. 1913, p. 1147; 1919, Stats. 1919, p. 342.

§ 2. County highway maintenance fund. The board of supervisors must annually, for each fiscal year, levy a tax not to exceed ten cents on each one hundred dollars of value of taxable property of the county for each one hundred miles or fraction thereof of improved county highways under a bond issue therefor. This tax shall be collectible by the several officers charged with the collection of other county taxes in the same manner, and at the same time as other county taxes are collectible on all property; and the collection must be paid into the county treasury, and by the county treasurer converted into a separate fund hereby created and known as the county highway maintenance fund. The money derived from such tax must be applied solely to the maintenance of county highways improved under a bond issue to cover the whole county. [Amendment approved May 7, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 342.]

TITLE 230.

HISTORIC PROPERTY.

ACT 1468d.

An act to create a commission for the purpose of making a survey of local historical material in the state of California; defining the power and duties of said commission; and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 12, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 1528.]

Amended 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 572.

The amendment of 1915 follows:

§ 4. Purpose of commission. Models of mission buildings. Notice. The purpose of this commission shall be to make a survey of the material on local history within the state of California by investigating documents in local depositories and in the possession of private individuals and other sources of original information on the early history of the state of California and to compile, keep and publish a record of such sources of information; and to investigate and acquire information as to the physical characteristics of the several missions which were maintained in the state of California under the charge of the Franciscan fathers prior to the time of the secularization thereof, and to cause to be made a record thereof, and to be created models of the several mission buildings and outbuildings connected therewith, which shall be accurate representations of the mission buildings and outbuildings connected with the same as they were at the time when the Franciscan fathers were in charge, and the same shall be known respectively as the California model of each particular mission in question, and the said commission shall cause to be prepared plans and specifications sufficient in detail to enable any of said buildings and outbuildings to be restored, and the commission shall have authority to pass upon and determine the relative accuracy of information to be obtained and to establish for the state the models and plans and specifications thereof; provided, however, that no model shall thus be established as the correct model of any mission unless the said commission shall first have published for a period of at least sixty days a notice to the public fixing a time and place at which any person interested in the said respective mission, or having information as to the condition of said mission buildings, or any part thereof, may present to the commission facts, papers, documents, records or other information substantiating the said person's ideas as to the condition of said mission buildings at the time in question, which notice must be published in one newspaper in the city of San Francisco, one newspaper in the city of Sacramento, one newspaper in the city of Los Angeles, and one newspaper in the county in which said mission building was situated.

ACT 1468f.

An act directing the California historical survey commission to prepare a record of California's part in the war between the United States and the central European powers and to compile biographical sketches of California's citizens who served in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States during said war, and making an appropriation to carry out the purposes hereof.

§ 1. History of California's service in great war. It shall be the duty of the California historical survey commission to prepare and compile for publication a record of California's part in the great war between the United States and the central European powers. It shall be the further duty of the said commission to prepare and compile for publication a book or books in which shall appear a brief biography, together with a picture or likeness if obtainable, of each citizen of the state of California who served in either the army, navy or marine corps of the United States of America at any time during said war.

§ 2. Appropriation. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, there is hereby appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars to be expended by the California historical survey commission in carrying out the duties imposed upon it by this act.

TITLE 241.

HOTELS.

ACT 1530.

An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging-houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof. [Approved June 16, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 1429.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1422. See next Act.

ACT 1530a.

An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of hotels, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which hotels are erected or located, in all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging-houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, Statutes of California of 1913, page 1429.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1422. In effect September 1, 1917.]

§ 1. Title. This act shall be known as the "state hotel and lodging-house act," and its provisions shall apply to all parts of the state of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties.

§ 2. Duty of building department. Duty of housing department. In case no such departments. Enforcement. Power of commission of immigration and housing. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of hotels and to issue the certificate of "final completion" hereinafter provided.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" and if there is no housing department the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of hotels after said hotels have been erected, constructed or altered, as the case may be, and the certificate of "final completion" has been issued by the building department and to issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department or health department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.

In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the state of California shall have authority, and it is hereby empowered and given authority, to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of hotels in all parts of the state of California, including all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, in the state of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

§ 3. Unlawful to construct hotel contrary to act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any hotel or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any hotel or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any hotel or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 4. Alterations. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any hotel hereafter erected, or to increase the height, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act; or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway or fire-escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

§ 5. Building converted to use as hotel. Building moved. Building reconstructed. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a hotel at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected.

A building used as a hotel at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any hotel which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of fifty-one per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected.

§ 6. Penalty for violation. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Procedure. Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of hotels or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a hotel, or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

§ 7. Permit to erect hotel. Application for permit. Affidavit. Permit issued. Revocation. Plans kept on premises. Permit for nominal alterations. Expiration of permit. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion or alteration of a hotel, or to move or to build upon a hotel, or to convert a building or any portion thereof into use as a hotel without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a permit shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said application shall give a detailed statement in writing, verified under oath by the person making the same, of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. The said application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the hotel, or alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the construction of the proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered or moved, as the case may be. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor; also shall give such other data and information as in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act is deemed necessary.

The affidavit to said application shall allege that the plans and specifications are true and contain a correct description of the proposed hotel, lot and proposed work. If any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person shall not be recognized except that he allege in his affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit. Said department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all such plans, specifications and statements to be examined, and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall then issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the person to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such hotel, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed, and for which the permit is issued.

A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon, shall be kept upon the premises of the hotel or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alterations or repairs, when application is made therefore, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs do not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the hotel, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

§ 8. "Certificate of final completion" and "permit of occupancy." Renewal of permit of occupancy. Certificate issued. Permit issued. Hotel occupied without certificate or permit deemed nuisance. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied, any hotel hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a "certificate of final completion" and a "permit of occupancy" by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

It shall also be unlawful to occupy any existing hotel until a permit of occupancy has been issued by the department designated to issue such permit.

Every permit of occupancy shall be renewed each calendar year by the department designated to issue the said permit; provided, that no structural alteration, or changes have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion; and provided, that all other provisions of this act have been complied with.

Any person desiring a certificate shall file a notice with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said department shall cause an inspection to be made of the said hotel or portion thereof, or work described in the said notice, within ten days after written application therefor, and shall issue a "certificate of final completion" if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy, shall issue the said "permit of occupancy" upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of such statements or records required by the department, after the "certificate of final completion" has been issued; provided, that no violations have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion, or, in the case of a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, and for which no certificate of final completion has been issued, then after the said department has caused an inspection to have been made of the said hotel and has found that all of the provisions of this act applying to such hotel have been complied with.

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

Any hotel hereafter erected, altered, converted or moved, which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a "certificate of final completion" or a "permit of occupancy" being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated, until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 9. Power to enter hotel. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Definitions. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building departments," "health department," "housing department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the hotel is situated.

"Approved" means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which is approved by local ordinance of the municipality in which the building is situated, or any appliance, appurtenance, or other matter which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the "national board of fire underwriters"; provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance or other matter shall be deemed "approved" for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts. Every basement is a story.

"Building" is a hotel.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

"Court" is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard on the lot on which is situated a hotel. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side yard, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an "outer court." Every court which is not an "outer court" is an "inner court."

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms abutting the said court, except that a cornice on the building may extend into an "outer court" two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and a cornice may extend into an "inner court" one inch for each one foot in width of such court.

"Curb level" is the curb level opposite the center of the "front of lot."

Wherever the word "department" is used it means the building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

"Dormitory" is a room in which more than two persons are "guests" and are not living together, and shall, for the purpose of computing the number of rooms, be deemed a separate guest room for each one hundred square feet of superficial floor area therein.

"Fireproof hotel" is a building wherein all the exterior and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron; the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or hollow terra cotta tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either hollow terra cotta tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or of metal studs lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board, or constructed of wire glass not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in metal frames and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved incombustible material except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be of plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usual trim of rooms, hallways, corridors, and passageways may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the public hallways.

"Guest" is any person hiring and occupying a room for sleeping purposes, and shall include both boarders and lodgers.

"Guest room" is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied for sleeping purposes by one or more guests, but shall not be deemed to include dormitories used for sleeping purposes.

"Hotel" is any house or building, or portion thereof, containing six or more guest rooms which are let or hired out to be occupied, or which are occupied by six or more guests, whether the compensation for hire be paid directly or indirectly in money, goods, wares, merchandise, labor or otherwise, and shall include Turkish baths, bachelor hotels, studio hotels, public and private clubs and any building of any nature whatsoever so designed or occupied, except hospitals where persons temporarily reside and where each such person receives regular bona fide medical attendance on the premises, and jails, detention buildings and similar buildings where human beings are housed and detained under restraint.

"Housing department" is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of hotel, lodging-house or dwelling-house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a hotel, together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces for such a hotel as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the hotel.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets, is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof.

A lot which has only one boundary line bordering on a public street is an "interior lot."

"Rear lot" is a parcel or area of land having no boundary line bordering on a street, or having less than one-half of its width as a boundary line bordering on a street.

"Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either of the boundary lines may be the "front of lot."

"Rear of lot" is the boundary line thereof opposite the "front of lot."

"Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health; and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; also includes a firm, partnership, or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Public hallway" is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within a suite, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

"Rear hotel" is a hotel on a "rear lot."

"Semi-fireproof hotel" is a building with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete or hollow terra cotta tile, except that the walls of an inner court, which court is surrounded on four sides by the same building, may be constructed as provided in this act for such inner courts; interior partitions and floors constructed of approved incombustible materials or of wood, with all ceilings, partitions, soffits of stairways, and outside stringers of open stairways and stair-wells metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with approved plaster board, plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board; in which all finished floors, frames, doors and the usual trim of rooms and hallways may be built of wood, and the roof of which shall be covered with at least a composition fire-retardant material.

"Shall." Whenever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the "front of lot" to the opposite "front of lot" and which shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

"Turkish bath" is a dormitory or a combination of guest rooms, accommodating six (6) or more guests, in connection with which any form of bath or massage is given by the attendants to the guests.

"Wooden hotel" is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements for a fireproof or a semi-fireproof hotel as defined in this act, and shall include all frame and all veneered buildings. In every such building all ceilings and walls and partitions of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways and stair-wells shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

"Yard" is an open unoccupied space other than a court on the lot on which is situated a hotel, open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms abutting the said yard; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies, constructed of open metal work and fire-escapes may extend not more than four feet into a yard, providing they do not in any manner obstruct the light or ventilation of rooms. If such yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a "front yard." If it is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a "rear yard." If it extends from the rear yard to the front yard, or front of lot, it is a "side yard."

§ 11. Front yard. No hotel shall hereafter be erected on or moved onto a rear lot. No building for any purpose shall hereafter be erected in front of any hotel unless there shall be left unoccupied a front yard extending from the front of the rear hotel to the front line of lot bordering on the street.

Such front yard shall not be in any part less in width than fifty (50) per cent of the actual width of the rear hotel.

§ 12. Height. No fireproof hotel hereafter erected shall exceed one hundred fifty feet in height, nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No semi-fireproof hotel building hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than sixty-five feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No wooden hotel hereafter erected shall exceed three stories at any point, nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

The width of the street, for this purpose, shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the "front of lot" opposite, across the street.

For the purpose of this section, a basement is a story.

The height of a fireproof hotel is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the highest point of the roof. The height of a semi-fireproof or of a wooden hotel is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in the case of a semi-fireproof hotel situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed sixty-five feet above the curb level measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed seventy-five above the adjoining curb in case of a corner lot, or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot, and in the case of a wooden hotel situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed thirty-six feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed forty-six feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot.

§ 13. Yard serving two hotels. Distance between buildings. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve the purpose of two hotels hereafter erected, or of an existing hotel and a hotel hereafter erected, unless such yard or court, as the case may be, is of the full size required for two hotels, and then only in the event that such yard or court, as the case may be, is located on the same lot and owned by or in the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the hotel it proposes to serve.

Where a hotel, now or hereafter erected, stands upon a lot, no other building shall hereafter be placed upon the front or rear of that lot, unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least ten feet and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of ten feet for every story more than one in height of the highest building on such lot.

§ 14. Depth of rear yard. The depth of a rear yard shall be measured at right angles from the extreme rear line of the building towards the rear lot line.

§ 15. Minimum size of rear yard. The minimum size of every rear yard for a hotel hereafter erected shall be not less in width and in area than an inner court, except that if such rear yard is bounded on its entire one end or side by an outer court, or by a side yard or by a street, or by a public alley or park, then such rear yard shall be not less in width or exceed the maximum length of an outer court; provided, however, that if the lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley, to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required.

§ 16. Passageway to street. Every rear yard not bordering on a street or public alley and without direct access thereto shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway not less than three feet six inches in clear width, nor less than seven feet in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained and lighted.

§ 17. Excavated front yard. Every front yard which is excavated below the level of the curb or below the adjoining ground level for the purpose of furnishing light and ventilation to a basement shall in no part be less in width and length than required for outer courts.

§ 18. Width of side yard. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court, except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building connected one with the other across the rear of the building by the rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

§ 19. Minimum size of outer court. The minimum size of every outer court for a hotel hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Maximum length of court
1 story	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
2 stories	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
3 stories	4 ft. 6 in.	25 ft. 0 in.
4 stories	5 ft. 6 in.	30 ft. 0 in.
5 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
6 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
7 stories	10 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
8 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
9 stories	13 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
10 or more stories	14 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.

There shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional part thereof in excess of the maximum length; provided, however, that the maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, further, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

§ 20. Minimum size of inner court. The minimum size of every inner court for a hotel hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room, or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court in square feet
1 story	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

provided, however, that the minimum size of every inner court which is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line may be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room, or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court
1 story	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	9 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more.....	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Every inner court hereafter constructed and every inner court or vent shaft now in any hotel or lodging-house shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out.

§ 21. Recess. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a hotel hereafter erected shall unless it conforms to the requirements of this act for an inner court, or an outer court, be not less in width than its depth. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess proposes to serve.

§ 22. Intakes for inner court. Construction. Every inner court in a hotel of two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall be provided with one or more horizontal intakes at the bottom of the court, as follows:

Inner court areas	Minimum number of intakes	Net aggregate area of intakes
Each not exceeding 300 square feet.....	One	19½ square feet
Each not exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	40 square feet
Each exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	60 square feet

Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard, or rear yard, or to a side yard, or to a street, or to a public alley or park. Whenever more than one intake is required, one such intake shall extend to the front of lot or front yard, and one to the rear yard, public alley, public park, or to the other street, and the court ends of the air intakes shall be as far apart as possible.

Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intakes may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct, constructed of approved incombustible materials or lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof, having an interior area of not less than nineteen and one-half square feet, and in no dimension less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

§ 23. Cellars. In no hotel shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for sleeping purposes.

Every cellar shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floor of every cellar hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 24. Basements. In no hotel shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building, and that ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground level.

Every basement shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

§ 25. Ventilation beneath floor. In every hotel hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof shall be at least eighteen inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Such space under the floor shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation; provided, however, that in any such building the lowest floor thereof may be less than eighteen inches above the surface soil but in no case less than six inches (except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil) if the said floor is made impervious to the ingress of rats or other vermin, as follows:

(a) Floor made impervious to rats. Foundation walls shall be constructed of concrete or of brick or stone or other masonry laid in a good mortar or constructed of some other equally as rat-proof material.

(b) The said foundation walls shall be not less than six inches in thickness at the top nor less than twelve inches in thickness at the bottom, nor extend less than twelve inches below the surface soil, and except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, shall extend not less than six inches above the surface soil.

(c) Every opening in the foundation walls, for ventilation or for other purposes, shall be made rat proof with suitable metal screens or with some other similar rat-proof material. Door or window openings in such walls shall have tight-fitting doors or windows.

(d) The said lowest floor or differing levels thereof, forming a complete floor between the outside walls of the building, shall be constructed either of masonry, or covered with concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick, or constructed of two layers of flooring with a layer of galvanized iron or galvanized iron wire cloth or other approved equally as rat-proof material placed between the two layers of flooring. Or in lieu of the floor being constructed as herein prescribed, the entire ground area under the floor shall be covered with concrete not less than two inches thick, except where the surface of the soil is composed of rock. The rat-proofing material shall always extend under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions.

(e) All openings throughout the said floor for chimneys, plumbing, water pipes or for any other purpose shall be closed up tight in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions, and if the rat-proofing material used for the closing of openings is other than masonry, it shall extend beyond and underlap the flooring all around the opening, not less than two inches.

§ 26. Floor area of guest room. Width and height. Curtains. In every hotel hereafter erected, every guest room shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area. Every such room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than nine feet in height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be nine feet in height in but one-half the area of the room.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, or closet or recess from a room, or dressing-room shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling.

Every closet, recess from a room, or dressing-room which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes-presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be part of the floor area of a closet, recess from a room, or dressing-room), shall conform to all of the provisions of this act as to guest rooms, and shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

No part of any room in any hotel shall hereafter be inclosed or subdivided wholly or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Entertainment, amusement or reception rooms, or public dining-rooms, hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any hotel shall conform to the provisions of section thirty of this act.

Dormitories hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any hotel shall conform to the provisions of section sixty-two of this act.

§ 27. Windows. Opening into vent shaft. Opening through porch. Ventilation by exhaust system. In every hotel hereafter erected, every guest room, dormitory, kitchen, scullery, pantry or other room in which food is stored or prepared, public dining-room, laundry, barber shop, Turkish baths, general amusement, entertainment or reception-room, water-closet or shower compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room and general utility room shall have at least one window, of the area hereinafter required, opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot.

All windows required by this act shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the room and shall be made so as to open in all parts and be so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

The windows required by this section in a water-closet or shower compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room may open directly into a vent shaft in lieu of a street, yard or court. Such vent shaft to be not less than of the minimum size, and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section fifty-seven of this act, or such rooms or compartments, in lieu of being provided with windows may be ventilated by an exhaust system of ventilation installed, constructed and maintained as prescribed by-section sixty-one hereof.

The windows required by this section to open onto a street, yard, or an outer court, except windows from kitchens, may open through porches, provided that said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth, measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street, yard, or outer court, is left open except that the open space may be inclosed with mosquito screens.

Kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food, public dining-rooms, laundries, barber-shop, Turkish baths, general amusement or reception-rooms and general utility rooms, in lieu of windows may be ventilated by an exhaust system of ventilation installed, constructed and maintained as prescribed by section sixty-one hereof.

§ 28. Window area. In every hotel hereafter erected, the total window area in each guest room, kitchen, scullery, pantry or other room in which food is stored or prepared, laundry, barber-shop, Turkish bath, or general utility room, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

The aggregate window area in each room shall be not less than twelve square feet and no single window shall be less than six square feet in area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to the outside of the sash.

The window area required for dormitories, entertainment, amusement, reception or dining rooms shall be as hereinafter provided.

§ 29. Window area. In every hotel hereafter erected each window in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room, or shower-room, shall be not less than three square feet in area. The aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet. In each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink, the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink therein; except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

§ 30. Total window area in dining-room, etc. Height of rooms. In every hotel hereafter erected the total window area in each room used for the purpose of entertainment, amusement, reception or dining-room, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room.

Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Every such entertainment, amusement, reception or dining room shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for sleeping purposes, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act for guest rooms.

§ 31. Windows in public hallway. Skylights. French windows. In every hotel hereafter erected every public hallway, on any floor where there are more than five guest rooms, shall have at least one window, opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or a court, of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such windows shall be at the end of the public hallway and placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in hotels not exceeding two stories in height the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor.

Every window shall be made so as to open, and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvres so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet, measured from a vertical line, from a skylight opening.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than one and one-half times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for windows in public hallways, may be used in lieu of windows therein.

§ 32. Ventilating skylight. In every hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected, where there are more than five guest rooms on any one floor, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at the ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Every such skylight, ventilating openings, shutters and closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings, shall be made of approved incombustible materials, and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the topmost and first story levels; except that in hotels not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or may be fixed permanently in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-one hereof, and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louvre or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louvre or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required, as in this section provided, there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of the glass in the skylight.

§ 33. Water-closets. Waterproof floor. In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for each sex on such floor. One of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, on such floor, which are not provided with private water-closets. Each of the said water-closets shall be accessible from each of the guest rooms through the public hallway, and not more than one hundred feet distant from the entrance door of each of the guest rooms the said water-closet proposes to serve.

In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one water-closet for every twenty employees of each sex in said building.

No door or other opening in a water-closet or urinal compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored.

The walls enclosing a water-closet compartment shall be well plastered, or constructed of some nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood trim for openings may be used in such a compartment. Every water-closet compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly hung, and provided with a lock or bolt to lock same.

The floor of every water-closet compartment hereafter constructed shall be made waterproof with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement or some other similar nonabsorbent material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than six inches on the vertical walls of the compartment.

§ 34. In hotel already erected. Sewer connection required. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway for each sex; one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every twelve guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, on such floor, which are not provided with water-closets; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any hotel existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this paragraph when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof, or to the sanitation of the said hotel or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a hotel.

Every water-closet hereafter placed in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in hotels hereafter erected, except that if a water-closet is installed in the top story of any such building, the compartment in which it is installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres in lieu of a window; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location. No door or other opening in a water-closet, privy, or urinal compartment shall open from or into a room in which food is prepared or stored.

Every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act, in hotels hereafter erected.

§ 35. Bathtub or shower. In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one bathtub or shower, in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway. There shall also be installed not less than one slop-sink on each floor.

The walls and floors to every bath, shower or slop-sink room hereafter constructed shall be waterproofed and shall be provided with doors in the same manner as required for the construction of water-closet compartments in hotels hereafter erected.

§ 36. In hotel already erected. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one bathtub or shower, in a separate compartment, located in the public hallway, for every twenty guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bathtub or shower is located on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway.

There shall also be installed not less than one slop-sink on each floor; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any hotel existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof, or to the sanitation of the said hotel or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a hotel.

§ 37. Running water. Sewer. In every hotel hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in any hotel hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

§ 38. In hotel already erected. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

§ 39. In case no running water. Privy. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the hotel hereafter erected or an existing hotel, as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper, separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be inclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals.

All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

§ 40. Plumbing fixtures made sanitary. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In any hotel hereafter erected, and in any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act no plumbing fixtures shall be inclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left entirely open. All woodwork inclosing a water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash-tray or lavatory shall be removed and the floor and wall surfaces beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash-tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light-colored paint of sufficient body to make it nonabsorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method made nonabsorbent.

In every hotel hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats, varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash-trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass; and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron, and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building, and such cut-off valves shall be readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act is hereby empowered to order the same removed and to order that it be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

§ 41. Two means of egress. Every hotel hereafter erected, three or more stories in height and in which there are more than five guest rooms on any one floor, shall be so designed and constructed that every guest room in such building shall have not less than two means of egress, either by stairways or fire-escapes, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such means of egress shall be accessible from every guest room, either directly or through a public hallway, and so located that should one egress be or become blocked, the other egress shall be available.

§ 42. Stairways. Every hotel two or more stories in height, hereafter erected shall have not less than two stairways.

Every fireproof hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semi-fireproof hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each three thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every hotel hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

§ 43. Computing number of stairways required. The largest floor area above the ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in a hotel hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 44. Location of stairways. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, shall be as far removed from each other as is practicable, and shall be as follows:

Access to stairways shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the entrance and topmost stories; provided, that the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter or gas heater or furnace, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler-room by section fifty-nine of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler-room.

§ 45. Construction of stairways. Every stairway hereafter constructed shall be as follows: Have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches, measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit.

The depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Every stairway required by this act shall be continuous from the ground level to the top story, i. e., the flights of such stairway shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the stairways from the first to the second floor be increased in width not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The under side and soffits of wooden stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways, except outside stairways in semi-fireproof and wooden hotels shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

The width of stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

§ 46. Space under stairway. No closet of any kind shall be constructed in any hotel under any wooden stairway, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrance; or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed and plastered, with no door or opening of any kind therein; provided, however, that the provisions of this section as to a closet under a stairway shall not apply to any hotel not more than two stories in height, in which there are not more than five guest rooms above the first floor thereof.

§ 47. Stairway to roof. In hotel already erected. In every hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in height, the stairway nearest to the main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure. In every such building not exceeding two stories in height there shall be constructed a scuttle, in the public hallway, near the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board on the inside and outside thereof; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of material as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

Every hotel of more than two stories in height, erected prior to the passage of this act, shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway. There shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder leading from the top floor of such hotel to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

§ 48. Hallways, etc., from stairways. Public hallways, landings, and corridors from stairways shall be of the same width and measured in the same manner as the stairways, as provided in section forty-six hereof.

§ 49. Fire-escapes. On every hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in height, there shall be provided at least one fire-escape. If such hotel exceeds three thousand square feet of floor area on any one floor above the second floor thereof, such building shall be provided with one additional fire-escape for each four thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof.

Fire-escapes required by this act shall be of one of the following types:

Type 1. Types of fire-escapes. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the topmost balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire-escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches-wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire-escape balcony platform, except the stair-well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire-escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counter-balanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

The goose-neck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the goose-neck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The goose-neck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

Such fire-escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire-escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire-escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for type one and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fire-proofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Type 3. Any type of a inclosed approved metallic spiral fire escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of the building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with stand-pipes; painted the same as provided for metallic fire-escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being as solid, substantial and durable and as fireproof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire-escape described as "type one" in this act.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire-escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire-escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exist level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such stairways to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely enclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick; such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over same, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The inclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the inclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire-escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal-lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with inclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the inclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The inclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire-escape balconies.

§ 50. Stairway and fire-escape combined. In any hotel hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire-escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire-escape may be used and construed as a stairway and a fire-escape combined; provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire-escape constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

§ 51. Location of fire-escapes. Every fire-escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire-escape shall be located on a street front. Every such fire-escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire-escapes, in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be so located that each guest room has direct egress thereto without passing through another room. If a public parlor, public lobby, or similar room is connected directly with the public hall, corridor or passageway through a clear and unobstructed opening, without doors, then egress may be had thereby to a fire-escape. Signs both pointing towards and marking the locations of fire-escapes shall be placed on each floor.

§ 52. Computing number of fire-escapes required. The largest floor area above the second floor shall be used as a basis for computing the number of fire-escapes required by this act; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area are diminished in size, the number of fire-escapes from that portion of the building containing the smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

§ 53. Strength of platform, etc. Strength of fastenings, etc. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire-escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof, using outside dimensions, and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire-escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire-escape balcony or the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

§ 54. Readily accessible. Every fire-escape in or on a hotel hereafter erected, or in or on a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

§ 55. Standpipes. On every hotel hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or ground directly under the same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire-escape on each street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire-escapes.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such hotel or lodging house is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any hotel which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

§ 56. Elevator shaft inclosed. In every fireproof hotel hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be inclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard, incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed either with metal lath or an approved plaster board and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick.

In every semi-fireproof or wooden hotel hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for fireproof hotels, or such walls shall be constructed with wood studs, with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and halfway between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath or an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof, and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick. Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal-covered on the shaft side thereof.

At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

§ 57. Vent shafts inclosed. In every hotel hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed the same as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building. Such vent shafts may, in a semi-fireproof or wooden hotel, be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be cement plaster.

Every vent shaft required by this act shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area three square feet for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every such vent shaft shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fireproof material or shall be of metal or metal-lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in such a vent shaft.

Every vent shaft shall have a door or a window at or near the bottom of the shaft, so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out.

§ 58. Walls of inner court. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof hotel hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard, incombustible material. In a semi-fireproof or in a wooden hotel such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof hotels, or may be of wood studs with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and halfway between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath, or with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined on the weather side with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) metal, in lieu of metal lath and plaster.

§ 59. Boiler-room. Doors in boiler-room. In every hotel hereafter erected, every boiler used for the purpose of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil for fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler-room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space of not less than seven-eighths inch between the two ceilings, each ceiling shall be metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board. The floor of a boiler-room shall be of concrete not less than two inches thick.

Any door in the wall of such room shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three thicknesses of seven-eighths inch by not more than six inches, tongued and grooved, matched, redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler-room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in a metal or metal-covered sash.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the wall. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought-iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler-room shall have a sill across each door not less than four inches high. Such sills shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the door shall close tight on top of same.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

§ 60. Garage. In every hotel hereafter erected any portion of such building in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles shall be a room inclosed in partitions which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six inches thick. Such inclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material similar to that in the construction of its walls or shall be either metal lathed or be lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered, and if any portion of the building is used as a public automobile garage, or automobile repair-shop, or machine-shop the ceiling thereof shall be constructed either of masonry, or of a double ceiling metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered, there shall be left a space between the ceilings of not less than six inches measured vertically. The lower ceiling shall be suspended with iron or steel channels. In each case each of the ceilings shall be plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick including the lath or the plaster board. The floor of such room shall be of concrete not less than two inches thick. Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room opening to the interior of the building shall be protected in the same manner required by section fifty-nine hereof for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler-room.

§ 61. Fan exhaust system of ventilation. Penalty for failure to maintain. In every hotel hereafter erected the water-closet compartments, bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms, kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms in which food is stored or prepared, public dining-rooms, laundries, barber-shops, Turkish baths, general amusement, entertainment or reception-rooms, and rooms used for similar purposes and general utility rooms, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this act prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent inlet ducts extending from the outer air to each such room or compartment and exhaust ducts extending from each such room or compartment to the outer air above the highest roof of the building.

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth surfaced, nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

The exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designated and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each room used for the following purposes: kitchens; pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food; barber-shops; Turkish baths, laundries.

General amusement, entertainment, reception or dining rooms, or rooms used for similar purposes; general utility rooms; and the said fan exhaust system of ventilation shall be so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed five minutes for each room used for the following purposes: water-closets; shower compartments; bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms or sculleries.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan exhaust ventilation, as in this section is required, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each of the rooms or compartments at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

§ 62. Dormitory. Every dormitory hereafter constructed, altered, or converted in any hotel shall be as follows:

(a) In no one dormitory shall there be provided sleeping accommodations for more than twenty adult persons, nor shall the superficial floor space for each person be less than required by section sixty-five hereof.

(b) The ceiling height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling, shall in no case be less than nine feet in the clear, and in no case shall there be permitted in such dormitory more than one tier of beds; provided, however, that in a dormitory in which the clear ceiling height is not less than eighteen feet measured between the finished floor to the finished ceiling thereof, a double tier of beds may be permitted, i. e., one tier above the other; provided, that in no event shall there be less than three feet of clear vertical space between the beds, nor less than three feet in any horizontal direction between any of the beds, nor less than one foot of clear space between the floor of the room and the under side of the first tier of beds.

(c) In every dormitory there shall be provided windows opening on to a street, or on to a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot. The window area shall in no case be less than one-eighth of the superficial floor area in the dormitory, and in the event that a double tier of beds are provided, the said window area shall be doubled.

(d) The frames of beds in every dormitory shall be made of steel or iron or of some similar hard, smooth, incombustible and nonabsorbent material.

(e) In every dormitory there shall be provided not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, not less than one urinal in a separate compartment, and not less than one shower in a separate compartment, and not less than one wash-sink, for each twenty persons or fractional part thereof occupying the said dormitory.

(f) Every dormitory in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall be made to conform to the provisions of subsection "(a)" of this section.

§ 63. Hotels erected prior to passage of act. In any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, every additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or created may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such hotel.

§ 64. Windows, courts, etc., in hotels already erected. Every room in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be hereafter occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window of an area not less than eight square feet, opening directly upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a vent shaft not less than twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no part be less than four feet wide and open and obstructed, without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft.

Every public hallway in every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

§ 65. Kitchen. Sleeping in cellar, etc. Floor space for each occupant. Food shall not be cooked or prepared in any room except in a kitchen designed for that purpose. Floors of kitchens and rooms in which food is stored shall be made impervious to rats by a layer of concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick or by a layer of sheet tin or iron or similar material.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or permit or suffer any person to live or sleep, in any cellar, bath, shower or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet, kitchen, recess from a room, or dressing-room, except when such recess from a room, or dressing room has at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area and complies with every requirement of this act for rooms, or in any other place in such building, which in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage or on account of dampness, offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors, or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant, in accordance with the age of said occupant:

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1 or	2	60 square feet
2 or	4	120 square feet
3 or	6	180 square feet
4 or	8	240 square feet
5 or	10	300 square feet
6 or	12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

§ 66. Lighting of hallway, etc. In every hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, passageway, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire-escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet-room and exterior passageway on the lot.

§ 67. Light-colored material on walls. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping-room in every hotel shall, except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during day-time, be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color.

§ 68. Repapering. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any hotel shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

§ 69. Repairs. Every hotel shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

All portions of the lot about such hotel, including the yards, courts, areaways, vent shafts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the occupants of such building, or for the proper sanitation of the premises, it may require that the said lot, yards, courts, areaways, vent shafts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

§ 70. Metal mosquito screening. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any hotel or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

§ 71. Garbage cans. In every hotel there shall be provided such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Each of said receptacles, chutes or shafts shall be kept in a clean condition by the person in charge or in control of the building.

§ 72. Rooms, etc., to be kept clean. Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing fixtures. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet-room, bath-room, slop-sink or washroom, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any hotel or on the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall, or cause or permit any person to deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substance in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bath-tub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom; or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause to permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room in any hotel, or in or about the said building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

§ 73. Beds kept clean. In every hotel, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same; and free from the infection of lice, bed-bugs or other insects. No roller or public towels shall be permitted.

Bed linen shall be changed at least as often as a new guest occupies the bed.

§ 74. Dangerous articles not to be kept. In no hotel, or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept, stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton, paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing same.

§ 75. Animals not to be kept. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in a hotel, or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable be kept or maintained in the same lot, yard, court or premises of a hotel, or within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

No hotel shall be connected with or have any door, window or transom opening to any part of a building wherein paint or oil are stored or kept for the purpose of sale or otherwise.

§ 76. Housekeeper in charge. In every hotel in which there are eight or more guest rooms and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such hotel or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

§ 77. Action to abate nuisance. Authority to execute order. In case any hotel, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such hotel or building or structure or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said hotel, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business in or about such hotel or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such hotel, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, to abate any nuisance in or about such hotel, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

§ 78. Fine a lien. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a hotel owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said hotel is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

§ 79. Notice of pendency of action. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

§ 80. Name of owner, etc., filed. Every owner of a hotel and every lessee or other person having control of a hotel, shall file in the housing department a notice, containing his name and address, and also a description of the property, by street and number and otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same; and also the number of rooms in the building. In case of a transfer of any hotel, it shall be the duty of the grantee of said hotel to file in the housing department a notice of such transfer, stating the name of the new owner, within thirty days after such transfer. In case of the devolution of the said property by will, it shall be the duty of the executor and the devisee, if more than twenty-one years of age, and in case of devolution of such property by inheritance without a will, it shall be the duty of the heirs, or in case all the heirs are under age, it shall be the duty of the administrator of the deceased owner of said property, to file in said department a notice, stating the death of said owner and the names of those who have succeeded to his interests, within thirty days after the death of the decedent, in case he died intestate, and within thirty days after the probate of his will if he died testate.

§ 81. Name of agent filed. Every owner, agent or lessee of a hotel shall file in the housing department a notice containing the name and address of such agent of such house, for the purpose of receiving service of process, and also a description of the property, by street and number or otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same. The name of the owner or lessee may be filed as agent for this purpose.

§ 82. Index of names. The names and addresses filed in accordance with sections seventy-nine and eighty shall be indexed by the housing department in such a manner that all of those filed in relation to each hotel shall be together and readily ascertainable. Said indices shall be public records, open to public inspection during business hours.

§ 83. Time of service. Every notice or order in relation to a hotel shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

§ 84. Manner of service. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a hotel for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

§ 85. Minimum requirements. Supplementary. Repealed. Powers of cities not abrogated. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of hotels. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, from enacting from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present ordinance or law of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a hotel, the number of stories or height of such hotel or number of rooms therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a hotel within said municipality, the number of stories or height of such hotel or number of rooms therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

§ 86. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

§ 87. In effect when. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

§ 88. Repealed. "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging-houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, Statutes of California of 1913, page 1429, and all acts amending said act, are hereby repealed.

ACT 1531.

An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health and providing a penalty for the violation of any of its provisions. [Approved April 26, 1915. Stats. 1915, p. 213.]

Repealed 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 432. See next Act.

An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health and local health officers, prescribing a penalty for the violation of the provisions hereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health, and providing a penalty for the violation of any of its provisions," approved April 26, 1915.

§ 1. Hotel defined. Every building or structure, kept as, used as, maintained as, or advertised as, or held out to the public to be, a place where sleeping or rooming accommodations are furnished to the public, or any part of the public, whether with or without meals, shall, for the purpose of this act, be deemed to be a hotel, and whenever the word "hotel" shall occur in this act, it shall be deemed to include lodging-house and rooming-house.

§ 2. Clean bedding, etc. All bedding, bedclothes, or bedcovering, including mattresses, quilts, blankets, sheets, pillows or comforters, used in any hotel in this state must be kept clean and free from all filth or dirt; provided, that no bedding, bedclothes or bedcovering, including mattresses, quilts, blankets, sheets, pillows or comforters, shall be used which is worn out or unfit for use by human beings according to the true intent and meaning of this act.

§ 3. Infected rooms fumigated. Any room in any hotel in this state which is or shall be infected with vermin or bedbugs or similar things, shall be thoroughly fumigated, disinfected and renovated until such vermin or bedbugs or other similar things are entirely exterminated.

§ 4. Clean rooms. Every room in any hotel in this state used for sleeping purposes, must be kept free from any and every kind of dirt or filth of whatsoever nature, and the walls, floors, ceilings and doors of every such room shall be kept free from dirt.

§ 5. Ventilation devices. Every room in any hotel, used for sleeping purposes, shall have devices, such as a window or transom, so constructed as to allow for proper and a sufficient amount of ventilation in each such room.

§ 6. Size of sheets. Every bed, for the accommodation of any person or persons or guests, kept or used in any hotel in this state, must be provided with a sufficient supply of clean bedding and must be provided with sheets at least eighty-one inches wide and ninety-eight inches long; provided, however, that on every single bed there shall be sheets at least fifty inches wide and ninety-eight inches long. Every bed shall be supplied with clean sheets and pillow slips as often as assigned to a different person.

§ 7. Individual towels. Every hotel, within this state, having a public washstand or washbowl, where different persons gather to wash themselves, must keep a sufficient supply of clean individual towels for the use of such persons within easy access of or to such persons and in plain sight and view.

§ 8. Penalty for violation. Every owner, manager, lessee or other person in charge of any hotel in this state who shall fail to comply with this act whether through the acts of his agents or employees, or otherwise, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be ined not more than two hundred dollars or shall be imprisoned for not more than three months; and every day that any hotel shall be kept in violation of any of the provisions of this act such keeping shall constitute a separate offense.

§ 9. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the state board of health and local health officers to enforce the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Other than hotels. Nothing in this act shall be construed to include cots or bunks where the same are used in places other than in hotels.

§ 11. Stats. 1915, p. 213, repealed. An act of the legislature entitled "An act relating to hotels, defining the same, providing regulations in connection therewith, providing for the sanitation of the rooms of such hotels, providing for the sanitary method and manner of keeping, handling and using bedclothes or bedcovering in such hotels, repealing all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, providing for its enforcement by the state board of health, and providing a penalty for the violation of any of its provisions," approved April 26, 1915, is hereby repealed.

TITLE 242.

HOURS OF LABOR.

ACT 1537.

An act limiting the hours of labor of females employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, or restaurant, or telegraph or telephone establishment or office, or by any express or transportation company; compelling each employer in any manufacturing, mechanical, or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel or restaurant, or other establishment employing any female to provide suitable seats for all female employees and to permit them to use such seats when they are not engaged in the active duties of their employment; and providing a penalty for failure, neglect, or refusal of the employer to comply with the provisions of this act, and for permitting or suffering any overseer, superintendent, foreman or other agent of any such employer to violate the provisions or this act.

Amended 1913, p. 713; 1917, p. 828; 1919, p. 394.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 1. Females not to work more than eight hours per day. Employment in more than one establishment. Not applicable to nurses, fruit canning, etc. No female shall be employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, public lodging-house, apartment house, hospital, place of amusement, or restaurant, or telegraph or telephone establishment or office, or in the operation of elevators in office buildings or by any express or transportation company in this state more than eight hours during any one day of twenty-four hours or more than forty-eight hours in one week. It shall be unlawful for any employer of labor to employ, cause to be employed or permit any female employee to labor any number of hours whatever, with knowledge that such female has heretofore been employed within the same date and day of twenty-four hours in any establishment and by any previous employer, for a period of time that will, combined with the period of time of employment by a previous employer exceed eight hours; provided, that this shall not prevent the employment of any female in more than one establishment where the total number of hours worked by said employee does not exceed eight hours in any one day of twenty-four hours. If any female shall be employed in more than one such place, the total number of hours of such employment shall not exceed eight hours during any one day of twenty-four hours or forty-eight hours in one week. The hours of work may be so arranged as to permit the employment of females at any time so that they shall not work more than eight hours during the twenty-four hours of one day, or forty-eight hours during any one week; provided, further, that the provisions of this section in relation to hours of employment shall not apply to or affect graduate nurses in hospitals, nor the harvesting, curing, canning or drying of any variety of perishable fruit, fish or vegetable during such periods as may be necessary to harvest, cure, can or dry said fruit, fish or vegetable in order to save the same from spoiling. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 395.]

This section was also amended in 1917. See Stats. 1917, p. 828.

The title of the amendatory act of 1919 stated that sections 1 and 3 of the act were amended and that a new section 1a was added to the act. In the body of the act, however, only section 1 was amended.

TITLE 249.

IMMIGRATION.

ACT 1589.

An act relating to immigrants and immigration, creating a commission of immigration and housing, providing for the employment by said commission of a secretary, agents and other employees, authorizing said commission to fix their compensation, prescribing the duties of said commission, providing for the investigation by said commission of all things affecting immigrants, and for the care, protection and welfare of immigrants, and making an appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions hereof.

[Approved June 12, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 608.]

Amended 1915, p. 848; 1917, p. 1514.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 15. Immigration and housing commission to promote city planning. The commission may make investigations of the housing of immigrants and working people and of city planning in California and elsewhere, may encourage the creation of local city planning commissions and may furnish information as to the progress of other cities for the use of such commissions. It may investigate and report upon defective housing and the evils resulting therefrom and the work being done to remedy the same in California and elsewhere. It may make studies of the operation and enforcement of building and tenement house laws, of housing finances and taxes, of zoning and districting regulations and may promote the formation of organizations intended to increase the supply of wholesome homes for the people, and aid in the enforcement of any laws enacted to promote the purposes for which the commission is established. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1514.]

§ 16. Annual report of city planning commissions. Conference. City planners. It shall be the duty of each and every city-planning commission or housing commission of any incorporated city or town in the state of California to file on the first day of June of each year with the secretary of the commission of immigration and housing of California a complete report of its transactions and recommendations to any municipal organization or private person or corporation during the previous year, and particularly to report any conflict in authority, lack of co-operation with local municipal authorities or with adjoining cities, with recommendations for needed legislation to properly carry on the development of their housing and city-planning work. The commission may annually, or oftener, call a conference of representatives of these commissions, of local health officers, housing inspectors, building inspectors or such other municipal officers as it shall deem advisable to carry out the purposes of this act. The commission may employ city planners and other persons whose salaries, wages and other necessary expenses of the commission will be provided for out of the funds at the disposal of the commission. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1515.]

§ 17. Annual report. Information furnished. The commission may make an annual report on housing and city planning to the governor, which the state printer shall cause to be printed as a public document, and copies of this report shall be filed with each and every local housing and city-planning commission in the state of California. The commission is further authorized to furnish information and suggestions from time to time to city governments, housing and city planning commissions and other public, semi-public or private bodies such as may, in its judgment, tend to promote the purposes for which the commission is established. [New section added May 31, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1515.]

TITLE 249a.

IMPERIAL COUNTY.

ACT 1607a.

An act to provide one additional judge of the superior court in the county of Imperial.

[Approved May 27, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 1295.]

§ 1. Additional superior judge in Imperial county. The number of judges of the superior court of the state of California for the county of Imperial is hereby increased from one to two.

§ 2. Within thirty days after the taking effect of this act, the governor shall appoint one additional judge of the superior court of the county of Imperial, state of California, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, A. D. 1921. At the general election to be held in November, 1920, a judge of the superior court of said county shall be elected in said county, who shall be the successor of the judge appointed hereunder, to hold office for the term prescribed by the constitution and by law.

TITLE 254.

INFANTS.

ACT 1608.

An act regulating the employment of women and minors and establishing an industrial welfare commission to investigate and deal with such employment, including a minimum wage; providing for an appropriation therefor and fixing a penalty for violation of this act.

[Approved May 26, 1913. Stats. 1913, p. 632.]

Amended 1915, p. 950; 1919, p. 302.

The amendment of 1919 follows:

§ 34. Power to issue subpoenas, etc. Any member of the commission or deputies duly authorized by it in writing, shall have the power and authority to issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses or parties and the production of books, papers, pay-rolls or records, and to administer oaths and to examine witnesses under oaths and to take the verification or proof of instruments of writing, and to take depositions and affidavits for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, or any of its orders, rules or regulations; provided, that no witness shall be compelled to attend on said commission outside of the county in which said witness resides or at a distance greater than fifty miles from his place of residence.

Obedience to subpoenas issued by the commission or its duly authorized representatives shall be enforced in the superior courts of the county or city and county in which the subpoenas were issued. [New section added May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 302.]

§ 6. Power to fix wages, hours, etc. (a) The commission shall have further power after a public hearing had upon its own motion or upon petition, to fix:

1. A minimum wage to be paid to women and minors engaged in any occupation, trade or industry in this state, which shall not be less than a wage adequate to supply to such women and minors the necessary cost of proper living and to maintain the health and welfare of such women and minors.

2. The maximum hours of work consistent with the health and welfare of women and minors engaged in any occupation, trade or industry in this state; provided, that the hours so fixed shall not be more than the maximum now or hereafter fixed by law.

3. The standard conditions of labor demanded by the health and welfare of the women and minors engaged in any occupation, trade or industry in this state.

(b) Notice of hearing. Upon the fixing of the time and place for the holding of a hearing for the purpose of considering and acting upon any matters referred to it in subsection (a) hereof, the commission shall give public notice by advertisement in at least one newspaper published in each of the cities of Los Angeles, Oakland, and Sacramento, and in the city and county of San Francisco, and shall give due notice in at least one newspaper published in each of the cities of Fresno, Eureka, San Diego, Long Beach, Alameda, Berkeley and Stockton, and by mailing a copy of said notice to the county recorder of each county in the state to be posted at the courthouse of each county, or city and county, and to each association of employers or employees of fifteen or more members within the state of California which shall file with the commission a written request for such notice of such hearing and purpose thereof; which notice shall state the time and place fixed for such hearing, which shall not be earlier than fourteen days from the date of publication and mailing of such notices.

(c) Mandatory order specifying wages. Notice to employer. After such public hearing, the commission may, in its discretion, make a mandatory order to be effective in sixty days from the making of such order, specifying the minimum wage for women or minors in the occupation in question, and the maximum hours; provided, that the hours specified shall not be more than the maximum for women or minors in California, and the standard conditions of labor for said women or minors; provided, however, that no such order shall become effective until after April 1, 1914. Such order shall be published in at least one newspaper in each of the cities of Los Angeles and Sacramento and in the city and county of San Francisco, and a copy thereof be mailed to the county recorder of each county in the state, and such copy shall be filed without charge. The industrial welfare commission shall send by mail, so far as practicable, to each employer in the occupation in question, a copy of the order, and each employer shall be required to post a copy of such order in the building in which women or minors affected by the order are employed. Failure to mail notice to the employer shall not relieve the employer from the duty to comply with such order. Finding by the commission that there has been such publication and mailing to county recorders shall be conclusive as to service. [Amendment approved May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 302.]

§ 11b. Enforcement. It shall be the duty of the industrial welfare commission to enforce the provisions of this act and compliance with its orders, rules and regulations. Full power and authority is hereby vested in the commission to take such action as may be deemed essential for such purposes. [New section added May 5, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 302.]

ACT 1611.

An act regulating the employment and hours of labor of children—prohibiting the employment of minors under certain ages—prohibiting the employment of certain illiterate minors—providing for the enforcement hereof by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics and providing penalties for the violation hereof.

[Approved February 20, 1905. Stats. 1905, p. 11.]

Amended 1907, pp. 598, 978; 1909, pp. 211, 387; 1911, pp. 282, 910; 1913, p. 364; 1915, p. 1201; 1917, p. 826; 1919, p. 394.

The amendments of 1917 and 1919 follow:

§ 7. Minors under eighteen not to work over eight hours. No minor under the age of eighteen years shall be employed in laboring in any manufacturing, mechanical, or mercantile establishment or other place of labor, more than eight hours in one day of twenty-four hours, or more than forty-eight hours in one week, except when it is necessary to make repairs to prevent the interruption of the ordinary running of the machinery, or when a different apportionment of the hours of labor is made for the sole purpose of making a shorter day's work for one day of the week, nor before the hour of five o'clock in the morning, nor after the hour of ten o'clock in the evening. [Amendment approved May 10, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 394.]

§ 14. Agricultural, etc., labor. Theatrical employment. Consent of labor commissioner. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the employment of minors sixteen years of age or over at agricultural, horticultural, or viticultural, or domestic labor. Nor shall anything in this act be construed to prohibit the employment of minors at agricultural, horticultural, or viticultural, or domestic labor, during the time the public schools are not in session, or during other than school hours. For the purpose of this act, horticultural shall be understood to include the curing and drying, but not the canning of all varieties of fruit. Nor shall anything in this act be construed to prohibit any minor between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years, who is by any statute or statutes of the state of California, now or hereafter in force, permitted to be employed as an actor, or actress, or performer in a theater, or other place of amusement, previous to the hour of ten o'clock P. M., in the presentation of a performance, play or drama, continuing from an earlier hour till after the hour of ten o'clock P. M. from performing his or her part in such presentation as such employee between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock P. M.; provided, the written consent of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics is first obtained. Nor shall anything in this act prevent, or be construed to prohibit, the employment of any minor, whether resident or nonresident, in the presentation of a drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment, with the written consent of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, but no such consent shall be given unless the officer giving it is satisfied that the environment in which the drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment is to be produced is a proper environment for the minor, and that the conditions of such employment are not detrimental to the health of such minor, and that the minor's education will not be neglected or hampered by its participation in such drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment, and the commissioner may require the person charged with the issuance of age and schooling certificates to make the necessary investigation into such conditions; and every such written consent shall specify the name and age of the minor together with such other facts as may be necessary for the proper identification of such minor, and the dates when, and the theaters or other places of amusement in which such drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment is to be produced, and shall specify the drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment in which the minor is permitted to participate, and every such consent shall be revocable at the will of the officer giving it. Dramas and plays shall include the production of motion picture plays. [Amendment approved May 22, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 826.]

An act to be known as the child labor law, and regulating the employment, hours, kinds and conditions of labor of children; providing for the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act by the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, providing penalties for the violation hereof and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith.

§ 1. Child labor regulated. Work defined. No minor under the age of sixteen years shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work in or in connection with any mercantile establishment, manufacturing establishment, mechanical establishment, workshop, office, laundry, place of amusement, restaurant, hotel, apartment house, or in the distribution or transmission of merchandise or messages, or in any other place of labor at any time except as may be provided by the provisions of this act or by the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for violation of the act," as now in force or as may be hereafter amended, or by the provisions of an act entitled "An act to require certain high school districts to provide part-time educational opportunities in civic and vocational subjects for persons under eighteen years of age, who are not in attendance upon full-time day schools, and part-time educational opportunities in citizenship for persons under twenty-one years of age who cannot adequately speak, read or write the English language; to enforce attendance upon such part-time classes where established, and providing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act."

Work shall be deemed to be done for a manufacturing establishment within the meaning of this act, whenever it is done at any place upon the work of a manufacturing establishment, or upon any of the materials entering into the products of a manufacturing establishment, whether under contract or arrangement with any person in charge of or connected with a manufacturing establishment directly or indirectly through the instrumentality of one or more contractors or other third persons.

§ 2. Eight-hour limit. Night work. Except as otherwise provided in sections three, three and one-half and five hereof no minor under the age of eighteen years shall be employed more than eight hours in one day of twenty-four hours or more than forty-eight hours in one week, or before the hour of five o'clock in the morning, or after the hour of ten o'clock in the evening.

§ 3. Messenger service. No girl under the age of eighteen years and no boy under the age of sixteen years shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work as a messenger for any telegraph, telephone or messenger company, or for the United States government or any of its departments while operating a telegraph, telephone or messenger service, in the distribution, transmission or delivery of goods or messages in towns of more than fifteen thousand inhabitants, nor shall any boy under the age of eighteen years be employed, permitted or suffered to engage in any of the work last mentioned before the hour of six o'clock in the morning or after the hour of nine o'clock in the evening.

§ 3½. Street trades. Exception. No boy under ten years of age, nor girl under eighteen years of age, shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work at any time in or in connection with the street occupation of peddling, bootblacking, the sale or distribution of newspapers, magazines, periodicals or circulars nor in any other occupation pursued in any street or public place; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to cities whose population is less than twenty-three thousand according to the last federal census.

§ 4. Prohibited occupations. Bureau of labor statistics to determine whether business prohibited. No minor under the age of sixteen years shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work in any capacity at any of the following occupations or in any of the following positions, to wit: (1) Adjusting any belt to any machinery, or sewing or lacing machine belts in any workshop or factory, or oiling, wiping or cleaning machinery, or assisting therein, or operating or assisting in operating any of the following machines: (a) Circular or band saws; (b) wood-shapers; (c) wood-jointers; (d) planers; (e) sandpaper or wood-polishing machinery; (f) wood turning or boring machinery; (g) picker machines or machines used in picking wool, cotton, hair or any other material; (h) carding machines; (i) paper-lace machines; (j) leather-burnishing machines; (k) printing-presses of all kinds; (l) boring or drill presses; (m) stamping-machines used in sheet-metal and tinware or in paper and leather manufacturing, or in washer and nut factories; (n) metal or paper-cutting machines; (o) corner-staying machines in paper-box factories; (p) corrugating rolls, such as are used in corrugated paper, roofing or washboard factories; (q) steam boilers; (r) dough brakes or cracker machinery of any description; (s) wire or iron straightening or drawing machinery; (t) rolling-mill machinery; (u) power punches or shears; (v) washing, grinding or mixing machinery; (w) calendar rolls in paper and rubber manufacturing; (x) laundering machinery; or in proximity to any hazardous or unguarded belts, machinery or gearing; or (2) upon any railroad, whether steam, electric or hydraulic; or (3) upon any vessel or boat engaged in navigation or commerce within the jurisdiction of this state; or (4) in, about, or in connection with any processes in which dangerous or poisonous acids are used; or (5) in the manufacture or packing of paints, colors, white or red lead; or (6) in soldering; or (7) in occupations causing dust in injurious quantities; or (8) in the manufacture or use of dangerous or poisonous dyes; or (9) in the manufacture or preparation of compositions with dangerous or poisonous gases; or (10) in the manufacture or use of compositions of lye in which the quantity thereof is injurious to health; or (11) on scaffolding; or (12) in heavy work in the building trades; or (13) in any tunnel or excavation; or (14) in, about or in connection with any mine, coal breaker, coke oven, or quarry; or (15) in assorting, manufacturing or packing tobacco; or (16) in operating any automobile, motor car or truck; or (17) in a bowling-alley; or (18) in a pool or billiard room; or (19) in any other occupation dangerous to the life or limb, or injurious to the health or morals of such child; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the courses of training in vocational or manual training schools or in state institutions.

The bureau of labor statistics may, from time to time, after a hearing duly had, determine whether or not any particular trade, process of manufacture or occupation, in which the employment of children under the age of sixteen years is not already forbidden by law, or any particular method of carrying on such trade, process of manufacture or occupation, is sufficiently dangerous to the lives or limbs or injurious to the health or morals of children under sixteen years of age to justify their exclusion therefrom. No child under sixteen years of age shall be employed, permitted or suffered to work in any occupation thus determined to be dangerous or injurious to such children. There shall be a right of appeal to the superior court from any such determination.

§ 5. Agricultural, etc., labor. Theatrical employment. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the employment of minors sixteen years of age or over at agricultural, horticultural, or viticultural; or domestic labor for more than eight hours in one day or more than forty-eight hours in one week. Nor shall anything in this act be construed to prohibit the employment of minors at agricultural, horticultural, or viticultural, or domestic labor during the time the public schools are not in session, or during other than school hours. For the purpose of this act, horticultural shall be understood to include the curing and drying, but not the canning, of all varieties of fruit. Nor shall anything in this act be construed to prohibit any minor between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years, who is by any statute or statutes of the state of California, now or hereafter in force, permitted to be employed as an actor, or actress, or performer in a theater, or other place of amusement, previous to the hour of ten o'clock P. M., in the presentation of a performance, play or drama, continuing from an earlier hour till after the hour of ten o'clock P. M., from performing his or her part in such presentation as such employee between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock P. M.; provided, the written consent of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics is first obtained. Nor shall anything in this act prevent, or be construed to prohibit, the employment of any minor, whether resident or nonresident, in the presentation of a drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment, with the written consent of the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, but no such consent shall be given unless the officer giving it is satisfied that the environment in which the drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment is to be produced is a proper environment for the minor, and that the conditions of such employment are not detrimental to the health of such minor, and that the minor's education will not be neglected or hampered by its participation in such drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment, and the commissioner may require the person charged with the issuance of age and schooling certificates to make the necessary investigation into such conditions; and every such written consent shall specify the name and age of the minor together with such other facts as may be necessary for the proper identification of such minor, and the date when, and the theaters or other places of amusement in which such drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment is to be produced, and shall specify the drama, play, performance, concert or entertainment in which the minor is permitted to participate, and every such consent shall be revocable at the will of the officer giving it. Dramas and plays shall include the production of motion picture plays.

§ 6. Employer to keep register. Report by authority issuing permits. Every person, firm, corporation or agent, or officer of a firm or corporation, employing either directly, or indirectly through the instrumentality of one or more contractors or other third persons, minors under the age of eighteen years, shall keep a separate register containing the names, ages and addresses of such minor employees and shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in every room where such minors are employed, a written or printed notice stating the hours per day for each day of the week required of such minors, and shall keep on file all permits and certificates either to work or to employ, issued under the provisions of this act, or under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, as amended. Such records and files shall be open at all times to the inspection of the school attendance and probation officers, the state board of education and the officers of the state bureau of labor statistics.

All such certificates and permits to work or to employ shall be returned to the authority issuing the same within five days after the minor quits his employment. Such certificate or permit shall be subject to cancellation at any time by such commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, or by the authority issuing the same, whenever such commissioner or such issuing authority shall find that the conditions for the legal issuance of such certificate or permit no longer exist or have never existed.

At least once in every six months, to wit, on or before January tenth and on or before July tenth of each year, the authority issuing all such permits and certificates either to work or to employ, shall file a full written report of the same, stating the names, ages and addresses of the minors under sixteen years of age affected thereby, with the state bureau of labor statistics and the state board of education.

§ 7. Penalty. Fines to be paid into school funds. Report of violation of act. Any person, firm, corporation, agent, or officer of a firm or corporation, employing either directly or indirectly through the instrumentality of one or more contractors or other third persons, or any parent or guardian of a minor affected by this act, who violates or omits to comply with any of the provisions hereof, or who employs or suffers or permits any minor to be employed in violation thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment for each and every offense.

A failure to produce any permit or certificate either to work or to employ or to post any notice required by this act shall be prima facie evidence of the illegal employment of any minor whose permit or certificate is not so produced or whose name is not so posted. Any fine collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the school funds of the county, or city, or city and county, in which the offense occurred, except such fines as are imposed and collected as the result of prosecutions by the officers of the bureau of labor statistics, in which cases one-half of the resultant fine or fines shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the contingent fund of the bureau of labor statistics and one-half paid into the school funds of the county, or city, or city and county, in which the offense occurred. All reported violations of the provisions of this act, whether prosecuted or not, must be reported in writing immediately after their occurrence by the state bureau of labor statistics to the state board of education. Such report shall state the name and address of the person or corporation charged with such violation, the nature of such charge and the name, age and address of the minor or minors affected thereby, and shall be followed, at least once in every six months, to wit, on or before January tenth, and on or before July tenth of each year, by a written summary of all violations of the provisions of this act which have occurred during the preceding period of six months.

§ 8. Duty of labor commissioner. Duty of attendance officers. The bureau of labor statistics shall enforce the provisions of this act. The commissioner, his deputies and agents, shall have all the powers and authority of sheriffs or other peace officers, to make arrests for violation of the provisions of this act, and to serve any process or notice throughout the state.

The attendance officer of any county, city and county, or school district in which any place of employment, in this act named, is situated, or the probation officer of such county, shall have the right and authority, at all times, to enter into any such place of employment for the purpose of investigating violations of the provisions of this act, or violations of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, and any act amending or superseding the same; provided, however, that if such attendance or probation officer is denied entrance to such place of employment, any magistrate may, upon the filing of an affidavit by such attendance or probation officer setting forth the fact that he has a good cause to believe that the provisions of this act, or the act hereinbefore referred to, are being violated in such place of employment, issue an order directing such attendance or probation officer to enter said place of employment for the purpose of making such investigations.

§ 9. Repealed. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby expressly repealed.

§ 10. Constitutionality. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

ACT 1623a.

An act to provide for the registration of minors.

§ 1. Appointment of registrar of minors by school board. It shall be the duty of the governing board of every school district, except high school districts, to appoint a registrar of minors, and such assistant registrars as may be necessary, such appointments to be made on or before the fifteenth day of October, 1919. Such registrar of minors and assistants shall be residents of the school district and at least twenty-one years of age, and may be allowed such compensation as the governing board shall fix, not exceeding four dollars a day for the time actually and necessarily employed. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties, each registrar and assistant registrar must qualify and file his oath of office with the superintendent of schools of the county.

§ 2. Appointment by county superintendent. If the governing board of any school district shall fail to appoint a registrar of minors as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the county superintendent of the schools having jurisdiction over such district to appoint a registrar of minors and such assistant registrars as may be necessary for such district and to fix their compensation, not exceeding four dollars a day for the time actually and necessarily employed. He shall also draw a warrant on the funds of such district in payment of the services of such registrar and assistants.

§ 3. Registration of minors. It shall be the duty of the registrar of minors during the month of November, 1919, to visit each habitation, residence, domicile or place of abode in his school district and make a complete registration of minors residing in the school district on the first day of November, 1919, on blanks provided by the superintendent of public instruction.

Such registration shall show the name and residence of each head of a family in the school district, the names of all minor children in each family, the nativity, sex, race, date of birth of each minor child, the school attended by each minor child if he is attending school, the grade in which he is placed in school, the occupation of each minor child if he is employed in a gainful occupation and the name and address of the employer. Wherever a district is formed lying partly in two or more adjoining counties, the registrar must report to each county superintendent the data concerning the families and children residing in the county under the jurisdiction of such superintendent. Minors who are absent attending institutions of learning shall be registered in the districts where their parents or guardians reside. Orphans, half-orphans and children living in orphanages shall be registered in the district in which the orphanage is situated. Minors under guardianship shall be registered in the district in which the guardian resides.

§ 4. Report of registrar. The registrar shall on or before the first day of January, 1920, file a complete report of such registration, attested by oath, with the county superintendent of schools and a duplicate report with the clerk of the governing board of the district. Such report shall include a statistical abstract showing the number of families enumerated; the total number of boys; the total number of girls; the total number of native-born and foreign-born children, segregated according to sex; the total number of boys and girls of each race, segregated according to sex; the total number of minors under six years of age, segregated according to sex; the total number of minors six and seven years of age, segregated according to sex; the number of minors between the ages of eight and fifteen years inclusive, segregated according to sex; the total number of minors between the ages of sixteen and twenty, inclusive, segregated according to sex; the total number of minors between the ages of sixteen and twenty inclusive, attending school, segregated according to sex; the total number of minors under sixteen years of age employed in gainful occupations; and the total number of minors over sixteen years of age employed in gainful occupations; and the total number of (1) crippled children, (2) blind children, (3) dumb children and (4) deaf children, segregated according to age and sex.

§ 5. Report to superintendent of public instruction. It shall be the duty of the county superintendent of each county to make a report of the registration of his county to the superintendent of public instruction on or before the first day of March, 1920. Such report shall be compiled from the statistical abstracts filed by registrars of minors of his county and shall be on forms prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction.

§ 6. Expenses. The actual and necessary expenses for making such registration shall be paid, subject to provisions of law, out of the county or special fund of the school district. In carrying out the provisions of this act, any board of school trustees may appoint any teacher or attendance officer employed by them to serve as registrar of minors, and pay such teachers for such additional service, subject to the provisions of this act. In districts employing an attendance officer, such attendance officer shall serve as registrar of minors without additional compensation.

TITLE 255.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

ACT 1624.

An act to provide for direct legislation by cities and towns, including initiative and referendum.

[Approved January 2, 1912. Stats. Ex. Sess. 1911, p. 131.]

Amended 1915, p. 319; 1917, p. 655.

The amendment of 1917 follows:

§ 2. Not applicable to street proceedings. This act is not intended to apply to those cities having a freeholders' charter adopted and ratified under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution and having in such charter provision for the direct initiation of ordinances by the electors; nor to proceedings had for the improvement of streets in or rights of way owned by municipalities, the opening or closing of streets, the changing of grades or the doing of other work, the cost of which or any portion of which is to be borne by special assessments upon real property. [Amendment approved May 17, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 655.]

TITLE 256.

INSANE.

ACT 1633b.

An act authorizing the board of managers of the Napa State Hospital to grant a right of way to San Francisco, Napa and Calistoga Railway over land owned by the state of California, for the consideration herein expressed.

§ 1. Authority for Napa State Hospital to grant right of way to San Francisco, Napa and Calistoga Railway. For and in consideration of the grantee of the right of way hereinafter mentioned removing its tracks from the state highway at the point hereinafter mentioned and on to the said right of way and thereby eliminating a source of danger to the people using said highway and railway, arising from the existence of a sharp and dangerous curve on the main line of said railway at said point on said state highway, and upon the further consideration of the abandonment by the grantee of that portion of its present right of way over said state highway from which its said tracks are to be so removed, the board of managers of Napa State Hospital are hereby authorized to grant to San Francisco, Napa and Calistoga Railway a right of way over and along a strip of land used by the Napa State Hospital for farming purposes, and desired by said railway for a right of way for its railroad, in order to straighten its track at said point, and remove the same from said highway and thereby eliminate a curve thereon, over, along, and upon the following lands belonging to the state of California, to wit: Commencing on the western line of the state highway leading from Napa to Cordelia, at the southeast corner of the tract of land purchased by the state of California from Homer S. King et ux., by deed bearing date October 1, 1904, and recorded in liber 89 of deeds, page 154, Napa county records, and running thence north seven and one-half degrees west, along said western line of said state highway, five hundred sixty-one feet; thence south two degrees east five hundred eighty feet and to a point on the southern line of said tract of land purchased from said Homer S. King, as aforesaid, distant south sixty-nine and one-half degrees west fifty-six feet from the point of commencement; thence north sixty-nine and one-half degrees east, fifty-six feet and to the point of commencement, containing thirty-six one-hundredths of an acre of land.

ACT 1635b.

An act providing for the removal of bodies from the cemetery at the Stockton State Hospital and the disposition thereof, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 1, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1661. In effect July 31, 1917.]

§ 1. Appropriation: Removal of bodies Stockton State Hospital. Out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, to be expended in accordance with law in the removal of bodies from the cemetery at the Stockton State Hospital and in the disposition thereof incident to such removal.

ACT 1648.

An act to establish an institution for the care, confinement and instruction of feeble-minded and epileptic persons; to provide for the government and maintenance thereof, and for the study of mental deficiency and related problems; to provide for admission and commitment to such institution, and to prescribe penalties for unlawfully or improperly contriving to have persons adjudged feeble-minded under this act; to provide for the sterilization of inmates of such institutions; to prescribe penalties for procuring the escape, or aiding or advising in the escape, of inmates, or concealing inmates thereof; to provide a contingent fund for the use of such institution and to make an appropriation therefor.

§ 1. Pacific Colony created. There is hereby created an institution to be known as the Pacific Colony and which is hereby declared to be a corporation.

§ 2. Board of trustees. The said institution shall be under the control of a board of three trustees, to be appointed by the governor, one for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and thereafter for terms of four years each, to hold office until their successors are respectively appointed and qualified. The governor shall fill vacancies occurring from any cause in the membership of such board, and the first board shall be appointed within thirty days after this act takes effect.

§ 3. Chairman. The said trustees shall annually elect from their own number a chairman and a vice-chairman, whose terms of office shall be one year and until their successors shall be duly appointed and qualified.

§ 4. By-laws. The board of trustees may, from time to time, establish such by-laws, rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as they may deem expedient for the efficient management and government of the said institution, for the transaction of its business and the holding of its meetings.

§ 5. Vacancy. If any trustee fail, for three months, to attend the regular meetings of the board, unless he is ill or absent from the state, his office shall become vacant, if the board, by resolution, so declare. A copy of any such resolution, certified by the secretary of the board, must thereupon be forthwith transmitted to the governor.

§ 6. Compensation. The trustees shall be entitled to receive as compensation for their services, while in the actual discharge of their duties as such trustees, ten dollars per day each; provided, that the total thereof shall not exceed two hundred forty dollars in any one year for any trustee; and provided, that if such services be performed on two or more consecutive days, there shall in such case be remuneration paid for one day only; and provided, also, that the trustees shall be entitled to receive, in addition to such compensation, all of their necessary expenses while attending to the business of the institution.

§ 7. Superintendent. Secretary. The board of trustees shall appoint a superintendent, not of their own number, who shall be a resident of the institution and shall have charge, management and control of the same and of its property, and shall have the charge, control, discipline and training of its inmates, subject to the direction of the board of trustees; and he shall give a bond to the state in such sum and with such sureties as will be satisfactory to the state board of control, for the faithful performance of his duties. The board of trustees shall appoint a secretary who shall perform such duties as the board may direct. The superintendent may be appointed to that position.

§ 8. Treasurer. The superintendent shall, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, employ, with power to discharge, a treasurer and such other officers and employees as he may consider proper and necessary for the efficient carrying into effect of the design of the said institution, determine their titles, and prescribe their duties.

§ 9. Duty of treasurer. The treasurer shall receive and disburse all moneys and keep account of the same, under the direction of the board of trustees, but subject to such supervision or control as is vested by law in the state board of control, and he shall give a bond to the state in such sum and with such sureties as will be satisfactory to the state board of control for the faithful performance of his duties.

§ 10. Compensation of officers. The board of trustees shall fix the compensation of the superintendent, whose salary shall be not less than three hundred dollars per month, and the superintendent shall fix the compensation of the other officers and employees, subject to the approval of the board of trustees.

§ 11. Purchase of site. The board of trustees, together with the superintendent, are hereby empowered and instructed to purchase on behalf of the state, in the territory covered by and included within the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside and San Diego, for the use of the said institution, such a site as they may deem most advantageous, of preferably not less than eight hundred acres, subject to the approval of the state board of control as to the purchase price, and subject to such approval, the said board of trustees and superintendent may, if they consider it advisable, purchase water rights or make provision for the development of water for the use of said lands. The state department of engineering shall, at the request of the board of trustees, and with the approval of the state board of control, examine into the matter of water, light, power and sanitation, and the engineering problems involved, in connection with any site or sites the board may investigate with a view to purchasing, and shall report thereon to the board of trustees, with special regard to the suitability of such site or sites for the purposes of the institution.

The University of California shall, on the approval of the state board of control, render to the board of trustees such reasonable assistance as the board may desire, in determining the quality and character of the soil of such site or sites for agricultural, horticultural and other purposes, and its suitability for the purposes of the institution.

The said trustees and superintendent, the said state department of engineering, and the said university, shall be entitled to receive their necessary expenses in connection with said investigations and the selection and purchase of said site.

§ 12. Buildings. The board of trustees shall erect the buildings for said institution, subject to such supervision or control as is by law vested in the state department of engineering.

§ 13. Equipment, etc. The board of trustees is authorized and required to purchase such equipment, furniture, supplies and materials, as it may deem suitable for the proper completion and furnishing of the said buildings, and for the operation and maintenance of the said institution, subject to such supervision or control as is by law vested in the state board of control and the state purchasing agent.

§ 14. Donations and bequests. The said institution may take and hold in trust for the state any grant or devise of land, or any donation or bequest of money or other personal property, heretofore or hereafter granted, devised, donated, or bequeathed to the use of the institution, and shall dispose of the same in accordance with the wishes of the donor, or testator, if expressed, and if no condition be attached thereto, or in so far as any wishes expressed do not prevent, then to invest and reinvest the same, or to change the investment thereof, as to the board of trustees may seem best, and to use the income arising therefrom for the best interests of the institution.

§ 15. Forms for admission of inmates. The board of trustees shall prescribe and publish instructions and form, in relation to the commitment and admission of inmates, and may include in them such interrogatories to be answered as it may deem necessary or useful; which instructions and forms shall be furnished to anyone applying therefor, and shall also be sent in sufficient numbers to the county clerks of the several counties of the state.

§ 16. Who are "feeble-minded." The following persons, if not insane, shall be held to be "feeble-minded" within the meaning of this act:

(a) Those who are so mentally deficient that they are incapable of managing themselves and their affairs independently, with ordinary prudence, or of being taught to do so, and who require supervision, control, and care, for their own welfare, or for the welfare of others, or for the welfare of the community; or

(b) Those whose intelligence in the judgment of one or more psychologists, when they have been examined by such psychologist or psychologists making use of standardized psychological tests and whatever supplementary material may be available, will not develop beyond the level of the average child of twelve years.

§ 17. Petition to superior court for order admitting person. Whenever any parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of a supposedly feeble-minded person who is not insane, or an epileptic under twenty-one years of age, desires such person to be admitted into the said institution, he may petition the superior court of the county in which such person resides for an order admitting such person thereto; the petition shall disclose his reasons for supposing such person to be eligible for admission thereto, and shall be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner. Or whenever any peace officer desires any such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person to be so admitted, he may petition the said court as aforesaid for an order therefor; provided, he shall have given two days previous written notice of the date of the presentation of the petition, personally or by United States mail, to such parent, guardian or other person charged with such support, if known to him, and if not so known, then to some other relative or friend, if any known to him, residing in the said county, an affidavit whereof, together with the names, addresses and relationship of the parties so notified, and the facts of his said knowledge or want of knowledge, shall be filed with the petition.

§ 18. Warrant for arrest. The court may cause a warrant to issue for the arrest and delivery to the court of such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person, whenever considered advisable or necessary, and have the same executed by any peace officer.

§ 19. Examination of person. Order of commitment. The judge of the said court must inquire into the condition or status of such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person, for which purpose he may by subpoena require the attendance before him of a clinical psychologist and a reputable physician, or one of each, or two of either, to examine such person and testify as to his or her mentality. Such physicians must have made a special study of mental deficiency and be qualified to act as "medical examiners." The said judge may also by subpoena require the attendance of such other persons to give evidence as he may deem advisable, and if the judge find such person to be a feeble-minded person, as defined by section sixteen of this act, or an epileptic person under twenty-one years of age, and that such person has been a resident of the state for at least one year next preceding the presentation of the petition, such judge may make an order of commitment to said institution, and on the presentation of such order the superintendent must receive such person therein; provided, that, in the opinion of the board of trustees, the condition of such person, the accommodation at the said institution, and the state of its finances, be such as to justify the receiving of such person. Pending the said investigation the said supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person may be left in charge of the parent, guardian or other suitable person or in a detention home.

§ 20. Order to pay expenses. The judge shall attach to the order of commitment his findings and conclusions, together with all the social and other data he may have bearing upon the case, and the same shall be delivered to the said institution with such order. The judge must inquire into the financial condition of the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of any such person, and if he find him able to do so, in whole or in part, he must make a further order, requiring him or her to pay, to the extent the judge may consider him or her able to pay, the expenses of the proceedings in connection with the investigation, detention and commitment of such person, and the expenses of the delivery thereof to the institution, and to pay to the institution, at stated periods, such sums as, in the opinion of the judge, are proper, during such time as the person may remain in the institution. This order may be enforced by such further orders as the judge deems necessary, and may be varied, altered or revoked in his discretion.

§ 21. Petitioner to pay, when. In case of the dismissal of the said petitioner, the judge may, if he considers the petition to have been filed with malicious intent, order the petitioner to pay the expenses in connection therewith, and may enforce the same by such further orders as he may deem necessary.

§ 22. Penalty. Any one who shall knowingly contrive to have any person adjudged feeble-minded under this act, unlawfully or improperly, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 23. Feeble-minded boy or girl before juvenile court. When a boy or girl is brought before a juvenile court under the juvenile court law, if it appear to the court, either before or after adjudication, that such person is feeble-minded within the meaning of this act; or if on the conviction of any person of crime by any court it appear to the court that such person is feeble-minded as aforesaid, the court may adjourn the proceedings or suspend the sentence, as the case may be, and direct some suitable person to take proceedings under this act against the person before the court, and the court may order that, pending the preparation, filing, and hearing of the petition, the person before the court be detained in a place of safety, or be placed under the guardianship of some suitable person, on his entering into a recognizance for the appearance of the person upon trial or under conviction when required. If upon the hearing of the petition, or upon a subsequent hearing under this act, the person upon trial or under conviction be not found to be feeble-minded, the court may proceed with the trial or impose sentence, as the case may be.

§ 24. Persons admitted for observation. The superintendent may admit to the Pacific Colony temporarily, without commitment, under such rules and regulations as the board of trustees may prescribe, for purposes of observation and testing, such persons, as are suspected of being feeble-minded, to ascertain whether or not they are actually mentally defective, and proper cases for care, treatment and training in an institution for the feeble-minded, and if such is found to be the case, application may be made to the superior court for an order of commitment of such persons to such an institution. On presentation of an affidavit or affidavits of the facts upon which such opinion is based, the judge of the said court may make such order. .

§ 25. Witness fees. Each psychologist and physician shall be entitled to receive for each attendance mentioned in section nineteen the sum of five dollars for each person examined, together with his necessary actual expenses occasioned thereby, and other witnesses shall be entitled to receive for such attendance such fees and expenses as the court in its discretion may allow, if any, not exceeding the fees and expenses allowed by law in other cases in the said courts.

§ 26. Payment by county treasurer. Any fees or traveling expenses payable to a psychologist, physician, or witness as aforesaid, and all expenses connected with the execution of any process under this act, which may not be paid by the parent, guardian or person charged with the support of the said supposed feeble-minded or epileptic person, shall be paid by the county treasurer of the county in which such person resides, upon the presentation to the treasurer of a certificate of the said judge that the party is entitled thereto.

§ 27. Transfer to or from state hospital for insane. The said board of trustee, when it shall deem desirable, owing to the mental condition of an inmate of the Pacific Colony, may, with the approval of the state commission in lunacy, transfer such inmate to a state hospital for the insane, provided that on due investigation by such commission, the commission shall consider such inmate a fit subject therefor. And the said commission, whenever on due observation and investigation it shall consider a patient in any state hospital for the insane eligible for commitment to the Pacific Colony may with the approval of the said board of trustees, transfer such patient thereto, for care and treatment therein.

§ 28. Transfer to or from Sonoma State Home. Inmates of the Sonoma State Home may be transferred to the Pacific Colony, and inmates of the Pacific Colony may be transferred to the Sonoma State Home, at any time and from time to time as may be agreed upon by the boards of trustees of the two institutions, upon the application of the parent, guardian or other persons charged with the support of such inmate, provided he pay the expenses thereof, and may, with the approval of the state board of control, be so transferred without such application and without such payment, in which latter case the expenses thereof shall be paid by either or both of such institutions as may be determined by the state board of control.

§ 29. Liability for support unchanged. In the event of the transfer of any inmate or patient as provided in sections twenty-seven and twenty-eight of this act the liability of any estate, person or county for the care, support and maintenance of such person, shall be the same to the institution to which the person is transferred as it was to the institution from which the transfer is made.

§ 30. Execution of writ of commitment. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county wherein an order is made by the judge of the superior court committing any person to the Pacific Colony, or of any other person designated by the said judge, to execute the writ of commitment, and to receive as compensation therefor such fees as are now or may hereafter be provided by law for the transportation of prisoners to the state prison; provided, that in all cases the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of such person may, at his option, with the approval of the said judge, and in all cases where he is able or the estate of such person is sufficient, shall, if the said judge approve, without expense to the county or state, execute said writ, after being duly sworn therefor, with like effect and with like powers as the sheriff would have; but no such person, being a female, shall be taken to the said colony by any male person not her husband, father, brother or son, without the attendance of some woman of good character and mature age, chosen for the purpose by the judge, which woman shall, if the judge see fit, be paid therefor such reasonable remuneration as he may allow.

§ 31. Payments by county. For each person committed to the Pacific Colony there shall be paid by the county from which he is committed, to the state treasurer, the sum of fifteen dollars monthly, for and during each month or part of month such person so committed remains an inmate of the institution, in case the payments herein provided to be made by the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of any such person should not be made, and to the extent they are not made, not exceeding fifteen dollars per month.

§ 32. Statement by county auditor. Each county auditor must include in his state settlement report, rendered to the controller in the months of May and December, the amount due under this act, by reason of commitment to the Pacific Colony, and the county treasurer, at the time of the settlement with the state in such months, must pay to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, the amounts found to be due by reason of the commitments herein referred to.

§ 33. When others may be admitted. Whenever the accommodations of the Pacific Colony permit, and if such action does not conflict with the interest or welfare of committed cases, the board of trustees, without judicial commitment, and upon such terms as may appear to said board to be to the best interests of the state, may admit to said institution epileptics, of any age, and also such other persons as are, under the provisions of this act, eligible for admission to said institution.

§ 34. Transfer from state schools. Any boy who has been or may hereafter be committed to the Preston School of Industry, or the Whittier State School, or any girl who has been or may hereafter be committed to the California School for Girls at Ventura, or to any similar institution now or hereafter created, who comes within the provisions of this act, may, on application to a judge of the superior court of the county in which such person may be located, by the superintendent of the institution to which he or she has been committed, be discharged from such last mentioned institution, and be recommitted, for an indeterminate period, to the Pacific Colony to the Sonoma State Home or to any similar institution hereafter created; provided, the findings of the judge and the opinion of the board of trustees of the institution to which such boy or girl is sought to be committed are the same as on the commitment to and receiving into the Pacific Colony of other persons as aforesaid; and provided, that there shall have been served upon such relatives of said boy or girl, or upon such other persons and in such manner as the said judge may deem necessary or proper, such notice of the application as he shall consider sufficient, in order to enable them to be heard on the application.

§ 35. Object of colony. The object aimed at in the Pacific Colony shall be such care and training of its inmates as to render them more useful and happy, and tend to make them as nearly self-supporting as their level of intelligence may permit.

§ 36. Manufacture of furniture, etc. The Pacific Colony may manufacture or raise for sale, such articles of furniture, supplies or produce as may be used in the said or any other state institution, subject to the approval and under the control of the state board of control.

§ 37. Disposition of funds. All moneys received from the sale of articles of furniture, supplies or produce as provided in section thirty-six of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer, to be placed in the contingent fund to the credit of the said colony and for its use.

§ 38. Department for clinical diagnosis. The Pacific Colony shall have a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates, and their subsequent classification and observation, with a view to their proper segregation and treatment.

§ 39. Examination of inmate before discharge. The superintendent shall, at least two weeks before the discharge of any inmate, have made, by a trained clinical psychologist, an examination of the mental condition of such inmate, and a permanent record thereof shall be kept in the office of the superintendent; which record shall be open to the inspection of all state boards or commissioners authorized by law to investigate or inspect the institution.

§ 40. Biennial report of superintendent. The superintendent shall issue, at the end of each period of two years, a report of the work done during that period, giving the number of inmates received within that time, their sex, nativity, residence, date of reception, level of intelligence determined as aforesaid, and the results of the investigations that may have been made; such report shall also give the number of inmates discharged during that period, with the date and reason therefor, and the names of all paying inmates, the amounts charged for them, and the amounts received therefrom, together with such other information or suggestions as shall be required by the board of trustees or the state board of control, or to the superintendent may seem desirable; which report shall be kept on file in the office of the superintendent, but shall not be printed. A copy of such report shall be sent to the governor, along with the biennial report of the board of trustees, and may be printed for the use of the legislature or for distribution; provided, the names of the inmates are not given or their identity made evident.

§ 41. Discharge of inmates. The board of trustees may discharge, or the superintendent may grant a temporary leave of absence to, any inmate at any time.

§ 42. Sterilization before discharge. Before any inmate who has been committed to the Pacific Colony, and who is feeble-minded or is afflicted with incurable chronic mania or dementia, shall be released or discharged therefrom, the board of trustees on the recommendation of the superintendent approved by a clinical psychologist holding the degree of Ph.D. and a physician qualified to serve under section nineteen of this act, after they shall have made a careful investigation of all the circumstances of the case, may cause such person to be sterilized; and such sterilization, whether with or without the consent of the inmate, shall be lawful, and shall not render the said commission, or its members, or any person participating in the operation, the said trustees, the said colony, or any of its officers or employees, liable civilly or criminally.

§ 43. Action against trustees, etc. No civil action shall be brought against the trustees, the superintendent, or any other officer or employee of the said colony, because of any act done or failure to perform any act while discharging his official duties, without leave of the controller first had or obtained. Any just claim for damages against such trustee, superintendent, officer or employee, for which the state would be legally or equitably liable, may be paid out of any moneys appropriated for the said institution.

§ 44. Penalty for bringing drugs or liquor. Any person, not authorized by law, who brings into the said colony, or within the grounds adjoining or adjacent thereto, any opium, morphine, cocaine, or other narcotic, or any intoxicating liquor of any kind whatever, except for medicinal or mechanical purposes, or any firearms, weapons or explosives of any kind, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 45. Penalty for aiding escape. If any person procure the escape of any male inmate of the said colony, or advise, connive at, aid or assist in such escape, or conceal any such inmate after such escape, or if any person advise or connive at the escape of any female inmate of the said colony, he or she is guilty of a misdemeanor; and if any person procure the escape of any female inmate of the said colony, or aid or assist in such escape, or conceal such female inmate after such escape, he or she is guilty of a felony.

§ 46. Trustees, etc., not to be interested in contracts. No trustee or employee of the said colony shall be personally, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract, purchase or sale made, or any business carried on, in behalf of or for said institution. All contracts, purchases or sales made in violation of this section shall be held and declared null and void, and all moneys paid to such trustee, employee, or any other person, for his benefit, in whole or in part, in consideration of such purchases, contracts or sales made, may be recovered by civil suit, to be instituted in the name of the state of California against such trustee, employee or person acting in his behalf; and in addition, it is hereby made the duty of the governor or the board of trustees, as the case may be, upon satisfactory proof of the fact of such interest, to immediately remove the trustee or employee delinquent as aforesaid, and to report the facts to the attorney general, who shall take such legal steps in the premises as he shall deem expedient.

§ 47. Exempt from control of state commission in lunacy. The Pacific Colony, its inmates, officers, employees and property are hereby declared to be exempt from the operation of chapter one, title five, part three of the Political Code, and free from the supervision, inspection or control of the state commission in lunacy.

§ 48. Appropriation. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) for the purposes of this act.

§ 49. Payment. The controller of the state is hereby directed on requisition of the board of trustees, duly audited by the state board of control, to draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the board of trustees for any moneys duly appropriated, to pay for the expenditures in the establishment and maintenance of the said colony, and the said treasurer is directed to pay the same from the appropriations provided therefor.

§ 50. Validity. The invalidity of any part of this act shall not be construed to affect the validity of any other part capable of having practical operation and effect without the invalid part.

ACT 1648a.

An act to authorize and empower the board of managers of the Agnews State Hospital to grant, under the conditions herein provided, to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, a corporation, a right of way and easement for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating an industrial spur-track over, along and upon a strip of land situate in the county of Santa Clara and belonging to the state of California.

§ 1. Board of managers of Agnews State Hospital may grant right of way. The board of managers of the Agnews State Hospital is hereby authorized and empowered, in its discretion, under the conditions herein provided, to grant to the Southern Pacific Railway Company, a corporation, a right of way and easement for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating an industrial spur-track to the adjacent property of Western Grain and Sugar Products Company, a corporation, over, along and upon a strip of land not to exceed thirty feet in width, situate along the northerly and easterly boundaries of the land owned by the state of California whereon said Agnews State Hospital is located, in the county of Santa Clara, in said state, together with the right to connect such spur-track with its existing line of railroad along and upon the arc of a curve having a radius no greater than that of the spur-track mentioned in section two hereof.

§ 2. Conditions. Such grant shall be made only upon the happening of the following conditions precedent, namely: The said Southern Pacific Railway Company shall agree and bind itself, so soon as said spur-track shall be completed and in condition to operate, to take up and remove from the strip of land known as Scott lane, and also sometimes called the Old Lick Mills road, all of the ties, rails and roadbed of the existing spur-track thereon, situate northerly and easterly of the point where the spur-track running to said state hospital departs from said Scott lane, and to remove the embankment whereon said portion of said spur-track to be removed is now constructed. Said company shall further agree and bind itself so to construct such proposed new spur-track as to provide ample facilities thereunder for the free and unimpeded flow and drainage of the storm waters usually and ordinarily cast upon said lands of the state in times of heavy and prolonged rainfall.

An act confirming the sale and conveyance by the board of managers of the Agnews State Hospital to Western Industries Company of a portion of real property situate in the county of Santa Clara, state of California, and belonging to the state of California. [Approved May 21, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 780.]

TITLE 257.

INSECTS.

ACT 1651.

An act to prevent the importation into or transportation through the state of California of insects injurious to cultivated crops, providing exemption for specific scientific purposes, fixing the authority to grant such exemption and providing a penalty for a violation of the terms of this act.

[Approved May 5, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 271. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Importation of injurious insects forbidden. No person, firm or corporation shall bring into the state of California, nor shall any railroad, steamship, express or other transportation company knowingly transport into the state of California from any state, territory or district in the United States, or from any foreign country, or from one point or place in the state of California to another point or place therein, any cotton boll weevil, gypsy moth, or any insect in a live state which is injurious to cultivated crops, or the eggs, larvae of pupae of any insect injurious as aforesaid; except when brought for scientific purposes under the regulations hereinafter provided for; nor shall any person bring into the state of California from any state, territory or district in the United States, or from any foreign country, or from any point or place in the state of California to another point or place therein, except for scientific purposes under the regulations as hereinafter provided for, any insect in a live state which is injurious to cultivated crops, or the eggs, larvae or pupae of any insect injurious as aforesaid.

§ 2. Insects for scientific purposes exempted. No provision in this act shall apply to the transportation or moving into or through the state of California, of live insects for scientific purposes under the rules and regulations promulgated by the United States department of agriculture, or by the state commissioner of horticulture of California.

§ 3. Penalty. Any person, firm or organization who shall violate the provisions of section one of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

TITLE 259.

INSURANCE.

ACT 1667.

To provide for the organization and management of county fire insurance companies.

[Stats. 1897, p. 439.]

Amended 1907, p. 941; 1909, p. 912; 1911, p. 1339; 1917, pp. 163, 943.

§ 7. Qualifications for members. Any person owning insurable property in the county in which any such company is formed or any person owning insurable property in any county adjoining the county wherein such company is formed as hereinafter provided, may become a member by insuring therein, and shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges appertaining thereto; but no person not residing in the county in which a company is formed shall become a director of such a company.

[Amendment approved May 26, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 944.]

§ 8. What may be insured. Limitation. Pro rata share of expense and loss. Such company may issue policies on detached dwellings, school-houses, churches, and farm buildings (except hotels and public barns or garages); and such property as may be contained therein; also, on property owned by the assured on the premises or stored in public or private warehouses outside the corporate limits of any city or town; provided, that insurance upon personal property owned by the insured including automobiles and livestock permitted under this act, shall continue in full force and effect during the use or transportation thereof in the ordinary course of business of the insured wherever the same may be located at the time of loss; all for any time not exceeding five years and not to extend beyond the time limited for the existence of the charter; provided, however, that if an amount in excess of four thousand five hundred dollars subject to one risk or hazard be written, then all in excess of this amount must be immediately placed with or reinsured in some other company; provided, also, that no company that has been organized more than six months shall write insurance subject to one fire in amount exceeding three per cent of the total amount of risks or hazards upon the books of any such company. All persons, whose property is so insured, shall give their obligations to the company binding themselves, their heirs and assigns to pay their pro rata share to the company of the necessary expense and loss by fire which may be sustained by any member thereof during the time for which their respective policies are written; and they shall also at the time of effecting the insurance pay such percentage in cash and such other charges as may be required by law or by the rules and by-laws of the company. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 914.]

§ 10. Insuring outside county and in municipalities. Definition of terms. No such company shall insure any property beyond the limits of the county wherein the said company is organized, excepting that the company may insure in any county next adjoining the county wherein such company is organized. No such company shall issue policies covering on property in excess of four thousand five hundred dollars on any one risk or hazard under one or more policies, without immediately reinsuring the excess amount in some other company. Nor shall any such company assume a risk or risks on property situated in the limits of any city or town, or within any closely built up district, within any one block, without immediately reinsuring all in excess of four thousand five hundred dollars. Any such company may reinsure or accept reinsurance in any company operating under the provisions of this act, and not otherwise, but in no case shall the reinsurance taken by any one company exceed the amount of the risk written by the company originating the business. The location, character of, and number of risks reinsured shall not vary from that permitted in the case of original insurance. Where the amount of insurance covered by policies already written exceeds four thousand five hundred dollars, no additional insurance shall be written by such company on farm property, within a radius of one hundred feet and such radius shall continue at not less than seventy-five feet during the life of the policy, nor shall any risk be taken on any building closer than one hundred feet to any business property, nor shall any insurance be written by any such company on city or country property in excess of seventy-five per cent of its actual cash value and no additional insurance shall be allowed.

For the purpose of this act "a city or town block" shall be construed to be an area having at least one frontage in a closely built up district fronting on a used public street or highway, surrounded on all sides by a clear space at least equal in width to the clear space of such public street or highway and containing an area of not more than one hundred sixty thousand square feet.

"Closely built up district" shall mean territory on the line of a public highway or street or block or blocks where for not less than a quarter of a mile the dwelling-houses and business structures average less than one hundred feet apart.

"One risk" means one hazard under one or more policies, subject to one fire and relates to the amount named in the policy or policies.

"Clear space" means space free from combustible material likely to communicate fire. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 945.]

§ 12. Assessments for deficiency. Loans to meet losses not over certain amount. When the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained, which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall convene the directors of said company, who shall make an assessment upon all of the property to the amount for which each several piece of property is insured, taken in connection with the rate of premium under which it may be classified; except when the amount of such loss or losses does not exceed one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance in force in any county fire insurance company, then and in such event the directors of said company may, by resolution in writing, signed by two-thirds of said directors in meeting assembled, borrow in the name of said company and give said company's note or other evidence of indebtedness therefor, in an amount or amounts whose total shall not exceed one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance in force in said company. The term of said loan or loans shall not be for a greater period than twelve months nor shall the date of maturity be in excess of thirty days beyond the date of the annual meeting of said company; provided, further, that the board of directors may at their annual meeting levy an assessment not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars on first class insurance and a pro-rata amount on other classes, and said sum so raised shall constitute a reserve fund to be used in emergency cases only and another assessment for this fund shall not be made while this reserve fund remains intact. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 163.]

§ 16. Withdrawals. Any member of such company may withdraw therefrom by surrendering his policy for cancellation at any time while the organization continues the business for which it was organized, by giving notice in writing to the secretary thereof, and paying his share of all claims that may exist against such company; provided, that the company shall have power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured five days' written notice to that effect, and returning to him any excess of premium he may have paid during the term of the policy over the cost of his insurance as measured by the rules or methods of standard fire insurance companies doing business in this state. [Amendment approved April 24, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 164.]

§ 18½. Form of county fire insurance policy. The following is adopted as a standard form of county fire insurance company's policy for the state of California:

By this policy of insurance the — of — county, in consideration of — dollars, and the obligation as described herein and in application, does accept as a member and insures — against loss or damage by fire during a term of — years, commencing at noon on the — day of —, one thousand nine hundred and —, and terminating at noon on the — day of —, one thousand nine hundred and —, to the amount of — dollars.

On the following property, to wit:

(Blank space for the attachment of forms.)

For a more particular description, and as forming a part of this policy, reference is had to application No. — on file in the office of this company.

This company will not be liable beyond the actual cash value of the interest of the insured in the property at the time of loss or damage nor exceeding what it would then cost the insured to repair or replace the same with material of like kind and quality; said cash value to be estimated without allowance for any increased cost of repair or reconstruction by reason of any ordinance or law regulating repair or reconstruction of buildings, and without compensation for loss resulting from interruption of business or manufacture.

This policy is made and accepted subject to the foregoing stipulations and conditions and those hereinafter stated, which are hereby specifically referred to and made a part of this policy, together with such other provisions, agreements or conditions as may be indorsed hereon or added hereto, and no officer, agent, or other representative of this company shall have power to waive any provision or condition of this policy except by writing indorsed hereon or added hereto, and no person unless duly authorized in writing shall be deemed the agent of this company.

The charter and by-laws of this company are to be resorted to and used to explain the rights and obligations of the parties hereto in all cases not herein otherwise especially provided for, and are hereby made a part of this policy. This policy is made and accepted upon the above expressed condition.

This policy shall not be valid until countersigned by the duly authorized secretary of the company at —, California.

In witness whereof, this company has executed and attested these presents (here insert name of company) by

— — —,
President.

Countersigned at —, California, this — day of —, one thousand nine hundred and —.

Secretary.

STIPULATIONS AND CONDITIONS SPECIALLY REFERRED TO.

Stipulations and conditions. Property not covered. (a) This company shall not be liable for loss to accounts, bills, currency, evidence of debt or ownership of other documents, money, notes, or securities; nor (b) unless liability is specifically assumed hereon, for the loss of bullion, casts, curiosities, drawings, dies, jewels, manuscripts, medals, models, patterns, pictures, scientific apparatus, business or store or office furniture or fixtures, sculptures, frescoes and decorations, or property held on storage or for repair.

Hazards not covered. This company shall not be liable for loss by (a) theft, or (b) neglect of the insured to use all reasonable means to save and preserve the property at and after a fire, or when the property is endangered by fire; or (c) (unless fire ensues, and in that event the damage by fire only,) by explosion of any kind or lightning; or (d) by invasion, insurrection, riot, civil war, or commotion, or, (except as hereinafter provided,) by military or usurped power, or order of any civil authority, but the company will be liable, unless otherwise provided by indorsement hereon or added hereto, if the property is lost or damaged, by fire or otherwise, by civil authority or military or usurped power exercised to prevent the spread of fire not originating from a cause excepted hereunder and which fire otherwise probably would have caused the loss of or damage to the insured property.

Matters avoiding policy. This entire policy shall be void, (a) if the insured has concealed or misrepresented any material fact or circumstances concerning this insurance or the subject thereof; or (b) in case of any fraud or false swearing by the insured touching any matter relating to this insurance or the subject thereof, whether before or after a loss.

Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this entire policy shall be void, (a) if the insured now has or shall procure any other insurance, whether valid or not, on property covered in whole or in part by this policy, or (b) if the interest of the insured be other than unconditional and sole ownership, or (c) if the subject of insurance be a building on ground not owned by the insured in fee simple, or (d) if with the knowledge of the insured foreclosure proceedings be commenced or notice given of sale of any property covered by this policy by virtue of any mortgage or trust deed, or (e) if this policy be assigned before a loss.

Matters suspending insurance. Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage occurring (a) while the hazard be materially increased by any means within the control of the insured; or (b) if the subject of insurance be a manufacturing establishment, while it is operated in whole or in part at night later than ten o'clock or while it ceases to be operated beyond the period of ten consecutive days; or (c) while mechanics or artisans are employed in building or altering or repairing the described premises for more than fifteen days at any one time; or (d) while illuminating gas or vapor be generated in the described building (or adjacent thereto) for use therein; or (e) while there be kept, used or allowed on the described premises (any usage or custom of trade or manufacture to the contrary notwithstanding), calcium carbide, phosphorus, dynamite, nitroglycerine, fireworks or other explosive; or exceeding one quart each of benzine, gasoline, naphtha or ether; or more than twenty-five pounds of gunpowder; or (f) while a building herein described whether intended for occupation by owner or tenant is vacant or unoccupied beyond the period of ten (10) consecutive days; (g) while the interest in, title to or possession of the subject of insurance is changed excepting; (1) by death of the insured; (2) change of occupancy of building without material increase of hazard; and (3) transfer by one or more several copartners or co-owners to the others.

Such suspension shall not extend beyond the term of this policy nor create any right for refund of the whole or any portion of premium, nor affect the respective rights of cancellation.

Chattel mortgage. Unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage to any property insured hereunder while encumbered by a chattel mortgage, but the liability of the company upon other property hereby insured shall not be affected by such chattel mortgage.

Fallen building clause. Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto, if a building or any material part thereof fall, except as the result of fire, all insurance by this policy on such building or its contents shall immediately cease.

Removal when endangered by fire. Should any of said property be necessarily removed because of danger from fire, and there is no other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, or, if there is other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of its proportion of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, shall, for the ensuing five days only, cover the said removed property in its new location or locations.

Cancellation. This policy may be canceled and the insured as a member of this company may withdraw therefrom by the insured surrendering his policy for cancellation at any time while the company continues the business for which it was organized, by giving notice in writing to the secretary thereof and paying his share of all claims that may exist against this company; provided, that this company shall have power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured five days written notice to that effect and returning to him any excess of premium he may have paid during the term of the policy, over the cost of his insurance as measured by the rate of standard fire insurance companies doing business in this state.

Adjustment of losses—Arbitration. The insured who may sustain loss or damage by fire shall immediately notify the president, or in his absence, the secretary of this company, stating the amount of damage or loss sustained or claimed and if not more than one thousand five hundred dollars then the president and secretary shall proceed to ascertain the amount of such loss or damage and adjust the same. If the claim for damage or loss be for an amount greater than one thousand five hundred dollars, then the president of this company, or in his absence, the vice-president, or in the absence of both the secretary thereof, shall forthwith convene the board of directors of said company, whose duty it shall be when convened, to appoint a committee of not less than three disinterested members of this company, to ascertain the amount of such damage or loss. If in either case there is a failure of the parties to agree upon the amount of such damage or loss they may submit the question of the amount of such loss to arbitration, and in that event the president of the company shall appoint one disinterested person to act as an arbitrator, and the claimant or insured shall appoint another, and if such two arbitrators fail to agree upon the amount of such loss, then they shall select a third disinterested person to act with them and such arbitrators so appointed shall have full authority to examine witnesses and to do all other things necessary to the proper determination of the amount of loss sustained by the claimant, and shall make their award in writing to the president of the company and to the insured, and such award, so as aforesaid made, shall be final as to the amount of loss sustained. The pay of said committee shall be three dollars per day for each day's services so rendered and five cents for each mile necessarily traveled in the discharge of their duties, which shall be paid by the claimant unless the award of such committee shall exceed the sum offered by the company in liquidation of such loss or damage, in which case such expense shall be paid by the company.

Option of company in case of loss. This company may, at its option, take all or any part of the property for which insurance hereunder is claimed at its ascertained or appraised value, and may also, at its option, in satisfaction of its liability hereunder, repair, rebuild, or replace any building or structure or machine or machinery used therein, with other of like kind and quality, within a reasonable time, upon giving notice within twenty days of its intention so to do after the receipt by it of the preliminary proof of loss, or, if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or, within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments. There can be no abandonment to this company of any property.

Apportionment of loss. This company shall not be liable under this policy for a greater proportion of any loss on the described property, or for loss by, and expense of, removal from the premises endangered by fire, than the amount hereby insured bears to the entire insurance covering such property whether valid or not, or by solvent or insolvent insurers.

Assessment for deficiency. When the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained, which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall convene the directors of this company, who shall proceed in the manner as provided in section twelve of this act.

Notice of assessment. It shall be the duty of the secretary, whenever assessment shall have been made, to immediately notify every person holding a risk in this company, personally, by an agent, or by letter directed to his usual postoffice address, of the amount of such loss, and the sum due from him, as his share thereof, and of the time and to whom such payment is to be made; but such time shall not be less than thirty days, nor more than ninety days from date of such notice.

Action for neglect or refusal to pay assessments. An action may be brought against the member whose property is insured herein and this policy is automatically suspended if the insured shall not have paid, before it is delinquent, his portion of any assessment levied or other liability due this company for a period in excess of ninety days. The directors of this company who shall willfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties imposed upon them by law or the by-laws of the company, shall be liable in their individual capacity to the person sustaining such loss. An action may also be brought and maintained against this company by members thereof for losses sustained if payment is withheld after the amount of such losses have been determined and is due by the terms of the policy.

Nonwaiver by appraisal or examination. This company shall not be held to have waived any provision or condition of this policy of any forfeiture thereof, by assenting to the amount of the loss or damage or by any requirement, act or proceeding on its part relating to the appraisal or to any examination herein provided for.

Subrogation. If this company shall claim that the fire was caused by the act of any person or corporation, this company shall, upon payment of the loss be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all right of recovery by the insured for the loss resulting therefrom, and such right shall be assigned to this company by the insured on receiving such payment.

Time for commencement of action. No suit or action on this policy for the recovery of any claim shall be sustained, until after full compliance by the insured with all of the foregoing requirements, nor unless begun within fifteen months next after the commencement of the fire.

Definitions. Wherever in this policy the word "insured" occurs, it shall be held to include the legal representatives of the insured in case of death, and wherever the word "loss" occurs, it shall be deemed the equivalent of "loss or damage," and wherever the words "the time of loss or damage" are used they shall be deemed the equivalent of "the time of the commencement of the fire."

There shall be printed on the outside fold of said policy in type not smaller than small pica the following words in this form:

READ THIS POLICY.

Insurance company is liable only for actual cash value.

Policy is void in case of any fraud, false swearing, misrepresentation or concealment about material facts.

Policy is void, unless otherwise agreed in writing, if—

1. It is assigned before loss;
2. Insured has or shall procure other insurance;
3. Any change occurs in location of property;
4. Insured building is on ground not owned in fee simple by the insured;
5. Insured is not sole and unconditional owner.

Policy is suspended unless otherwise agreed in writing, if—

6. Described building becomes vacant or unoccupied for ten days;
7. Mechanics are employed more than fifteen days in repairing same;
8. Property is or becomes encumbered by chattel mortgage;
9. Illuminating gas or vapor is generated in or adjacent to described building;
10. Explosives or prohibited quantities of gasoline, etc., (except the gasoline contained in automobiles and gas engine tanks), as are kept on premises; and provided, also, that the insurance on livestock and automobiles shall cover wherever located at the time of the fire.

[PASTER.]

Insurance ceases if described building or any material part falls except as result of fire.

Policy does not cover certain enumerated personal property.

Note particularly duty of insured in case of loss; also provisions avoiding or suspending policy, including changes of ownership or possession.

DWELLING-HOUSE AND CONTENTS POLICY FORM.

§ — on the — dwelling-house and all its additions, foundations, porches, verandas and screens, including all permanent wall and ceiling decorations, frescoes, gas, steam, water, heating and lighting fixtures and connections, and all other permanent fixtures attached to and forming a part of the building, situate —, California.

§ — on household furniture, useful and ornamental, family wearing apparel, family stores and supplies, and all other personal effects of every kind and description (except accounts, bills, currency, evidences of debt or ownership, or other documents, money, notes, securities, bullion, drawings, dies, manuscripts, medals, models and patterns) including casts, curiosities, pictures, scientific apparatus and sculptures, the property of the insured or of any member of the insured's household, unless specifically insured, all contained in the above-described dwelling-house.

Loss, on building, if any, payable to —.

Claim for loss on any one picture, piece of statuary, curiosity, or work of art, shall not exceed the cost of same, and unless specifically insured, shall not exceed one hundred dollars.

The privilege for the within described dwelling to remain vacant or unoccupied is hereby increased to thirty (30) consecutive days.

Permission is granted for mechanics or artisans to make alterations or repairs to the within described building for more than fifteen (15) days at any one time, and to build additions, this policy to cover on and in same under the respective items hereof.

Permission is hereby granted (when not prohibited by local ordinance) for the use of gasoline stoves or lamps, it being warranted by the insured that the reservoir attached to each stove or lamp be filled during daylight only, and then only when the stove or lamp is not in use, and that no artificial light be permitted in the room when the reservoir is being filled, and that no gasoline, except that contained in the reservoir, shall be kept within the building. A breach of this warranty renders this permit null and void.

Secretary.

[PASTER.]

By special agreement indorsed on the policy or added thereto, the provisions regarding appraisement or apportionment of loss may be waived and the valuations of all or any of the insured property in case of total loss may be agreed upon in advance of loss.

Said standard form of policy shall be plainly printed and no portion thereof shall be in type smaller than small pica and subheads shall be in type larger than pica, and the lines of the policy shall be numbered consecutively.

All mutual fire insurance policies on property in California shall be on said standard form, and except as herein provided, shall not contain additions thereto. No part of the standard form shall be omitted therefrom.

The blanks in said standard form shall be appropriately filled. The company may add to the standard form any matter relating to its financial condition, directors, officers, stockholders and history, and the address of its home office, and principal office in the state; also in red ink any provisions respecting any limitations of liability of the company, its stockholders or members which it is required or permitted by the law of the state or county of its organization to insert in its policies.

Clauses may be added to the standard form providing for and defining the rights, duties and obligations of mortgagees, assignees and other parties who have acquired or may acquire an interest in, right to or lien upon the insured property.

No clause shall be inserted or rider attached affecting the standard form liability of the insurer for loss or damage by fire occasioned either directly or indirectly by earthquake, hurricane, volcanic action or other disturbance of nature, unless the same shall be printed in red ink in type larger than small pica and at the head of the policy there shall be printed in red ink in large bold-faced type the words "This policy contains limitations of liability not permitted in the California standard form."

Clauses may be added to the standard form (a) covering property and risks not otherwise covered; (b) assuming greater liability than is otherwise imposed on the insurer; (c) granting insured permits and privileges not otherwise provided; (d) waivers of any of the matters, voiding the policy or suspending the insurance; (e) waivers of any of the requirements imposed on the insured after loss.

Except as herein otherwise provided clauses may be attached to the standard form by separate riders in type larger than pica imposing specified duties and obligations upon the insured and limiting the liability of the insurer.

Any insurer, or the agent countersigning or issuing a fire insurance policy covering in whole or in part property in California varying from the California standard form of policy except as herein provided is guilty of a misdemeanor but any policy so issued shall notwithstanding be binding upon the company issuing the same. [New section added May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 945.]

§ 19. Repealed. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. [Amendment approved May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 953.]

ACT 1670a.

An act to incorporate standard provisions in policies of accident and health insurance, to prevent discriminations in connection therewith, and to prescribe penalties for violations of the provisions hereof.

[Approved May 26, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 957. In effect January 1, 1918.]

§ 1. Accident and health insurance policies approved by insurance commissioner. On and after the first day of January, 1918, no policy of insurance against loss or damage from the sickness, or the bodily injury or death of the insured by accident shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state until a copy of the form thereof and of the classification of risks, if more than one class of risks is written and the premium rates pertaining thereto have been filed with the commissioner of insurance; nor shall it be so issued or delivered until the expiration of thirty days after it has been so filed unless the said commissioner shall sooner give his written approval thereto. If the said commissioner shall notify, in writing, the company, corporation, association, society or other insurer which has filed such form that it does not comply with the requirements of law, specifying the reasons for his opinion, it shall be unlawful thereafter for any such insurer to issue any policy in such form. The action of the said commissioner in this regard shall be subject to review by any court of competent jurisdiction; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to give jurisdiction to any court not already having jurisdiction.

§ 2. What policy must contain. Contents of policy. Accident and Health insurance. No such policy shall be issued or delivered (1) unless the entire money and other considerations therefor are expressed in the policy; nor (2) unless the time at which the insurance thereunder takes effect and terminates is stated in a portion of the policy preceding its execution by the insurer; nor (3) if the policy purports to insure more than one person; nor (4) unless every printed portion thereof and of any indorsements or attached papers shall be plainly printed in type of which the face shall be not smaller than ten-point; nor (5) unless a brief description thereof be printed on its first page and on its filing back in type of which the face shall be not smaller than fourteen point; nor (6) unless the exceptions of the policy be printed with the same prominence as the benefits to which they apply; provided, however, that any portion of such policy which purports, by reason of the circumstances under which a loss is incurred, to reduce any indemnity promised therein to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances, shall be printed in bold-face type and with greater prominence than any other portion of the text of the policy.

§ 3. Standard provisions. Every such policy so issued shall contain certain standard provisions, which shall be in the words and in the order hereinafter set forth and be preceded in every policy by the caption, "Standard provisions." In each such standard provision wherever the word "insurer" is used, there shall be substituted therefor "company" or "corporation" or "association" or "society" or such other word as will properly designate the insurer. Said standard provisions shall be:

(1) Contract. A standard provision relative to the contract which may be in either of the following two forms: form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide for reduction of indemnity on account of change of occupation, and form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide. If form (B) is used and the policy provides indemnity against loss from sickness, the words "or contracts sickness" may be inserted therein immediately after the words "in the event that the insured is injured."

(A) Form (A). 1. This policy includes the indorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance. No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation.

(B) Form (B). 1. This policy includes the indorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance except as it may be modified by the insurer's classification of risks and premium rates in the event that the insured is injured after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in the policy, or while he is doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified, except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation, in which event the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits so fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation.

If the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued requires that prior to its issue a statement of the premium rates and classification of risks pertaining to it shall be filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in such state then the premium rates and classification of risks mentioned in this policy shall mean only such as have been last filed by the insurer in accordance with such law, but if such filing is not required by such law then they shall mean the insurer's premium rates and classification of risks last made effective by it in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable.

(2) Changes in contract. A standard provision relative to changes in the contract, which shall be in the following form:

2. No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the insurer and such approval be indorsed hereon.

(3) Reinstatement of policy. A standard provision relative to reinstatement of policy after lapse which may be in either of the three following forms: form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness; and form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness.

(A) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover loss resulting from accidental injury thereafter sustained.

(B) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(C) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover accidental injury thereafter sustained and such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(4) Time of notice of claim. A standard provision relative to time of notice of claim which may be in either of the three following forms: form (A) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; form (B) to be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness, and form (C) to be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness. If form (A) or form (C) is used the insurer may at its option add thereto the following sentence: "In event of accidental death immediate notice thereof must be given to the insurer."

(A) 4. Written notice of injury on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury.

(B) 4. Written notice of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within ten days after the commencement of the disability from such sickness.

(C) 4. Written notice of injury or of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury or within ten days after the commencement of disability from such sickness.

(5) Sufficiency of notice of claim. A standard provision relative to sufficiency of notice of claim which shall be in the following form and in which the insurer shall insert in the blank space such office and its location as it may desire to designate for such purpose of notice:

5. Such notice given by or in behalf of the insured or beneficiary, as the case may be, to the insurer at — or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with particulars sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed to be notice to the insurer. Failure to give notice within the time provided in this policy shall not invalidate any claim if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

(6) Forms for filing proof of loss. A standard provision relative to furnishing forms for the convenience of the insured in submitting proof of loss as follows:

6. The insurer upon receipt of such notice, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not so furnished within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice, the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character and extent of the loss for which claim is made.

(7) Filing proof of loss. A standard provision relative to filing proof of loss which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided:

(A) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the date of the loss for which claim is made.

(B) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the termination of the period of disability for which the company is liable.

(C) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss of time from disability within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable, and in case of claim for any other loss, within ninety days after the date of such loss.

(8) Examination of person insured. A standard provision relative to examination of the person of the insured and relative to autopsy which shall be in the following form:

8. The insurer shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and so often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of claim hereunder, and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

(9) Time within which payments made. A standard provision relative the time within which payments other than those for loss of time on account of disability shall be made, which provision may be in either of the following two forms and which may be omitted from any policy providing only indemnity for loss of time on account of disability. The insurer shall insert in the blank space either the word "immediately" or appropriate language to designate such period of time, not more than sixty days, as it may desire; form (A) to be used in policies which do not provide indemnity for loss of time on account of disability and form (B) to be used in policies which do so provide.

(A) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy will be paid — after receipt of due proof.

(B) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy for loss other than that of time on account of disability will be paid — after receipt of due proof.

(10) Periodical payments of indemnity. A standard provision relative to periodical payments of indemnity for loss of time on account of disability, which provision shall be in the following form, and which may be omitted from any policy not providing for such indemnity. The insurer shall insert in the first blank space of the form, appropriate language to designate the proportion of accrued indemnity it may desire to pay, which proportion may be all or any part not less than one-half, and in the second blank space shall insert any period of time not exceeding sixty days:

10. Upon request of the insured and subject to due proof of loss — accrued indemnity for loss of time on account of disability will be paid at the expiration of each — during the continuance of the period for which the insurer is liable, and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof.

(11) Indemnity payments. A standard provision relative to indemnity payments which may be in either of the two following forms: form (A) to be used in policies which designate a beneficiary and form (B) to be used in policies which do not designate any beneficiary other than the insured:

(A) 11. Indemnity for loss of life of the insured is payable to the beneficiary if surviving the insured, and otherwise to the estate of the insured. All other indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(B) 11. All the indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(12) Cancellation of policy. A standard provision for cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insured which shall be in the following form:

12. If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in the policy, the insurer, upon written request of the insured, and surrender of the policy, will cancel the same and will return to the insured the unearned premium.

(13) Rights of beneficiary. A standard provision relative to the rights of the beneficiary under the policy which shall be in the following form and which may be omitted from any policy not designating a beneficiary:

13. Consent of the beneficiary shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy, or to change of beneficiary, or to any other changes in the policy.

(14) Time within which suit may be brought. A standard provision limiting the time within which suit may be brought upon the policy as follows:

14. No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy, nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy.

(15) Time limitations. A standard provision relative to time limitations of the policy as follows:

15. If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permitted by the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law.

§ 4. Optional standard provisions. No such policy shall be so issued or delivered which contains any provision (1) relative to cancellation at the instance of the insurer; or (2) limiting the amount of indemnity to a sum less than the amount stated in the policy and for which the premium has been paid; or, (3) providing for the deduction of any premium from the amount paid in settlement of claim; or, (4) relative to other insurance by the same insurer; or, (5) relative to the age limits of the policy; unless such provisions which are hereby designated as optional standard provisions, shall be in the words and in the order in which they are hereafter set forth, but the insurer may at its option omit from the policy any such optional standard provision. Such optional standard provisions if inserted in the policy shall immediately succeed the standard provisions named in section three of this act.

(1) Cancellation of policy. An optional standard provision relative to cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insurer as follows:

16. The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address, as shown by the records of the insurer, together with cash or the insurer's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured, and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto.

(2) Reduction of amount of indemnity. An optional standard provision relative to reduction of the amount of indemnity to a sum less than that stated in the policy as follows:

17. If the insured shall carry with another company, corporation, association or society other insurance covering the same loss giving written notice to the insurer, then in that case the insurer shall be liable only for such portion of the indemnity promised as the said indemnity bears to the total amount of like indemnity in all policies covering such loss, and for the return of such part of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata for the indemnity thus determined.

(3) Deduction of premium. An optional standard provision relative to deduction of premium upon settlement of claim as follows:

18. Upon the payment of claim hereunder any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

(4) Other insurance. An optional standard provision relative to other insurance by the same insurer which shall be in such one of the following forms as may be appropriate to the indemnities provided, and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such upward limits of indemnity as are specified by the insurer's classification of risks, filed as required by this act.

(A) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity in excess of $—, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(B) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $— weekly, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(C) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith making the aggregate indemnity for loss other than that of time on account of disability in excess of $—, or the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $— weekly the excess insurance of either kind shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(5) Age limits. An optional standard provision relative to the age limits of the policy which shall be in the following form and in the blank spaces of which the insurer shall insert such number of years as it may elect:

20. The insurance under this policy shall not cover any person under the age of — years nor over the age of — years. Any premium paid to the insurer for any period not covered by this policy will be returned unon request.

§ 5. Contradictory provisions. No such policy shall be so issued or delivered if it contains any provision contradictory, in whole or part, of any of the provisions hereinbefore in this act designated as "Standard provisions" or as "Optional standard provisions"; nor shall any indorsements or attached papers vary, alter, extend, be used as a substitute for, or in any way conflict with any of the said "Standard provisions" or the said "Optional standard provisions"; nor shall such policy be so issued or delivered if it contains any provisions purporting to make any portion of the charter, constitution or by-laws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion of the charter, constitution or by-laws shall be set forth in full in the policy, but this prohibition shall not be deemed to apply to any statement of rates or classification of risks filed with the commissioner of insurance in accordance with the provisions of this act.

§ 6. False statement. The falsity of any statement in the application for any policy covered by this act shall not bar the right to recovery thereunder unless such false statement was made with actual intent to deceive or unless it materially affected either the acceptance of the risk or the hazard assumed by the insurer.

§ 7. Rights of insurer in defense of claim. The acknowledgment by any insurer of the receipt of notice given under any policy covered by this act, or the furnishing of forms for filing proofs of loss, or the acceptance of such proofs, or the investigation of any claim thereunder shall not operate as a waiver of any of the rights of the insurer in defense of any claim arising under such policy.

§ 8. Alteration of application. No alteration of any written application for insurance by erasure, insertion or otherwise, shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent, and the making of any such alteration without the consent of the applicant shall be a misdemeanor. If such alteration shall be made by any officer of the insurer, or by any employee of the insurer with the insurer's knowledge or consent, then such act shall be deemed to have been performed by the insurer thereafter issuing the policy upon such altered application.

§ 9. Policy in violation of act. A policy issued in violation of this act shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this act and when any provision in such a policy is in conflict with any provision of this act the rights, duties and obligations of the insurer, the policyholder and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this act.

§ 10. Policies issued by insurer not organized under laws of state. The policies of insurance against accidental bodily injury or sickness issued by an insurer not organized under the laws of this state may contain, when issued in this state, any provision which the law of the state, territory or district of the United States under which the insurer is organized, prescribes for insertion in such policies, and the policies of insurance against accidental bodily injury or sickness issued by an insurer organized under the laws of this state may contain, when issued or delivered in any other state, territory, district or country, any provision required by the laws of the state, territory, district or country in which the same are issued, anything in this section to the contrary notwithstanding.

§ 11. Not applicable to workmen's compensation insurance, etc. (1) Nothing in this act, however, shall apply to or affect any policy or liability of workmen's compensation insurance or any general or blanket policy of insurance issued to any municipal corporation or department thereof or to any corporation, copartnership, association or individual employer, police or fire department, underwriters' corps, salvage bureau, or like associations or organizations, where the officers, members or employees or classes or departments thereof are insured for their individual benefit against specified accidental bodily injuries or sickness while exposed to the hazards of the occupation or otherwise in consideration of a premium intended to cover the risks of all the persons insured under such policy.

(2) Supplemental contracts. Nothing in this act shall apply to or in any way affect contracts providing additional benefits for accidental death supplemental to contracts of life or endowment insurance nor where such supplemental contracts contain provisions which operate to safeguard such insurance against lapse or to provide a special surrender value therefor in the event that the insured shall be totally and permanently disabled by reason of accidental bodily injury or by sickness; provided, that no such supplemental contract shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state unless and until a copy of the form thereof has been submitted to and approved by the commissioner of insurance, under such reasonable rules and regulations as he shall make concerning the provisions in such contracts and their submission to and approval by him.

(3) Fraternal societies. Nothing in this act shall apply to or in any way affect fraternal benefit societies.

(4) Railroad ticket policies. The provisions of this act contained in clause (five) of section two and clauses two, three, eight and twelve of section three may be omitted from railroad ticket policies sold only at railroad stations, or at railroad ticket offices, by railroad employees.

§ 12. Penalty. Any company, corporation, association, society or other insurer or any officer or agent thereof, which or who issues or delivers to any person in this state any policy in willful violation of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars for each offense and the commissioner of insurance may revoke the license of any company, corporation, association, society or other insurer of another state or country, or of the agent thereof, which or who willfully violates any provision of this act.

§ 13. "Indemnity." The term "indemnity," as used in this act, means benefits promised.

§ 14. Penalty for discrimination. No insurance corporation authorized in this state to issue or deliver insurance against loss or damage from sickness, or bodily injury or death by accident, nor any agent of such corporation, shall make or permit any discrimination between individuals of the same class in the amount of premiums, policy fees, or rates charged for any policy of accident or health insurance, or in the benefits payable thereunder or in any of the terms or conditions of such insurance contract, or in any other manner whatsoever. Any person or corporation violating any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 15. In effect, when. This act shall take effect on the first day of January, 1918. Any policy covered by this act the form of which has received the approval of the commissioner of insurance may be issued or delivered in this state on and after the said date.

ACT 1672c.

An act defining certain classes of contracts for the exchange of indemnity, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee. [Approved December 24, 1911. Stats. Ex. Sess. 1911, p. 111.]

Repealed May 26, 1917; Stats. 1917, p. 1170. See Act 1672k.

ACT 1672k.

An act providing for reciprocal and interexchanges of indemnities, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee, and repealing an act entitled "An act defining certain classes of contracts for the exchange of indemnity, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee," approved December 24, 1911.

[Approved May 26, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1170. In effect July 27, 1917.]

Amended 1919, p. 1271.

§ 1. Exchange of reciprocal or interinsurance contracts. Individuals, partnerships and corporations of this state, hereby designated subscribers, are hereby authorized to exchange reciprocal or interinsurance contracts with each other, or with individuals, partnerships and corporations of other states, territories, districts and countries, providing insurance among themselves from any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of law, except life insurance.

§ 2. Execution of contracts. Such contracts may be executed by an attorney, agent or other representative herein designated as attorney, duly authorized and acting for such subscribers under powers of attorney, and such attorney may be a corporation. The principal office of such attorney shall be maintained at such place as is designated by the subscribers in the power of attorney. The power of attorney may further provide for the right of substitution and revocation and impose such restrictions upon the exercise of the power granted as may be agreed upon by the subscribers, and may further provide for the exercise of any right reserved to the subscribers, directly or through a board or other body to be selected under such rules or regulations as the subscribers may adopt.

§ 3. Declaration filed with insurance commissioner. Such subscribers so contracting among themselves shall through their attorney, file with the insurance commissioner a declaration verified by the oath of such attorney, or where such attorney is a corporation, by the oath of the duly authorized officers thereof, setting forth:

(a) The name of the attorney and the name or designation under which such contracts are issued, which name or designation shall not be so similar to any name or designation adopted by any attorney or by any insurance organization in the United States writing the same class of insurance, prior to the adoption of such name or designation by the attorney, as to confuse or deceive.

(b) The location of the principal office.

(c) The kind or kinds of insurance to be effected.

(d) A copy of each form of policy, contract or agreement under or by which insurance is to be effected.

(e) A copy of the form of power of attorney under which such insurance is to be effected.

(f) That applications have been made for insurance upon at least one hundred separate risks aggregating not less than one million dollars represented by executed contracts or bona fide applications to become concurrently effective; or in case of employer's liability or workmen's compensation insurance, covering a total pay roll of not less than one million dollars.

(g) That there is in the possession of such attorney and available for the payment of losses, assets conforming to the requirements of section six hereof.

(h) A financial statement under oath in form hereinafter prescribed for the annual statement.

(i) The instrument authorizing service of process as provided for in this act.

(j) Certificate showing deposits of funds or securities.

§ 4. Instrument and bond filed by attorney. Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for by the terms of section three of this act, the attorney shall file with the insurance commissioner:

(a) Instrument. An instrument in writing executed by him for said subscribers, conditioned that upon the issuance of a certificate of authority provided for in this act, action may be brought in the county in which the property or person insured thereunder is located and service of process may be had upon the insurance commissioner in all suits in this state arising out of such policies, contracts or agreements, which service shall be valid and binding upon all subscribers exchanging at any time reciprocal or interinsurance contracts through such attorney. Three copies of such process shall be served and the insurance commissioner shall file one copy, forward one copy to said attorney by registered mail addressed to the attorney at the principal office as fixed in the certificate filed, and shall return one copy with his admission of service. A judgment rendered in any such case where service of process has been so made shall be valid and binding against any and all subscribers as their interests appear and such judgment may be satisfied out of the funds in the possession of the attorney belonging to such subscribers or otherwise.

(b) Bond. A bond in favor of the people of the state of California executed by the said attorney, with two sureties to be approved by the insurance commissioner in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, conditioned that the attorney will faithfully perform the duties imposed upon him under the said powers of attorney and faithfully account for moneys handled by him thereunder; such bond may be sued upon by any subscriber suffering loss through violation of the conditions thereof and liability thereunder may be enforced by any individual subscriber or any number of subscribers, in one or the same action; provided, however, that where the power of attorney executed by the subscribers or the rules and regulations adopted by the association for the conduct of its business thereunder, provide for the bonding of the attorney, a certified copy of the bond executed in accordance with such powers of attorney or rules and regulations, shall be filed with the insurance commissioner in lieu of any other bond required under this act. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1271.]

§ 5. Statement of indemnity. There shall be filed with the insurance commissioner by such attorney whenever the insurance commissioner shall so require, a statement under oath of such attorney showing the maximum amount of indemnity upon a single risk, and, except as to workmen's compensation insurance, no subscriber shall assume on any single risk an amount greater than ten per cent of the net worth of such subscriber where the liability assumed exceeds the amount of one premium deposit.

§ 6. Assets to be maintained. Net deposits. If deficiency in assets. Reserves of independent groups. There shall at all times be maintained as assets a sum in cash or securities of the kind designated by the laws of the state where the principal office is located for the investment of funds of insurance companies, equal to one hundred per cent of the net unearned premiums or deposits collected and credited to the accounts of subscribers, or assets equal to fifty per cent of the net annual premiums or deposits collected and credited to the accounts of the subscribers on policies having one year or less to run and pro rata on those for a longer period, in addition to which there shall be maintained as a reserve in cash or such securities, assets sufficient to discharge all liabilities on all outstanding losses arising under policies issued, the same to be calculated on the basis and in the manner provided by law for the maintenance of similar reserves by companies insuring similar risks; provided, however, that all reserves on indemnity exchanged prior to July 1, 1919, shall be calculated according to the provision of law in force at the time said contracts were entered into.

Savings or credits, however, may be returned to the subscribers, irrespective as to the source from which the same accrue, whenever such returns do not constitute an impairment of the assets or reserves to be maintained as herein required; provided, however, that there shall be no discrimination in the making of such returns as between persons or places.

Net deposits shall be construed to mean (a) the advance payments of subscribers after deducting therefrom the amounts specifically provided in the subscribers' agreements for expense, or (b) in the event no such specific provision for expense be therein made, the advance payments of subscribers after deducting therefrom the reasonable expense incidental to the conduct of business not exceeding however twenty-five per cent of such advance payments.

If at any time the assets so held in cash or such securities, exclusive of loss reserves herein provided for, shall be less than required above, or be less than twenty-five thousand dollars in any exchange writing any kind of insurance, or, in any exchange writing common carrier liability insurance shall on or after the third anniversary of the date of the organization be less than fifty thousand dollars, the subscribers, or their attorney for them, shall make up the deficiency within thirty days after notice from the insurance commissioner so to do.

Where the subscribers are grouped, by industries, or otherwise, under any rule or agreement which exempts the funds of one group from liability, in whole or in part, for the payment of losses or expenses chargeable against another group, each independent group must maintain the reserve herein specified and comply with the requirements of subdivision (f) of section three hereof, relative to the number and amount of risks to be assumed. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1272.]

§ 7. Report of financial condition. Examination by insurance commissioner. Such attorney shall, within the time limited for filing the annual statement by insurance companies transacting the same kind of business, make a report, under oath, to the insurance commissioner for each calendar year, showing the financial condition of affairs at the office where such contracts are issued, and shall at any time furnish such additional information and reports as may be required; provided, however, that the attorney shall not be required to furnish the names and addresses of any subscribers except in case of an unpaid final judgment. The assets, business affairs and records of such organization, shall be subject to examination by the insurance commissioner at any reasonable time, and such examination shall be at the expense of the organization examined. The right of examination herein granted shall include the right to examine the records containing the names and addresses of the subscribers, but any information obtained therefrom shall be regarded as confidential and the disclosure thereof, except under order of court, shall constitute a breach of official duty. Where the principal office of the attorney is located in another state, the insurance commissioner may, in lieu of the examination provided for in this section, accept a certified copy of the report of examination made by the insurance department of the state where the principal office is located, or by the insurance department of any other state.

§ 8. Right of corporation to enter into insurance contracts. Any corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of the state shall, in addition to the rights, powers and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, have full power and authority to enter into insurance contracts of the kind and character herein mentioned. The right to enter into such contracts is hereby declared to be incidental to the purposes for which such corporations are organized and as fully granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred.

§ 9. Certificate of authority. Upon compliance with the requirements of this act, and the payment of a fee of fifty dollars, the insurance commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority or a license to the attorney authorizing him to make such contracts of insurance, which license shall specify the kind or kinds of insurance to be effected and shall contain the name of the attorney, the location of the principal office and the name or designation under which such contracts of insurance are issued. Such license shall be renewed annually upon a showing that the standard of solvency required herein has been maintained and all fees and taxes required have been paid. For such renewal a fee of ten dollars shall be paid. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stata 1919, p. 1273.]

§ 10. Penalty. Any attorney who shall exchange any contracts of insurance of the kind and character specified in this act, or any attorney or representative of such attorney, who shall solicit or negotiate any applications for same without the attorney first complying with the foregoing provisions, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. For the purpose of organization, and upon issuance of permit by the insurance commissioner, powers of attorney and applications for such contracts may be solicited without compliance with the provisions of this act, but no attorney, agent or other person shall make any such contracts of insurance until all of the provisions of this act shall have been complied with.

§ 11. Revocation of certificate. In addition to the foregoing penalties and where not otherwise provided, the penalty for failure or refusal to comply with any or all of the terms and provisions of this act, upon the part of the attorney, shall be the refusal, suspension or revocation of certificate of authority on license by the insurance commissioner after due notice and opportunity for hearing has been given such attorney so that he may appear and show cause why such action should not be taken.

§ 12. Fees. Tax upon gross premiums. In lieu of all other taxes, licenses or fees whatever, state or local, such attorney shall pay annually on account of the transaction of such business in this state, the same fees as are paid by mutual companies transacting the same kind of business, and an annual tax upon the gross premiums or deposits, collected from subscribers in this state during the preceding calendar year, after deducting therefrom deposit returns or cancellations, consideration for reinsurance and all amounts returned to subscribers or credited to their accounts as savings; such tax to be computed at the same rate as fixed by law for the taxation of mutual companies transacting the same kind of business.

§ 13. Provisions inserted not inconsistent with law. The attorney may insert in any form of policy prescribed by the laws of this state any provisions or conditions required by the plan of reciprocal or inter-insurance; provided, that same shall not be inconsistent with or in conflict with any law of this state. Such policy in lieu of conforming to the language and form prescribed by such law shall be held to conform thereto in substance if such policy includes a provision or indorsement reciting that the policy shall be construed as if in the language and form prescribed by such law. Any such indorsement shall first be filed with the insurance commissioner.

§ 14. (a) Not subject to insurance laws. Except as herein provided, the making of contracts as herein provided for and such other matters as are incident thereto shall not be subject to the laws of this state relating to insurance unless they are therein specifically mentioned. This section shall not be construed, however, as depriving the insurance department of the state of the right of examination of and supervision over reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, their agents and brokers, or of the right to hold and conduct hearings in the manner and under the same procedure as provided by law in the case of mutual or other insurance companies but such right is hereby expressly recognized and confirmed, but agents or brokers of reciprocals need not be expressly licensed.

(b) Unlawful to give rebate. It shall be unlawful for any reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, its attorney in fact, agent or broker to give or offer a rebate to a subscriber, directly or indirectly. A rebate is hereby defined as an allowance, gift, setoff or payment directly or indirectly made or offered as an inducement to secure the exchange of indemnities, other than a savings or credit to be returned to a subscriber in accord with the provisions contained in the power of attorney or in the reciprocal or interinsurance contract executed by him. [Amendment approved May 27, 1919; Stats. 1919, p. 1273.]

§ 15. Repealed. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

ACT 16721.

An act authorizing the governor to appoint a commission to investigate and advise the legislature concerning the adoption of a system of social insurance, and to make a report to the forty-third session of the legislature and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved May 14, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 468. In effect July 27, 1917.]

§ 1. Commission to investigate social insurance. The governor of the state of California is hereby authorized and requested to appoint a commission of seven persons, citizens of this state, to investigate and advise the legislature concerning the adoption of a system of social insurance. The commission shall report to the forty-third session of the legislature the details of any or all branches of a social insurance system it may deem advisable, and may recommend for adoption any measure or measures it deems expedient.

§ 2. Powers. The commission shall have power to subpoena witnesses and to enforce their attendance at any public hearings that may be held for the purpose of obtaining evidence of conditions bearing upon the establishment of any system of social insurance.

§ 3. Duty of persons, etc., to supply information. It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation employing labor in this state to supply the commission, at its request, with any and all information from the books, reports, contracts, pay-rolls, documents or papers of such person, firm or corporation which the commission may require to carry out the purposes of this act.

§ 4. Traveling expenses. Secretary. The members of the commission shall serve without pay but shall be reimbursed for traveling expenses incurred in connection with the work of the commission. The commission shall have power to employ an executive secretary and expert, clerical and other assistants.

§ 5. Appropriation. Revolving fund. There is hereby appropriated out of the general fund, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twenty-two thousand five hundred dollars, or any portion thereof, as may in the judgment of the commission be required for the purposes of this act. The sum of five hundred dollars of said money may be drawn from the state treasury upon approval of the state board of control without the submission of receipts, vouchers or itemized statements to be used by the commission as a cash revolving fund to facilitate its work.

ACT 1672m.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance by fire insurance corporations of guaranty surplus funds and special reserve funds and thereby limiting liability and to provide for the waiver by policy-holders of recourse against stockholders of such corporations.

[Approved May 31, 1917. Stats. 1917, p. 1378. In effect July 30, 1917.]

§ 1. Guaranty surplus fund and special reserve fund may be created. Limitation on amount of dividend. Sum deducted in estimating profits. Every domestic corporation having a capital stock issuing fire insurance policies may at its option create a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund by the adoption of a resolution by its board of directors at a regular meeting, and by filing with the insurance commissioner a copy thereof, declaring their desire and intention to create such funds and to do business under this and the two following sections. The insurance commissioner shall thereupon make or cause to be made a certificate of the result thereof, which shall particularly set forth the amount of surplus funds held by it at the date of the examination, and the same may be equally divided between and set apart to constitute guaranty surplus and special reserve funds to the extent necessary to constitute such two funds. Said certificate shall be recorded in the office of the insurance commissioner. Thereafter all policies and renewals of policies issued by such corporation shall contain a provision that they are issued under and in pursuance of this act, referring to the same by the title of this act, and all such policies and renewals shall be subject to the provisions of this act, and a policy-holder, by accepting the policy, becomes bound thereby. After the passage and filing of such resolution, the corporation shall not make, declare or pay in any form any dividend upon its capital stock exceeding seven per centum per annum thereon, and upon the surplus funds to be formed thereunder, until after its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund shall have together accumulated to an amount equal to its capital stock; and until such funds shall together amount to a sum equal to its capital stock, the entire surplus profits of the corporation above such annual dividend of seven per centum shall be equally divided between and be set apart to constitute such guaranty surplus and special reserve funds, which funds shall be held and used as hereinafter provided and not otherwise. Any such corporation which shall declare or pay any dividend contrary to the provisions herein contained, shall be deemed to have forfeited its charter. In estimating the profits of any such corporation for the purpose of making a division thereof between the guaranty surplus fund and the special reserve fund, until such funds shall together amount to a sum equal to its capital stock, there shall be deducted from the gross assets of the corporation, including for the purpose the amount of the guaranty surplus fund and the special reserve fund, the sum of the following items:

1. The amount of all outstanding claims.
2. An amount sufficient to meet the liability of the corporation for the unearned premiums upon its unexpired policies, which shall be at least equal to the unearned premiums on policies having one year or less to run, and a pro rata proportion of the premiums received on the policies having more than one year to run, and shall be known as the reinsurance liability.
3. The amount of its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund.
4. The amount of its capital.
5. Interest at the rate of seven per centum per annum upon the amount of its capital and of such funds for whatever time shall have elapsed since the last preceding cash dividend. The balance shall constitute the net surplus of the corporation subject to the equal division between the funds as herein provided. When the corporation shall notify the insurance commissioner that it has fulfilled the requirements of this section, and that its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund, taken together, equal its capital stock, he shall make an examination of the corporation and make a certificate of the result thereof; and thereafter such corporation may continue, out of any subsequent profits of its business, to add to such funds, either the whole or only a part thereof, but when any addition is made to the special reserve fund, an equal sum shall be carried to the guaranty surplus fund.

§ 2. Investment of funds. Waiver of recourse against stockholders. Such guaranty surplus fund shall be held and invested by such corporation in the same manner as its capital stock and surplus accumulations, and shall be liable and applicable in the same manner as the capital of the corporation to the payment generally of its losses. Such special reserve fund, until it shall amount to a sum equal to one-half of the capital stock, shall be invested in the same manner as the capital of the corporation, and any additional sum added to such fund shall be invested by the corporation in any securities in which the corporation is by law authorized to invest its capital or its surplus accumulations, and shall be deposited from time to time, as the same shall accumulate and be invested, with the insurance commissioner. Such special reserve fund shall be deemed a fund to protect such corporation and its policyholders other than claimants for losses already existing or then occurred in case of any extraordinary conflagration or conflagrations as hereafter mentioned, and shall not be regarded as any part or portion of the assets of the corporation so as to be liable for any claim for loss by fire or otherwise, except as herein provided.

No corporation, after it has declared its desire and intention, as provided in section one hereof, to create a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund, shall have the right thereafter to insert in its policy a provision to the effect that the insured, by accepting the policy, waives recourse against the stockholders of the corporation, until such corporation has created, as herein provided, a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund each in amount equal to one-half of the par value of its capital stock; but, when it has so done, then it may thereafter insert in any policy it may thereafter issue a provision in red ink to the effect that the insured, by accepting the policy, waives any recourse to its stockholders and agrees, in case of making any claim thereunder, to look solely to the assets and property of the corporation as and to the extent herein provided.

§ 3. In case of extensive conflagration. Corporation discharged from liability. Transfer of securities in special reserve fund. If guaranty surplus fund reduced. If capital impaired. When any extensive conflagration or conflagrations shall occur whereby the claims upon the corporation shall exceed the amount of its capital stock and of the guaranty surplus fund hereinbefore provided, the corporation shall notify the insurance commissioner of the fact, who shall then make or cause to be made, an examination of the corporation, and shall issue his certificate in duplicate of the result, showing the amounts of capital, of guaranty surplus fund, of special reserve fund, of reinsurance liability, and all other assets. One of such certificates shall be given the corporation, and the other shall be recorded in the office of the insurance commissioner. Such special reserve fund shall be immediately held to protect all policy-holders of the corporation other than such as are claimants upon it at the time, or such as become claimants in consequence of such conflagration or conflagrations. The amount of such special reserve fund, and an amount equal to the unearned premiums of such corporation, to be ascertained as hereinbefore provided, shall constitute the capital and assets of such corporation for the protection of policy-holders other than such claimants, and for the further conduct of its business. Such certificate of the insurance commissioner shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties interested in the corporation, whether stockholders, creditors or policy-holders. Upon the payment to the claimants for losses or otherwise, existing at the time of or caused by such general conflagration or conflagrations, of an amount to which they are respectively entitled in proportion to their several claims, of the full sum of the capital of the corporation and of its guaranty surplus fund, and of its assets, except only such special reserve fund and an amount of its assets equal to the liability of the corporation for unearned premiums, as certified by the insurance commissioner, such corporation shall be forever discharged from any and all further liability to such claimants and to each of them on any policy of insurance issued after the creation as above provided of the special reserve fund in amount equal to one-half of its capital stock. The insurance commissioner shall, after issuing such certificate, upon the demand of the corporation, transfer to it all such securities as shall have been deposited with him by it as such special reserve fund. If the amount of such special reserve fund shall be less than fifty per centum of the full amount of the capital of the corporation, a requisition shall be issued by the insurance commissioner upon the stockholders to make up the capital to that proportion of its full amount. Any capital so impaired shall be so made up to at least the sum of two hundred thousand dollars. If the corporation, after such requisition, shall fail to make up its capital to at least such amount as herein directed such special reserve fund shall be held as security and liable for all losses occurring upon policies of such corporation after such conflagration or conflagrations. If any amount greater than a sum equal to one-half of its capital stock shall by such corporation, under the provisions of the two preceding sections, have been deposited, as aforesaid, with the insurance commissioner, he shall retain of such securities a sum equal to one-half of the amount he shall so hold thereof in excess of such one-half of the capital stock, and transfer the balance thereof to the corporation as herein provided. The amount so transferred to the corporation shall, from the time of such transfer, if not less than two hundred thousand dollars, constitute the capital stock of the corporation for the further conduct of its business as hereinbefore provided. The sum so retained by the insurance commissioner shall thenceforth constitute the special reserve fund of the corporation, to which additions may be made as herein provided, and shall be held in the same manner, for the same purposes and under the same conditions as the original special reserve fund of the corporation was held. The corporation shall in an annual statement to the insurance commissioner set forth the amount of such special reserve fund and of its guaranty surplus fund. If in consequence of the payment of losses by fires, or of the expenses of the business, or of the interest payable under the provisions hereof to stockholders, or from any cause, the guaranty surplus fund shall be reduced in amount below the amount of the special reserve fund, the directors of the corporation shall have the right, at their option, at the time of making any division of the net profits as herein provided, to carry a larger sum to the guaranty surplus fund than to the special reserve fund; but this privilege shall cease when the two funds are made equal in amount. The policy registers, insurance maps, books of record and other books in actual use by the corporation in its business, are not to be considered as assets, but shall be held by it for its use in the protection of its policy-holders not claimants for losses at the time of such general conflagration. If after the accumulation of such special reserve fund, it shall appear upon examination by the insurance commissioner that the capital of the corporation has, in the absence of any such extensive conflagration, become impaired, he shall order a call upon the stockholders to make up such impairment, and the board of directors may either comply with such order and require the necessary payments of the stockholders, or, at their option, they may apply for that purpose so much of such special reserve fund as will make such impairment good. No corporation doing business under this and the two preceding sections shall insure any larger amount upon any single risk than is permitted by law to a corporation possessing the same amount of capital irrespective of the funds hereinbefore provided for.

ACT 1672n.

An act relating to actions against an insurance carrier when the insured person is insolvent or bankrupt, or without property sufficient to satisfy execution on account of loss or damage insured against, and requiring policy to be exhibited in certain cases.

[Approved May 21, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 776.]

§ 1. Action against insurance carrier when insured is insolvent. Exhibit of policy. No policy of insurance against loss or damage resulting from accident to, or injury suffered by another person and for which the person injured is liable other than a policy of insurance under the workmen's compensation, insurance and safety act of 1917 or any subsequent act on the same subject, or, against loss or damage to property caused by horses or other draught animals or any vehicle, and for which loss or damage the person insured is liable, shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state by any domestic or foreign insurance company, authorized to do business in this state, unless there shall be contained within such policy a provision that the insolvency or bankruptcy of the person insured shall not release the insurance carrier from the payment of damages for injury sustained or loss occasioned during the life of such policy and stating that in case judgment shall be secured against the insured in an action brought by the injured person or his heirs or personal representatives, in case death resulted from the accident, then an action may be brought against the company, on the policy and subject to its terms and limitations, by such injured person, his heirs or personal representatives as the case may be, to recover on said judgment. Upon any proceeding supplementary to execution, the judgment debtor may be required to exhibit any policy carried by him insuring against the loss or damage for which judgment shall have been obtained.

ACT 1672o.

An act to provide for proceedings against and liquidation of delinquent insurance corporations and associations.

[Approved April 30, 1919. Stats. 1919, p. 265.]

§ 1. Application of act. This act shall apply to all corporations and associations which are subject to examination by the insurance commissioner, or which are doing or attempting to do or representing that they are doing the business of insurance in this state, or which are in the process of organization intending to do such business therein; and the words "corporation" or "corporations" herein shall also include all such associations, as well as all voluntary or unincorporated associations; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect or to relate to any fraternal benefit society as defined in the act entitled "An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies," approved May 1, 1911, as amended.

§ 2. Action by insurance commissioner for order to conduct business of domestic corporation. Whenever any domestic corporation (a) is insolvent; or (b) has refused to submit its books, papers, accounts or affairs to the reasonable inspection of the insurance commissioner, or his deputy or examiner; or (c) has neglected or refused to observe an order of the insurance commissioner to make good within the time prescribed by law any deficiency, whenever its capital, if it be a stock corporation, or its reserve, if it be a mutual corporation, shall have become impaired; or (d) has, by contract of reinsurance or otherwise, transferred or attempted to transfer substantially its entire property or business, or entered into any transaction the effect of which is to merge substantially its entire property or business in the property or business of any other corporation or association without having first obtained the written approval of the insurance commissioner; or (e) is found, after an examination, to be in such condition that its further transaction of business will be hazardous to its policy-holders, or to its creditors, or to the public; or (f) has willfully violated its charter or any law of the state; or (g) whenever any officer thereof has refused to be examined under oath touching its affairs; or (h) if such corporation be organized under Chapter VI, Division First, Part IV, Title II of the Civil Code, or as a corporation to carry on the business of mutual livestock insurance upon the assessment plan, its condition is found, after examination, to be such that it cannot meet the requirements for incorporation and authorization specified in the law relating thereto, the insurance commissioner may apply to the superior court, or any judge thereof, in the county in which the principal office of such corporation is located for an order directing such corporation to show cause why the insurance commissioner should not take possession of its property, and conduct its business, and for such other relief as the nature of the case and the interest of its policy-holders, creditors, and the public may require.

§ 3. Injunction by court. On such application, or at any time thereafter, such court may, in its discretion, issue an injunction restraining such corporation from the transaction of its business or disposition of its property until the further order of the court. On the return of such order to show cause, and after a full hearing, the court shall either deny the application or direct such insurance commissioner, or his successor in office, forthwith to take possession of the property and conduct the business of such corporation, and retain such possession and conduct such business until, on the application either of the insurance commissioner, or of such corporation, it shall, after a like hearing, appear to the court that the ground for such order directing the insurance commissioner to take possession has been removed and that the corporation can properly resume possession of its property and the conduct of its business.

§ 4. Liquidation by insurance commissioner. If, on a like application and order to show cause, and after a full hearing, the court shall order the liquidation of the business of such corporation, such liquidation shall be made by and under the direction of such insurance commissioner, and his successors in office, who may deal with the property and business of such corporation in their own names as insurance commissioners or in the name of the corporation, as the court may direct, and shall be vested by operation of law with title to all of the property, contracts and rights of action of such corporation as of the date of the order so directing them to liquidate. The filing or recording of such order in any county recorder's office of the state shall impart the same notice that a deed, bill of sale or other evidence of title duly filed or recorded by such corporation would have imparted. The rights and liabilities of any such corporation, and of its creditors, policy-holders, stockholders and members, and of all other persons interested in its assets, shall, unless otherwise directed by the court, be fixed as of the date of the entry of the order directing the liquidation of such corporation in the office of the clerk of the county wherein such corporation had its principal office for the transaction of business upon the date of the institution of proceedings under this section.

§ 5. Action by insurance commissioner in case of foreign corporations. Whenever any of the grounds of jurisdiction over domestic corporations specified in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f) and (g) of section two of this act exist or arise with reference to any corporation incorporated by or existing under the government or laws of any country outside of the United States and authorized to transact the business of insurance and having assets in this state; or whenever any foreign corporation so authorized and having assets in this state has been placed in the hands of a receiver or had its property sequestered in its domiciliary state or country or in any other state or country, the insurance commissioner may apply to the superior court or any judge thereof in the county in which such corporation has its principal office for the transaction of business in this state, for an order directing such corporation to show cause why the insurance commissioner should not take possession of its property and conserve its assets for the benefit of its creditors, and for such other relief as the nature of the case and the interests of its policy-holders, creditors, stockholders or the public may require.

§ 6. Injunction by court. On such application, or at any time thereafter, such court may, in its discretion, issue an injunction restraining such corporation and its officers, agents and employees from the transaction of its business or disposition of its property until the further order of the court. On the return of such order to show cause, and after a full hearing the court shall either deny the application or direct the insurance commissioner forthwith to take possession of the property and conserve the assets of such corporation, and retain such possession until, on the application either of the insurance commissioner, or of such corporation, it shall, after a like hearing, appear to the court that the ground for such order directing the insurance commissioner to take possession has been removed and that the corporation can properly resume possession of its property and conduct its business. If, on such application, the court shall direct the insurance commissioner to take possession of the property and conserve the assets of such corporation, the rights and duties of the said insurance commissioner with reference to such corporation and its said assets shall be those heretofore exercised by and imposed upon ancillary receivers of foreign corporations in this state.

§ 7. Appointment of deputies, etc. For the purposes of this act, the insurance commissioner shall have power to appoint, under his hand and official seal, one or more special deputy insurance commissioners, as his agent or agents, and to employ such counsel, clerks and assistants as may by him be deemed necessary, and give each of such persons such powers to assist him as he may consider wise. The compensation of such special deputy insurance commissioners, counsel, clerks and assistants, and all expenses of taking possession of and conducting the business of liquidating any such corporation shall be fixed by the insurance commissioner, subject to the approval of the court, and shall, on certificate of the insurance commissioner, be paid out of the funds or assets of such corporation. During the progress of any proceedings taken under this section, the insurance commissioner, his deputies or any examiner authorized by him and the special deputy insurance commissioner acting for the said insurance commissioner therein shall have all of the powers given to the insurance commissioner, his deputy or any examiner authorized by him, including the power to examine under oath the persons specified in such section, and to compel the production of books and papers as therein provided.

§ 8. Rules and regulations. For the purposes of this act, the insurance commissioner shall have power, subject to the approval of the court, to make and prescribe such rules and regulations as to him shall seem proper.

§ 9. Report to legislature on liquidated corporations. The insurance commissioner shall transmit to the legislature, in his biennial report, the names of the corporations so taken possession of, whether the same have resumed business or have been liquidated, and such other facts as shall acquaint the policy-holders, creditors, stockholders and the public with his proceedings under this act; and, to that end, the special deputy insurance commissioner in charge of any such corporation shall file annually with the insurance commissioner a report of the affairs of such corporation.

§ 10. Commissioner has powers of receiver. In all cases arising under the provisions of this act where not otherwise provided the powers and duties of the insurance commissioner with relation to the property and assets and business of any corporation placed under his control shall be those heretofore exercised by and imposed upon receivers of corporations within this state.

§ 11. Service of papers. The order to show cause and the papers upon which the same is made in any proceeding instituted under the provisions of this act shall be served upon the corporation named in such order in the manner prescribed by law for personal service of summons upon a domestic corporation. When it is satisfactorily proved by affidavit that the officers of the corporation named in the said order to show cause, upon whom service is required to be made as above provided, or, if a Lloyds association or interinsurance exchange be named in the order to show cause, the duly designated attorney in fact, have departed from the state or keep themselves concealed therein with intent to avoid service, such order to show cause may provide for service thereof in such manner as the court or judge by whom the same is made, shall direct.

§ 12. Transfer of place of business to San Francisco. At any time after the commencement of proceedings under an order of liquidation made pursuant to this section, the said insurance commissioner may remove the principal office of the corporation in liquidation to the city and county of San Francisco. In event of such removal the court shall, upon the application of the insurance commissioner, direct the clerk of the county wherein such proceeding was commenced to transmit all of the papers filed therein with such clerk to the clerk of the county of San Francisco, and the proceeding shall thereafter be conducted in the same manner as though it had been commenced in the city and county of San Francisco.

§ 13. Repealed. Option of commissioner. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed; provided, however, that it shall be optional with the insurance commissioner in any appropriate case to proceed in the manner herein provided or in accordance with the provisions of section six hundred four of the Political Code.

ACT 1673p.

An act regulating the appointment of the agents or employees of state banks and subsidiary corporations dominated or controlled by state banks as insurance agents and prohibiting the appointment of the agents or employees of state banks and subsidiary corporations dominated as controlled by state banks as general insurance agents or managerial agents or department managers of certain insurance companies.

See note at end of statute.

§ 1. Agents of state banks not to act for insurance company. It shall be unlawful for any subsidiary corporation, agent or employee of any bank organized or existing under the laws of the state of California or the laws of any other state of the United States, or any person or corporation controlled or dominated by such bank to act as the general agent or managerial agent, or department manager, of any insurance company transacting business in the state of California.

§ 2. Insurance company not to appoint agent of bank. It shall be unlawful for any insurance company transacting business in the state of California to engage, appoint, maintain or employ any subsidiary corporation, agent or employee of any bank or any person or corporation controlled or dominated by any bank, as the general agent or managerial agent or branch manager or department manager of such insurance company.

§ 3. Application to act as local agent. No subsidiary corporation dominated or controlled by any bank, or any agent or employees of such bank shall be permitted to act as the local agent of any insurance company, except as follows:

Such agent or employee of such bank or such subsidiary corporation dominated or controlled by such bank shall file an application in writing with the insurance commissioner of the state of California, stating in said application that the applicant desires to become such insurance agent. Upon the filing of said application, the insurance commissioner of the state of California shall forthwith fix a time for the hearing of said application.

§ 4. Hearing. License. If at the hearing of said petition the said insurance commissioner shall find that the appointment of applicant is not inimical to the best interests of the insured of the state of California, then he shall make a finding to that effect. Thereupon, the said insurance commissioner shall transmit such findings to the superintendent of banks of the state of California, and if the superintendent of banks of the state of California shall find that the granting of the license to such applicant is not inconsistent with the proper conduct of such bank, he may so find and thereupon transmit his findings to the state insurance commissioner, who shall thereupon grant to such applicant a license to act as local insurance agent.

§ 5. Exceptions. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply or to refer to or affect the appointment of any life insurance agents, or health and accident insurance agents, title insurance agents, or county mutual insurance agents and nothing in this act shall be construed to apply or refer to or affect the appointment of any insurance agent in or for a place, the population of which does not exceed five thousand persons, as shown by the last preceding federal census or any subsequent census compiled and certified under any laws of this state.
